U. P. EDUCATORS CONVENE SATURDAY

IN STEP WITH JOHNNY DOUGHBOY

ENLISTMENTS OPEN TO YOUNGER BOYS

Young Men To Be Enlisted as Apprentice Seamen, Class V-5.

Seventeen-year-olds may now apply for Navy pilot training through a new program that is to go into effect immediately, it has been announced by the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in Chicago, as preparations are being made to handle this group which was not eligible for enlistment in the Navy Air Force under the previously required minimum age of 18 years.

Youths eligible through the new plan will be required to receive a recommendation from their high school principal or college administrative head before being permitted to take the Naval aviation cadet examinations. On passing these examinations they will be sworn in immediately but will not be called into training before they reach their 18th birthday and have been graduated from high school.

To be eligible now for enlistment under the program, seventeen-year-olds attending high school must be attending the senior class and be enrolled in the senior class and be graduated by June 30. Applicants also must have a scholastic standing in the upper half of the class, before asking for a recommendation. Physical requirements are the same as previously prescribed for Naval aviation cadets.

In the cases of those graduated from high school but not currently attending college, applicant must have ranked in the upper half of his class and receive a recommendation from his high school principal. Applicants now attending college are required to have the scholastic ability to maintain a standing in the upper two thirds of their class and to be recommended by the head of the college.

Transportation to the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in Chicago—where the formal aviation cadet examinations are given—will be provided to recommended applicants in the outlying territory. This transportation will be forwarded direct to the applicant by the Board immediately on receipt of recommendation from the school principal or college head.

All men accepted for this program will be enlisted as Apprentice Seamen, Class V-5, and later transferred to aviation cadet. Those who enlisted now but do not graduate from high school will be placed in Class V-6 and ordered to active duty in the Naval service.

Graduate Receives Teaching Promotion

W. Earl Holman, an alumnus of Northern, has been advanced from the position of assistant principal of Jackson high school to principal. His appointment is effective at the close of the current semester. Holman has been in the Jackson school system since 1936, when he became a teacher of history and geography at the high school. He became assistant principal in 1938. He holds an A.B. degree from Northern which he obtained in 1929 and a Master's degree from the U. of Michigan in 1935. He had six years experience as a teacher in Ironwood before going to Jackson.

MANISTIQUE TEAM WINS TOP HONORS; ISHPEMING SECOND

High School Teams Participate in Debate Meet at Northern.

On Friday and Saturday, January 16-17, representatives from seven high schools met at a final tournament at N.M.C.E. to determine the U.P. High School debate champion.

The debate question was: "Resolved, that a federal world government should be established."

The debates evolved through four rounds. Of the seven teams participating (Ishpeming, Bessemer, Iron River, Manistique, Watersmeet, Gladstone, and Escanaba), Manistique and Ishpeming emerged with a tie after winning four debates apiece. The tie was broken by the decision of the judges (Miss Eula Jack, Miss Mildred Magers, and Mr. Forrest Roberts) on the evaluation and rating of the schools.

The awards were made on Saturday noon at a dinner at the college. All participating schools received a plaque presented by the University of Michigan. Manistique High School, as the first place winner, received the large U. of M. trophy. Ishpeming, second place winner, received a smaller U. of M. trophy.

Two Manistique team members will receive gold watches from the Detroit Free Press. From each of the Manistique and Ishpeming teams, debaters, respectively, will receive free tuition at N.M.C.E. The exact winners are as yet uncertain. At the conclusion of the tournament, Miss Marilyn Sundell of Manistique and Patrick White of Iron River were voted into first place by all the debaters as being the most effective opponents. The Misses Lenore Olson and Charlotte Nelson of Gladstone were runners-up in the pooled votes.

The second semester begins with student enrollment on February 8, 1943. The schedule for enrollment by classes is as follows: Seniors: 8:00 to 9:30; Juniors: 9:30 to 11:00; Sophomores: 11:00 to 11:30 and 1:00 to 2:00; Freshmen: 2:00 to 3:00. It is important that students remember to bring the tentative enrollment slips which were filled out during conferences with advisers. This is your admission.

COLLEGE PRESENTS WAR CHEM. COURSE

In cooperation with the war effort, N. M. C. E. is giving a special chemistry course. It is one of the Engineering Science Management War Training Courses. Dr. Hunt is the instructor.

The object of this course is to prepare technicians for routine analysis in defense laboratories or plants. There is a great demand for such people. Upon completion of this course government positions from $155 to $175 a month can be applied for.

The class meets four times a week from 7 to 10 in the evening. At present there are eleven members but Dr. Hunt would like a few more.

Students taking the course will receive four semester hours credit for it. The class is open to anyone with a high school education having taken chemistry. Although the class began January 14, anyone interested could easily make up the back work. The course will be completed April 26.

SERVICE MEN

Walter J. Davis, Marquette, whom we all remember for his "trumpet tooting" is having a busman's holiday in the Army. He is bugler for his squadron!

He is in the Army Aviation Cadet School in San Antonio, Texas, undergoing training as a navigator.

Joseph Desonia, former Northern student and member of the Tri Mu fraternity, who has been in the navy since March 1942, is a Second Class Seaman. Last word received from Joe was at Christmas time when he was in Russia. The letter was written in October. He is serving on the gun crew of a merchant ship.

Bob Moore, Marquette, Navy Air Corps, was sitting in a restaurant in Chicago one day last week and happened to gaze out of the window to see none other than George Gill of Ishpeming walking by. "Bud" is also wearing navy blues, and he will be finished with his training in several weeks.

N. M. C. E. DEBATERS TO WHITEWATER

The Northern debate team will participate in the tournament to be held in Whitewater, Wisconsin, on February 12-13. The members of the squad, who are doing concentrated work on the question for debate, are veterans Helen Ward, Dorrine Petersen, Max Sadoff, and Robert L. Anderson, and new members June Johnson and Katherine Nelson. The team will travel on the "400" to Milwaukee, and then proceed by bus to Whitewater. Coach Forest Roberts is trying to arrange debates en route with St. Norbert's College in DePere, and with Marquette University in Milwaukee.

The college debate question this year is very timely and pertinent, because it is whether or not the United Nations should establish a permanent federal union, with specified powers, and with the provision for the admission of other nations.

The Northern debate team won the Governor Hell trophy at the Whitewater tournament in 1941, which was the first time that a Michigan team had captured it. The winning team consisted of Donald Graham, John Anthony, who are no longer at Northern, Dorrine Petersen, and Max Sadoff. Although it has been a custom to attend the Marcher-Huntington tournament in Indiana, this trip will not be made this year, because of transportation difficulties. Let's wish good luck and victories to the Northern debate team!

Mahan-Foard

Mildred Mahan, last year's Campus Queen and graduate of Northern announces that she and Blake Foard, a former student of Northern, will be married the first week in February at San Diego, California. Blake is an ensign in the Navy Air Corps.

Mildred, at the present, is teaching in Dearborn and will take a two weeks' vacation in February for the wedding. Next year Millie intends to work in a defense plant. Millie writes us that she will miss all of her old friends in Marquette and at Northern and wishes they could all be there. Even if we can't be present physically, we are sure to be there in spirit, wishing Mildred and Blake success and happiness in their married life.

Lieutenant Eero Wittala, Marquette, of the Army Air Corps, is at present recuperating from an attack of malaria which he contracted while on duty in Africa. He is in Starke General Hospital, Charlotte, South Carolina.

Mid-Winter Conference Includes Principals of Secondary Institutions

QUARTET THRILLS COLLEGE AUDIENCE BY PERFORMANCE

Roth Quartet Produces Mellow and Delicate Tones on Strings.

A large audience enjoyed a superb concert by the Roth Quartet on Monday morning in the college auditorium. The Quartet appeared at the University of Michigan for two days in a series of three concerts before coming to Marquette.

The first number was the String Quartet in D major, Op. 76, No. 5, by Haydn—in four movements: Allegretto-Allegro, Largo, Menuetto—Allegro, and Presto. In this Quartet, the second movement, Largo, demonstrated their smoothness of playing and sensitiveness to expression.

The String Quartet in D major, Op. 11, by the Russian composer Tchaikovsky was the second number. The four movements, Moderato semplice, Andante Cantabile, Scherzo, and the Finale were artistically performed. Each man is master of his instrument and the ensemble has perfect blending of tone and unusual balance. Each instrument is heard. In many Quartets the viola is lost, but this is not true with the Roth Quartet. Never before has this reporter heard the Andante Cantabile played as beautifully as the Roth Quartet played it.

The third group was composed of two short numbers by Debussy, a. En Bateau, and b. Menuette. Their tones were mellow and delicately produced with a skillful touch. Relaxation and artistic ability gave an appearance of ease and enjoyment.

The Roth Quartet presented one of the most enjoyable concerts heard here in a long time. The student body and the people of Marquette would appreciate more programs of this kind.

N. M. C. E. STUDENTS GAIN PLACEMENTS

Mary Jane Reinhardt has a position teaching the first and second grades in Munising.

Margaret McCabe has been placed in Norway, Mich., as the home economics teacher.

Helen Ylisen has accepted a position in L'Anse where she will teach the sixth grade. Former Northern student Marjorie Sharp who previously taught at Pequaing, now has a position as elementary and music teacher at Whitehall, Michigan.

The Placement Bureau has been very busy assembling information concerning the students who will graduate in June, and they expect a very good placement season.

NORTHERN NOTES

The faculty women hold a tea every other Tuesday from 4 to 5. These teas are enjoyed by all the women members of the faculty, since it gives them a relaxation, and a chance to "talk things over." Last Tuesday, January 19, the hostesses for the tea were Miss Marsh, Miss Ayres, and Miss Fox. The table was decorated with snowballs in blue baskets, and white candles stood on each end. Streamers of red, white, and blue gave the table a patriotic touch. The surprise for everyone was cinnamon toast, something many of them had not had since they were "babes."

Private George Korpke, who was a student at Northern the Fall semester of 1940 and is now of Sheppard Field, Texas, was married to Miss Lorraine Gearhart of Chicago on December 9, 1942.

Speakers are Nisbet, Phillips, Elliott, Johnson, Bystrom.

The mid-winter meeting of the Upper Peninsula Association of School Board Members and Superintendents will be held Saturday, January 30, 1943. The program for this event is as follows:

- 9:15 Opening; appointment of committees.
  - 9:20-9:30 Greeting; Supt. S. S. Nisbet, President of the M.E.A.
  - 9:30-9:50 Michigan Schools Do Their Part; Dr. A. J. Phillips, Executive Secretary of the M.E.A.
  - 9:50-10:20 Pertinent School Problems; Dr. Engene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
  - 10:20-11:45 State Aid 1943-1945. The Financial Condition of Upper Peninsula Schools; Supt. H. O. Johnson, Ramsay.
  - 10:35-10:50 Teachers' Salaries in Upper Peninsula Schools: A Comparison of Salaries in 1929, 1933, and 1942; Supt. C. E. Bystrom, Newberry.
  - 10:50-11:20 State Aid as Viewed by: The Copper Country—Supt. Fred Jeffers, Painesdale. The Iron Country—Supt. E. J. Oas, Bessemer.

"They Also Serve"

Someday the planes will be grounded, the bugles will sound, bells will toll, and fighting will cease. I do not say the war will end because the end of the war will only come after a satisfactory peace treaty and sufficient reconstruction are underway. It has been said that the Armistice of November 11, 1918 only marked the end of hostilities for the period between World War No. 1 and the present conflict. The war did not end. The rivals just caught their breath, that they might return to the battlefields more fierce than ever.

This time we have resolved that the end of the hostilities and the establishment of permanent peace shall be synonymous. Realizing the necessity of having a trained personnel to take over many of the jobs and responsibilities of serving in the territories, which are likely to need assistance after hostilities cease, the larger educational institutions throughout the country are instituting courses for giving this training. The study for these special jobs involves many branches and leaves opportunities for people in many professions to serve their country as well as the men on the battlefield.

The training, which the students will obtain, is given with stress on particular areas. The study includes language, resources, customs, institutions and history of that particular area. Everyone may rest assured that if he feels inclined to do his bit in the reconstruction period, there will be a job for him to do.

If we are to make certain that such a tragedy shall not befall us again, it will behoove everyone, who is so inclined, to take the responsibility of preparing to serve in the winning of permanent peace. We men who are now in college cannot prepare for winning both the war and the peace. We must concentrate on winning the war first, and hope that faith shall not again be broken with those who die on foreign fields.

New "America"

The songs of a nation are symbolic of the spirit of a nation. We, as Americans, sing proudly of the "Star-Spangled Banner," of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," of "America, the Beautiful" and most reverently, of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." All of them are stirring, heart-touching songs that breathe of patriotism.

But one thing more is needed. We have learned in this war of travail and in this time of trouble that not only are we not isolated from the rest of the world, but that we are all one people, no matter from what shores we have come, nor to what faith we owe allegiance. We have learned that being an American is not a mere accident of birth, but a state of mind, that to be truly American is to offer a devotion, religious in character, to the cause of democracy, to accept wholeheartedly the credo that all men are created equal.

Dr. Henry Harold Horne, Professor of Religious Education at New York University, sensing the yearning for an expression of the brotherhood that is democracy, the faith that has brought about the United Nations, has written a new verse for "America"—one which does not detract from pride of country, but which gives it further broader meaning.

"Father of Every Race, Giver of Every Grace, Hear us we pray! Let every land be free, May all men brothers be, All nations honor Thee, Now and for aye."

Dr. Spencer Miller, Jr., State Highway Commissioner of New Jersey, and long a leader in workers' education, has made a suggestion to the school board of his state, which should be made by each and every one of us in our own communities—namely, that this verse be added to "America" and be sung as the final stanza on all occasions.

Join in singing this new song in your own community. Make this expressive verse your theme song of faith in victory, not merely of the war, but of the peace to come, when the spirit of brotherhood shall find practical application in the lives of all mankind.

This is the creed of America. It is this for which our fathers fought, for which we today are fighting—freedom, not for ourselves alone, but for all the peoples of all the earth. By virtue of our laws and our traditions, our hands are clasped in fellowship with all those who believe in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Let us sing of this proudly, and acclaim to the world what we all believe and by what we live!

WAKE-UP

Have you ever noticed the pictures on the walls of Northern? Particularly the one between the Dean's office and the Education office, called, "The Horse Fair." This picture gained immediate success when it was first exhibited at the Paris Salon in 1885, and was awarded all the honors of the Salon.

This picture is an inspiration and revelation to the visitor. Something new is seen every time you look at it. Twenty-two splendid Percherons prance under a beautiful morning sky, and at the edge of a young grove is a tower in the rear. On the right are spectators and buyers, all bearing pleased expressions, and pointing as if making selections. A parade circles towards them. The coloring is so superb that you can fairly see the horses snort as they chafe their bits and rear up. A sleek one is in a plunging position and seems to keep its rider busy. His behavior seems to be quite submissive in contrast to the one on his right. The strength of the man in the saddle is tested as a team of powerful whites strive to catch the lead. Far in the rear is a vicious fellow struggling against two lusty keepers. The grooms, some mounted, others hanging to the guy halters, barely escaping death under the heavy hools, are so many Hercules, with branny arms, and white and blue blouses. These, together with the onlookers, make forty-two men shown on the canvas. The lights and shadows on the picture are very effective. The artist believes that every brush-mark was necessary to tell the story.

The picture hangs in the Metropolitan Museum, New York City. Rosa Bonheur, the artist, laughingly styled it her "Parthenon Frieze," and it is regarded as her masterpiece. She made innumerable studies for it, at first from horses placed at her disposal by friends, and finally from actual scenes in the horse-markets of Paris, where, disguised in male attire, she was allowed to paint unmolested by the coarse crowd that surrounded her.

Why not stop to look at it some day.

There are many fine paintings about the halls of Northern, and probably the most familiar is the "Athenaeum" head of George Washington which was never finished.

The artist of this reproduction was Gilbert Stuart, an Englishman (1725-1828) who studied in Newport, Rhode Island, and in England.

Stuart was a great admirer of George Washington and is to be credited for many Washington canvases—the "Athenaeum" being his favorite. His first portrait, Stuart felt, was a failure, but Washington sat for him again, the result being the "Athenaeum." Among his portraits are (besides Washington) Presidents Adams, Jefferson, Monroe, John Q. Adams, and also John Jay.

The "Athenaeum" may be seen on the left wall upon entering the Long-year building, and was presented to Northern as a memorial by the class of 1925.

"Mona Lisa" is the well-known painting which hangs in Longyear Hall between the doors to the President's and Dean's offices. It portrays an Italian gentleman of the sixteenth century seated in an armchair with her hands crossed. Her clothing is simply draped and without ornament. In the background is a wooded mountainous landscape. Although it was painted by Leonardo da Vinci in about 1500, the sad serenity of the woman's expression is typical of an ideal American mother today, who this Christmas is sad yet calm with the courage of faith in her convictions.

The artist, da Vinci, is also an example of what we in the twentieth century may be striving for. He was not a man who did merely one job well. Besides being an artist, he was a musician, scientist, engineer, and diplomat. Take a look at this picture some morning before the last minute rush to an 8:00.

I am sure all of you have had occasion to notice Rembrandt's portrait of Jan Six or the Burgomaster, for it is located on the wall just to the right of President Tape's office.

The famous portrait of Jan Six was painted in 1669 and shows the future burgomaster descending the steps of his house while he is drawing on his gloves.

Rembrandt at a very early date developed a fixed style as a painter, a style which was extremely original, founded on the work of no other artist of any school and based upon a strong perception of the beauty and value of pure light and shade in nature and in art. There is one peculiarity, however, and that is that Rembrandt's coloring is sombre and reaches its highest achievement in combinations of browns and grays with but few passages of primary color or of those hues which approximate primary colors.

There is a certain disappearing of the subject in blackness, but meanwhile the effect of a brilliant modulated head coming to light from a profoundly gloomy background and helped by the painting of costume similarly relieved by light color and open darkness makes a very pleasing effect as evidenced in the picture Burgomaster, Jan Six.

Rembrandt has a power of characterization that is almost out of the category of the painters of his period. When he has a character to express, either of an individual or of a race of men, he does it with a touch and an evidence of thought entirely his own. It may sometimes take a disagreeable, even an ignominious appearance, and his drawing in a given case may not be identified or refined or even truthful, while yet the significance of the statement he wishes to make remains uniformly distinct and positive.

SERVICE NOTES

An announcement comes from the Army Air Forces Training Center at Blytheville Air Field, Arkansas, that Lieut. Harold R. Smith was a member of Class 43-A which graduated on Thursday, January 14, 1943.

Cadet Irving E. Mennuci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cedo Mennuci of 325 Cleveland Avenue, Iron Mountain, Mich., and a former student at Northern Michigan College, has been appointed a Cadet Second Petty Officer at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School, Iowa City, Iowa.

Lieutenant George Cavender, Wakefield, has completed officers' training at Quantico, Virginia. He has just reported for assignment to duty with the U. S. Marines at San Diego, California.

By the time you read this, Lieutenant Vance Kincaid of the Army Air Corps may be seeing action "over there." He wrote from the Air Force Advance Flying School, Sacramento, California, saying that he is not stationed there permanently, but only waiting for his ticket for overseas.

James L. Kanney, Marquette, who went into training in the Army Air Forces in June, 1942 has completed his basic pilot training at Chico Army Flying School, Chico, California.

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

Two leg splints might save the legs of an American battle casualty. Two splints cost $5, a cheap price to pay for the legs of an American fighting man. To meet the ravages of war upon our manhood, the services need a sufficient supply of these splints. They must be readily available wherever the medical officers set up field hospitals, dressing stations or other medical establishments.

The purchase of $5 worth of War Stamps is the equivalent of presenting our government with two of these important splints. Each time your Stamp purchases reach $5, you are lending Uncle Sam the price of something that may mean the difference between a normal life and the life of a cripple to one of our men in uniform. Your Schools At War program will show you how you can help through the regular purchase of War Stamps.

WILDCATS SPLIT WITH NORTHLANDERS

Free Throw Breaks Tie In Concluding Seconds Of Northland Thriller

Wildcats Are Defeated For First Time In 1943 Season.

In the last week, the basketball season came and went. During that time three games were played, two with Northland and one with a city team. Of the games played two were wins.

The first out-of-town game of the season was played at Northland where the home town boys defeated the Northland tribe by a score of 52 to 39. From this score it may appear that the Olive and Gold ran over the opponents. Yet the fact that the score was 24 to 22 in favor of the Northland boys at the half shows the game was a hard fought one.

It is interesting to note in this game that the two captains, Anderson of Northern, and Marx of Northland, were each high point man with a total of 16 each.

On Friday, January 22, the varsity again met Northland; this time on the home court. The game started off at slowest pace we've seen at a college game. But it built up to such a point in the last second that every one was on their feet, cheering.

In the first quarter of play the score was 9 to 3, leaning toward the visitors. This small score was not wholly due, however, to the lack of action but rather to inaccurate shooting.

The tempo of the game was not increased to any large extent in the following period. Although the Olive and Gold outscored the visitors, they still trailed by a score of 15 to 13 when the whistle for the start of the third period sounded.

In this quarter, a definite change was observed in both teams. The Northlanders piled on 22 points to our 11 to make the score stand 37 to 24 at the close of the third period.

In the final quarter, things began to pop. The Wildcats finally clicked and with three minutes left to play they trailed by only 6 points. Then with 1 1/2 minutes remaining—4 points behind; 1 minute—3 points behind; 1/2 minute—1 point. Fifteen seconds remained and Montcalm gets a free shot to tie the score 46 all. With 10 seconds left to play every body went wild. In that time Marx of Northland was fouled. He completed the shot to finally win the game in the last second of play.

In this game Marx was high point man with 22 points. Montcalm of Northern was high with 17 points. This was the first defeat for Northern in the basketball season. All Treado of Negaunee officiated at the game.

SPORT SPOTLIGHT SHOWS ERSPAMER

Gerald Erspamer, another Northern athlete, who will soon be entering the service of Uncle Sam by way of the E. R. C., is certainly deserving a point in the last second that every one was on their feet, cheering.

LINDY SALUTES FROM ARMY

"Hello to the Staff and my Northern friends:
"Thanks for the paper which I have been receiving. I enjoy reading it very much.

"Since I left Northern I have completed my training at Iowa Pre-Flight School, had a leave at Xmas time which was swell and have been transferred here. I like the service and the flying is great.

"I noticed the men are very scarce at Northern and I can understand because there are a lot of us together here. We all get to see each other a lot, especially the six of us from the Tri Mu fraternity (which looks like somewhat of a record).

"Congratulations to Coach Hurst and his Wildcats in their victory over the Alumni. Here is a hullo and the best wishes to them for a successful season.

"We have a team here, 'Glenview Naval Air Station', of whom I hope I get a chance to break into once in awhile.

"Lindy."
(You can obtain Lindy's address in the News office.)

REJUVENATING

The boys at the Tri Mu Frst have been busy redecorating, which explains why some of them have been seen with paint in their hair. The new color scheme is Ivory tan and Nile green, which looks every bit as good as it sounds. Some of the rooms were finished before school resumed after the holidays, and they showed a very great improvement over their former condition. Ma Forstrum has been fixing curtains, and in the rooms in which the painting has been completed, the curtains hang very white and starched.

The hallways and bathrooms will also be repainted. Then the floors will be sanded and revarnished.

The flurry of redecorating has been caused by the very apparent fact that something will have to be done about getting occupants for the House. With the war calling away almost all of the Tri Mus, they have been thinking about renting it out for a girls' dorm next year. However, the more probable outcome will be that the Navy will rent it for men.

Sidelights from Sidelines

By Ziller

Although we didn't have a long basketball season, we certainly did get a lot of basketball in the one night Northland was here.

If I didn't know that both teams play for the sport in it, I might suspect that the game had been produced and acted to bring out the wild excitement in the last five minutes. The game was so slow in the first half that the great Duke yelled out "Quit worrying about the rubber shortage; step on it!" The fellows didn't need any further promptings in the last half.

Without doubt the game will long be remembered. We shall also remember the Northland boy—Marx, carrot top, red, or any other name you may have heard him called. No doubt he stole the show. His unusual, actually queer ball handling, physical contortions, general nonchalant attitude on the playing floor without mentioning the 22 points he

FACTS ON GAMES

The next game for the Cats will be Saturday, January 30. The Olive and Gold will meet the Coast Guardians for the fourth game of the year.

No future games have been scheduled with Northland or Houghton, but we have high hopes that plans will materialize.

accounted for, were singular in any man's language.

By the way—it has been rumored that the boys speeded up in the second half to put on a good show for Hedge. Yes, Hedgecock, the old master, was in the bleachers, and I guess it was the first time in 20 years he sat there to watch Northern play. We liked his new suit with the red pin-stripes.

CHATTER

The way things have been happening around school and off campus, anyone would think exams were four months off instead of next week.

And take the interesting case of Vernon Ihlenfeld, new waiter at Hubbard's boarding house, who replaced Don Pangborn a week ago.

One girl who does her woffing in other fields (army?) is Gloria Clement, who is definitely out for bigger and better things.

You know, Dorothy Bagley and Jack Refling really look nice together. They seem to have settled down to just plain "goin' steady".

Take some people, for instance, they like excitement all the time—date every night—well, anyhow, every other night.

Alvin, Alvin, who are those drumming of O, teacher, dear teacher, I'm dreaming of Carol!

Purely platonic is how they term it; that is David Drury and his blond friend, Dorothy Hurlia, who are two of Pappy Greenleaf's best customers.

Why does Elaine Rose love "Red" and not only the color? Maybe now that Windy has moved closer to town, there will be no further misunderstandings, since it will be fairly convenient for that sailor lad to rush over to her house on his hour off.

Enough of this chatter, or no one will be able to study for exams if your editor stirs up any more embers. Only—he just was able to study for his own seven courses at all if he doesn't find out P. D. Q.!

Participation in women's intramural sports at the University of Texas has jumped 42 per cent. above 1941 levels.

Louisiana State University has a Redhead club—and it's just what the name implies.

IMAGINE!

Dear Freshie: Is there anything that gives one a more dismal feeling than having to face the sad truth? There are NO more vacations until spring.

How are you bearing up under the cold weather? Four below here, and everyone's kicking.

Couldn't you spare ten minutes from entertaining of soldiers and draftees to write to your sister? Soon, plez!

P.S. I bowled 96—is that good? P.S.S. Got a letter from our Marine friend who inquired about your cold.

GAMMA

Gamma Phi Alpha sorority held its winter formal at the Northern Hotel, Saturday, January 16 from 9:00 to 12:00.

Guests at the party were Miss Lucille Payne, adviser, and Miss Bernice Alton present was Mrs. Kivela and her husband. Members and their guests were: Marjorie Hansen, Cliff Larson; Elaine Olson, Jack Anderson; Carol Greene, Alvin Salo; Aileen Senecal, Bruce Von Zellen; Beattie Corombus, Dan Bennett; Joyce Cairns, Bill Ulrich; Bernice Waters, Jack Williams; Ellen Sikarsky, Edward Exworthy; Gertrude Van Straten, Bob Ziller; Florence Karpinen, Bob Swanson; Bernice Hale, Jim Hatch.

I. A. C.

The Industrial Arts Club held a meeting on December 12, 1942. During a business meeting, Vernon Ihlenfeld was elected to the office of Secretary and Treasurer.

President George Anderson appointed the following committees: Art Koski, Tom Gerovac, and Ted Corombus, to arrange club programs for the year; George Mikkola, committee in charge of corresponding with men in the service.

The members of the "Home Ed. and Industrial Arts Clubs" held their annual get-together, Friday, January 15, 1943, in the J. D. Pierce Gym.

The evening was filled with dancing and contests which required great skill. Winners of the contests were Vernon Ihlenfeld, first; Mr. McClintock, second; and Donald Unto, third; as needle threaders.

Advisers and guests were: Mrs. Ruby Richey, Mr. McClintock, Miss Bemis, Miss Baird, and Mr. and Mrs. Ferns.

The meeting of January 20, 1943, opened with a short business meeting. Vernon Ihlenfeld gave a talk on "Paint Brush Making," and letters from the men in service were read by Mr. Ferns and Mr. McClintock.

NORTHERN NOTES

ENCORE

By N.RITE

Rat-at-at-at-at—What's all the noise about? That's Rose the Ripper doing her homework. And is she nice—we mean the song.

Not to get from the more or less ridiculous to the more or less sublime, we find one of the best songs to come out this year so far, Three Dreams.

Another new ballad of the year is I Just Kissed Your Picture Good-night. It's sweet, sentimental, and going places.

Benny Goodman's recording of Why Don't You Do Right seems to be "doing all right". Peggy Lee doesn't really sing, in the true sense of the word, but she gets the point across in a likeable manner.

Most played record of '42: Glenn Miller's, Kalumazoo. Songs most played on the air. (Downbeat): Moonlight Becomes You; You'd be so Nice to Come Home To; I had the Craziest Dream; Rose Ann of Charing Cross; and Please Think of Me.

KAPPA DELTA PI

On Tuesday, January 19, the following new members were initiated into Kappa Delta Pi: Henrietta Alexander, Jeanne Beaudin, Marian Corvey, June Davey, Rosemary Leonard, Helen Maritz, Doris Peterson, Leino Pynnonen, Gaeny Ryan, Helen Sharpsteen, and Dorothy Smith.

The initiation ceremony took place in the recreation room and was planned by a program and reception. Esther Michaelson rendered a piano solo; Bernice Waters gave a vocal solo. The new members presented a skit aptly contrasting former and present methods of teacher placement.

C. C. L. C.

Mr. Walker, head of the "4-H" Clubs of the Upper Peninsula, was the very interesting principal of the meeting of the College Country-Life Club held January 12, 1943. He explained the workings of the "4-H" in regard to the farming industry, the school, and the war effort.
