ARRAMATION OF THE PRESENCE NO. 17.

SERVINGEN STATE

ARRAMATION

The Champion mine, for the first time during its existence, has turned 100,000 form in a single season. From the opening of navigation up to and including Wednesday hast, its lake shipments from the three ports of Marguett, Escansba and L'Anse had footed up 101,712 gross tons. The Champion, like most of the other large hard one mines of the district, was never looking better than at the present time and should there be an increased, or even the same demand for ore next season, we may expect to see some of them do even batter than they have during the year now so nearly closed.

Manquette.—Following is a state-ment of the shipments of iron ore, pig iron and quartz from Marquette, from the opening of navigation up to and including Wednesday, Nov. 3d:

TRADE in all its varied departments is keeping up well, considering the po-litical excitement, and then the longlitical excitement, and then the long-continued suspension of river navigation has its effect here in Pittsburgh. As noted in our report of last week, there is a decidelly better feeling since the October elections. After the battle of next Tuesday, and the excitement attending it has subsided, our manufacturers generally look for a largely increased business, as orders that have been held back will then be sent forward, although there is no doubt that a great deal of work held back to await the result of the election will have to M. Coulter & Co.'s. heen held back will then be sent forward, although thene is no doubt that a great deal of work held back to await the result of the election will have to go over until next summer. The demand for iron, in the meantine, will not be as large as it would otherwise have been. From now until next More with the will be that the will be that little out-door work done in the Western country, but the outlook is favorable for a good business for the season, and our manufacturers, as a rule, are very hopful of the inmodiate future. One of the most encouraging features of the times is that business is being conducted on a healthy and legitimate basis; there is an absence of the spirit of overtrading, which was so prevalent a year ago, and, as will be remembered, resulted so disastroulsy.—Tran Age.

No FOOLNO.—The other day a Detroit lawyer had a call to go into the country a few miles to attend a case on trial before a country 'Salivir, and while jogging leisurely along in his buggy, he saw a man come running across the fields at the top of his speed. Directly behind him, and armed with a stout stick, was a woman, it was a nip-and-tack race to the fence. The man reached it first, however, and as he dropped on the highway-side he called out to the lawyer.

Stranger, for Heaven's sako, give me a lift down the road for half a mile!

What's the trouble here I' asked the lawyer.

me a lift down the road for half as mile!

What's the trouble here ?' asked the havyer.

Whife and I have had another falling out! was the reply, as the man rolled down a steep bank to the buggy.

The woman at this moment reached the fence, and, as she was elimping ever, the lawyer inquired or the armset?'

Are you fooling, just wait a second!' gasped the woman, as also plunged down the bank, rolling over and over in the road and rose up with a big stone in each hand.

"Squart!' yelled the husband, as he circled around the borns, but the lawyer wasn't quick enough. One of the stone hit him in the back and the other gazzed his ear and hit the horse, and five or six more were coming as he struck a trot and moved off, the husband hanging on the vehicle and running behind. When a safe distance away the lawyer hatlet and folked back. The woman stood in the middle of the road shaking both fists at him, and the husband wiped the beads of perspiration of his cheeks and chin and said!
