A SPECIAL EVENT TAKING PLACE AT THE BUSY STORE.

We open our doors to the public with an unprecedented sale, surpassing in magnitude of bargain-giving with a sale never attempted before in this city.

Mr. Winkelman has just returned from the market and two weeks of shopping, and the result of his unimpaired efforts has been most gratifying. He plunged in deep and bought heavy because cheap. The goods placed on sale are as GOOD as the BEST, the LATEST of the Season, the Price the Cheapest, the temptation of a SPOT CASH DEAL and the main cause of thousands of prices.

PROF. JOSEPH MEKIE'S CONCERT

The Attendance Quite Large and the Concert a Success in Every Way.

The complimentary benefit concert tendered Prof. Joseph Mekie, violinist and instructor, at the Star Opera House, Friday evening, was without doubt, the most pleasing musical event our music-loving people have been privileged to attend. The pleasure of the entertainment was added to materially by the first appearance of several young people, pupils of Prof. Mekie's violin school. The house was quite comfortable filled and had it not been for the threatening appearance of the dark clouds the seating capacity of the play house would have been taxed.

The program opened with an overture, "Ten Minutes with the Minstrels," by Prof. Mekie's orchestra, and rarely, if ever, have our people listened to a number played with more expression and perfection and the hearty applause at the conclusion was truly merited. Mrs. E. B. Patterson, who has won the hearts of Manistique's music appreciating people, sang "Foghorn," a beautiful composition by Eugene Twiss, in a manner which bore out all the hearty applause of the ladies. George Nicholson's rendition on the violin of "Redowa de Wallenstein" by Daniel, a very difficult piece for a beginner, was certainly highly appreciated. The program was continued, "Who Sent the First Stone on its Way?" was most prettily rendered by Miss Marie Adams. Miss Jean Rose, solo, by the way, is a promising artist on the violin, finely brought down the house, with her playing of "What on the Wild Waves Sings?" In response to rounds of applause, although it was stated that no votes would not be responded to the young lady gave "The Star Spangled Banner" with variations, with astonishing perfection. She plays with remarkable expression, produces sweet, clear tones and her rapid fire technique, notwithstanding her youth, is wonderful.

Annie's rendition, soprano solo, by Mrs. W. F. Kofavor, was rendered in her usual excellent manner and was certainly appreciated by the audience. If applause is any criterion. At the opening of part second of the program the orchestra disbanded a melody with its usual brand of excellence. The violin solo "African Air, Marie," from Don Juan, by Thomas Pattinson, although an extremely difficult piece, was beautifully rendered and with an expression which showed ability and exceptional talent. W. F. Kofavor, baritone soloist, who is always heartily greeted by our people, sang "Complete" in his usual pleasing style. "Dell-rind's Sixth Air" with variations, a violin solo by Prof. Joseph Mekie was listened to with marked attention and the rounds of applause at the conclusion showed that Manistique's music lovers enjoy a high class of music. He responded to the hearty encore by playing "Home, Sweet Home" with variations. "Yellow Dandelion" was a favorite Air, was played by Master Benjamin Chappell, who has had but two months instruction on the violin, and he played it exceedingly well for a lad of his years. The program was concluded with a trio, "Daniel's Fourth Symphony," by Prof. Mekie and his Orchestra, violin, and W. F. Kofavor, piano. This number was given in such a manner as to show the marked musical ability of the performers.

The accompanists were Mr. George Harschek, Mr. Dunton, Miss Adams, Miss Emily Goodrich and Mr. Kofavor. The orchestra was under the direction of Benjamin King.

Prof. Mekie should be more than well pleased with the excellent showing made by his pupils, all of whom showed by their manipulation of the bow and expression that instruction had been given them by an able tutor. Some of the pupils need feel ashamed of the impression made upon the audience at the time of their first appearance before the audience.

REPORTS S. P. BERT

On Tuesday occurred the annual picnic of the First Baptist church and Catholic Mission, the picnic being held at the Big Spring. The party numbered over 100, we all treat to the spring having here shortly after 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

Immediately upon arrival at the picnic grounds arrangements were made for dinner and the supply of good food and drink was not in the least wanting. The hours that followed were spent in tramping through the picturesque woods, swinging in hammocks and viewing the wonderful spring. Everybody had an excellent time. The train arrived here on the home trip at about 4 o'clock.

The event rate for transportation to those not members of the Sabbath school brought in between $50 and $80, and after expenses were paid $25 remained in the treasury which sum will be divided between the two schools.

UNMANGLED.

(By Mrs. Harry Ansell, New York.)
"I had a letter yesterday which said it heartily as to the Lord's * * * for we serve the Lord Christ!"

With willing hands is to the Lord
I do my daily task,
My soul can answer all demands
If to his love I do not ask,
So do all things in his strength
And can sing the while
His holy glory of life
He fills me with his gifts,
No longer bending backward
Beneath a load of cares,
I cast my burden on the Lord
And walk as one who is free,
To trust his love in everything
And it is sweet to know
While doing his will, my dream was
That I had never been so

To know that all these little things
Are part of his great plan,
The work appointed out to me
Before the world began,
Oh let my feet make willing haste,
Not drag the whole day through
Like one who goes unwillingly
To task he's forced to do,
A strange sweet sense of liberty
Permeates my every thought,
Who gives all service to the Lord
Spends not his strength for nothing,
And the world's remuneration
Nor praise, nor home I need
For his dear son hath made me free
And I am free indeed.

We publish by request the above verses reported by the Rev. Norman Fox in his sermon at the First Baptist church, on Sunday evening last.

Annual School Meeting.
The annual school meeting for Fractious District No. 1 Manistique and Hiawatha, for the election of a trustee in place of Samuel Mix, whose term of office will have expired at that time, and for the transference of such other business as may legally come before the meeting, will be held at the high school building, Monday evening, September 4, 1899, at 8 o'clock.

SAMUEL MIX,

Director.
The Wolverines and Cuban Mentors crossed bats at the Lakoside grounds, Sunday afternoon. Only five innings were played on account of rain, the score being 12 to 18. The latter team having the odds.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR!

A MAGNIFICENT PORTRAIT OF ADMIRAL DEWEY

IN TEN COLORS, (Size 18x21 inches)

will be published by us shortly. It is now being printed for us on heavy plate-paper, in a form suitable for framing, by one of the largest lithograph houses in America, in the famous French style of color-plate work. Every American family will want one of these handsome pictures of Admiral Dewey. It must be remembered that this picture will be in no sense a cheap chromo, but will be an example of the very highest style of illuminated printing. It will be an ornament to any library or drawing-room. Our readers can have the Dewey portrait at WHAT IT COSTS US.

Joe Melino moved down from camp 22 last week.

Wm. Cox and Dunnean (could paid a visit to the metropolis last Monday.

Misses Lina and Vic. Putvin returned their home at the Cliff last week.

N. McDonald made a flying trip to Manistiquet and returned Wednesday.

Fred Dronche of this place will open up a saloon at Welch on the Soo Line.

Emil Peterson has again taken charge of No. 36 place of John McCarthey, released.

Joe Melino has gone in partnership with Paul Hulseher in getting out Elm goods and lots.

It has been intimated that those well-to-do folks should now ring out. Something new and of.

The price per cord for cutting kiln wood will again be raised the first of September, this time $1.10.

David Spidlmacher who has his hay press in operation, is now engaged in pressing Will Rivers hay.

N. McDonald has the contract for taking out several hundred cords of hemlock for a Manistiquet concern.

Mike O'Brien, township clerk, has been engaged the last couple of days taking the census of the school children.

Several "hook and arrow" men have been imported by the C. C. C. to chop wood. "Fraid," "hook" big iron like an axe, no chop in much wood.

Alfred Condon has about finished his livery business for the season and his pickers about 25 in number, have come down from camp 41 and thereabouts.

Mrs. J. C. Worth and her son Norman, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Norman McDonald, of this place, returned to their home in Manistiquet last Saturday.

The dance last Saturday night was fairly well attended and the music by the Pelletier orchestra was beyond criticism. The Garden Hay lease land was also very much in evidence and treated the crowd to a rare musical feast.

Chris Condon and Carl Melino visited Manistiquet for medical treatment last week. It is a pleasure to note that Chris, after almost a year's illness, is slowly but surely improving under the careful treatment of Dr. Patterson and that in time he will be brought to his former self.

The school board held a meeting last Monday night for the purpose of engaging teachers for the various districts the coming term. Some obstacles were in the way, however, and the meeting was adjourned until Friday without accomplishing their purpose. It is the object of the board to curtail by lengthening the districts and run but three schools instead of five.

EGGLE EYE.

Thomas B. Reed resigns.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, representative of the First Maine District, has resigned the resignation to take effect Sept. 4th. It has been accepted by Gov. Powers. Now the people will speculate as to his aspirations for presidential nomination.

Norvall Highland wedding.

William Norvall and Miss Annie Highland were wed Saturday evening last at the home of the bride's parents, Lakeside, Rev. J. A. Broken, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, officiating. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were Miss Signe Highland and Ernest Highland, brother and sister of the bride, Miss Hulda Gustafson and Albert Gustafson.

About forty guests, intimate friends of the family and the groom, witnessed the ceremony. The wedding party and guests partook of a sumptuous supper after the nuptial knot was tied.

The contracting parties are numerous, among our most popular young people, the bride being a beautiful young lady and many years a resident of this city. Mr. Norvall is of the firm of Anderson & Norvall, grocers, and has for years been considered an "ice-cream cut-throat" by a score of merry young ladies. The young people number their friends by the score and all wish them happiness and a long life.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvall were the recipients of many valuable and handsome presents.

They will not go to honeymooning for some time but will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Highland, Lakeside.

The September number of McClure's Magazine will contain a character sketch of Admiral Sampson embodying reminiscences of a number of his friends from persons who knew him intimately through his boyhood and from his intimate associates in the navy. It will be illustrated with portraits of his father and mother, a series of portraits of himself, and other pictures.

E. N. Orr, C. W. Dunton and James Richardson were at Marquette Monday and Tuesday.

Ernest Highland, of Gladstone, came to this city on Saturday to attend the Norvall-Highland wedding taking evening. He is a brother of the bride.

"I am glad you are going to have a party," volunteered Marguerite timidly. "I hope you don't mind my saying so, but you look quite ill. I noticed how you were shaking and I noticed how you were shaking."

"My trouble is because I hear that you are going to have a party," she said, "because it is of my own doing. It is the shadow of a party committed long ago."

"And you are not to go?" she asked. "I have only known how to develop myself in what is called right, and I have only known how to develop myself in what is called right."

"I have only known how to develop myself in what is called right," she said. "I have only known how to develop myself in what is called right."

CHAPTER XII.
Two days later, on reaching home after a walk, she was told that a woman was waiting to see her.

FARM AND GARDEN

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO AGRICULTURISTS.

Some Up-to-Date Hints About Cultivation of the Soil and Viticulture.—Horticulture, Viticulture and Floriculture.

Potato Blight.
B. T. Galloway: This disease attacks the leaves, stems and tubers. Generally the first noticeable effect upon the leaves is the sudden appearance of brownish or blackish areas, which soon become soft and foul smelling. So sudden is the appearance of the disease in some cases that fields which one day look green and healthy may within the next day or two be almost blackened as though swept by fire.

The woman shook her head. "I don't know if it is worth the trouble," she said. "I don't know if it is worth the trouble."

"I don't know if it is worth the trouble," she said. "I don't know if it is worth the trouble."

"Honor is Purchased by Deeds We Do."

Deeds, not words, count in battles of peace as well as in war. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. It has won many remarkable victories over the arch enemy of mankind—impure blood. Be sure to get only Hood's, because...

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints. It costs $5 millions. An enormous sum spent in rebuilding and re-equipping the U. S. O. R. R. The re-equipment of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which has just come to a close, was remarkable in many ways. Most of the new cars and Murray did not follow precedent, but went ahead and placed the property in first-class shape instead of the usual second-class condition in which they were found.

The Sparrow Hawk. In many sections the sparrow hawk is recognized as a true friend of the farmer, though in other sections it is included in the general warfare waged by farmers and sportsmen against hawks of all descriptions. The value of the sparrow hawk lies in his habit of preying upon small rodents, which are so rapacious birds, and destroy great numbers of these farm pests; also agricultural vermin. Farmers are slow to appreciate the value of birds of prey. If one young chicken is devoured by a hawk a year, the whole race is condemned and no account taken of the miles and young rats he may be eating during that period.

A Spineless Cactus. Mr. D. G. Fairchild, one of the explorers of the department of agriculture, writes that he has discovered a valuable forage plant for the dry regions of the southwest. It is nothing more nor less than a spineless cactus, and probably not everywhere in the United States under the name of spineless cactus. The spineless cactus would be a dry and sandy country where ordinary grasses and clovers will not grow. In parts of Texas and Arizona are now raised forage plants extensively. The limbs of the plants being held over fire to stage off the spines and then fed to stock, which eats them greedily. These plants, while not so nutritious as alfalfa, are not particularly harmful, will play havoc with animals swallowing them, as they form into hard and compact balls in the stomach. In the intestines, eventually causing death. The cactus is a drought lover and will grow and store up water in its thick succulent stems, which will last through any other plant would wilt and die. The spineless species is described as growing from ten to twelve feet in height and furnishing a large amount of forage.

When to Harrow.—Land should be harrowed after plowing, before the clods become hard and difficult to crush, and the surface made as fine as possible. Frequent harrowing of land already plowed will check a loss of water. Orchards, especially those containing young trees, will be greatly benefited by harrowing at brief intervals until midsummer. The disk harrow is best adapted to heavy soils. The disks should be set at such an angle that the entire surface will be tilted. If the lands have been put in the proper condition early in the season, a spike tooth or smoothing harrow will be all that is needed during the summer.

Hands for Trees.—The way the tentacled arachnids are hatching makes many persons anxious about protective hands for trees and shrubs. The tentacled arachnids seem to be a good scheme, it is reported to us by a valued correspondent when we know to be a practical man of long experience, says an exchange. He cut an unmaned sheep pit into strips about the trunks of his apple trees, and found that the tentacled arachnids were absolutely unable to crawl over the strip of wool. The plan is worth trying.

Deposition of Milk.—The ripening of cream—due to the action of bacteria upon the sugar of milk thereby producing lactic ferment—is an early stage of decomposition. And there the connection between lactic acid, bacteria and decomposition is clearly indicated. The only difference between lactic ferment, as we understand the term, and decomposition is simply a matter of degree; continue the ferment sufficiently long and the cream will be completely decomposed.—New Zealand Dairyman.

Water for the Team.
When going to distant fields to work with the team the farmer will be pretty sure to take with him water for his own drink, but he would regard himself as greatly abused if he were compelled to work a long half-day without drinking water, and he would be right. It should be borne in mind, however, that the team has similar needs, and if it is to be taken out for a long half-day's work in a distant field it is unwise to neglect the team's supply should be taken along, says Homestead. The way work presses one will not feel that he can afford to neglect and drive ever far to water along about the middle of the forenoon, but the team should not be allowed to go without water, either, and the way to water is the simplest, to carry a supply along. A merciful man is merciful to his beast. That is the moral and sentimental aspect of the question. The material aspect is that it don't pay to let the team suffer for water, and on one or the other of these grounds, or both, those who work with teams should see that there is no deprivation of this ally.

Hot Bile Remed. From the Philadelphia Record: Abner Haycock—Ye say this is a combination of hot bile and not. Abner Haycock—Wal let me look at that ain't made by a combination. I'm opposed to encouraging them ailments by purchasing their goods.
