

MHS youths 'go to college'

High school students seem to be responding well to opportunities to take advanced vocational courses...

Demos in the new college vocational building located off Danforth Road, on the outskirts of town...

The Manistique delegation goes to and from the classes each Tuesday and Thursday...

Unfortunately, unless the State Legislature restores funds, the program will not be available next year.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC--Ruben Meyer, Manistique High School hand director, leads the group through rehearsals as they prepare for their annual holiday concert tonight...

MHS holiday concert is scheduled tonight

The annual holiday concert of the Manistique High School Band, Junior Band, Junior Chorus and Majorettes will be held tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the auditorium.

A "light" program in the holiday spirit, including community singing, is promised by Band Director Ruben Meyer.

There is no admission charge.

Jan. 9 deadline for registration

The deadline to register for the Feb. 13 school millage election is Friday, Jan. 9...

The school will be seeking a renewal of their four mill operating levy at that election.

Voters are reminded that if they haven't voted in local, state or federal elections in the last two years, their registration is automatically expired...

Hospital post to Weigand

Alex Weigand of Cooks was named to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital board of trustees Tuesday night at the December meeting of the County Board of Commissioners...

Other nominees for the board were William Townsend of Mueller Township and Edwin Long of Thompson Township.

Teacher strike ends

The strike of 26 teachers in the Big Bay de Noc School District ended Friday.

Teachers went back to work this morning to end the walkout that had existed since Nov. 17.

The three schools in the district, located in Cooks, Garden and Nahma, were closed for 11 school days to the 600 pupils in the district.

A temporary agreement was reached Thursday afternoon and a temporary work agreement signed Friday.

The teachers won a $600 base pay increase, up from $9,000 to $9,600, plus 3.5 per cent increments.

Top pay for a bachelor's degree with 10 years experience will be $9,300, plus the 3.5 per cent.

Administrative pay raises will be figured according to the teacher pay schedule, plus a set amount above the schedule.

In a joint statement issued Saturday, the board of education and teachers said:

"At a meeting Friday afternoon between respective representatives of the Big Bay de Noc Board of Education and the Big Bay de Noc Teachers' Association in agreement...

"The board and teachers both feel that each negotiated diligently for their respective membership and constituencies and that a fair and equitable contract was achieved.

"It is the desire of both parties that all persons in the district now work for the continued betterment of the school district."

"The Big Bay Black Bears resumed their basketball schedule Tuesday night, meeting Rapid River at Nahma. All games had been cancelled during the strike because of the bus received against anyone driving a school bus to a game."

County deficit forecast

A deficit of more than $10,000 by the end of the year was predicted for Schoolcraft County by Treasurer William Covnan...

Despite having started the year with a balance of $7,800, the deficit is not as bad as it may sound, for during the year the county has set up an accounts receivable--tax revolving fund...

The revolving fund was set up this year to allow local units to set a more rigid budget and to also allow the county to retain the entire penalty upon collection, instead of dividing it with these local units as in the past.

Thus, in reality and considering the revolving fund, the general fund has shown an increase during the year of $5,722.99.

The county should also retain its equalized valuation total of about $31 million for the year, Tax Director Harold Peters told the group.

An estimated $72,000 in building permits for the year will help to offset considerable losses in the personal property tax caused by the H.C. Price Co. moving $425,150 of pipeline construction equipment out of the county, and the loss of another $25,000 from the firm salvaging rails and ties from the Manistique and Lake Superior Railroad last year.

A meeting with township officials, the county board, and Manistique city officers will be called soon to attempt to work out the question of fire protection for rural areas.

City Manager Robert Noe had warned townships that unless he heard from them by Jan. 5, the city would cease to furnish fire protection.

Noe had appeared at the November meeting and discussed the question with the county board, and a meeting with township officials had been tentatively set for Dec. 5.

Although this meeting was held at Ilwaco Resort, Noe apparently was not invited.

Doyle Supervisor Richard Rodgers and Germausk Supervisor Robert Jack appeared at Tuesday night's meeting to ask that the county pay the township's total share of approximately $4,500.

However, it was pointed out that Hiawatha and Manistique townships have already reached some agreement with the city.

Rodgers and Jack admitted that they had never contacted the city manager about the question, despite his letter informing him of the city's plans.

Rodgers said his township was purchasing a used truck that would be delivered in a month or so, but had no money with which to contract with the city for supplemental or interim protection.

In other action, the board heard a report on the State Association of County Commissioners meeting held in Lansing Dec. 8-11 from Thurman Starr, Sr., Ernest Hohlak and Chairman Lindsey Frenette.

Approved a resolution endorsing the Area Comprehensive Health Planning Unit, outlined at their last meeting by Gordon Labuhn of Marquette.

Requested the Central Upper Peninsula Economic Development District for a cost estimate on a county-wide recreation program.

Discussed an amendment to the Plat Law that requires roads in platted subdivisions to be built to county specifications.

Heard a report from Robert J. Russell, state jail inspector, that all was in order at the county jail after a Dec. 9 inspection.

SPEAKER--If that looks like an unusual costume for a speaker, you're right, but it's only part of the props used by Del Johnson when he competed in the local humorous speech contest of the Paul Dunyan Toastmasters Club last Wednesday night at the Fireside Inn.

Rev. Levin wins in speech contest

Rev. Ingmar Levin was the winner in the humorous speech contest held last Wednesday by the Paul Dunyan Toastmasters Club at the Fireside Inn.

His speech was titled, "You Have to Laugh, Mrs. Thompson."

Other contestants were Del Johnson and Mel Goldie. Rev. Levin will represent the local club in the area contest Jan. 17 at the Forest Inn in Munising.

Wives were guests at the Wednesday meeting with outgoing president Mel Goldie presiding. He will be succeeded by Robert Noe in January.

Snowmobile riders hurt

Two snowmobile riders were injured Saturday afternoon when they fell off their machine traveling on the Blaney Resort golf course.

Kenneth Hunt, 27, Alpena, driver of the machine, suffered a bruised knee, while Dinah Smith, 17, of Traverse City, a passenger, suffered a sprained ankle.

State Police said they fell off after the machine hit a bump. They sought their own medical treatment.

Donald P. Neadow, 23, Cooks, was injured last Thursday when his car went off Federal Forest Road 2222 at 1 p.m. in Inwood Township and hit some trees.

MHS debaters at Marquette

Manistique High School debaters participated in an invitational debate tournament at Marquette High School Saturday. The Emerald affirmative team won three out of six debates, while the negative team won three out of six. "A coach I am very pleased with, our '500 record," said Principal Marvin Frederickson, "since we lost our entire varsity last year through graduation, and of the 10 debaters out this year, only three have had any debate experience at all."

Debaters making the trip were John Hessler and Laurie Hubble, seniors; John Carlson, Mary McLaughlin, Bethany Stoltz, and Mary Stoll, juniors; Sharon Frederickson and Cindy Johnson, sophomores, and Kevin Smith and Gail Schwartz, freshmen.

The topic for debate this year is, "Resolved: That Congress should prohibit unilateral United States military intervention in foreign countries."

The next practice tournament will be on the campus of Northern Michigan University at Marquette on Jan. 10.

Cagers challenge Braves

Manistique's Esenabts will close out the pre-holiday portion of their 1969-70 basketball schedule Friday night by hosting the Gladstone Braves in a Great Lakes Conference struggle.

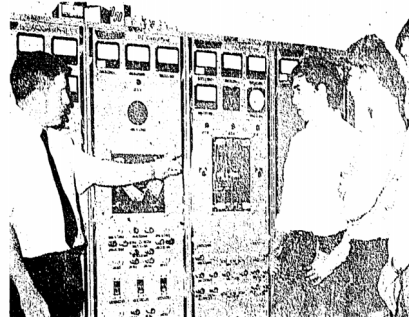

Czech Normie Jaha's young squad is now 1-3 on the season after absorbing a 90-62 defeat last Friday night at Marquette. Gladstone is 2-1 for the year, defeating Munising and Newberry but losing to Escanaba Holy Name.

Marquette, the top-rated team in the U. S. this year, put the game on ice early Friday night, roaring to a 12-0 lead, then posting a 28-14 first-quarter margin and 50-29 halftime edge. Coach Fred Tarcotini used his reserves for much of the contest, as 12 different players participated in the scoring.

Steve Hampton was high for the evening with 21 points. Jerry Sample led Manistique with 16 points, while Kendall Neeson collected 14 and Tom Jenerou notched 10.

The Redmen also took the preliminary contest by a 67-49 margin.

Rep. Varnum to oppose school reform proposal

State Representative Charles H. Varnum (8-10th District) said this week he would vote against the education reform package now taking shape in the Michigan Legislature.

Varnum characterized the present state of the package as simply increased taxes with no increase in educational quality or financial fairness.

Varnum, a former teacher, has written several parts of the reform program proposed by Governor Milliken. However, he has said he agrees with Milliken on the need for true reform and would vote for package revised to provide more equity for the U.P.

"It appears to me that the legislature is not prepared to pass true educational reform this year," Varnum said. "And I am not prepared to vote for anything but true reform."

"In my opinion, property tax relief is the primary ingredient in reforming education financing," he added. "But apparently there will be no property tax relief passed. Even though I didn't think he went far enough, Governor Milliken had at least made property tax relief the cornerstone of his program. But in reality it gives the state a bad precedent, since it concentrates on these things which the state can do something about. There would have been no point," said Meyers, "in entangling all the U.P.'s bills, and presenting theoretical solutions. The U.P. has been analyzed to death, and in 1969 we have been subjected to special attacks of 'studies' from various sources. But the Governor has come up with a rare thing - a program of action that is not an afterthought or an abstraction, but a set of achievable goals."

He stated that he had been informed by the state office that the statement regarding highways had been in error. "The Governor did not intend to limit state action to improving U.S. 2 from St. Ignace to Escanaba, but to improve it over the entire route in the Upper Peninsula."

Meyers pledged full U.P. support and cooperation in the implementation of the program.

UPCAP backs U.P. program

The Governor's recently announced program to aid the Upper Peninsula was received with deep appreciation by UPCAP, Lee Meyers, Executive Director, stated in a letter to the State's Chief Executive.

"A summary of the program was released a week ago," Meyers said, "but we just received a copy of the report. We are very pleased with the program in getting state action has always been a matter of priority. The State and State agencies have always shown a real concern for our region. The problem has not been a lack of interest or a desire to help, but rather in the priority they were willing to assign to our many problems."

He added that the Governor's 10 point program indicates that the U.P. will now be able to claim higher priority for state assistance. Meyers said that there were two other features of the program that deserved very special commendation. The governor's task force acquired its data by going down to the grassroots and involving people at the local level. This is a precedent he hoped would be followed ed by other state planners.

In addition, the program was a limited one. "To some people this may have seemed like a disadvantage, but in reality it gives the state a bad precedent, since it concentrates on these things which the state can do something about. There would have been no point," said Meyers, "in entangling all the U.P.'s bills, and presenting theoretical solutions. The U.P. has been analyzed to death, and in 1969 we have been subjected to special attacks of 'studies' from various sources. But the Governor has come up with a rare thing - a program of action that is not an afterthought or an abstraction, but a set of achievable goals."

He stated that he had been informed by the state office that the statement regarding highways had been in error. "The Governor did not intend to limit state action to improving U.S. 2 from St. Ignace to Escanaba, but to improve it over the entire route in the Upper Peninsula."

Meyers pledged full U.P. support and cooperation in the implementation of the program.

Vocal recital Sunday

Robert Slater, formerly of Garden and now teaching at the University of Maryland where she is studying for her master's degree in music, will give a song recital Sunday, Dec. 28, at the St. Francis de Sales Parish Center, Garden. Robert Slater, will accompany her on the piano. Slater is a graduate of the Fontainebleau Conservatory of Music, France.

Her song-cycles featuring the works of Respighi, Hindemith, Debussy, and Chabrier will be presented in the original German, French and English. A translation of the songs in foreign languages will appear in the program to add to the enjoyment of listening. The recital is open to the general public. The age of 10 Sharon was organist and soloist at St. John Baptist Church, Garden, her home parish, and was a student of piano and voice with the Franciscan Sisters of Manistique who graduated from Holy Name High School, Escanaba, Mich. She was a pupil of Mrs. M.L. Garrard, Jr., director of Gregorian Chorus. Sharon then enrolled at the Catholic University in Washington, D.C., where she continued her musical studies and graduated magna cum laude in 1965. In her senior year she was given a full scholarship at the University and was selected to sing for President John Kennedy, Vice President Hubert H. Johnson and Attorney General Robert Kennedy. She has sung in opera and concert and is active in Sigma Alpha Iota, a national honorary music fraternity for women. This past year she has been teaching in Colorado Springs.

RECEIVE CERTIFICATES—Commissioner George Voel of the Federal Labor Mediation Board, center, congratulates Charles Bussett, left, head of the Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Co., and Millard Edwards, president of the plant union, after presenting them with certificates marking the end of a six-session course on "preventive mediation." Twelve representatives from both management and labor attended the two-hour meetings at the school, and the final certificates were awarded last Wednesday at a dinner meeting at the Pineside.

J.P. grants listed

William G. Milliken announced Friday that he is holding $778,294 have approved for 13 economic development projects in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. Governor said the grants are to supplement other state and local funds to finance the projects which have a total cost of $10 million.

Supplemental grants approved by the Upper Lakes Regional Commission (UGLRC) of which Milliken is a member.

Michigan projects approved by UGLRC funds range from $100,000 to $1 million. A $3 million jet in Houghton County to career development planning units that will be had highest percentage increase of passengers of any airport in Michigan served by North Central as result of explosion of sport fishing industry. The number of private planes landing at Manistee also has increased tremendously.

LUCE COUNTY -- Dollarville Dam. Total cost, $250,000. UGLRC grant, $19,494. Project calls for construction by Michigan Department of Natural Resources of a low head dam on the Tahquamenon River at Dollarville to create a 1,400-acre impoundment lake for fish and wildlife development. This project received a $20,500 UGLRC grant last year.

GOGEBIC-ONTONAGON COUNTIES -- Mobile Career Development Counseling Unit. Total cost, $30,000. UGLRC grant, $3,000. A fully equipped mobile counseling and guidance unit will serve schools in the Gogebic-Ontonagon Intermediate School District, as well as several school systems in northeastern Wisconsin.

HOUGHTON COUNTY -- Houghton County Airport. Total cost, $4 million. UGLRC grant, $300,000. Project calls for reconstruction and extension of runways and construction of a new terminal building. This project, when completed, will assure retention of air service to Houghton County and will make jet service possible for the Houghton County area. The airport's present facilities are substandard and could result in loss of commercial air services unless improved. UGLRC officials have communities in area will band together to develop an innovative industrial park complex at the new airport.

IRON COUNTY -- Iron River Industrial Park. Total cost, $336,500. UGLRC grant, $67,300. This project will receive water and sewer service to a new industrial park, site improvements, and railroad extension. The development of the industrial park has been stepped up as a result of the closing of the last mine in Iron River in June, leaving 500 miners without jobs. Three industrial prospects with potential employment of 800 to 900 persons are interested in the new industrial park, and Iron River hopes to complete construction before many of the unemployed miners leave the area for jobs elsewhere.

ST. IGNACE TOWNSHIP Water System. Total cost, $309,000. UGLRC grant, $27,000. Construction of the new water distribution and storage facility will enable new tourist and resort businesses to establish in St. Ignace Township just north of the City of St. Ignace. Project has been delayed a year because escalating costs made it impossible to build with original federal grant.

MANISTEE COUNTY -- Manistee County Backer Airport. Total cost, $76,400. UGLRC grant, $23,500. Project calls for lengthening existing runway from 5,280 feet to 5,780 feet, installation of runway lighting, and other improvements. By lengthening runway, Manistee will be ready for DC-9 jet service if North Central wants to use jets in place of prop service. Manistee has

In announcing the UGLRC grants, Governor Milliken said: "All of these projects are designed to stimulate the economic development of the 45 Northern Michigan and Upper Peninsula counties that are part of the Upper Great Lakes Region."

"Hopefully, they will stimulate private investments which in turn will create new jobs throughout the region and especially in several counties that are experiencing severe economic hardships."

The 13 economic development projects which will be aided by UGLRC grants, and the total cost of the project, and the amount of the UGLRC supplement grant include:

BENZIE COUNTY

Platte River Fish Hatchery. Total cost of the final phase of construction is $1,935,000. UGLRC grant, $130,000. The fish hatchery, being built by the Department of Natural Resources, will have a capacity of 275,000 pounds of fish annually, primarily coho salmon, chinook salmon, and steelheads. Completion of the project is necessary for continuation of the trout and steelhead program in the Great Lakes. UGLRC allocated $350,000 for the first two phases of the project. Final phase includes fish-handling facilities, three resthouses, completion of pumping station, rearing raceways, and electrical system.

CHARLEVOIX-EMMET COUNTIES

Mobile Career Development Counseling Unit. Total cost, $30,000. UGLRC grant, $3,000. The unit will be operated by the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District and will provide vocational information to students at schools throughout the two counties.

CHIPPEWA COUNTY Site Development. Total cost, $120,000. UGLRC grant, $36,000. Funds will be used by city of Sault Ste. Marie for site development and preparation for the location of the Great Lakes Marine Museum and the Steamer Valley Camp, a restored Great Lakes freighter. This project is expected to eventually provide several hundred new jobs, stimulate several private development expansions, and result in increase from 800,000 to 1,000,000 the number of tourists who visit the Soo annually.

Sault Ste. Marie Road and Bridge Improvement

Total cost, $1,289,500. UGLRC grant, $25,000. Because of increased costs the replacement of two bridges was delayed when bids on the project were nearly $250,000 higher than estimated. The Economic Development Administration authorized an additional $176,400, and Sault Ste. Marie asked UGLRC for an additional $25,000 because it has had to use its entire capital outlay funds and some of its maintenance funds to provide additional local matching funds. UGLRC approved an $86,445 grant for this project in 1968.

Mobile Career Development Counseling Unit. Total cost, $30,000. UGLRC grant, $3,000. Completely equipped mobile counseling and guidance unit will serve school through the Eastern Upper Peninsula Intermediate School District.

MARQUETTE COUNTY

Forsyth Township Sewage Project. Total cost, $650,000. UGLRC grant, $100,000. Project calls for construction of a sewage disposal system for the Village of Gwin near K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The proposed sewer system is being built under court order because the community is polluting the

To Residents, Owners, Occupants District Area:

Notice Of Public Hearing On Designation Of District Area For District Urban Renewal Project Area

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the City of Manistique will hold a public hearing on January 12, 1970, at 7:30 P.M. in the Council Chamber, Manistique Municipal Building, in Manistique, Michigan, on the designation of a district area for the development (urban renewal) area of the Central Business District Urban Renewal Project No. 3, in accordance with Act No. 189, Public Acts of 1968.

A district area means "a portion of a municipality consisting of one or more adjacent or nearby development areas and any surrounding territory that will be significantly affected by the plan for the development area or areas, where a majority of residents in the district area reside in the development area or areas."

For each district area a citizens' district council of not less than 12 nor more than 25 members shall be selected in a manner that ensures that the citizens' district council is to the maximum extent possible representative of the residents of the area and of other persons with a demonstrable and substantial interest in the area. The method of selection of the citizens' district council, by election, or appointment, or election of the citizens' district council, by election, or appointment, or election and appointment, will be determined after another duly noticed public hearing.

The development (urban renewal) area of the Central Business District Urban Renewal Project No. 1 is proposed as the district area, the two being coextensive and bounded as follows:

On the North by Main Street; on the East by South Maple Avenue; on the South by Oak Street; on the West by Pearl Street; and by Arbutus Avenue; and on the East by Pearl Street; and including also the block bounded on the North by Oak Street; on the East by Lake Street; on the South by Arbutus Avenue; and on the West by Maple Avenue.

A map of the proposed district area is on file for public inspection in the office of the City Clerk, Manistique Municipal Building, 300 North Maple Avenue, Manistique, Michigan, during regular office hours of 8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Monday through Friday (holidays excepted). At the hearing all interested persons or organizations will be afforded an opportunity to be heard and the Council will receive and consider communications in writing regarding the matter.

Hunger pains ?

FOR APPROXIMATELY SIX WEEKS, between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day, the people of this nation indulge their appetites at ceremonial and family dinners that feature food enough to make the tables groan with the weight.

Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's are automatically times for feasting, with traditional dishes of turkey, goose, ham, puddings, pies, desserts and strong drink. The time to start your diet is definitely after the holidays, not before.

Under these circumstances it is difficult for the average American to grasp the fact that each day, every time this planet Earth makes one revolution, 10,000 people in undeveloped countries die as a result of illness caused by malnutrition. 10,000 people! That's more than the entire population of Schoolcraft County. Or, another way, in less than a month, the equivalent of the entire population of the Upper Peninsula dies as a result of hunger.

In these undeveloped countries, 10 out of every 20 children born are likely to die in infancy from hunger or from the effects of an improper diet. Another seven may suffer physical or mental retardation.

Of the estimated 3.4 billion people in the world today, approximately half experience chronic hunger or serious dietary deficiency.

In 1798 Rev. Robert Malthus of England proposed the theory that population growth accelerates faster than the greatest increase in food that man is able to wrest from the earth on a sustained basis. Population, he noted, increases geometrically—1, 2, 4, 8, 16, etc.—while food supplies increase in arithmetical progression—1, 2, 3, 4, etc. Inevitably the day comes when food resources can no longer support the population. The result is famine, disease or war—what Malthus called the positive checks on population growth.

For years Malthus seemed to have missed the mark. Rich new lands opened up in the U.S., Canada, Africa and Australia, and world food production increased many times over, accelerated by technological improvements that brought greater yields per acre.

Today, Malthus appears to be vindicated. In 1850 the world contained a little over 1 billion people. By 1930 it contained 2 billion, and only 30 years later, 3 billion. If present growth trends continue, the population of the world may be 7 billion less than three decades from now.

Ironically, the greatest increase in population comes in those areas least able to feed themselves now. How can this hunger gap be closed unless the underdeveloped world slows its rate of population growth?

Back in 1965 "Food Technology" magazine wrote, "World famine afflicting hundreds of millions or even billions of human beings seems inevitable by the 1970's. It will be the most colossal catastrophe in history."

And the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations was warned, "Either we take the fullest measures both to raise productivity and to stabilize population growth, or we face disaster of an unprecedented magnitude."

Productivity and population control are the twin keys. It is useless to concentrate on one and to ignore the other. The problem will only be compounded.

We have come to recognize that our planet of finite size is ultimately limited in its resources. Continued abuses and disregard of those limitations can ultimately lead only to disaster—and it is later than we think.

A prize-winning weekly newspaper published every Thursday at Manistique, Michigan, at the Top O' Lake Michigan in the heart of Michigan's beautiful Upper Peninsula.

When the talk turns to the generation gap most parents think in terms of their own children rather than in relations to their own parents.

They are concerned with their inability to communicate with the young people and overlook the parallel situation of not getting through to the old folks. They forget that there was a gap between themselves and their parents...and perhaps still is.

Consider the November War Moratorium. My Dad was upset by it, I was intrigued by it, and a grandson (not my son, but that fact is not pertinent) was a participant. Three generations, and three different approaches to the same question.

Perhaps it's due to age mellowing both of us, but I feel a closer kinship with my father now, during my own middle age, than I ever did as a youngster. Not just love, understand, for that is a separate emotion, but a rapport, a bond if you will, a better understanding today of some of the things that made him tick when he was my age.

At any rate Pa and I got to discussing the Moratorium one night as we sat around the kitchen table at the tag end of the opening of the deer season.

Pa was a student at Michigan Agricultural College when he volunteered in World War I, and got as far as Texas before Kaiser Bill got the news and surrendered.

I was still in high school when I volunteered in World War II, and I got as far as Leyte before Tojo got the news and surrendered.

Today the concept of volunteering for military service does not have the same connotations of pride and patriotism that it did in 1918 and 1944. These virtues, if you want to call them that, can still be found in our young people, but an increasingly large number do not equate them with military service...particularly military service that may send you halfway around the world amidst a completely alien country and culture to die in a rice paddy against a foe who is fighting for his home and his country and his own concept of pride and patriotism.

Such an exercise in futility holds scant appeal for this bright and alert generation that has to be the smartest group of youngsters ever produced by one country. Their pride and patriotism is instead channeled into a questioning of the moralities that have ensnared us in Vietnam and of the wisdom of continuing our role there.

The line between the good and the bad and right and wrong was easier to find back when Pa went off to fight Kaiser Bill and I went off to turn back the Yellow Peril. Not incidentally, in both of these cases Congress had been given the opportunity to fulfill its Constitutional obligation of declaring war, and there was a certain logic, however mad in retrospect, in responding to the defense of your country and its democratic institutions. The older generation still has a tendency to think of Vietnam under those circumstances, when in reality the rules of the game have been changed completely.

News of the alleged atrocity at Song My has shaken the moral sanctity of our presence in Vietnam and again raised the nagging issue of whether or not we are in actuality destroying that unhappy land in our efforts to save it from communism.

It took considerable discussion and dialogue around the kitchen table that night before Pa and I found some common ground. There was agreement that regardless of the circumstances that impelled us to send U.S. troops into combat over there, the primary objective today should be peace, not war.

And while there are those... of all generations...who view the Moratorium marchers as traitors of one sort or another, Pa and I both agreed to the conclusion that the real traitors to this country are those leaders who, knowingly or unwittingly, led us into this trap and then failed to tell us the truth, so that now we find our nation caught between a rock and a hard place...unwilling to go ahead in a military venture that might result in World War III, unable to extricate ourselves in honor and in strength.

If our objectives had been more clearly defined before we committed our youth to combat, and if our leaders had conceded us the courage and the ability to deal with the truth instead of trying to hide it from us, then perhaps the questioning and the doubts would never have reached the point of a Moratorium in the first place.

There was no generation gap on this point. Pa and I could agree without any trouble at all.

LET'S DREAM ABOUT A GYM

The first school administrators in the country wouldn't have dreamed of putting in a gym—not even an old "new" gym. But in Boston, as early as 1853, physical training programs were introduced. They weren't held in a gym though. They were held in a classroom and they copied European exercises.

It's different today. The gym is the one building seen by more of the public than any other. It should provide the facilities for a balanced program of exercise, recreation and competition. In up-to-date systems, there is a growing emphasis on lifetime sports, (golf, tennis, archery, badminton, swimming and bowling). Physical education programs are coeducational, particularly in the above sports. (Why not?—They're going to be coeducational for a lifetime.)

And there should be inter-scholastic sports programs for girls. We haven't gotten to that in the Upper Peninsula. Girls are more discriminated against in athletics than the untouchables of India. They can go out for cheerleading and that's it. Athletically gifted girls just don't get much attention up here.

What do you put in a gym so all of these activities can take place? Sure a wooden floor that will bounce a basketball, but then let's start thinking about some other surfaces. Maybe on top of the floor we could roll out the synthetic grass. Then we could hit a golf ball, tumble without dragging out heavy mats or getting floor burns. Maybe we could lower a plastic ice surface from the ceiling for year round skating.

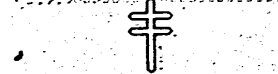

And what about the ceiling? It is the other side of the roof. It keeps the rain and snow out, it absorbs sound, it supports the lighting fixtures and holds the basketball backboards. But what else? We could keep large platforms stored there if we used motorized pulleys and light weight materials. The whole wrestling deck could be suspended, along with jungle gyms for the little kids, and a tufted wall for archery.

And let's put in big gas station type doors so we can swing them up and extend the gym outdoors when weather permits. They should be big enough to pull a section of bleachers through. Then when we have our tournaments and olympics the kids would be close to the locker rooms and the showers.

The building should be more than a box for basketball, it should accommodate a whole carnival of activities. If we build something like this, we will have one of the newest "new" gyms in the country. This is not an impossible dream. Every idea here has already been drawn by a reputable architect for the December issue of NATION SCHOOL MAGAZINE.

Bring 'em back ALIVE!

Hi Folks!

Last Tuesday Joanne, her boys and I made a trip to Hales Corners and New Berlin to visit with daughters Ruth, Lillian and their families. I also had a nice visit with my brother John and the Lawrence Sallies.

Got back Saturday afternoon to our Winter Wonderland where the snow stays its beautiful white. This morning the snowflakes keep falling slowly, winding their way from a partly dark sky. The soft white blanket keeps getting higher and higher. Looking at it, it seems as though a mysterious hand holds everything spellbound. A mystery I guess no one can explain. Our roofs have their winter trimmings of long icicles now.

It is very quiet this morning. I don't even hear the buzz of the woodsman's saw.

I've cleared the feeding table, for my feathered friends are waiting for their goodies. My little chickadees come in at day break with their cheerful notes. The chickadees, nuthatches, and the downy woodpecker hold fort throughout the year in our forests.

The season of Christmas fills the air at this time of the year. It's time for the Boss to get our tree. Our family is all grown and with it the excitement we had in getting ready for Santa to place the gifts and toys under the tree. We never had to wake up the children on Christmas morning - their patter of feet and excited voices woke us up instead. Memories, how wonderful it is that we can have them.

At Christmas there always seems to be a snowy stillness covering the earth. Its meaning again brings back the manger with the Christ Child lying there. A King born to bring the first peace on earth to all mankind. It brings the carolers singing "Silent Night" and "The First Noel." This folks is the meaning of Christmas eve. May we live it over and over again. May our prayers be renewed with peace on earth with good will toward men.

Cards of Thanks

During this past week the comforting acts and words from relatives, friends and neighbors have helped us so much.

We are especially grateful to Rev. Robert Haring, Mrs. Haring, the Bethel Baptist Church, Douglas Hall of Boston Emmanuel Gospel Center, Mrs. Maurice Fagan, the pallbearers, the W.B.M.S., the many memorials, which will help Cher's hopes for the continuation of Emmanuel Gospel Center, floral offerings, cards and other expressions of sympathy.

The Family of Rev. Chester R. Young 28p1

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother.

We especially wish to thank the many relatives, friends, and neighbors who sent cards, spiritual tributes, flowers and food. We also wish to thank the Altar Society and the Ladies who served lunch, the Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home, and Fr. Ephrim Sitko.

The Family of Louisa M. Walter 28p1

I will play hockey for the next two weeks and will send out my scoop of news after the new year. I expect to have Joanne, Kathleen and their families for Christmas dinner. So I too will be busy preparing goodies.

The sun is trying to break through the snow clouds so with its brightness I'll send out echoes of birthday greetings to these folks: Sharon Olson, Viola Schumacker, John Hartman, Joel Peterson, Pete Widdis, Earl Fisher, Bertha Lausten, Leone Lucovitch, John Davidson, Ray Danko, Marie Widdis and Martin Sayers.

Anniversary wishes go out to the C.L. Hinksons, Jack Williams, Hope Smiths, Taisto Orhanens, John Otts, Mek Popish, Capt. and Mrs. Henry Peterson, and the David Bringardners.

May your day be one of complete happiness.

At this Christmas season keep this quotation of King Gustave of Sweden in mind: "It is in the hearts of men that we must lay the foundation for world peace."

Until our next chat, Happy Holidays.

bridge figures show

Vehicles carrying deer hunters back to Lower Michigan from the Upper Peninsula during November numbered 34,646 as compared to 31,369 in 1965 but the number of deer brought back was 7,256 as compared to 8,283 last year.

Permits to transport deer through Wisconsin dropped 20 percent from 365 last year to 291 this year. Arrests dropped 17 percent too, when 403 were reported during this deer season as compared to 481 in 1968. Accidents increased by 250 percent from four non-fatal and one fatal in 1968 to 14 non-fatal and two fatal in 1969.

There are more than 5,000 cemeteries in Michigan, according to the State Cemetery Commission, a division of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Garden

BY MRS. ELEANOR LABUTTE

The Garden Library will be closed all holidays and whenever there is inclement weather. There will be a Christmas story hour Saturday for young children from 2 to 5 p.m. A new shipment of books has arrived and are available on our shelves. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watchorn of Fayette attended the funeral of Mrs. Sidney Bigyer in Cheboygan Dec. 11. The mail will leave the Garden post office at 2 p.m. rather than 1:30 as in the past. The St. John's Parish held their community party with a snowgizzard Sunday. After games, gifts were exchanged. Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Hal Goff of Battle Creek. Weighing 7 pounds and 14 ounces the infant has been named William David. Mr. Goff is the son of Mrs. Irene Davis and Harold Goff, all former Garden residents.

The St. Peter's Altar Society held their annual Christmas party at the parish hall in Fayette last Saturday.

A reception was held at the Walter Kreshefske home in Vans Harbor Sunday honoring them on their golden wedding anniversary. The Kreshefskes were married in Oconto, Wis. in 1919.

Sunday afternoon the Fayette 4-H Club entertained senior citizens of the area with a Christmas party at the Fayette town hall which they had decorated for the occasion. The 4-H'ers presented centerpieces and cookies they had made to those attending and served much. The 4-H girls sang Christmas carols before the gaily decorated trees. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Peterson, daughter Arleen and son Benny attended the wedding of Randall Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Engels of Green Bay, in Green Bay Dec. 6.

The Garden Township and Fairbank Farm Bureau held their annual Christmas party at the Fayette Town Hall Saturday evening. The evening was spent socially with an exchange of gifts. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. George Gossage, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Richard, Mr. and Mrs. John Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Robare, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen and Frank Bartus.

The Kates Bay Christmas party to be held at the Rufus Spaulding home has been changed to Saturday evening Dec. 20.

Deep snow? Big driveway? No problem!

There's nothing good about winter if you're out breaking your back and freezing your ears trying to keep your driveway clear. But get a John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractor with a snow thrower or blade and winter doesn't look so bad.

John Deere Driveway Freedom Machines come in five sizes from 7 to 14 horsepower. Each is just as husky at it is handsome. Engines have automatic compression release for fast cold-weather starts.

Come in and see us soon. You'll look at winter differently when there's a John Deere Tractor in your garage. And when spring finally comes, your Driveway Freedom Machine goes to work on your lawn and in your garden and becomes a Weekend Freedom Machine. Need financing? The John Deere Credit Plan solves that.

25 Year Club holds meeting

The 17th annual dinner meeting of the Inland Lime and Stone Co. Twenty Five Year Club was held last Thursday at the Fireside.

Welcome to membership in the club and presented watches after completing 25 years of employment with Inland during 1969 were Conrad E. Anderson, Loretta I. Jaynes, Albert J. Kokesh and Edward A. LaRose. In addition, Edward H. Armstrong also became a member of the club, but was unable to attend because of illness.

Total membership of the club is now 115, of whom 48 are retired employees and 67 are active working employees. Almost one out of every five employees of the firm are members of the club. The average years of service per member is 32 years and two months.

Surf Sounds

Next to trying to figure out what to buy your rich Aunt Minnie for Christmas, and trying to determine today who's going to be playing in the Super Bowl next month, the biggest problem of the day is what to do about New Year's.

You'd like to do something different, right? Classy, but not expensive, right? Lots of fun and lots of laughs, but no two out of three falls tag team events?

Have we got good news for you!

For the first time since they opened, the Surf is going to be operating New Year's Eve... and they're going all out.

Hoo boy... The mind boggles. Lemme tell you. If you're an early starter, they'll be serving dinner from 6 p.m. on. They're going to feature the Saturday night Steak Fry menu that night, which means some mighty good eating at some mighty reasonable prices.

O.K. That's good for a start. You and Gladys are in your glad rags, full of good food and good spirits. What next?

The Soul Food Quartet, that's what's next. They're a popular music and entertainment group that's played around the Midwest, and when they aren't giving you good music to dance by, they're providing some sparkling entertainment that will keep the joint jumping.

To all this add the Surf Girls with favors and surprises, plus special decorations, and you've got yourself a New Year's Eve that will turn you and yours on and then some.

The rest is up to you. The folks at the Surf can go all out, as they have, and provide a night to remember... providing you're there to participate. You can be. Either phone 341-5115 for reservations, or drop in anytime. You'll be glad you did.

Vandalism cost summarized

School vandalism cost area taxpayers more than $1,500 in 1968, a report from Manistique Area Schools Maintenance Director Joe Wood showed recently.

The cost of unnecessary repairs this year is slightly lower, however, totaling just over $750 through November.

Reports on the vandalism were compiled through cost and labor estimates made for unnecessary repairs. They include such things as broken windows and doors, repairs to seats, light fixtures and switches, lockers, shower knobs; plugged toilets and drains, and washing off of paint.

Vandals are seldom caught, according to the reports. When they are apprehended, efforts are made to secure restitution for damages.

All school buildings in the district are included in the summary.

Take action on licenses

For the first time since the Department of State's point system came into existence back in 1958, the state has taken actions against the driving privilege of more than 100,000 Michigan drivers.

And it appears that the final toll for all of 1969 will be more than 110,000 when license cancellations, revocations, suspensions, restrictions, and other driver improvement activities are tabulated for November and December.

Through October, nearly 103,000 drivers have had varying types of actions taken against them.

And according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, nearly 9,000 of October's near 15,000 drivers disciplined were under Public Act 332, Michigan's year-old license suspension law. Hare said the October totals were the highest month so far.

Hare said he "still feels that P.A. 332 is oppressive legislation, ensnaring many persons who have relatively good driving records but who for one reason or another may forget to pay a traffic ticket."

"The law provides that we suspend these persons until they clear up the ticket in question," said Hare. "We have had to suspend many persons who have had but a single infraction against their records since they began driving. To my way of thinking this is too punitive."

Through October ... with the full impact of P.A. 332 not felt until April ... 44,500 Michigan drivers have been suspended under provisions of P.A. 332, noted Hare.

TOPS yule party

The annual TOPS Christmas party was held Dec. 10 at the Fireside Inn. A gift exchange was held following the dinner, with a special gift given to the group's president, Mrs. Jean Selling.

No meetings will be held on Dec. 23 or Dec. 30, but there will be weigh-ins at Mrs. Selling's home.

WALK-THRU ANGINA

Medical journals say exercise conditions the heart and helps in preventing early senescence. It is added to the treatment of angina pectoris, poor circulation and hypertension. Of late, much is heard about "Walk-thru Angina." Researchers report on the beneficial effects of progressive exercise for relieving heart pain and improving EKG's.

The angina victim starts by trying to walk a mile in 25 minutes, 3 times a day. If chest pain develops he stops, then continues at a more leisurely pace until pain subsides. When able to walk one mile in 25 minutes, some increase the pace and may include jogging in order to cover the distance in 9 to 11 minutes. Jogging is strenuous and should be replaced by walking when shortness of breath or fatigue develops.

snowy Saturday while driving around Schoolcraft County:

1). There are still some crazy fishermen around - out at Thompson as Dr. Kaski and I stopped in to see the action on the way back to town from Cooks, there were approximately 20 anglers, knee to neck deep depending upon the stage of the waves, but they were getting fish.

2). Some beef producers are better equipped than others! It was a real pleasure to vaccinate the calves at both the Jim Hoholik residence at Thompson and the Gerald Poupore's at Cooks. Why? They both have folding pens leading to a shoot in which the animal's head can be restrained. For those of you who as yet do not have any facilities like this, I would very strongly recommend that you take a look at either or both and see what you can do about putting in your own. In case of animal health problems this set-up could be a lifesaver.

3). We vaccinated 49 head this past Saturday, and combined with the 79 we had the last time, this gives us 128 calves vaccinated this year. I believe this is an increase from last year. It would appear that the Beef-Cow-Calf type operation is on the increase here in Schoolcraft County.

MEETING: There will be a soils and fertilizer meeting December 18, 7:30 p.m. at the Fireside. Don Christenson, Soil Specialist, Michigan State University from Marquette, will be the featured speaker. Don will talk about proper fertilizer use; possibly giving some tips on how to save money in buying fertilizer, as well as telling you how to get the most for your money from this sometimes expensive substance. Does fertilizer pay? Don feels it does and most important from your stand point, he will have the figures to back this up. In addition to talking about field crops, Don will also be prepared to handle any questions on fertilization for small fruits and on commercial home gardens.

State assumes lighting bill

The Department of State Highways will assume maintenance Jan. 1 of all freeway lighting for traffic safety in Michigan's cities and villages. The Department said the shift in responsibility from municipalities to the State will add an estimated $2 million a year to the Department's maintenance costs. Maintenance costs in the affected municipalities

Battels assigned as supervisor here

H. Ray Battels, of Brooklyn, New York, has been assigned by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, as circuit supervisor in this area. He assumed his duties in November, replacing Richard Rainer, who has been transferred to lower Michigan.

Battels will oversee the ministerial activities of 18 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses located in upper Michigan and northeastern Wisconsin. His schedule includes spending a week with each congregation, during which time advanced training in the Christian ministry and family living is given. Suggestions for improving congregational procedures are also made during his visit.

Battels, born in Springfield, Ohio, in 1942, has been an ordained minister of Jehovah's Witnesses since 1957. Five of those years were spent at the Witnesses' world headquarters in Brooklyn, N.Y., where he assisted in the production of the Watchtower and Awake magazines.

Battels is currently finalizing plans for the Witnesses semi-annual ministers' conference slated for Jan. 2-4 at Ishpeming, Michigan. Delegates from the local congregation will be attending the January conference.

will be reduced nearly as much. Under 1967 "Good Roads" legislation, which raised gas and weight taxes, the Department assumed maintenance Jan. 1, 1968, of about 500 lighting fixtures on freeways in cities and villages having populations of 30,000 or less. The same legislation required the state to take over maintenance in municipalities of more than 30,000 on Jan. 1, 1970.

Paul J. Marek, the Department's engineer of maintenance estimated the number of light-poles on all freeways at 14,000.

Marke said the Department has prepared contracts and work atlas maps for the public utilities which will furnish electrical energy, routine maintenance and special damage maintenance.

Public utilities will provide the energy and perform special maintenance in most cities. In several cases where city-owned facilities furnish the energy, all special maintenance will be performed by city forces.

Maintenance of freeway lighting by public utilities is subject to regulatory rates of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The bill which established the Federal-aid Highway System in 1921 was introduced by Sen. Charles E. Townsend of Michigan.

ARE

It was a newspaper picture of a crowded street. Then we examined it closely. There we were, nameless faces in a crowd to the rest of the world, but important faces to us.

Ours is a world of fast-growing urbanization. More and more people are concentrating in crowded areas. Ours is a world dominated by the gang, the club, the party, even the mob. It's mighty easy to get that "one drop in the ocean" feeling, as if no one knows we are here.

That's why we treasure our church. In it we are individuals. Our minister, our teachers and our friends, even visitors, know us. Each of us is seen as a separate person. Each of us is known to the same loving Father.

You might call us the "fellowship crowd" ... a crowd in which we are never lost. Discover for yourself the wonderful blessings your church can impart to you. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

Family Living

BY INGRID TERVONEN
Extension Home Economist
Michigan State University

Saturday, December 13, was St. Lucia Day for all of the good Swedes in our area. On this day family members are pampered in the way of food, for it is a superstition that in proportion that one celebrated "Lusse" with due lavishness, the new year would be prosperous.

In olden times, by Lucia Day certain tasks, such as, threshing and weaving for the year had to be completed. In the morning slaughtering sometimes took place and the Christmas ale was drawn for the first time.

We now think of Lucia serving coffee and a special sweet roll but in olden times foaming ale and meal were served. I prefer the idea of being served sweet rolls and coffee in bed don't you?

Even though St. Lucia Day is over, you might like to get your hands in a good yeast dough and I'm sure your family would enjoy the specially shaped sweet rolls, even though you don't go as far as serving them in bed. Children would really like them when they come home from school. And what smells better than freshly baked yeast rolls or bread.

When my sister and I were children we always found something special in our stocking - a sweet roll shaped in the form of a little girl. We had this for breakfast on Christmas morning. When my niece and nephews were born, my father always made rolls for them - 2 boy shapes and one little girl. It was something they looked forward to even when in their teens.

Until this year, I thought this was something only our family did, just one of his ideas. Now I found it, pictures, recipe and all in a commercial folder. It is an authentic Finnish Christmas tradition. My nephew's wife is now carrying on for her children.

Every family has at least one favorite bread recipe that has been handed down from genera-

Yule music programs set

Now is the time for Christmas programs.

Students at the Doyle School presented their musical selections in a program last Friday afternoon.

Hiawatha students will present their musical program at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) while Central Junior High singers will participate in the 7:30 program tonight (Thursday) at the high school.

Lincoln School students will sing their holiday songs Friday at 1:30 p.m.

The repertoire is selected from the newly-purchased music books used in the elementary and Junior High program, according to Miss Arlene Gordanier, vocal music teacher for the Manistique Area Schools.

The Central Junior High chorus is a newly-formed organization which meets during the lunch hour.

Sunrise Singers from the Lakeside and Lincoln schools also plan to serenade Christmas shoppers downtown Friday night.

Christmas party

A Christmas party for all members of the Medical Careers club will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday (today) in Room 200 of the Manistique High School. Members are reminded to bring a gift and refreshments.

Even Santa... wouldn't think of starting out on his journey without complete insurance coverage...

from DENNY of course!

FUEL MIXING TIPS

(Two-Cycle Engines Only)

Check the "oil-to-gas ratio" shown on the engine chart, pour approximately one-half the amount of fuel required into a separate, clean container and add the full amount of oil specified. Thoroughly agitate this mixture. Add the remainder of the gasoline necessary to bring the mixture to the required ratio, and again thoroughly agitate the mixture. Pour this mixture into the vehicle fuel tank. Do not mix oil and gasoline when the temperature of either is near or below 0°; the preferable temperatures are above +20°F.
