AN IMPORTANT ELECTION.

Whether or Not the County Shall Issue Additional Bonds for Building Roads to be Decided at Spring Election.

One of the important matters to be disposed of at the spring election will be the question whether Schoolcraft county shall or shall not issue additional bonds for the construction of additional roads. The county has expended its former bond issue and while much has been accomplished in the improvement of the highways of the county, yet a large additional sum is essential to the opening of links already constructed before the county can boast of a satisfactory system of highways.

It is up to the average voter whether the bonds shall carry at the April election. An issue that would extend over a long period of years should be popular. The future generation should be made to pay a portion at least of the proposed bond issue. The taxpayers that have resided in Manistique have been heavily taxed for needed improvements—the penalty of living in a new town. The taxpayers of the city and county have paid for a magnificent court house and county hospital. The taxpayers of the city are now paying for systems of water and sewerage, a new gravity main and a water power site, and assisting in paying a previous bond issue for good roads. As individuals ever pay property taxes in Manistique has been heavily taxed indirectly by the building of cement walks. If money can be secured on long time bonds, and the expense planned that the bonds shall have a lengthy life, and the future residents compelled to assist in paying for encumbrances that they will enjoy, the idea of bonding the county for an additional sum would be more popular. Good roads are a valuable asset to any county. We cannot have a surplus of them, and we hope that some time may soon come when every farmer of the county will have access to a macadamized road leading to the county seat. The additional

SENATOR WOOD'S COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS.

Senator Wood of this district, has received the following appointments: chairman of the committee on banks and corporations, chairman of fisheries committee, member of the judiciary, Michigan employment institution for the blind, and state library.

BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT.

Claid Overly, charged with robbing the Soo Line depot of more than $30 was bound over to the circuit court in Justice Teeple's court Wednesday afternoon. Bonds were fixed at $500.00 which he was unable to furnish. He is in jail awaiting trial at the March term of court.

MAY HAVE CHAUTAUQUA.

Manistique Business Men Show Interest In Idea.

B. C. Marcellus, representing the Lincoln Chautauquas, was in the city this week for the purpose of interesting the business men of the city in the idea of holding a chautauqua next summer. The attractions will all be first class and a six days program is contemplated.

It is hoped that he may interest a sufficient number of citizens in the prospect so that it will be a success. A chautauqua would attract a large number of visitors from neighboring towns and cities and would be a good pecuniary investment, as well as an uplift for the community.

Manistique should have a chautauqua. Other cities, smaller than Manistique have held chautauquas in the past or are planning to do so this coming season. Musking held a successful chautauqua last season and Newberry recently signed with the Lincoln association.

K. OF C. MINSTRELS PLAY TUESDAY.

Excellent Show Will be Given at Theater Next Tuesday Evening by Best Local Talent.

The K. of C. minstrel show will be given at the Goro theater next Tuesday evening, under the direction of Mr. Donovan of Marquette, who has secured much of the good musical talent of the St. Francis entertainment in question. He has also secured the services of Mr. Goodman, of Ishpeming, whose ability as an entertainer is well known not only in the upper peninsula but in the larger cities of the middle west. His French direct work is simply great.

There are, perhaps, very few more pleasing and interesting entertainments than a minstrel show. For this reason the resident members of the Knights of Columbus have decided to give a minstrel show for the benefit of the new St. Francis de Sales school, and if laughs are of any value, every ticket holder will get his money's worth.

About twenty-five of Manistique's best musical and minstrel talent will participate in the entertainment. A partial list of the cast follows:

Introducer—W. F. Kafauver.
End Men—Messrs. Donovan, Pattinson, Morrison, Brunette, Quick and Stewart.

Soloists—Messrs. Brunette, Burr, L. Kafauver, Erikson, Berry and McLeilan.

Quartette—Messrs. Remell, Stewart, Erikson, McLeilan.

Fifteen or more will sing the choruses.

Olio—Messrs. Gallagher, Nieho, Goodman, Mervin and Miss Beauvoisin.

Pianist—Miss Gorsche.

Orchestra accompaniment—Messrs. Gorsche, Brechtmyer Bros. Beauvoisin and Miss Gorsche.

Mr. Donovan has had much experience in staging similar entertainments and the members of his cast are thoroughly drilled and will entertain the audience for two hours in a manner that they will ever remember. The attendance will no doubt be large.

A JUST TRIBUTE.

It seems to me that I owe it to suffering humanity around me, to express my very high appreciation of the skill and success of Dr. Rutledge and his splendid assistants and nurses as shown in their treatment of a case of appendicitis in my family. NO HOSPITAL ON EARTH COULD HAVE DONE ANY BETTER SERVICE. And this tribute would not be complete without the mention of another fact. Mrs. Rutledge is certainly a truly remarkable woman, who combines in herself all that a mother, sister and friend could be, together with an intuitive instinct as to what can be done for the comfort and welfare of every patient. And now this tribute will not be known by any one referred to in it until they read it in print. J. R. MITCHELL, Pastor of the Presbyterian church, Manistique, Mich.

NEED STATE AID TO COMPLETE ROAD.

The Grand Marais Road is in Need of Additional Appropriation.

During the past week, Hon. Wm. Leighton of Grand Marais, and Mr. C. W. Baggott of Seney, have been at Lansing for the purpose of interesting the members of the legislature in the Grand Marais-Seney road. The legislature of two years ago, made a substantial appropriation to the project. The money in question has been expended, and more money is needed to complete the road.

The legislature should appropriate a sum sufficient to complete the job, and undoubtedly will do so. The road in question is the only means the residents of Grand Marais have for going in and out of their city, and as most of the road in question lies in Schoolcraft county, we as a county are very much interested in the completion of the road.

REXTON GIR EN-TICED FROM HOME.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire of Rexton Left Town With Man More Than Double Her Age.

A pitiful tale of how the only daughter in the home; a girl of tender years was enticed away by a man old enough to be her father, whose parents are unable to say, was revealed today when Mr. and Mrs. Clair of Rexton, Mackinac county arrived in the city in search of the girl, says the Daily Mirror of Escanaba.

According to the story told local police officers, the girl was induced to leave her home in company with the man, said to be Clarence Londo, a day or so ago. They were headed this way and the parents of the girl, fourteen-year-old Ida Clair followed them as far as this city. Here the assistance of the officers was asked and the wires made hot in an effort to locate the pair.

From information secured today it is believed they stopped at Green Bay and a telegraphic request was sent to that city to hold them if caught. The girl is described as wearing short skirts and is short and dark. No county clerk would issue a license to them, the very possibility of the child being apparent in her appearance, say the parents.

The couple were apprehended at Green Bay later in the week. Mackinac county officials will bring them back to that county, where the man will be given stand trial upon the charge of abduction.

TO MOVE SUNDAY.

The local postoffice will be moved into the Sandberg block next Sunday afternoon and the force will be ready for business the following morning at the new location. While the average business man rents a box rather than avail himself of free delivery, he will be compelled to walk an extra block for his mail daily. This may tend to reduce the number of box holders in the near future.

GOVERNOR'S IN- AUGURAL ADDRESS

Touched on Everything But the Liquor Traffic in His Recent Address.

The governor prefaced his message with a section outlining a plan for the attainment of the ideal in legislation in which he called attention to a proposal which he submitted to the senate by mail some weeks ago, namely, the submission of every bill introduced in either house to a joint committee which shall pass on it before it comes to a final vote. The message says: "Every bill as it passes the committee of the whole of either house, should be referred to a committee and examined as to its validity, accuracy, consistency, simplicity, brevity, orderly arrangement, phraseology, etc." This committee should, the message says, have power to propose amendments and even to retract bills, but should not be empowered to alter the general purpose of it.

The value of this plan lies in the fact that every proposed piece of legislation must pass through the hands of a committee of experts whose sole object is to discover and remedy defects before it becomes law. The plan, which will undoubtedly meet with the approval of the legislators, was suggested by Archibald Broomfield a Big Rapids attorney and close friend of the governor.

The governor paid his respects to the Michigan primary law by saying that it is the best the state has yet had, but "like all human laws it has its limitations." To avoid the chances of the choice of a minority candidate from among a large field in the primary, the governor advised a preferential ballot, with columns for first, second or third choice. "The chief objection to this plan," he said, "is the fact that every voter must exercise his intelligence, the one absolutely essential thing for a voter to do." There was no further explanation of this rather ambiguous sentence.

Still referring to the subject of ballot reform, the governor declared himself in favor of the short ballot and recommended a change in marking ballots, declaring that the present system made it "easy for an ignorant voter to mark the straight ticket, but difficult for the independent voter to select the party ticket." A commission to investigate and recommend changes in the state election laws was also suggested.

He also suggested the publication of campaign publicity by the state at a nominal expense of the candidate.

The governor recommended the repeal of the present mortgage law and other laws exempting secured debts from taxation and the substitution of a tax providing for an annual fixed payment on both secured and unsecured credits, bank deposits and other intangible property represented by certificates other than the stock of domestic corporations. This could be accomplished, he said, by a "specific tax" or, preferably, by amending the constitution to allow classification of property for taxation purposes. The governor also declared that corporations not now required to make reports to the board of commissioners or state tax commissioners should be made to file sworn statements with the board of state tax commissioners giving such information as the board may deem necessary.

The powers of the railroad commission should be enlarged, according to the governor, to cover all public utility corporations in the state.

After cordially putting himself on the back at great length for his conduct during the Michigan copper strike the governor, in discussing industrial relations, suggested the formation of a court of inquiry to investigate the cause at issue in labor disputes. This court should be composed of the circuit judges of the district, in which the dispute arises, the governor and attorney-general of the state, and one or more members named by each of the parties involved. The governor failed to suggest that the commission be given any real power, the sole object of this elaborate machinery apparently being to make a public report of its findings. In this connection the governor said: "In this light of legislative experience little more can be accomplished than to focus public opinion upon industrial disputes."

Several excellent amendments tending to strengthen the workman's compensation law, were proposed. The law should be changed to bring under the scope of the law portions of work done by contractors or manufacturers so as to protect all men employed on the job, whether they are working directly for the principal or subcontractor, he said. Other recommendations included amendment to bring so-called "occupational diseases" under the scope of the law; lengthening the time during which the employer must furnish medical aid, and, in figuring earning capacity as a basis for the awarding of compensation, to include "seasonal" occupations, to include earned at other work.

The other two subjects that reached for me are still in quarantine. The one is giving milk and its feeding to children, which is regular and permissible, and the other cow is dry and they are both ordered to be rested in the coming spring.

The statement that Commissioner Stapleton gave the two remaining reactors a "clean bill of health" is erroneous, and the state does not intend the merchandising of the product of a once reactor. The herd is safe at present as far as being a safe disseminator, and the public are safe in using the product of this herd.

Respectfully yours,
D. E. SELLER.

WANTS EVERY ISSUE.

Dr. G. M. Livingston of Detroit, writes in part in remitting on subscription account as follows: "We want the Pioneer-Tribune without fail every issue. It is our weekly teacher from Cleveland. Our persistent boosting for Manistique, I fully believe, will put the old town on the map in big letters. Your writing in last issue along that line should be considered a classic. No reason why Manistique should not develop, and I hope to see it, am interested in the same as I will before I disposed of my holdings. Highland Park is certainly a winner, 4,000 population in 1910 and 22,000 in 1914."

DR. SELLER EXPLAINS.

Manistique, Mich., Jan. 12, 1915. Editor Pioneer Tribune. Dear Sir: I notice in your last week's issue a statement in regard to dairy herd of Mrs. Smith, which is rather misleading, and I think in justice to the owner and the people in Manistique who consume the products of this dairy, it needs correction.

I tested this herd in April, 1914, and found three reactors and they were placed in quarantine. Dr. McPhail made a subsequent test and found one reactor out of the three that reacted for me. Commissioner Stapleton did not test the latter animal, but tested the remaining two in question, and he found one suspicious subject. The animal that reacted for both Dr. McPhail and myself was destroyed, and on post mortem we were unable to find any bacteria. In previous seasons, and the issues were in perfect order excepting one of the bronchial glands, and this gland was only slightly enlarged.

The other two subjects that reached for me are still in quarantine. The one is giving milk and its feeding to children, which is regular and permissible, and the other cow is dry and they are both ordered to be rested in the coming spring.

The statement that Commissioner Stapleton gave the two remaining reactors a "clean bill of health" is erroneous, and the state does not intend the merchandising of the product of a once reactor. The herd is safe at present as far as being a safe disseminator, and the public are safe in using the product of this herd.

RETURN TO REASON

Common School Education May Be of Value if Suggestions Are Generally Adopted.

"What is wrong with our public schools?" is evidently being investigated by our state department of education, and with good results. If the recommendations of Fred L. Keeler, state superintendent of public instruction, are adopted by local school superintendents, a common school education may again be of value to the recipient. At times with passing fads and fancies will be discouraged. Familiarizing pupils with frank laws, which are later either declared to be unconstitutional or repealed by the legislature, and other such unprofitable pastimes will be tabooed. In short, Superintendent Keeler advises a return to reason, and reinstating the "Three R's" as the backbone of our educational structure. Music, drawing, manual training and like special studies will be referred to the institutions where they belong.

In a bulletin, issued this week, Mr. Keeler says in part: "Fifty per cent of our pupils never finish the sixth grade." Mr. Keeler says: "Twenty-five per cent. enter the high school, but only eight per cent finish. But five per cent enter

Union Trust Company Detroit, Michigan

The greatest question which confronts us is what is best for the 50 per cent that never finish the sixth grade. They need something to help them through life. They need the Three R's. Reading is the most important. They should get the reading habit young. Then they can educate themselves. Some of our brightest men educated themselves. Reading is on the decline with the result that we are not as good readers as 25 years ago. "Parents do not buy their children the right kind of books. They buy Dickens for children. They want the interesting story, something they can grasp. School officers frequently buy the wrong books. For that reason, they are only permitted to buy books now approved by us."

The arithmetic should be applied to the community problems. It should be made interesting to the students. A touch of real life wakes the pupil up. Let them figure up the cost of sugar beets and other stuff 'pa' raises. The cost may be the big factor in the most important man. Practical banking problems should be given to the pupils. The authors of many of our arithmetics know nothing of practical banking. They can't fill a check out properly in many cases.

"Penmanship is also very important. The state has now required all normal graduates to take a course in penmanship. The students write the department a letter at the end of their term." Mr. Keeler has a batch of letters from Marquette Normal students. They are as legible as typewriting.

EXPRESS GRATITUDE.

Lower State Hunters, Saved from Death. Write Letter to E. A. Grondin.

The following letter received by E. A. Grondin, of Seney, was written by Geo. W. Miller and George Huntington, the two lower state hunters who were lost for two or three days out from Seney during the recent hunting season, and who escaped death in a severe blizzard only because they chanced to blunder onto a camp where they had shelter until their rescuers found them:

"Dear Mr. Grondin—Sufficient time has elapsed since our rescue from the perils of our lost condition in the woods to take a somewhat calm review of our dreadful three nights and four days' experience. "We have learned a most profound gratitude of the splendid efforts put forth by you in our behalf. We feel confident that had it not been for you, and for such as you, we would not have been able to say even 'I thank you.'"

"The terrible storm and deep snow made our service and sacrifice all the more valuable. I hope you know that we appreciate your disinterested services to us. They will always be cherished by us in grateful, sacred memory."

LOST ROLL AT POKER.

That his 18-year-old brother dropped $500 in Escanaba gambling joints" within a very short time is charged made by H. H. Shepeck, traveling salesman for the L. Stephens Co., Trustees, and the salesman has caused the arrest of Louis Schuetz, saloonkeeper, and John Parke and Joe Hoffman, "gents about town" of Escanaba.

Shepeck charges that most of the money was dropped to these three men in Schuetz's saloon. Escanaba is stirred up over the affair, which has been suppressed in the local daily papers, because Shepeck, it is said, threatens to haul into court witnesses a number of young men, some of them sons of Escanaba's "best families." Shepeck charges that gambling is common and that a number of men are making a fat living from fleecing Escanaba's young would-be men of the world.

ARRAIGNS THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Governor of Texas, a Democrat, bitterly Assails Present Administration.

The Wilson administration has been the greatest failure in the history of the presidency. The south is land literally flowing with milk and honey, it has made one of the biggest and best crops in its history and yet because of the utter incompetence of the man in charge of the government, its business is prostrate, its credit is impaired and thousands of its people are starving.

The administration's tariff law was pledged to lower the cost of living, and it has the contrary effect. By putting raw materials on the free list and keeping the protection on manufactured goods, it has condemned American farmers by hundreds of thousands to penance.

The administration's foreign policy has been imbecile. It has allowed England to dictate conditions as to cotton shipments to European countries that has enabled English spinners to rob the American cotton growers of half the value of their crop.

England stopped American shipments until the English spinners had bought their supply at $ 1.25 cents a pound, and stored it in Texas and other southern warehouses. Then England consented to declare cotton not contraband. If I had been president I would have served notice on England that our foreign trade in cotton and other non-combatant commodities was going forward, and if necessary I would have sent American ironclads to England's door to enforce that notice.

The administration's repeal of the Panama canal toll exemption, in violation of the party's national platform was another weak surrender to England.

The Wilson-Bryan management of the Mexican affair has been an egregious failure. They landed an American army in Vera Cruz to force Huerta to salute the flag and brought it back without getting the salute.

They now ask congress to appropriate over $500,000 to pay the expenses on that ridiculous expenditure. What did it accomplish? It set all Mexico aflame against Americans, not only in Mexico, but in Texas.

Governor Colquitt says that when he sent 1,200 state troops to the border to protect Texas from Mexico bandit gangs, there were but 60 federal troops along the 1,200-mile frontier. He says that he has learned that everything was ready at Washington "to have me indicted by a federal grand jury and put in a federal prison on the assumption that I meant to invade Mexico."

"Wilson and Bryan have stood by" the statement continues, "encouraging one gang of bandits after another, while people were being butchered all over Mexico, while the vast American interests there were being confiscated, and today Mexican conditions are worse than at any time since Madero was assassinated."

In conclusion, he says: "I am fully convinced that the national election of 1913 will end the Democratic regime. The policies of the Democratic national administration have wholly failed either to curb monopolies or to lower the cost of living to the people, and they have materially contributed to deprive millions of wage-earners of employment and advantage. The president stood in the road and condemned the south, which made him, to heavier loss and more widespread misery than has known in three generations. He vindicated

HOW TO CURE A CHRONIC COUGH

Told in the Following Letter by a Jackson Man Who Knows from Experience. His Word is Good.

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a carpenter, and the gripe left me not only with a chronic cough, but I was run-down, nervous and weak. I tried all kinds of cough syrups but they did me no good. I finally got so weak I was not able to do a day's work, and coughed so much I was alarmed about my condition. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Before I had taken a quarter of a bottle I felt better, and after taking two bottles my cough is entirely cured, all the bad symptoms have disappeared, and I have gained new vigor and energy."

—JOHN L. DENNIS, 711 Lynch Street, Jackson, Miss.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil contained in Vinol build up the system and strengthen and invigorate the nerves and muscles while the tonic properties assist the red corpuscles of the blood to absorb oxygen and distribute it through the system, thus restoring health and strength to the weakened, diseased organs of the body. If Vinol fails to help you, we return your money.

A. S. PUTNAM & CO.

small moment whether one is opposed to the idea, the fact is present. "I might say, however, that I have not been approached by the extremists of either side of this question, but have in my usual contacts by those occupying the middle ground—those interested in our great industrial enterprises, our colleges and schools, our criminals and unfortunates, our morals and social relations—and without exception they ask for advanced temperance legislation enacted by those in my constituency if I did not turn these matters over to you. They are in your hands, and I have that confidence in you that you will give them your most careful consideration, and when you have arrived at the result it will be the product of honest conviction.

The legislator of a generation ago could do things that would have been abhorred, or possibly outwardly approved by his constituents that the same acts today would subject him to penalties severely enough to impair his term. The standard of legislation is of a higher grade in each succeeding legislature, generally speaking, because the people are demanding better things and watching critically the acts of their legislators. They are today severely demanding of us more than of any former legislature. Let us not disappoint them, but may we all aid our individual efforts toward adding an additional chapter, the constitutionality, the clearness, the plainness of our laws, and making it the most commendable of all changes of the long list of Michigan's statutes. Gentlemen, I have the utmost confidence that this will be the result."

CONDITIONS IN ST. LOUIS.

Mr. Clarence Mutari, former Manistiquette Writer, writes interesting letter concerning Conditions There.

Mr. Clarence Mutari of St. Louis, Mo., a former Manistiquette writer, who is a resident of the metropolis of Missouri, and who holds a residence in the city with the Edison Lamp Works of the General Electric Co., writes an interesting letter to the Pioneer-Tribune which will be read with interest by Mr. Mutari's many friends there. It proves that Manistiquette is not such a bad place to live in after all, and as it recounts the financial straits of St. Louis at the present time, we letter follows:

Dear Sir: I am replying with the interest he articulates regarding the January 1st issue of the "Pioneer" dealing with the present business conditions in Manistiquette, and the marked advancement that has been made in a past few years.

"Doubtless," business depression has been the event which has overshadowed itself even in Manistiquette which has elsewhere and there may be many cases of privation as a consequence, but, in view of conditions as they exist at present in this city and other large cities, I think that there are few people in Manistiquette who should consider themselves fortunate in at least having a roof to shelter them and means to afford at least the necessities of life.

In this city, the metropolis of the great northwest, which is one of the wealthiest cities in the country, there are at present over 80,000 unemployed people according to a census just completed by special committee of investigation, appointed by the mayor. Five thousand people are being fed by charitable organizations, over 5,000 people daily. The city is experiencing one of the worst "crime waves" it has ever known.

Motion of Alderman Carrington seconded by Alderman Wittler that the Handle Factory Company be requested to provide a "softer" noise from the said factory, motion carried as follows:

Years: Alderman Gage, Carrington, Wittler and McCauley.

Mays: Alderman Anderson, Lundstrom and McMulkin.

Every morning's paper contains a long list of burglaries and hold-ups and last week five people were shot during attempted robberies. One of the salaried employees with the company by which I am employed, was held up on his way home last night from a visit to a friend's and out of one hundred dollars. This occurred in the heart of the best residential section of the city. It is not only the work of professional criminals, but ordinary law-abiding workmen forced by lack of employment and actual starvation to commit crimes. The weather here will still and there is no snow. When we walk the streets in these conditions, but as they are now, will be far worse. If conditions such as I have above outlined were known to the average young man who at this time has ambition to leave the old home and make his mark in the city, I am sure he would soon find a better way before taking the step and consider himself better off at home where he has a roof to shelter him and the assurance of three "squares" a day.

With best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

HOLIDAYS ON SUNDAY IN 1915. Memorial Day and the Fourth of July Are Due on Sabbath—Some Other Features.

An interesting condition is revealed in the calendar for 1915, a perusal of the list to important holidays showing that at least two of them will fall on a Sunday. Just how extensively this will affect the usual custom of manufacturing and commercial institutions to allow their employees a day off on the anniversary of these occasions is not definitely known at this time, but some trepidation is being evinced by those who would be affected. Memorial Day and the Fourth of July fall upon Sunday, while Christmas is dated for Saturday and New Year's day, just a week later, likewise falls on Saturday. Lincoln's birthday, February 29, and McKinley's birthday, January 29, both on a Friday, while Washington's birthday, the only holiday in February occurs on Monday, the 22nd.

St. Patrick's day, March 17, the day of days for the "wearers of the green," is a Wednesday occurrence this year. Easter, the occasion for the budding forth of new military exercises and the spring fashion shows, falls on Sunday, April 1. Father's day is the second Sunday in May.

During June, the month of weddings there are no holidays of importance. July has one big holiday, Independence day, considered by the youngest element second only to that following the last day of school. August has no days of important celebrity, while September 9, is a holiday of some import, being the date of the Jewish new year. Halloween is the only date of principal interest and much of its interest is removed when it is found to fall on Sunday. Two legal holidays occur in November, election day November 2, and Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 25.

FAMILIAR FACE AT COHEN'S. John Strekle has taken a position at the I. Cohen department store. Mr. Strekle is not a new man either in the city or at the Cohen store, having resided in Alpena and being also a resident of the metropolis of Missouri, and who holds a residence in the city with the Edison Lamp Works of the General Electric Co., writes an interesting letter to the Pioneer-Tribune which will be read with interest by Mr. Mutari's many friends there.
