

THE WEEKLY AGITATOR.

NEWETT & McCARTHY, Publishers.

Devoted to the Interests of the Lake Superior Region in General and the City of Ishpeming in Particular.

TERMS, TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR.

VOL. II, NO. 2.

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1880.

WHOLE NO. 54.

City Directory.

ISHPEMING LABORATORY.
J. ROPES,
CHEMIST.
MAKES ANALYSES OF ALL ORES AND MINERALS. PURE ASSAYS OF GOLD, SILVER AND LEAD.
ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.

C. H. DEBORG,
DENTIST.
Office in Eldon's Building, up stairs, ISHPEMING, (1-77) MICH.

A. LIBBERG,
PHOTOGRAPHER,
ISHPEMING. All kinds of PHOTOGRAPHS, TIN-TYPES, ETC. Finished in an artistic manner, and as cheaply as anywhere on the Upper Peninsula. Satisfaction guaranteed. A trial solicited. Gallery on First street.

G. H. HODGKINS,
LIVERY STABLE,
Corner of Main and Division Streets. Best rigs in town. Persons over as the lowest.
HORSES.
A fine lot of horses always kept on hand for sale.

JOHN JONES,
Proprietor of
DRAY AND BUS LINE.
The Best Spring Wagons in the City. THE BEST BUS IN THE STATE.
Parties carried to all adjoining locations at reasonable prices. If you want a first-class job of moving done from the smallest article of staves to a good steady mountain, call on him or dress him at his office in Block Store Building, (1-77) ISHPEMING, MICH.

C. E. BINGHAM & CO.,
PIG IRON
AND
IRON ORE.
No. 129 Water Street, Coal and Iron Exchange Building, 26th St.
CLEVELAND, OHIO.

E. CHOMIN,
Dealer in
Groceries,
PROVISIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,
CROCKERY, GLASS-
WARE, ETC.

The undersigned would respectfully announce that he has recognized the above name and redrafted it in first-class style, and is now prepared to accommodate permanent and transient guests.
Terms Reasonable.
49-5m
MURDOCH CALDER, Prop.
CALDER & FUNSTON,
Manufacturers of
CARRIAGES,
WAGONS AND SLEIGHS.
REPAIRING
Of All "sds, done on short notice. Black-split & S" in connection, where all work in that line promptly and neatly done.
HORSE-SHOING A SPECIALTY
Give us a Call. Shop on Pearl Street,
1-77
ISHPEMING, MICH.
C. A. FOHRMAN,
DEALER IN
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
And General
MUSICAL MERCHANDISE.
Sole Agent for Lyon & Healy Pianos J. & C. Fischer Piano, Solway Piano and Bardett. Organs, Kongs, a full line of Violins, Guitars, Clarinets, Piccolos, Flageolets, Accordeons, Harmoniums, Banjos, Brass and Silver Band Instruments, Musical Toys for children, Sewing Machines, Musical Boxes, Gramophones, and all the latest novelties in the musical trade. Every article guaranteed to be strictly first-class, and best as represented. An inspection will convince the most skeptical.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE MUSIC STORE ON THE UPPER PENINSULA!
And therefore the only place where every article in the Musical line can be purchased without being subjected to the expense of sending orders for it. All kinds of repairing and tuning done in a thorough manner.
C. A. FOHRMAN,
Ishpeming, Mich., June 16, 1880. 47m

ANNOUNCEMENT!
I HAVE OPENED A GENERAL GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE IN MY BUILDING, MAIN STREET, AND WOULD RESPECTFULLY SOLICIT A PORTION OF THE PUBLIC PATRONAGE. MY STOCK ENBRACES A FULL LINE OF GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Fruits, Vegetables, Canned Goods, Etc.
BUTTER AND EGGS A SPECIALTY.
Jas. TIMOTHY HUGHES.

City Directory.

H. ASA GAARD,
Dealer in
Furniture!
Coffins, Etc.
CONTRACTOR,
Repairs and makes all kinds of Furniture. Building neatly done. Orders from outside attended to with promptness. Corner of Main Street and Cleveland Avenue,
1-77
COMMERCIAL HOUSE,
ISHPEMING, MICH.
$1.50 & $2 PER DAY
According to Location of Rooms.

EUROPEAN PLAN!
Rooms 20 and 25 cents per day, and meals at all hours in the New Restaurant.
Everything in season and served in best style, equal to New York or Chicago.

D. H. MERRITT, Prof.
Manufactures
STEAM ENGINES, HOISTING MACHINERY, BOILERS AND CASTINGS, REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
ISHPEMING, MICH.

CALIFORNIA HOUSE,
Corner Pine and Pearl Streets,
ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.

BEATY, FITZSIMONS & CO.
Dealers in
MINING AND LUMBERMENS SUPPLIES,
45, 47 and 49 Woodward Avenue, and 49 and 47 Greenwood street.

DETROIT, MICH.
Particular attention paid to orders by mail. 377.
CHAS. L. SHELDON,
Boots & Shoes
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE BOOT & SHOE STORE ON LAKE SUPERIOR

SPRING GOODS!
Now in stock and I invite your inspection.
FINE GOODS
MADE TO MEASURE.
ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.
OYSTERS!
Wholesale and Retail Agency of
D. D. MALLORY & CO'S
DIAMOND AND OTHER BRANDS.
Leave Your Orders at Commercial House, Ishpeming, Mich.
48-m
GEORGE CHOPAT.

Miscellaneous.

E. P. BIEGLER,
Shaving and Hair Dressing Parlors,
Main Street,
ISHPEMING, MICH.
WALSBETH & TISLOW,
LIVERY,
SALE AND BOARDING STABLES,
Pearl Street, Ishpeming, Mich.
Best rigs in the city at reasonable prices. We are specially prepared to accommodate people for funerals, and can attend their orders in any part of the country.

ALSO MANUFACTURE AND REPAIR
CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, WAGONS, SLEIGHS.
And do Blacksmithing and Job Work in a prompt and thorough manner. Employing only first-class workmen and using the best material, our factory is noted for the superiority of its work. Estimates made for any description of work.
DO NOT FAIL TO CONSULT US
When in need of anything in our line, and we will try to make it to your advantage to leave orders with us. Satisfaction guaranteed.
Shop on Second street, corner of Pearl Street.
WALSBETH & TISLOW,
G. D. GIRZIKOWSKY,
WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER.
Also dealer in Pianos, Organs and General Musical Instruments. Agent for all kinds of scientific apparatus, particularly the
WHITE

The best in the market. 1877 Call and see it. 117

Mr. Payson, said she, tossing back the cloud of red-gold hair that hung over her dimpled face—for I suppose you are Mr. Payson?
"At your service," said the young man with commendable gravity.
"My machine doesn't suit me. I wish you would have it changed for another."
"Doesn't suit you?", he repeated slowly.
"No," said Miss Kitty, straightening out the bow of ribbon at her belt.
"If it is the custom at Mellandale to change machines at the back and all every distinguished dandy? he asked, still without a change of countenance.
"My machine is always changed whenever I ask for it," said Kitty Kesley, nonchalantly.
"Suppose you try and make it do," said Mr. Payson. I dare say the turn of a screw here, or that alteration of a tension there, will make it all right, Johnson," to the packer, "bring me that list of the boxes that are to be sent off this morning?"
Miss Kesley stood in indignant surprise at this politely-cavalier treatment. She—the spoiled beauty, the petted favorite of the whole establishment, whose every whim had been humored, whose caprices indulged—to be told to try and make things do!
"You will not change it?" said she, coloring very red.
"It is quite contrary to my rules," said Mr. Payson. "That's right, Johnson. Now I'll look over the list with you."
Miss Kitty went back to her seat in a genuine passion.
It was Anson Payson's first day in the Mellandale factory, and of course, it proved rather a fatiguing one.
The morning, break and cloudy, had settled down into a good old-fashioned snow storm, before the afternoon; and when at last the throbb of the engines had ceased, the whine of the numberless machines was still, and the flock of girls had disappeared one by one. Mr. Payson locked his desk, pocketed the keys, and also sallied forth into the snowy twilight of the November night.
But, unaccustomed as he was to the Mellandale roads and their windings, he soon became disagreeably aware that he had somehow missed his way.
"They told me to turn off at an old stone mill," he pondered, "but I have seen to stone mill; nor any finger-post. I do believe," standing still, and trying to peer through the white wilderness of flying snowflakes, "that I am destined to be a modern Babe-in-the-Woods. And the worst of it all is that there are such a number of awkward precipices along the edge of this woody road, where one might walk off in half-right, and never know how he came to his end—Stay! I luckily there is a red light gleaming through the darkness. It must come from some farm-house window, and I am saved from my doom!"
But as Anson Payson knocked at the door of the little one-story dwelling, he felt that he was very weary, with hands and feet numb from the biting blast, and garments wet through by the damp and penetrating snow.
The opening of the door revealed a cheerful little interior, which would have done no discredit to the pencil of

A POETICAL WEDDING.

MINISTERS.
'This woman with thou have, And cheerest for life; Will live and comfort live, And seek no other wife.'

THE FACTORY BELLE.
'So that is the factory belle, is it?' said Mr. Payson, the new foreman of the Mellandale Works. 'Well, I must confess that she has rather an attractive figure, with her large hazel eyes and that profusion of red-brown hair, although her nose isn't quite Grecian, and the lines of her mouth are just a trifle out drawing.'
"Humph!" said old Solomon Gilsley, the engineer, "She's been made much of, Kitty Kesley has, until she's just spoiled. And—"
But here Kitty Kesley herself came sanely up to the foreman's desk.
"Mr. Payson, said she, tossing back the cloud of red-gold hair that hung over her dimpled face—for I suppose you are Mr. Payson?"
"At your service," said the young man with commendable gravity.
"My machine doesn't suit me. I wish you would have it changed for another."
"Doesn't suit you?", he repeated slowly.
"No," said Miss Kitty, straightening out the bow of ribbon at her belt.

MINISTERS.
'This woman I will take This stands beside me now; I'll fast her hand and clothes, And have no other "flow."

and over to himself, as he drifted off into dream-land:
"She is the most charming girl I ever met in my life!"
And, at the year's end, Kitty Kesley left the Mellandale Works to marry its foreman, and kept house in a picturesque little stone cottage on the edge of the ravine.
"Didn't I tell you I'd do it?" said Kitty, saucily.
"You said you would refuse me haughtily," said Payson.
"Oh," laughed Kitty, I concluded I would change my mind about that! But all the rest has come true—now hasn't it?"
And Mr. Payson confessed that it had.

EDUCATION.—No right-thinking person can undervalue education, or deny his children the benefits derived from it, but some men have perverted ideas on the subject. They seem to think because they have prospered in life without an education, or at least a limited one, their children do not deserve any more consideration or any better education than they received, and hence are indifferent about the education of their children, not caring whether they are kept in school or not. They forget that their children are living in a much better educated world than they lived in when they were children. They forget that brains command a higher price upon the stage of human action than muscle, and that he who can command a reasonable amount of both stands the best chance to make life a success. We have one of the finest school systems in the world, and children should profit by it, and attend school regularly. But if they are to be educated successfully, really educated, the physical must receive due attention, the amount of at least three hours each day of gentle exercise, walking being favorable. Hard students cannot sleep too much, while the brain needs special nourishment, as certainly as the blacksmith needs nourishment for the muscles and bones. Even the student's food should be adapted to mental labors. Fish contains the largest amount of brain food, while eggs and the grains, including peas, beans and the like, are favorable. Fruits, as a part of the meals, are also favorable, not on account of their brain food, but as an aid to digestion. While attending school, young people should not be taxed too heavily with home duties.

HOW TAKES DIFFER.—The tastes of neighboring nations. The Germans and the English esteem the goose almost as highly as the turkey. But in France the former is looked upon as a vulgar bird, unfit to eat before epicures. An English journal, writing of the change of taste with respect to eating birds, says:
"I saw a peacock at a poultryer's shop adorned with rows of peacocks, and should one of these beautiful birds appear upon the table at some grand public or private dinner, none of the guests would go into ecstasies over the dish, as if its delicacy was a fact universally known. But at Rome, no banquet was complete without the presence of a peacock. Among the other large birds the cranes, the swans and even the ostrich were held in high esteem. Geese were also highly prized, and they were eaten not with a sauce, but stuffed with small green apples. The duck and teal were served with the juice of the orange and not that of the lemon; and they were prepared for the breakfast and woodcock. As for larks and thrushes they were usually eaten at the end of a meal, with the idea that it would prove a sovereign remedy against affections of the bowels. But the bird most in esteem with the subjects of the Caesars was the common thrush. These birds were raised and fattened in large establishments near Rome and brought very high prices. The artificial rearing of these birds, which are excellent for the table, would prove an easy matter."

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over and over to himself, as he drifted off into dream-land:

"She is the most charming girl I ever met in my life!"
And, at the year's end, Kitty Kesley left the Mellandale Works to marry its foreman, and kept house in a picturesque little stone cottage on the edge of the ravine.
"Didn't I tell you I'd do it?" said Kitty, saucily.
"You said you would refuse me haughtily," said Payson.
"Oh," laughed Kitty, I concluded I would change my mind about that! But all the rest has come true—now hasn't it?"
And Mr. Payson confessed that it had.

EDUCATION.—No right-thinking person can undervalue education, or deny his children the benefits derived from it, but some men have perverted ideas on the subject. They seem to think because they have prospered in life without an education, or at least a limited one, their children do not deserve any more consideration or any better education than they received, and hence are indifferent about the education of their children, not caring whether they are kept in school or not. They forget that their children are living in a much better educated world than they lived in when they were children. They forget that brains command a higher price upon the stage of human action than muscle, and that he who can command a reasonable amount of both stands the best chance to make life a success. We have one of the finest school systems in the world, and children should profit by it, and attend school regularly. But if they are to be educated successfully, really educated, the physical must receive due attention, the amount of at least three hours each day of gentle exercise, walking being favorable. Hard students cannot sleep too much, while the brain needs special nourishment, as certainly as the blacksmith needs nourishment for the muscles and bones. Even the student's food should be adapted to mental labors. Fish contains the largest amount of brain food, while eggs and the grains, including peas, beans and the like, are favorable. Fruits, as a part of the meals, are also favorable, not on account of their brain food, but as an aid to digestion. While attending school, young people should not be taxed too heavily with home duties.

HOW TAKES DIFFER.—The tastes of neighboring nations. The Germans and the English esteem the goose almost as highly as the turkey. But in France the former is looked upon as a vulgar bird, unfit to eat before epicures. An English journal, writing of the change of taste with respect to eating birds, says:
"I saw a peacock at a poultryer's shop adorned with rows of peacocks, and should one of these beautiful birds appear upon the table at some grand public or private dinner, none of the guests would go into ecstasies over the dish, as if its delicacy was a fact universally known. But at Rome, no banquet was complete without the presence of a peacock. Among the other large birds the cranes, the swans and even the ostrich were held in high esteem. Geese were also highly prized, and they were eaten not with a sauce, but stuffed with small green apples. The duck and teal were served with the juice of the orange and not that of the lemon; and they were prepared for the breakfast and woodcock. As for larks and thrushes they were usually eaten at the end of a meal, with the idea that it would prove a sovereign remedy against affections of the bowels. But the bird most in esteem with the subjects of the Caesars was the common thrush. These birds were raised and fattened in large establishments near Rome and brought very high prices. The artificial rearing of these birds, which are excellent for the table, would prove an easy matter."

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over and over to himself, as he drifted off into dream-land:

"She is the most charming girl I ever met in my life!"
And, at the year's end, Kitty Kesley left the Mellandale Works to marry its foreman, and kept house in a picturesque little stone cottage on the edge of the ravine.
"Didn't I tell you I'd do it?" said Kitty, saucily.
"You said you would refuse me haughtily," said Payson.
"Oh," laughed Kitty, I concluded I would change my mind about that! But all the rest has come true—now hasn't it?"
And Mr. Payson confessed that it had.

EDUCATION.—No right-thinking person can undervalue education, or deny his children the benefits derived from it, but some men have perverted ideas on the subject. They seem to think because they have prospered in life without an education, or at least a limited one, their children do not deserve any more consideration or any better education than they received, and hence are indifferent about the education of their children, not caring whether they are kept in school or not. They forget that their children are living in a much better educated world than they lived in when they were children. They forget that brains command a higher price upon the stage of human action than muscle, and that he who can command a reasonable amount of both stands the best chance to make life a success. We have one of the finest school systems in the world, and children should profit by it, and attend school regularly. But if they are to be educated successfully, really educated, the physical must receive due attention, the amount of at least three hours each day of gentle exercise, walking being favorable. Hard students cannot sleep too much, while the brain needs special nourishment, as certainly as the blacksmith needs nourishment for the muscles and bones. Even the student's food should be adapted to mental labors. Fish contains the largest amount of brain food, while eggs and the grains, including peas, beans and the like, are favorable. Fruits, as a part of the meals, are also favorable, not on account of their brain food, but as an aid to digestion. While attending school, young people should not be taxed too heavily with home duties.

HOW TAKES DIFFER.—The tastes of neighboring nations. The Germans and the English esteem the goose almost as highly as the turkey. But in France the former is looked upon as a vulgar bird, unfit to eat before epicures. An English journal, writing of the change of taste with respect to eating birds, says:
"I saw a peacock at a poultryer's shop adorned with rows of peacocks, and should one of these beautiful birds appear upon the table at some grand public or private dinner, none of the guests would go into ecstasies over the dish, as if its delicacy was a fact universally known. But at Rome, no banquet was complete without the presence of a peacock. Among the other large birds the cranes, the swans and even the ostrich were held in high esteem. Geese were also highly prized, and they were eaten not with a sauce, but stuffed with small green apples. The duck and teal were served with the juice of the orange and not that of the lemon; and they were prepared for the breakfast and woodcock. As for larks and thrushes they were usually eaten at the end of a meal, with the idea that it would prove a sovereign remedy against affections of the bowels. But the bird most in esteem with the subjects of the Caesars was the common thrush. These birds were raised and fattened in large establishments near Rome and brought very high prices. The artificial rearing of these birds, which are excellent for the table, would prove an easy matter."

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

WELL I suppose, it's just as well to make the best of it," said she, and we'll proclaim an honorable tract, Mr. Payson—for the present, at least."
Kitty was charming all the evening, full of vivacious spirit and arch chatter, but Mr. Payson did not know that she cried herself to sleep that night with the bitterest tears she ever had shed.
"What's that he thinks of me?" said the factory belle to herself. How did I over-estimate me to make such a dreadful blunder?
While Mr. Payson was saying over

BON-BONS.

Dr. Tanner has had himself busied in translating the letter of the argument—at least they made more pointed applications. As the stings burned, the boy thought about fighting his St. George's success. It was a brilliant success. The next neighbor's barn and grain were the first to go, and the people barely escaped from the dwelling house. The woods and fields of wheat next went with stacks and other combustible matter, while every now and then the burning of a house and barn added variety to the scene. The destruction was very great, but the delighted boy afterwards remarked, "You ought to see them wasps sing!"

The smallest lovers on earth were vinted at the altar at Odessa, three weeks ago. The "Marquis," a native of Kiel, is 30 years old, and weighs only 19 pounds, while his fairly-lice consort, a young lady, born in Neumannst some two-and-twenty years ago, just turns the scale at 13 pounds. At a first glance this tiny pair, it is scarcely believed to be a couple of so-called-weak babies, dressed up for a joke in the garb of adults.

A Boston milkman has triumphed in the courts. He was prosecuted for selling water-milk. His defense was that the milk was just as it was when it came from the cow. The milk inspector visited his farm, tested the milk fresh from the animal, and found it even poorer than the sample that was sold. The dealer was acquitted.

There is a legend to the fact that "Forty Rod Whisky" received the name because the drinker could stagger that distance from the place where he drank, before his drink overcame him. This was some time ago, however and great modern improvements have been made in whisky since then. A man in New York took a drink at a bar and instantly dropped dead. This, as far as execution is concerned, is far ahead of the old style of liquor.

Boys and wasps are natural enemies. Boys hate wasps and wasps hate boys. Generally the wasps are victorious and the boy who has an interview with a wasp gets over the ground much faster than the boy sent on an errand. The boy does the electrifying shouting, but the wasp does the real work of the campaign. It is so rare that a boy gets even with the wasps that when he does so, the event is worthy of more than a passing notice. Down near Kingston, Ont., a boy had a heated discussion with some wasps and the latter got the better of the argument—at least they made more pointed applications. As the stings burned, the boy thought about fighting his St. George's success. It was a brilliant success. The next neighbor's barn and grain were the first to go, and the people barely escaped from the dwelling house. The woods and fields of wheat next went with stacks and other combustible matter, while every now and then the burning of a house and barn added variety to the scene. The destruction was very great, but the delighted boy afterwards remarked, "You ought to see them wasps sing!"

The smallest lovers on earth were vinted at the altar at Odessa, three weeks ago. The "Marquis," a native of Kiel, is 30 years old, and weighs only 19 pounds, while his fairly-lice consort, a young lady, born in Neumannst some two-and-twenty years ago, just turns the scale at 13 pounds. At a first glance this tiny pair, it is scarcely believed to be a couple of so-called-weak babies, dressed up for a joke in the garb of adults.

A Boston milkman has triumphed in the courts. He was prosecuted for selling water-milk. His defense was that the milk was just as it was when it came from the cow. The milk inspector visited his farm, tested the milk fresh from the animal, and found it even poorer than the sample that was sold. The dealer was acquitted.

There is a legend to the fact that "Forty Rod Whisky" received the name because the drinker could stagger that distance from the place where he drank, before his drink overcame him. This was some time ago, however and great modern improvements have been made in whisky since then. A man in New York took a drink at a bar and instantly dropped dead. This, as far as execution is concerned, is far ahead of the old style of liquor.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE AGITATOR.

THE WEEKLY AGITATOR.

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN, OCT. 16.

SHIPMENTS OF IRON ORE ARE STILL being made with unabated vigor from the different mines of the district.

On Marquette correspondence which came too late for insertion this week, contains the information that the Pacific furnace made 92 tons of charcoal pig iron one day the past week.

The West Republic mining company is the name of a corporation recently organized under the general mining laws of the state of Michigan, the object being to explore and work on lands adjoining the Republic mine. These lands comprise something like 166 acres, of which the company holds a lease for a term of thirty years, at a very small royalty per ton, from the owners in fee, and the company practically own the property for the term named, having absolute control. The Republic veins, we are informed, dip toward the property of the new company on all sides, one lot, especially, being nearly enclosed by the veins now worked by the Republic. Efforts so far as made have proved the overlying quartzite to extend to the level of the land the same as is found overlying the rich ore of the Republic, and for the purpose of giving the property a most thorough exploration it is proposed to issue a limited amount of exploring stock at $5 per share, in order to determine by use of the diamond drill, or otherwise, the best places on the property to sink shafts to work from. A vein of good ore has already been discovered on the surface, work on which is now being carried on, the showing at present being some four feet wide by forty feet long, while indications that the vein will widen and extend to a large deposit are said to be very favorable.

SHIPMENTS.

MARQUETTE.—Following is a statement of the shipments of iron ore, pig iron and quartz from Marquette, from the opening of navigation up to and including Wednesday, Oct. 13th.

Table with columns for Mine, Tons, and various sub-totals for Marquette shipments.

L'ANSE.—The following table exhibits the season's shipments of iron ore from L'Anse, from the opening of navigation up to and including Wednesday, Oct. 13:

Table with columns for Mine, Tons, and sub-totals for L'Anse shipments.

ESCANABA.—The following table shows the shipments of iron ore from Escanaba from the opening of navigation up to and including Wednesday, Oct. 13:

Table with columns for Mine, Tons, and sub-totals for Escanaba shipments.

MARQUETTE RANGE MINES.—Table with columns for Mine, Tons, and sub-totals for Marquette Range Mines.

RECAPITULATION.—Table with columns for From Marquette, From Escanaba, From L'Anse, and Total shipments for the season.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.—The city fire engine is again in fine working order, and the new heater is in place. Everything is complete, and fires are nowhere.

W. T. SHEPHERD, the Chicago florist, has been exhibiting the wonders of the hot house to the citizens of this city during the past week.

HENRY SEABORG, the gentlemanly young manager of Jos. Wellwood's store, was very ill with erysipelas. We trust his recovery may be a speedy one.

MR. G. CHOPAT, the smiling landlord of the Commercial house, has our deepest and most heartfelt thanks for the several acts of D. D. Malloy's select oysters, sent us yesterday evening. Now if there is anything a hungry printer respects, it is oysters. George, my boy, may your oyster trade flourish and increase in accordance with your liberality. Read his advertisement and give his oysters a trial. You will find them par excellence.

POLITICAL.—Hon. J. M. Power, of Calumet, and Hon. Edwin S. Pratt, democratic nominee for congress from the Ninth district, addressed a goodly audience at the City hall last evening in the interest of the democracy, while Hon. W. W. Granger was engaged in talking republicanism to a similar audience at Austin's hall. One party employed the band and the other the cannon to help it out particularly well. The speakers were fairly enthusiastic. The speakers were good, all of them, but it does seem the world how two men can differ on the same subject.

Hon. W. F. Swift, present mayor of the city of Ishpeming, was nominated by the republican senatorial convention, held at the Nelson house Wednesday evening last, for senator from the Thirty-second senatorial district. Mr. Swift is a young man of more than ordinary energy and ability. One who is interested (and an undoubtedly will) do everything that lies in his power for the benefit and advancement of the entire district—and he manages, too, to accomplish as much as the majority of 'em when he sets about it. The republicans have made a wise nomination, and even if the district were not vastly republican 'twould be hard for the opposition to find a man to beat their candidate.

EARLY yesterday morning, while a miner was going homeward from the Barnum mine, he discovered a horse and buggy in the swamp, just north of the C. & N. W. roundhouse, the horse being sunk up to his belly in the mire and utterly unable to extricate himself. He went for assistance, and finally, with the aid of a team and ropes, together with several men, the poor animal was rescued from his uncomfortable position, and when brought to hard ground was so stiffened that he could hardly stand. Upon inquiry the rig was found to be from the livery stable of H. Atkinson, Negaunee, and word was immediately sent him. The rig had been lent to a man named Grover Thursday evening, who undoubtedly got intoxicated and drove the horse into the swamp, or else the horse ran away from him and brought up in the place stated. The buggy was badly broken, and the loss is about $80.00.

We were this week given, by Clarence Ely, Esq. of this city, an apple which combined the remarkable qualities of being one-half sweet and one-half sour, which fact could be readily ascertained by tasting. Mr. Ely several times had spoken of these apples to his friends, who laughed at the idea, thinking such a thing impossible, but Clarence, who is a model of truth and veracity, concluding that his honor as a truthful person was at stake, sent to the home of his father in New York state (which state, by the way, Clarence says is giving democratic for any number of new laws) for a barrel of these wonderful apples, which arrived Monday, and fully confirmed Mr. Ely's story. He accounts for the different qualities of the apple in that the loaves become mixed, when the tree is in that state. One side is a greening, while the other is a yellow-sweet, both being of an excellent flavor. Now, come on with your apple stories.

Wk. Unes, Esq., of this city, lost a valuable horse on Friday afternoon of last week, through the breaking of one of its legs. The horse was the one used by Mr. Unes in his beer business, and had been driven to the M. H. & O. R. depot on the afternoon in question to get a load of empty kegs. The horse was allowed to stand near one of the side tracks, at the same time a train of empty cars was being run into the Superior mine, the engine used for the purpose making a "flying switch," and running past the horse with considerable speed after it had left the train, had the effect, it seems, of scaring the animal, and by the time the cars came along he had shied onto the track in front of them, and was struck by the forward car, breaking one of the legs as mentioned above. It was found impossible to save the animal, so he was taken outside the city limits and shot.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.—The democratic county convention for this county convened at the new hotel, Negaunee, Thursday afternoon last, and placed in nomination a full county ticket. Something unusual and rather unexpected about the convention was the fact that it was very harmonious in its proceedings, and the nominations are about the best that could be made, though Negaunee got just such a shake as Ishpeming did from the republicans. Following are the nominations: Clerk and Register, Daniel F. Wadsworth.

Judge of Probate, John G. O'Keefe. Sheriff, Moses B. Toulgh. Treasurer, Oliver Peterson. Prosecuting Attorney, Matthew H. Maynard. Circuit Court Commissioners, A. S. Goodale and M. H. Crocker. Surveyor, Ira A. Clark. Coroners, John Detsch and Robert Farrell.

At the democratic representative convention held on the same day, John Mulvey was nominated for the legislature in the First district, and W. J. LaFine in the Second. Both are good men, the first named being especially popular, and it is the prevailing opinion among republicans and democrats alike that his opponent, C. G. Griffer, of the Herald, will have to put in some tall work to defeat him. Mr. Mulvey is one of the oldest residents of the county, and is universally respected and esteemed by all.

BUSINESS NOTICES.—SMOKE the "Brick Pomeroy" cigar, manufactured by Stur & Jaelcke.

D. D. MALLOY'S "Diamond" and "Select" fresh Oysters by express, daily, kept imbedded in ice, and sold by the can, day or night, at the Commercial House. Any can not opening as represented will be exchanged or money returned.

CARPETS, CARPETS.—The largest assortment of carpets ever exhibited in this city, at R. M. Conlter & Co.'s.

Go to R. M. M. Conlter & Co. to buy your carpets.

Don't forget the little store around the corner, kept by R. M. Conlter & Co., when you need family groceries.

Fine dress goods at R. M. Conlter & Co.'s.

REBBERs of all kinds and sizes at R. M. Conlter & Co.'s.

Don't forget the place—R. M. Conlter & Co., Cleveland ave.

WANTED.—Four first-class plasterers. Will be given steady employment for three months. Wages, $3 per day. Call on or address without delay, H. MILLER & Co., 51-47 Republic, Mich.

New Advertisements.—MOSWEY & OLSON, HOUSE, SIGN AND CARriage PAINTERS.

Do Paper-Hanging, Calculating, and Preserving in a workmanlike manner. Also Wholesale and Retail Dealers in PAINTS.

mixed and un-mixed—Oils, Varnishes, Putty, Glass, Brushes, Etc.

OUTSIDE ORDERS GIVEN PROMPT ATTENTION. Ishpeming, Oct. 15, 1880. CHAS. A. EGGERS, BOOK-BINDER.

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER. Old Periodicals re-bound and made as good as new.

BLANK BOOK WORK. For Mining Companies, Railroad Companies, Banks, Corporations of any description done in a thorough and substantial manner at rates as low as can be obtained in Chicago or elsewhere.

Orders left at the AUSTIN office will receive the same attention as if sent to the bindery directly. CHAS. A. EGGERS, 547 Marquette, Oct. 15, 1880.

DONAHUE BROS.'s World announce to the people of this city and vicinity that they have just received one of the largest stocks of ever brought to the city, and respectfully ask the citizens to call and examine.

CLOTHING, BOOTS and SHOES, HATS and CAPS, CROCKERY,

On Oct. 15th next those who wish to register in the most efficient and profitable manner should register now. It is not necessary to send money over night, and no money is needed until the day of the election. Many are making fortunes at the business. Ladies make as much as men, and boys and girls make great pay. No one who is willing to work hard to get rich should fail to be made in a week at any other employment. Those who engage at once will find a short road to fortune. Address H. HAZLET & Co., Vermont, Maine.

At I. E. SWIFT'S, Office and Yard C. & N. W. R. Y. opposite Depot.

New Advertisements. Fall and Winter of 1880-1. F. BRAASTAD & CO. Would inform the citizens of Ishpeming and surrounding country that they are now in receipt of their Fall and Winter Stocks, consisting of THE LATEST STYLES AND BEST GOODS!

Dry Goods, Groceries, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, Silks, Trimmings, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Clothing of all kinds, Blankets, Flannels, Crockery, Glassware, Hay, Feed, Flour, etc., in endless variety.

THE MEAT MARKET Is always stocked with all kinds of Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats, Game, Poultry, Fruits and Vegetables in season, Oysters, Canned Goods, etc., and all sold at hard-pan prices. An inspection is respectfully desired.

MISS MCKENNA, Having just returned from Chicago Markets, desires to say to her friends and patrons that she is now better than ever prepared to supply them with everything in the way of MILLINERY, HATS, CAPS, Bonnets, etc. She has also added a select stock of Notions and Fancy Goods, Laces, Trimmings, Ruchings, Ties, Gloves, etc., on which she invites a comparison of goods and prices.

GOODS ALL NEW, PRETTY, AND DESIRABLE. MILLINERY!

MRS. W. H. ROBERTS, Who succeeds Miss Vaughn, in the Millinery business in the store on Main street, Ishpeming, would call the attention of the ladies to the fact that she has just received a new stock of Fall Goods, consisting of trimmed and un-trimmed Hats, Bonnets, Ladies', Children's, and Infants' Cloaks, Furs and Fur Trimmings, Fancy Notions, Laces, Ruchings, Underwear, Yarns, Zephyrs, Hoods, Scarfs—hand-made—Hosiery, Leggings, Corsets, Fringes, Slipper Patterns, Hair Switches, and a full line of Ladies' Jewelry.

Also conducts a GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE, Cor. First and Division streets. Flour and Feed always on hand.

E. E. OSBORN, ATTORNEY, Office over D. P. Wadsworth & Co.'s Bank.

PHOTOGRAPHS: Of all descriptions at B. F. CHILD'S ART GALLERY.

A TRIAL IS SOLICITED. C. D. COLE, Artist in Charge. Ishpeming, Oct. 15, 1880.

AMERICAN AND ITALIAN MARBLE, AND MANUFACTURERS OF MONUMENTS, HEADSTONES, TABLETS, MANTELS, Etc.

FINE ENGRAVING AND GRANITE CUTTING. A specialty. Orders from a distance solicited and promptly executed. Good work and satisfaction guaranteed in every case. ISHPHEMING, MICH.

EVERY POLICY BECOMES INSTANTLY PROFITABLE AFTER THREE YEARS.

For circulars, terms, examples, books, pamphlets, etc., apply to GEORGE I. BREWSTER, 536-2 General Agent, 406 Milwaukee Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

PRESIDENT, HENRY B. HYDE. VICE-PRES., JAS. W. ALEXANDER.

J. SELLWOOD Has just received something new in the way of Unique

CROCKERY. Also a Fine assortment of

LADIES' FURS! Cloaks, Dolmans, Hosiery,

OF GENTS' UNDERWEAR. Dry Goods, Groceries, etc.

THE ELECTION! MAY GO AS IT PLEASES!

But All People in want of Something New, and Bright, should visit J. MALLANNEY'S STORE,

Where a Full and Complete Line of Goods Suitable for the fall trade has just been received. In Dry Goods he has something far ahead of anything he has ever before carried, consisting of an unlimited variety of the latest and prettiest patterns. In Ladies' Wear he has an Elegant line, to which he invites especial attention. Woollens, Zephyrs, Laces, Cloaks, Sacques, Dolmans, Hosiery, Carpets, Trimmings, Trucks, Valises, Etc., he has any quantity of the best. The Grocery and Provision department, is filled to overflowing with a desirable stock, which will be disposed of at the lowest CASH prices. A respectful invitation is tendered to everyone to call and inspect goods and prices.

J. MALLANNEY.

ALL KINDS OF COAL! By the Cargo, Car Load or Single Ton.

Office and Yard C. & N. W. R. Y. opposite Depot.

Miscellaneous. INSURANCE OFFERED BY THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF NEW YORK IS THE CHEAPEST AND THE BEST.

1st. Because its incontestable policies are simple, concise and without arduous conditions such as so frequently result in technical and inequitable settlements, or annoying litigation.

2nd. Because its policies, besides furnishing ABSOLUTE INDEMNITY, prove at maturity profitable investments, as letters recently published from holders of Tontine policies clearly prove.

3rd. Because of its financial strength, progressive management, and widely extended business. (The average annual amount of its new policies issued has for the past eleven years been larger than that of any other company.)

4th. The Policy payable at death. 5th. An annual cash income during balance of life.

Assets securely invested of $88,000.00. Surplus $200,000. The Society's popularity is shown by the fact that for the past eleven years the total amount of new policies issued has been greater than that of any other company in existence, thus making its average ANNUAL NEW BUSINESS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER COMPANY.

Assets of $88,000.00. Surplus $200,000.00. Total premium paid (21 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (19 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (18 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (17 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (16 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (15 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (14 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (13 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (12 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (11 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (10 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (9 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (8 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (7 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (6 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (5 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (4 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (3 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (2 years) $200,000.00. Total premium paid (1 year) $200,000.00.

NOT ESTIMATED, BUT ACTUAL CASH RETURNS. 1st Example: Policy No. 55,543, issued Dec. 20, 1870, for $5,000.00. Total premium paid (11 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (10 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (9 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (8 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (7 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (6 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (5 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (4 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (3 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (2 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (1 year) $100,000.00.

2d Example: Policy No. 55,543, issued Dec. 20, 1870, for $5,000.00. Total premium paid (11 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (10 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (9 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (8 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (7 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (6 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (5 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (4 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (3 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (2 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (1 year) $100,000.00.

3d Example: Policy No. 41,621, issued March 27, 1868, for $5,000.00. Total premium paid (12 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (11 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (10 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (9 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (8 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (7 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (6 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (5 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (4 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (3 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (2 years) $100,000.00. Total premium paid (1 year) $100,000.00.

4th. The Policy payable at death. 5th. An annual cash income during balance of life.

ASSETS - $37,360,674.75 SURPLUS - $7,515,407.75

GEORGE I. BREWSTER, 536-2 General Agent, 406 Milwaukee Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

PRESIDENT, HENRY B. HYDE. VICE-PRES., JAS. W. ALEXANDER.

J. SELLWOOD Has just received something new in the way of Unique

CROCKERY. Also a Fine assortment of

LADIES' FURS! Cloaks, Dolmans, Hosiery,

OF GENTS' UNDERWEAR. Dry Goods, Groceries, etc.

THE ELECTION! MAY GO AS IT PLEASES!

But All People in want of Something New, and Bright, should visit J. MALLANNEY'S STORE,

Where a Full and Complete Line of Goods Suitable for the fall trade has just been received. In Dry Goods he has something far ahead of anything he has ever before carried, consisting of an unlimited variety of the latest and prettiest patterns. In Ladies' Wear he has an Elegant line, to which he invites especial attention. Woollens, Zephyrs, Laces, Cloaks, Sacques, Dolmans, Hosiery, Carpets, Trimmings, Trucks, Valises, Etc., he has any quantity of the best. The Grocery and Provision department, is filled to overflowing with a desirable stock, which will be disposed of at the lowest CASH prices. A respectful invitation is tendered to everyone to call and inspect goods and prices.

J. MALLANNEY.

ALL KINDS OF COAL! By the Cargo, Car Load or Single Ton.

Office and Yard C. & N. W. R. Y. opposite Depot.

