UNAFF CAUGHT

The Slayer of Louis Carfield Captured by Officers at Whitelake.

CONFESSES THE CRIME

His Name Droppied by the Man He Killed. Were Close Friends in Native Land.

In last week's issue mention was made of the brutal murder of Louis Carfield, and the finding of his body in the vicinity of the tannery plant, Friday morning. At the time of going to press the name of the person having committed the deed and the motive for the deed were unknown, and the capture of the murderer had not been accomplished.

Vince Unaff, a Bulgarian, was arrested by Sheriff Smith before noon of that day, and the reasons for the arrest were soon ascertained. The wrecking of his home by a friend, and his absence from his native land was the motive for the tragedy that had its inception in a liaison in far-away Bulgaria, and that had its finale here at an early hour Friday, when the wronged husband, in his frenzy took the life of the one that had enticed his wrong doing. In order to accomplish his bloody work he traveled from Portland, Oregon, and that he desired to make his death blow here, he continued to rain shots into the prostrate man after life had been snuffed out.

As soon as the officers were informed of the crime they set to work endeavoring to find clues that would lead to the capture of the murderer. Farmers arriving in the city were questioned as to whom they passed enroute to the city. Chief of Police Reolker ascertained that a person answering the description of the fellow wanted, was seen on the road leading toward Whitelake, and he and Deputy Sheriff Lundstrom at once made plans to start in pursuit. In the moon time Sheriff Smith had received a similar clue, and he and Under Sheriff Kingsted secured Nels Johnson's auto to make the trip. Before they reached Whitelake they passed the man wanted. He was walking along the railroad track. The officers deemed it the best policy to await his coming at Whitelake, rather than to make an effort where he might escape into the woods, or kill one or more before his capture was effected. Hence they passed by him seemingly paying no attention to him. When he passed through Whitelake, Sheriff Smith and Mr. Kingsted stepped out of a storm-belt, and confronted him. Smith had the drop on him and ordered him to throw up his hands. He raised his left hand, and Kingsted grasped his right hand, and ordered it out of his overcoat pocket and the officers secured his revolver. He seemed surprised at being arrested and wanted to know why they wanted him. When he ascertained that he was wanted for the murder of Carfield, he loosened up, and detailed that the reasons for killing him, and said that he was ready to be hanged or for any time for what he had done, for he had accomplished what he had set out to do. To others he also admitted having killed the man, and felt that the reasons justified the act.

Unaff appears to be a very intelligent man, and speaks good English. He states that he has been in the United States much of the time for the past ten years, having resided in Clarkburg, W. Va., in Mansfield, and Barberton, Ohio and Portland, Ore. He married a young lady in Bulgaria, and six months after his marriage he came to this country where he remained about four years. It appears he soon after he left his native land, Carfield, assisted the young wife in a peculiar way, and later lived with her. After Carfield reached this country he mentioned this fact to his associates and also wrote a letter to a friend at Portland, Ore. This letter he detailed the liaison. This letter was handed to Unaff by a mutual friend, and he at once perfected his plans to avenge the wrong, done him by one he deemed his friend. He came to the Soo direct from the Pacific coast, and ascertained that Carfield was located in Manistique. Carfield's brother who resides at the Soo, wrote his brother that Unaff was on his trail and that there might be trouble. Unaff reached Manistique Wednesday evening of last week, and at once located up the man who was living in bank house in the vicinity of the tannery. The two men spent all day Thursday together walking about the city. During the day Carfield confessed to Unaff that what he had done was on his mind, and he stated to others concerning the later wife was true. Unaff decided that his

DESERVE PRAISE

Local Officers Did Excellent Work in Apprehending Murderer.

The work done by Sheriff Smith and Deputy Kingsted in capturing the murderer of Carfield last Friday, deserves more than passing notice. In four hours after the murder occurred the man wanted was in the custody of the officers at Whitelake, thirteen miles distant. The clues were distressingly slight, owing to the fact that the puglia knowing the most about the affair were the fugitives, and unable to express themselves so that the officers could get a fair description of the man wanted. With a meager description of his appearance, they began their search. Farmers arriving in the city during the morning were questioned and from that time was ascertained that a man, evidently a foreigner, had been passed by them east of the city. Chief of Police Reolker received a similar clue, but was beaten in the race by the sheriff who chartered an automobile.

That a man sufficiently desperate to empty a revolver into a dining man should have been captured without the firing of a shot is also a matter of congratulation, and the rest Smith and Kingsted worked at Whitelake certainly was smooth work.

The county and city officers can certainly be commended for the very best in the state, for they appear to be able to unerringly place their hands on men wanted for the commission of crime.

MEDICS ELECT OFFICERS.

Also Decide to Fight the White Plague.

At the annual meeting of the Schoolcraft County Medical society was held Wednesday at which time the following officers for the coming year were elected.

Vice President—Dr. S. S. Hackwell.

Secretary-Treasurer—Dr. G. M. Livingston.

Directors—Drs. Rainie, Nelson and Saunders.

Delegate to state meeting, Dr. G. M. Livingston.

The local society will make an effort to organize an anti-tuberculous society along the lines laid down by the Michigan State association for the prevention and relief of tuberculosis.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Napoleon LaVake of Seul Choix Receives Bullet in Leg.

Napoleon LaVake, son of Paul LaVake of Seul Choix, accidentally shot himself in the left leg, striking the knee, last Saturday while engaged in hunting rabbits. He made a quick turn around a tree when a twig caught the trigger of the 22 calibre gun he was carrying. He was brought to the city via boat for surgical treatment. Dr. Livingston ascertained that the bullet was lodged against the bone of the leg. He is getting along nicely and his recovery is progressing satisfactorily and rapidly.

Move Up, Please!

You have asked yourself, "Why does the man next to me advance?" You think you work as hard as he and you do. You earn as much, too. Good, so far. But SPEND MORE! There's the difference. Simmer it all down and it becomes a matter of training. Training in habits of thrift. One large eastern manufacturing company marks those men for promotion who have shown ability to save money. The saving book in the bank is by far the best evidence to this end. It tells exactly how his saving ability has been cultivated. The man who can save money proves his ability to manage his own business. No wonder his employer marks him for advancement!

ROOSEVELT LAUDS CHASE S. OSBORN

Says G. O. P. Candidate is "Progressive and Singularly Able and Honest Man"—Praises Townsend, too.

Col. Roosevelt has paused long enough in his stamping tour of New York state, to extend a helping hand to Chase S. Osborn, the Republican candidate for governor of Michigan, and Congressman Townsend who prepared by a process which developed, of Massachusetts, who spoke here Saturday night, immediately after the election. Col. Roosevelt on his return to the east and urged the latter to go to Michigan at least one more time. This was impossible, owing to the ex-president's numerous other engagements, but he sent Mr. Guild a letter, which has been forwarded by the Guild to Chairman Knott, of the Republican state central committee. The letter follows: "I thank you for the telegram, agree with every word you say in describing the situation in Michigan, and I deeply regret that it is a physical impossibility for me to accept (take part in) the campaign for the free Republican ticket, as I would wish to do. I am, however, glad to do so thoroughly understand, as you there.

say, that in Michigan the progressives won a clear-cut victory; that their platform takes the proper stand in favor of a tariff commission and conservation of natural resources; and that my friend Chase S. Osborn the candidate for governor is a progressive and a singularly able and honest man. Moreover, I also agree with you as to the great desirability of electing Mr. Townsend as senator. Mr. Townsend, as joint author, with Mr. Esch, of the first railroad rate bill which I was in the White House, did excellent work for railway rate legislation, and I heartily wish him success as senator.

"It is a cause of genuine regret to me that I am not able to go and do all I can for the entire ticket in Michigan. Mr. Osborn is a man like Stimpson, of New York, will grow hair from collar to collar, driving every worse hair from office. The effective way to prevent a thorough clean-up would be not to elect him and, indeed, a failure to elect him would be a genuine calamity from the stand point of good citizenship. Mr. Townsend's attitude on the railroad rate legislation is sufficient proof of the desirability of sending him to the senate. Michigan Republicans have nominated two progressive candidates and it is imperative that they give their aggressive support at the polls and this can only be done by voting for the Republican candidates for the legislature. "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

OFFICIAL COUNTY AND CITY PAPER

FRIDAY, NOV. 4, 1910

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

If you have not registered already to that duty tomorrow.

Next Wednesday morning Michigan can say "God morning, Governor Osborn."

The experimental postal savings bank in the upper peninsula will be located at Houghton.

In a small town it is considered enterprise in a business man to give employment to a man who can play hand instrument.

It makes one tired to pay $1.50 to $2 per bushel for apples, when the shippers in Kansas are only paying forty eight cents.

The only dirty work done in the present campaign in this county is the occasional cleaning of automobiles used by local candidates.

Senator Cummins says that it is folly to vote for demoments when the only hope of obtaining desired reforms is to elect republicans. Remember this when you go to the polls next Tuesday.

Unless old or sick there isn't a woman in Manistique who would not be healthier and happier if she did her own house work. Instead of waiting "I can't do a darn." It sounds better for a woman to say, "I don't want a girl."

Auditor General Fuller has announced that the annual appropriation of the primary school fund, which will be apportioned Nov. 10th, will be at the rate of ninety cents per capita. This will make a total of $7.40 for the year.

The utility of the flying machine is daily being proved. Thus far, the infantile period of aerial navigation has made plenty of business for the aviator, but with the new improvements being perfected it is safe to conjecture that the time is not far distant when this form of transportation will become of general use.

This sort of thing continues, the average attend ant at church will insist that the minister shall be preched in a box just below the ceiling as in days of yore, so that he can be seen. The moniders of millinery fashions insist on increasing the dimensions of feminine headgear, and an avogadro has reached such proportions that it is an impossibility for the average attendant to see the minister.

We, of the upper peninsula, are so far from the seat of war that we are not conversant with the fact that Osborn and Hemans have been going at it hammer and tongs during the past few weeks. Osborn has given a good account of himself during the fray, and will receive a tremendous majority below the straits.

The rank and file of the party believes in Chase and his sincerity to right the wrongs that have crept under the rug in recent years. He will make the most popular governor that the state has had since the time of Rich.

The feeling has been rife in the upper peninsula that candidate Osborn or some of the other prominent speakers should make a trip through the peninsula in order to create enthusiasm for the ticket. While such visits would accomplish the desired end, yet the need of effective work is so apparent in the lower peninsula, that Chairman Knox deems it the best policy to confine most of the effort below the straits. "The wisdom of this course was plainly exemplified by the result of the primary election. Much as we would like to hear Osborn or Smith, and while their visit might increase the vote to some extent, yet Mr. Knox and his advisors are to be congratulated upon the wisdom they have displayed in making the lower peninsula the real battlefield of the campaign.

The Macedonian, who deliberately murdered a fellow countryman in this city last Friday, feels that he was justified in taking the law in his own hands for he claims that his victim borest of his personal knowledge of the infidelity of the former's wife. He came here for the purpose of verifying the rumor that reached him through letters exchanged by mutual friends. The victim admitted his wrong doing before witnesses, and made a written confession, that he had been intimate with the Macedonian's wife. In Macedonia, it is said, that this sort of procedure would justify the wronged husband to take the life of the guilty one. However, in this enlightened country, it is not deemed a sufficient provocation, for the committing of murder, unless the infidelity and wealth of the murderer is of such a degree as to invade the life of the "unwritten law." However, as the Macedonian, admits his guilt, feels that he has righted the wrong done him, and is willing to serve time or hang, if necessary, to atone for what he has done it is safe to say that the aid of the "unwritten law" will not be invoked, and that justice will be swift and summary in this particular case at least. Again the perdy of humanity has caused a tragedy, that has been so often duplicated the world over, ever since the day when Adam and Eve were driven out of the garden of Eden. The Macedonian, in wreking summary vengeance, did what many a man would do under similar provocation. However, if this method of righting wrongs of this nature were the fashion, there would be many more deaths than there are at the present time.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Resolved to die fifty two years of age.

Up in Manistique society circles are indulging in "sophistic pastimes."

You have noticed probably that your grievances attract almost no attention.

Do your duty as a Republican next Tuesday. Go to the polls and increase Osborn's majority.

Crippen and Hemans will get it in the neck on the same day. The former will hang next Tuesday, and the latter will figure in an election.

The extreme conservatism of the Detroit newspapers during the campaign now drawing to a close, does not suit the average up-the-state reader.

There is this disadvantage in living in a small town: Every one knows whether your "new" suit is really new or just an old one cleaned and pressed.

The government printed 75,000,000 new dollar bills. For the present, at least, the old ones will be very acceptable on subscription accounts at this office.

No wonder Mark Twain was humorous and cheerful. His estate totaled more than $800,000. Even newspaper men could develop a vein of humor were they as wealthy as that.

Interesting supplements, made up of political matter appear in this issue. Read them, and then go to the polls next Tuesday and swell the majority for Osborn and the entire ticket.

Do not let it be said that apathy caused the defeat of the first candidate for governor ever chosen above the straits. If every Republican in Schoolcraft county will do his duty apathy will be a misnomer here.

It is professed by men who should know that the big crop of corn this year will reduce the price of meat from ten to twenty-five per cent during the coming year. So note it.

Wonder whether Wellman is pleased with the congratulations he received from Dr. Cook, whom it will be remembered since upon a time had a dream in which he reached the north pole and sailed Mt. McKinley.

On the eve of the election, Chairman Knox predicts that Hemans will carry but two of the counties of the state. As Frank has been accurate in his predictions heretofore this year, it is safe to say that Hemans will secure no more than he says.

Every candidate on the Republican ticket deserves your vote next Tuesday. Go to the polls, even if the trip inconveniences you. You owe it to yourself and the party, to assist in rolling up a big vote for the entire ticket.

There were ninety kangars in the upper peninsula, most of which are in a flourishing condition. The orange purports to educate and uplift the farmer and the farmer's wife in every way possible, and is a good institution.

Never bite at the scheme where you think you are going to get something for nothing for it is not human nature for anyone to come around and give you something for nothing. You must resist the slluring song of the fakir and refuse to patronize his pit crew. Or, he is here today and there tomorrow uncertain as a flea a wanderer without home.

The absence of the old fashioned political fight that so often distinguished campaigns in Schoolcraft county, makes the life of the average editor as peaceful and uneventful as that of the man who earns his livelihood by clipping coupons.

The citizens of Grand Marais are certainly made of the right kind of stuff. The loss of the railroad and the inconvenience that will result, has not discouraged the average citizen, and they will remain for they feel that a bright future is in store for that little city. Its natural resources and the fertility of the soil surrounding the city, augurs well for the future. Somehow, whatever they will worm along until the time when better facilities may again be enjoyed.

We doubt if a tenth of the voters in the upper peninsula are aware of the fact that Congressman H. O. Young has opposition, and less than a fifth of the voting population knows the name of the lamb that will be sacrificed on the political altar next Tuesday. The fact is that there is no fight on as the Detroit News would have the people of the state believe. Young will receive nine-tenths of the votes cast, and he deserves such treatment for he has made the best congressman the twelfth district has ever had.

Where Osborn, his best known he received the largest vote at the primaries. Seven out of every eight voters in Chippewa county, voted for him. When it is remembered that Chippewa county, is his home county it certainly proves that he stands well at home. Although the upper peninsula comprises one of the twelve congressional districts, his plurality above the straits compared quite favorably to the aggregate amount received by him in the remaining eleven districts. That a man stands well at home is a valuable political asset when he is an aspirant for office.

The Paris railroad workers got what they were striking for: an increase to $1 in wages. The common laborer of this country receives double that amount, and the Lord knows he is not receiving enough. How would the average family live on the starvation wages of Europe. Yet the Democrats are urging the American workingtons to vote for Democratic success, so that it will be possible for him to be in direct competition with the working men of Europe. We doubt if any workingtong will deliberately vote for the democratic ticket when he knows that democratic success will cut his wages in two.

Proceedings of Board of Supervisors

Therefore resolved, that the assessment rolls of the several townships and wards be equalized for the purpose of taxation by adding to the total real estate valuation of the township of Thompson the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, leaving the remaining townships and wards as fixed by the several boards of review.

Further resolved, that we do hereby determine the aggregate valuation of the real and personal property of each township and ward of said county to be as shown by the following tabulated statement, and that the several taxes authorized to be levied on the property of the county be levied on the basis of the equalization as established by the board.

Table with columns: Townships and Wards, Acres, Real Estate, Personal, Total. Lists various townships like Oshtemo, Doyle, Gerafsk, etc.

The following resolution was offered by C. E. Ebert and supported by Judge Sweet and adopted by the following vote: Ayes—Messrs. Middlebrook, Olson, Norton, Craver, McKinlay, Nadeau, Sweet, Stanfer, Aldrich, Williams, Anderson, Ebert, Grouden and Boucher. Total 14. Nays—None.

Whereas, it appears by the certified statements of the township clerks of the several townships in this county and of the clerk of the City of Manistique and of the proper authorities of the moneys to be raised by tax in the several townships and wards in this county for the year A. D. 1910 and for the purpose of spreading the said several sums upon the assessment rolls of their respective townships and wards for the year A. D. 1910, viz:

Upon the assessment roll of the township of Doyle, for township contingent purposes the sum of eight hundred dollars; for highway purposes the sum of one quarter of one per cent on each one dollar valuation of the township, according to the assessment roll of last year, for a highway improvement tax; and the sum of eight hundred dollars for a special tax for payment on principal and interest upon highway improvement bonds; and for school tax the sum of three thousand dollars.

Upon the assessment roll of the township of Gerafsk, for township contingent purposes the sum of five hundred dollars; for highway purposes the sum of one half of one per cent on each one dollar valuation, according to the assessment roll of last year, for a highway improvement tax; and for school tax the sum of six hundred dollars.

FOR GOVERNOR CHASE S. OSBORN

CHASE S. OSBORN

Sketch of Life of Candidate for Governor of Michigan—
Country School Boy—Newspaper Printer—Student —Newspaper Owner—Geologist—Discoverer of Iron Mine—Traveler.

(By Frank M. Sparks in Grand Rapids Herald.)

Michigan? In calling the roll of governors, what is to be the response when Michigan is called?

Every Republican and a large portion of the Democrats doubt not that the reply to the roll will be after January 1, "Chase S. Osborn."

Who is Chase S. Osborn? Who bears this name, name in the roll of governors? Who is the man whose meteoric flight across the firmament of Michigan during the last year has left behind it a trail of brilliancy deserving his admirers, recognized by even his most bitter enemies? Who is this big, burly dynamo of energy, whose snapping eyes, pointed speech, forceful logic kept in fear and trembling the man who tried to "run" his campaign?

Who is he? Why, Chase Salmon Osborn is a farmer boy. He is the boy who, born in a log cabin in Huntington county, Indiana, nearly 51 years ago, worked hard pulling stumps, clearing land, getting a plow, doing all the hard work of a farmer boy.

Who is he? Why, he is the boy who at 40 years ago sold newspapers in Lafayette, Ind. He is the boy who made a shrewd guess to secure a monopoly on the sale of Chicago papers in the little town and therefore piled up a few pennies one upon the other until they grew into dollars. He is the boy who yielded his papers with all his healthy lung power, who made his customers like him and predict for him a great future, who made them buy his paper, with marvelous energy he told them they must.

Who is he? He is the boy who ran through the back yards and alleys and gathered up the rags, the bones, the old junk, and sold them to the junk dealer adding to his little fortune the pennies thus earned.

Who is he? He is the youngest who when not actually in the school room was at work in the newspaper office learning the printer's trade, preparing to earn his livelihood at the case.

Who is he? He is the former reporter on the Chicago Tribune whose energy made him valuable and whose writings were the force and vivid pictures.

Who is he? He is the roostabout in the lumber end in Milwaukee. He is the boy who when Milwaukee papers wouldn't give him a job and when his resources were exhausted went to the woods and there "shored" lumber with the rest of the dock wallopers and didn't complain nor let any man above more lumber than he did.

The Country Editor.

Who is he? He is the owner of the little paper in Florence, Wis., which for four years he owned and on which he did most of the work. He is the owner of the old South St. Marie News purchased in 1887 with the last penny he had in the world. He is the owner of the paper which he made a power in Michigan, but which later he sold to engage in larger pursuits.

Who is he? He is the former game warden of Michigan, the former railroad commissioner who enforced law to the letter, who feared neither forest or law nor great corporations, who made all under his jurisdiction do what the law required regardless of who they were.

Who is he? He is the man who has visited every county on the globe but Tibet, who has been far north of the Arctic circle, far south of the Antarctic, who cause when he shakes hands, he takes hold as though he meant it. Because when he speaks, he lets loose of all that energy, drives home his thought with the power of a trip hammer, embosses it with the bluntness of the post.

And that energy, physical and mental, is shown in every move, every speech, every thought. The physical power is born first of a naturally rugged constitution handed down to him through generations of sturdy ancestors, handed down to him from the great grandfather who was one of the Continental army away back in the days when the nation was born, handed down to him through the grandfather, one of the first navigators of the Ohio river, a pioneer in the middle west, handed down to him from a sturdy father, a pioneer in Indiana, a railroad abolitionist, interested in the underground railway, through which the slaves of the south sought freedom in the north.

What nature gave, Chase S. Osborn has not wasted. No dissipation has marred his sturdy frame nor cast a blot upon his manly features. He has made good use of what nature gave and done his full part toward improving that rugged physique. From his boyhood he was fond of the woods. Day after day during manhood he trampoled the wilderness of northern Canada. There in the wilds, among the ancient pines, with nature his sole companion, he has built upon the foundation nature gave and today at 60 stands 6 feet in his stocky, straight as an arrow, eye bright and clear, muscles hard and firm, mind clear and clean, a model of physical manhood.

Always the Student.

Neither has he neglected the mind more gave him. From boyhood he has read everything he could lay hands upon. He reads rapidly, remarkably so. He remembers what he reads. History, science of all kinds, religion, government, poetry, the best of literature. Nothing has escaped him. He stores his memory with all. It is always ready when needed.

An example of this was afforded at the banquet of the Grubley club at Lons last winter. Governor Duff of Massachusetts was a speaker at that occasion. In his remarks he proudly and rightfully boasted of the intellectuality of the old Bay state. He declared with emphasis that Massachusetts led all the states in intellectuality.

Quicker than a flash, Chase S. Osborn was on his feet.

"I do not wish to seem discourteous," he said, "but Michigan is the gentleman from Massachusetts. The percentage of illiteracy in Massachusetts is nine, while in Michigan it is but six."

It is doubtful if there was another man in Michigan who could have told the percentage of illiteracy in his own state to say nothing of Massachusetts. It was just a simple of the quick thought that the great storehouse of knowledge Chase S. Osborn has.

To the newspaper man who traveled with him, for any event during his campaign, there never was any let up in the seeming endless powers of his mind and range of knowledge. He spoke before the Woodmen of Grand Rapids last spring. His speech was filled with pointed, terse paragraphs which were afterward sent broadcast over the state as "Osbornisms" and did not a little toward rounding up the votes cast for him at the election. The speech the Woodmen crowded around him asking questions and always getting an answer. One man with a distinctive German tunc in his tones spoke to him. In a moment Osborn and the German were jabbering over the native tongue of the Teuton. It sounded sweet to his ears. He went about for Osborn.

The difficult Polish language even is not unknown to Mr. Osborn.

"I can manage many myself understood and to understand any of the languages of the European continent," says Mr. Osborn.

Such a statement might come from some, appear to be an evidence of what is vulgarly known as "telling boasts. He talks of himself. He tells what he can do and what he can't do. Yet in his telling of himself there is no impression of boastfulness, no evidence of awed head. He knows himself. He knows his own powers. He knows his own attainments. He is confident of himself. He is the athlete who has his own power and is so confident in his own powers that to speak of what he can do is but natural. It is not impulsive. It does not seem to him anything remarkable that he can do all these things because he has mastered them so completely.

I remember the statement of a professor of Greek, who said: "When you have learned Greek so that when you see an object, the Greek word for it comes first and most naturally to your mind, then you may have mastered the language."

Mr. Osborn has reached that stage in the mastery of languages which his versatile mind has mastered.

Why is he magnetic? The answer has been given.

Secret of Popularity.

But there are other reasons. Every man—there is a man—loves the other man who is not afraid. Chase S. Osborn is the man not afraid of fire or foe, neither is he afraid to express his opinion fully and freely. He is not afraid to stand up and state and the criticizer to great advantage.

Some years ago the writer happened to be managing editor of the "Sun Evening News," the descendant of the paper Mr. Osborn established at South St. Marie. Mr. Osborn was a frequent visitor to the office. If there was any matter in the paper, which he especially pleased him he was sure to come to it. He was not afraid to state his opinion. He was not afraid to say so.

Something seemed to him to be below the standard. He was not afraid to say so.

The paper was very poor yesterday. "What is the matter with you getting lazy?" he used to say, snapping eyes. But that didn't discourage one bit. It spurred to greater energy. It made one feel the value of the other expression, "That was bully."

And on he has gone throughout his life. He has observed where a cheer was merited. He has criticized with all his energy when criticism seemed to him warranted. That is what he did in his campaign. That is what he promises to do if elected governor.

CHAS. E. TOWNSEND FOR SENATOR

THE PEOPLE CHOSE AS CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR
THE MAN WHO MADE GOOD IN CONGRESS.

His Brilliant Record With Something of His Early Life and Earnest Work.

He was born at Concord, Michigan, August 15, 1856, of New England parents. He received his education in the Concord and Jackson high schools and the University of Michigan. He worked on a farm until nineteen years of age, when he became principal of schools at Parma, Michigan, which work he pursued nine years. Mr. Townsend is married and has always resided in Michigan; was admitted to the bar at Jackson in 1895, where he has since practiced his profession; was register of deeds of Jackson county ten years; was elected to the 58th, 59th, 60th and 61st congresses. He was nominated for United States senator at the primaries last September and will be the Republican candidate before the next legislature, which meets in January.

The fact must not be overlooked that Mr. Townsend is only nominated as the Republican candidate for United States Senator. He is not yet elected. Under the law, he will be elected by the next legislature if it is Republican and will not appear on the ballot at the November election. The primary simply took the place of the legislative caucus if the legislature is Democratic, he will not be elected Senator. Do not be deceived by the promises of Democratic candidates for the legislature, who say they will vote for him. They cannot do so. Votes for the Republican candidate for the legislature are votes for Mr. Townsend.

education in the public schools and the University of Michigan. He worked on a farm until sixteen years of age, when he began teaching school. In 1895 he was admitted to the bar at Jackson. He acted as register of deeds of Jackson county for ten years. Then the fall of the second district decided to send him to Washington as chief registrar.

Townsend is one of the authors of the Roosevelt rate bill, and as an author on all matters pertaining to railway legislation he ranks second to none. He first leaped into prominence in his first term of congress, when his stand on rate legislation placed him conspicuously before the eyes of the nation, and at that time his reputation was made.

He had served his district well and faithfully for nearly six years when the death of Cassius A. Alger created a vacancy in the senatorial rank that it was up to Michigan to fill. Mr. Townsend made a bid for the office but was defeated by his colleague in congress, William Alden Smith.

The people of his district then returned him to congress by an overwhelming majority over his Democratic opponent. But the reward of true merit could not be denied him, and at the last primaries, he was chosen by the Republicans of the state as their candidate for United States senator.

Charles E. Townsend is a progressive and voted to deposit money not from the rules committee of the house at the last session of congress. He himself has said: "I am a firm believer in the progressive policies inaugurated by Roosevelt and advocated by Taft. These policies are in harmony with the traditions and principles of the Republican party and must be maintained by the party. A bid to relax the confidence and support of the people."

Senator Smith, in his speech before the state Republican convention, said of Charles E. Townsend: "When the legislature shall have ratified the choice already made at the primaries, Michigan will have in the United States Senate a man of whom the entire country can be proud. Courageous and obliging, non-partisan, Mr. Townsend measures up to every requirement that high office, and his election will strengthen the confidence of the people in his institutions."

Do not be deceived by the promises of the Democratic candidates for the legislature that they will vote for him. The integrity of the primary law is preserved, they are bound to vote for their own candidate.

before, he took particular notice of a rock. He examined it a little more closely. He walked around the mountain and over it. He followed the crevices and felt its every outcroppings. It was a rare rock, one of the richest gem deposits discovered in Michigan in many a day. He claimed it, let some of the big men into his mine, organized the Michigan Mounting, Mining Company, and he was a little more.

That is where Mr. Osborn's fortune came from. He does not own a share in any of the county committees of the United States. But up in the wilds of Canada in the ore deposit he discovered and which makes him a comfortably wealthy man.

This big, burly, magnetic fellow will now go and see whether he is ever governor or not. But add to this the fact that he will be governor, and respond, "Chase Osborn," every man who hears will sit straight and every man of Michigan will swell out his chest just a little more.

The Only Way You Can Vote for Congressman Townsend for United States Senator is to Vote for the Republican Candidates for the Legislature.

Votes for Republican Candidates for the legislature are votes for Mr. Townsend and United States Senator.

"Get Out the Vote" should be the Slogan of Every Good Republican on Election Day.

A Vote for Republicanism and Republican Candidates is a Vote for Progress.

A Decided Treat.

Such may well be termed the program presented to patrons of the Princess Friday and Saturday. Any one of the members offered in an individual feature and collectively presented in motion pictures in the city and equal to any ever presented any place on the face of the earth.

Headline the bill in pictures taken of the "Thirty first triennial convalesce of the Knight Templars." Mr. John D. Cleveland, president of the Executive Committee of the convalesce, presided over the convalesce and protected right to all motion picture privileges for this great event, to the Belle Plaisance Co., and these are the pictures showing this noted convalesce in its every detail. The second number is a vitagraph portrayal of "A Life for a Life." There is an inexpressible something about this picture that makes it far above almost any other that has ever been seen. It has in it the psychological and basic principles of manhood, companionship, love and gratitude which are bound to raise a man to a higher level. It compares with and probably surpasses in dramatic intensity "Convict No. 790" and possesses the same lesson of the reclamation of one's better self through the magic touch of kindly words and deeds.

The comedy end of the bill is another attraction well worth of special mention. Miss Florence E. Turner and Richard Costello the two noted stars appear in "The Bright Man Hunters Club." This is really funny. A comedy on the bachelor girls showing that they are no different from the rest of the girls. It has a corner on the laugh market and will keep all corners well supplied with chuckles.

As usual two good illustrated programs will form that part of the program.

Don't miss the exceptional program at the Princess Friday and Saturday. The best ever shown in the city.

After a dining spread, the picture man photographed the many pleasing faces. Fifty people enjoyed one of the best times of the season.

Now is the time for every young man and woman to attend our college. Don't wait, now is the time.

case would be materially bolstered up if he could succeed in having Carfield make the confession before witnesses. This he did Thursday evening before four witnesses. He also signed a written confession. After this was accomplished, Unaff embraced and kissed Carfield, after the custom of their native country, and it was thought by the spectators that their difference had been patched up. The two planned to leave for the Soo the following morning, and Carfield borrowed $10 from a fellow countryman in order to make the trip. They left the tannery location at an early hour in the morning, seemingly in the best of humor, and when they reached a point about halfway between the tannery and the main road, Unaff stepped behind his unsuspecting victim and fired a bullet into his body. Some passed through the heart causing instant death. To make sure that he had accomplished his aim he fired four more bullets into the prostrate form, each bullet striking a vital part. His first intention was to give himself up to the authorities, but later he reconsidered that impulse, and decided to flee the country, and earn sufficient money to take him back to his native country, where, perhaps his wife would have fared the same fate meted out to her paramour.

When captured he had $50 in his pockets, and a six chambered Policeman's Special revolver, of 38 calibre, one of the most vicious small firearms manufactured. The gun was loaded, and an extra cartridge in his overcoat pocket.

He told the sheriff where he had ejected the empty cartridges, but he has been unable to find them.

There was a rumor about Friday night that an effort would be made by the friends of the murdered man to lynch Unaff. The sheriff was prepared for any emergency but the rumor proved to be unfounded.

The brother of Carfield reached the city from the Soo Friday evening, and was accompanied by a Greek Catholic priest of that city. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church at an early hour Sunday morning, the ritualistic services at the open grave were very interesting.

Unaff was arraigned in Judge Knox's court Saturday afternoon, and stated that he was guilty as charged. His hearing was held Monday afternoon, at which time he requested the fact that he had killed him, and was ordered placed in jail to await trial at the January term of court. This was one of the most cold blooded murders ever executed in the upper peninsula. One of the reasons perhaps, is the fact that a man confessing to the crime Carfield did, is a justifiable reason for his death in the far distant land where the principal actors of Friday's tragedy were born, and when Unaff had secured the written confession before witnesses, he felt that he was justified in taking the life of the man that had wrecked his home. However, in this country, the laws do not endorse such summary methods, and Unaff will, quite likely, spend the remainder of his natural life in the penitentiary while the young wife rebuilds her husband and lover, who had plenty of time to reflect upon the result of her lapse from virtue.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST

Cause of Louis Carfield's Death Determined.

On Friday afternoon of last week, Coroner Johnson empaneled a jury for the purpose of legally determining the cause of the death of Louis Carfield, who was murdered by Vaseli Unaff. The jury was composed of R. C. McKesson, F. R. Griffin, P. H. Miles, Wm. DeHull, J. C. Lyman and Julius Peterson.

The testimony of several witnesses was taken, among them being Dr. Livingston, Mr. Branch and Sheriff Smith.

Dr. Livingston testified as to the course of the bullets through the body.

Mr. Branch, tomesayer at the tannery plant, and who first discovered the body, stated that he found the body shortly before eight o'clock. He and Miss Waterman, bookkeeper at the tannery, met at the spot where the body was lying. He was coming from the tannery with a load of ash, while Miss Waterman was going to the tannery. He also testified that he saw two men leaving the tannery about twenty minutes to seven o'clock but was not sure that the murdered man was one of these.

Sheriff Smith stated that as soon as he was informed of the finding of the body, went to the scene and found the body lying by the road side. He saw blood on one of the eyes. He did not touch the body but went after the coroner who at once took charge of the body.

The jury after listening to the testimony decided that Louis Carfield on this day, Oct. 28, 1910, at the city of Manistique, Schoolcraft county, Mich, came to his death by reason of bullet wounds by a 38 calibre revolver fired in the hands of some person unknown.

GRANGERS ENJOY MEETING.

Thompson Grange Entertains Inwood Members.

A regular meeting of Thompson Grange No. 1363 was held Friday evening, Oct. 29th, with forty-one members present. In the mean time the officers and members of Inwood Grange No. 1363 had been invited to attend this meeting, and owing to the fact that it was cold and snowed all day and night, there were nineteen members from Inwood grange attended this social event, and Brother Gus Winters, wife of Buell Grange, making a total of sixty-two patrons in all. The hall was crowded almost to its fullest capacity.

Worthy Master Henry Van Gender extended a courtesy of the chair to Worthy Master Howard Fox of Inwood Grange in which Brother Fox dispatched the general routine of business in most creditable manner.

The third and fourth degrees were conferred upon Miss Julia Quintan after which the entertainment program was carried out during the lecture hour. The Grange was then closed in due form. The committee on arrangements then proceeded to prepare for supper, which was the most elaborate affair in the history of Grange work in Thompson. The tables were literally covered with chicken pie and other goodies such as the farmers wives can generally prepare. We ate and sang and sang and ate until Brother Frank Girkin got so full of chicken, which was so small amount, so they all said. Finally the tables were cleared away, and to settle the chicken pie, we slipped the fantastic to until almost dawn of day. The all, repeated declaring that the Grangers of the farmers were the happiest bunch in the world.

A Washington newspaper, has the following to say concerning the experience of a former Manistiquean: "A Washington newspaper, has the following to say concerning the experience of a former Manistiquean: 'I was further rubbing his hand over his side, just under his left arm-pit, a few days ago. Thomas McCulloch, an axed man living at Geneva on Lake Whatcombe, discovered a small lump growing from the skin. It was painful and at first he thought he was going to have a bad boil on his side. On further rubbing he thought he felt a sharp point to the sore place. He called his wife and had her look at the sore. She examined the lump and then called her daughter, who secured a hold on the point and drew it out forty or fifty years.
