

THE WEEKLY AGITATOR.

NEWETT & MCGARTHY, Publishers.

Devoted to the Interests of the Lake Superior Region in General and the City of Ishpeming in Particular.

TERMS, TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR.

VOL. II, NO. 7.

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1880.

WHOLE NO. 59.

City Directory.

ISHPEMING LABORATORY.

J. ROPES,
CHEMIST.

MAKES ANALYSES OF ALL ORES AND MINERALS.

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.

C. H. DELONG,

DENTIST.

Office in Edison Building, up stairs.

ISHPEMING, (0-97) MICH.

A. LIDBERG,

ISHPEMING, MICH.

PHOTOGRAPHER.

All kinds of PHOTOGRAPHS, TINTYPES, ETC.

Flinted in an artistic manner, and as cheaply as anywhere on the Upper Peninsula. Satisfaction guaranteed. A trial solicited. Gallery on First street.

G. H. HODGKINS,

LIVERY STABLE.

Corner of Main and Division Streets.

Best rigs in town. Prices as low as the lowest.

HORSES.

A fine lot of horses always kept on hand for sale.

JOHN JONES,

Proprietor of

DRAY AND BUS LINE.

The Best Spring Wagons in the City.

THE BEST BUS IN THE STATE.

Parties carried to all adjoining locations at reasonable prices. If you want a first-class job of mowing done, from the smallest article of sawgrass to a goodly sized mountain, call on him or address him at his office in Rock Store building.

C. E. BINGHAM & CO.,

IRON WORKS.

No. 130 Water Street, Coal and Iron Exchange Building.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.

E. CRONIN,

Dealer in

Groceries,

PROVISIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,

CROCKERY, GLASS-

WARE, ETC.

Sample Room in connection, where the best brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors can be found. When you want a good drink call on us, and "don't you forget it."

JOHN P. OUTHWAITE'S

MEAT MARKET.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in all kinds of FRESH AND SALT MEATS,

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, ETC.

Also kept for

A. BOOTH'S

OYSTERS,

the finest brand in the market. A full supply kept constantly on hand.

Everything you want at lowest figures. Call and examine.

ISHPEMING, MICH.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I HAVE OPENED A GENERAL GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE IN MY BUILDING, MIN STREET, AND WOULD RESPECTFULLY SOLICIT A PORTION OF THE PUBLIC PATRONAGE. MY STOCK EMBRACES A FULL LINE OF

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,

Fruits, Vegetables, Canned Goods, Etc.

BUTTER AND EGGS A SPECIALTY.

TIMOTHY HUGHES

City Directory.

H. ASGAARD,

Dealer in

Furniture!

Coffins, Etc.

CONTRACTOR.

And Manufacturer of all kinds of Furniture. Repairing neatly done. Orders from outside attended to with promptness. Corner of Main Street and Cleveland Avenue.

COMMERCIAL HOUSE,

ISHPEMING, MICH.

$1.50 & $2 PER DAY

According to Location of Rooms.

OR,

EUROPEAN PLAN!

Rooms 20 and 25 cents per day, and meals at all hours in the New Restaurant.

Everything in season and served in best style. Open on Second street, corner of Pearl.

WALSH & TISLOW,

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Also dealer in Watches, Organs and General Musical merchandise. Agent for all kinds of Sewing Machines, particularly the

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Manufactures

STEAM ENGINES, HOISTING MACHINERY, BOILERS AND CASTINGS,

REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

ISHPEMING, MICH.

CALIFORNIA HOUSE,

Corner Pine and Pearl Streets,

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.

The undersigned would respectfully announce that he has re-opened the above house and resided in it first-class style, and is now prepared to accommodate permanent and transient guests.

Terms Reasonable.

MURDOCH CALDER, Prop.

CALDER & FUNSTON,

Manufacturers of

CARRIAGES,

WAGONS AND SLEIGHS.

REPAIRING

HORSE-SHOEING A SPECIALTY

Give us a Call. Shop on Pearl Street, 177

ISHPEMING, MICH.

C. A. FOHRMAN,

DEALER IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

And General

MUSICAL MERCHANDISE.

Sole Agent for Lyon & Healy Piano, J. & C. Fisher Piano, Steinway Piano and Bennett Organ. Keeps a full line of Violins, Guitars, Banjos, Mandolins, Flutes, Clarinets, Accordions, Harmonicas, Banjos, Brass and Silver

Band Instruments, Musical Toys for Children

Banjo, Violin, Guitar and Harp strings, best

Business and other

Month Pieces and every single article pertaining to the Musical Trade. Every article guaranteed strictly first-class, and just as represented. An inspection will convince the most skeptical.

And therefore the only place where every article in the Musical line can be procured without incurring the expense of sending below for it. All kinds of repairing and tuning done in a thorough manner.

ISHPEMING, MICH., June 15, 1880.

C. A. FOHRMAN,

315

Miscellaneous.

E. P. BIEGLER,

Shaving and Hair

Dressing Parlors,

Main Street,

ISHPEMING, MICH.

WALSH & TISLOW,

LIVERY,

SALE, AND BOARDING STABLES.

Pearl Street, Ishpeming, Mich.

Best rigs in the city at reasonable rates. We are specially prepared to accommodate people for funerals, and can attend their orders in any part of the country.

ALSO MANUFACTURE AND REPAIR

CARRIAGES, BUGGIES,

WAGONS, SLEIGHS,

And do Blacksmithing and Job Work in a prompt and thorough manner. Employing only first-class workmen and using the best of material, our factory is noted for the superiority of its work. Estimates made for any description of work.

DO NOT FAIL TO CONSULT US

When in need of anything in our line, and we will try to make it to your advantage to leave orders with us. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Shop on Second street, corner of Pearl.

WALSH & TISLOW,

D. GIRZIKOWSKY,

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Also dealer in Watches, Organs and General Musical merchandise. Agent for all kinds of Sewing Machines, particularly the

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Manufactures

STEAM ENGINES, HOISTING MACHINERY, BOILERS AND CASTINGS,

REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

ISHPEMING, MICH.

CALIFORNIA HOUSE,

Corner Pine and Pearl Streets,

ISHPEMING, MICHIGAN.

The undersigned would respectfully announce that he has re-opened the above house and resided in it first-class style, and is now prepared to accommodate permanent and transient guests.

Terms Reasonable.

MURDOCH CALDER, Prop.

CALDER & FUNSTON,

Manufacturers of

CARRIAGES,

WAGONS AND SLEIGHS.

REPAIRING

HORSE-SHOEING A SPECIALTY

Give us a Call. Shop on Pearl Street, 177

ISHPEMING, MICH.

C. A. FOHRMAN,

DEALER IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

And General

MUSICAL MERCHANDISE.

Sole Agent for Lyon & Healy Piano, J. & C. Fisher Piano, Steinway Piano and Bennett Organ. Keeps a full line of Violins, Guitars, Banjos, Mandolins, Flutes, Clarinets, Accordions, Harmonicas, Banjos, Brass and Silver

Band Instruments, Musical Toys for Children

Banjo, Violin, Guitar and Harp strings, best

Business and other

Month Pieces and every single article pertaining to the Musical Trade. Every article guaranteed strictly first-class, and just as represented. An inspection will convince the most skeptical.

And therefore the only place where every article in the Musical line can be procured without incurring the expense of sending below for it. All kinds of repairing and tuning done in a thorough manner.

ISHPEMING, MICH., June 15, 1880.

C. A. FOHRMAN,

315

WAIT A WHILE.

Wait a while, cheerily smile.

Soon the storm will be over.

There's a lot of time in the day for you.

There's a sweetness yet in the clover.

Trust and wait, though burdens great.

Hard on the heart are pressing;

But the night must fall and cover all.

And leave in its stead a blessing.

'Neath the snow no road below.

And there no toes are humming;

But they gather round in their dark retreat.

To brighten the days that are coming.

Dark and drear the skies appear.

When the cloudy day the English wind received the unenviable proposal.

'You will compel him to give my little one to me, Henry,' the poor young mother had said on the day that made her for the second time a wife.

But when Henry Tracy, armed with all the force of the law, went to Milan to demand possession of his little step-daughter, lo! Paolo Petroni had utterly disappeared, and Bertha with him.

Search, inquiry, investigation proved equally vain, and from that day to this Dr. Tracy has never heard of her.

It was one of those strange, inexplicable romances of real life that we sometimes encounter amid the most prosaic and commonplace surroundings, and supplied Dr. Tracy with ample materials for thought as he drove through the wild and desolate part of the country.

'Not a particularly pleasant spot at this twilight,' soliloquized the doctor, glancing forward to catch a glimpse of single ray of yellow light that streamed from a window of a cottage a few rods further on. 'They've lighted their candles, I see, and it's high time they did, too.'

He sprang from his phaeton, and entered the cottage without knocking.

It presented no very inviting scene. A minimum floor, treacherous and uncertain to the unwary footsteps; walls where masses of plaster had fallen away, leaving the rough laths exposed; and a fireplace where a few damp logs sputtered and smoked, and did everything but blaze up cheerfully. A hard-favored old woman, who was dozing on a stool by the hearth, started up and looked to courtesy as the doctor entered.

'Well, Mrs. Hopper, and how is the patient?'

'Quiet, sir—quite quiet.'

'And the child?'

'As peaceful as a lamb, bless its little head!'

Dr. Tracy took up the candle and strode across the room to a low bedstead, in the most distant corner, where a human figure was dimly outlined beneath a torn and tattered counterpane. Close beside it, with a shower of fleecy, flaxen ringlets mingled with the black, disheveled locks of the prostrate woman, nestled a child, who looked up into the doctor's eyes as he approached, with innocent, wondering looks.

'I gave her the drops at 4 o'clock,' said the old woman, 'and she hasn't made no fuss since. I wouldn't disturb her, 'cause there ain't nothin' so reliable as sleep.'

'Sleep!' echoed Dr. Tracy, bending to examine the averted face; 'my good soul, she's dead!'

'Dead!' shrieked the old woman, rushing across the floor—'dead! Come away, child, quick!'

The little creature slid to the ground with a composure strangely at variance with her age, and stood alternately eyeing her two companions.

'I hope, doctor, you'll see I don't lose nothing by the expense I've been to, 'whin' Mrs. Hopper. 'I'm a lone widder woman, and—'

'And the biggest hairy in the country?' added Dr. Tracy. 'I knew that when I had this poor creature brought here when I found her dying by the roadside night before last; but I couldn't very well help myself. Don't be alarmed, Mrs. Hopper; you shall not be a sufferer. But about the little girl, I really don't know what to do.'

'I can be no doubt that she is dead, Helen,' soothed the husband. 'Were it otherwise the your brother-in-law would long since have communicated with you.'

'If I could only believe it—if I could only cease this aching at my heart,' ungrated Helen, 'but indeed I cannot forget my little lost Bertha.'

At this moment Harry sat upon the sofa, lonely claiming his mother's attention; and Dr. Tracy went away with the pleasing recollection that Helen was smiling back to her boy's smiles. Ah! where was there ever such magnetism like the touch of a child's hand to sooth the ache of her heart?

The flaming crimson bell of the late sunset glowed sullenly above the leafless October woods; the tall trees that skirted the lonely road on either side seemed to stand like giant sentinels. Dr. Tracy buttoned his overcoat on and two buttons higher as he drove along the solitary highway, and felt the rapturous chill of the evening air; and all the time he was thinking of Helen's words.

She was a widow when he married her, the fair Saxon beauty—a widow whom the death of her handsome foreign swindler of a husband had set free from a bondage almost worse than slavery. Francisco Petroni died; but Paolo Petroni, his brother, lived, a dark, designing man. Bertha, their infant child, had been consigned, by Francisco's desire, to his brother's care, during the illness that proved fatal to him. All the widow's subsequent efforts to regain possession of her little one were futile.

'My dear sister-in-law,' said the Italian to her one day, when he appeals and entreaties had been most persistent, 'there is one way, and but one way, for you to receive back Bertha.'

'And that is—'

'To receive me also—as your husband!'

Paolo Petroni never forgot his fore-boding the receding movement, the look of horror with which the English widow received the unenviable proposal.

'You will compel him to give my little one to me, Henry,' the poor young mother had said on the day that made her for the second time a wife.

But when Henry Tracy, armed with all the force of the law, went to Milan to demand possession of his little step-daughter, lo! Paolo Petroni had utterly disappeared, and Bertha with him.

Search, inquiry, investigation proved equally vain, and from that day to this Dr. Tracy has never heard of her.

It was one of those strange, inexplicable romances of real life that we sometimes encounter amid the most prosaic and commonplace surroundings, and supplied Dr. Tracy with ample materials for thought as he drove through the wild and desolate part of the country.

'Not a particularly pleasant spot at this twilight,' soliloquized the doctor, glancing forward to catch a glimpse of single ray of yellow light that streamed from a window of a cottage a few rods further on. 'They've lighted their candles, I see, and it's high time they did, too.'

He sprang from his phaeton, and entered the cottage without knocking.

It presented no very inviting scene. A minimum floor, treacherous and uncertain to the unwary footsteps; walls where masses of plaster had fallen away, leaving the rough laths exposed; and a fireplace where a few damp logs sputtered and smoked, and did everything but blaze up cheerfully. A hard-favored old woman, who was dozing on a stool by the hearth, started up and looked to courtesy as the doctor entered.

'Well, Mrs. Hopper, and how is the patient?'

'Quiet, sir—quite quiet.'

'And the child?'

'As peaceful as a lamb, bless its little head!'

Dr. Tracy took up the candle and strode across the room to a low bedstead, in the most distant corner, where a human figure was dimly outlined beneath a torn and tattered counterpane. Close beside it, with a shower of fleecy, flaxen ringlets mingled with the black, disheveled locks of the prostrate woman, nestled a child, who looked up into the doctor's eyes as he approached, with innocent, wondering looks.

'I gave her the drops at 4 o'clock,' said the old woman, 'and she hasn't made no fuss since. I wouldn't disturb her, 'cause there ain't nothin' so reliable as sleep.'

'Sleep!' echoed Dr. Tracy, bending to examine the averted face; 'my good soul, she's dead!'

'Dead!' shrieked the old woman, rushing across the floor—'dead! Come away, child, quick!'

The little creature slid to the ground with a composure strangely at variance with her age, and stood alternately eyeing her two companions.

'I hope, doctor, you'll see I don't lose nothing by the expense I've been to, 'whin' Mrs. Hopper. 'I'm a lone widder woman, and—'

'And the biggest hairy in the country?' added Dr. Tracy. 'I knew that when I had this poor creature brought here when I found her dying by the roadside night before last; but I couldn't very well help myself. Don't be alarmed, Mrs. Hopper; you shall not be a sufferer. But about the little girl, I really don't know what to do.'

'I can be no doubt that she is dead, Helen,' soothed the husband. 'Were it otherwise the your brother-in-law would long since have communicated with you.'

'If I could only believe it—if I could only cease this aching at my heart,' ungrated Helen, 'but indeed I cannot forget my little lost Bertha.'

At this moment Harry sat upon the sofa, lonely claiming his mother's attention; and Dr. Tracy went away with the pleasing recollection that Helen was smiling back to her boy's smiles. Ah! where was there ever such magnetism like the touch of a child's hand to sooth the ache of her heart?

The flaming crimson bell of the late sunset glowed sullenly above the leafless October woods; the tall trees that skirted the lonely road on either side seemed to stand like giant sentinels. Dr. Tracy buttoned his overcoat on and two buttons higher as he drove along the solitary highway, and felt the rapturous chill of the evening air; and all the time he was thinking of Helen's words.

She was a widow when he married her, the fair Saxon beauty—a widow whom the death of her handsome foreign swindler of a husband had set free from a bondage almost worse than slavery. Francisco Petroni died; but Paolo Petroni, his brother, lived, a dark, designing man. Bertha, their infant child, had been consigned, by Francisco's desire, to his brother's care, during the illness that proved fatal to him. All the widow's subsequent efforts to regain possession of her little one were futile.

'My dear sister-in-law,' said the Italian to her one day, when he appeals and entreaties had been most persistent, 'there is one way, and but one way, for you to receive back Bertha.'

'And that is—'

'To receive me also—as your husband!'

Paolo Petroni never forgot his fore-boding the receding movement, the look of horror with which the English widow received the unenviable proposal.

'You will compel him to give my little one to me, Henry,' the poor young mother had said on the day that made her for the second time a wife.

But when Henry Tracy, armed with all the force of the law, went to Milan to demand possession of his little step-daughter, lo! Paolo Petroni had utterly disappeared, and Bertha with him.

Search, inquiry, investigation proved equally vain, and from that day to this Dr. Tracy has never heard of her.

It was one of those strange, inexplicable romances of real life that we sometimes encounter amid the most prosaic and commonplace surroundings, and supplied Dr. Tracy with ample materials for thought as he drove through the wild and desolate part of the country.

'Not a particularly pleasant spot at this twilight,' soliloquized the doctor, glancing forward to catch a glimpse of single ray of yellow light that streamed from a window of a cottage a few rods further on. 'They've lighted their candles, I see, and it's high time they did, too.'

He sprang from his phaeton, and entered the cottage without knocking.

It presented no very inviting scene. A minimum floor, treacherous and uncertain to the unwary footsteps; walls where masses of plaster had fallen away, leaving the rough laths exposed; and a fireplace where a few damp logs sputtered and smoked, and did everything but blaze up cheerfully. A hard-favored old woman, who was dozing on a stool by the hearth, started

THE WEEKLY AGITATOR. CITY AND COUNTY.

All the subscribers to the WEEKLY AGITATOR who forward their subscription direct to the office during the next three weeks, or pay in advance, will receive, when called upon to do so, during the same length of time, will, for the sum of two dollars, the price of one year's subscription...

REMOVED FROM THE Irving show at F. P. Tillson's drug store. The AGITATOR has gone to the habit of its main—and it means to hang on to it for a day or two at least.

The next party of the Happy Hour Social club is to be given at Austin's Hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 30.

Swear eddy still exists in large and small quantities at our stores, and is much to be regretted.

The Knights of Pythias, of this city, give their first ball at their hall, Wednesday evening of next week, Nov. 24.

Can it be that he really is the father of Norway? Well now he is in order for him to show up his marriage certificate.

Who will be Ishpeming's mayor when the present incumbent goes? Let us see the secretary of the Thirty-third district.

What is needed most in this district at present, is snow. Local transportation is much retarded on account of the state of the highways.

SALESMEN.—Simon Crab has just got settled in his elegant new quarters in Wilbur's building. He will have as nice a saloon as is in the city.

The lakes in the city limits are frozen sufficiently to allow skates to glide over the slippery surface, and there are any amount of sliders to slip.

The Irving theatrical troupe, appear here Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week. The troupe is a good one, and no doubt will well patronized.

On Thanksgiving day a prize service will be held at the Presbyterian church, commencing at half past one o'clock, p. m. Commence and praise Him, all ye people.

The firemen's ball occurs on Friday evening of next week, Nov. 24. Posters announcing the fact, and inviting the public are out, and we are sure there will be a goodly response to the call.

DR. JUDEN, an commercial house, advertises to cure all ailments, in about ten minutes. If you are troubled with any supposed-to-be incurable disease and can spare a few minutes, pay him a visit and get cured.

If you look at the Inprint at the bottom you will see that the names announcing the firemen's ball for Friday evening next were printed at the AGITATOR office.

How is the weather? The AGITATOR will never turn the cold shoulder on any of its readers or friends, even though they should repay the kindness by a libel suit, but it must inform "An Occasional Reader" that its "Hemate" column is not manufactured in that way. However, the would-be contributor may some day have the pleasure of perusing some of the items which were chopped up with a pair of shears just as neatly as though he had been in the editorial harness for years, among our selected matter on the other side of the paper.

HEMATE.

Generally in some paper. Where is the man who struck Bar Cendell? Now is the time to get your snow-shoes out. We'll give you $100 cash if he will let the matter come to trial.

Indications are that the "hemate" market has been overdone. Get on your horse, and attend the firemen's ball next Friday evening.

The hemate suit has hardened and the average man turns up his nose in contempt. Wonder if the papa of Norway ain't laboring under the impression that he is seeing the Iron Horse.

The good hematees are preparing nightcaps, in the shape of mince meat, at all the stores. His funeral occurred Wednesday.

HEMATE ACCIDENT.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning a man named Ole Olson, a Swede engaged as a tanner in No. 214, Lake Superior mine, was instantly killed by being caught under a fall of timber.

It is no use to be a papa; but there is no fun in better kicked and hit through the end of a nose. We'll give you $100 cash if he will let the matter come to trial.

Wendel hasn't paid his subscription to the AGITATOR. The weekly AGITATOR is a magazine, and depends upon the publisher in which the articles are published.

Indian summer lasted about half a day here, just as accounted for by the severity of the weather. The weather is now in a most disagreeable condition.

Who will be Ishpeming's mayor when the present incumbent goes? Let us see the secretary of the Thirty-third district.

What is needed most in this district at present, is snow. Local transportation is much retarded on account of the state of the highways.

SALESMEN.—Simon Crab has just got settled in his elegant new quarters in Wilbur's building. He will have as nice a saloon as is in the city.

The lakes in the city limits are frozen sufficiently to allow skates to glide over the slippery surface, and there are any amount of sliders to slip.

The Irving theatrical troupe, appear here Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week. The troupe is a good one, and no doubt will well patronized.

On Thanksgiving day a prize service will be held at the Presbyterian church, commencing at half past one o'clock, p. m. Commence and praise Him, all ye people.

The firemen's ball occurs on Friday evening of next week, Nov. 24. Posters announcing the fact, and inviting the public are out, and we are sure there will be a goodly response to the call.

DR. JUDEN, an commercial house, advertises to cure all ailments, in about ten minutes. If you are troubled with any supposed-to-be incurable disease and can spare a few minutes, pay him a visit and get cured.

If you look at the Inprint at the bottom you will see that the names announcing the firemen's ball for Friday evening next were printed at the AGITATOR office.

How is the weather? The AGITATOR will never turn the cold shoulder on any of its readers or friends, even though they should repay the kindness by a libel suit, but it must inform "An Occasional Reader" that its "Hemate" column is not manufactured in that way. However, the would-be contributor may some day have the pleasure of perusing some of the items which were chopped up with a pair of shears just as neatly as though he had been in the editorial harness for years, among our selected matter on the other side of the paper.

GOOD LORD, DELIVER US!

THE FATHER OF NORWAY (IN HIS MINDS) THE WEEKLY AGITATOR FOR LIBEL, CLAIMING $1000 DAMAGES.

In course of last week, in the "Hemate" column, appeared an item which was at the time intended merely for a libel on the father of Norway, but which, as most items of paragraphs published in that column are intended, the Hemate in question, however, contained more truth than poetry, for it has since served to draw down upon our unprotected heads the virtuous rage and indignation of the great and glorious father in his mind.

Wendel of the town which he resided in this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of MARSH. We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the father of Norway, as a resident of this city, and a gentleman who at the present time, at least, is possessed of considerable money that he is not inclined to spend his easily-acquired wealth in stamping himself an egotist and egotist by bringing suit against where he knows, if he knows anything, which begins to appear doubtful, no intelligent jury could find in his favor.

his father—so thought honest Johnny. Willing that the father of Norway was considerably modest about his figure—Mulligan was ready for the arrest of the pugilist, charged with the possession of the gun, the unusually quiet town. The result was that the bell-towers were both freed dollars more than they were worth, considering the size and importance of the gentlemen engaged in the conflict. These latter men are too unscrupulous to be allowed to follow in the wake of a great amount of pleasure when engaged in such a trade.

That's the size of it, gentlemen. You see in refers to a street fight on the public streets of Norway, in which it was proved to the satisfaction of the jury, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals. So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

columns of the Chicago Times is reported from the Fourth ward. It is healthy in quality and unfit for these columns. The influence of Mr. and Mrs. Marston King, on last Saturday, and was buried the following day a large concourse of people lining up the funeral cortege.

The "lacking" inhabitant—who must be pretty old by this time—reported Tuesday evening as the coldest winter in his recollection.

Fred. M. Steele, formerly cashier in what was heretofore known as the Childs' Bank, Superior street, is now entering the hardware business in Chicago, g. is in the city on a visit.

Mrs. Hurley has disposed of her harness and trunk store, on the corner of Front and Superior streets, to two enterprising young men, Messrs. Grant & Rowe, who will undoubtedly make a success of it, as the business is at present prospering nicely, and the new management, the Astor's hopes, will not let the business recede from its present standing.

If you want to see activity in some unobtrusive way, a visit to the southern end of the city will show you that the frame work of the new road house is up and ready to be walled in, and to accommodate eight locomotives being a sort of temporary structure. The water tank is also completed, and will be completed in a month or so. The hill south of Mr. Ely's office is rapidly vanishing in your natural lifetime. Henceforth we shall take particular pains in showing to the public at large what a highly respectable and dignified personage is the father of Norway in Mr. Carl Z. Wendel's mind's eye.

NEGAUNEE. Capt. Henry Merry made a brief trip to Chicago the past week. No. 1 stack of the Pioneer furnace has been blown out for repairs.

Great street has been sidewalked from the railroad track north to Front street. Miss M. Jark has resumed her duties in the Mackey school, having entirely recovered from her illness.

A. Sess announces his intention of engaging in a large manufacturing business in one of the towns on the Menominee range. Pros. Atty Adams made a short business trip to Chicago the past week, in the Irving of the Milwaukee mine. He returned on Wednesday.

The traveling theatrical company, one of the best troupes that ever visited this city, will appear in this city Friday evening at the Grand Hotel. It is worthy of it.

Prof. V. B. Cochran left on Monday for Laverne, Minn., being summoned by telegram to attend the funeral of the largest and best stock of furniture on the peninsula, and we are pleased to know they are meeting with a generous patronage.

REPUBLIC. Thanksgiving is coming—so is Christmas. The AGITATOR is for sale at the news depot.

Thanksgiving turkey, for sale at Jos. Mitchell's. Wednesday and Thursday of this week were snivellers.

What has become of our Literary club? Come, Prof. sit up now. Open your eyes, the Standard has been suspended until spring.

The R. I. Co. made the boys happy Tuesday.—The Columbia did likewise on Thursday. The Metropolitan Theatre company will visit us again on the 24th and 25th inst. Let us be full houses.

A grand hop is on the docket, evidently encouraged by the Irving of City Life, of the Michigan Zep. The rendition of the opera of "Golden Hair and Three Bears," at White's hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings last, was a most successful affair, with most abundant success. High altitudes were present both evenings.

We do not feel equal to the task of writing this column, and therefore we are sorry we did it not to be otherwise than the most favorable. All do well that it is difficult to particularize, but the AGITATOR will be glad to receive your own share in the office of at Norway; and again, we think it was but a few days when he rushed down to Quinnessee in hot haste to sling Probability of the Zep, all over his own printing office. He didn't do it, however. We have heard that since he has been a resident of the "R. I. Co." he has been very much the head with a bung-starter, and when he heard the man was dangerously, if not fatally injured, was obliged to telegraph his relatives and friends to come and see and dress the wound. These are a few of the many encounters in which Mr. Wendel has been implicated, unless he has been severely injured, and he has been greatly surprised to see that he again permit us to remark that we are glad to see that such was the case.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

So much for his dignity and high standing, as lauded in his affidavit. But while we are in the copying business we will give just one more little document, which was handed us by Mr. Wendel's attorney previous to instituting suit, with a request to sign and guarantee its insertion in this issue. It will go as far towards showing the true make-up of the man as anything we know of, though we would not advise you to try to get any particulars in fact, would prefer to believe that it had been published as an "apology," as desired, which would not give a great many things which we felt were his own admission, that Carl Z. Wendel was one of the principals.

THE WEEKLY AGITATOR.

A RACE BETWEEN AN OX CART AND A MAIL TRAIN.—Just as the 5:35 p. m. standard fast mail train was steaming out of Opelika a hack containing three Irish gentlemen drove up to the depot of the Western railroad, only to be told that the train that they were in search of was that just disappeared behind the curve. Business of the most pressing nature demanded their presence in Columbus at 8 o'clock. The hack which had brought them to the depot had left, so nothing remained for them to hire but a four-ox team, the animals of which were helping their driver to finish a handful of sugar-corn fodder and pone of corn bread.

"Five dollars," said one, Mr. Collins, "to carry us to Columbus." "Five dollars," said another, Mr. Cooney, "to carry us there against 8 o'clock." "Five dollars more," said the third, Mr. Button, "to get in ahead of the train." So much money to be made, all in two hours and twenty minutes, set the driver crazy. He looked at his team for a moment and then at the thirty miles which lay between him and Columbus, and then at the probable and partly possible $15 to be made by fulfilling the gentlemen's desires.

"I've got man, boss," he said, and cracking his whipdrive whip, he mounted his cart and started on his journey. The first mile was made in slow time, but after that they warmed up, and in an hour they caught up with the train on the east side of Salem. The darkness of the evening prevented the passengers on the train from seeing the race, but the train with its light and fire furnace, was distinctly visible to the ox-cart passengers as they whirled over the wagon road that lay alongside the railroad, and they were more and more delighted as they saw the distance increase between them. At Smith's station the mail train was entirely lost sight of, and in two hours from the time the cart had left Opelika the rattles of the wheels might be heard as it rolled over the upper bridge into Columbus.

"Boys," said Colling, as soon as they had domiciled at a hotel, "we have beaten the train by twenty minutes; let us go up to the depot and see it creeping in."

A Bad Dog.—But if you are looking for downright intellect, call on the pointer dog. It is safe to say that the pointer dog has mind enough for anything. He is far more human than the monkey, and, we cheerfully acknowledge, far worthier of the title of philosopher. Why, look at "Jeff"—every body knows "Jeff"—Dr. Mattman's liver-colored pointer. The dog carries notes, goes for the horse and buggy, goes for beef, and fetches ice regularly. Besides all this, "Jeff" has many accomplishments that make him a finished dog. Would anybody deny "Jeff" an intellect? Hardly. Why, a short time ago "Jeff" was sent for ice, and what did he do? He started with a towel, in one corner of which a pickle was tied up. "Jeff" saw that pickle put in, and immediately temptation assailed him. He could buy ice on credit, and beef was always cash. Now watch the dog. He reasoned. He labored under that temptation until he reached Huff's corner, near the old house, and then yielded. Down in the dirt he crunched, and after a next got the least satisfied. What next? It would never do to carry that pickle into Corpus's. He reasoned again. He buried the pickle, carried the towel in, received the ice, and came out, but not for the pickle. Oh, no; he had studied that out, too. The doctor must be left under the impression that the pickle had gone for the ice, and he was. The ice was carried to the office, and "Jeff" came back like a flash, secured the cash, galloped onward to the beef stand, and in a few moments was observed leaping toward his dinner. He was not afraid to carry it home. He reasoned that the doctor would suppose some one had given it to him. This is vouchered for by three witnesses.—Macca (Gov.) Telegraph.

SINUA.—No country in the world, except perhaps the valleys of the Amazon and the Mississippi, has such a perfect system of water communication as Siberia. The Lena is the third greatest river in Asia. It flows for 1,500 miles, draining a region of 800,000 square miles. The Obi is still larger. It flows for 2,000 miles, draining an area of 1,300,000 square miles—1,900 miles long, and 1,200 miles across—a country only inferior in extent to that through which rolls the Amazon and La Plata in South America. But the Yenesei is the river to which, in future most commerce will resort. For, though rather less than the Obi, and farther to the east, it is more easily reached from Europe. It rises among the hills in the confines of China, and, after coursing through the half of Asia, falls into the Arctic ocean, 2,000 miles away. All of these rivers are navigable even for large vessels, and their valleys are rich in wheat, minerals, cattle, timber, fish, and other products. The Detroit Free Press gives a long list of "ejections of words from the thieves' dialect." The Boston Post thinks that "this will be a great help to new settlers who don't want to appear ignorant in good society."

The great European demand for American products has made the green-back at par all over the civilized world. The great demand being made for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, is caused from the fact that it is becoming a standard household remedy for obstinate coughs, sore throat, catarrh of long standing, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. For further particulars see advertisement.

No ingredients but the purest are combined in Thomas' Electric Oil. Six of the best Oils known to the chemist are united in it. For bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping-cough, rheumatism, nervous lameness, and external injuries, it is incomparable. In another column the reader will find the advertisement. Note—Electric, selected and electrized.

LATE inventions, like the telephone and the multiplying slates, all tend to reduce the labor and vexations of business; but nothing relieves a cold, cough or sore throat, like Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Try it; it is worth its weight in gold.

Outfit sent free to those who wish to compare in the most pleasant and profitable manner known with Sewing Machines. Capital not required. We will furnish you everything you need and sewers wanted at once. Many are making fortunes at the business. Ladies make as much more money every day than can be made in a week at any other employment. Those who engage at once will find a short road to fortune. Address H. HARTMAN & Co., Portland, Maine.

CHAS. A. EGGERS, BOOK-BINDER AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER. Old Periodicals renovated, re-bound and made as good as new. RENOVATED BOOK WORK. For Mining Companies, Railroad Companies, Banks or Corporations of any description done in a thorough and reliable manner at rates as low as can be obtained in Chicago or elsewhere.

ESTABLISHED left at the Arrivon office will receive the same attention as if sent to the business direct. CHAS. A. EGGERS, Marquette, Oct. 15, 1880. JOHN D. MURPHY, DEALER IN CHOICE WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS, IRON STREET, NEGAUNEE, MICH.

Having purchased the business formerly conducted by Mr. Ed. Doyle, I shall be pleased to see all my old friends, and as many new ones as may favor me with a call, promising good treatment and the finest quality of goods. JOHN D. MURPHY, Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 4th, 1880.

Outfits furnished free, with full instructions for conducting the most profitable business that you can ever learn, and our instructions are so simple and plain that any one can follow them at the start. No one can fail who is willing to work. Women are especially fitted for this business, and can earn large sums. Many have made it the business of one hundred dollars in a single week. Nothing like it ever known before. All who engage are surprised at the ease and rapidity with which they are able to make money. You can engage in this business during your spare time at great profit. You do not have to invest capital in it. We take all the risk. Those who wish to really money should write us up at once. All furnished free. 501 Third Street & Co., Augusta, Maine.

E. E. OSBORN, ATTORNEY, Office over D. F. Wadsworth & Co.'s Bank, ISHPEMING, (6497) MICHIGAN.

NEW GOODS JUST RECEIVED BY G. H. ARTHUR & CO., Merchant Tailors! ISHPEMING, MICH. They consist of a choice lot of Woollens and the latest and noblest patterns. We have made the selection with care, and bought only such goods as are adapted to this country and our customers. We have many fine patterns suitable for Clothing, Dry Goods, Etc. NEW GOODS! BIG ARRAY! AT THE LITTLE STORE AROUND THE CORNER. R. M. COULTER & CO., Have Just Received their FALL STOCK of Dress Goods, Trimming Silks, (to match Dress Goods), Flannels, Cottons, Gingham, Hosiery, Corsets, Hamburgs, and a Fine Line of Prints never was brought to this city. Also a Full Line of Gent's Furnishing Goods, Blanket Quilts, German Socks, Wool Socks, and the largest variety of CARPETS Ever Exhibited in this market—75 Different Patterns to Select From. Those wishing to buy carpet this fall save money by examining this stock before purchasing elsewhere. Their Rubber Line can't be beaten. The Groceries and Provisions are always fresh. They also deal in Hay, Grain, Feed, Flour, etc. Tobacco and Cigars always on hand.

WE INVITE COMPARISON OF STYLES AND PRICES. Everything needed by Man, Woman or Child to be had, of the Best Quality and at LOWEST PRICES, at

J. SELLWOOD Has just received something new in the way of Unique

CROCKERY. Also a Fine assortment of

LADIES' FURS! Cloaks, Dolmans, Hosiery, Also a splendid Assortment

OF GENTS' UNDERWEAR Dry Goods, Canned Goods, Groceries, Etc.

DRY GOODS COFFEE GROCERIES From 15c. to 40c. per Pound.

CANNED GOODS A SPECIALTY. PICKLES! Of all varieties, by the bottle, pint, quart or gallon, best in the city. TRY 'EM.

J.O. St. Clair & Co., PRINTS. Trunks, NOTIONS AND Valises, FANCY GOODS.

HATS AND CAPS. TEAS. BOOTS AND SHOES.

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Etc.

Watches! Clocks! Jewelry! A. A. ANDERSON, Corner of Main and Pearl Streets, Ishpeeming, keeps constantly on hand the largest and best assortment of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, SILVER AND PLATED WARE, PIANOS AND ORGANS, To be found in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give the utmost satisfaction to buyers. Also keeps constantly on hand a large and complete stock of Light Running Domestic SEWING MACHINE. All other kinds of Sewing Machines and attachments continually in stock. All goods in my store are new, and of the latest styles. Call and examine goods and prices, and I will guarantee to be satisfied. Address SIBSON & Co., Ishpeeming, Mich.

Clothing and Furnishing Goods. HATS & CAPS. NEW GOODS! THE NORTONS, (T. & P. J.), BOSS CLOTHIERS AND FASHIONABLE TAILORS. Want the readers of this advertisement to call at their Store, corner of Main and Pearl streets, immediately and learn of something greatly to their advantage.

LOW PRICES. Lake Transportation, Coal, Flour, Feed, Etc. Lak e Transportation, Coal, Flour, Feed, Etc. Michigan & Lake Superior

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY'S Elegant Passenger Steamers Leave Marquette GOING WEST: GOING EAST: Every Tuesday and Saturday Morning. Every Sunday and Thursday Afternoon For Tickets and Rates apply to F. B. SPEAR, Agt., Marquette.

F. B. SPEAR, DEALER IN HAY, GRAIN, FEED, FLOUR, SALT, OIL, HARD, SOFT AND BLOSSBURG COAL. Marquette, June 10, 1880.

Buggies. TULLER BUGGY COMPANY, COLUMBUS, OHIO. LEADING MANUFACTURERS OF OHIO.

OUR CARRIAGES ARE USED IN MORE THAN Thirty States and Territories. SEND FOR CATALOGUE. 165 and 167 North High Street. ONLY FIRST-CLASS WORK MANUFACTURED.

DR. THOMAS' EMULSION OF PURE FISH LIVER OIL. WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD. CURES RHEUMATISM, CURE COUGHS AND COLDS. Cures Sore Throat, Cures Diphtheria. CURES LAME BACK AND STIFF JOINTS. CURES BURNS, CUTS AND BRUISES.

FOR SALE AT THE CITY DRUG STORE, ISHPEMING.

Brewery. LAGER BEER! MEESKE & HOCH, Late of Milwaukee. Having recently made many improvements in the brewing at Marquette formerly owned and operated by Geo. Robbins, wish to announce to the people of Ishpeeming and surrounding country that they are now prepared to fill all orders for Lager Beer. Of their own brewing, and of the very best quality. Give it a trial; and after you have done so you will say that no good beer can be made on Lake Superior as anywhere else. They delivered in any part of the City of Ishpeeming daily by wagon. Mr. Chas. Lyt the resident agent.

NATIONAL HOTEL, Spring street.

MARQUETTE, MICHIGAN. JUST OPENED. EVERYTHING NEW. TERMS REASONABLE.

W. A. JELLISSON, Proprietor.

Jellison will be at all the Trains.

TOLU ROCK AND RYE SURE CURE FOR Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, And All Diseases of THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

CAUTION. DON'T BE DECEIVED. Beware of cheap imitations. The genuine Tolu Rock and Rye is made in the city of Toledo, Ohio, and is the only one that will cure the most stubborn cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Throat and Lungs. It is pleasant to take, and it is the only one that will cure the most stubborn cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Throat and Lungs. It is pleasant to take, and it is the only one that will cure the most stubborn cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all the ailments of the Throat and Lungs.

JAMES DWYER & CO., MARQUETTE, 307 Agents for the Upper Peninsula.

STOVES J. W. JOCHIM, Would call attention to his unusually large stock, to which he has recently been adding by fresh purchases of DESIRABLE GRADES. Special attention is invited to his fine assortment of RANGES AND COOK STOVES! Embracing the best makes in the market. Manufacturer of TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.

MANUFACTURER OF TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.

MANUFACTURER OF TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.

MANUFACTURER OF TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.

MANUFACTURER OF TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.

MANUFACTURER OF TIN, HEET IRON AND COPPER WARE.