RECREATION DEVELOPMENT

Approve Purchase Option

...of a plan authorizing the Recreation Commission to acquire an option on the quarry property to the quarry was approved by the City Council at their meeting Monday night.

had proposed the acquisition of the old building and land as part of an overall development program that would be financed with matching funds from the state's new clean water and quality recreation bonding program.

Total cost of the land, now held by the State Savings Bank, is $10,000. The option, costing $500, extends to Sept. 30 this year. At the Dec. 9 meeting, the recreation group was given nine months to draw up their completed plan for recreational development in the city.

The $500 for the option will be paid out of funds budgeted for parks and recreation. The city's share of the overall recreational development plan will probably ultimately come from the approximately $8,000 left over from the Centennial celebration of 1960.

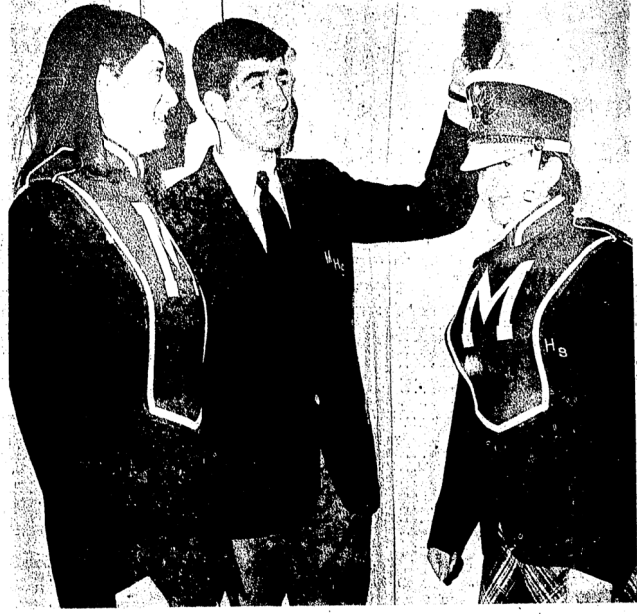

Council approved four appointments to the city recreation board created by the start of a pension plan for city employees. Councilman A. J. Cayia and City Attorney William Hood were named as the city officials of the board while Victor Peterson was given a two year term and Roy Anderson a one year term as trustees representing the city workers. A fifth member of the board will be appointed by City Manager Robert Noe.

Mr. Noe read a letter from Sen. Philip Hart reporting on the status of the proposed National Guard Armory. Sen. Hart enclosed a letter he had received from the National Guard Bureau, explaining how national priorities had originally set 1973 as the target date for construction of the Manistiquie facility. This has been advanced to 1972 through efforts of the Guard, and efforts are continuing to jump it forward another year, to 1971, the letter stated.

Council approved a brief ordinance formally setting their official meeting time and place as the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the city hall.

Council also approved the attendance of City Clerk and Treasurer Ralph Ekstrom at the annual convention of the Municipal Clerks Association of Michigan March 5-7 at Bloomfield Hills.

A delegation of councilmen and city officials plan to attend a joint meeting with the Escanaba council Feb. 6, it was announced.

NEW UNIFORMS ---- The long-awaited new uniforms for the Manistiquie High School Band arrived last week and modeling them were, from left, Marie Lester, showing the overbush for marching, Brad Putvin, in the concert-style jacket without the blouse, and Cindy Johnson, with the green and white cap.

New Band Uniforms Arrive

Manistiquie High School band members, spurred by the arrival of their new uniforms, are hard at work these days preparing for their Feb. 13 concert. Director Gary Lester said the concert would not only be an opportunity to display the new uniforms, but also to show the public some of the new instruments acquired this year, including tympani, an E-flat clarinet, a bassoon, and others. Still lacking about $1,500 of their goal, the uniform drive being conducted by band parents received a boost this week by a donation from the Manistiquie Women's Club.

ESS AWARD ---- James M. Tagg, left, co-publisher of the Pioneer-Tribune, was presented at the 101st annual convention of the Michigan Press Association last week and accept a first place award of excellence for the use of pictures. Making the presentation was Harry Whitley, publisher of the Presque Isle Advance in Rogers City, retiring president of the MPA.

SCHOOL PROGRAM REPORT

"Community School" Started in 1918

A SMALL SCHOOL in an isolated community with limited resources, daily portions of federal aid, a Mott Foundation and a pinch of local money ingredients produce a product.

Surprise also denotes something new, or innovative, but the concept of using multiple resources for maximum results is certainly not new.

Regarding their schools as a community-wide affair is also nothing new for Manistiquie. Half a century ago the people of this small town in Michigan's Upper Peninsula endorsed the theory that schools are for all of the people of the community. In May, 1918, the Manistiquie board of education passed a resolution stating, "It is proper and desirable to use the school buildings for community purposes.

It is desired that the people of the city receive as large returns as possible on their expenditures in school property."

Those school board members of 50 years ago would no doubt be surprised, however, to see how the idea of community education has taken hold in a few short recent years.

This latest chapter in community education began in late November, 1965, when Rev. Ingemar Levin, pastor of Manistiquie's Zion Lutheran Church, attended a Community School Workshop in Flint. He brought back an enthusiastic report to the board of education in December, and the next October a delegation of 17 persons from Manistiquie attended another workshop in Flint.

A few short months later--- January, 1965---the Manistiquie Area Schools began their Community School Program, with former football coach Dick Bonifas as the director. Since that time, the Community School program has played an important role in the concept of entire community---from one end of the county to the other, from kindergartners to senior citizens --- in the educational process.

Community education, however, is more than just a Community School. It is more tangible and elusive, existing outside the school and its programs more as an attitude and an approach to all of the needs of the people of the area.

Zion Church Endorses Millage

Support for the school millage proposal to be voted on Feb. 14 was given by the Zion Lutheran Church at its annual meeting yesterday in the following resolution: "Recognizing the moral obligation of the citizens of a community to provide the best possible education for their children, we endorse the millage proposal to be voted upon by the Manistiquie School District on Feb. 14, 1969."

The 498 member congregation adopted an operating budget for 1969 in the amount of $26,330. Encouragement was given to efforts in common worship, study, and service among the Manistiquie Churches.

Rev. Ingemar L. Levin, pastor, and Vern Ekstrom, building fund treasurer officiated at a note burning ceremony symbolizing the completion of payment on the debt incurred in the recent siding and roofing project for the church.

Elected as officers and committee members were: A. Edwin Long, Robert Broullure, Vern Ekstrom, Charles Blom-mussen and David Blos, church councilmen; Leo Dean, chairman board of ushers; Mrs. Robert Jety, Jack Creighton, Don DeSautel, Vernor Nelson, Mrs. Edward Jorgenson and Mrs. Conrad Johnson, nominating committee; Clarence Peterson, Ralph Ekstrom and Mrs. Edward Mathson, auditing committee.

The newly-elected Church Councilmen will be installed at the morning worship this Sunday.

Packard Chemical Co. of Green Bay has entered a plea of not guilty in a hearing charging them with the sale of articles not inspected or registered with the Michigan Department of Agriculture, which brought the complaint. The violation involves the sale of bottled spring water to Ollie's Red Owl store here Aug. 5, 1968.

Robert A. Robbins, Brimley, arrested by State Police Jan. 21 and charged with drunk driving, stood mute when he appeared before the next day, and his trial will be held today (Thursday).

Coho Impact is Discussed

The initial impact of coho salmon fishing on the economy of the community, and how to maintain it was the main topic of discussion at a meeting held Monday evening at the Fireside Inn.

Co-sponsored by the Schoolcraft County Planning Commission and the Cooperative Extension Service, the meeting dealt with "Capturing Opportunities in Sportfishing and Recreation." It was the second in a series of three meetings covering "Local Development for Schoolcraft County."

Howard Handorf, Natural Resource Agent for Schoolcraft County, opened the meeting with a series of slides showing coho fishing activity in the Thompson area during the late summer and fall of 1968. Handorf stated that during the first three weeks in August approximately 100 people a day took part in the fishing sport at Thompson. This increased to 250 per day during the latter part of August and September, the agent added. According to records some 40 flights into the Schoolcraft County Airport were made by coho fishermen in 1968.

Mr. and Mrs. Hassell Osterhout, Driftwood Shores Resort, recounted their experiences in serving coho fishermen. They reported a sizeable increase in business as a result of the new sport and pointed out some of the extra services they provided to sportsmen. They added that inquiries and reservations already received would indicate that another big season is ahead.

Dr. Eugene F. Diox, Community Resource Development Department representative, discussed possible activities that could make coho fishing in this area even more attractive. He cited charter boat services, improved docking facilities, fish processing, added campsites and package weekend tours. Diox emphasized the family tour where the man might fish and the rest of the family

NIXON CHICKEN DIVAN?

Want to Try Julie's Recipe?

The statement recently by Julie Nixon Eisenhower that she served her father, President Richard Nixon, Chicken Divan for his birthday dinner brought many exclamations from Manistique youngsters. "We've had that, Mom," "You're fixed that for us, haven't you Mom?" Mrs. E. J. (Tommy) Thompson has passed on the recipe for Easy Chicken Divan from her Better Homes and Gardens' Casserole cookbook to many area friends, and has served it to guests and family alike. Possibly Julie fixed this dish because chicken is one of her father's favorites or maybe she did it because it is a simple recipe for inexperienced cooks, does not require last minute preparation or because it is so good.

one-half cup shredded sharp cheese and one-half cup soft bread crumbs mixed with one

Here is the recipe as Mrs. Thompson uses it: 2 packages frozen broccoli cooked 2 cups cooked sliced chicken or 3 chicken breasts 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, one-half teaspoon cury powder Lay, cooked broccoli with heads up on side of pan approximately 11 x 7 x 1-1/2. Lay breaded chicken in the center across broccoli stems and cover with sauce. Sprinkle with tablespoon melted butter. (If you are short of time the crumbs and butter may be omitted.) Bake 25 to 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

The chicken may be cooked and boned a day ahead of time. If you're not busy and have enough leftover chicken, white or dark pieces of any size will taste as good. The recipe may be put together during the afternoon and refrigerated until cooking time.

If Julie's husband David comes home for lunch she possibly chose the recipe for her father's birthday because it is so good warmed up the next day. It is necessary on doing this to spread the sauce over the broccoli heads since they will dry out. Most Manistique families who have tried this casserole find, however, it is all cleaned up at the first serving.

Ex-Principal Here Honored at St. Joe

Clare Milton, former Principal at Manistique High School, was honored in St. Joseph last week when the junior high school building there was officially named Milton Junior High.

Mr. Milton left Manistique in 1920 to accept the St. Joseph position, and recalled that at that time there were four buildings and 35 teachers in the southwestern Michigan community. Today there are 11 buildings and 150 teachers.

The St. Joseph Herald-Press, reporting on the dedication, quoted Milton as saying, "I can't express the depth of my feeling," and he gave credit to his co-workers, "with the support of the teachers he had a wonderful opportunity to accomplish something."

Temporary officers of the Manistique Area Club are Ken Mortenson, president; Bill Morris, vice president; Lois Morris, secretary-treasurer and serving as trustees are Raymond Bunker, Al Asp and Bud Pointer. New officers will be elected in June.

Mrs. Morris is dance chairman and reports that tickets for couples obtained in advance will be $8 and at the door, $12.

Late Filing May be Costly

Late filing for social security benefits based on last year's changes in the law could result in loss of benefits because of the 12-month limit on retroactive payments, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

Starting with February 1968, changes and improvements in the insured status or work requirement rule made it possible for almost 350,000 people in the following three groups to qualify for benefits: (1) severely disabled widows and widowers between age 50 and retirement age; (2) young workers under age 31 and disabled; and (3) children of deceased women workers. However, Williams said Feb. 28, 1969 is the latest date for filing claims that could be fully retroactive. Filing later than the end of February could result in the loss of one or more months of benefits.

Welfare Load Shows Drop

The caseload of the Schoolcraft County Department of Social Services declined slightly in November from the previous month, a statistical summary released last week by Director David Nordin shows.

The number of cases receiving direct relief dropped from 44 to 31, with expenditures declining from $2,627.22 to $1,282.88.

Under the Old Age Assistance program to people 65 and older, there were 110 recipients receiving $6,406, and in the Aid to Dependent Children program there were 43 families receiving aid totaling $6,764.

Many people in Jerusalem believe the resurrection of the dead will occur in the Valley of Kidron, a hallowed burial ground for Christians, Jews, and Moslems just outside the city's walls, the National Geographic says.

Yet, other and the many other forms of anesthesia now so common were unknown a hundred years ago. Many patients died of shock, even during the simplest surgical procedures. Whiskey and restraints were not enough. Today you can have your gall bladder removed or have your baby and "snore" through it. ### Bank Debts Up in 1968

Bank debts in Manistiquette during December showed an increase of 11 per cent over the same period of a year ago, according to figures released last week by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In dollars, Manistiquette's bank debts volume during the month was $6,697,000, compared to $6,023,000 for December, 1967.

During the 12 months of 1968, bank debts here totaled $75,867,000, an increase of 12 per cent over the year of 1967.

Bank debts for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts, representing payment for goods, services and debts. They are regarded as one indicator of business activity in the community.

Letters TO THE Editor

To the Editor:
This letter is to all the concerned people who witnessed the plight of the doe in Lake Michigan last week. Put your mind at ease. She was rescued by five courageous men with ladders, snowshoes, plywood, ropes and determination.

The large doe was first sighted by Bert Barr at 11 o'clock, floundering in the lake near Rogers Park. The Department of Conservation was notified, but help was not forthcoming.

After watching her progress at intervals during the day and early evening, Mr. Barr and four friends, concerned for her life, went to her rescue. With ladders extended out on the floating chunks of ice and ropes in hand, Fred Field and Gerry Dewey lassoed her. After much effort she was pulled onto the frozen shore by Sherman Dewey and Dick Hughson. Her limbs were paralyzed from the icy water and she was unable to stand. She shivered uncontrollably from exposure and fright. Her body temperature seemed to be as cold as the temperature outdoors for no vapor came from her nostrils. They bound her legs and slid her on plywood to the highway and into a station wagon.

She was brought to a heated garage where she was untied. After about an hour she was able to walk and had stopped shivering. She seemed to sense that she was in no danger, and even let the men pet her. She walked to the stove and lay down beside it, enjoying the strange warmth.

By five the next morning she seemed to be in excellent condition. Still at ease with the men she ate from the cedar boughs they brought her.

At dawn's light she left the garage and was last seen tramping through the field and into the woods.

Hopefully she will survive this unusual winter. Surely her chances are much better today than they were if she had been left in the lake.

Mrs. Richard Hughson

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am a Lesbian. The word makes me sick but there is nothing I can do about it. All I know is I am 18 years old and I wish I was dead.

I keep asking myself how I got this way and why it had to happen to me. Whenever I see a boy and girl holding hands, laughing and talking on a street corner, I feel like throwing myself under the wheels of a truck. I wonder how many people ever thank the good Lord for just letting them be normal.

Dear Ann: Torgel wants to marry me and I have said yes. Several months ago he "laid all his cards out on the table." He informed me that he is a diabetic.

While he was talking I felt guilty because I am keeping something from him. I wear an upper denture.

If you say I should confess this to him before we marry I will do so. --- ST. LOUIS WOMAN

Dear Woman: Diabetes is an illness. Dentures do not fall into the category. Since you feel guilty, suggest you tell Torgel in a lighthearted way that your uppers are store bought. And don't be surprised if it turns out that he has a full set.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Neck-hugging is safe? How does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting -- What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50¢ in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Prater continued the chase and his vehicle suddenly disappeared. Divers recovered his body from 60 feet of water.

A prize-winning weekly newspaper published every Thursday at Manistique, Michigan, at the Top O' Lake Michigan in the heart of Michigan's beautiful Upper Peninsula.

The American Revolution is a perfect example. The Boston Tea Party defiantly kicked it off. Considerable disorder followed. Then came the wandering through the constitutional convention and finally the promised land of American independence.

This pattern of defiance, disorder, wandering, promised land applies to labor movements, women's suffrage, Ghandi's Indians and the Protestant Reformation as assuredly as it applies to the Children of Israel and the American Revolutionists.

These movements are past.

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too.

On gas bills. (It gets up to 27 mpg.)

On oil. (It hardly ever needs any between changes.)

And, since the engine is air-cooled, you never have to dish it out on anti-freeze.

So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen.

It figures.

Time to Get Tough

Col. Fredrick E. Davids, Michigan State Police Director, told the State Safety Commission, "We are going to get rough this year—and I'm not just talking about the State Police; I mean all law enforcement agencies. I don't know exactly what yet, but we are not going to go through another year like the last one."

And what was so bad about 1968? Two thousand, three hundred and seventy-four people killed on Michigan highways and streets, an increase of 11.1 per cent over the previous year. An estimated 160,000 persons injured, an increase of 5 per cent. An estimated 310,000 traffic crashes, an increase of 3.3 percent. Miles traveled up 7.1 per cent. An estimated economic loss to the people of Michigan of $450 million, up 11.1 per cent. The worst year in Michigan History. A year in which Michigan drivers killed a record number of their fellow men in May, June, August, October and November. And, again—the second largest cause of vehicle deaths was "running off the road"—585 persons killed this way in 1968. The third largest cause was pedestrian deaths—385 persons.

That's what!

You Can't Have Both

You can't have both — yet that's what American people always seem to want.

It was almost funny to read the recent results of a Harris Survey which asked a cross-section of Americans what they expected from the Administration. Their answer was a vivid example of "cake and eat it too" Americanism.

Three quarters of them wanted social security benefits increased and heavy support of education by the federal government. And they then turned right around and said in same numbers, that they expected "heavy cuts in government spending" and repeal of the surtax.

Well, we Americans simply cannot have both. We cannot ask for increased service and benefits and with the same breath also ask for lower taxes. It is simply impossible. We must have one or the other - we cannot have both.

It has always seemed strange that we Americans somehow believe that the laws of mathematics do not apply to money and finances when in the area of government. But they do. One plus one still equals two and one from two still leaves one. Arithmetic does not change. There is no magic formula. When the government spends - the money comes from someplace - and that someplace is you and I.

So, we Americans must make up our minds - do we want the cake, or do we want to eat it?" Tuscola County Advertiser Heard the one about the bungling banana bandit?

He figured in one of the daffiest of Aetna Life & Casualty's annual collection of bizarre insurance claim cases.

The young desperado approached a cashier in a San Diego grocery, inadvertently drew a ripe banana instead of his revolver, and boldly proclaimed a stickup. Thrown into a near panic when he discovered his mistake, the callow Clyde with the bonnie banana still managed to fumble out his real gun and split with $745 before the laughter died.

Here are some more of the best "weirdies" from among the 14 million claims handled by Aetna in 1968:

From Tucson came another tale of ludicrous larceny. This one starred a shoplifter who bit an arm and leg of a vigilant drug store clerk in a mad gnash to freedom.

And while a Milwaukee homeowner's watch dog had the right to bite, he became so nervous after an encounter with burglars that his owner took him to a vet "to see what could be done about his state of mind." The pooch's prescription was for tranquilizers.

A Missouri policyholder was anything but tranquil after being shaken up in an auto accident. And even 120 days after the minor mishap, he claimed that he was still too nervous to return to his job -- racking up pool balls.

And a dog owner who left his car briefly with the engine running was unnerved when his impatient mutt hit the automatic shift, rolled down an Ohio street, and crashed into -- what else -- a fireplug.

Flying high last year were a soused simian and a pack of pickled pig's feet. The reveling Rhesus monkey molested tourists at a Florida zoo after being fed whiskey by an unidentified, but obviously over-spirited, employee. And in Houston "a person or persons unknown" heaved a jar of hog's hoofs through the windshield of a claimant's pickup truck.

Of course, the ladies played a prominent role in the "Oddities of 1968." For example, a Phoenix motorist slammed into a utility pole to avoid hitting a man who dashed into the street. Traffic was the least of the latter's problems -- he was being hotly pursued by a woman waving a revolver.

And a Coral Gables, Fla. driver plowed into a gate when he was distracted by a woman in topless attire who was chasing a small boy down the street. A policeman parked nearby admitted that he didn't see the crash.

Another accident gave a customer in Albuquerque mixed feelings about insurance protection. Driving home after visiting his agent, he crashed into another car while leaning forward to pick up something which had fallen from his dashboard -- his newly-acquired auto insurance policy.

LAW AND ORDER

Law and order are not synonymous. Law and order do not even come close to being synonyms. Law and order are opposites.

Law implies an imposition of authority and the obligation of obedience on the part of the governed. Order is the placing of a number of persons or things in their proper relation to each other. Law is a relationship to something outside the subject. Order is a relationship between subjects. In that sense they are opposites.

Because we use the words uncritically, we confuse the issues, equate lawlessness with dissent and completely fail to realize the historical value of movements which began with dissatisfaction because of unjust laws.

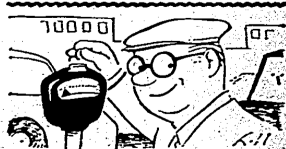

Disorder has been the prologue to social revolution since Biblical days. The Children of Israel in defiance of the Egyptian Pharaohs, were disorderly; so much so that Pharaoh sent the army out to settle the problem. Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on whether you were an Egyptian or an Israelite, the riot quellers, because of Divine intervention, all drowned in the Red Sea. The point is that without this dramatic disorder, there never would have been a promised land for the Israelites.

The pattern for other social revolts follows the same formula. There is a defiance of an unjust law or set of laws, a planned series of disorders, a wandering in the desert and finally an arrival into the promised land.

order has come a new order. The Children of Israel were no longer subjected to the whims of Pharaohs, nor the Americans to the selfish interests of the English. Labor now organizes and bargains, women may vote and India is eliminating the caste system.

But it is not so easily dismissed when we are in the middle of a movement. Civil rights, public employee demands, student dissent and defiance of church edict cause those in authority to thrash out and scream about "law and order" as though they were the same thing and without any thought as to whether good had come out of the past defiance of the law and planned disorder.

But that was different because it happened at another time and to someone else. But today it is we who are the objects of the protest and it isn't likely that we will solve much by just yelling for more "law and order."

"Parking meters should remind us that we lose money standing still."

THE Editor

To the Editor:

In response to your editorial of Jan. 16, "What About Our Youngsters?" I would have to say I agree "We've got more of a parent problem than a youth problem in this community." No longer do we have the chores to keep every member of the family busy. We have substituted the men's bowling league and the such-for-men, Ladies Aid, bridge, and many other activities for the women but "What about the family?" How many things can you list for the families? Chores were not filled with fun and gayety but they did make every person feel an important part of the family.

My challenge to all adults is to take advantage of modern day conveniences, they will give you more free time. Then use that free time wisely. First, set aside time for the family, then with any additional time given for each member of that family - to explore their own areas of interest.

As a 4-H Youth Agent my main concern is still with the youth. A part of their problem is the Mighty Minority. Only a small minority get into trouble, but they get all the publicity and they are the ones everyone talks about. Have you heard lately about the good things today's teenagers do? It doesn't make front page news or a good subject for gossip but there are a lot of good kids doing good things. Adults tell them if they talk about the good things they are bragging, which is bad.

I have one suggestion. If you are with the majority who feel the situation is bad, think about 4-H. We like to think of ences which help them learn to use their time effectively as well as develop leadership. The 4-H program is very flexible. There are over 100 projects to choose from. Club size varies from five to 25. Some clubs meet once a week, others meet once a month. Meetings are held in homes, school, or church. Each club makes the decisions.

Why not stop in at the Extension office in the basement of the Post Office for more information. Or call 341-5050 and make an appointment to visit with Donald Brown your local 4-H Youth Agent.

To the Editor:

Thank you for the excellent editorial "What About Our Youngsters?" As moderator for the meeting out of which it grew, I commend you on a very fair summary of the discussion which took place.

It is my hope that out of the committee which was formed will come action -- not just more talk. I have to attend enough of that kind of committee meetings. This committee should come up with some spec-and rewards of sharing their time with our youth as leaders, counselors, advisors, channels of energy into productive and worthwhile avenues.

2. Community involvement - in working with, and not against, the law officers to provide proper and fair enforcement and the judicial personnel to provide just, reed. But it is something that must be done with each new generation of parents of youth. Let us start with this generation!

Most sincerely,
Theodore E. Doane

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor: Wouldn't it be nice if each merchant in town donated a toy or a dollar towards the Head Start program? This could be a very rewarding service project for an organization also.

These children who are now attending Head Start are the future customers of these city merchants and the future citizens of Manistique. A lot of people say Head Start isn't necessary --- it's just eating up our tax money and so forth. But here's one satisfied and amazed mother. My daughter attended last year and the results were terrific. This is one thing the school and school board should get a vote of thanks for.

The Head Start teachers and aides are doing a great job but now everyone can give a hand. These children need tables and chairs, wagons, trucks --- any new or repairable toys children their age will use and enjoy. Or if you have trading stamps which can be used to purchase such, if you think you can help in any way, just offer.

I'll be glad to come to your house and pick them up or direct you to someone else who will. Come on, Manistique citizens, show these kids you really care.

GUARDED TREASURE ?

What infinite pains we take to guard our valuable possessions! Yet not all our possessions can be given protection in a safe. What about that priceless treasure which each of us possesses—our eternal happiness?

To safeguard this great treasure, where can we go?

The answer lies in the Church. It gives us the combination that opens the door to our spiritual riches—the combination of faith and good works. The Church guards and guides us along the way that leads to the treasure—the way led by Jesus, our Savior. It invites everyone to join in service to God and to our fellowmen. In this way, we inherit new riches of the spirit that no man or circumstance can steal or destroy.
