BRITISH PLANS OF ARMAMENT GAIN SUPPORT

CHAMBERLAIN WINS CONFIDENCE VOTE IN PARLIAMENT

London — Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told commons Britain was ready to increase her "almost terrifying" war power if peace talks with Germany and Italy fail.

Moscow — Niko lai Bucharin, confessed leader of mass treason trial defendants, denies bolshevik red heroine's assertions that he once plotted to assassinate Lenin and Stalin.

Madrid — Insurgent warplanes bomb Cartagena in retaliation for government sinking of the cruiser Baleares; Madrid hailed naval victory as breaking the insurgent blockade.

Paris — High authority answers rightist campaign for talks with Germany with assertion that France does not consider the time ripe.

Rome — Poland seen as balance between Britain and France, and Germany and Italy in proposed European agreements.

Shanghai — Japanese gain positions for assaults on Chinese red army strongholds and vital Lung-hai railway.

London, March 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain tonight won a decisive vote of confidence in the house of commons for his "almost terrifying" armament building program to back pending talks with dictators.

By a vote of 347 to 133 commons approved Chamberlain's exposition of the rearmament program and his policy of negotiating directly with Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

The prime minister broke his usual ice reserve to deny opposition charges he wanted "peace at any price" or was biased toward fascism.

Parliament gave him one of the biggest ovations of his career at the end of his 49-minute speech making clear he was risking his political future on conferences with the dictators in an attempt to halt Europe's drift toward "the cataract" of war.

War Is Feared A surprising number of other members expressed the fear war was inevitable unless the vital British talks with Italy and Germany succeed.

A gloomy picture of Britain's airforce in relation to Germany's was drawn by Winston Churchill, war-time cabinet member, who said the reich was spending more than double Britain's huge sums.

He warned against turning Britain's back on her ally, France, or on the League of Nations.

Opposition members assailed Chamberlain's foreign policy which they termed a flouting of ideals of the league in favor of a return to the old-time "balance of power" politics which prevailed before the World war.

Sir Thomas Inskip, defense coordination minister, replied to charges of "lagging" air rearmament with an admission all royal air force squadrons are not fully equipped, but said it was because of the difficulty England encountered in buying equipment.

Amendment Rejected In addition to voting confidence in the government, commons rejected a labor amendment to the arms bill 351 to 134.

Amid the cheers of his supporters, Chamberlain opened full dress defense debate with the

New Appeals Sent Kidnapers Of Boy; Bronx Pond Drained

New Rochelle, N. Y., March 7. (AP)—Murray Levine issued today another in the long, unproductive series of appeals he has made to the kidnapers of his 12-year-old son, Peter, missing now for 11 days.

"I again assure those holding my boy that it is perfectly safe for them to get in touch with me in any way or through anyone they may choose," the father said in a public statement.

Levine, a well to do lawyer, said in an interview that the "last note" received from the abductors—a note he discussed no further—had indicated that the boy still was alive.

Meanwhile, in New York City, the police continued to drain a pond in the Bronx, in pursuit of an anonymous tip that the child's body would be found there. It appeared the job would not be done before Wednesday afternoon.

Two Women Claim Detroit Detective Held As Bigamist

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Judge Edward J. Jeffries of recorder's court signed a warrant today charging John R. Norris, suspended Detroit detective, with bigamy.

The warrant was recommended by Assistant Prosecutor Thomas J. Donahue on complaint of two women who claim to be married to Norris.

Mrs. Frances Norris, 41, and Mrs. Henriette B. Norris, 27, both of Detroit, each told policewomen that Norris is their husband. The first Mrs. Norris said she had been married to Norris for 22 years, the second said she had been married since August, 1936.

Norris has denied that he married either of them.

HOFFMAN ASKS FDR'S INCOME Representative Suggests President Tell Salary "On the Side"

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Representative Hoffman (R-Mich) suggested in the house today that President Roosevelt should tell the nation what salaries he and his son, James Roosevelt, are "making on the side" since he advocates publicity for corporation salaries.

Mr. Roosevelt said at a recent press conference that he approved of the present law requiring publication of corporation salaries above $15,000 a year.

"I think I ought to know about the $150,000 James is reported to have received from his insurance business and about $500,000 he is supposed to have made in the last four years," Hoffman said.

"If it's immoral, or unmanly, or not to inform 130,000,000 people about these (corporation) salaries, why shouldn't the people know how much the president and his son are receiving on the side?"

If the nation knew that, he said, it might be able to "figure out" how much time they devote to public business.

'Gosh', Says Father When Baby Arrives Weighing 19 Pounds

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—The family of John C. Lawler, unemployed automobile factory worker, was a picture in amazement today—all because of a baby.

A son weighing 19 pounds, measuring 24 inches from toes to curly hair, was born to Mrs. Mary Lawler, 36, mother of five other children.

All the father, 37, could say at the moment was "Gosh!"

"You must be kidding me," Mrs. Lawler murmured from her bed at home, where the baby was born.

Physicians at Woman's hospital said the child was probably the largest ever born in Detroit, although infants of 25 pounds at birth have been recorded elsewhere.

Despite worries over lack of work since December 23, Lawler was the typical proud father tonight, inviting relatives and neighbors to "come in and see what we've got."

At Mrs. Lawler's request, doctors had to weight her son again tonight. Her other children are employed. Wife: Winston, 15; Johnny, 11; Bobby, 8, and Dornie, 2.

"Dornie," she said, "weighed 14 pounds when she was born and I thought she was the biggest baby I ever saw, but this one—"

The baby, after the best manner of new infants, bawled lustily.

Drawing for Tournament Positions

Representatives of several high schools in this district attended the drawings held at the senior high school yesterday to determine pairings for the district basketball tournament, which will start at the junior high gym Thursday evening. INDIANA BEER WAR STILL ON Commission Makes No Decision Toward Proposed Truce

Lansing, March 7 (AP)—The Michigan liquor control commission reserved a decision tonight toward a proposed truce with Indiana in the state's beer tariff war.

Each has ordered an embargo on the importation of beer manufactured in the other state, to become effective next Monday.

The commission refused to act until it has had an opportunity to study an opinion of the Indiana attorney general, quoted as having held the compromise plan was legal.

Edward W. McFarland, chairman of the commission, indicated he then would want to discuss it with Attorney General Raymond W. Starr, of Michigan, and with Michigan brewers, some of whom have insisted that Michigan allow the embargo to become effective.

Hugh A. Barnhart, Indiana excise administrator, announced in Indianapolis today that his state's alcoholic beverages commission has prepared a resolution authorizing Indiana importers to waive handling charges on beer shipped from Michigan. His statement mentioned only handling charges of approximately one cent a bottle of beer.

Dealers Return A delegation of Michigan wholesale beer dealers, returning from Indiana, reported the Indiana commission had agreed to permit waiver of 15 fees and charges collected by the importers, totaling approximately six cents a bottle.

J. Adrian Rosenberg, of Jackson, attorney for the delegation, charged that the group had been sent to Indiana by the Michigan commission "on a little boy's wild goose chase." His outburst followed a statement by John Shea, head of the brewery and alcohol division of the Michigan commission, that statutory provisions in the Indiana law provided a stumbling block to any truce.

Shea pointed out that the Indiana commission had no power to revise laws assessing a $1,500 fee against beer importers, and requiring Michigan shippers to post bonds as high as $10,000.

Rosenberg asserted that Michigan commission was aware of this when it advised the delegation to visit Indiana, and that if it planned to construe these as cardinal points to block an agreement it never should have given such advice.

Under Michigan law, states enacting laws to discriminate against Michigan-manufactured beer are forbidden to send their beer into Michigan.

F. D. Heilman, of Saginaw, attorney for the Michigan Brewers association, told the conference he considered the $1,500 fee and the bond provisions of Indiana's law discriminatory. Michigan had no choice in enforcing the embargo, he asserted.

Lower Lake Port Shipping Started

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—With the arrival at Zug Island today of the oil tanker Regent from Toledo, the 1938 shipping season for lower lake ports got underway. Loaded with gasoline, the Regent left Toledo at 8:15 a. m. and arrived here at 2:30 p. m., considered by shipping experts as fast time inasmuch as there is still considerable ice in the lakes.

If weather remains favorable, numerous small vessels are expected to clear from Lake Erie ports with coal for Detroit within the next two weeks.

DIES AT 100

Birmingham, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Emily Spear, 100, is dead here. A year ago she traveled to Warren, Maine, to attend a family reunion.

California Flood Relief Rushed; Damage Estimated Is 52 Million

Los Angeles, March 7 (AP)—The Red Cross urged quick response today to its appeal for Southern California flood relief contributions, emphasizing that the $300,000 fund sought will be the only money available for direct relief of individual sufferers.

The weather bureau reported a new storm condition off the coast and issues a forecast of "unsettled with probable rain tonight and tomorrow." The rain is expected to be light, however, the bureau added.

The list of dead and missing in five weeks' devastating floods in five southern California counties fluctuated today around the 175 mark.

Latest figures were 69 identified dead, 17 unidentified dead and 86 persons reported missing. Governor Frank F. Merriam, appealing to President Roosevelt for federal funds for rehabilitation, estimated public and private losses in the state would exceed $52,000,000.

"The public," said A. L. Schaefer, in charge of Red Cross operations in the five counties, "must not confuse the large amounts appropriated from public funds with this Red Cross fund of $300,000, as public monies are used for reconstruction of highways, public buildings and so forth.

"The Red Cross fund is the only one available for individuals in need."

He said checks should be made out to the Southern California flood relief fund and forwarded to any bank, newspaper or Red Cross chapter in Southern California.

The Los Angeles city council appropriated $38,000 today to start clearance work and appealed to President Roosevelt for federal aid up to $5,000,000 to repair highways, bridges and public buildings.

Crop damage in Los Angeles county will run more than $25,000, the county agricultural commissioner's office estimated. This includes $200,000 damage to the strawberry crop. Other damage was confined mainly to citrus groves.

Entire flood damage to public and private property in the five stricken counties is estimated at about $65,000,000.

About 30 Percent Of New WPA Jobs Given To Michigan

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Governor Murphy, here to confer over administration of the state unemployment fund, disclosed today Michigan had received approximately 30 per cent of all the WPA jobs made available in the recent $250,000,000 congressional appropriation.

Michigan's quota, he said, is 74,000 jobs of the estimated 400,000 created under the grant. This boosts Michigan's job total under WPA to 118,000, he said.

Governor Murphy conferred here with Abner Larned, director for unemployment insurance benefits from which payments will be made starting July 1 from a fund now estimated at $50,000,000.

Pershing Continues To Grow Stronger

Tucson, Ariz., March 7 (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing made such strides toward recovery today his physician, Dr. Roland Davison, didn't even bother to issue a bulletin.

In an informal statement, the physician said General Pershing's blood pressure, which dropped "too low" yesterday, was up nicely and his heart "perfectly regular."

"The general," Dr. Davison concluded, "is doing as well as possibly could be expected."

For the third straight day, the general's bed was rolled onto the sun porch. From a distance, the chief of the armies could be seen making vigorous gestures with his hands as he talked with relatives and Maj. Gen. George C. Marshall of Vancouver, Wash.

Bathing Suit Part Of Divorce Plaintiff

Pontiac, Mich., March 7 (AP)—Mrs. Frankie Smith of Royal Oak complained in a divorce action filed today that her husband forced her to wear a bathing suit when entertaining friends in the home.

Mother Smothers Two Babes 'Better Off Dead'

Babylon, N. Y., March 7 (AP)—Smiling and calm, Mrs. Margaret E. Thomsen, a poorly dressed young housewife, was arraigned today on first degree murder charges after her two small children were found suffocated in their drafty West Babylon home.

Lindsay Henry, assistant district attorney, told Justice of the Peace Charles Fischer that Mrs. Thomsen confessed she killed the children because they were better off dead.

State troopers who arrested the woman said she told them "Harry (her husband) wouldn't take me out. He never even took me to the movies. That's why I killed those darned brats of his."

In a signed confession, said Henry, she added that her husband, Henry (Harry) E. Thomsen, a house wrecker, threatened to take the children from her and refused to provide proper food for them.

Mrs. Thomsen called state police barracks at noon and reported "There are two dead here and I want some help right away."

Troopers went to her home, a 2 1/2-room shack surrounded by muddy streets, and when no one answered their knocks they broke in the door.

In the kitchen, littered with leftover food, dirty dishes and clothes, the bodies of Kathleen Elizabeth, 3, and Henry Thomsen, Jr., 5 months old lay on a cot.

Efforts to revive the children were unsuccessful.

Henry said Mrs. Thomsen told him that she was born Margaret Kain in West New York, N. J., 25 years ago and had served 18 months in the Bedford (N. Y.) state reformatory for women.

GRAND RAPIDS KILLER HUNTED Slaying of Stenographer Still Mystery, Work of 'Fiend'

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 7 (AP)—Detectives continued a tireless search tonight for the slayer of Mina Dekker, apparently no nearer a solution of the mystery than they were last Friday when the attractive, 19-year-old stenographer was fatally beaten in the stock-room of her employer's office.

Police held to the theory advanced at the outset of the investigation by Chief Frank J. O'Malley that the killer who rained blows on Miss Dekker's head, presumably with a hammer, was a "fiend." Still unexplained, however, was the fact that the crime seemed to have been committed by someone who knew the lay-out of the building and knew that Miss Dekker was alone in the office during the lunch hour.

Search continued for the weapon used by the slayer and for the clothing he wore. Detectives said that both must be stained with blood.

Farley Announces 31 New Stamps To Come Out In Year

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Postmaster General Farley said today that President Roosevelt had approved tentatively a series of 31 new postage stamps to replace during the next year postage stamps now in use.

The new issue, first major change since 1923, will include portraits of every deceased president, and also of Benjamin Franklin, the first postmaster general, and Martha Washington. Federal law provides that no living person can be thus honored.

The series will include four new denominations: four and one-half cent, 18-cent, 35-cent, and 40-cent.

The Coolidge stamp will cost $5. Nine stamps which will be discontinued include those depicting the Statue of Liberty, an American Indian, Golden Gate, Niagara Falls, a buffalo, the amphitheater at Arlington National Cemetery, the Lincoln Memorial, here, the United States capital, and the Goddess of Freedom.

SHIPMENTS DECLINE

New York, March 7 (AP)—Factory shipments of passenger automobiles and trucks in the United States in February totaled 237,100 units, a decline of 10 per cent over January shipments of 228,974 and a drop of 47 per cent under the 383,900 in February 1937.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association estimated today.

Shipments in the first two 1938 months aggregated 433,174 units, a drop of 45 per cent under the 783,986 for the like 1937 period.

HITLER AND GOERING TO RECEIVE HOOVER

Berlin, March 7 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Field Marshal Hermann Goering are to receive former President Herbert Hoover during his two day visit to Berlin.

The former president arrived today from Czechoslovakia.

Hitler arranged an appointment in the chancellery at noon tomorrow and Goering will entertain him Wednesday at a luncheon at his beautiful forest estate, Karinhall, in Schorf Meadow, 25 miles from Berlin.

BODY RECOVERED Unionville, Mich., March 7 (AP)—Sheriff's officers removed the body of Henry Gilbert, 60-year-old Akron farmer, from his submerged automobile in Saginaw Bay Sunday. Gilbert drowned when his car sank through the ice Saturday afternoon. Officers brought the car near the surface and cut a hole through the top to reach the body.

OFFICER BURIED Grand Haven, Mich. (AP)—A military funeral was held here Monday for Capt. Howard H. Pellegrom, 44, commander of Company G, 12th Infantry, Michigan National Guard, who died of a streptococcal infection.

REVISION BILL WEATHERS ITS FIRST ATTACK

Washington, March 7 (AP)—An attempt at complete repeal of the widely criticized tax on undistributed profits went down to defeat in the house today.

Administration forces easily shunted aside, 78 to 33, a Republican amendment to the tax revision bill which would have:

(1) Eliminated provisions for a 12 1/2 to 16 per cent income tax on corporations with incomes of $25,000 or less and for a 16 per cent income tax on most larger firms, plus a 4 per cent surtax on undistributed profits.

(2) Substituted a normal corporate income tax of 12 1/2 per cent on the first $5,000, 14 per cent on the next $20,000 and 16 per cent on all above $25,000.

Other Tests Coming The vote today was the first big test of the bill. Others were to come. Critics sought to modify the bill's provisions for a capital gains tax, and to eliminate a proposed surtax on family-owned or closely-held corporations.

Republicans argued that outright repeal of the undistributed profits tax would remove an "iniquitous" levy from the statute books, tax all companies on the basis of income and without reference to dividend policy, and provide a "sound and equitable" corporate revenue system.

They estimated the substitute proposal would result in a reduction of $80,000,000 in government revenue.

Representative Vinson (D-Ky.) argued back that the loss would be $200,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Asserting that Vinson could make "black look white," Representative Knutson (R-Minn.) said the undistributed profits tax was doing more than any other law to "keep 15,000,000 people pounding the pavement looking for jobs."

"Weasel-Like" Amendment Shaking a finger at Representative Treadway (R-Mass.), author of the Republican amendment, Vinson asked:

"Did I hear anything from the distinguished gentleman to remind us of the necessity of balancing the budget and saving the credit of the United States?" He is making a weasel-like amendment, hoping to get some political advantage."

The Kentuckian, chairman of a sub-committee which drafted the tax bill, said Ellsworth C. Alvord, a "high priest in the high citadel of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States," had drafted the Republican amendment.

"Didn't Mr. Alvord draw it? Didn't he?" he shouted at Treadway.

"I'm not ashamed of the advice of such a tax expert as Mr. Alvord," Treadway remarked.

All Take Beating After Vinson had repeated his question, Treadway thought a few moments, then rose to yell a denial.

"He who hesitates is lost," Vinson retorted, "while a wave of laughter rolled through the chamber."

Contending the bill would not produce enough revenue, Representative McFarlane (D-Tex.) said that instead of paying down corporate taxes, it ought to leave in effect the present rates—at least for firms with incomes of more than $25,000.

The Treadway amendment was sandwiched between two others

Chicago Grand Jury Indicts Boy, 16, For Killing His Mother

Chicago, March 7 (AP)—Theodore Danielsen, 16-year-old high school pupil, was reported named by a grand jury today in a true bill charging him with murdering his mother.

The indictment was expected to be returned before Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington in criminal court tomorrow, and arraignment Wednesday was considered likely.

The grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill 20 minutes after Assistant State's attorney Morris G. Meyers appeared with witnesses, mostly neighbors of the Danielsens and policemen.

The prosecutor made it clear the state would not ask the death penalty for the boy who confessed, Meyers said that he thrust a bread knife into his mother's throat last Thursday afternoon after she had upbraided him for repeatedly playing hooky from school.

Funeral services for the 47-year-old mother, Mrs. Eleanor Danielsen, were conducted in a undertaker's chapel today. The body was sent to Ripon, Wis., for burial.

Court Rules Banker Mitchell Must Pay Government $364,454

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The supreme court decided today that Charles E. Mitchell, once chairman of the National City Bank of New York, must pay the government a $364,454 assessment imposed for alleged "fraud with intent to evade" 1929 income taxes.

By a six to one vote, the court disagreed with Mitchell's contention that his acquittal on a criminal charge of attempting to evade a $728,709 tax barred collection of a 50 per cent penalty.

Justice Brandeis delivered the majority opinion that reversed a decision in favor of Mitchell by the federal circuit court at New York.

WARPLANES HIT BACK AT PORT

Insurgent Aerial Attack Retaliates for Breaking of Blockade

Madrid, March 7 (AP)—Spanish insurgent warplanes struck fiercely at the port of Cartagena today in swift retaliation for a government naval victory hailed here as the blow which broke the insurgent blockade of the eastern Spanish coast.

Five times Generalissimo Francisco Franco's attackers roared over Cartagena raining bombs on the port and government naval base.

A communique stated the naval base was undamaged but no mention was made of casualties.

Some observers regarded as premature the sweeping declaration that the insurgent blockade was broken as a result of the sinking of the 10,000-ton insurgent cruiser Baleares in Sunday's spectacular naval battle.

Nevertheless, it was recognized that the loss of the Baleares, one of the insurgents' three principal cruisers, constituted a heavy blow.

With the Baleares destroyed, the fleets of the opposing sides were much nearer parity.

The government now has three cruisers, about twelve effective destroyers, six torpedo boats, four or five submarines and a number of smaller craft. The insurgents are left with two cruisers, one destroyer, five torpedo boats, four submarines, four mine-layers, two gunboats and smaller craft, including armed merchantmen and trawlers.

The victory greatly encouraged government officials who said it would go far toward compensating for the loss of Teruel, important provincial capital 130 miles east of Madrid, which fell recently to the insurgents.

(Admiral Juan Cervera, commander of the insurgent fleet, moved quickly to reinforce the blockade ordering all second-line craft to speed to Palma, Mallorca, to serve as reinforcements. Insurgent sources said their air force, also operating from Mallorca, would be reinforced to escort the blockade ships in battle.)

REVISION BILL WEATHERS ITS FIRST ATTACK

which also took a beating. One, by Representative Reed (R-N. Y.), was intended to encourage gifts to endowed colleges by special tax treatment of revocable trusts.

"Leveled at Ford" The other, by Representative Harlan (D-Ohio), was designed to strengthen a section of present law imposing penalty taxes on corporations "improperly accumulating surpluses."

Earlier, the house heard Rep. Dondero (R-Mich.), declare today that a proposed special surtax on family owned or closely held corporations, was "leveled directly at the Ford Motor company—whether intended or not."

"If this tax had been in effect 30 years ago, Henry Ford would still be employing 75 people on an obscure street in Detroit," he said.

While he spoke, leaders prepared to obtain a vote soon on this tax, one of the major features of the administration's revenue revision bill.

The tax Dondero denounced is known as the "11B" levy. Corporations which are closely held and have large incomes would have to pay a 20 percent surtax on earnings remaining after the payment of other corporate taxes and the crediting of certain deductions.

Many Companies Exempt In the final Democratic speech before the revision bill was opened to amendments, Rep. Cooper of Tennessee defended the surtax against complaints from both Republicans and Democrats.

"There isn't a single '11B' corporation," he said, "that will pay a tax that compares to the amount you have to pay on your salary as a member of the house of representatives."

He said companies with net income of $75,000 or less would be exempt from the special levy.

It is unfair, Cooper contended, for closely held corporations to pile up their income and pay a flat corporation tax when the stockholders, if the profits were disbursed in dividends, "would be forced up into the higher income brackets."

Discussing the measure in general, he called it "a real tax relief bill" because it contains no maximum tax rate as high as any corresponding rate under present law.

Roosevelt Blamed But Representative Lamneck (D-Ohio), a member of the ways and means committee which handled the tax bill, said it would impose on a closely held firm a 56 percent greater tax than on a comparable concern with many stockholders.

"There is no question in the world this tax is aimed at somebody," he remarked. "Who is it? Is it the newspapers which are critical of the administration? Most of them are closely held. Is it big corporations like Henry Ford? If so, this tax would murder a lot of other people to get at them."

"Someone, somewhere, is after some corporation or some group of corporations. If there were only one corporation subject to this tax, I'd be against it because of its principle."

Another Michigan Republican, Representative Woodruff, asserted

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Joey Archibald of Providence, R. I., won a technical knockout over Johnny Mirabella of Brooklyn tonight in the ninth of a scheduled 10-round fight. Archibald weighed 123½ pounds, Mirabella, 128½.

President Roosevelt was responsible for the inclusion of the "11B" tax in the bill.

State Political Gossip

Michigan Politicians Have Eyes on Local Election, Legislators May Probe Nebraska's Unicameral System

(By Guy H. Jenkins) (Grand Rapids Press) Lansing — Michigan politicians are eagerly awaiting the result of the Grand Rapids election Monday. They are interested in the outcome because George W. Welsh is a candidate for mayor.

Welsh, long friendly with former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, jumped from the Republican party to support William A. Comstock for governor and in 1926, with the support of Isaiah Leebow, sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a primary contest with Gov. Murphy.

Political gossip insists that Welsh is in the Grand Rapids race with the support of Frank D. McKay, long a political power both in Republican and Democratic circles.

This is hard to believe for Welsh and McKay long have fought each other, not only in Grand Rapids, but in the state as well. McKay and Groesbeck do not see eye to eye and Groesbeck is backing Harry S. Toy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination just because he believes McKay will be in Frank D. Fitzgerald's corner from now until primary day.

Leebow, Welsh and Comstock are friendly. Welsh and Groesbeck are reported on the best of terms. It is just a little difficult to fit McKay into the picture but the story is going the rounds.

LEGISLATORS MAY GET TRIP TO NEBRASKA Many years ago Horace Greeley urged young America to "go west."

Michigan's legislative council committee, assigned the study of the unicameral legislature for possible adoption by the Wolverine state, may heed Greeley's famous suggestion. If the money can be found the committee will visit Lincoln, Neb., where the unicameral legislature has been operating for two years.

The unicameral system has been the pet of United States Senator George Norris. He fought the two-house system year in and year out until the people of Nebraska finally adopted his plan. Nebraska is the only state in the Union with the system.

Norris took the position that a bicameral legislature really created a third house where the most important measures of a legislative session were written by conference committees which meet in secret, have no roll calls or records of their proceedings. The committee reports cannot be amended. They either must be approved or rejected.

The Nebraska senator always contended the two-house system permitted the defeat of good legislation by passing the buck. It is an easy matter for members of a two-house legislature to shirk responsibility, he contended.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE'S COST PUT AT $400,000 He insisted in the campaign for the unicameral system that it would save money, be more efficient, would shorten the ballot, fix responsibility members could be paid better salaries, it would attract a better type of public servant, and it would be more difficult for special interests to ply their trade.

Michigan's legislature costs approximately $400,000 for a regular session. Hundreds of bills and resolutions are introduced all of which cost money. The demands for patronage are difficult to satisfy although the senate and house spend $275,000 for personal service.

Nebraska had two houses, a senate of 33 members and 100 representatives. It now has 42 members. Michigan has 100 house members and 32 senators.

As to the operation of the Michigan legislature many of Senator Norris' deductions are true. In the last few regular sessions much of the state's important legislation, particularly the appropriation bills, have been written by conference committees.

Few outside the committee members had any idea as to what the bills contained. But they always passed, for the timing of the sponsors was perfect. The bills were approved in the closing hours when some members were in a playful mood, while dozens of others cared little about what was taking place.

MAY BE MORE DIFFICULT FOR SPECIAL INTERESTS Also it has been found that silly measures were able to muster sufficient votes in one house when the backers knew in advance the other house would defeat them.

Whether a higher wage scale would attract better public servants is doubted. Michigan formerly paid $800 for the two-year term. It now pays $3 a day, more than twice as much as the old salary. Few see any improvement in the mental capacity of legislative members.

Many agree with Norris that it would be more difficult for special interests to ply their trade. The same might be said about the legislator who is in politics for revenue only.

Under the unicameral system the public might be able to better watch the legislator who sponsors "sand bag" bills for the sole purpose of collecting money to augment his state and personal income. In legislative parlance a "sand bag" bill is introduced for the one purpose of collecting money from an industry, profession or group that would be injured through its passage. A "slug" bill seldom if ever is introduced by the one seeking to collect from it. Usually the member who knows his way around has the bill prepared and then sees to it a first term becomes the sponsor. This procedure always detracts attention from the real culprit.

THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF LANSING LOBBYISTS Then, too, the legislative session gives the lobbyist a chance to ply his vocation. Generally speaking, a lobbyist represents a group, industry or profession. The real lobbyist makes his presence and the purpose of his work known in the session.

There is another kind of lobbyist. He is the fellow who, being without a job connives with a member of the legislature to introduce a "sand bag" bill. After the bill is introduced, the unemployed lobbyist immediately reveals himself to the profession, industry or what have you and announces that for a certain sum of money, plus a reasonable expense

Stabbed Mother

Torn by despair and remorse, 15-year-old Theodore Danielson, Jr., is pictured above after he confessed to Chicago police, and then to his father, that he killed his mother with a bread knife after she scolded him for skipping school for two weeks. After listening to the weeping boy's story, his father said he would forgive the lad, "because he's all I have left."

D'Annunzio's Place On Academy Filled

Rome, March 7 (AP)—The appointment of Luigi Federzoni as president of the Royal Academy of Italy to succeed the late Gabriele D'Annunzio was interpreted tonight as a political move toward reorganization of the chamber of deputies as a corporative chamber.

Literary circles said Federzoni had been a strong adherent to Fascism, but had made no recognized contribution to Italian literature, was not a member of the academy and did not enjoy universal artistic renown as did other academicians such as Pietro Mascagni, the composer.

Federzoni, a novelist and critic, was one of Premier Mussolini's earliest supporters and became minister of colonies in the first Mussolini government in 1922. He now is president of the senate and a member of the Fascist grand council.

Cars Without 1938 Licenses Impounded

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Cars of 197 motorists were impounded by police here today because they did not have 1938 license plates. Inspector Fred W. Juergens, director of traffic, said. Each of the motorists received a $2 traffic violation ticket.

REFUND REFUSED

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The U. S. court of claims today rejected requests for the tax refunds of $75,049 asked by the Detroit club of Detroit. It held that the club was promoting social relations.

LIQUOR MEET HERE SUNDAY

McFarland, Gormely and Other Officials to Make U.P. Tour

Licenses and all those interested in the liquor control problem are invited to attend the public meetings to be held by the Michigan liquor control commission in various parts of the Upper Peninsula next week.

The meetings are scheduled as follows: Escanaba city hall, 1:30 p. m. Sunday; Marquette, 8 p. m. Sunday; Houghton, 10 a. m. Monday; Ironwood, 8 p. m. Monday; and Iron Mountain, 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Edward W. McFarland, chairman of the Michigan liquor control commission, Commissioner V. F. Gormely and Wm. L. Johnson, Upper Peninsula branch manager, will address the meetings. There is also a possibility that Charles Thomas, new head of the department of merchandising and purchasing, will attend the meetings. Thomas is a professor of Wayne university, who has taken a leave of absence from his educational duties to work for the liquor commission.

All liquor control matters will be opened up for discussion at the meeting.

declaration that "I, myself, would fight for the preservation of democracy."

He said the "almost terrifying power that Britain is building up has had a sobering effect on the opinion of the world," and told commons that:

1. If the peace talks with Germany and Italy succeeded, disarmament talks would follow, but if they failed, Britain would step up her already staggering rearmament program;

2. Estimates on the five year rearmament program were too small and "substantial" increases in appropriations should be expected;

3. The League of Nations, at some future date, may become valuable, but "today it is mutilated, halt, lame x x and will require prolonged assistance";

4. Rearmament and defense preparations were proceeding satisfactorily, with the taxpayer receiving full value for his money.

Aside from what was interpreted as an implied warning to German Fuehrer Adolf Hitler to go slowly in Austria and Czechoslovakia, the prime minister avoided discussion of current diplomatic issues, including the Spanish civil war.

State Requested To Relieve Flood Hazards In State

A resolution, calling upon the state to take some action to relieve flood conditions, was adopted at the meeting held recently by the State Association of County Drain Commissioners in Bay City, it was reported yesterday by Leo J. Laviolette, Delta county drain commissioner.

The resolution reads as follows: "Whereas, Nature has provided for our people natural trunk line drains which are the rivers and streams that furnish avenues for the flood waters caused by melting snow and spring rains, and whereas, these natural waterways furnish an outlet for over seventy million dollars worth of farm drainage, to say nothing of the waste deposited by cities, and whereas, these rivers are gradually filling up due to the silt and other material that is deposited in them, both naturally and artificially, and whereas, the silt bars in the river allow logs and other debris to collect and retard the passing of the water causing the flooding of large areas of farm land, village and city homes.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the state Association of County Drain Commissioners in convention assembled, respectfully request that the Michigan Legislature submit to the people of the State by joint resolution an amendment to Section 14 of Article 10 of our State Constitution authorizing the State to assist in the improvement of at least 50 per cent of our rivers and streams for drainage purposes and benefit to the public health, convenience and welfare.

"Roscoe J. Black, President
"John Hudson, Secretary-Treasurer."

Escanaba Kite Club To Be Formed Today

Kite flying enthusiasts of the city will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the city recreation center to form an Escanaba Kite club. George LaFave, WPA recreation leader, will direct the organization. There will be opportunities for boys who wish to build their kites as well as to fly them.

Interest in kite flying is especially high among the boys and girls this year because of a kite tournament which will be held by the city department of recreation at a date to be announced later. Many members of the club, which will be formed this afternoon, are expected to build their own kites and fly them in the city tournament.

BOOSTER CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

"Intimate Enemies" Given by Methodist Church Group

Newberry, March 7—"Intimate Enemies," written by Tom Taggart, was presented by the Booster Club of the Methodist Episcopal church on Friday evening in the high school auditorium. It was a success from every point of view. A comedy in which the characters become involved through several problems, most of them the result of a small-town "big shot" who cannot stand anyone who competes with him in any way, several love affairs, a returned sister who was thought to be dead, and a wife who finally dared to speak her mind to her dominating husband, furnish the action.

Henry Smith played the tyrannical business man, Almsworth Alcott, who finally found his match in Christina Fontaine, the sister-in-law whose name he had not allowed to be mentioned in his home. This part was played by Mrs. John Barrett with the part of Adoree, her carefree daughter, taken by Josephine Kellough. Mrs. Alcott was played by Ruth Stephens and the daughter and son were taken by Mrs. Smith and Ed Lewin. Annie, the maid of all work, was played by Ruth Fretz, and Felix Thackeray, man of all work, was played by Oscar Swanson. The rich young man, Giles Ingraham, who was in love with Rhoda Alcott, was played by Charles Labrom, and Ruby Elliott played Alice Forbes, the poor relation of the Alcott family. The high lights were many and the audience which filled the large auditorium, was responsive.

Ruth Lavender directed the play. She was presented with a bouquet of flowers by the committee in charge of the play. James Stevens managed the stage. Esther Ojala was in charge of the ticket sale, music was furnished by Mrs. C. L. Astrom and Alice Nixon was in charge of the candy sale. Funds earned from the play will go into the organ fund.

HEALTH GROUPS TO MEET HERE

All Peninsula Workers Come to Newberry on April 1

Newberry, March 7—A general health meeting, to include all health workers in the peninsula, has been scheduled to take place in Newberry on April 1, according to the announcement of Dr. C. D. Hart, H. O., heading the Luce-Mackinac county health unit. The meeting held here last March proved so helpful that many officials and workers have suggested a second meeting. Dr. Donald Gudakunst, the newly appointed health commissioner, will be present and will be one of the principal speakers.

A program is being rapidly organized. During the morning it is planned to have the round-tables. Dr. Gudakunst will lead the health officers in a discussion of health problems of the peninsula. Miss Hood of the Michigan Children's Fund, will lead the nurses in the discussion of health education problems in the schools. Colonel Rich, assisted by George Bishop, secretary-manager of the U. P. Development Bureau, will lead the sanitarians in discussing the control of summer resorts. Lunch will be served. A visit to the Newberry State hospital is being considered.

In the afternoon session Dr. Gudakunst will deliver the main address and there will be other able speakers. A tea and reception honoring Dr. Gudakunst will follow at 4:30. It is hoped that all others interested in health matters in the peninsula will attend. Board and committee members are receiving special invitations. Dr. Hart reports that he and members of his staff will welcome suggestions towards the success of the meeting.

Standard officials stated that the move was made in recognition of a definite preference on the part of many consumers for a Pennsylvania oil.

Standard will recommend the Quaker State products as the highest quality Pennsylvania lubricants, most widely distributed and favored with the best public acceptance of any such products on the market.

Professor Davis Is Rotary Speaker At Meeting On Monday

Professor Joe Lee Davis, Ph. D., instructor in the English department of the University of Michigan was the speaker at the meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club at the Delta hotel Monday noon.

Speaking on the vast changes that have taken place in the economic philosophy of the average businessman of the United States in the last twenty years, Professor Davis showed that there has been almost a complete reversal in this line of thought.

He took the writings of Sinclair Lewis as an example of one man's change from a scoffer at the manifestations of democracy to an active defender. From "Main Street" to "Arrowsmith" and "It Can't Happen Here" is a far cry and a complete philosophical change that is typical of the average businessman now. He is now fighting for a social philosophy of democracy as opposed to nazism, fascism and communism, Davis told the group.

Reforestation in America

FOR two or three generations practically no attention was paid by Americans to the problem of furnishing forest timber for future years. Although much had been printed about reforestation work done, especially in Germany but also in other countries, Americans neglected the science and, indeed, were inclined to scoff at the idea.

Paralysis Theory

AN INTERESTING view on infantile paralysis is given in a lecture by Dr. John A. Toomey, associate professor of pediatrics in Western Reserve University. Acknowledging that his view is "a minority one," Dr. Toomey suggests that this is probably a gastro-intestinal disease, and that "dietary indiscretions" play an important part in getting it.

THE CIVIL SERVICE JOKER (Chicago Journal of Commerce) IT HAS been stated that during the last five fiscal years 163,433 new employees have been added to the federal payroll. During the same period, however, only 64,912 new classifications have been added to the civil service list. This figures out at about one new civil service job to every four new government officeholders.

Self-Reliant Austria THE about-face of Austria, with regard to her "anschluss" with Germany, is the most remarkable thing that has happened lately in Europe. It is a fine display of the old Austrian spirit. Hitler, no doubt, can extend his system to Austria, or swallow the little neighbor politically, if he chooses to use force; but so far Hitler has preferred to operate by peaceful and legal means, and he may hesitate to change that policy.

World Affairs Reviewed

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN Washington, D. C. — The American Peace Society, now rounding out its one hundred and tenth year, has not rushed into the Far East with a panacea to stop the carnage between China and Japan. But the Society's name does not imply that it is interested in peace for America only, for one of the primary purposes of the organization is to promote international peace through justice—to advance in every proper way the general use of conciliation, arbitration, and judicial methods.

Founded not in a year of war when immediate peace was needed, but in an area of peace—May, 1828—the Society has through days and years of tranquility and through periods of national and international strife carried on its program of advocating peace through justice. Believing that law is the expression of the good will, and in essence nothing else, that agreements are guaranteed by religion, public opinion, certain undefined laws of honor, and that the interest of the few should be subservient to the interests of the many, the organization has ever endeavored to foster a program of order among nations. Also believing that peace will finally prevail among the nations of the world, this has been, and is, the goal toward which the Society has through its long list of prominent and distinguished officials striven for one hundred and ten years.

Bringing together in Washington, D. C., in May, 1932, individuals and groups interested in International Justice, a conference was held under the Society's auspices looking toward stronger international laws and a wider application of their principles. Similar conferences had been held in New York, Chicago, Baltimore, and San Francisco between 1907 and 1915. In May, 1928, the Society celebrated its one hundredth anniversary by holding a world conference on international justice in Cleveland, Ohio, home of its then President, Senator Theodore E. Burton.

By the merger of many State and local peace societies—the oldest of which was New York, dating from May, 1815 — The American Peace Society was organized at the home of Law Dodge, upon the initiative of William Ladd, in New York City, May 8, 1828. Its founder being the first to advocate a "Congress and High Court of Nations," one of the Society's earliest attempts to influence public opinion and diffuse its principles was to offer cash prizes for the best essays on a high court through which nations could settle their differences. During the Mexican War a cash prize of $500, an attractive prize for that period, was the means of producing a vast amount of literature on the causes and cures of wars. The effort was widely judged as a distinctive contribution to American history.

PEOPLE INTERESTED— This program of interesting the public in peace through reading and research has been an unchanged principle of the Society, and many of the country's leading journalists and statesmen of every era have participated. Such names as Ralph Waldo Emerson, William Ellery Channing, William Jay, and Charles Sumner are found in the long and distinguished list of men and women who have interested themselves, at the organization's behest, in producing constructive literature on its program of peace through justice.

Among the well-known men have served the Society as president or vice president are found the names of Anson G. Phelps, Theodore E. Burton, Andrew Carnegie, Edward Everett Hale, Julia Ward Howe, Ellhu Root, John Greenleaf Whitfield, Thomas H. Gallaudet, founder of the first school for deaf mutes in the United States, and many others of note and distinction in business, politics, literature, and other activities. John C. Calhoun and Daniel Webster are also listed among the distinguished who have served the Society in various ways.

The official publication of The American Peace Society is World Affairs, formerly the Advocate of Peace through Justice, and portrays editorially and otherwise the organization's definite program of constructive action. Published in Washington, D. C., and edited by Dr. Arthur Deeryin Call, who has been editor and Secretary of The American Peace Society since 1916, World Affairs has rightly won a recognized place in the world's literature on the subject of peace.

The Pan-American Union, one of the factors in world peace, was authorized after The American Peace Society had presented numerous petitions to Congress. The Society has throughout its history worked to influence State legislatures and the Congress of the United States in behalf of international conferences and the judicial settlement of international disputes. Its program in the endeavor to influence has been marked with dignity and poise, and without the tactics of pressure. The Society has escaped the stigma of being called fanatic in its dealings and relations with legislative bodies. It works with members of Congress towards a well-conceived and organized effort in which each nation concerned would normally seek in its own interest to render assistance to others.

the administration. But wouldn't it be better for them to hold on and fight it out? For their successors might not even be concerned about the rubber stamp situation. The country has an abundance of material for such an easy job.

The world's so upset by a number of things, that sensible men wouldn't want to be kings.

A ray of light in the general gloom: ball teams are heading South.

New York—Dorothy Stone is aptly tagged as "one of the Stepping Stones." And now the drama items herald the fact that Dorothy and her husband, Charles Collins, are replacing June Clyde and Jack Whiting in "Hooray for What!" the musical success.

Look back in the record: When Ruby Keeler was in Flo Ziegfeld's "Show Girl" back in August of 1929, she suddenly collapsed one night in her dressing room. A hurry call was put through to Dorothy Stone in California and she offered to take the next plane East. Ruby hung on a few days until Dorothy learned her routines and stepped into the show.

When Claire Luce injured her leg while performing in "Gay Divorcees"—that was 1933—she phoned out for Dorothy who headed the clarion as soon as it sounded, for she stepped into the show on 24 hours' notice. And when Fatigue overtook the later Marilyn Miller during the run of "As Thousands Cheer," they summoned the ubiquitous Dorothy to replace her. And she did, according to the clips, a grand job on all these occasions.

Operatic Broaches Boy And over at the opera houses, a Met habitue confides, the man of the eleventh hour is Frederick Jagel, the Brooklyn-born tenor who went to bat for Martinielli the other afternoon. If you don't believe it, says this operative, here's Jagel's replacement record:

Back in February, 1932, Georges Thill fell ill just before the curtain was to have gone up on "Lakme" and they sent for Jagel, who was having a casual drink the part on ten minutes' notice. When Paul Althaus lost his voice in a performance of "Pagliacci" in 1935, they sent out for Jagel who was about to go on in "Cavalleria Rusticana" in the double bill. He sang the lead roles in both operas that night.

Again in 1935, Jagel answered the emergency call when Edward Johnson, who now runs the Met, took sick during "Hosca" and it was not the first time he had jumped in at the last moment for Johnson. Five years earlier, he filled the breach for the managing director of the "Sadko." And as recently as November last year, Jagel made a record plane dash between here and Chicago, to step into Martinielli's shoes in "Norma," after the tenor took sick. They held the curtain 30 minutes that time until Jagel could dash from the airport to the opera house, slip into costume and catch his breath. And as the Met's men will tell you, he proved a lifesaver when Martinielli went down.

Amateur Competition Pity the poor night club entertainer. First her job is threatened by the amateur troupes of Big Apple dancers and now an even more insidious attack from the social register. Such a menace was on the wane for a while but it has risen again. The number of bluebloods singing professionally in night clubs is growing so rapidly that one of the smaller spots felt itself out of place and advertised for a "debutante entertainer." They got dozens of applications.

The Capital Parade

BY ASLOP AND KINTNER

Washington, March 7—Five years ago last Friday, President Roosevelt arranged a rather odd companionate marriage between machine politics and the forces of the left—Labor, the intellectual Liberals, the hungry farmers and the rest. This singular union, usually called the New Deal, flourished wonderfully for a long time.

Of late, however, the partners in the New Deal household have developed a tendency to toss the furniture at one another. Labor and the other left-wing groups were once content merely to dictate the policies of the partnership. Now, labor and the liberals have reached out for control of the actual political machinery, for offices and jobs.

The owners of the political machinery, the local Democratic bosses who have fattened so richly in the last five years, are fighting back hard. The conflict is still in its first stages, but it is immensely important. It clearly foreshadows the kind of struggle for control of the Democratic party which is almost certain to strew the land with political corpses in the year or so before 1940.

The conflict has broken out for three very simple reasons. The glamor of the President's leadership has been tarnished by the new depression. His power to unite his excitable followers has been weakened by the fact that he is now in his second term. And the approach of the elections next November has stirred the political madness in every man's blood.

In Pennsylvania, John L. Lewis and his C.I.O. have hurled a huge monkey-wrench into the works of the political juggernaut constructed by Senator Joseph P. Guffey. The mighty Democratic machine in Pennsylvania, designed to use organized labor as its chief motive force, is now confronted with the gubernatorial candidacy of Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasury of the United Mine Workers.

In spite of the most prayerful pressure Mr. Lewis has insisted on running Mr. Kennedy for governor. And he has been so hard-hearted about it because he wants to build in Pennsylvania a political organization answerable only to labor, or the model of the American Labor Party in New York. Always foresighted, he began the job more than a year ago. In several key cities in the state, he already has Labor's Non-Partisan League clubs numerous and strong enough to serve as the skeleton of his proposed organization.

Mr. Lewis's ambition, about which he and C.I.O. advisers are perfectly frank in private, is more than likely to make a shambles of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. The rulers of the Democratic organization have answered Mr. Lewis's threat by rebelling against their former despot, Senator Guffey, whom they considered too cozy with Mr. Lewis, and nominating a strictly machine gubernatorial candidate of their own.

The conflict has followed almost the same pattern in the other great key state, New York. There, the American Labor Party came to power in the last city election. The left-wing advisers of the White House have proposed to use the strategic labor party votes to elect their own candidate, Robert H. Jackson, to the governorship.

And the owners of the big political machines in the state have gone after Mr. Jackson, tooth and claw. Ed Flynn, satrap of the Bronx, once one of the most cherished New Deal leaders, has joined the bosses Anti-Jackson battalion of death, and the unsavory O'Connells in Albany are out for blood. Once more the problem at the very heart of the conflict is the future control of the Democratic party.

Labor and the Liberals are by no means the only aggressors, either, out of Indiana, not so many days ago, came Paul V. McNutt and his political backers, rich with the dollars indirectly contributed to their war-chest by the Indiana taxpayers, roaring with a loud confidence in their own future. The new Indiana gang has been treated as a grandiose joke, but it should be recalled that Warren Gamaliel Harding and the Ohio gang once captured the governorment.

The truth is that the astute Frank McHale, political manager of the McNuttites, started some time ago shopping around for delegates to the 1940 convention. And the men whom he is visiting on his shopping trips are precisely the machine bosses who are battling with labor and the liberals.

Mr. McHale may well succeed when he visits Ed Flynn or the O'Connells, the new Pennsylvania leaders, the malodorous Kelly-Nash Junta in Chicago, the long ring in Louisiana, Boss Crump in Memphis, the aboriginal Tom Pondergast in Kansas City, or Fuehrer Frank Hague in New Jersey. Mr. McHale can say to the bosses:

"You'd better come in with us, or, the first thing you know, you'll get someone in 1940 who isn't our kind of guy or your kind of guy at all."

Of course, the really interesting puzzle presented by the new conflict is just where it will leave the New Deal. Unfortunately, it's a puzzle which only time can solve.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

ONLY AHEAD Looking ahead you'll lift your eyes, Yes, lift your gaze and look at skies, But always when you turn around And look behind, you look at ground. I don't know why it is, but hope is always looking up the slope. And that is where I want to gaze, Not down old valleys and yesterdays.

And so I try to look ahead, To find me some new trail to tread, Yes, find me some new way to win, Whatever yesterday has been. But little help or hope you find Who turn around and look behind, For what is done is done and through— Only ahead the chance to do.

out the hand before he touches a card. The first plan should be sufficiently elastic in all cases to permit a change if storm signals show up the distribution. It was heading just such a storm signal that permitted Charles D. Oreckovsky of Duluth, Minn., to be the lone declarer to make the universal contract of six spades reached by every South player in a recent duplicate game in that city. The hand was sent to me by his admiring partner, D. J. Donovan, director of the Duluth Bridge League.

The four and five no trump bids were the Culbertson conventional slam bids and responses. The first trick was won with the ace, and the queen of spades was led. When East failed to follow, the bad spade break was revealed.

The diamond king won the next trick, the club nine was led, and when West played the queen, he was permitted to hold the trick. West now shifted to the heart nine and declarer won the ace. He now ruffed a diamond, led dummy's last trump, and entered his own hand by ruffing a heart.

Two rounds of trumps picked up West's, but for good measure another was led, and West was squeezed. He dropped the diamond jack, and South now cashed the six spot of diamonds and won the last trick with the ace of clubs in dummy. South had retained a club finesse if needed. The straight cross ruff on the hand would fail, as West with only two hearts would secure one trump and his club trick.

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South is playing the contract at four spades. The first diamond finesse lost to West's king. West returns another heart, which of course the declarer can trump, but should he? Finding the way to make this contract will be interesting.

Today's Recipe

Mrs. Pearl Christensen of 512 Delta avenue, Manistiquette, has very kindly sent in her recipe for jelly roll in answer to Sunday morning's request.

Jelly Roll
Beat seven egg yolks with five tablespoons warm water, add one cup sugar and beat until creamy. One cup flour, pinch of salt. One teaspoon baking powder, sifted three times. One teaspoon vanilla.

Beat seven whites of eggs stiff and add to mixture. Bake in large pan. When done turn upside down and cover with jelly. Roll in towel and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Another fine recipe for jelly roll, received Monday morning from a Press reader, is as follows:

Jelly Roll
3 eggs, beaten very stiff
1 cup sugar, add gradually
1 cup flour, sifted with one teaspoon baking powder, (add very gradually), four tablespoons of hot water.

Bake in a hot oven, not slowly, in a cookie pan, about three-fourths of an inch deep. Remove from pan when done and put on a damp towel or wax paper, having the top of cake facing downward, so when you put the jelly or jam on same the top of the cake will be on the outside. Roll cake and apply powdered sugar.

AT THE DELFT

A whole new world of joy-laden wonder comes winging from the snow-silvered Norseland with America's newest and sweetest sweetheart, Sonja Henie—radiant beyond imagining, in "Happy Landing," the Twentieth Century-Fox production which opened at the Delft theatre Sunday.

This lithe, ecstatically graceful Norse nymph, who came to American motion picture fans only two pictures ago and astonished the entire world with her skill as a skater and an actress, is radiantly reunited with her "One in a Million" sweetheart, Don Ameche, in her third hit, "Happy Landing."

AT THE MICHIGAN

Seldom if ever has a Michigan theatre audience witnessed a more sparklingly and hilariously funny comedy than "It's Love I'm After" which had its first local showing here Sunday.

Bette Davis and Leslie Howard are well remembered as a team for their outstanding work in "Of Human Bondage" and "The Petrified Forest," but fine as were both of these, this newest vehicle, even though it is strictly comedy, brings them to the screen in what this reviewer considers to be their finest picture. "It's Love I'm After" is absolutely and definitely tops among the comedies of this or any other season.

WE, the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Romanticists are having their inning. All in the course of little more than a year royal lords after another have fallen for his Cinderella.

The ruler of an empire told the world a throne was nothing compared with the simple happiness of marriage with the woman he loved.

A boy king made a commoner his bride. And the marriage was celebrated by the people of his kingdom in a manner that would have done Cleopatra proud.

The king of Albania gets himself engaged to the daughter of a New York woman.

And now to top it all—the actress who came out of a barber shop in Sweden to make glamor a household word in America is followed to Capri by a man suitable, even in the eyes of her greatest admirers, to match his stride to hers.

If this keeps up we can read the children the evening paper instead of trusting Cinderella to inspire them with the unconquerable strength of love—and the unimportance of railroad tracks as a dividing line.

And eager girls and tired housewives can stop hazing their heads in pulp magazines to get a little romance into their lives. Life is becoming more romantic stories than fiction. The exciting, romantic stories are being lived today—not written.

Any modern girl who wants to believe that a Prince Charming will someday come along—can believe, no matter where she lives, or how poor she happens to be. She needn't even have great beauty to have hope.

Even if we aren't anxious for either consolation, we'll get romance—if we read the papers. And we'll get it in frequent and astonishing doses.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pratt, 632 North 19th street, are the parents of a daughter, born Monday, March 7, at St. Francis hospital. Mother and baby, the first in the family, are both getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jahnke, of Gladstone, are the parents of a daughter, born Monday, March 7, at St. Francis hospital.

Daughter Born To Robert Deos

Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Deo, 413 South Seventh street, announce the birth of a daughter, on Sunday, March 6, at St. Francis hospital. The baby, the first in the family, will be named Jane Elizabeth. Mrs. Deo is the former Marjorie Nee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Nee.

B.&P.W. Club Members Visit Mormon Creek

Members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club were guests of the 68th Company Civilian Conservation Corps, at Mormon Creek camp on Sunday.

Arriving at the camp at noon, they were taken to headquarters and entertained until dinner was served in the dining room adjoining the mess hall, where they were greeted by Capt. R. F. Bois, company commander.

Following dinner, Charles L. Grodesky, construction foreman, took the club members on a tour of inspection of the buildings, including the kitchens, supplies building, recreation hall, library and barracks. He explained the routine of camp life and described the work of the hazard reduction crew, and others. The visit to the recreation hall and library illustrated how the leisure time of the enrollees is spent. In the former, ping-pong, pool and other games were in progress. The canteen is located in that building. In the library the boys were devoting their time to reading and study. Certain grade school and high school courses are offered to those interested, and they are eager to take advantage of the opportunity to continue their education. It was also explained that the CCC boys are under the control of "the army," which is responsible for their feeding, clothing and welfare, from the time they return to camp at four o'clock in the afternoon until eight o'clock the next morning.

Work Described

Returning to headquarters, Mr. Grodesky introduced Elmer Mattson, United States forest ranger, and A. J. Sabourin, camp educational adviser. Mr. Mattson described the functions of the forest service and the conservation department, showing how their work differs and in what respects it is much the same. "The conservation department is a state agency and is responsible for the protection and management of fish and game on all lands in the state, whether private or public, also fire protection and timber management on state lands," he said. He briefly reviewed the development of national forests from 1891 when congress authorized the setting aside of a part of the public domain for a "forest reserve," now known as a national forest. "The timber," he stated, "is not put in reserve, but it managed and allowed to be sold."

The first national forest was Yellowstone Park Forest Reserve, as it was then called.

Mr. Sabourin in his talk told of the alarming situation several years ago when young men and boys were walking the streets unable to obtain employment. For the purpose of conserving the youth of the country the CCC was created. He stated that the departments of war, labor, agriculture and the interior work together in the maintenance and operation of the CCC, which provides educational and vocational, leisure time, professional and job training for enrollees. In the capacity of camp educational adviser Mr. Sabourin is called upon to supervise and counsel in matters of education and morale, in addition to developing a well-balanced educational program.

FORD COKE CLEANLINESS IS ONE LUXURY I'LL NEVER BE WITHOUT!

Ford Coke contains less than 1/25 the smoke-and-soot-making elements of un-coked coal!

Sure it's a luxury. Yet Ford Coke is also inexpensive. It's the most economical clean fuel.

Ford Coke is clean to burn, clean to handle. It is screened and rescreened before you get it.

Ford Coke is quick-burning and even-burning. It gives lots of heat, requires few tendings. Light in weight. Easy to handle. Few ashes to dispose of.

You'll like the dependability—the uniformity—of Ford Coke. Manufactured by the Ford Motor Company, it is scientifically made to produce the same high-quality coke, month in and month out.

There's a special size of Ford Coke to suit your needs. No change is necessary in your furnace. Let our representative make his recommendations for your pleasanter, happier, cleaner Ford Coke heat.

L'Affaire Morgan

Unless the people of the United States immediately ask their Senators and Representatives in Washington for a full congressional investigation by a committee of both houses, there is grave danger that a distinguished public servant, a man of unselfish service, unchallenged personal integrity and complete incorruptibility will be railroaded out of office, "purged" and "liquidated" in a manner no less shameful, though somewhat more insidious, than that which we have become accustomed to condemn in countries which do not call themselves orderly, democratic republics.

Mr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, is slated to be eliminated from the T. V. A. board. He is slated to be eliminated because he has raised some extremely embarrassing questions, covering fundamental policy, bookkeeping, political influences, possible connivance at corruption, and, in the larger sense, the whole issue of responsible administration.

The issues that he has raised are absolutely fundamental to the American democracy. They involve, in the largest sense, the question of whether the "New Instruments of Power," which this Administration has created for social purposes, shall be administered for clearly defined objectives, or whether they shall be used as political instruments for the aggrandizement of further undefined powers; whether they shall be administered for the purposes for which the representatives of the people designed them, or for the punitive purposes of fanatical partisans; whether they shall be used to advance a social order based upon principles of fair play, equal justice and scrupulous public accounting, or whether they shall be used to help accomplish a social revolution, according to the unclear pattern of a few internal schemers.

It is perfectly ridiculous to try to present this dispute between Mr. Arthur Morgan and his associates as a board quarrel, and an issue between majority and minority rule. Mr. Arthur Morgan has raised specific issues and made grave accusations. They involve the possibility of serious laxity on the part of his associates, in his absence and against his protest, regarding an attempt to defraud the people of the United States. These charges involve a United States Senator and conspicuous "reformer," labor leader and friend of the people, Major Berry.

One would think, first, that Senator Berry would demand a Congressional investigation, if he wishes to have his name cleared before the public. One would think that both Mr. Harcourt Morgan and Mr. David Lilienthal would insist on an investigation, for the same reason.

Quite the contrary. They want Mr. Arthur Morgan to resign. They suggest that they be left in charge of the T. V. A., and Mr. Arthur Morgan take his case to the public platform, if he wants to.

And they answer specific charges with an essay on majority rule! According to that theory, if a majority of any administrative body connive at abuse of a public instrument the axes must have it and the motion is carried. It is a fantastic perversion of democratic government!

The issue is of the most critical importance for liberals for it raises the whole question of whether the end shall determine the means. The very essence of liberalism is Arthur Morgan's standpoint, namely that "scrupulous method is a condition of all genuine reform."

If the T. V. A. has been engaged in practices which, used by a private organization, would be roundly condemned by government, what will become of confidence that any extensions of government control will better our social condition?

L'Affaire Morgan, like L'Affaire Dreyfus, is something for the reformers to take up, not the reactionaries.

The more so, because of the person involved. For it is quite impossible to "smear" Arthur Morgan, or to turn the issue either into a question of majority versus minority rule, or of practical realism versus impractical idealism, or of progress versus reaction, all of which Mr. Morgan's associates and their backers are trying to do.

The fact is that Mr. Arthur Morgan is by all odds the best equipped and most practical member of the Commission. He has done more than any member of the Commission and as such as any man in the United States in carrying out great engineering schemes for interstate flood-control—in the course of which he has developed appropriate instruments of co-operation between the states and the Federal government.

That the President called him to the task of Director of the T. V. A. showed the President's intelligence and imagination.

Arthur Morgan is a great and imaginative engineer, a great and imaginative educator—responsible for the Antioch College project, which is a synthesis of

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACY

CAST OF CHARACTERS: POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war breaks out.

JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.

CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: With deep concern, Polly awaits the return of Jerry, meanwhile bearing the brunt of unkind village gossip.

CHAPTER XXIX

Spring night in Connecticut, and the scent of lilacs through the window. Polly's baby sleeping in his cradle. Polly in her bed. Near the door lies the mongrel dog on guard, his whiskered nose on his outstretched paws, his ears-twitching—the little dog that has come so far and knows his destiny.

Spring night on the Atlantic off the coast of England, the same moment in the span of time, yet later as hours are counted. Two vessels riding close, one newly captured.

"About the prisoners," Jerry Whitfield was saying to Cabell Banks. "I'd like to get rid of them."

"Yes. It's bad business keeping prisoners. You've got to feed and exercise them. In the end they're apt to take your ship away from you. My advice is set them ashore tomorrow on the first island you can safely touch."

"There never was sounder advice," Jerry replied. "And we'd both better head south at once. Come daylight, Old Mother Frigate will count her chickens—"

"We'll sail together, of course. I'll have my French pilot pick your island. Good night—"

Cabell went over the side alone and rowed himself back to the Gray Gull. Presently the two ships were cleaving the night like a pair of friendly birds flying south.

The old French pilot knew of an island that would do. A ship he sailed had once put in there for a new mast the year he got his second wound fighting for Napoleon.

"It's inhabited," he told Cabell in his provincial French, "but none too comfortable." The old man laughed hard at the thought of "the English dogs" having to stop there. (It was always "English dogs" when his wounds hurt him.) "They will have to live on carrots and goats' milk, the fine rascals! No roast beef for a while!"

The island proved to be just where the old Frenchman said it would be, and they reached it next day before sunset. The Gray Gull stood by while Jerry took the May Queen as close to shore as he dared.

There must come now the difficult work of unloading prisoners. Most of the British sailors in the fore-cabin would be armed. Jerry recalled; only those in the deck fight had lost their weapons. A slip now, one careless or incautious move on his part, and the ship would be taken from him. In this event he and his men would hardly be set ashore on this island. They would be taken in irons to Dartmoor prison or to the vile hulk ships reserved for American privateers who overreached themselves.

At this moment, with elation behind him and grim necessity ahead, Jerry could think of Polly clearly. Not as a dim sweet dream in the darkness, but as a flesh and blood wife in a pine-paneled kitchen, sewing a seam before an open fire. In her strength and courage, in her promise of fruition and home to vocational equipment and cultural training—and he has a career behind him of practical and idealistic achievement which dissipates all the malice and innuendo which will presently be heaped upon him.

That he also happens to be a moralist, would, one should think, be in the minds of liberals, an additional and tremendous asset. But, on the contrary, those once liberal organs, "The Nation" and "The New Republic," have criticized him on this very ground—by the implication that simple morality is incompatible with the hard-boiled realism that a fight with private utilities demands!

At this moment Mr. Arthur Morgan is asking for just one thing: the fullest and most open public enquiry by the elected representatives of the American people. On the basis of that enquiry he is willing to rest his case. His associates, however, want no such enquiry. They wish the investigation to be put into the hands of the Federal Trade Commission. That is to say, they want a commission, appointed by, and responsible to the President, to be judged by another commission appointed by, and responsible to, the President.

Why?

With the Federal Trade Commission, the President's influence has been conspicuously powerful, and in this dispute the President has already, unfortunately, made himself parti pris. The President has had the acts of the T. V. A. majority repeatedly called to his attention, without any corrective action on his part, and it is well known, or at least universally believed, that his mind has already been made up for the majority, in advance of any investigation.

A Federal Trade Commission enquiry would therefore be suspect, in advance. Now is one Federal agency fully competent to investigate another. The Federal Trade Commission is limited by statute on what it may ask witnesses. It cannot delve into everything, but is restricted by strict rules of evidence. A joint a wandering man's heart. Polly was America, and America was Polly. For such a woman and such a country, men cultivated level heads and humble hearts.

It was the quarter-deck cabin that Jerry unlocked first. In person he conducted the four sullen officers up the ladder and across decks to the rope ladder that took them to the waiting shore boat. He remembered to be conventional, knowing that the English expected every American privateer skipper to be a boor.

From the fore-cabin a few men were called at a time and were active. The prisoners had naturally covered during the night and day to overthrow their captors. Jerry warily stationed them in the boats with oars in their hands, each matched by an American oarsman, with another pair of his men to guard the boat. And so the transfer was made from ship to island without loss of life.

This accomplished, the May Queen and the Gray Gull put to sea again and sailed west. That way lay home.

Though there was threat of storms, good weather held, and this was fortunate. Both ships were lightly manned, and on board the May Queen bruised bodies and blackened eyes were prevalent. Jerry and his original 12 men could attest to the prowess of British fists, even when swung by sleepy drunks. Jerry's left cheek was crazily split where the surprised helmsman's knuckles had placed their one protesting blow. His moccasined feet were painfully sore from the scuffing British boots that had trodden over them.

Yet the wonder of this beautiful brig made his aches and bruises seem as nothing to Jerry Whitfield. He ran over the ship like a gratified boy who cannot believe his luck. He was mute and awestruck as he studied her broad decks and beautiful cabin, her stout canvas and strong spars and realized that they were his to command. For by the laws of war, she was his! There was only Cabell Banks to dispute his ownership, and Cabell had spoken. Cabell had stood in the presence of both crews just before they left the island and said:

"Captain Whitfield boarded the May Queen against my advice and without my assistance. She is his. I have nothing to do with her except to share the cargo according to agreement."

Because of the cargo the two captains were proceeding together now to an American port. They wished a court of admiralty to pass on their prize in order that all might be legal.

And so for the second time they put in at Wilmington for matters of business. They learned now that privateer skippers needed sharp wits, for the cargo they had on their hands was rich and extensive. Dealers were in port from cities as far away as New Orleans and New York. The two young seamen were no match for these crafty gentlemen, and so their goods went for less than it was worth.

Yet satisfaction prevailed. Cabell was able to pay his debts and restock the Gray Gull for a lone cruise, besides laying by a tidy sum in the bank against another barren season. Jerry was able to buy provisions without stint for the big May Queen and to engage a larger crew. The sailors received their prize money hilariously and swore allegiance.

On the night of departure from Wilmington, Cabell and Jerry sat in the Gray Gull's cabin and enjoyed a last talk. They were going their separate ways. Cabell across the Atlantic again, Jerry to Connecticut to see Polly.

"It's a thing I can hardly believe," Jerry said. "Me going to Polly at last. Going in my own ship."

"The fortunes of war, my boy. Down yesterday. On top of the world today. And don't forget tomorrow's an uncharted country."

By the way, My banker gave me some papers I left with him on our last stop here. I've got a confession to make. That letter you wrote Polly and gave me to post. . . . Well, it was with the papers. I found it when I opened the packet. There's nothing I can say except I'm sorry. I was almost crazy at the time, you'll recall, over debts. Its a poor excuse, but all I have. I've just posted the letter to Polly with an apology from C. Banks. . . .

"Forgiveness," Jerry said. "I reckon there's nothing we couldn't forgive one another after what we've been through. Polly's sensible. She'll take it all right."

And so in their large masculine way they disposed of the matter of a mere letter, sloop hands, swore eternal friendship, and parted. Later, they saluted as their two ships left the harbor. One ship stood toward the east. The other headed north, following the coast line—the May Queen bound for Connecticut.

Some British warships stood off Norfolk, and these drove her out to sea. Two of them followed her, and because they kept together like a pair of gadflies, Jerry dared not fight them but fled before them, hoping to lose them and so turn home again. This monstrous game kept up for a fortnight. And then one day the May Queen's lookouts reported that the gadflies had parted company and only one remained.

Jerry went to meet this ship in combat. And so they tested the May Queen's long guns. There was bloodshed, and five of Jerry's men were buried at sea, but there was victory too.

Miss Marie Wicklund of Winnetka, Ill., is spending several weeks with relatives here. Miss Wicklund fractured a bone in her foot while roller skating. She will remain here until she is able to walk without crutches. Mrs. Joseph Tomkiel, who is spending the winter in Newberry, is in town for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nettleton, Mrs. Albert Gross and Jean Nettleton motored to Munising Wednesday where Jean received medical attention. Jean fractured her collar bone when she slipped

If Crows Come, Can Spring Be Far Behind?

Pago the butterflies and crocuses! Crows, one of the annual harbingers of spring along with butterflies and crocuses, made their appearance in the city yesterday. Mrs. Cora Gallagher, Old State Road, was the first to report the arrival of the dusky hawkers of the end of winter. Mrs. Gallagher reported seeing two crows near her home Sunday afternoon. As soon as reports of the first butterflies and crocuses come in, spring will have arrived officially. Of course, there is the little matter of several feet of snow on the ground—but with crows and butterflies in the air, no one looks at the ground.

Philatelic Society Elects Officers At Annual Meet Sunday

At its annual meeting and banquet at the Sherman hotel on Sunday evening the Escanaba Philatelic society elected Earl J. Brown to the office of president and Herbert F. Kirstin to serve as secretary and treasurer for the coming year. Brown succeeds Elroy Andrews and Kirstin takes over the duties discharged by Edward Lucas in the past. Steps were also taken to encourage a greater participation and activity on the part of junior collectors, and the meeting day of the organization was changed from the first Friday evening of each month to Sunday afternoon. The change in the meeting day was made to avoid numerous conflicts with other organizations and activities. Following the banquet a program of games was carried out.

Travel Pictures Shown At Escanaba Lions Club Meeting

Escanaba Lions club members were entertained last night by the showing of an intensely interesting series of travel motion pictures presented by Major Fritz Nelson of the Salvation army. The pictures were taken by Major Nelson on a trip to Norway, and depicted scenery and customs in the land of the fjords and the midnight sun. Some of the pictures were taken at midnight, revealing the remarkable light conditions in the season when the sun never sets. Major Nelson included descriptive comments while running off the pictures. Hazen Hengesh, secretary of the Lions club, announced that the Escanaba club was expected to make an almost hundred per cent attendance at the joint meeting to be held in Menominee next Monday evening as a reception for International Lions president, Frank V. Burch of Milwaukee.

Boys Making Good In Gloves Matches Known In Escanaba

Fight fans at Escanaba have been following with interest the accounts of recent Golden Gloves bouts, due to the fact that several of the boxers appeared on Escanaba fight cards promoted by Art Sundling. The list includes Earl Noel, who lost an unpopular decision to Frankie Kinrath; Eddie Strand, who sport writers say was robbed of a decision; and Frank Duket, who reached the semi-finals. Omar Crocker of Iron Mountain, well known here, is going good in intercollegiate competition, recently knocking out the captain of the Syracuse team, Jimmy Burke, who kayoed Beauchamp at the U. P. state fair is also a comer.

Pratt's Will Open Tea Room And Bar, Ford River Tonight

The formal opening of Pratt's, formerly Peterson's Tea Room at Ford River Mills, will be held this evening, it was announced by Ralph Pratt and his son, William, the proprietors. The tea room has been completely redecorated. New plumbing, bar and other equipment has been installed. Staff Ledu's orchestra will furnish the music for the dinner this evening. Dancing will follow the dinner.

on an Icy Sidewalk Tuesday, John Mattson Has Returned from Sandusky

C. B. Beaulin was a Newberry caller in town Wednesday. Arthur Barney is visiting relatives in Germfask. Douglas and Richard Mulligan and Wm. LaCombe spent Wednesday in Munising. Sayre Ostrander attended the recreational meetings held in Escanaba this week. Mrs. Ostrander accompanied him to Escanaba. Alex Niemi Sr. and son, Walter, motored to Munising Tuesday. Mrs. Kate Clark of Eckerman visited relatives here recently. Al Cody and Ed Swan were Munising callers at the Alger County garage Wednesday. Meadames Nelson, Smith, Boonenberg, Ruggies, Roamer, Warshell, Olsen, Pelkie and Sandler, of Seney, attended the senior play here Wednesday night.

SHE RISKS HER LIFE FOR THE Movies

IONE REED, Hollywood's Daring Movie Stunt Girl, after a hazardous feat, asked for a Camel. And that led to the question: "I've noticed that you're a steady Camel smoker, Miss Reed. Do you have definite reasons for preferring them to other cigarettes?"

HERE'S MISS REED'S ANSWER: "Yes, indeed, I certainly have. Camels are distinctly different in so many ways. Going through my stunts over and over is a severe test of healthy nerves. I smoke Camels all through the day, and my nerves don't feel the least bit frayed. Being so mild, they are gentle to my throat too. After a meal, I enjoy Camels—for digestion's sake. You see—in so many ways, Camels agree with me."

DARING? Yes! Foolhardy? No! Ione Reed knows what she's doing. And she is careful in her choice of a cigarette, because, as she says: "It means a lot to me to know that my cigarette agrees with me!"

Millions of other people find that Camels give them what they want in smoking!

It's Camels for star stunt girl—Ione Reed! It's Camels for the famous diving expert—Commander Ellsberg! And for golf champion Ralph Guldahl; speed flier Roscoe Turner; and men and women in all walks of life. If you are not now enjoying Camels, perhaps you, too, will find that it means a lot to smoke Camels—the cigarette that is made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS, Turkish and Domestic.

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

PEOPLE DO APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS

THEY ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA

DOUBLE-FEATURE CAMEL CARAVAN
Two great shows—"Jack Oakie College" and Benny Goodman's "Swing School"—in one fast, fun-filled hour. Every Tuesday at 9:30 pm E.S.T., 8:30 pm C.S.T., 7:30 pm M.S.T., 6:30 pm P.S.T., over Columbia Network.

ONE SMOKER TELLS ANOTHER "CAMELS AGREE WITH ME"

"What cigarette do the tobacco growers smoke themselves?"

"Camels—by a large majority," say planters who know the kinds of tobacco bought by each popular cigarette

T. N. Williams, well-known grower, of Winchester, Kentucky, says: "A planter knows tobacco. My last crop was the best I ever had and the Camel people bought my best leaf tobacco. There isn't any question where the more expensive tobaccos go. They're in Camel cigarettes."

Top prices, that's what J. B. Jackson, successful planter, got from the Camel buyer last year. "Camel buyers don't buy just any tobacco—they pay more to get the best. That means finer tobaccos are used for Camels. I say quality has got to be grown in tobacco. That's why I smoke Camels."

"I'm a planter," says Vertner Hutton, who has grown tobacco for 25 years. "Camel bought the best grades of my last crop. Paid a high price for my finest grades. I smoke Camels—because I know there isn't any substitute for more expensive tobaccos."

NATIONAL USED CAR EXCHANGE WEEK IS UNDER WAY

The Automobile Industry Marches On

YOUR GREAT CHANCE TO OWN A BETTER CAR

When you turn to the classified page of this paper today, you will see that a remarkable thing has happened. Suddenly you find yourself faced with one of the greatest opportunities you've ever had to drive a better automobile. Automobile dealers here and in every section of the country are co-operating in one big National Used Car Exchange Week. Never in the entire history of the automobile industry has there been an event like this. From every angle, this week spells OPPORTUNITY in capital letters for used car buyers. Automobile dealers have an unusually wide selection and there are many exceptional values. Prices are way below those of a few months ago. This is the right season to buy because the good driving days of spring are just around the corner. Many of the cars offered in this one-week bargain sale are 1937, 1936 and 1935 models. For very little money you can have a better used car with important new features introduced in the last few years. Eleven million cars in this country, built before 1931, are still registered for service. Many lack steel bodies, safe brakes, large tires, many other modern safeguards. If you are driving one, this is your chance to switch to a safer, better car. And think what these fine modern cars offer in pride of ownership and all-round satisfaction. Beautiful modern styling; more room; more comfort; more luggage space; quieter, more powerful engine; better operating economy; quiet gears; ventilation; dozens of conveniences. You may not even need cash to make the switch to a better car. Your present car may cover the down-payment. National Used Car Exchange Week ends Saturday night, March 12. Study the classified pages of this newspaper for the choicest bargains.

VISITING ELKS TAKE HONORS

Escanaba and Ishpeming Teams Roll in U. P. Tournament

Teams from Escanaba and Ishpeming rolled into several second and third places in the Upper Peninsula Elks bowling tournament at Manistique Saturday and Sunday. They failed to dislodge any of the leaders out of their positions although they had several splendid chances. John Andrews of Escanaba, bowling in the singles, needed a double in the last frame to go into first place but he took 9 pins and thus is in third place with 631. He took first honors for high single game with 264. Ed Moersch and Carl Sawyer, also of Escanaba, rolled 1294 to take second place in the doubles while Earl Raiche and Walter Van De Weghe of Gladstone took third place with 1155. The Escanaba team rolled into third place with 2680 but dropped to fourth before the evening was over when the Ishpeming team rolled 2691. Teams from the Soo lodge and several more Manistique teams will bowl next week-end while the following week-end has been designated "Copper Country week-end" and teams from Hancock and Calumet will bowl.

To date Iron Mountain leads the 5-man event with 2920, Manistique No. 1 is second with 2765, Ishpeming No. 1 is third with 2691, Escanaba fourth with 2680, Manistique No. 2 fifth with 2671. Kelly and Cool of Manistique top the doubles with 1265. Moersch and Sawyer of Escanaba second with 1204, Van De Weghe and Raiche of Gladstone third with 1155, Michela and Tomason of Iron Mountain fourth with 1141, Crispagna and Moroni, Iron Mountain, fifth with 1083.

Kelly of Manistique and Moroni of Iron Mountain are tied for first place in the singles with 640 while Andrews of Escanaba has third place with 631. Cool of Manistique fourth with 615, Meiers of Escanaba fifth with 607.

In the all-events, Kelly of Manistique still leads with 1892. Cool of Manistique is second with 1785, Moroni of Iron Mountain third with 1753, Van De Weghe of Escanaba fourth with 1750, Tomason of Iron Mountain fifth with 1738.

High single game honors go to Andrews of Escanaba with a sparkling 264. Bush of Manistique is second with 248, Fiegel of Manistique third with 247, Kelly of Manistique fourth with 243, Pellow of Marquette fifth with 235.

Kelly of Manistique has high three game series with 649, Crispagna, Iron Mountain second with 642, Kelly and Moroni of Iron Mountain tied at 640, Andrews of Escanaba fifth with 631.

Manistique Banks and Dealers Cooperating in Used Car Bargain Week

Manistique banks and car dealers are cooperating in National Used Car Exchange Week, which opened last Saturday and will continue for the remainder of this week. Special offerings of used cars, many of them of the latest models, are being offered at bargain prices, by local garages, cooperating in the greatest national campaign of its kind ever attempted.

CITY BRIEFS

Jerome Doyle arrived Sunday evening from Battle Creek for a week's visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Doyle, Lake street.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Rushford spent Sunday visiting with relatives in Limestone. They were accompanied home by their daughter Dorothy who visited there this past week.

Gilbert Bates and Miss Gladys Millington of Crystal Falls were week-end guests of Mr. Bates' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arrowood.

Thomas Anderson Jr., arrived from Chelsea where he attends school for a week's visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, 341 Lake street.

Mrs. Olga Miller of Escanaba spent the week-end visiting with friends here.

Mrs. Clarence Duvall of Chicago is visiting here at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abramson, South Second street.

Mrs. Lloyd Garrett of Escanaba is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Jay Siddall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weber and Mrs. George Dupont spent Sunday in Wells.

Mrs. Henry Jahn and Mrs. Nels Bouschor attended the funeral services for James Redmond in Wells yesterday. Mr. Redmond was a brother of Mrs. Anton Weber of this city.

BROWNS RECALL MORE WORKERS

Additional Orders Permit Operation of Second Shift

Operation of two shifts was started yesterday at the Brown Dimension company plant here, making a total of approximately 110 men now employed at the factory.

After a brief shutdown, caused by lack of orders, the Brown Dimension company resumed operation last Wednesday morning, with one shift, employing about 60 men. The receipt of several additional orders, requesting immediate fulfillment, permitted the recall of workers on the second shift. The second group began work yesterday afternoon, on the 3:30 p. m. to midnight shift.

Continued operation on two shifts will depend entirely upon the receipt of additional orders. Sufficient orders are now on hand to operate the plant with the present crew for several weeks, it is believed.

It was announced yesterday that Dale Jenkins, formerly of Fredericktown, Ohio, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Brown Dimension company, to succeed Earl Bishop, who resigned recently to accept a similar position in Alabama.

Mr. Jenkins, who started work here yesterday, formerly was employed with the Sun Glow Industries, of Fredericktown.

K-C Lodges Divide Inter-City Honors
Manistique and Escanaba Knights of Columbus bowling teams split two matches at the Braut alleys Sunday afternoon. One Manistique K-C team defeated an Escanaba K-C team in the first match, 2434 to 2216. Farley with 206 and Corson with 204 had high scores.

In the following match between two different teams from the Escanaba lodge and the Manistique lodge, the Escanaba team won, 2386 to 2138. A. Lawrence had high scores, 214 and 202.

Mrs. Andrew Houghton underwent a major operation at St. Francis hospital in Escanaba Saturday. Miss Irma Houghton, who has been staying in Engadine, was called home due to the illness of her mother.

Chorus Of "Ahs" Greet New Street Lighting System
Expressions of extreme satisfaction were advanced by Manistique residents who reviewed the city's new "white way" street lighting system over the week-end. The new boulevard lights were turned on for the first time Saturday night.

Extending over the business route from fifth street on the west side to Maple avenue on the east side, the boulevard lighting standards provide a tone of modernism which the old arch type or "cirrus lights" sorely lacked. The arch type lights are being removed now.

The new lighting equipment provides excellent illumination over the route. The standards are staggered on opposite sides of the streets, resulting in a better distribution of light than if the same number of light standards were set up opposite each other over the same distance. This plan eliminates dark spots prevalent in the operation of the old system.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Malmberg, Miss Mary Popish and Miss Gladys Noe spent Sunday visiting with friends in Iron Mountain.

WHY THIS IS A GOOD TIME TO BUY A USED CAR

If you are in the market for a used car, the current car offerings provide more genuine opportunities to save money than you are likely to see again for some time, perhaps for years.

Because of today's economic conditions, most dealers are offering excellent used cars at rock-bottom prices. Most of these cars are late models, ready to deliver thousands of miles of dependable, economical service. They are good investments.

Buying opportunities like this come occasionally when the supply is large and the demand light. This is such a time. But since all signs indicate that the present business recession may soon end, it is a certainty that used car prices will rise as the demand, stimulated by greater business activity, also rises.

We of the State Savings Bank have no direct interest in used cars as a commodity. However, we are interested in the thrifty use of money. In the case of the immediate used car market, we believe that you can find many extraordinary values. Such purchases, wisely made, are true thrift.

Nahma Woodsman Taken By Death

Thomas Bakula, woodsman, died Sunday morning at Nahma, following an attack of epilepsy. He was found near a railroad track by a train crew Saturday evening and was taken to Nahma, where he passed away at 10:30 Sunday evening.

The body was taken to the Morton funeral home to be prepared for burial but no funeral arrangements have yet been made.

Lions Club To See Movies This Evening

"Daylighting the Trail of the Padres," a motion picture of California, will be shown to Manistique Lions tonight, at the regular meeting of the Lions club, which will be held at the Odd Fellows hall at 7 o'clock.

The pictures are particularly interesting, because it shows scenes along the route to San Francisco, where the International convention will be held in July.

Lutheran Festival Planned Friday

The Lutheran Brotherhood Festival will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lutheran church. It is an open meeting and all male members of the church and their friends are urged to attend.

The program will include a vocal solo by Dr. Dayton, an address by L. Reque and a piano solo by H. Ahlstrom.

Opportunity Time Is Here For USED CAR Buyers

Interested used car buyers will find these special offerings of local Used Car Dealers real opportunities to own the used car you have been waiting to purchase at reduced prices during Used Car Exchange Week.

Today's overstock of used cars has forced dealers throughout the nation to offer inducements such as may never be seen again. Through their united efforts they are placing bargains on the market that any thrifty purchaser can buy advantageously.

As soon as present overstock is cleared from Dealers lots the price will automatically rise and supply and demand will then govern the market so that individuals contemplating buying later will find the choice limited and a sellers market rather than a buyers. To meet the demands of business today, Used Car Dealers are offering thoroughly reconditioned automobiles with thousands of miles of safe, economical driving left in them.

We of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK have no direct interest in used cars as a commodity. However, we are interested in the thrifty use of money. In the case of the immediate used car market, we believe that you can find many extraordinary values. Such purchases, wisely made, are true thrift.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, March 7 (AP)—Stocks backed into lower territory in today's market with leaders yielding fractions to 2 or more points.

The news marketwise was no worse than usual. In fact, there were occasional bright spots visible. Trading forces, however, apparently looked through dark glasses and offerings topped bids after a slight forward tilt at the opening.

Volume was somewhat larger on the downturn, although the session was hardly one that could be termed "active." Transfers totaled 619,950 shares compared with 486,930 Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .9 of a point at 43.6. It was the most sizeable day's setback in this composite since February 3.

Selling for the purpose of meeting March 15 income tax payments was blamed partly for the retreat. Discouraged holders also lightened commitments in some cases because of growing doubts that revision legislation may not be as thorough as financial quarters had hoped for. Continued delay in the freight rate ruling was seen as a disappointing influence.

Steels, up at the start, were in the forefront of the subsequent slide notwithstanding a moderate advance in this week's mill operating rate and signs consumption of the metal is presently outrunning output.

The ticker tape stood still around noon when the supreme court convened. It was generally expected a decision on the utilities holding company case would be handed down. When this did not appear, prices resumed their slipping tendencies.

Notwithstanding the wide decline, a handful of stocks contested the move. The liveliest issue of the proceedings was Zonite Products, up 1/2 at 5 1/4. The company reported 1937 net of 17 cents a share against 12 cents the year before. Pure Oil, with the best earnings in 11 years, held a gain of 1-8 at 11 1/2. American Telephone was only off 1/4, although the concern showed a sizeable drop in January net operating income.

Bonds and commodities were generally in arrears. Wheat at Chicago was off 1-8 to 7-8 of a cent a bushel. Cotton was unchanged to up 1/4. Cotton yielded 10 to 25 cents a bale. The French franc suffered a sharp decline in terms of the dollar and sterling was down.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, March 7 (AP)—Stocks: Heavy; leaders in slow decline.

Bonds: Easy; low priced rails under new pressure.

Curb: Irregular; utilities and specialties lower.

Foreign Exchange: Lower; sterling and francs in supply.

Cotton: Lower; liquidation and foreign selling.

Sugar: Soft; easier spot market.

Coffee: Steady; trade buying.

Chicago: Wheat: Lower; Winnipeg liquidation heavy.

Corn: Firm; some export buying.

Cattle: Strong. High: 10 to 25 higher.

GLADSTONE

PHONE 32 REALTY BLDG.

TWO SPEAKERS ADDRESS CLUB

H. J. Norton and Elmer Beaudry Heard by Notes

Workings of the Michigan state aeronautical board were described by H. J. Norton while a paper bearing on the National Used Car Exchange Week was read by Elmer Beaudry yesterday noon before the Gladstone Rotary club.

Michigan differs from other states of the union in that it is not traversed by transcontinental airlines thus leaving development of aviation entirely up to the state. It was pointed out by Norton, a member of the state aeronautical board.

The board was started by the 1929 state legislature which saw a need for aviation control. Back of this was the desire to curb deaths caused by passengers in unlicensed and decrepit "crates" and in landing on fields unsuited for the purpose.

Aviation is a coming means of transportation and eventually will become almost as common as the automobile, the speaker stated. He expressed the belief that it is only a matter of time when auto manufacturers will enter this field and put production of safe, easily handled planes on a quantity basis.

The board is powerful and controls pilots, landing fields and works for the elimination or prevention of hazards near landing fields.

Norton lauded Col. Floyd Evans, head of the national association of aviation officials, and said that much of the success of the board was due to Evans and the fact that as an old time aviator he knew the common violations and what was necessary to correct certain evils.

Mr. Beaudry pointed out that a slump in the auto industry affected steel, rubber, glass and other allied industries thus in turn greatly affecting the economic status of the nation.

The drive is national in scope and as a result it is hoped that some of the 11 million cars now on the highways over 7 years of age, most of them with inadequate brakes and steering equipment, will be removed thus eliminating many hazards.

A large, varied advertising campaign is being conducted to put across the drive and cooperation was urged by the speaker.

INDIANS CONTINUE TO SET LEAGUE PACE

The undefeated Indians defeated the Kipling school quintet, 20-13, Saturday morning in WPA recreation league play.

Wildcats continued their hold on second place by trimming the Blackhaws, 24-12. The only game lost by the cats has been to the Indians.

In a third tilt the Gophers nosed out the Eagles, 12-10.

very ill at the St. Francis hospital. Raymond Burke returned to his home after spending a week in Germantown.

Mrs. Frank Hruska accompanied by her mother Mrs. John Olson of St. Jacques and Mrs. Al Hescott were visitors in Escanaba on Friday. Mrs. Hescott calling on her daughter Gloria, who is a patient at St. Francis hospital.

On the Record By Dorothy Thompson (Continued From Page Six.) Congressional committee, on the other hand, can conduct a complete investigation over the whole ground of the controversy, including matters of fundamental policy, and this is what the magnitude of the issue demands.

Here, again, one recalls the Dreyfus case, in which an innocent man was falsely condemned because a prejudiced court refused the admission of all the evidence. Dreyfus had his Zola, and his Clemenceau and Arthur Morgan will, I believe, find his.

It is amazing that this Administration, while repeatedly asserting that "the cure for democracy's ills is more democracy," should so obviously try to prevent the most democratic instrument of government that we have, namely the Congress, from trying to get at essential facts, facts that concern the whole structure and method of the new instruments which have been devised for the service of the American people.

Light! Give us light! If Arthur Morgan's criticisms are unjustified, that will be revealed in an open, impartial enquiry, based upon the widest possible hearings. If they are justified, we will have vindicated not only Arthur Morgan, but democratic government.

Can the courageous and impeccable personality no longer speak in this country, to responsible legislators, or have we, too, gone in for a process of "gleich-schaltung"—of switching everybody into line—with "liquidation" as the answer to non-conformity? Has the issue become one of counting the heads of bureaucrats, or do we still concede with Jefferson, that even the majority has to justify its conduct to the whole people, which includes the minority?

These are essential questions. And Arthur Morgan's crime is that he has had the guts to raise them.

NAHMA NEWS Guild Meeting Nahma, Mich.—Mrs. Andrew Hendrickson entertained the Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church on Thursday afternoon at her home.

Following the business meeting tables of five hundred and bridge were in play. Mrs. Nick Gemunden receiving high score and Mrs. Martin Kousbaugh second.

A delicious lunch was served at close of the card games. Mrs. Melvin Druding will entertain at the next meeting, which is to be March 17. Everyone is invited to attend.

Jeanette's Party Jeanette Bontiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bontiller was hostess to a group of her little friends on Tuesday last week, on the occasion of her seventh birthday.

The children played games and were served a dainty luncheon late in the afternoon. The guests included Marilda Monary, Katherine Sheedlo, Patsy and Joan Frasher, Mary Lou and Peggy Pollack. The little hostess received a number of pretty gifts.

Personals Mrs. Peter Sturgeon visited on Wednesday and Thursday of this week with her husband, who is

Escanaba, Kingsford, Trenary, Cooks Get Byes

DRAWINGS FOR TOURNNEY MADE

First Game of District Basketball Meet Is Thursday Night

On the basis of their season's records in their own class, Escanaba and Kingsford in class B and Trenary and Cooks in class D drew the seeded positions in the district basketball tournament, which will open at the junior high school gymnasium here Thursday afternoon.

Drawings were held at the senior high school here yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

By virtue of the bye, Escanaba will not have to play Thursday night, nor will Kingsford. The first class B game of the tourney will be Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when Gladstone meets Iron Mountain. This will be followed by the Menominee-Manistique game at 9 o'clock.

Rock and Rapid River, age old rivals, will open the tourney Thursday night at 6 o'clock in the first class D game, being followed by Nahma and Garden, two more rivals. Trenary, top ranking team, got the bye, and will play the winner of the Rapid River-Rock game Friday night at 6 o'clock while Cooks will play the winner of the Nahma-Garden encounter an hour later.

Escanaba's debut will be made Friday night at 8 o'clock, meeting the winner of the Gladstone-Iron Mountain fray while Kingsford will swing into action at 9 o'clock against the winner of the Menominee-Manistique game.

Many Are Present

Among those present at the drawings were: Principal Bruce Guild and Coach George Mason of Iron Mountain; Principal D. D. Davidson of Kingsford; Coach Ed. Davidson of Gladstone; Principal Edward Edick of Escanaba; Principal Donald Peterson of Rapid River; Coach A. O. Baker of Cooks; Supt. Ivan Davis and Principal Everett Steinbach of Trenary; Coach Bernard Tobin and James Sanderson of Nahma; George Ruwitch of Escanaba; and Charles Larson, Press sports editor.

Escanaba's seeded position came as a result of victories over Iron Mountain, Marquette, Menominee, Manistique, Gladstone and Kingsford while Iron Mountain defeated Menominee, Iron Mountain, Menominee, Stambaugh and Escanaba. In class D, Trenary defeated Michigan, Cooks, Nahma and Rapid River while Cooks defeated St. Paul while Cooks defeated Grand Marais, Nahma, McMullan, Garden and Rock.

Tournament referees will be Gunnard Antell of Negaunee, Joseph Ropele of Norway and Wallace Cameron of Rapid River.

BEN JOHNSON SMOOTH RUNNER

Columbia Negro Sprinter Says Relaxation Is His Big Secret

New York (AP)—Paradoxical as it seems, the current "world's fastest human" is not an exceptionally fast starter.

But Columbia university's Ben Johnson makes up for this lack of a very quick jump off the marks by reaching his top speed within 10 or 15 yards while his rivals still are accelerating.

This lithe, slender negro, Benjamin Washington Johnson, has rushed forward in a burst of speed during the last half-year to take at least temporary possession of that proud title, world's fastest man.

This season's indoor campaign found him at his peak. In the 100-yard race he twice cracked the 60-yard record that for 15 years had withstood the assaults of such speedsters as Jesse Owens, Eddie Tolan, Percy Williams, Ralph Metcalfe, Eulace Peacock, Loren Murchinson, Chet Bowman and the rest. Some had equalled but none had bettered the universal standard of 6.2 seconds.

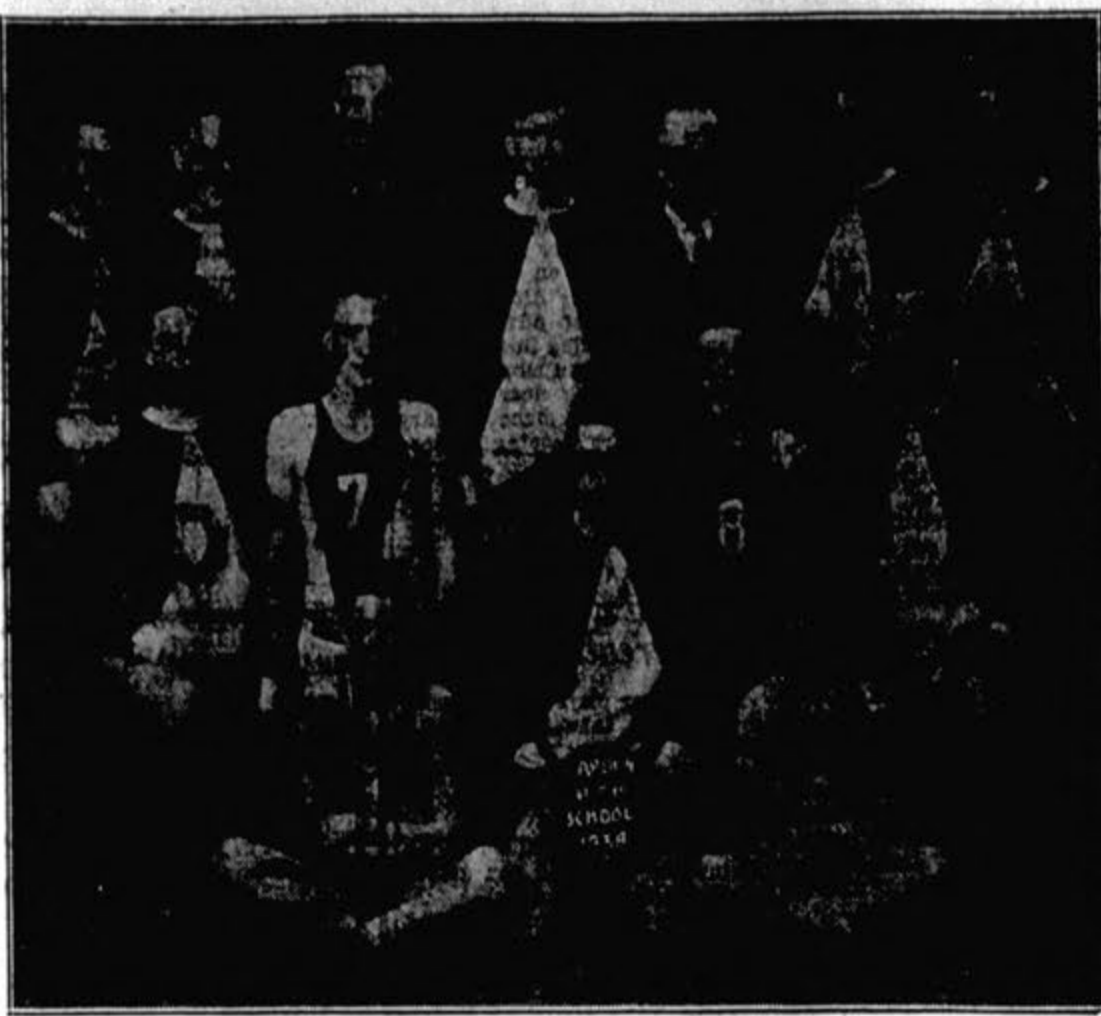

Johnson tied the mark in his first heat, lowered it to 6.1 in the semi-final and streaked through the short stretch-over-pine-boards in Madison Square Garden in six seconds flat in the finals, firmly establishing himself as the speediest of the speed merchants.

For several seasons he has been one of the country's crack sprinters. He flashed brightly last summer when he twice broke the world mark for 100 meters, running the distance in 10.2 seconds while touring Europe with an American A.A.U. team.

Last year he also won I. C. A. N.C.A.A. and A.A.U. championship sprints and topped the intercollegiate running broad jump.

For all his terrific speed on the track, Johnson is actually a smooth-functioning, perfectly coordinated mechanism that appears to be gliding effortlessly. Carl Merner, Columbia track coach, attributes the superlative performances of his charge to the "snack of relaxation" recently achieved by Johnson. It's this relaxation, says Merner, which permits Ben to attain a maximum efficiency from perfect rhythm and coordination.

In Top Shape for Tournament

The Garden high school cagers, coached by Ray Ranguette, former Northern State Teachers college star, has a good chance to go places in the district class D basketball tournament this year, which will open here Thursday. Reading left to right are: (back row) L. Hermes, R. Hermes, Coach Ranguette, G. McCormick; Manager Tebo, Ralph and E. Horning; (center) Bernier, Beck, W. Horning and Deloria; and (front row) Thibault, Capt. Farley and R. McCormick.

GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNNEY ENDED

Madison Square Garden Finals Witnessed By 17,599 Fans

BY DREW MIDDLETON
New York, March 7 (AP)—Two slaughtering heavyweight bouts, with Fred Larkin and Harry Mullins emerging as the sub-novice and open champions, brought the 12th annual Golden Gloves tournament to an end tonight before 17,599 fans in Madison Square Garden.

Mullins, the lanky intercollegiate champion from Mississippi state, outboxed Abner Powell, negro slugger of the Salem Crescent A. C., New York to take the open title. Powell, who won his semi-final bout by 40 second knockout was tied up by Mullins' ring generalship and baffled by the southerner's beautiful straight left hand.

Powell couldn't land the lethal right that brought him his final victory and in the final round Mullins let down the bars and went after him with a two-handed offense that left no doubt as to the winner.

Coleman Raines, heavyweight on the Philadelphia Inquirer team which took four championships, fought a gallant fight against Larkin, but the Irish-American staved him off on the Hudson Dispatch and too much on the ball.

New York boxers won 11 championships, five of them in the special sub-novice class in which no visiting boxers reached the finals. Philadelphia placed four champions on the honor roll, three of them in the open division.

The Hudson Dispatch of Union City, N. J., won three titles all in the sub-novice division while the Binghamton Press took two in the 135-pound and 147-pound open classes. The Trenton Times team scored a single victory, Gus Alexander's decision over Curtis Sheppard, a New Yorker, in a rough, fast lightweight open bout.

Phil Shea, of the Binghamton Press, turned in a beautifully paced bout to beat Vincent Galotto, a shifty left-hander of the Philadelphia team. Shea caught on to Galotto's style in the second and thereafter nailed him with long lefts to the head which had the Philadelphia in trouble in the third.

The bouts ended three weeks of boxing in preliminary and semi-final rounds of the amateur tournament—sponsored by the Daily News Welfare Association. Tonight's champions will meet the champions crowned in the tourney sponsored by the Chicago Tribune here March 21.

the key to his fast running. Most sprinters try too hard and tighten up at the outset, he believes, and lose their chances of getting the most efficiency from their running form.

Johnson's physical dimensions are not imposing. He is five feet nine inches tall and weighs 149 pounds. He is no better developed than most top ranking sprinters, except possibly in his trim ankles which have unusual resiliency and spring.

Johnson's track shoes are especially made for him from his own last. His street shoes, too, are mostly custom built. He wears a 7C.

Indeed, it is difficult to point out anything especially singular about this admirable chap. He has no special diet, no special training rules, and no special running technique—except the ability to run faster than anybody else in the world.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

Records of the teams entered in the district tournament here beginning Thursday disclose how evenly matched the teams are. . . one team alone, Trenary in class D, has an outstanding record, being undefeated in its own class. . . the Algers, with a veteran aggregation of giants, have lost but one game this year, that to a class C team. . . their superiority over other class D teams in this district is not uncontented, however, in spite of their victories. . . they had all they could do to defeat Rapid River in two games, the last going into two overtime periods on their own floor and they defeated Rock by but three points.

In class B, a peculiar situation arises. . . Escanaba, the top seeded team in the bracket, has been defeated no less than six times during the regular season. . . Kingsford, seeded at the other extremity, lost four games in their own class, while winning five. . . quite definitely, these are the two teams to watch in the tournament. . . although you might tuck a "Warning" sign on that Iron Mountain crowd. . . Coach George Mason's crew has been "hot" several times this year and we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see them pull an upset in the tourney.

It is very seldom that all of the tournament teams have such uniformly inconsistent records as teams in this district have this year. . . the fact can be attributed to the even manner in which the teams are matched, we believe. . . many of the defeats have occurred at the hands of other teams in the same district. . . in class B, Kingsford split with Escanaba and Iron Mountain while Escanaba split with Kingsford and Menominee. . . Gladstone and Manistique divided their series. . . In class D, Rock and Rapid River split, Rapid River and Nahma divided as did Cooks and Garden. . . it looks like just about anything can happen here this week. . . doesn't it?

DODGERS' HEAD, MCKEEVER, DIES

James Mulvey, Judge's Son-in-Law, Seems Likely Choice

New York, March 7 (AP)—The death of Stephen W. McKeever, 83-year-old president of the Brooklyn baseball Dodgers, left baseball circles wondering what will be the next step in the reorganization of the club. The "judge" died early today of pneumonia following a week's illness.

The heirs of Charles H. Ebbets, who own 50 per cent of the stock, and the Brooklyn Trust company are other factors to be considered. The trust company which through mortgages, loans and liens is said to hold virtual control of the baseball property, may want to sell the club. Its president, George V. McLaughlin, opposed any sale during McKeever's lifetime.

McKeever was elected president in 1932 but the club failed to show much improvement in the league standings. Casey Stengel replaced Max Carey as manager and he in turn was fired in favor of the present manager, Burt Grimes, Larry MacPhail was named general manager recently.

Funeral services for McKeever will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday in the St. Francis of Assisi church, Brooklyn.

Honorary bearers will include Commissioner K. M. Landis, Ford C. Frick, president of the National league; the presidents of the other seven clubs of the circuit; Governor Herbert Lehman, Mayor LaGuardia, Borough President Raymond V. Ingersoll and Postmaster General Farley

Red Wings Manager Plans New Defense

Detroit, March 7. (AP)—Looking ahead to the 1938-39 season, Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings today announced that Marty Barry, one of hockey's outstanding centers in recent years, and Hector Kilrea, a star forward, would be turned into defense men.

Adams said he had no thought of attempting the change at present because he did not want to disturb the lineup while the Red Wings are fighting the Chicago Blackhawks for a National Hockey league playoff berth.

"Kilrea and Barry are smart, big and afraid of nothing," Adams said. "They should make good defense men."

Several years ago Adams converted Eddie Goodfellow, then a wingman, into a defense man with outstanding success.

MICHIGAN WINS IN SHARP RALLY

Townsend Puts on Steam for Victory Over N.U. in Last Half

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 7 (AP)—Michigan put on a brilliant last half rally tonight to defeat Northwestern 39 to 22 in the final Western Conference game of the season.

The triumph gave the Wolverines a conference record of six games won and six lost and a tie with Iowa for fifth place in the final standings.

Led by Captain John (Jake) Townsend, who scored 13 points to set a new season record for a Michigan player, the Wolverines outclassed the Wildcats completely.

Leading 17 to 16 at intermission, Michigan bottled up Northwestern's quick breaking offense at the start of the second period and held the Wildcats scoreless for fifteen minutes.

The defeat was Northwestern's fourth in a row and dropped the Wildcats into a tie with Ohio State for third place with a season record of seven victories and five losses.

Record Is Broken

Townsend, ranked by many as the greatest basketball player ever to wear a Michigan uniform, ran his 12 game total to 135 points to better the previous record of 129 points made in 1929 by Bennie Oosterbaan, now assistant basketball coach.

He made nine points in the first period as the Wolverines, slow to start, twice overcame a four point lead to go ahead of the Wildcats. When he left the game the crowd gave him a thunderous ovation.

While Michigan's defense proved a puzzle to most of the Northwestern team, it did not stop Nagode. The rangy center ran up four field goals and two free throws to account for nearly half of his team's points.

The Wolverines' spurt in the second period bewildered the Wildcats who had to shoot quickly from long range. They ran the score to 27 to 16 before substitute Les Harman and Nagode scored from the floor.

EAGLE QUINTET WINS TOURNNEY

Defeats Rock Spartans By 27-21 in Fast Game Sunday

Garden, Mich., March 7—The lanky Eagle quintet of Escanaba came from behind here Sunday evening in an interesting game to defeat the Rock Spartans, 27-21, to win the gold medal tournament held here during the past three days.

The Nahma Indians won third place honors when they tripped up the Escanaba Bevenocs, 30-19, in a hard fought game.

The feature game of the evening was closely contested throughout. The Rock boys took an early lead, being ahead by one point at the end of the first quarter and by a similar margin at half time. They were unable to hold their advantage, however, and succumbed to a last half drive by the taller Escanaba boys. The Eagles led 19-14 at the three-quarter post but Rock went into the lead in the final period for a few minutes before falling before the Eagle rush.

Nahma won their game by coming from behind with a spectacular second half rush.

CAPPON SENT TO PRINCETON

Michigan Cage Coach Will Be Assistant to Tad Wieman

Princeton, N. J., March 7 (AP)—Appointment of three assistants to football Coach Elton (Tad) Wieman was announced tonight by the Princeton university council on athletics.

Continuing a Princeton-Michigan exchange which sent Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler and two former assistants to Ann Arbor, Princeton will bring Michigan's basketball coach, Franklin C. (Wally) Cappon, here as Wieman's football backfield coach and as basketball coach.

Edgar L. Walker, head coach at Mississippi, will become end coach, and Charles L. Ceppi, Princeton's star tackle a few years back, line coach.

Cappon will succeed Kenneth E. Fairman as Tiger basketball coach next season. Fairman is withdrawing from coaching to devote his time to the job of graduate manager of athletics.

Fairman and Ceppi, college roommates, were graduated in 1934. Princeton grads put them down as one of the Tiger's greatest end-tackle teams. A medical student at Syracuse, Ceppi has been helping with freshman coaching there.

Cappon, a graduate of Michigan in 1924, was associated with Wieman both as player and coach. He has been basketball coach of the Wolverines since 1931.

Before returning to Michigan as a graduate coach, Cappon was head coach of basketball, football and track at Luther college, Iowa, and head football coach and assistant basketball coach at Kansas.

Walker was graduated in 1927 from Stanford, where he played in the backfield and at end. He went to Mississippi in 1930 after end-coaching assignments at Iowa, Stanford and Columbia. He was once a pupil of Wieman in a Texas coaching school.

Ceppi, the first Princeton graduate varsity football coach since the Tigers imported Fritz Crisler six years ago from the midwest, will step into the shoes of his former teacher, Wieman as Crisler's line coach.

Ceppi will continue his studies at Syracuse.

Captain Is Elected By Purdue Champs

Lafayette, Ind., March 7 (AP)—Purdue university's Big Ten basketball champions today elected Gene Anderson, junior center from Franklin, Ind., captain of the 1938-39 season.

Burman opened the cut in the first round and it troubled Haverlick all through the bout.

IRON MOUNTAIN WINS TOURNNEY

Vulcan Takes Class B Event at Powers on Sunday

Powers, Mich., March 7—The Oshkosh Beers of Iron Mountain won the class A title and Vulcan won the class B event in finals of the gold medal basketball tournament played here Sunday evening.

The Beers won the title by defeating the Texacos of Negaunee by 44-37 and the Vulcan crew defeated the Dickinsons of Iron Mountain by 40-23 for the class B finals.

The Negaunee Sporting club won the third position in class A, by disposing of Daggett, 39-24, in the afternoon, and Hermansville won a similar place in class B by disposing of Powers, 39-29.

George Mason, Iron Mountain high school coach playing with the championship Beers, was named the outstanding player in the class A division, being followed by Kemp of Negaunee and Croel of Iron Mountain. These three, along with Caruso of Iron Mountain and Roy Johnson of Escanaba constituted the all tournament first team.

The second team was composed of Lindstrom, Roberts and Rinaldi of Negaunee, Ellingson of Daggett and Jensen of Escanaba. The sportsmanship team was composed of Sandcock of Iron Mountain, R. Lesperance of Daggett, Goldsworthy of Negaunee, W. Johnson of Negaunee and Stan Jensen of Escanaba. Caruso of Iron Mountain was high point for the tournament with 29 points and Rinaldi of Negaunee was high point for a single game with 17 points.

In class B, the honors were as follows: Outstanding players, Welch of Vulcan, Tauschek of Iron Mountain and McInnis of Powers; all tourney team, Flourde of Vulcan, Welch of Vulcan, Tauschek of Iron Mountain, J. Machalk of Hermansville and McInnis of Powers; second team, Flourde of Vulcan, St. Juliana of Hermansville, Lucarelli of Iron Mountain, Brazeau of Bark River and A. Bushey of Powers; sportsmanship team, Kinsella of Negaunee, Mott of Bark River, Erickson of Escanaba, C. Busby of Powers and J. Machalk of Hermansville; high point for single game, Brazeau of Bark River with 14 and high point for tournament, Welch of Vulcan with 35 points.

Government Awards Keweenaw Project For New Waterway

BY PAUL MAY
Washington, D. C.—Award of a contract totalling $1,139,840 for part of the "remaking" of the Portage River and the Keweenaw Waterway in Michigan to the Union Construction Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, has been made by the chief of army engineers, Brig. Gen. Julian Schley, war department officials here revealed today.

The Union contract calls for the widening and deepening of the present channel in some places, and the digging of new cut-offs through dry land—a project expected to require nearly two years to complete.

Bids on the contract were opened January 6, at Duluth, but award was not made until this week. All bids, moreover, were rejected for a major part of the job, the dredging of 2,023,000 cubic yards of material in the widening and deepening of the eastern 10,296 feet of the waterway.

The contract awarded to the Union Co. calls for the dredging of 4,160,000 cubic yards of material over a distance of three miles, to provide a channel 25 feet deep and 300 feet wide, and 16,624 feet long. The present winding channel is only 20 feet deep and 150 to 160 feet wide. In addition, the channel will be widened to 625 feet at the turns.

The contractor will be required to begin work within 20 days after he receives go ahead orders from the war department, and for failure to conduct dredging operations at rates set down in the contract, he will be liable to damages of $50 to $150 a day.

However no work will be required before April 16, nor after November 21. To pay for the work the war department has only $180,000 available until new funds are made available July 1.

Due to this lack of funds, the readvertisement of bids for dredging of the 2,023,000 cubic yards of material at the eastern end of the channel will not be made by the department for some time.

This eastern end, in addition to providing a channel 25 to 28 feet deep and 300 to 600 feet wide, will provide a harbor of refuge 750 feet wide, of the same depth as the main channel, for the use of vessels held in the waterway by storms.

The project is one of the biggest undertaken by the war department in recent years.

Ladies' Gymn Class At Senior High Gymn

Beginning tonight at 8 p. m. there will be a ladies' gymn class at the senior high every Tuesday night until indoor centers close. Exercises, games and dancing will be on the program.

The class will be for adult ladies and will be directed by Doris Costley, WPA recreational leader. All ladies are invited.

Shortest and Tallest Lions

Michael Olsen, candidate for the mayor of Menominee in the coming election, and Ralph Thompson of Waupaca, Wis., posed for this picture when the latter came to Menominee recently to address the Lions club. Both are members of the Lions club.

Art Work Class To Be Held Today At Recreation Center

All women interested in oil painting and photograph tinting are invited to attend the organization class today at the city recreation center beginning at 1:30. The class will be under the supervision of Miss Doris Costley, WPA recreational leader.

Immediately after this class which ends at 3:30, there will be a period of clay modeling. This activity is also open to the public.

Miss Costley not only does beautiful work herself but is well qualified to teach others to create. Escanabans who have the desire to participate in some art activity have an opportunity that should not be missed.

Kiwanis Club Has Penney Managers As Guests At Meet

About twenty-five managers of the J. C. Penney company were guests of the Escanaba Kiwanis club at its regular luncheon meeting at the Sherman hotel yesterday noon.

Various business matters were transacted. George Bergman of the Palace Market was admitted as a new member of the Kiwanis club at yesterday's meeting.

Short-footed Comfort
Many women whose feet are short and wide are under the impression that they can get fitter comfortable only in a short vamp shoe. The fact is that the vamp is not so important to properly fitting a short, wide foot as is consideration of the type of arch. The arch should be placed in a comfortable position. Short wide feet have a tendency to spread and swell, especially in hot weather, so plenty of width should be allowed.

Get at the Cause of Constipation!

You know that constipation often gives you that dopey, sunken, bogged down feeling. Why not get at the cause and fix it?

If you eat what most people do—things like bread, meat and potatoes—the chances are all that's the matter with you is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean what you may think. It's a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines that aids elimination.

If this is your trouble, what you need is a dish of crisp, crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need, plus Nature's intestinal tonic, vitamin B, and iron.

Get All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and see if the old world doesn't look a lot brighter! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Wm. Winter, Sr. Of Van's Harbor 90 On Thursday

Marquette, Mich., March 7—(AP)—Despite reports to the contrary there has been no loss of deer so far this winter in the Upper Peninsula that can be attributed either to starvation or disease, L. N. Jones, Upper Peninsula regional supervisor of conservation said tonight.

"Reports from the various conservation districts of the Upper Peninsula," he said, "indicate almost no loss of deer life. The herd is in good condition as far as can be determined and it is exceptionally good in view of the heavy fall of snow in certain areas."

While at Ford River, in Delta county, and at Black River, in Gogebic county, deer yarded closely for a time and appeared to have eaten up most of the available browse, an early investigation revealed no dead deer and since that time the animals have ranged out of the yards to obtain food elsewhere.

None of the districts has reported instances where any number of deer are suffering from starvation, Jones said, and no cases of deer weakened by hunger or attacked by disease have been received at regional headquarters. Jones said, describing the few scattered losses of fawns, killed by exposure during the January blizzard, as "almost nothing."

Only a few dead adult deer have been found in the peninsula so far this winter and these may have been killed by coyotes or dogs, the supervisor asserted.

Shortly after the January storm, Jones added, it was feared the deer might be forced to yard closely, placing a heavy drain on food supplies in the swamps, but this difficulty failed to materialize when heavy crusts formed, permitting the animals to range out of the yards in search of

Community Forum Will Not Be Held; Next On Mar. 22

Because of the Kiwanis show, the regular community forum scheduled for this evening has been cancelled, it was announced yesterday by Charles Folio.

The next meeting of the forum will be March 22 when C. J. Burns, chairman of the county board of supervisors, will tell of the prospects for a new courthouse in the county.

On April 5, Harold Lindsay, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will tell of recent efforts of the community for creating local publicity.
On April 19, City Manager George Bean will discuss municipal affairs.

The first public surveys in the United States were made in Ohio, under an ordinance of the Continental Congress passed in 1785. Slightly modified, this ordinance became an act of Congress in 1796 and is still in force.

Gave Up Hopes of Being Well Again

Had Been Confined To Her Bed With Rheumatism; Life Just One of Drudgery and Suffering Until She Began Krugon

"Suffering people today are fortunate in being able to get a medicine with the merit of this new Krugon," said Mrs. L. Felts, 411 West Main St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. "For the past two years I had suffered awfully with rheumatism. My body was clogged with foul impurities from constipation. I could not sleep or get my rest, was always worn-out and was actually confined to bed. I was in such a miserable shape with rheumatism. I had almost given up hope of ever regaining my health as medicine after medicine failed to help me. Finally I began Krugon . . . it proved to be the very medicine I should have had years before.

"Now I am feeling like an entirely different person since the first few doses of Krugon," continued Mrs. Felts. "My stubborn case of constipation was easily corrected, those poisonous impurities eliminated and that dreadful rheumatism easily conquered. It is really remarkable how Krugon drove those rheumatic aches and pains from my body. I am now up and around doing my work. Only those who have suffered as I have can realize just what a medicine like this new laxative-ionic, Krugon, has meant to me."

Krugon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., this city.
