The New Uniforms.

Tramp! tramp! comes the band in natty olive and gold uniforms, black puttees and shoes, and military looking caps and Sam Brown belts. "Keen!" "Spiffy!" were some of the exclamations heard. We would add to that, distinctive and distinguished looking to say the least. There are few college bands that can boast of such fine uniforms and President Munson should be complimented for making it possible for Northern to have such fine equipment.

Being "all dressed up," the band seemed to be able to give us even finer music than usual. They put pep and vitality into both fans and players that has not been surpassed so far this season. What we couldn't do with everybody there, and everybody cheering!

Friday night the team made its last appearance on the home floor. The students were there! With that team! With that band! With the roar of a cheering mob of lusty students Central had a job on their hands!

Make your Kawbawgam—get your picture in it.

Dutch Dates.

At Northwestern University they have tried out the scheme of equal sharing of expenses between men and women. The argument is that the women are earning so much money compared to what they used to do that it seemed justifiable to make 'em pay half the expenses incurred on a date.

Caution.

This is the eighth week of this term. It is not too early to keep those finals in mind. The idea should be to work towards and not during them.

The High Pressure Fellow.

The fellow who procrastinates in his work—hands in English themes late and crams for exams and still gets an average mark is highly in disfavor with the professors. He should be condemned for being so lazy but complimented on his ability. What ability? The ability to turn out acceptable work in a short time. He's the man they want in business because he can do things in a short time.

There is something in this.

Kawbawgam.

Are you a loyal Northerner? Here's your chance to prove you are. The Kawbawgam drive begins Thursday, February 28, and ends March 14. Every loyal Northerner will subscribe to the school annual. Don't be a slacker!

There will be twenty-four salesmen who will take Kawbawgam orders. An initial deposit of one dollar must be made with your order. Remember, folks, the dead-line for orders is March 14! If your first payment is not made by that date you will be unable to purchase an annual for 1920. The price of the Kawbawgam is $3.00, and the 2nd payment of $2.00 is due on or before May 1.

A record will be kept of the percentage of sales in each class which will be posted daily on the bulletin board. Come on, Frosh; wake up and head the list with 100% sales!

The sales staff is composed of: Roland Anderson, Dewey Kalembar, Charles Beaulieu, Faye Scanlon, Le Verne Nicholls, Wilmur Savola, Agnes Johnson, Thalia Campbell, Walter Meyland, Myrtle Nyquist, Katharine Watson, Lillian Griffin, John Hicks, Marion Palmer, Mary Orella, Doc Collins, Norma Johnson, Lila Koivunen, Raino Koivunen, Gust Carlson, Eida Bayless, Percy Chubb.

Meet Two Familiar Friends.

Sour faces — cynical
Lodger-care faces — disappointed
Faces — angry faces — wondering
Flabbergasted faces — wondering
Dazed vacant faces — silent
Cause — flunk slip.
Grinning jovial expressions — Oh, Boy expressions — proud expressions — satisfied, complacent expressions — whoopee! Cause — superior slip.

In a fast preliminary the Freshmen defeated Ishpeming "Y" 35-29. The Y. M. C. A. team led through most of the game, but the Frosh, led by Pizoli (with twelve points to his credit), staged a sensational last quarter rally that set them well in the lead. Robichaud's defense work was the other outstanding factor in the Frosh victory. MacDougal of Ishpeming showed his old speed, but some lack of team play by trying to stage a one man offense. The shooting of Holman and Hocking was the "Y's" strong forte.

Northern Loses Return Game at Oshkosh 34-24.

In a game that was marred by excessive roughness Oshkosh evened the score for her defeat by Northern at Marquette. Oshkosh was penalized by fourteen personal fouls to Northern's seven. Plenke, Oshkosh guard, rolled up fourteen points on his uncanny distance shots, while Treado, Northern's high point man, was held down to three field goals. This was Northern's second defeat to six victories.

CAMPUS NOTES

The Hotel Marquette was the scene of a very pretty party on the evening of Saturday, February the ninth, when the Cegner Seg sorority held their annual formal birthday banquet in observance of their sixth anniversary.

The beautiful table decorations added much to make the celebration a delightfully memorable one. Appointments were cleverly and artistically affected in the sorority colors, rose and silver. A large white birthday cake, ornamented with a wreath of tiny rosebuds, leaves, and silver candles encircling the words "Cegner Seg" made an attractive centerpiece. The scheme of the sorority colors and flowers, the rosebud, was carried out further by the rose candles set in silver sticks and dainty rose-petalled nut cups with place cards matching.

In addition to Mrs. C. Bowman, patroness, regular members and pledges, there were five alumni present: Miss Jean Pearce, Gladys Wiggins, Eileen Stafford, Anne Johnson and Anne Jokkila.

Miss Katherine Watson, sorority president, was toastmistress. Brief talks were given by Mrs. Bowman and the alumni. Charlotte MacCauley spoke for the new members and Lois Tucker in behalf of the pledges.

L'Alliance Francaise enjoyed the presentation of a one-act comedy, "Le Franche Lippes" (The Free Lunches) in the Home Economics room. The cast included the following six members of Le Theatre class: Doris Ware, Isabel Betts, Elsie Tuori, Doris Carlson, Alice Blom and Ruth Blythe. The last three proved to be veritable "Beau Brummels" in their masculine roles. The play was an entertaining one with its setting in a Parisian cafe; the complications were due to the enthusiastic desire on the part of each couple to make one of the other two settle the bill. The characters were cleverly portrayed and the summary given by Mlle. Archambeault in English made the play as interesting for those who were not advanced students of French.

Following the play delicious refreshments were served, Mlle. Archambeault pouring.

Do You Get the Lucky "Breaks" Image of a building

In nearly every football game there comes a time when one team or the other gets a lucky "break." And in nine cases out of ten the "break" goes to the team that shows the most skill in following the ball.

In the winning of financial success it is much the same. Almost invariably it is the man with ready-money who gets the "breaks." Place yourself in readiness for opportunity by opening a Savings Account in this bank today.

The Forum Debating Society enjoyed a waffle supper at Evergreen Inn last Wednesday evening, February twentieth. High honors in waffle capacity went to Miss Andrea White with the Misses Alice Maynard and Elsie Trevis tied for a close second.

After the supper the question "Resolved, that the lecture method should replace the recitation plan at N. S. T. C.," was debated. The affirmative was upheld by Sylvia Forslund and Andrea White; their opponents were Elsie Lehto and Alice Halstead. Following the debate Juanita Buzzo entertained with a dramatic selection.

Gamma Phi Alpha held its formal initiation and banquet Saturday, Feb. 16th. The initiatory ceremony was held in the S. R. Anderson home, 619 Spruce street, and the following six pledges were accepted into the sorority: Miss Margaret Jane Walker, of Marquette; Miss Ruth Spurr, of Calumet; Miss Agnes Pazdornik, of Bessemer; Miss Marie Pastore, of South Range; Miss Mae Bant, of Calumet, and Miss Marion Wallin, of Iron Mountain.

Dinner was served in the Hotel Marquette at 7 o'clock. Covers were laid for 18. Red tulips and tall candles were in keeping with the heart place cards and tiny keepsie dolls held aloft hearts which bore the sorority insignia. The "cracker" favors were colorful and entertaining.

Dinner was followed by a brief program with Miss Isabel Betts, president, presiding as toastmistress. Miss Margaret Jane Walker spoke on behalf of the new members and Miss Betts for the sorority. President Munson was the only other speaker on the program.

The other guests at dinner were Miss Brand, faculty advisor, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Bryce and Mr. and Mrs. Flodin.

Phi Kappa Nu entertained Wednesday evening, February the thirtieth, in the Home Economics room. The hours were from four to five o'clock.

Guests were received by the sorority president, Miss Alice Blom, and Misses Dorothy Wetton and Dorothy Robinson. The Misses Marjorie King and Viola Penigor poured and served.

The rooms and tables were cleverly and prettily decorated in sorority colors, blue and yellow.

A regular meeting of Mathematics Club was held on Tuesday, Feb. 12. The business meeting consisted of: A motion was presented and adopted that the professors take part in the programs, and Miss Hiney was assigned the main topic for the next meeting.

The program consisted of the following talks: Miss Short, who chose as her topic, "A New International Calendar," opened the program; this was followed by "The Life Of Des Cartes," given by Miss La Bonte. As a concluding number on the program Miss Solka questioned our abilities by the use of problems.

Order your Kawhawgam early.

The Minervan Debating Society held their regular meeting last Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock in room 207.

After a brief discussion of various matters of business the debate of the evening was held. The question was, "Resolved, that big business is detrimental to the best interests of the United States." The affirmative was upheld by Lucille Robinson and Helen Evans; the negative by Elna Granskog and Mabel Smith. The decision favored the negative.

The regular meeting of Schecode was held on the afternoon of February the twelfth.

A short business meeting was held, after which the girls, directed by Miss Ward, made valentines. Cookies were served by Miss Spalding.

The Schecode pins have arrived and are being proudly displayed by members. All who have been active for one term are eligible to secure pins. New members are required to attend regularly and display genuine interest for one term before they can be classified as regular and active members.

The pins are very pretty and have a clever and attractive significance. They are miniature gold jewelry set with three stones of yellow, red and blue, the primary colors from which all other colors may be made. Three brushes lie across one edge of the palette. Guards are small "Ns" which stand, of course, for Northern.

The following clipping has been received from a former student at Northern, now at Western State, at Kalamazoo:

"Plans are being made by the Oteyokva Club of Western State Teachers College to give a party on the evening of Feb. 27 for the members of the Northern State Teachers College Basketball team which will play Western State here that evening."

"The Oteyokva Club is made up entirely of students from the Upper Peninsula."

This shows that Northern students at Western are active, and we are sure our boys will have a great time, meeting old friends, and getting together so far away from the home campus.

On Tuesday, Feb. 12, the Manual Arts Club held a meeting at which the members of the club were favored by two informal speeches. Toivo Mattson made his contribution to the club when he spoke on the topic, "Our Grammar as Prospective Teachers"; this was followed by some interesting information in regard to "Building Trades and Occupations," given by William Erickson.

On Valentine's Day the Third and Fourth grades were entertained by their critics, Miss Herald and Miss Mehnert, and the student teachers.

The room was attractively decorated. Long white streamers tipped with red hearts hung from the chandeliers and red hearts were hung in the windows. The tables were set with white crepe paper doilies cut in fancy designs. Center decorations were made by covering empty paste jars with red paper with a white band. Bouquets of wired hearts were placed in them to represent flowers. The red and white scheme was carried out in the candy cups and the napkins.

After a program by the pupils of the two grades a lunch of Eskimo pies, heart-shaped cookies, and candies was served.

The Fourth Grade room is on the south side of the building, so the children have good opportunity to watch the movement of the sun. They have been watching the shadow in the room move farther and farther back until in December the sun shone on the wall opposite from the windows. Now they are watching the shadow recede as the sun climbs higher. They want to know why this happens, and watch to see how far the shadow will retreat and if it will, some day, start moving toward the wall again. The children are also watching their own shadows out-of-doors and noticing the following:

1. The shadow's length in the morning, at noon, and in the evening.
2. The direction in which the shadow falls at different times of the day.

When the pupils of the fifth grade discussed ways of observing the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, they decided that pictures could be collected for making booklets or drawn for making picture shows, stories could be written, told, or dramatized. The best material was to be used when a program was given for their mothers. Each pupil made an effort to find something worth while that he could contribute. Those who found an abundance of material divided with those who had less. Try-outs were held to decide who should read "The Gettysburg Address" and "The Letter to Mrs. Bixby." When the program was given, the pupils agreed that it was the best one of this year.

After studying the Seventeenth Century Lyrics the Senior English Class decided they would like to do some composing. The following poems represent some of the results:

Shattered Hopes.
When I wake up in the morning,
And the air is sharp and cold,
And the rest of all creation
Is still sleeping, so we're told;
Then I drag my weary footsteps
To the school house, miles away,
And I breathe a prayer while walking—
"Hope that school won't meet to-day."

I approach the dear old building,
Oh, the windows, how they shine,
And the ventilators working,
And the chimney's smoking fine,
Then I feel almost discouraged
All my hopes have been in vain,
For I know that school will function,
In the sunshine or in rain.

Yet the folks who now have finished
With their hectic high school life,
Looking on will sigh and wonder
Why we live in such a strife,
Say: If they could live it over
They would never by so dense
As to spend their lives as we do—
Contradicting common sense.

Tulips.
A thousand bulbs we planted low
And smoothed the ground with cautious care,
Then fell the soft and furry snow
Covering the ground grown cold and bare.
Yet all the winter, warm and dry,

The Tri Mu Quartet is gaining popularity. Their delightful program at Morgan Heights some time ago brought a request to appear before the "mike" at Station WISH, Ishpeming. Consequently, the yodelers appeared one Sunday afternoon and made their debut as radio artists with a number of popular selections. Reports fail to indicate whether the songs are still as popular as previous to their rendition by the quartet, but the number of solicitations for "more of them" flatters the entertainers not a little. The songsters returned happy, except for Elvin Niemi, whose hopes for a future were blasted when the management would not permit him to yodel out of consideration for their listening fans. The quartet consists of Norman Corlett, Rushton Strongman, Elvin Niemi, and Clarence Tamblin.

At the regular assembly on Feb. 14 the Girls' String Ensemble entertained us. Following this Prof. Kaye spoke to us about "College Life." He defined a college education as "a yardstick for the purpose of measuring ourselves with other young men and women." To the surprise of some of us, Prof. Kaye advanced some very modern theories, always, however, leading back to his main point of leadership in college life and leadership in the world.

Needless to say we enjoyed Mr. Kaye and hope to hear from him again soon.

During the week of the Superior game several Tri Mu Alumni visited their fraternity brothers here. They were: Joseph Leonard, who is teaching Phy Ed. in the Junior High School at Flint; Leo Godin, superintendent of schools at Powers, Mich., and Clarence Tamblin, of Ishpeming.
