ESCANABA MAY GET AIR MAIL

Detroit-Sault Service May Be Extended to This City

BY PAUL MAY
Washington, D. C.—R. Stuart Weeks of Port Huron was low bidder on the proposed new air mail route between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie via Bay City and Port Huron.

Bids for the route were opened by the postoffice department. It was learned from the office of Senator Prentiss M. Brown that an attempt by a Sault Ste. Marie interest to postpone opening until another bid could be submitted was ignored.

The contract for the new route will not be let until postal authorities have investigated the equipment of Weeks, and his ability to fill the requirements of the department under the airmail set-up.

Weeks bid was 23.5 cents per mile.

Senator Brown said the proposed route would connect Detroit and the upper state at Sault Ste. Marie. Extension of the line beyond that point to Escanaba and Duluth will come later.

Cities on the new line will include in addition to Bay City and Port Huron, Saginaw, Flint and Cheboygan.

Today's development carried another step forward the long sought air mail route up the Lake Huron side of the state into the northern section. In event Weeks is able to meet postal requirements a contract will probably be let within the near future, and service will be started immediately after the contract is given.

RATE SCHEDULE BEING DEBATED

REA Officials to Confer With Power Firm on Lower Prices

In an effort to obtain a satisfactory wholesale rate for the cooperative rural electrification projects centering in Ontonagon and Delta Counties, F. Harper Craddock, chief of the REA Rate Section, will confer in Lansing with officials of the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Company, representatives of the two projects, and members of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. The exact time of the conference has not yet been set, but it will probably be on Thursday, May 5.

The power company has arranged to send its General Manager, William E. Schubert of Appleton, Wisconsin, to Lansing for the conference.

The rate offered by the power company, and which the company reports it is unwilling to reduce, is objectionable in several respects. It would average 1.59 cents per kilowatt-hour when the projects reach their anticipated development, which REA believes is much too high to permit the cooperatives to operate successfully and which is out of line with the current trend in wholesale power rates offered for rural power projects in other parts of the country. It involves a minimum charge which REA believes may penalize the farmers unduly in the early stages of the project. Moreover, the rate is not of the inducement type but is a flat rate irrespective of the actual quantity of electricity used.

Because of these objections to both the level and the form of the wholesale rate quoted, REA has requested a further and more direct discussion of the subject. The power company readily consented, and the conference with Mr. Craddock and Mr. Schubert was arranged.

F. D. Davis, Former School Head Here, Is Taken By Death

Word was received by friends here late on Thursday of the death earlier in the day at Detroit of F. D. Davis, former superintendent of the Escanaba public schools. Mr. Davis had been in poor health for the past few years but his death was not expected. He had lived in Detroit since leaving Escanaba.

He is survived by two daughters, one son and his widow. Funeral services will be held on Saturday at Hillsdale, his former home.

Mr. Davis was superintendent here during the construction work at the senior high school building. He came to Escanaba in 1903 or 1904 and served until 1911 when he went to Detroit and was succeeded by F. E. King. Before coming to Escanaba he also served as superintendent of the schools in Negaunee and as county school commissioner of Marquette county.

Mrs. Delia Derouin Dies Suddenly At Her Home Thursday

Mrs. Derouin was born, Delia Guilbeault, on May 22, 1875, at Calumet and first came to Escanaba as a child eight years old. She had made her home in and near Escanaba since that time. Forty-nine years ago on April 28 she was married to Joseph Derouin at St. Anne's church here.

The body was taken to the Boyce Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be returned to the family home this afternoon. Funeral arrangements will be completed today.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, two daughters, four sisters, three brothers and 22 grandchildren. Conservation of Wildlife

NATURALISTS and conservationists say that the era of wildlife exploitation is now drawing to a close. Increased interest manifested by States and Federal agencies, by sportsmen, and by the general public has at last checked an abuse and neglect that started 300 years ago.

Previous to the coming of the white settlers, the North American continent possessed an abundance and variety of wildlife not surpassed by any other continent. Wildlife, like vegetation, is modified as its habitat changes, and it varies in form and abundance according to climate, soil fertility, and location.

With the occupation of the land by the white settlers, wildlife began to diminish. The decrease was imperceptible at first, but it was definite nevertheless, for once the settlers had brought the primitive land under tillage or exploited it by industry, it long remained in that status.

The fertile ground that for ages had grown crops of wild game and fur animals was now required to grow corn, wheat, tobacco, beans, and cotton, and to support domestic flocks and herds. This condition, disastrous for many species, benefited others. The big-game species suffered first and most. While the bison, elk, deer, and bears were extirpated or forced to retire to areas remote from civilization, some of the smaller creatures, including the quail, the rabbit, the raccoon, and the opossum, found the additional food supply grown by the farmer an encouragement to increase their numbers and extend their ranges.

Some of the great American fortunes were founded upon the fur trade, notably that of the Astor family. Their remote trading posts in a few years garnered the wealth of fur and left to posterity scarcely more than scattered remnants of what had been a tremendous resource. The pelts of fur animals and the hides of bison were commodities that would endure transportation from the wilderness to the settlements, but the flesh of game birds and mammals could not be sent back over the long trail.

Killing for the market did not become a serious factor in the reduction of game until stimulated by the growth of cities and towns and the development of railroads. Traffic in game as food flourished after the Civil War and reached its peak in the 80's. During that time millions of passenger pigeons, prairie chickens, grouse, ducks, geese, upland plover, snipe, woodcock, quail, and other food species were annually sent to market by gunners. The passenger pigeon was exterminated and certain other game species were so badly reduced that they have never since recovered.

Market shooting seems to have enriched no one, for much of the game taken for the then legitimate market spoiled on its way. What was sound and salable brought a price so low that the receipts were often not sufficient to pay expenses. Many game birds sold for a few cents a pair, and the business was so badly organized and competition so keen that the markets were nearly always glutted. Shooting for the market was continued, however, until sportsmen and conservationists at the beginning of the present century became alarmed and sought State and national legislation to prohibit traffic in game.

prevention is worth a pound of cure'. Parents may save themselves a lot of worry by cooperating in this very worthwhile health program.

All Parks to Open

WELCOME news to the tourist and resort interests of the state comes with the announcement of P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director, that his department will operate all state parks this year despite the fact its request for a minimum of $45,000 for maintenance and operation was met only in part by the state administrative board.

The state came more than half way in providing $25,000, considering the financial straits in which it finds itself. With this allotment Mr. Hoffmaster has worked out a plan whereby the employment of WPA projects will make possible complete operation of the system. Credit goes both to the state board and to Mr. Hoffmaster for providing a solution to this problem.

Michigan's parks hold top rank among the tourist attractions of the state. In view of the growing trailer-tourist army it is imperative that the state provide accommodations. And any investment along this line is one that pays rich dividends. The tourist who passes through Michigan, even though he does not tarry in one spot, easily pays his way. If he drives 1,000 miles on Michigan highways he pays at least $1.08 in gasoline and sales taxes on his motor fuel alone. Probably he will pay an equal tax on the food he consumes and the things he buys. He leaves from $3 to $5 in the state's coffers even if he is here for only a few days. Multiply this by 100,000—which is only a small part of the actual traffic—and it is readily seen that there is a rich return.

Our state parks are an important part of the state's contributions to the tourist industry which contributes so much in return. With a solution of the financial problem met this year the state should resolve that it will not permit any threat to arise in the future that this service will be in any way contracted. At least not while expansion still is needed to meet the demand.

Getting and Spending

WOMEN are entirely too conservative when it comes to spending money" was a chairman's declaration at the National League of Women Voters convention. It set the delegates to pondering a bigger and better budget.

Well, times certainly change. Or is the chairman's statement not an observation of a new truth, but a correction of an old error in the male conception of the female spending habit?

The day before the Woman Voter made her observation, in St. Louis, police raided a bingo party in New York. Two thousand women staged a near-riot trying to get their admission fee back. Fifty extra policemen were called to restore order. The admission fee was a quarter.

Those ladies certainly appeared to be counting the pennies all right. But for what? Bingo! Well, it takes all kinds of economy and all kinds of economists to make a world.

Right now the mining districts of the Peninsula are wondering what John N. Fegan, youthful chairman of the state tax commission, will do when he visits this section of the state. He has said he will advise local assessors on mining valuations and will sound out local sentiment on the suggested severance tax. If he merely advises local assessors, it will be something new. The tax commission has always been in the habit of setting the mine valuations. Fegan by the way, is as loquacious as he used to be, suggesting that perhaps the governor had an understanding with him.

If the Lions club in Negaunee has its way, the Community Chest will be re-established. It was originally started in 1926 and functioned until 1932 when it was abandoned. In recent years it has been a case of one organization after another conducting a drive for funds, the drives sometimes following at close intervals. So now the Lions think it might be a good idea to go back to the "one big pot" plan and disburse funds from the Community Chest.

Escanaba police the other day sought the name of the driver of a stolen car that caromed down one of the streets. And they had numerous reasons for wanting to learn his identity. Here's what the car did: Wrecked three cars, broke one horse block, broke off one tree and damaged another, knocked down a school sign, demolished a set of porch steps and knocked down a fence. That was quite enough for one joy ride.

Resignation of Albert Mongrain from his job as fireman at Iron Mountain brought to light one of the shortcomings of cities. It developed that the job of fireman paid him only $70 a month and he resigned because he found another job. That's a piggardly salary for any fireman, much less for one who like Mongrain had served seven years in the department. He could come fairly close to that amount if

World Affairs Reviewed

WITH CHINESE RED ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS IN CENTRAL HOPEI, North China (AP)—When Chinese war lord armies retreated before the Japanese advance through North China last fall, the slothful Chinese farmer rarely lifted a finger to help.

Now those peasants are fighting demons. Vague reports indicated the Chinese Red Army had organized them. An Associated Press correspondent recently penetrated the Japanese blockade and spent 100 days in the new Red territory in Hopei province to investigate.

—ANNIHILATE HIM— He saw how the guerrillas carried out their raids and he heard from the Red commander, General Yu Cheng-tao, how the lethargic farmers had been organized. They have won more than 90 victories in Hopei province since the start of 1938.

The Red strategist, Mao Tzetung, defined his guerrilla tactics thus: "When the enemy attacks, we retreat. When he retreats, we attack. When he stops, we harry him, surround him, annihilate him."

The Associated Press correspondent recently visited the walled town of Shen-chai, scene of a battle. "The Japanese approached in sixteen trucks," the local commander explained, "but we had only 40 Red fighters in the town. I divided them equally at the four gates. "The Japanese, using artillery from a quarter of a mile away, destroyed our west gate, but our men hiding on top of the wall never fired. When three truckloads of troops finally drew up to the city wall, we hurled hand grenades among them before the Japanese could dismount, killing 57. The rest retreated, leaving their dead behind."

—EVIDENCE FROM THE DEAD— This, like most guerrilla stories, was substantiated by the display of Japanese rifles and clothing taken from the dead.

Night attacks on railway stations are favorite Red diversions. Scouts report the location of every house in which Japanese are living. Then guerrillas pounce on the sentry and rush the sleeping garrison before an alarm can be raised. The only purpose of such raids is to get military supplies, as the guerrillas retreat as soon as the Japanese send reinforcements.

In a week of travel through this new Red territory (only four months old) The Associated Press correspondent rode a Japanese officer's horse, ate Japanese dried fish and vegetables, slept in Japanese blankets, and inspected Japanese guns and ammunition at every Red battalion headquarters.

Bronzed Chinese farm boys who have been fighting the Japanese through a cold winter pull back ragged. Chinese coats and display woolen Japanese garments beneath. They say they cannot wear the Japanese cloth on the outside; their own peasant guards would shoot them for Japanese at the next village.

—PRICED IN HUMAN LIVES— Guerrilla leaders work methodically. They evaluate every military objective in terms of human life, as Lawrence did in Arabia. Capture of a railway station or destruction of a railway bridge, for instance, is considered worth three to five casualties. Capture of a large walled town with plenty of Japanese supplies is worth more—20 to 30 casualties.

Discipline is good. One of the methods of enforcing it is the oath which every Red soldier takes—that he won't retreat without orders and agrees to be executed if he does.

Contrary to Japanese reports, Red leaders say, the guerrillas never fight in plain clothes. All attacks by day or night, it is asserted, are made in uniform to protect the ordinary farmers against the Japanese charge of being guerrillas.

Most of the guerrillas are simple country boys, and the secret ambition of each one is to seize a Japanese wrist watch and fountain pen, the only luxuries allowed in this spartan organization. Cameras, field glasses, and pistols found on dead Japanese must be surrendered to Red headquarters.

The communists charge that in retaliation the Japanese have burned many villages.

he got one of the choice WPA jobs offered by Harry Hopkins.

Slightly more than a million and a half dollars will be spent on secondary trunk lines in 65 counties of the state. That isn't a great deal, but as the old saying goes, every little bit helps. Nine of the 15 Upper Peninsula counties will profit by the arrangement. They are Houghton, Iron, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Menominee and Gogebic. If the funds for secondary trunks are distributed proportionately, the Upper Peninsula counties will get about 14 per cent, or about $210,000.

The influence of the United States forest service and the tree planting program it directs for the civilian conservation corps is to be noted near Sault Ste. Marie. At Dafter about 40 high school boys are planting 5,000 pine trees on a school forest of 400 acres that was deeded to the school board recently by the state. The picture would be completed if the boys, or their successors in high school, were called upon to keep a check on the development of this plot, noting how many of the trees live and the growth they make.

News comes from England of a boy whose head ticks like a watch. All he needs now is a constant companion with a face that would stop a clock.

An expedition of German mountain climbers has started up one of the peaks in the Himalayas, and more than one nation in the vicinity is hoping it doesn't look too attractive from the air.

New York Column

BY GEORGE ROSS

New York—A tear and a smile—that's the formula for tale telling, if the eye-dew may be brushed away so the story leaves you laughing.

For instance, there's the strange-than-fiction truth about Connie Boswell. She has been on the stage and in the movies. Her thespianics are popular on the radio. Her records sell 1,000 per cent above the average. She has fame. And she has fortune. Yet there was a time when life looked dreary to Connie Boswell.

Put a reverse toss on Time's flip-book and rattle back twenty years to a day when the second of Mr. and Pa Boswell's three daughters was a little girl playing in the summer sunshine of gentle old New Orleans. There were dozens of other kids romping in the drowsing streets that day, but it had to be the lively, leaping Boswell babe who got a ride in the home-made wagon of the neighbor's boy.

No one knew just how it happened. Really it doesn't make much difference. There was a scream and a crash. And Connie Boswell lay unconscious at the foot of a telegraph pole. At the hospital the surgeons looked seriously into the anxious eyes of the parents, then shook heads sadly, if she lived, they said, she'd never grow again. The lively laughing child was paralyzed from the head down. It looked as if all light were out of her life.

Undaunted by Paralysis It must have been pretty discouraging for all the Boswells in the first few years that followed. But the indomitable Connie was determined to get well, and the family mind was made up to give her every helping hand. So that's how it was that, skipping over months of massage, mud-baths, constant care, Connie in her teens made the old Camp street home a rendezvous of the prep school beaux and belles. She couldn't walk, but she could make a wheel-chair do tricks. She could make a 'cello mellow low, a banjo swing high.

Connie and the kids loved this musical harmonizing, and so did the critical audience composed of their classmates. After a while they became pretty much of a fixture at benefits and amateur theatricals down at the Gymnasium Club. And she knew by now that a theatrical career was what she lived to achieve.

Success—And Romance Joe Schenck—not the movie man, but the Schenck of Van and Schenck, vaudeville headliner—"discovered" the Boswell talent. And with his help the old folks were persuaded to let their fledglings try their wings of song. It was still an instrument act, but by now standard melodies were being played in new rhythmic arrangements, with plenty of hot licks being dropped in at the right places. The try-out was in Chicago. After three days there was a contract for an RKO vaudeville tour which took a year.

Pictures came next—"Moulin Rouge," "The Big Broadcast," "Artists and Models"—and, of course, radio. Connie found herself in demand on the airwaves, with her ability to sing either "sweet" or "hot" placing her in a class by herself.

Being less of an individualist, woman is more socially minded than man. —President William E. Weld of Wells College.

The Capital Parade

BY ALSOP AND KINTNER

Washington, May 5—Painless tax collection (which will probably be about as free of pain as painless dentistry) is soon to be offered to the citizens by their considerate Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Morgenthau plans to decentralize the entire revenue system before the year is out. In future, instead of heartless and occasionally rapacious emissaries of a distant Washington, the tax collectors will be just home folks.

Seriously, the new plan will only be regretted by the leeching swarm of Washington lawyers and lobbyists now batten on innocents who have disagreed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The plan is so simple, so sensible that one wonders why no one ever thought of it before Henry Morgenthau.

At present, the power to decide tax disputes is lodged in the Washington Bureau of Internal Revenue. To its chilly marble halls, unhappy pleaders must come hat in hand, from Maine or Oregon, New Orleans or Chicago. The technical staff at the bureau, being perfectly unacquainted with local conditions, is chilly and more than impersonal. Collisions with the bureau are said to be worse for the blood pressure than any other form of contact with an often irritating government.

Now Mr. Morgenthau expects to delegate the bureau's powers to eleven regional offices. Whenever a revenue and a citizen quarrel, the regional offices will judge the row on the spot and in the field, without long litigation or costly Washington expeditions. Each regional office will even have circuit riders attached to it, who will travel to smaller cities where disputes arise. Appeal will be taken direct from the regional offices to the board of tax appeals. And the Washington bureau will survive merely as a standard-setting and supervisory agency.

THEY HEARD AN OUTCRY

The new plan is, in fact, an example of the sort of thing the Government can do if it cares to make life pleasanter for the people. And the story of its conception is a pretty good demonstration of how government ought to work.

For some time now, Mr. Morgenthau, who is at heart a sensitive fellow, has been disturbed by the outcry against his tax collection system. Some of the outcry was unjustified, for the most charming tax collectors are rarely beloved. Some of it was well supported by the facts.

Of course, Mr. Morgenthau could not do anything about the ardent treasury New Dealer—and there is one—whose first words are, "let me have that fellow's tax return," when he sees an anti-administration statement in the press. But Mr. Morgenthau was able to jail one agent who was making a tidy fortune out of advance inside knowledge of tax judgments, and banish one who was indulging in such petty graft as borrowing from taxpayers whose returns he had approved.

The same investigation which turned up these instances of wrong doing also suggested to Mr. Morgenthau that the whole system was at fault. It was too cumbersome, too distant and complex, particularly for the little fellow who cannot hire a Washington tax leech to fight a $50 judgment.

TRIAL IN LOS ANGELES

Mr. Morgenthau promptly called in Guy T. Helvering, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and his own Special Assistant, Harold N. Graves. Mr. Graves is a tall, egg-bald, slow-spoken fellow, who has served the Government for thirty years in the Postoffice, Commerce and Treasury departments successively. At present he is the Morgenthau troubleshooter, relied on for such difficult tasks as improving the customs system and setting up the alcohol tax units.

Mr. Morgenthau suggested to Messrs. Helvering and Graves that the Treasury might imitate the Farm Credit Administration. Before his elevation to the Treasury, he had been administrator, and had installed a decentralized mechanism there. It had worked well, and he saw no reason why the same decentralization could not be applied to tax collection.

The other two offered no objection, and it was decided to start a trial regional office in Los Angeles, with authority over all tax collection in Southern California and Arizona. Two months ago, the office was established, under the supervision of the trouble-shooting Mr. Graves. To date, the tax dispute rate in the Los Angeles regional offices has fallen from 1,400 to 500 cases a year. Settlements have been so accelerated that it's calculated litigation in the average case will take a year less. The whole tax protest system has been easier and more workable.

In sum, the experiment has been a success, and therefore the decision has just been made to extend the regional office mechanism until it includes the entire country. Perhaps Mr. Morgenthau has acted just in time. Taxpayers have been growing toughly lately.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

I JUST FORGET I never yet a fruit have found. That hadn't started underground. And long ago. As like as not. The seed, the time, I both forgot. And plucked the fruit, or threw away. As though it happened just today.

I never yet a tree have seen. That wasn't once a blade of green. But inches high. Forget, I guess. It takes a lifetime, more or less. And broke a branch or bent a bough. Still bent another life from now.

I never yet could come and go. But it took years to make it so. And tears, and blood. Yet liberties I'd peddle for a little ease. Exempt from toil, excused from debt. It must be that I just forgot.

MINSTREL WILL BE ON MAY 13

End Men Are Chosen for Annual "E-Men's" Production

The E-Men's "Lucky Thirteen" Minstrel will be presented with an air which defies the superstitions connected with the date.

End man Thor Nilsen will sing "Brother Noah Gave Out Checks for Rain" and "The New Apple Tree"; Ray Eis has "Old Man River" and "Heigh Ho"; Bill Peterson starts with "Meenie From Meeniesota" and finishes with "Whistle While You Work"; Robert Oulmette sings "Good Night, Elaine," and "On the Sentimen-

75 PURCHASES MADE AT SALE

Delta County Delinquent Tax Land Brings Only $5,000

Only 75 parcels of Delta county land were sold for taxes during the reading of the delinquent tax list, which was finished yesterday morning. The list was the largest in the history of the county, with $ 245 land descriptions offered for sale, but the selling was slow throughout the reading of descriptions. The state of Michigan is conducting the sale, through the office of Ralph R. Olson, Delta county treasurer.

Only 8 Escanaba descriptions found purchasers, and there were only 2 Gladstone parcels sold. Other tax delinquent lands which were sold were distributed evenly throughout the county. Olson stated yesterday.

Over 4,000 land descriptions were read during the first day, when a total of 30 purchases were made by buyers who paid taxes amounting to about $400.

Few persons were present at the county courtroom during the reading of descriptions of delinquent tax lands, and little interest has been shown in the sale according to County Treasurer Olson.

Sales Tax Collections for April Increase Over March

Sales tax collections during April showed an increase over the previous month's total for the first time since the start of 1938. It was revealed in figures released today by Draper Allen, Managing Director of the State Board of Tax Administration.

The April yield from the sales tax amounted to $3,708,389.52 as compared with collections of $3,614,840.03, an increase of $93,549.49. The total, however, was slightly more than a million dollars less than the collections for April 1937. This was partially accounted for by the fact that most of this year's Easter business will be reflected in the May collections while the tax on the Easter trade a year ago was collected in April.

Collections in the Detroit office were about $75,000 ahead of those in the Lansing office. Most of the large chains doing a state wide business and having their main office located in Detroit are now making their payments at the Wayne county branch office of the sales tax instead of at Lansing.

Use tax collections in April continued to show a steady climb. A total of $40,627.61 was realized from this source as compared with $36,555.87 in March. The use tax collections have increased each month since the levy has been in effect and the total yield now amounts to $158,922.60.

STEAM WILL GO AHEAD SLOWLY

Location of Proposed Waterplant Affects Expansion

In spite of the fact that revenues accrued from the first five months of operation have been highly satisfactory, further progress in central steam in Escanaba will move slowly. City Manager George Bean said yesterday.

Expansion, Bean said, within the next year or two will be motivated by outside interests rather than by the city administration. The reason for the change in policy is that the administration is desirous of awaiting final decision as to the site of the proposed water plant.

If the water plant site is changed from its present location to a spot in the vicinity of the postoffice building, the city will be able to combine gas, water and steam very effectively and reduce the rates on all three utilities. If such a project is effected, dimensions of steam mains and equipment would have to be altered from their present status.

Gross revenue to the city from the sale of steam for the first five months of operation amounted to $2,800, according to a report issued by the city manager yesterday.

This figure, he said, will be approximately $3,000 when the regular steam service is curtailed for the summer months on June 1. Bean estimates the net profit will be about $1,200 for the five months.

FAIR TOUR TO STOP IN CITY

New York Celebration's Good Will Car Will Visit Escanaba

Escanaba has been designated as one of the key cities to be visited by a good-will tour of officials of the New York World's Fair, according to information received by Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from Grover Whalen, president of the exposition.

One of the 49 automobiles which are visiting every state in the Union and Washington, D. C. will stop here on the afternoon of May 20, bearing the greetings of New York Fair officials.

A local committee has been appointed to arrange a program for the members of the tour. Those serving on the committee, which held its first session yesterday afternoon, are Fred Earle, Harold Gessner, R. E. Olson, Chief of Police M. F. Ettenhofer, Norbert Reidy, E. J. French and Dewey Meunier.

The good-will car is scheduled to arrive at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be met at the city limits by a police escort. The visitors will be conducted to the city hall, where they will be greeted by Mayor Peter Logan and City Manager George E. Bean. They will be guests at a luncheon at the Sherman hotel.

The good-will car which will stop here was in Lansing yesterday, where the keys to the fair were presented to Governor Frank Murphy. The New York fair opens on April 30, 1939.

AT THE DELFT
"Tip-Off Girls" and "Rawhide" are on the Delft Theatre double feature program today and Saturday.

The sinister connection between girls who want thrills and men who want loot is made the subject of a bold screen attack in "Tip-Off Girls", Paramount's drama of the highway hijacking racket.

For its daring expose of this racket, which last year took an estimated fifty million dollars in tribute from American industry, Paramount selected a cast of experienced dramatic players. Heading the cast is Lloyd Nolan, who has the Hollywood distinction of having been such a successful screen villain that the fans demanded the studio make a hero out of him. He played important roles in "The Plainsman" and "Wells Fargo."

The slugging star first baseman of the World Champion New York Yankees teams up with singing scrapper Smith Ballew in a happy blending of colorful romance and thrilling action in the new 20th Century-Fox release, "Rawhide."

It's a new type of war on the range, with "Larrupin Lou" Gehrig dropping his baseball spikes for spurs and trading his bat for a six-gun—to team up with the popular singing cowboy in driving the rustler-racketeers out of the West.

The two stars are ably supported by beautiful Evelyn Knapp who plays the role of Gehrig's sister.

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 8.

The Golden Text (Isaiah 59:20): "The Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (If Cor. 6:17, 18): "Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, said the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 326): "The purpose and motive to live aright can be gained now. Working and praying with true motives, your Father will open the way."

Winifred Royce Prominent in School Event

Winifred Royce of Escanaba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Royce, is actively engaged in preparing for Velshes at Iowa State college, the annual three-day open house to be held May 12, 13 and 14. She is working on a float, Velshes Vodvil, cherry pie, home economics open house and publicity.

Velshes, the only collegiate open house of its kind in the world, is essentially a student production. There will be open houses on Friday, May 13, in each of the 45 departments and their laboratories, including a whole bevy of comely co-eds dispensing 3,000 cherry pies which they have baked themselves in home economics kitchens. The type of work done by graduates in agriculture, engineering, industrial science, home economics and veterinary medicine will be exemplified. All departments in every division will also enter floats in the traditional Velshes parade to climax the celebration, Saturday afternoon, May 14, at 1:30.

Over 1500 Iowa farm boys are expected to attend the sixteenth annual High School Agricultural Congress held during Velshes. The annual Homecoming Congress is expected to bring over 800 Iowa high school girls.

BOXING CONTROL SETUP PRAISED

Opposition of New York Group Is Rapped by Edward C. Foster

BY ALAN GOULD

New York, May 5. (AP)—Notwithstanding New York's "hands off" policy toward the newly-formed International Boxing association, working machinery has been set in motion to bring about the closest approach to universal pugilistic control since punch-tossing was legalized anywhere.

This was the word brought back today by Edward C. Foster of Providence, R. I., executive secretary of the National Boxing association, from the Rome conference that resulted in establishment of the I. B. A.

Foster not only hailed the new international setup as "the greatest thing that has happened for boxing's benefit in 35 years" but quickly took issue with the negative attitude of Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York state athletic commission.

Phelan also was at Rome but his participation, Foster asserted, consisted principally in banging the conference table with the book containing the New York commission's fistie regulations and insisting, "There's the law, gentlemen, and we propose to stand by it."

Foster not only confirmed that agreement was reached on the world championship list, exactly as now recognized in this country, but contradicted Phelan's assertion that two other major objectives of the U. S. delegates were not reached.

The conference adopted the "no-foul" rule, with the exception that England agreed, for the time being, only to advocate use of the foul-punch rule, Foster explained. Agreement also was reached upon 15 rounds as the standard for all world championship matches, except where existing national regulations specify differently.

Foster added that South Africa, where 12 rounds now is the limit, soon would seek a 20-round law and, in addition, apply for associate membership in the National Boxing association of the United States. The N. B. A. now represents 37 states in this country, as well as the boxing control organizations of Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

Title Race Standardized The most important stabilization move made at Rome, in Foster's belief, was to set up a "world professional boxing championship commission." Its purposes are to standardize title recognition, already achieved, and to list championship contenders by the consensus method, on a monthly basis.

The seven-man membership of this commission originally included three Americans, Phelan, Foster and Joseph Triner, chairman of the Illinois state athletic commission, who was represented by proxy at Rome by Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune. Phelan has already served notice of his withdrawal. Colonel Middleton, the British delegate, was elected secretary and will be the clearing house for fistie ratings of the commission.

"It looks like we will have to do the best we can without the support of Phelan or the New York commission," commented Foster. "Phelan went to Rome without authority to act. His attitude contrasts with that of the representatives of 21 nations, all seeking and achieving agreement on matters of basic importance to boxing."

Ypsi Will Dedicate New Athletic Plant

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 5 (AP)—Michigan State Normal college's new $150,000 athletic plant, the gift of Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Detroit Tigers, will be dedicated here tomorrow afternoon.

A baseball game between Michigan Normal and the University of Michigan will follow the dedication ceremonies which will be attended by Walter O. Briggs, Jr.

The athletic plant consists of a field house, a baseball stadium seating 3,000, and a football stand seating 2,200.

Martin Zachar, who last week held Oberlin college to one hit, will pitch for the Hurons. He will oppose Ed Andronik.

Production Halted At Allis Chalmers By Sitdown Strike

Milwaukee, May 4 (AP)—Members of the United Automobile Workers local (CIO) halted production today at the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. in a two hour sitdown which union leaders said was an unauthorized protest against the company's refusal to meet union demands.

The union's bargaining committee deferred calling a general strike at the plant at the expiration last night of a 48-hour truce.

Ex-Matinee Idol Sues Daughter

Another old-time Broadway star is broke—and suing his movie actress daughter for support. This time it's Maurice Costello, 61, suave hero of the movie "Tale of Two Cities," who asks $200 a month from his blond daughter, Dolores, former wife of John Barrymore. The father, shown above looking at a photo of Dolores and another daughter, Helene, also a film actress, declared that he is "as poor as a church mouse." Miss Costello, inset, said she had contributed for years to her father and recently made him an "alternative offer." She said she would fight the suit.

HILLTOPS PLAY SMU NEXT YEAR

Fourth Appearance Will Be Made on Soldier Field in Chicago

Milwaukee, Wis., May 4—Marquette university will make its fourth football appearance in three years at Soldier Field, Chicago, on Friday night, Oct. 7, with Southern Methodist university of Dallas, Texas, providing intercollegiate opposition.

The game will be sponsored as a charity affair by the Chicago Catholic archdiocese with its eminence, George Cardinal Mundelein as honorary chairman of the committee in charge. It will be a benefit for St. Vincent's orphanage.

Chicago archdiocesan leaders arranged the sponsorship after a conference with Conrad M. Jennings and James H. Stewart, athletic directors of Marquette and Southern Methodist respectively. The game originally had been scheduled for Soldier Field as a benefit for the employees' voluntary welfare fund of the Chicago park district.

Marquette made its gridiron debut on the lakefront gridiron in 1935 with victories over St. Louis university and St. Marys (Cal.). It was defeated there last fall by Santa Clara.

Spring football practice is being wound up on the Hilltop this week with Coach Paddy Driscoll satisfied that his charges are much farther along than they were at this stage of the season a year ago. Optimism is tempered by the fact that the Golden Avalanche will face such a heavy schedule next fall, but Blue and Gold hopes are high.

The Marquette schedule follows: Oct. 7, Wisconsin at Madison; Oct. 7 (night), Southern Methodist at Soldier Field, Chicago; Oct. 14 (night) Kansas State in Milwaukee; Oct. 23, Texas Christian in Milwaukee; Oct. 29, Iowa State in Milwaukee; Nov. 5, open; Nov. 12, Michigan State in Milwaukee; Nov. 19, Arizona at Tucson; and Nov. 26, Texas Tech at Lubbock.

SET NEW RECORDS

Milwaukee, Wis.—Marquette track athletes set two new university records as they participated in the recent Drake relays, but came away without championships. The sprint team ran the half-mile relay in 1:27.1, as compared to the 1:27.3 and 1:28.4 clockings with which Metcalfe-anchored Hilltop quartets won at Drake in 1932 and 1933. It was third this year. The Marquette mile quartet was timed in 3:19.1, as it qualified for the Drake finals in which it placed fifth. The former Hilltop record was 3:21.4.

Chrysler Declares 50-Cent Dividends On Common Stock

New York, May 5 (AP)—Directors of Chrysler Corp. today voted a dividend of 50 cents a common share as the company reported net income for the first three 1938 months of $2,109,969 after charges, equal to 48 cents a share on the common.

The quarterly earnings bulked larger than Wall Street analysts had anticipated, and the dividend declaration marked a resumption of flow of earnings to stockholders, for no dividend payment had been made in the preceding quarter.

Announcement of dividend and earnings came after the close of the New York stock exchange. But on reception of the news on the west coast, Chrysler shares on the Los Angeles stock exchange stepped up to $42.50 a share, or $1.12 above the New York close. The final Los Angeles quotation was $42 bid, $43 asked.

He also received a formal invitation to the fair from E. E. Knox, of Detroit, official courier for the fair, who called upon the governor before setting out to visit every mayor in Michigan.

Mystery Death

Although police credited a robbery motive in the slaying of Paul McLean, above, 33-year-old sports writer of the University of Chicago press relations bureau, they admitted undisclosed "circumstances" may have inspired the killer. McLean, a former Dartmouth college football player and Montana political reporter, was found dying in an alley near his home.

Dowagiac Amnesia Victim Welcomed Home By Family

Dowagiac, Mich., May 4 (AP)—The family of George Melvin, 74, superintendent of the Colby Milling Co. here, welcomed him home today.

Melvin, apparently a victim of amnesia for two weeks, had been sought by his family in several cities.

First word from him came by telephone yesterday from Chicago. He said, according to relatives, that he suddenly recalled his identity after bumping his head during a ride on an elevated train.

He recalled that he was unable to recall what he had done during the two weeks but believed he had been in St. Louis, Mo. He recovered his memory while returning to a small Chicago hotel from a baseball game.

HOOVER SEES CHAOS AHEAD; OFFERS CURE

planned economy. We are to have more budget deficits, new inflations, more increase in national debts, more taxes for the future. We put the pea of $1,400,000,000 of gold under the other shell. These new actions may produce another shot in the arm.

"There is in these proposals a hopeless confusion of cause and effect. x x x Truly you can mortgage your house and go on a spree. It does not add to your productivity and you may lose your house."

Confidence Needed First Mr. Hoover said constructive action to allay fear and re-establish confidence in the future "would require the enormous reserves of private enterprise in place of a trickle of government money" and would "take men back to their jobs tomorrow and permanently."

"For a start," he said, "we need to: "First, re-establish confidence that there will be no more attacks upon the safeguards of free men. That is the independence of congress and of our courts.

"Second, restore common morals and intellectual morals in government. In a democracy or in a Christian country the ends do not justify any means.

"Third, abandon this economy of scarcity and go in for production, work, and thrift.

"Fourth, stop this spending and inflation and pump-priming.

"Fifth, revise the taxes so as to free the initiative and enterprise of men. The original senate proposals were a step in that direction.

Cut Relief Waste "Sixth, reduce relief expenditures by one-third, through decentralizing its administration. Take it out of the hands of wasters and politicians and put it back into non-political committees in each community and require that states and local communities to find five or ten per cent of the cost. That will provide greater and more sympathetic care for those in distress. It will restore confidence that the republic is not being destroyed by the purchase of elections.

"Seventh, by the savings on relief, and reduction of other expenses and the end of pump-priming, drive to really balance the budget.

"Eighth, stop credit inflation juggling. Make the currency convertible into dollars at the irrevocable 69-cent dollar and repeal all authority for currency inflation.

"Ninth, set up a court of 25 responsible, non-political men representing business, labor and agriculture to direct federal reserve policies and thus take that control of credit out of the hands of politicians.

"Tenth, give the employer and all branches of labor the same rights before the labor board and appoint judicially minded men to the board.

"Eleventh, stop indiscriminate defamations of business and the creations of class hate. Use the courts for purposes of prosecution."

Causes at Home "This is solely our own depression," he said, "its causes must be searched for right here at home. And we can also eliminate the usual causes of our home made depressions.

"President Roosevelt in his message to the congress on November 15, 1937, confirmed the fact. He said:

"The fundamental situation is not to be compared with the far different conditions of 1929. The banking system is not over-extended. Interest rates are lower. Inventories are not dangerously large. We are no longer over-extended in new construction or in capital equipment. Speculation requiring liquidation does not overhang our markets." x x x

"If there are none of these signs or forces in the financial and business world, such as did exist in previous depressions, obviously the origins cannot be blamed upon finance and business. x x x

"It is nonsense to say that either big or little business is on strike. It is not so. We have had no such strike. We have been struck.

"There is only one place left to search for the causes of this depression. Despite every alibi, this depression is the direct result of governmental actions."

He said the major causes of the 1929-32 depression were absent and now— "Certainly I did not create this depression, so you can eliminate that."

He ascribed the 1929-32 depression to "our crazy boom stimulated by federal reserve policies begun in 1927 and which cracked up in 1929" and the "1931 collapse of Europe."

Tomato Salad Dressing
 12 ounces tomato juice
 3-4 cup vinegar
 1-2 cup olive oil
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 3 tablespoons grated onion
 3-4 cup sugar
 Put these ingredients in a large jar, and mix them thoroughly. Measure out 1-2 cup of the mixture, and to this add the following:
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 Mix this half cup of spiced ingredients until well blended, then add it to the contents of the large jar. Seal the jar with a rubber ring as in canning fruit, and always shake thoroughly before using.

Baking Powder Rolls
 2 cups flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1-2 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon shortening
 2-3 cup milk
 Melted butter
 Caraway or poppy seeds or Mixture of 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 Sift flour before measuring, then sift again with the baking powder and salt. Cut in the shortening, and add the milk all at once. Stir gently until all the flour is dampened, and then stir vigorously until the mixture forms a soft dough which follows the spoon around the bowl. Turn out on a slightly floured board and knead lightly for 2 or 3 minutes. Roll 1-4 inch thick and cut into crescents or cut into strips which are 6 x 1-2 inches. If strips are made, tole these into a knot.
 Brush the tops of the shapes with melted butter and sprinkle either with seeds or with the cinnamon and sugar mixture. Place the rolls on a greased pan and cover, letting them rise in a warm place for 20 minutes.
 Bake in a hot oven ten minutes spread again with melted butter, and continue baking for about 10 minutes more. Remove from the oven and butter tops again. For the oven and for the final buttering, the best method is to let the melted butter drop on the rolls from a teaspoon.

LISTEN You Good People... Who Grow Our Daily Bread!

Everything which was grown in soil took salts and minerals therefrom. If you never returned the Iron, Copper, Tin, Lead, Iodine, Sulphur, Magnesium, Silica, Aluminum, etc., which each and every one of your crops grown to date took out of your soil—the best possible thing you can do for your very own self—all of yours as well as the rest of us—is to give back to your soil the minerals which no life of whatsoever kind can exist without. SOIL MANNA will restore the mineral balance of your mineral-hungry and otherwise much mistreated soil in the safest, sanest, natural as well as most economical manner possible. Your crops having failed you in the past—you will know the proper way for growing bigger and way better crops than you raised in many a year.

SOIL MANNA sells at $1 per hundred lb. bag

4 cups diced peeled rhubarb
1-2 cups granulated sugar
3 tablespoons flour
2 egg yolks
1-4 cup water
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
Mix rhubarb with sugar, flour and yolks. Add water, spices and butter. Cook slowly and stir constantly until the mixture thickens slightly. Cool. Pour into crust and cover with meringue.

Grapefruit Salad
2 cups diced grapefruit
1-2 cup diced avocado pears
1-4 teaspoon celery seed
4 tablespoons French dressing
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Mix ingredients and chill for two hours. Carefully arrange on crisp lettuce. Top with more dressing.

Quick Ginger Snaps
(10 dozen ginger snaps, 2 1/2 inches in diameter)
One cup molasses, 1 cup melted shortening, 1/2 cup hot water, 4 cups flour, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons ginger, 3-4 cup sugar.
Stir together molasses, shortening and hot water. Sift and measure the flour; then sift together all dry ingredients and stir them slowly into the liquid. Chill dough about one-half hour. Form dough into 10 dozen balls, about the size of marbles. Then press flat on greased shallow baking dishes to form round cookies. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for about eight minutes. Cool slightly before removing ginger snaps from baking pans.

Oat Meal Cookies
(9 1/2 dozen cookies, 2 1/2 inches in diameter)
Three cups quick rolled oats (uncooked), 2 cups sugar, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup melted butter, 2 eggs, 5 tablespoons milk.
Mix all dry ingredients and raisins together. Stir in the melted butter. Beat eggs with milk and add to the raisin mixture. Drop by scant teaspoonfuls onto very lightly greased baking dishes; bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes until nicely browned. Remove from pan immediately upon taking from oven.

Rhubarb Conserve
4 cups diced rhubarb
1 cup crushed pineapple
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 1/2 cups granulated sugar
Mix ingredients and let stand for five minutes. Boil gently and stir frequently until the mixture becomes jelly-like. Pour into jars.

Frenched Carrots
2 cups diced cooked carrots
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons finely-chopped mint leaves
1-3 tablespoons granulated sugar
1-4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon vinegar
2-3 cup boiling water
Mix butter and flour. Add remaining ingredients, except carrots. Add carrots and allow to simmer for ten minutes over a low fire.

Apple Sauce Cup
(Serves six)
Two cups sweetened apple sauce, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon honey, 2 eggs, separated, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar.
To the apple sauce add melted butter, spices, salt and honey. Beat egg yolks until thick, then stir them into the apple sauce. Pour into six buttered glass custard cups, five ounce size; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 10 minutes. Beat egg whites and powdered sugar together until stiff; pile lightly on apple sauce. Return to oven for 12 to 15 minutes longer or until meringue is nicely browned. A little snap quickens the lagging appetite.

Rhubarb Dessert
3 cups diced peeled rhubarb
Boiling water
1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg yolks
2 egg whites beaten
1-3 cup confectioner's sugar
Cover rhubarb with boiling water. Let stand for five minutes. Drain. Add sugar, mixed with flour and salt. Add fruit juices and yolks. Pour into a shallow buttered baking dish. Cover and bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Beat whites. Add sugar and beat again until creamy. Roughly spread over rhubarb mixture. Bake for five minutes in a moderate oven.

LITTLE CHANGE SEEN IN STAFF

All But Four Teachers Sign and Return Contracts

The personnel of the faculty of the Gladstone Public school system will be but little changed in 1938-39 according to present indications. It was learned yesterday from Sup't. A. R. Watson.

Contracts extended before Easter have been returned signed in all but four instances.

Among those who do not plan to return as members of the staff next year are Jack Speare of the high school English department, Blanche Mathison of the second grade of the Fourth Ward school, Isabel Downing of the First Ward school and Irene Denio, kindergarten assistant.

As yet no teachers have been secured to fill the four positions to become vacant.

Miss Mildred Kasen has resumed duties at the Ben Franklin store following a several days illness.

The A. D. Algure family has moved from 1313 Minnesota Ave. to 207 Central Ave.

Report Given by Titus On Activities of MEA

A comprehensive report on past and planned activities of the Michigan Education association was presented by C. P. Titus, county commissioner of schools, at a meeting of the Delta county unit of the MEA here Tuesday night.

Titus quoted figures showing that the association had increased from 25,749 to 32,647, a gain of over 7,000 in the past three and one-half years.

Among school problems that need solving the speaker listed improvement of teaching conditions; general increase of teachers' salaries throughout state; adequate and definite state aid; adequate school housing; more accurate accounting of school funds; increased schooling of administrators in elementary and special education; concentration of efforts on greater efficiency of instruction; general use of textbook rental plans, and repeal or modification of teacher loyalty act law.

Resolutions adopted by the representative assembly of the Michigan Education associations at Lansing a month ago were read and their adoption urged. They include:

School Financing
That since education is essentially a function of the state, the state should provide definite, permanent, and adequate revenues to guarantee a reasonable minimum program of public education in every community, and

That final appropriations by the State Legislature for public schools should not be subject to cuts, and

That state-aid for schools for the coming biennium should be not less than $47,000,000 annually, and

That state and local support of schools should be supplemented by federal aid for school building construction, thus leaving present sources of revenue for operation of schools, the control of same to remain with the state and local governments, and

That a fixed tax limitation through the adoption of a prescribed millage is inconsistent with sound taxation principles, since it leads to the arbitrary curtailment of needed public services including education, and

That the Association's study of the financial situation should include a comprehensive survey of the effect on schools of the 15-mill limitation.

Teacher Tenure
That inasmuch as greater professional security in service is Martilla.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY TONIGHT

"Spring Fever," a Farce, Is Annual Stage Production

"Spring Fever," a three-act farce will be presented tonight at Gladstone high school as the annual stage presentation of the senior class.

A dress rehearsal was held yesterday afternoon for pupils and if the waves of laughter that arose constantly are any indication then tonight's audience is in for a real treat.

Direction is by Keith Campbell. The opening curtain will be at 8 o'clock.

The cast:
Howard Brant...Rueben Sjoquist
Ed Burns...Leland Gabe
Vic Lewis...Richard Johnston
Lou Herron...Ann Waterhouse
Mrs. Spangler...Bette Johnson
Anne Purcell...Suzanne Brink
Vivian George...Helga Carlson

Prof. Virgil Beau...Oliver Ohlen
Dr. Dixon...Spencer Mathison

That it urges the formation of larger school administrative units which in many cases could be organized to serve natural community centers, thus making possible better administration, adequate salaries for teachers, and reasonable security of employment.

That it urges every member to take a professional, cooperative interest in present efforts to adapt the curriculum to the individual needs of the child and the composite needs of society.

That it commends the State Board of Education for the higher standards established by the state certification code, and

That it urges continued efforts to improve the selection and training of teachers.

That, since the district is the basic democratic unit of the M. E. A., and its active functioning is essential to the successful operation of this organization, the staff members be commended for their extensive distribution of informational material to district officers and their large number of direct district contacts during the past year, and

That, in view of the fact that it is most desirable to get the thinking of district committees back to the M. E. A. Commissions and thus establish a two-way exchange of ideas, these efforts to encourage and assist the district units be continued and increased so far as the somewhat limited number of staff workers will permit.

That, in view of the tremendous pace of social change and the widened responsibilities of the teaching profession, with consequent increased demand for expanding services of the M. E. A., the problem of what constitutes adequate personnel to meet efficiently these many demands on the Association is recommended for study and report by our Commissions.

THEATRES

Called into action on New York's Great White Way, Charlie Chan invades the night clubs to seek the killer whose double murder casts a shadow of terror over Manhattan's gayest spots in the newest of his screen adventures, "Charlie Chan on Broadway," opening at the Rialto Theatre.

It's a "candid-camera night" in a swanky midtown cabaret, and as the flashlights of a hundred enthusiastic "minicam" fans boom, death strikes, then strikes again, bringing Chan, fresh from his sleuthing triumphs in distant lands, to confront the most baffling adventure of his career.

On The RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

The National Progressives
Whether a new political party has really been started, or whether a new and sharp realignment of the old parties will be the result, I am convinced that something extremely important for America started last Thursday night in Madison, Wis.

Dorothy Thompson

For Philip La Follette knows what is wrong with our economic society, and he knows what are not the ways out. He recognizes the fundamental fact of the stage of economic development in which we now are: namely, that industry and technique have run miles, and generations, ahead of finance. Industry and technique are revolutionary. Finance is conservative. Industry and technique have created a new earth; they have pulled down fire from heaven; their ingenuity is breath-taking; they have set tons of steel swimming through the air; they have harnessed unseen waves of ether to make a voice and a song travel as fast as light from one end of the world to the other; they have turned beans into automobile bodies and air into fertilizers and acetylene gas into wood substitutes, and wood into velvet—thereby destroying one set of economic values and creating others, all at the same time, and with upsetting speed, while finance has shown no similar imagination or ingenuity, and probably least of all in this country.

He sees that the essential problem is to make capital work, to imbue it with a new enterprising spirit, and he knows that new social and financial inventions are needed for that.

He also knows that what is no longer permissible in this world is revolution. He knows that the class struggle leading toward revolution is not allowed. It is not permissible, because the society in which we live is so interdependent and complicated, with the breakdown for a few hours of the highly complicated economic mechanism, millions of people would perish.

He knows that the theory of over-production is stark nonsense. Certainly there is over-production of certain commodities, simply because the more economic production of other commodities to take their places, or changes in habits of living, or new forms of world organization affecting international markets, drive them into obsolescence. But the frontiers for horizontal expansion, the social and economic frontiers, are not only not yet exhausted, they are not even visible yet to the imaginative eye.

He sees that the work-relief program, which simply shunts off a large part of the population into what threatens to become a permanent substandard class, living in an illusory world on the humanitarian instincts of the rest, is not "progressive," but pure defeatism.

He sees that we are headed for disaster if we continue to put the emphasis on distribution rather than on production, to believe that the cake can constantly be recut to provide enough for all, when the cake is growing steadily smaller. "We are consuming more than we produce"—and we have never in our history produced enough to give everybody in this nation a decent economic existence.

He sees that capital, labor and government, have all been laboring under a common economic fallacy, and that the net effect of all of our policies for years, whether capitalistic, governmental, or trade union policies, has been to freeze production and ownership where they are and steadily to diminish them.

And, oh, how refreshing it is to hear a speech from the non-Marxist left cut itself loose from the social work, settlement house and benevolent feudal landlord mentality that has dominated the New Deal ad nauseam!

But when it comes to practical proposals, the speech is weak and the manifesto even weaker. The one concrete proposal is the nationalization of the banking system. I suppose that is what Governor La Follette means when he puts as the first plank in his platform "the public ownership and control, without qualification or reservation, of the banking system."

TRIAL FLIGHT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES COPYRIGHT, 1934, BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MELROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday, Roger proposed a trial engagement, merely to satisfy Jackie's mother. And Jackie accepts. But will their plan work so smoothly, she wonders.

CHAPTER IV
Roger's idea went over beautifully. Evelyn was delighted to think her Jacqueline was engaged to be married! "I do think, darling, it's too romantic!" she said, ecstatically.

Jackie denied that there was anything romantic about it. "We simply decided to get engaged," she said. "So now, Mother, you can go ahead and marry Mr. Scott."

"So I can," Evelyn said, but rather off-handedly. She wanted to know when Roger was coming to the house. There are a great many things to discuss," she added thoughtfully.

Jackie experienced that same strange foreboding once again. She did not see what there was to discuss. If she and Roger were engaged that was all there was to it, wasn't it? Apparently bitter experience had not taught Jackie everything, yet.

Roger was surprised that next morning when Jackie came to see him take off. "Gosh," he said, taking both her hands in his, "to think you'd get up almost at sub-up just to wish me happy-landings! That was pretty swell of you, Jackie."

"It wasn't my idea," Jackie said shortly. She pulled her hands away. Why, Roger was acting as though they were engaged!

"Mother insisted I ought to see you off. Not that I don't wish you happy-landings," Roger, she added. She did wish he hadn't been leaving on such a dangerous undertaking. She would be pretty jittery until he got back.

"Thanks," Roger returned, rather shortly, too. "Mighty nice of you to be so concerned." He turned to the mechanic, "Make contact, will you, Jerry? And give her the gun."

"You will be careful, won't you, Roger?" Jackie had a peculiar empty feeling in the pit of her stomach. Almost as though she were the one who was going to do those test dives.

"Oh, sure, I'll be careful," Roger said carelessly. He adjusted his helmet, buckled on the big, clumsy chute. He was flying in an open sky.

That empty gnawing in Jackie's stomach persisted. She was glad Roger would have that rip-cord to rely on.

The mechanic had the ship warmed up now. He climbed out and Roger took his place. "Well, done. The means, tempo, and temper of doing them, the philosophy and purposes that lie behind them, are all part of the total picture of Fascism."

But Germany has been able to do what she has done with nationalized banking largely because Mr. Hitler inherited from his predecessors an old, established, efficient, and incorruptible bureaucracy, comparable to no other in the world, and what would work there certainly wouldn't work in the same way here.

Governor La Follette has also learned a great deal from the Fascists about psychological appeal. Instead of offering benefits, he makes demands. He promises no individual anything out of this new movement, except hard work. He believes that a good society as well as a successful party is the one that asks most. That is shrewd and it is also sound. Also, instead of appealing to organized groups, he appeals to every one—to the vast and preponderant unorganized—and that is the technique of the modern party.

But the banners, the crusade, the exaggerated emotional appeal and the exaggerated nationalism are all somewhat disturbing. This new party, we are told, is going to be a "religion."

no long!" he called, raising a hand in salute.

Jackie ran up beside him, straining on tiptoe. "Happy landings!" she called again. She wanted him to know this time she meant it. She could not imagine why she felt so panicky. She didn't feel any different toward Roger just because they were pretending to be engaged. "Oh, yes!" She clung onto the side of the ship. "I forgot—Mother wants you for dinner the first night you're back."

"For dinner?" Roger leaned over the side. Jackie had never noticed before how blue his eyes were, like the sky on this May morning. He certainly was not had to look at in his pilot's outfit. He was enough to make any girl's pulse quicken.

Maybe that was why Jackie's heart started throbbing so rapidly now. Or maybe it was because his lips—for one brief moment—had been so close to hers.

She jerked herself back sharply. "You'll come, won't you, Roger?"

"Sure, I'll be there. With all my medals." He placed a hand over his heart. "Didn't I promise to stand by no matter what happens!"

Jackie had to step back now. He was ready to take off. In a few minutes he would be only a small dark object high up in the sky, getting smaller and smaller, vanishing completely. She raised her hand in a salute, too, a gesture of farewell and God-speed. She wished he had chosen different words to say in parting; "no matter what happens" had an ominous sound. The sort of journey Roger was headed for might so easily not have that happy landing.

She watched that small dark object as long as her eyes could follow it, then turned away. She felt very much alone and forlorn. She told herself, angrily, that she was behaving like a little fool. Roger was a good pilot. They didn't come any better. He would come back safely—stand by—as he had promised.

Nevertheless, Jackie searched the evening papers to see if there were any accounts of crack-ups. She heaved a sigh of relief, then a sharp exclamation, as her attention focused on an entirely different item. There, heading the society column, was her own name!

Her mother was serenely sitting before her triple-mirrored dressing table with its confusion of jars and bottles.

"Did you see this?" Jackie demanded, dashing in on her. She held out the paper at arm's length. Her lovely eyes flashed their golden fire; her face was flushed.

Evelyn finished the perfect cupid's bow of her mouth. "What is it, darling?" She saw the paper; her eyes lighted up, too. She stretched out a hand. "Why, how very nice! The announcement is made," she read aloud, "of the engagement of Miss Jacqueline Dunn, daughter of the romantic actress, Evelyn La Farge, to Mr. Roger Breckner. I wasn't at all sure they could get it in so soon," she added with something like triumph.

"Do you mean that you put that in the papers?" If Jackie's pretty face had been flushed before, now it was crimson.

"Why, of course, darling." "But I didn't say you could. You didn't even ask me..."

"It scarcely seemed necessary. After all, an announcement always comes from the mother of the bride-to-be..."

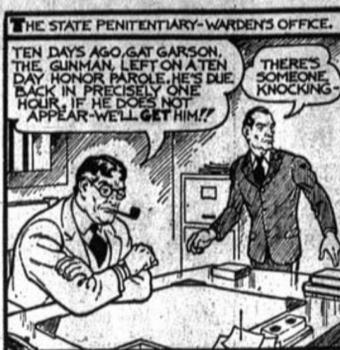

"But I'm not going to be a bride!"

"Not going... Why, my dear child, whatever are you saying!" Evelyn got up to put a cool hand on her daughter's brow, to force her gently to sit down. "Didn't I tell me last night that you and Roger are engaged? Didn't you get up almost before daylight this morning to go see your fiance off—such a pity that the poor dear boy should have to go away practically on the eve of your betrothal..."

"I wish you wouldn't talk that way!" Jackie said. Her face was a thunder-cloud now.

"Of course, darling... Naturally you're upset because Roger had to leave, you're terribly worried about him..."

SCOUT PROGRAM GETS RESULTS

Child Delinquency Is Reduced, Citizenship Improved

That the Boy Scout movement in Manistique, as in hundreds of other communities of the United States is reaping big profits by providing better citizenship and reducing child delinquency is the unqualified opinion of hundreds of local residents, manistique scout leaders have reported. Although the Scout movement was reorganized here only one year ago, considerable progress has already been made, with 150 boys embraced in the program. In addition to the Boy Scout Troops, which embrace 12 years of age and over, Cub Packs have been organized here, which provide a well rounded boys program for lads 9, 10 and 11 years of age. The program for these boys is under parent leadership, and the Cub receive monthly inspections for rating in the various phases of their program, just as do their older brothers who are in Scout troops. Next Monday, a one day campaign to solicit funds for the promotion of the Scouting program here for the ensuing year will be conducted in Manistique. A goal of $1,000 has been fixed, of which $750 will be used as Manistique's part of the expense of maintaining the newly organized Red Buck Council. The remainder will be used to carry on local projects.

The total forest area of North America is almost 1,500,000,000 acres.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys—How To Get Happy Relief

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons, waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MARKET TRENDS ARE IRREGULAR

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES. Compiled by The Associated Press. Net change, 1.1; 15, 2.3; 30, 0.0.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, May 5 (AP)—The stock market lost its rallying urge today to close moderately irregular.

The list dipped at the opening but braced itself in the second hour when utilities developed strong support. Aircrafts and specialties swung upward and it looked for a time as though Wednesday's advance would be extended substantially.

Selling in steels at the last put recovery proponents on the defensive and even utilities and aviation backed away from best levels. Rails, on the whole, held better than even.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was unchanged at 39.1. Transfers expanded to 687,220 shares, due to the relatively fast morning push. The aggregate, even though under the mark at which most commission houses can show a profit, was the largest since April 22.

The power and light company stocks apparently were motivated largely by rumors the administration was getting ready to make some sort of a conciliatory proposal to these concerns.

Steels were handicapped by talk of lower prices for third quarter deliveries, although observers in this field were far from being in accord on this question.

Traders were given a pleasant surprise after the close when Chrysler directors disclosed a profit of 48 cents a share in the first quarter and voted a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common. No payment was made in the initial quarter. In the same 1937 period the corporation earned $2.51 a share. Guesses on the 1938 first quarter operations generally were for a deficit ranging from 50 cents to more than $1 a share, and few expected declaration of a dividend. The stock finished with a loss of 5-8 of a point at 41 3/8. General Motors was unchanged at 50 5/8. After the New York close, Chrysler was lifted sharply on the San Francisco exchange.

Carrier and utility bonds displayed strength. Aiding the loans department were further signs of a break in the new financing dam. Following U. S. Steel's announcement of a $100,000,000 debenture offering for June, Commonwealth Edison, important mid-west utility, revealed it would soon register for the issuance of bonds and debentures probably involving more than $70,000,000.

Most commodities were unchanged to get ahead. Wheat at Chicago was down 3/4 to 7-8 of a cent a bushel and corn was unchanged to up 3-8. Cotton yielded 25 to 40 cents a bale.

Support Gives Curb Some Modest Gains

New York, May 5 (AP)—The curb market attracted enough support for a modest advance today. After a hesitant start utilities and industrial specialties moved ahead for gains ranging from fractions to around 4 points. Extreme gains were shaded by late profit selling.

Cities Service "NW" closed 1/2 higher at 9 1/2; American Gas & Electric up 1/4 at 27; American Light & Traction up 1/4 at 12 5/8; Northern States Power "A" up 5-8 at 10 1/2.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass finished at 74, up 3; Sherwin Williams 83 3/8, up 7-8; Pan American Airways 14 1/2, up 5-8; Newmont 54 3/8, up 2 7/8, and McWilliams Dredging 9 5/8, up 1/4.

Aluminum Co. of America dropped 1 1/2 to 77 1/2. Transactions totalled 124,000 shares against 106,000 yesterday.

GENEROUS GAINS MADE BY BONDS

BOND MARKET AVERAGES. Compiled by The Associated Press. Net change, 1.1; 15, 2.3; 30, 0.0.

New York, May 5 (AP)—Bonds held together the Wall Street investment scene today by scoring gains on wide front.

The market topped its previous efforts in the May upth push which got under way at the start of the week. Rails, out of the running for a long time, came back as leaders with final gains running to around 2 points in some of the secondary ratings.

Utility loans were almost equally impressive, showing many advances of a point or more under buying which trading circles credited to recently appearing signs of more harmonious relations between the federal government and the privately owned power companies.

The better demand for rails was attributed by the further steps taken by Washington authorities to make available to some of the carriers funds for new equipment and other purposes.

Trading continued at a moderate pace, although total volume of $5,256,400 was somewhat ahead of recent sessions. It compared with $4,921,025 yesterday.

U. S. governments, which had guided the market into higher ground since President Roosevelt announced the government's credit expansion policies around mid-April, were somewhat reactionary, with a majority of losses ranging from 1-32 to 12-32 of a point.

Japanese government obligations were soft. In most leading foreign groups fractional gains predominated.

DAY'S MARKETS IN BRIEF

New York, May 5 (AP)—Stocks: Mixed; utilities attract buying.

Bonds: Higher; utilities and industrials in demand.

Foreign Exchange: Soft; French franc breaks to near parity.

Cotton: Quiet; dips on lower cables and mild selling.

Sugar: Uneven; steady spot market.

Coffee: Easier; European selling.

Wheat: Lower; sympathy with Winnipeg.

Corn: Firm; rural offerings curtailed.

Cattle: Supplies cut; strong.

Hogs: Market slow; steady to low level.

CHICAGO BUTTER

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—The butter market today was easy and unsettled.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—Tumble of virtual 3 cents a bushel at Winnipeg made Chicago wheat prices average lower today despite transient fractional gains.

Heavy liquidating sales by holders of Winnipeg May contracts were associated with death of North American export business, together with persistent downturn of Liverpool quotations. Cables said timely rains had halted Italy's threatened crop disaster, and that Australian's threatened bulked large in Europe.

Much talk was heard that the 1938 Canadian crop had been assured an excellent start, and that to tender new crop 1937-38 wheat on the Liverpool July option without loss the offer would have to be at 90 cents, as against present cost of about 85 cents.

At the Chicago wheat futures were 1/4 to 7/8 down compared with yesterday's finish, May 7 1/8 to 8 1/8, July 7 3/8 to 7 7/8; corn unchanged to 3-4 higher, May 1937, July 25 3/4 to 28 7/8, oats showing 1-8 to 3-8 decline, rye varying from 1-8 off to 1-8 up and provisions unchanged to 40 cents setback.

Contributing to price downturns here were suggestions that sharply lower temperatures tonight southwest and west with possible heavy rain and east. At first, however, temporarily at least. At first, however, drenching rains in Kansas last night had added to the price decline.

Chicago May contracts led price decline here, and fell to 78 1/2 cents, off 1-32 cents overnight, but at 79 7/8 to 80.

Corn displayed firmness throughout the day owing to curtailment of rural export liberal, 821 cars today. Export taking cleared 400,000 bushels. Estimated Argentine clearance this week, 1,181,000 bushels, the largest this season. Rye and oats mostly followed wheat.

Warehouse interests were sellers of provisions.

Cubs Swamp Phils, 21-2; Big Guns Win For Tigers

EIGHTH INNING NETS 12 RUNS

Four Pitchers Blasted; Chicago Rookie Gives Only Six Hits

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs presented rookie Paul Epperly with 12 runs in the eighth inning today, but the 20 year old pitcher up from Moline of the Three Eye League did not need them to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 21 to 2, in his major league debut.

Epperly held the Phils to six hits while Rip Collins and Augie Galan blasted out the Cubs' 19th and 20th home runs as part of the 18 hit assault on Wayne LaMaster, Tommy Reis, Pete Sivess and Harold Kelleher. LaMaster was charged with the defeat although he pitched but three balls and a strike to the first batter, Stan Hack, before retiring with a strained arm.

The Cubs' 12 runs in one inning bettered the season's previous major league high of 10 established by Cleveland against Detroit Monday and was within two of the modern record held jointly by the Cubs and the New York Yankees. The Cubs made 10 hits in the single frame.

Hail The Chief!

Thundering into the stretch neck and neck, The Chief, on the outside, and Lawrin furnish racers with a preview of the Kentucky Derby in the Trial Stakes at Churchill Downs, with the former winning by a nose. Stagehand, with whom The Chief formed the Maxwell Howard entry, is shown five lengths back, finishing third. The winning effort equaled the track record of 1:35 4-5 for the mile.

Stagehand Withdrawn From Kentucky Derby

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Louisville, Ky., May 5 (AP)—A bomb exploded unexpectedly in the midst of Kentucky Derby preparations today, left America's most famous horse race practically certain to be without its favorite, Stagehand, and threw the $50,000 classic wider open than ever.
The Earl Sande-trained Cinderella horse, 5 to 2 choice to win Saturday at Churchill Downs as the result of his triumph over Seabiscuit in the Santa Anita handicap last March, was withdrawn when he developed a high temperature from a sore throat.
The fever reached as high as 104.2 degrees last night. When it failed to drop below 101 this morning, owner Maxwell Howard of Dayton, Ohio, announced his ace would not parade to the post and that he would rest his hopes on The Chief, conqueror of Stagehand and Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin Tuesday in the trial stakes. The ailment is similar to that which has kept many two-year-olds out of competition at the Downs this year.
Sande said late today Stagehand's fever had gone down and there was an indication that he would be formally entered for the derby when the books are opened tomorrow, by which the colt would be eligible in case Howard believed him as fit to run by Saturday. He was regarded as a doubtful starter despite this.
Sande said the Colt was normal again but added "the only condition under which we will enter him will be that he is kicking the stalls down (meaning full of life and activity) but I don't think he will be. I'm not going to take any chance with the horse."
Sande himself was reluctant to admit that his string of luck had been broken with the horse that won five straight races on the west coast, whipping Seabiscuit by a nose in the rich Santa Anita handicap after falling to win a race last year. He clung to the hope that a miracle might occur but it was just hope.
"While Stagehand's condition is not serious, I do not believe in taking chances with such a good horse," said The Earl as he walked up and down the barn with only a trace of his familiar smile.
"Even if he shows improvement within the next two or three days, it will still mean I could not start him even in the Preakness, May 14, as it will be at least ten days or two weeks before he can be returned to hard training."
Stagehand's withdrawal was the derby's most severe blow since Equipose, also the future book favorite, pulled up lame on the eve of the 1931 renewal. Stagehand, trained by one of the turf's most popular horsemen, had caught the fancy of the public as few horses have in recent years.
Sande himself had handpicked the colt of J. E. Widener's stable as a two-year-old, paying $3,000 for him chiefly because he was a full brother of Seabiscuit, another Howard star.
The son of Sickle was not much as a juvenile, placing second once and third twice in eight races. He developed into a full fledged star at Santa Anita, however, clinching his California campaign by winning the $50,000 Santa Anita derby and $100,000 handicap within a space of ten days.
The withdrawal reduced the probable starting field to ten, the smallest since ten faced William Woodward's Fighting Fox into the favorite's position and rallied support for Warren Wright's Bull Lea, Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin and Hal Price Headley's Menow. Although The Chief equaled the track record for a mile in the derby trial, he is considered no such formidable contender as was Stagehand.

Barenders Toss Balls Instead Of Drinks; Lose 12-11

Bats and balls flew through the air with greatest abandon last night in the grudge game between the state liquor commission employees and the Escanaba bartenders, played at the old brewery diamond. A final checkup of the score showed the liquor commission ahead by a margin of 12 to 11.
Several errors in judgment cost the bartenders the game. Pat Foye didn't have his glasses (spectacles) and couldn't hit the ball, but he hit the catcher instead. A flighty bat, slipping out of Pat's hands, described a parabola, caromed off Mike Greis, and hopped a player on the snozle. Then again, with the bases full in the ninth, Greis was up to bat, but couldn't be found. He thought the game was over and held down half of an automobile seat instead of the home plate.
One of the bartender stars, known as the "white father of the Sherman hotel," cut across from first base to third to simplify his base-running, but neglected to touch third, and the score wasn't counted.
Mike Walsh, veteran ump, officiated at the regatta, and did a faultless job, considering the complicated plays attempted.
Councilman R. B. Stack, former star pitcher, threw the first ball to start the game. It was estimated that 3,000 people watched the evening battle.

RUDY YORK HAS TWO HOMERUNS

Fistfight in Fifth Sends Tebbetts to Showers; Sox Lose, 7 to 5

Boston, May 5 (AP)—Detroit's big stogie guns—Rudy York and Hank Greenberg—slugged the Tigers to a 7 to 5 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the series finale here today, Rudy slamming out two home runs and Hank one.
Some other slugging—by Catcher George Tebbetts of Detroit and Right Fielder Ben Chapman of Boston, using fists instead of bats,—brought their banishment from the game in the fifth and broke up a Boston rally.
Vernon Kennedy, the former Chicago White Sox hurler, got credit for winning his third game for Detroit, although Slicker Coffman was called to quell a Red Sox uprising in the last of the ninth.
Schoolboy May Pitch
The victory gave the Tigers their first series of an eastern tour, two games to one. They invaded New York tomorrow with Schoolboy Rowe or Elden Auker slated to face the Yankees.
York, starting the game at left field, was hitless until after the fight that sent Tebbetts to the showers and brought the big Cherokee back to his catching pads. Then he made up for lost time by duplicating Greenberg's home run in the sixth inning, and blasting another in the eighth, this time scoring Greenberg who had singled. York's second homer broke a 4-4 tie and scored what proved to be the winning run.
Fred Ostermuller, who started on the mound for Boston, was the victim of the sixth-inning homers. York's second was hit off Archie McKain. Greenberg's homer was his fifth of the season; York's two brought his total to three.
The Red Sox seemed well on the way toward breaking up the ball game when the Tebbetts-Chapman fistfight occurred. The Tigers had taken a one-run lead on Don Ross's single, Willie Rogell's double and Kennedy's infield out.
The fireworks started in the Boston fifth. Five men in succession hit safely. Roger Cramer opened the inning with a triple. Joe Vosmik scratched a single to Ross, Cramer holding third, and both runners scored when Jimmie Fox hit his fourth home run of the year. Joe Cronin doubled to left and Higgins singled to right. Cronin scored on a wild pitch.
Then Chapman came out to bat. Kennedy struck him out, and Chapman argued a strike decision with Plate Umpire Russ Tebbetts also getting into the dispute. A few insults were tossed as Chapman left the plate, and he and Tebbetts met swinging. Other players separated the fighters, who were escorted to the clubhouse.
York came in to catch and Roy Cullenbine replaced him in left. Nonnenkamp went to right field for Boston.
The fight apparently settled Kennedy's pitching. Two ties by the next batters accounted for the second and third outs of the inning, and then the Tigers started to get back into the game.
The two sixth inning homers cut Boston's lead to a single run, and Kennedy batted in the tying run in the seventh, scoring Cullenbine who had walked and gone to second on Rogell's sacrifice.
Coffman Halts Rally
York's second circuit cut out Detroit in the lead and they scored another in the ninth off Ruff Hurler Charles Wagner, filling the bases with one out on two singles and a walk. Rogell scored the seventh Detroit run as Charley Gehring, who went hitless in five times at the plate today, hit into a force play.
Cronin walked to start the Red Sox ninth, and when Higgins singled Cochrane sent Coffman to replace Kennedy. Cronin scored from third after Nonnenkamp's long fly, but then the Slicker ended matters by fanning Pinch Batters Fabian Gafko and John Marcum.

Old Diz Tames Down, Nurses $185,000 Arm

BY EARL HILLIGAN

Chicago, May 5 (AP)—Baseball's one and only Dizzy Dean worked out like a lowly rookie today—with his $185,000 arm just so much excess baggage.
The famed pitcher, for whom the Chicago Cubs turned over that much cash and three players less than three weeks ago to the St. Louis Cardinals, began the campaign he hopes will eliminate the arm soreness which threatens to knock a big hole in the Cub pennant chances.
Old Diz, whose high-priced arm was X-rayed yesterday and found to be handicapped by an inflammation of a shoulder muscle, was not the loquacious Dean of old as he jogged around the lonely outfield expanse of windswept Wrigley Field, with three young sandlot hopefuls for company. He wasn't popping off. He said he wasn't discouraged, but made it plain he was serious about making good—within 30 days—on a comeback to former greatness.
"Maybe it's the best thing after all that they found out something was definitely wrong with my arm," he said, sniffing a little with a sigh. "I suspected things weren't right several days ago and I know I haven't been in good physical shape this year, mainly because I was sick during the first weeks of training. I weigh 193 pounds now and my best pitching weight is 185. When I get down to that and my arm gets rested, I'm sure I'll be all right again."
Manager Charlie Grimm ordered Dean to take daily running drills to increase his endurance powers, obviously at low ebb in Dean's four appearances on the hill as a Cub, even though he is credited with three victories and no defeats. He finished only one nine inning stretch and complained of "being sold" against Philadelphia Tuesday.
Dean threw no balls today and he won't use his arm for another two weeks. Then, for another fortnight, he will gradually limber up the "whip" which once blazed them past batsmen in a manner which gained Diz recognition as one of the greatest moundsmen of the modern baseball era.
Manager Grimm and Dean's teammates readily voice confidence that Dean, by June 4, will be ready for his regular turn on the hill and a chance to win what Diz maintains will count up to 20 victories for the season. Last year Tex Carleton suffered arm soreness and had his arm in a cast for a month. When he returned to duty he became the best Cub pitcher, and the Cubs now, with fingers crossed, are hoping Dean's case will turn out as well.

TERRY'S GIANTS GIVEN SETBACK

Cincinnati Reds Take 5-2 Decision, Grab Series 2 to 1

Cincinnati, May 5 (AP)—The Reds took a 5 to 2 decision from Terry's New York Giants today and thereby handed the National League champions their first series setback of the year. Today's win gave the Reds the set, two games to one.
Mel Ott's wild peg past first in a tight spot in the eighth inning left the Giants' defenses down enough to permit the Reds to shove three runs across, break a tie, and give Jim Weaver and Ray Benge the decision over Harry Gumbert, who went the route for Terry's Terriers.
The hero was Benge who was summoned in the eighth when Weaver found himself on a spot with Giants on every base and two balls and no strikes on Lou Chiozza at the plate. Benge took over and fanned Lou to stop the Giants' last threat.
Score by innings:
New York 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 6 1

League Entries Must Be Filed By Thursday Night

All teams planning to enter the senior softball league must file an official entry with the city recreation department on or before 9:00 p. m. Thursday, May 12. League play will start Monday, May 16.
All indications point to the biggest softball season since 1934. Nearly all of last year's teams are entering again this year and many new teams have been organized and will enter by the deadline date. Among the new teams are the State Highway, Carlson's, Indians, Delta Hardware, Forest Service, Columbian Squires, Fair Store, Gambles, Coca Cola, and one or two other teams who have not selected a name. If all teams enter that have planned to do so, there will be approximately twenty teams in the senior league alone.

Veteran And Rookie Both Alike To Bees

St. Louis, May 5 (AP)—The Boston Bees swarmed on rookie Max Macon and veteran Guy Bush for nine hits, one a homer, in the fifth and sixth innings today to take the final game of their first series of the season with the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 2.
The game started as a pitcher's battle between the young Macon and 32-year-old Milburn Shoemaker. The first four innings were scoreless and hits were few.
Then in the fifth four hits and a walk gave the Bees three runs. The score was climaxed by Cooney's double.
Score by innings:
Boston 0 0 0 0 5 9 0
St. Louis 0 0 0 0 2 0 2 8 0
Shoemaker and Mueller; Macon, Bush, Harrell and Owen.

WOLVES MEET ILLINI OUTFIT

Only Dual Track Meet of Season Will Be Held Saturday

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 5.—(Special)—Michigan's Conference championship track team, undefeated this year, will make its only home appearance of the outdoor season here Saturday in a dual meet with Illinois.
The Illini are expected to offer slight opposition to Michigan's team power and balance but close competition in all events is predicted on the basis of past performances.
Illinois strength is expected to assert itself in the sprints, hurdles, high jump, shot, discus and relay.
In the sprints Bill Lehmann, Bob Ashley and Nugent (Shotgun) Wedding will be favored over Michigan's entries, Bill Watson, Norm Purucker and Jim Rae. In the hurdles the Illini have Jack Robinson, former Conference indoor high barriers champion and Dick Brunton; who will face fourth outdoors. They will face Elmer Gedeon as favorite, however, despite the fact Gedeon has been concentrating on baseball during the spring.
In the high jump Bob Diefenthaler, who was third in the Big Ten outdoor meet and who has shot for 6 feet 8 inches in the winter, will meet Michigan's sophomore ace, Wes Allen, who is consistent around 6 feet 4 inches. George Gragg, with throws of better than 48 feet, will be the Illini hope in the shot against Bill Watson and in the discus Dean Fry, Drake Relays champion, will attempt to take the measure of Watson and John Townsend.
Best race of the meet is predicted in the mile relay. The Illini, at the Drake Relays last week ran the distance in 5:13 while Michigan, at the Penn Relays, was finishing fifth in 3:26.

EBEN TO ENTER MEET AT ROCK

Defending Champions In Class C to Open Track Season

Chatham, May 4.—In an effort to fill many vacancies in the 1937 upper peninsula Class C and Alger county track and field championship team, resulting from graduation, transfers and accidents, Coach MacNeil has been drilling his Eben high school athletes hard in preparation for their first meet.
With strong competition on tap from Trenary, Munising and Grand Marais in the Alger county meet and from all Class C teams in other meets, the boys are working faithfully in the hope of attaining laurels won last year.
As Rock Saturday
Eben will compete at Rock Saturday and on May 14 the boys travel to Negaunee for the district meet. The Alger county track and field meet will be held May 18, and the upper peninsula regional is scheduled for Houghton, May 21. Topping things off, the Eben track and field men will enter the Northern relays at Marquette May 25 and the Escanaba relays on Memorial Day.
The high school girls' track and field team is improving rapidly. On Friday, May 6, entries in the junior girls' and boys' teams will be settled when the Rock River township meet is held at Chatham. Coach MacNeil is taking the following junior high relay team to Rock Saturday: Walfred Haqqola, Oliver Salmi, Howard Ylisen, Arnold Kall

NEW BUDGET IS GIVEN HEARING

Diversified Program Is Considered By Councilmen

Such widely diversified items as a current budget, state sales tax, bank night, Chamber of Commerce and the city band occupied the minds of members of the city council at their regular meeting last night.

Copies of the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 were distributed but discussion was held on only one item—the city band appropriation. Frank Karas, band director, explained to the council that the band members felt they should be given an increase in their budget allowance to compensate for the additional concerts they will be required to play this year. He pointed out that none of the band members actually made any money last year, all purchasing their uniforms with the money they received for playing. Karas said most of the band members have opportunities to play in orchestras on Fourth of July, Labor Day and other special holidays and, unless the financial inducement for playing in the band was sufficient, most of them would not be available on those days, when they are needed for local celebrations. Members of the council expressed sympathy with Karas' opinions but said, in view of the present unfavorable economic conditions, they did not feel that the allowance could be increased.

Mrs. Matt Decker carried on her campaign on the sales tax issue, claiming that many Escanaba merchants are charging one cent tax on 15c purchases. She contended that that is contrary to the state law and presented a letter from the attorney general, which, she said, expressed the illegality of the procedure. Upon reading by the city manager, however, it developed that the state law does not prohibit merchants from charging any set tax as long as the total tax collected does not exceed the amount which the firm pays the state. The law specifies that merchants may add to the sale price an amount not to exceed three per cent. The ruling expressed in the attorney general's opinion to Mrs. Decker was to the effect that the printing of placards proclaiming any rate as being set by the state was illegal. Mrs. Decker was informed that, if she doubts some local merchants are operating within the law, she has only to call in a state inspector, who will check sales against the tax returns filed by that firm.

The city manager presented a letter requesting that the council outlaw the bank night in the local theatre. Councilman Carl B. Johnson said:

"Yes, sometime ago, we did away with slot machines but we left the biggest gambling affair in the city when we failed to get rid of the bank night."

Richter Approves

The former mayor declared that the city ought to put a stop to bank night, pointing out that too many people, who cannot afford it, are foolishly spending their money weekly on bank night simply because they are afraid not to patronize the theatre for fear of having their name called. Councilman Carl Richter, on the other hand, said people should be allowed to spend their money as they wish and it was no concern of the council's how they spend it. Johnson then declared that the council should be consistent, saying that the same problem was involved when they outlawed slot machines. After several expressions on the subject from the audience, the council agreed to request, ruling from the attorney general on the legality of bank night.

The council was definitely divided on the subject of a budget appropriation of $500 for the Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Peter Logan suggested that the fund be turned into the contingency and made payable only upon approval by the council. Councilmen R. E. Stack and Harold Gasman protested, pointing to the good work being done by the chamber of commerce, and saying that the $500 is well spent. Richter entered the argument, holly proclaiming that 65 per cent of the city taxes are paid by the working class, which, he said, are opposed to such payment to the Chamber of Commerce. Johnson closed the argument by saying that, although he entertained ideas as to waste in certain phases of the Chamber of Commerce, he heartily approved of the allotment because, he said, the Chamber of Commerce assumes a great deal of work which the city would be required to handle were the former body not in existence. He told of the large amount of his work as former mayor being taken care of by the Chamber of Commerce.

The city manager was instructed to investigate the possibility of constructing a power line for several customers at Ford River with old copper line and by having the customers supply and erect the necessary poles.

The manager was authorized to install water meters in homes in the city which now are paying a flat rate.

A petition for construction of sanitary sewers in the 1400 block of North 21, 22 and 23 streets was denied because of lack of sufficient signatures and prohibitive cost of constructing a pumping station.

Half Of Northern Michigan Will Be Recreation Areas

Lansing, May 4 (AP)—Expecting to double its land holdings upon completion of the state tax sale, the conservation department today pondered the statement of P. J. Hoffmaster, its director, that reversion of private lands to the state may some day bring 50 per cent of land north of the Bay City-Muskegon line into public recreational areas.

The conservation department will receive all tax delinquent land unsold in the tax sale yesterday after 15 months it is not redeemed by the delinquent owner. The state may not take full possession, however, for another two years.

Taking estimates that between 3,000,000 and 8,000,000 acres of land will revert to the conservation department, Hoffmaster pointed out that this would at least double the 3,500,000 acres the department now administers. The Federal park service operates over a total area of 500,000 acres, 30 per cent of which it owns.

Hoffmaster said that large plots of land—of 10,000 acres or more—received by the department would be turned into state parks even though the property is not all in one solid piece. Small plots will be placed on-the market, he said.

Hoffmaster indicated the department would probably continue its policy of trading good parcels of land for lots to swell existing parks and forests or to obtain water frontage for inland sections which might make other public parks.

He contradicted those who are dubious about the extensive reversion of land to the state, declaring that Michigan has plenty of good farm land at present and the state will benefit from turning the northern lands back to their natural state for recreational purposes.

"Michigan has suffered little from erosion because of its trees and it has some of the finest streams in the world for the same reason. From a recreational standpoint—and the people of Michigan have found that means a sizeable revenue—the state is far better off than if its lands were all in agricultural production," Hoffmaster said.

Hoffmaster envisioned the day when possibly 50 per cent of Northern Michigan would be in hunting and fishing areas, park lands and public forests.

Scientific research, especially in the field of Chemistry, the director said, has indicated that the state's development of timber land is following the trend of industry and may become a resource valuable in more ways than the purely recreational.

PATROL BOAT LEAVES DIS'T

Conservation Department Ship Taken to St. Joseph

Conservation Officer Dick Lahti left yesterday morning on the conservation department's local patrol boat for St. Joseph where the vessel has been transferred for use by Officer Fay Warner of Stevensville.

The patrol boat has been used to patrol Green bay waters from Delta county to the state line at Wisconsin for about ten years and last year was operated by Officers Lahti and Ervin Bely. The latter was transferred for duty at Traverse City several weeks ago on the department's large boat, which patrols most of the territory around the state. Lahti, it is understood, will remain in the local district under command of Capt. C. J. Allers, and by a speed boat stationed at the local headquarters.

Lahti was accompanied to St. Joseph on the boat by Fire Warden Putvin of Garden.

Feels One Hundred Per Cent Better Since The KruGon

Gas, Bloating, Indigestion Now In The Past; Rheumatism Wonderfully Relieved; Feels Like a Different Man

"KruGon worked wonders in my case for it accomplished what all others had made me believe impossible," said Mr. Nestor Make, Route No. 1, Box 396, Ironwood, Michigan. "For the past three years I have been a victim of severe stomach trouble. Indigestion, gas and bloating followed each meal I ate and the discomfort I endured from this condition was indescribable. My bowels were so irregular that my entire system had become filled with poisons. Rheumatism attacked me and settled in my back causing such pain that at times I thought I could surely never stand it any longer. I tried everything I came in contact with, hoping I would eventually find some means of relief but met only with failure until I was finally persuaded to give this new KruGon a trial.

"KruGon gave me results even greater than I dared hope for," continued Mr. Make. "After taking just one box I felt like a different person. My stomach and bowels have been regulated, those terrible gas pains are greatly relieved and rheumatism is being driven from my system. I feel 100 per cent better in every way, gaining in strength and energy and cannot find words strong enough to praise KruGon as it deserves."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ladington St., this city.

"KruGon gave me results even greater than I dared hope for," continued Mr. Make. "After taking just one box I felt like a different person. My stomach and bowels have been regulated, those terrible gas pains are greatly relieved and rheumatism is being driven from my system. I feel 100 per cent better in every way, gaining in strength and energy and cannot find words strong enough to praise KruGon as it deserves."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ladington St., this city.
