REPUBLICAN

Schoolcraft County Gives a Good Sized Republican Plurality.

But one Republican on the County Ticket Defeated.

The Vote by far Lighter than two Years ago.

Tuesday was an ideal Republican day and the Republicans of the county rolled up a good sized majority, considering the light vote, which was about 800 less than in 1896. All the candidates for county offices, except Carey W. Duntun nominee for prosecuting attorney, won out with majorities ranging from 84 to 284 and comprising the vote with that of two years ago there was a Republican gain.

In Thompson, Mooly for sheriff and Patterson, Chappel's opponent, rolled up big majorities, even surprising themselves, getting a majority of 11 more than expected. Their vote fell short in the other townships none of them coming up to their expectations. Seney and Gernsack did nobly for the Republican nominees and their people have thanks for the results. Inwood too, showed Republican gains.

But little need be said of the Republicans elected other than they will attend the duties of their offices with as much credit as in the past.

In another column will be found the vote of the several townships, taken from the tally sheets in the office of the office of the county clerk.

POLITICAL NOTES.
The man who voted for Geo. W. Bouschor for court commissioner did a bright thing when he told his friends he was going to vote for him and the Republican ticket, ensuing W. L. Loran-gar's name. The ballot with Bouschor's name was found but the X was in the circle under the Bryan vignette instead of over the name of Hazen S. Pingree.

Teddy Roosevelt, republican nominee for governor of New York, defeated Van Wyck by 25,000 votes. The vote was extremely light in the state. The Republicans went to Harlem with 100,000 plurality thus the democratic majority in the city was much less than usual.

By the way votes were split throughout the county. Tuesday the voters are conformant with the Australian system. But few split ballots were thrown out.

Fred K. Baker will have over 2,500 majority. He will make as good a state senator as the district has ever had.

About 150 men came down from the camps on the special train Tuesday noon for the purpose of voting.

Geo. P. McCallum, for representative in the legislature, has about 1200 majority. Mr. McC. will represent the Delta district with credit.

Even Nebraska, the home of W. J. Bryan, endorses the administration of Pres. McKinley, giving Republicans.

Incomplete returns give the Republicans a majority in Minnesota, Lind (demo-pop) excepted.

Edward Schofield, for governor, and the whole Republican ticket elected in Wisconsin.

Carlos D. Sheldon, for congress, has about 10,000 majority.

MINUTE ROMANCES.

"This isn't the I I promised you, Mary," said the little fellow yesterday when, for a moment, the brave wife faltered and cried in discontent. And when Mary saw the man she loved in the humiliation of his helplessness at the dried her tears and comforted him.

"Never mind, dear," she said, smiling with her lips and patting his thin hand softly. "I'm all right now; I couldn't bear to hear the children cry for food. But they're needed now for the crust, and I guess I can get something for them. I'll try, anyway."

A sob caught in her throat, but she went out with a cheery wave of her toll-roughened hand to her husband. In two hours she was by his side again.

"I have meat and bread, dear," she said. "The butcher's wife paid me with it for scolding her hours. Now, if I can only get some coal you and the children shall have a good hot dinner."

She snatched up a small basket and went to the Hudson River railroad tracks to gather clinkers and scattered coal. Her heart was light with hope again, and she was just lifting the coal-filled basket preparatory to going home, when the rattle of a train started her. The fast freight was coming, and she stepped off that track just in time to be caught and crushed by the express train from the opposite direction. "The yardmen were quivering broken form up on the roadside with careful hands, and soon she was in the ambulance on the way to the hospital. One there, the physicians looked upon her as a case to undertake a task or a journey on Friday.

"Well, I am not superstitious as a general thing," replied Charlie Wilson, "but I do hate to commence anything on that day."

Juliet, who had been already straggled, her shoulders, and said "Tom!" feebly. Were Alma and her friend from the south compared to her?

"I reckon if you'd been nursed by a third mammy, as I saw," said the girl from Mobile, "you all would believe in ghosts and charms. You can't help it when you hear the singers telling of the 'haints,' and it's so fascinating to anything to hear about the voodoo spells. Why, they have love charms—"

"Love charms!" the chorus expressed horror, delight and curiosity. "How terrible!" "How perfectly fantastic!" "How interesting!"

"But the white people never believe in those, do they?" There was a stony disapproval in the question. The southern beauty pouted bewitchingly.

"Oh—I don't know," she said. "Hello, did you ever? I love a love charm. The house demanded, 'Did you?'"

"Um-huh." (That canny word, 'um-huh,' ye see it means 'yes' and 'no'—did you? Where did you get it? Did—did you use it on any—anybody? (eagerly).)

"Um-huh!" "Oh, Belle!" They were all talking at once. "What was it?" "A dried spider?" "Ugh!"

"Yes, I did. Old mammy gave it to me, and I wore it in my pocket, and the first time I met Charlie he fell in love with me. See here!" A diamond sparkled on her hand, and the mischievous girl rolled her eyes.

spied near at hand a boat which was the conventional gypsy both. An irresistible longing seized him to enter and learn his fate.

Rather dazedly and feeling like a school boy he sat down on the low seat before the fortune teller.

She bade him shuffle out the pack. Then she spread them out one by one before her.

"Let me see, you are not entirely blonde. I think I shall take you for the Jack of Hearts. Ah, yes! Wealth, health and advantage cards together. Rather romantically inclined. Yes, at times very pessimistic."

He looked up sharply at the gypsy, but she continued:

"Yes, your nature is a little unfortunate, a little unhappy. I lately—no—yes, lately you have loved. There is a blonde man and the jealousy card between you and the blonde man. She is a brunette. Clubs. It is that unfortunate nature of yours again," she said, solemnly, putting her finger on a black card near the Jack of Hearts. "The card of imagination near it. You have imagined! And yet she—the brunette—you have surrounded her. Only light cards surround her. You have misjudged her."

"How do you mean?" he was startled into saying.

"See!" she said, laying her finger on the Jack of Hearts.

"I've been seriously ill three years ago. The doctor gave me medicine for indigestion but couldn't do me any good. I had several physicians at intervals who gave me some relief, but the disease would not give up. I read in the newspapers articles regarding the wonderful curative power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and finally concluded to try the pills. I purchased a box. The first box gave me much relief. I continued taking the pills, and after using four boxes was cured."

"These pills are recognized everywhere as the best for indigestion, the blood and nerves. For paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and other diseases the symptoms of which have proved their efficacy in thousands of cases."

A Mother's Note-Book.

It is chiefly for her own instruction and guidance that a mother needs to keep some kind of nursery note-book. For the refreshment of her memory, for the preservation of the incidents of her children's lives, as well as for the enlightenment of others to whom she may choose to impart her experience, the results of her labor will more than repay her for the trouble taken. She need follow no rules, nor even attempt to make regular entries, unless she has a inclination for the task. Facts bearing upon physical variations are extremely valuable, and it is wise to note the regular intervals at which the child's inclination is likely to fall, and for the re-awakening of dulled sympathy with childish moods, as well as for the enlightenment of others to whom she may choose to impart her experience, the results of her labor will more than repay her for the trouble taken. ### A NATION OF DYSPEPTICS.

From the Mountaineer, Hutchins, N. Dakota.

The remedy of a gassy stomach is what a large majority of the people are suffering with today. Dyspepsia is a characteristic of our nation, and is frequently said to be "a nation of dyspeptics."

Improper food, hurried eating, mental worry, exhaustion, and other causes, lead to a lack of vitality in the system, by causing the blood to lose its life-giving elements. The blood is impoverished, and dyspepsia will wash and good health follow.

For example, the county of Fanning, North Dakota, a few miles from Wall, has a resident Mr. Ernest Snider, a man of sterling integrity and high character, who has been afflicted with dyspepsia for several years. He says:

"I was a sufferer from dyspepsia for several years, and was unable to do any work. I had consulted several physicians, but they were unable to cure me. I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and after using four boxes was cured."

"These pills are recognized everywhere as the best for indigestion, the blood and nerves. For paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and other diseases the symptoms of which have proved their efficacy in thousands of cases."

REGAINED HEALTH.

Gratifying Letters to Mrs. Pinkham from Happy Women.

"I Owe You My Life."

Mrs. E. WOODMAN.

Wills, Neb., writes:

"Dear Mrs. FROST— I owe my life to your Vegetable Compound. The doctors said I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. My menstruation had stopped and they said my blood was turning to water. I had several doctors. They all said I could not live. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me right away; my meninges returned and I have gained in weight. I have better health than I have had for years. It is wonderful what your Compound has done for me."

"I Feel Like a New Person."

Mrs. G. L. LEACH.

1609 Behan St., Alton, Ill., writes:

"I began to take your Vegetable Compound I was a great sufferer from womb trouble. Meneses would appear two and three times in a month, causing me to be so weak I could not stand. I could neither sleep or eat, and looked so badly my friends hardly knew me.

"I took doctor's medicine but did not derive much benefit from it. My drug-giver gave me one of your little books, and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new person. I would not give your Compound for all the doctors' medicine in the world. I can not praise it enough."

His Hobby.

Things not to be smiled at in them, they take on a humorous aspect through the manner of their expression. An English paper says: An old country sexton, in showing visitors round the churchyard, used to stop at a certain tombstone and say: "This is the tomb of Thomas 'Doper an eleven wolvers." On one occasion a lady said, "However, that's not a very lot, but it is." The old man looked at her gravely, and replied, "Well, sum, yer see, it was an 'ob of 'em."

Extreme Courtesy.

"These French army officers are very nice people," said a humorist who had traveled. "Yes," answered Miss Cayman. "They would put an innocent man in jail to avoid hurting a friend's feelings." Cincinnati Enquirer.

The end of one man's failure is often the beginning of another man's success.

"If there is anything I despise it is superstition," Little Alton said to the company of girls she had invited to lunch before the call to "break tanks" was sounded by Vassar, Wellesley, and Smith, their respective colleges. "It seems so foolish to hesitate to undertake a task or a journey on Friday."

"Well, I am not superstitious as a general thing," replied Charlie Wilson, "but I do hate to commence anything on that day."

Juliet, who had been already straggled, her shoulders, and said "Tom!" feebly. Were Alma and her friend from the south compared to her?

on the bluff Jack of Diamonds. "You have no cause for jealousy. There are no love cards between them. She does not love him."

"Are you quite sure?" asked Gray.

"Quite," said the gypsy.

"But she might, because he loves her," he insisted. "Do you mean that I've no cause for jealousy with that Jack of Diamonds so near my bracelets of spades?"

"None," she replied, solemnly. "No danger of her falling in love with him."

"No," said the gypsy; "the love cards are not there."

"Where are they then?"

"Here they are, on the other side of the brunette—the nine, five and seven of hearts," he said.

"On the other side," he said; "five, seven, nine; those are love cards! Well, what does that mean?"

He looked puzzled and then put his finger on the Jack of Hearts. "That's what I mean—that Jack of Hearts!"

"Yes," she answered, dreamily. "Then the love cards are between the Queen of Spades and the Jack of Hearts, is it myself?"

The fortune teller assented.

"Then that means she loves me?"

"Yes," said the gypsy almost under her breath, "she does."

Jack thought a moment. "Well, that's just what you're wrong about, ungraciously, and now. You see, I knew before I came in; so you will excuse my saying it if I rub it. Here is your fortune for the week."

In a moment he was outside, leaving room for another adventurer to enter. He snugged just before the tent and listened to the conversation within.

It was not in the mysterious tones he had heard, but a girlish voice, which he knew only too well.

"Yes," it said softly, "and so I'm grieved in the least that it is."

He waited a few moments until the long robe and veil were thrown out, and she fluttered out.

"Dorothy," he said, softly.

With a little cry she found herself face to face with him, and ere long the Queen of Spades and Jack of Hearts were walking together beneath the shade of an old tree, laughing freely over the success of the would-be fortune teller.—Ex

MANISTIQUE, NOV. 11, 1898.

THE U. S. naval losses were the Maïne before the war and the Maria Teresa after it.

THERE were punctures found in the democratic claims. Tuesday night, Thompson township was in lue though.

MANY a ballot that went into the ballot box Tuesday were scratched until it looked like the hull of a Spanish ship, after an hours target practice by American gunners.

ONE of the reasons why Moody was so largely defeated in Manistique was that our people were afraid that if he was elected Palsey would want to move the county buildings to the vacant lots opposite his place of business.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thanksgiving day a year ago was one of rejoicing. It will be more so this year. Now, even more than then, we enjoy the blessing of prosperity, meaning bread, meat, clothing and shelter, secured through the opportunity to work. The man who, two years ago, was in doubt how he would get a coat, buy his coal, satisfy his landlord's demand for rent and feed a cloth his children, now has work in place of worry.

Not alone is the American more contented with his own condition, but he has the satisfaction of having succored the weak, fed the starving and relieved his oppressed neighbors. The glory of the liberation of Cuba and the Philippines belongs to every true patriot, though the "dough-faces" can claim no credit. Every good citizen has the privilege today of becoming a partner in the good work, by approving it as done and supporting the administration that did it.

There is joy in the demonstrated warlike strength of the republic, on sea and land. There is a hope of peace, enforced by a wholesome respect for our prowess abroad and continuing, let us hope, for a long term of years. The tremendous growth of our export trade and its promise for the future are causes for rejoicing.

The change from the conditions of two years ago is as complete as it has been rapid. It has occurred in a year and a half of republican management.

WHY PAY ANYTHING.

While the German and French papers are busy abusing the United States, especially with vituperative epithets, for demanding the whole of the Philippine archipelago, Americans are apt to think that our government has been much too generous to the defeated enemy. The question that seems to divide the two sides of the joint peace commission is, whether the United States shall pay to Spain $40,000,000 or some larger amount, perhaps as much as $200,000,000. The lower of those sums would be a nice present to Spain and would help her considerably in getting on a business basis once more. But wherefore should we pay it? The United States has already expended over $165,000,000 in reconquering Spain. Our people are still paying vexatious war taxes. A debt of $200,000,000 has been incurred. During the war 2,600 men have lost their lives, and many times that number have been wounded or debilitated. Wives have been made widows and children orphans, and to both classes the government will be paying pensions for many years to come. Has not the folly of Spain cost us enough?

As an offset to the losses we have sustained, the acquisition of Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines is not too much. But on our account with Spain should be added the long series of injuries too patiently borne in the last twenty-five years. From the affair of the Virginia to the Maine our citizens have suffered ignominy and death at the hands of insolent Spaniards in their undiscriminating hatred for all non-Spaniards in Cuba.

Spain has neither any claim upon us nor any equity in the Philippines. To pay the old proprietors of those islands an indemnity is an admission that they have made some investment there, while all the world knows that the sum Spain has drawn from the Philippines vastly exceed all that she has ever expended for their improvement. The merchants and the natives of that land have been taxed and plundered to the last degree. The legal and illegal exactions of Spanish officials have been a world wide scandal. What has Spain given to the Philippines that she should now be reimbursed for their loss?—Dispatch.

MR. DENBY ON THE PHILIPPINES.

Mr. Charles Denby, the American minister to China from 1885 till July, 1888, gives in the Forum several reasons for keeping the Philippines. Prophecies of evil do not disturb him, for such prophecies, he says, have been made before every acquisition of territory by the United States, and have not been fulfilled. Contact in the far East with the representatives of other countries has taught Mr. Denby that no modern diplomatist hesitates to advise the country to follow the path of enlightened selfishness. Nowadays "the art of arts is the extension of commercial relations—in plain language, the selling of native products and manufactured goods." Applying this to the East, Mr. Denby says that he favors holding the Philippines because he can think of no alternative, except the seizure of territory in China, and because wants China "to preserve her autonomy, to become great and prosperous," and wants this "not for the interest of another plan. To Do Away With Causes and Conventions—Outline of Bill That May Be Introduced at the Next Session of the Legislature.

A new plan to do away with causes and conventions and to make nominations by a direct vote of the people has the O. K. mark of Governor Ingrose. A bill has been drafted providing for an entirely new system and this will be submitted to the legislature next winter. But the bill will be printed and given general circulation for the purpose of enlightening the people of the state and securing comments and criticisms.

The bill does away with all political conventions, and provides for the nomination of candidates by the direct vote of the people. It applies to state officers and county officers. The essence of the proposed reform is to have the voters, on the last day of registration cast their ballots directly for the men of their choice for all the offices to be filled, the person receiving the greatest number of votes for any given office being the nominee of the party, this last day of registration being known as "primary day," and all the primaries of political parties of each county are to be held at the same time.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand. These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies? Fresh air, proper food and Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

of China but for our interests. China is an admirable market for American timber, locomotives, rails, coal, oil, sheeting and mining plants. Only one other commercial country. Japan is nearer than the United States to China. There is before us a boundless future which more important to us than the Atlantic. San Francisco, Seattle and Tacoma are in their infancy. They are destined to rival New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia. If we give up the Philippines we throw away the splendid opportunity to assert our influence in the far East. What would be likely to happen if we gave them up? Mr. Denby believes that Spain would not succeed in conquering the insurgents that, if she should succeed, she would not be likely to keep the islands; and that if she should offer them to some continental power she would bring on a European war. It is perfectly certain, I think," says Mr. Denby, "that England will not stand by and see any other European power take the Philippines. They are on the line to Australia and India. England has stood by and seen Germany, Russia and France seize portions of China. There is not an Englishman nor an American in the far East who approves her policy. The taking of the Philippines by any European power other than England would create an explosion in the latter country, and, if resisted, would lead to the destruction of the ministry and, perhaps, the throne. By holding the Philippines we avert the partition of China, and we post-poned at least a general European war."

Holding the opinion, that possession of the Philippines would be of advantage to the United States, Mr. Denby believes also that "More sentiment should give way to actual policy. It is only the dread of a large standing army that causes the body of the people who oppose annexation to withhold their approval." But a large standing army, says Mr. Denby, will probably be unnecessary, and he is sure that, "imitating the policy of England in East India, native troops would serve all purposes." There is no reason whatever why we cannot administer the Philippines in a manner satisfactory to their people as well as to ourselves.

This is apparent, Mr. Denby is in favor of taking the Philippines both in case, if war had not happened to throw them in our way, we should have been led by our desire for trade in the East to appropriate as an equivalent a slice of China. It is certainly very kind in Denby to give the United States in such a way that we are obliged to accept the gift, however reluctantly, the one thing that we most need.

On primary election day the polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Electors will receive ballots and vote according to the so-called Australian ballot system. The political parties may be represented by challengers. The law makes the usual provision for returns, etc., and for a canvass by the election commissioners on Thursday following the primary election, when the person receiving the greatest number of votes in each office will be elected as the party candidate.

They banish pain and prolong life. ONE GIVES RELIEF.

The Best and Cheapest.

The New York Independent, the leading weekly newspaper in the world, and one whose success has defied the wildest fancies, is entering upon its fiftieth year of publication. The Independent emphasizes its fiftieth year by changing its form to that of a magazine, and by reducing its annual subscription price from $4.00 to $2.00, single copies from 10 to 5 cents. The Independent in its new form will print a 640 pages of reading matter per year at a cost to subscribers of $2.00, while the prominent magazines, which sell for $4.00 a year, print only about 2,000 pages. The subscribers of The Independent get 82 per cent. more of quality reading matter at one-half the cost! It is not only the leading family weekly newspaper but by far the cheapest and best. ## HE LOVED THE SEA. ONCE THEY WERE MEDIUMS.

Tomson had to study it from the Downs of the Isle of Wight.

Tomson said: "Somewhere water is the element I love best of all four," but in the recent memoir he is also credited with saying that he "never cared greatly for the sea on the south coast. It is not a grand sea, only an angry, cutting sea."

Probably that was a view expressed before he became familiar with the lo-plunge against the Isle of Wight as against Cornwall and the west of Ireland he himself has proved how much power and excitement the sea reveals from the north. Let the weather be fair or foul, nature is never dull from the vantage ground of those convectives which seem like the rim of his earth and are an illusion of vastness and openness beyond their actual area. Mast-riding on ridges and etched against the sky indeed seem "as trees walking."

The wind rattling in the rig, the sleep-bleating, the sea chattering among the bowriders, the occasional howling of a steamer for a pilot, the swallowing cry that give the only sounds. When the mist closes over the scene, a strange sense of being disembodied possesses us, we are lost in the imperceptible vapor, and the gulls pass over our heads, visible but for an instant as they float from obscurity into obscurity. In times of such one seems to be at the seat of the elements and a witness to all their processes. The clouds roll and break against the cliffs like another sea, and silver shafts from their leaves and sliver swirl over the vessel and over the billows. On sultry days a water-spout, whirling like a devil, is an uncommon sight, and he who makes the down his chesty throaty becomes witness to all the phenomena of sea and air. Climbing them at night gives one the feeling of scaling the walls of heaven itself. They slide like thickets of pyramids, and the apex of the pyramid impales the stars. On sunny days the sea below is purple, and every shade of blue and green that can be thought of, even the rare cap of Tomson's own description: "like a peacock's neck."

Hardly was there a visitor at Farringford that he was not brought up to the bosom and shown all these wonders and beauties. Except in his closing years the poet was found upon them in all weathers and at all seasons, and from them and the surrounding scenery he drew many of the landscapes of his poems.—North American Review.

DOG OPENED FATHER'S EYES MAKING ARTIFICIAL ICE.

Experience of a Man Who Had Several Growing Girls.

"It is quite interesting to be the father of several growing girls," said one of a group of family men in the smoking of a suburban car.

"Yes," answered another one, with a shrug of his shoulders, "especially when they all want new gowns at the same time."

"I wasn't thinking of that," said the first speaker, "but of a way we had of taking the wind out of your sails. It never occurred to me until the other morning that it was not so me that young fellows kept dragging in to my certain and making themselves agreeable. I tumbled at last, but it was my hunting dog Jack that opened my eyes."

"Your hunting dog?" echoed the crowd.

"Yes. I had heard of nearly ever, kind of a plan for the communication of boys except a dog. In this case Jack became Cupid's messenger. Those boys borrowed the dog ostensibly to go hunting, but I have learned since that they didn't know a gun from a hoe handle. They laid back up overnight, and as soon as he got out in the morning he made a bee line for home. If I hadn't seen the corner of a paper sticking from under his collar, I should never have suspected the enterprise with which those girls tried to hood him off from me."

"He had a letter for them?"

"No, just a note asking the privilege of seeing dear Miss Kate or Miss Sue in the park for a walk and a chat. Neo likes, enjoying the dog of the family in a clandestine correspondence! I answered that note myself, and the two girls haven't spoken to me since. Jack is tied up, and I'm waiting the note for I have no doubt they'll find a way to circumvent me."—Chicago Times-Herald.

THE FISH'S COLOR.

ABLE TO A MARVELOUS DEGREE TO ADAPT ITSELF TO ITS SURROUNDINGS.

It is a familiar fact that fishes can change their colors at will. Many fishes, among fishes most commonly preserve their normal colors, though these fishes can change. The fishes that change most are the bottom dwellers. For their own protection from other fishes that would prey upon them and the better to enable them themselves to capture food these change their colors to match the bottom they are on so as to make themselves invisible. They do this often to a degree that seems extraordinary.

In one of the smaller salt water tanks at the New York aquarium there are a number of small flatfish. The bottom of the tank is covered with coarse gravel. The great bulk of the gravel is composed of pebbles of a brownish white, a sort of pale iron rust color. Scattered in this are pebbles of a deeper blue, with now and then one of a brownish gray or brown black.

The flatfish lying on the gravel at the bottom of this tank imitate its colors in their own backs in a manner that is most marvelous. They are all this and they are all of a mottled brown, like the colors of the gravel, and the smallest of the flatfish is the most wonderful. War Cloud Darkens Because of Differences Between France and Great Britain Over the Fashoda Matter—Both are Preparing for Trouble.

Railroad traffic was suspended on the west and lake shipping run for shelter wherever possible. Two of three craft were lost but the crews were saved.

On the evening of Oct. 14 a mail pouch was stolen from the Michigan Central depot mail truck at Jackson. Last week a quantity of the mail was found in a box car at Howell. THE CASUALTIES AND DEATHS OF THE FRENCH AND BRITISH.

The steamer L. R. Doty, from Chicago for Hildland, Georgian bay, with a large cargo of corn, and towing the schooner Olive Jeanette, went down in Lake Michigan off Kenosha, Wis., during the heavy storm last week and the crew and passengers were drowned.

Although the steamer did not reach her destination at the time expected there was no occasion for her welfare until she was reported to have been wrecked on the shore of Lake Michigan. A short time later the Olive Jeanette was towed into Chicago harbor and the crew confirmed the news.

The sailors who went down with the Doty included Capt. Christopher Smith, of Fort Harpe; Chief Engineer Tom. Akerly; Port Haron; First Mate Henry Harpe; Detroit; Stewart L. Gos, West Hay City, and 14 others. The Doty was owned at $110,000.

ODDITIES OF POSITIONING.

Much of Earthly Happiness Depends Upon What We Eat.

The constitutional differences and similarities which exist among the various races of men would always be carefully watched and considered. One person can handle poison ivy with impunity while another is poisoned if only in the vicinity of the vine and without contact. Some members of a family residing in a malarial district will suffer regularly with chills and fever, while other members will not be at all affected.

Food that is actually poisonous to some persons will not act so on others. One person may eat all kinds of green fruit and vegetables with impunity, while another person could do so only at the risk of life. Certain kinds of fish are actually poisonous to some people and perfectly wholesome to others.

It is this peculiar condition of the system which constitutes the danger point in the individual case and should be carefully observed by each one for himself. Intestinal derangements frequently arise from and are aggravated by certain kinds of food.

This person affected with kidney or liver trouble should not eat very white bread, since the extreme whiteness is often produced by the use of alum with an inferior article of flour, and as alum is known to be poisonous in its effect on a sound constitution, it is why alum baking powder is never used by people of judgment and discretion.

More of earthly happiness depends upon what we eat than many people realize and it is for this reason that the different states are one by one passing pre-rod laws.

Col. Waring Dead.

Col. Geo. E. Waring, Jr., of New York, who died in his home from typhoid fever contracted while he was in the city of Havana as a special commissioner to ascertain the exact sanitary conditions of that city and form ideas for the best methods for putting the place in first class sanitary shape. He had reached the city on his return to report to the President when taken ill.

Col. Waring was famous as a sanitarian by giving New York City the most thorough system of street cleaning and sanitation it had ever known.

Philadelphians' Pious Jubilee.

The return of peace was appropriately celebrated at Philadelphia, the opening feature being a grand naval parade, in which several of the vessels made famous by their part in the war participated. Then followed a splendid military pageant, a civic parade, receptions and banquets to President McKinley and many other distinguished men, including many heroes of the conflict with Spain.

Cuba Evacuation Delayed.

The American commissioners report that it will be unsafe to send American troops to Cuba before Dec. 1. The time for the completion of the evacuation has been extended to Jan. 1, as it would be physically impossible to remove the 14,000 Spanish soldiers before that date.

Sheldon has big Majority.
Hon. Carlos D. Sheldon, nominee of Republican party of 12th district of Michigan, defeated Sol. S. Curry, the gold-bug nominee on the silver-democratic ticket by over 13,000 majority. Mr. Sheldon, also, having served on only a single term in congress, is known as one of the strong members of that body. He was named by speaker Reed on three important committees, the most important of these a member of the committee on public lands and here he did excellent work which was appreciated by the householders of the U.
