Gov. Romney Defies U.S., Signs Bill

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney, defying Washington, has signed the controversial bill for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed in Michigan.

A political head-bumping between the Republican Governor and the Democratic Administration in Washington appeared a virtual certainty as a result.

Romney, protesting he was correct in his interpretation of federal aid concepts and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze was wrong, signed the bill Wednesday.

Celebrezze told Romney at a meeting last week in Washington the bill failed to qualify under federal law because of a limitation feature.

Limits Payments
The bill limits payments to family heads who have been eligible for state unemployment compensation since Jan. 1, 1958. Celebrezze said this disqualifies Michigan for federal aid.

As dispute flared anew, Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley headed for Washington for a consultation of his own with Celebrezze. He said he sought to protect Michigan's legal rights.

FDA To Ban Sale Of Drug Menadione

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today he has been told the Food and Drug Administration is taking steps to ban sales of a vitamin supplement, Menadione, to pregnant women.

The Minnesota Democrat said the FDA may try to pass off the action against the supplement, Vitamin K3, as routine.

Testimony
Humphrey, himself a pharmacist, is chairman of a Senate Government Operations subcommittee which heard Dr. John O. Nestor, a pediatrician on the FDA staff, testify last week that the use of the vitamin in prenatal supplements may result in some instances in "brain damage, spasticity and death" to the newborn.

Humphrey also announced he has received further confirmation that another drug, Mylicon, which he said Nestor had forced from the market as a "pediatric drug," is still "unfortunately being sold for infant use" in the treatment of colic.

Police Solve Disappearance Of Housewife

JACKSON (AP) — The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Joan Watkins, 28, from a southern Michigan village 39 days ago has been solved with the recovery of her body and a confession from her abductor, authorities said today.

Sheriff's officers and state police said Larry L. Hanley, 22, of Napoleon, broke down on his third lie detector test Wednesday and admitted he killed the housewife after he forced her at gunpoint to accompany him to a new house he was building.

The body was found under eight feet of earth buried beside the cement-block basement wall of the house outside Napoleon. Mrs. Watkins had been shot once in the head with a .32 caliber bullet.

Disappeared Feb. 17
Mrs. Watkins disappeared from a Brooklyn, Mich., coin laundry at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 17. She had come from her home near Brooklyn to the laundry to wash diapers for her 10-month-old daughter.

Hanley, an unemployed factory worker, was arraigned in Jackson Municipal Court Wednesday night on a murder charge. He waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment April 3. He was jailed without bond.

Police said Hanley came under surveillance and questioning when patrons of the overnight laundry said they had seen him at the laundry just before Mrs. Watkins' disappearance. He was given three lie detector tests.

Third Test
The third test was given Wednesday. Officers said Hanley confessed the slaying after he was told the machine proved he was lying.

Mrs. Watkins attempted to run away outside the house but she stumbled and as she lay on the ground Hanley shot her in the left temple police said.

Coed Offered $8,000 For Yukon Story

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP) — Pilot Ralph Flores waited excitedly today for a reunion with his wife, Teresa, who is flying from California to the Yukon, where Flores underwent a seven-week ordeal in the frozen wilderness.

"She'll collapse when she sees me," said the pilot-electrician from San Bruno, Calif. "My face is not the same. It's so high up on this side."

Fractured Jaw
Flores' left jaw was fractured and two teeth dislodged when he and Helen Klaben, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., crashed Feb. 4 on an isolated mountainside near the British Columbia-Yukon border.

Miss Klaben made a reservation to leave Whitehorse this afternoon on the same plane her older brother Arthur, of Wethersfield, Conn., was scheduled to take from Seattle to Whitehorse to join her.

Miss Klaben planned to fly to Fairbanks, Alaska, then to Juneau, where she could board a jet for Seattle en route to New York.

Miss Klaben sent for her brother to help her sift through bids pouring in for rights to her survival story. One magazine has offered $8,000.

Blue Cross Spat Nearing Showdown

DETROIT (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn's dispute with Michigan Blue Cross approached the showdown stage today.

In an angrily worded statement Wednesday night, the commissioner said he would make a decision on Blue Cross' request for a rate increase for hospital care before Blue Cross' directors meet tonight.

Colburn said he had suggested to Blue Cross President William McNary that a decision on the rate increase be held up pending further negotiations.

"I stated to him," Colburn said, "that ours was a tremendous responsibility and that we must at all cost spend the next two days in conference."

Colburn said McNary called him back and told him Blue Cross wanted a decision prior to tonight's meeting.

NY Engravers Hold Out For Shorter Week

NEW YORK (AP) — A small group of union photoengravers—holding out for a 75-minute cut in their work week—kept eight New York City daily newspapers off the streets today and threatened to prolong the 111-day newspaper shutdown indefinitely.

The rank and file of AFL-CIO Photoengravers Local 1 voted 191-111 Wednesday night to reject a proposed contract that would have ended their strike — the last of four against the papers.

The engravers overrode their own leadership and turned down a settlement formula that had been recommended by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and accepted by other newspaper unions involved, including the printers, whose Dec. 8 strike led to the blackout.

Raise Prices
There are 320 newspaper photoengravers among 20,000 newspaper employees in the city.

As the unexpected action came, the eight papers were ready to resume publication with today's editions. Two of the papers—the Times and the Herald Tribune—had announced an increase in newsstand prices from 5 to 10 cents, so sure were they of publishing today.

Closing Law For State In Effect Today

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Wednesday issued notice that the controversial Sunday closing law would go into effect today. He noted that enforcement of the law has been temporarily enjoined in 13 lower peninsula counties by the Wayne County Circuit Court.

Unless Exempted
"As to other counties in the state, I have advised State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs the law will be in effect unless the counties have exempted themselves by action of the board of supervisors," Kelley said.

Misunderstanding
"I have also advised the commissioner I anticipate there may be some misunderstanding concerning the interpretation and applicability of the law, and therefore some leniency in the enforcement of the statute may be indicated until there is a thorough understanding of the new law."

2 Americans, 9 Others Die In Air Crash

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Two Americans and nine other persons died today in the crash of a South Korean air transport in a heavy snowstorm 10 miles northwest of Seoul, the Korean air force announced.

An air force spokesman said the plane carried four crewmen and seven passengers including a U.S. airman and an American civilian.

The name of the airman was withheld pending notification of relatives.

Routine Flight
The civilian's status has not been determined, a U.S. spokesman said.

The twin-engine C46 was on a routine flight from Taegu, 150 miles southeast of Seoul, to Kimpo, 15 miles northeast of the capital.

The air force said the pilot tried to land at the Kimpo Airport but was unable to come down because of the storm. He crashed while preparing for another landing attempt.

Castro Threatens To Get Bombers If Raids Continue

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro threatened today to arm Cuba with long-range bombers and convoy Cuban shipping unless the United States clamps down on hit-and-run raids against Cuba by exile groups.

In a communique Castro held the United States responsible for an attack on a Soviet freighter by Cuban exiles Tuesday night.

"If these attacks continue Cuba will see herself in a situation of considering acquisition of long-range bombers as well as naval equipment necessary to escort our merchant ships, protect our supply lines and repel aggressors," the communique said.

Soviet Jets
Castro's talk of long-range bombers was an obvious reference to the Soviet 750-mile-range jet bombers the Soviets sent to Cuba last fall along with medium-range missiles.

After the United States put a naval blockade on Cuba, Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed to withdraw the missiles and the bombers. The U.S. government said it counted 42 of each on ships leaving Cuba. The Soviet government informed Washington in December this was all the so-called "offensive" weapons it had sent to Cuba.

The lives of Soviet crewmen were put in grave danger and the merchantman was left seriously damaged in Tuesday's raid, Castro said.

In Miami, a spokesman for the anti-Castro Commando L group said the raiders slipped into the port of Isabela de Sagua on Tuesday night, attacked the Soviet freighter and left it "badly in need of repairs to keep it from sinking."

The spokesman said the raiders returned safely to their base "somewhere in the Caribbean."

Second Attack
The raid was the second exile attack on a Soviet freighter in Cuba this month. The first was March 17. A Justice Department official said in Washington there is no evidence the March 17 raid was launched from American soil.

Castro also charged that "Yankee agents" sabotaged a Bolivian airliner which crashed last week in southern Peru. He said the agents were after documents carried by two Cuban couriers on the plane.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI, the U.S. Coast Guard and other agencies are doing all possible to discourage hit-and-run raids by Cuban refugees on Castro's Cuba officials said today.

They said this is in line with the policy of President Kennedy. While he has repeatedly expressed a desire to see Cuba freed of communism Kennedy said last week he did not believe the hit-run tactics are effective toward this end. They may even strengthen Prime Minister Fidel Castro, he said.

Concern
Some concern is expressed in high administration circles that the free lance raids, if continued might prove the spark that would set off a new, explosive crisis in U.S.-Soviet relations.

The question of what measures the United States is taking to stop the forays came up in the wake of a Soviet Union protest Wednesday and the report of another raid Tuesday night.

Moscow charged the United States was responsible for "piratical attacks." Specifically it mentioned an attack on the Soviet freighter Lgov, shot up by exiles March 17 at the sugar port of Isabela de Sagua on Cuba's north coast.

Denies Charges
The State Department quickly denied U.S. responsibility for the assault, which refugee leaders have said was mounted from "somewhere in the Caribbean."

Lincoln White, department press officer, said "the U.S. government is doing everything it possibly can to prevent such incidents from happening from U.S. territory."

Even as the United States was rejecting the Soviet protest word came of a new raid on the port of Isabela de Sagua.

Return To Base
A spokesman for the group, Commando L, said in Miami the raiders slipped into the port Tuesday night, attacked a Soviet freighter and left it "badly in need of repairs to keep it from sinking."

The raiders, the spokesman said returned safely to their base "somewhere in the Caribbean."

Texas Jury Deliberating In Estes Case

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A jury, trying to decide whether Billie Sol Estes used fraud to build a short-lived fortune, went into a third day of deliberation.

After first advising U.S. Dist. Judge R.E. Thomson they were deadlocked, the 10 men and two women weighing the case agreed late Wednesday to try again.

The jurors stayed with the job until 10:55 p.m. when the judge sent word he was retiring for the night. They decided to follow suit.

Charges
Estes, a bankrupt promoter of huge liquid fertilizer sales and grain storage operations, is charged with mail fraud, transporting fraudulent mortgages across state lines and conspiracy.

Written questions from the jury seemed to indicate it was having trouble deciding whether fraud played a part in the business success of Estes prior to its collapse a year ago.

Last March 29, FBI agents arrested Estes at his West Texas home in Pecos.

The government claimed Estes pocketed up to $24 million by selling mortgages on fertilizer tanks which never existed, and signing contracts to lease these tanks.

Soviet Idol Bows To Red Pressure

MOSCOW (AP) — Poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko, a chief target of Premier Khrushchev's blast last month at Western influences in Soviet art, has bowed to official pressure again.

The Soviet News Agency Tass said the 36-year-old idol of the Soviet Union's younger generation confessed his "mistakes" Wednesday at a meeting of Soviet writers.

Earlier this year Yevtushenko revised one of his most famous poems, "Babi Yar," which composer Dmitri Shostakovich had included in his choral 13th symphony. Soviet officials had decided the poem implied anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union.

Mary's Fighting Losing Battle In War With Weight

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mary Ferguson is still fighting a losing battle—and still not losing quite as much as she'd like.

Mrs. Ferguson, 26, shut herself in a hotel a week ago Sunday, determined to lose 50 pounds in two weeks so she could slip into some more flattering clothes for Easter. She soon abandoned her 50-pound objective and said she'd settle for 28.

Well, she's lost 16 and she has three days to go.

Down To 228
Mrs. Ferguson said Wednesday night she was down to 228 pounds and feeling fine.

Her husband, alone at home with their dog, had promised her a new dress. But Mrs. Ferguson says a Beverly Hills designer has offered to make her a dress for nothing. "They said the dress will be worth $300," she said. "I don't know how a dress could cost that much. Maybe it has diamond buttons."

Soviets Deny Planes Flew Over Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has flatly denied a U.S. charge that Soviet planes flew 30 miles into Alaska March 15. Moscow says their aircraft were more than 200 miles away.

Washington authorities said the Soviet denial, received late Wednesday, probably will end the formal diplomatic exchange on the incident. But they predicted the United States will continue to remind the Soviet Union at appropriate times that air space intrusions will not be tolerated.

The U.S. government was sticking firmly to its version, contained in a March 16 protest note to Moscow, that two Soviet reconnaissance planes flew over the southwestern corner of Alaska for nearly a half hour.

The Kremlin responded with an equally emphatic denial in a brief note.

U.S. officials said the Soviet Union contended their planes flew no closer to the U.S. border than 350 kilometers (about 218 miles).

Community Center Planned; Group Set To Ask Federal Aid

Plans for a Marquette community center were discussed at a meeting of city officials and service club representatives held yesterday afternoon in the Northland Hotel.

Ray A. Nelson was named chairman of a committee which will pursue the matter further. Representatives will be named by service club presidents to the group.

City Manager Thomas Moore will be in charge of efforts by the committee to secure a government grant under the accelerated public works program to help build the community center.

Balance of the funds may be obtained from the Shiras Institute.

Frank J. Russell, vice president of the Shiras Institute, informed the group that the institute is keenly interested in the construction of a community center and that it would participate in the cost of building it.

Moore said the U.S. Government offers grants, on a 50-50 matching basis with localities, on the construction of such buildings under terms of the accelerated public works program.

Must Have Plans

"However," Moore observed, "before we can proceed with the filing of the application, we must have specific plans to refer to, in order to meet government requirements."

To this end, the committee decided to hold a joint meeting in the near future with the Shiras Institute Board of Trustees to discuss the matter and to select an architect.

To Determine Services

At the joint meeting, the groups will determine what services should be offered by the community center, where it will be constructed and how large the building should be.

Among the sites under consideration for such a building is the Palestra, which is municipally-operated, on Fair Ave.

It was agreed that the center would be used for all age groups, not only for youths. It would have game and meeting rooms, an ice rink, a crafts room, square dancing facilities, a youth section and a place for older persons.

The presidents of the Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Exchange Clubs attending expressed enthusiasm over the project and pledged the support of their organizations to the project.

Among the others attending were Mayor James R. Smith, who expressed pleasure over the program and said the city would support it in any way it can; James C. Engle, superintendent of the parks and recreation department, and Max Puter, of the firm of Vilcan, Leman & Associates, Southfield, which is conducting a planning study here for both the city and for the Marquette Area Planning Commission.

Members of the Shiras Institute Board of Trustees, all of whom have expressed favor for the project, are, in addition to Russell, President Herman E. Olson, Secretary Bernard A. Stephansky, Treasurer George T. Kendrick and Robert L. Biolo, member.

The Shiras Institute is a non-profit corporation set up in 1937 by the late Mr. and Mrs. George Shiras III, to assist in the fields of beautification, recreation and culture for the Upper Peninsula, in general, and for Marquette, in particular.

Supervisors Urge Approval Of Tax Millage Referendum

Marquette County's board of supervisors issued a plea at its meeting in the courthouse here yesterday afternoon for approval of the county tax millage referendum which will be placed before the electorate in Monday's election.

The proposition asks that millage limitation be increased by two mills for general county purposes for a period of five years. Although so stated, the millage will be used for welfare purposes, since state law prohibits designated millage for any specific purpose.

This actually will be an extension of the two mill levy for another five years, as it has been in effect for the past five years, and will not, in itself, mean any increase in taxes, the board noted.

'Essential To Welfare'

"It is especially important that the public be informed that this is not a new tax that they are being asked to approve," said Board Chairman Carl W. Corneliuson, Ishpeming, said. "This is a continuation of a tax which has been in effect."

Corneliuson noted that while the extra millage is being asked for general county purposes, "the fact is that all of this extra money to date has been used for welfare purposes."

"If we are going to be able to continue to operate the welfare department and help the needy people within the county, it is absolutely necessary that the proposal pass in Monday's election.

Would Be Loss Of Revenue

"Failure of the referendum to pass would mean a loss of tax revenue equaling approximately one-half of the total monies now used to operate the welfare department."

"I want to stress the importance of this election to the county," Corneliuson said. "If we are to continue to give our people the varied county services they now have, this referendum must be approved."

Corneliuson, warning that "a lot of poor people will suffer" if the referendum doesn't pass, urged the supervisors to work for its approval. The board has already gone on record as approving the measure.

Supervisor Introduced

Corneliuson also introduced Leslie Mattila, new supervisor from Republic Township, who succeeded the late Ray Kostamo, who died last month.

The board chairman expressed regret at the county board losing five of its members.

They are: Martin Makl, Ely Township; Tony Taccolini, Forsyth Township; John E. Johnson, Skandia Township; Stanley C. Lindberg, Ishpeming; and Lloyd G. Cox, Tilden Township, who are not seeking re-election next week.

"These gentlemen have been active on the board and we will miss their participation in our proceedings," Corneliuson said. "We hope they see fit to seek a return to the board at some time in the future."

The board adjourned to 2 p. m., Wednesday, April 24.

Pleas of guilty were accepted from two other persons in court yesterday.

George LaBeau, 20, Route 1, Box 255, Ishpeming, two years' probation and 60 days in the county jail, breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Taube was charged with breaking into Burbey's Confectionery, at the corner of Hampton and Division Sts., in Marquette, on Feb. 7. He and another Laurium youth, Bruce Pythila, 18, escaped from the Baraga County Jail Feb. 6, where they were being held by the Houghton County Sheriff's Department on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

They stole an automobile and drove to Marquette, where they took cigarettes, wine, rolls and $2 in pennies from Burbey's Confectionery.

Seized In Detroit

After stealing two more cars, one parked at Wahlstrom's Motel on U. S. 41 south and the other in Flint, they arrived in Detroit, where they were apprehended.

Taube was returned to Marquette, but Pythila is being held by Detroit police on a larceny charge. He will be turned over to Marquette authorities later. Pythila suffered a broken leg jumping from the roof of a two-story Detroit building, after he was seen stealing a pair of shoes.

Judge Davidson told Taube: "It appears that you have an irresistible tendency to take cars. I see here a record of several occasions. It seems that probation has not been effective in your case. "Because of your youth, the court recommends that you be sent to the Michigan Training Unit at Ionia or Cassidy Lake, in the hope that you will acquire a trade and return to society with some knowledge of the duties and responsibilities that make a good citizen."

Arrested In Ishpeming

Aanderud and LaBeau were both arrested by Ishpeming police Feb. 23 for the theft of $91.53 from the Feltner Plumbing and Heating Co., 113 S. First St., Ishpeming. They pleaded guilty in circuit court March 21 to a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Judge Davidson noted that Aanderud was the ringleader and organizer in the theft from the Feltner store and also had been a probationer for a previous breaking and entering conviction.

Aanderud, who denied he was the ringleader, is talented in commercial art, and Judge Davidson recommended that he be placed in the Michigan Training Unit at Ionia or Cassidy Lake for the development of his talents.

Restitution Ordered

LaBeau appeared in court with his attorney, Nickolas Bridges, Negaunee. LaBeau was ordered to make restitution, in the amount of $38.53, to Feltner's.

As in all probation cases, LaBeau, during the period of his probation, will be required (1) not to leave the state without permission of either the court or the probation officer, (2) to report monthly, or as often as is required, to the probation officer, and (3) not to violate any city ordinances, state laws or federal statutes.

Guilty Pleas Accepted

Judge Davidson also accepted pleas of guilty from two charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile. They are:

Ronald G. Griffin, 17, of 633 W. Washington St.;

Neal C. Alexander, 17, of 523 1/2 N. Third St.

They were arrested in Munising Saturday night, a half hour after Walter Wirkula, 520 Summit St., Marquette, reported to police that his automobile had been stolen from in front of his home.

Griffin and Alexander were bound over to circuit court in arraignments held in Marquette Municipal Court Tuesday.

Two Given Prison Terms, Third Put On Probation Here

Two defendants in criminal cases received prison terms totaling three to 30 years when they appeared before Judge Bernard H. Davidson of Negaunee in Marquette County Circuit Court here yesterday.

Judge Davidson also placed another defendant in a criminal case on probation, stipulating that the defendant was to spend 60 days in the Marquette County jail as part of his probation term.

Pleas of guilty were accepted from two other persons in court yesterday.

Sentenced to prison were:

Kenneth Taube, 18, Laurium, one and one half to 15 years in the Marquette State Prison, for breaking and entering in the nighttime, with the recommendation that he be sent to a Michigan Training Unit.

Duane Aanderud, 21, of 606 N. Fifth St., Ishpeming, one and one half to 15 years in prison, breaking and entering in the nighttime, with the recommendation that he be sent to a Michigan Training Unit.

All-Digit Dialing System Produces Fewer Mistakes

ANN ARBOR — People complain — and make fewer mistakes — under the new all-number telephone dialing system, a University of Michigan psychologist suggests.

Dr. J. D. Birch says, anti-digit dialing committees to the contrary, that studies indicate that the all-numeral system is not only more efficient but easier than the old letter-numeral system.

Research supports the conclusion that all-digit dialing produces fewer errors than letter-numeral dialing, he explains.

Psychologist Birch began his study several years ago. It has involved testing the reception, retention and recording (dialing) of telephone numbers which were given as seven digits (all numbers), as two letters and five digits or as an exchange plus five digits.

The all-numeral system proved equal to and in some cases better than the other two systems.

Once an all-digit number is memorized, its performance exceeds that of the letter-digit number, the U-M psychologist says, adding that experiments with college students indicate that about eight numbers (digits) can be memorized without difficulty.

Most people group numbers in sub-units to make memorization easier, Birch explains. The 3-4 grouping (345-6789) seems to work best with an all-digit number.

A bonus often requires 50 years of daily watering, trimming and pruning.

Two At Base Promoted To Full Colonel

Lt. Col. Raymond O. Roush and Lt. Col. Joseph B. McGee, both members of the 410th Bombardment Wing (SAC), at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, have been promoted to full colonel.

Of the 646 promoted, 37 are assigned to 2nd Air Force headquarters or wings, like the 410th. Line officers account for all but 40 of the USAF total.

Roush is wing deputy commander for maintenance. Prior to his arrival here, he was the assistant deputy commander for maintenance at Chennault AFB, La.

21-Year Veterans
A 21-year veteran, Roush completed flight training in November 1942. He spent 21 months in the European Theater during World War II and an additional three and a half years in France and Germany in the early 1950s. He was at Chennault five years before coming here.

Yield Signs Planned For Seven Areas

"Yield right-of-way" signs will be erected this week by the city at seven additional areas in the city as safety and traffic control measures.

City Manager Thomas Moore and Chief of Police Donald C. Hermanson notified the city commission this week of their recommendation in this matter.

The commission asked the manager to place the order in effect on a 90-day trial basis, after which, if the systems appear to operate successfully, the order for these seven places will be made permanent. Hermanson made the study on the intersections, with his study being approved by the manager. The yield signs will be set up at the following locations:

1. On W. Bluff St., with traffic yielding to N. Sixth St. (a hill).
2. On W. Bluff St., with traffic yielding to N. Fifth St. (also a hill).
3. On W. Bluff St., with traffic yielding to Seymour Ave. (a hill).
4. On Waldo St., where it intersects with W. Fair Ave.
5. On Norway St., with traffic yielding to W. Fair Ave.
6. On Norway St., with traffic yielding to W. Kaye Ave.
7. On Northrop St., where it intersects with W. Fair Ave.

Chief Hermanson noted that the latter four concern the Willard M. Whitman School area.

Gregory Peck Has His Eye On 2 Races

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck is a man with two races on his mind—the Grand National and Oscar.

After he finishes his day's work on "Capt. Newman, U.S.A." today, the actor will head for the airport to begin a trip to Liverpool, England. On Saturday he will see his horse, Owen's Sedge, race in the Grand National, on which the Irish Sweepstakes are based.

Next Monday he will report on location near Tucson, Ariz. A week from Monday he will be in Santa Monica, Calif., to see if he wins the Academy Award for his performance in "To Kill a Mocking Bird."

His chances in both races? "Well, I can't finish any worse than fifth in the Oscars," he commented. "As for the Grand National, it's victory enough just to have a horse that can qualify to run."

Peck's acting career has been duly publicized. Little is known about his racing experience. "It hasn't been much," he admitted. "About 10 years ago John Huston and I got excited about a racing enterprise while we were making 'Moby Dick.'"

Hearing On Sunday Closing Law Set By County April 24

Marquette County's board of supervisors will hold a public hearing on the so-called "Sunday Closing Law" proposal at its next regular meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, April 24.

The board considered the matter at its monthly meeting held in the courthouse here yesterday afternoon and noted that a public hearing must be held before any action can be taken.

Under the act, county action is required, after a hearing, to determine whether it will come under or exempt itself from the law, which would require certain stores to be closed on Saturdays or Sundays.

The board's budget and executive committee indicated it was not in favor of the law, stating: "This places unnecessary restrictions on the selling of goods, wares and merchandise by the business houses within our county the committee feels steps should be taken, as provided by law, to exempt Marquette County from its provisions."

Purchase of a new eight-cylinder Ford Galaxie Mainliner for the Marquette County Sheriff's Department was approved by the county board of supervisors at its monthly meeting in the courthouse here yesterday afternoon.

As recommended by its budget and executive committee, the board authorized the acceptance of the proposal made by Olson Motors, Inc., of Marquette on a car with a 220-horsepower engine at a price of $769.30 (with trade).

Specifications called for an automobile with heavy duty equipment and the new car purchase is made in accordance with the board's past policy.

State Week 'Ag' Post Goes To Bowers

Gail E. Bowers, Menominee County agricultural agent, 22 years, today was named regional chairman of the agricultural committee for Michigan Week by J. Willis Owen of Marquette Region 2 chairman.

Bowers will head the committee for the Counties of Menominee, Dickinson, Delta, Marquette and Alger.

Bowers holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Michigan State University and taught vocational agriculture at Remus and Stephenson before becoming agricultural agent in Menominee Aug. 1, 1941.

Number Of 'Firsts'

In his 21 years in the Upper Peninsula, Bowers has scored a number of "firsts." He was the first to start a soil conservation district in the U. P., first to start an ABA district in the U. P., started the first owner sampling milk testing in Michigan, launched the first central milk testing laboratory in Michigan, started the first soil testing laboratory in the U. P. and started the first "mail in" milk testing in Michigan.

His Holstein herd is a frequent winner at the U. P. State Fair in Escanaba.

At the same time, the supervisors heard a communication read yesterday by LeVasseur from the Rev. Albert R. witnesses on President Kennedy's tax cut and revision proposals, starts next week the even longer task of writing a bill.

Informed guessing on Capitol Hill is that the legislation will go to the House for action in June and that it will contain more immediate tax reduction than Kennedy recommended—about $3 billion—though ultimately the reduction might level off at about his long range figure—$10.2 billion.

Revisions
Moreover, most congressional observers will be surprised if the committee incorporates in this year's bill more than a minimum of the tax revisions that Kennedy called necessary reforms and re-couplings of some of the revenue sacrificed by slashing tax rates.

Two Salesmen From Marquette Win Ford Award

Two members of the sales staff of Olson Motors, Inc., Marquette, will be presented Ford Motor Co.'s 300-500 Club award at a dinner meeting to be held at the Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee, this Saturday.

They are Guy A. Petersen and Don Grossbauer. Blair P. Scanlon, Rockford district sales manager, said 300-500 Club membership awards are presented for excellent retail performance. The Ford 300-500 Club was founded in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country. Scanlon added that the average 300-500 Club member sold nearly $400,000 worth of automotive merchandise in qualifying for national honors. Forty-eight U.S. companies make automobile tires.

County Stays Over Budget; Pro-Rating Of Expenses Told

Marquette County budget expenditures were still over the budget allowance during February, County Controller Robert H. DeRoche of Marquette reports.

At the same time, DeRoche explained the pro-rating of expenses for the various departments for the year, which, in part, accounts for the deficit figure.

Total budget for the year was $233,268.72. Actual expenses for the first two months were $62,709.59, while the total budget allowance (the appropriation plus refunds and income for the period) amounted to $60,176.22, leaving the operating period $2,533.37 in the red.

Five of the nine separate accounts maintained in the general county budget had deficit balances for the period, while three were operated in the black. There is no change during the year for the special appropriations account.

Normal At This Time

DeRoche noted that several accounts which had deficit balances normally have them at this time of the year, as various supplies are purchased and paid for early in the year, resulting in a considerable saving (since they are purchased in bulk numbers).

However, since the supplies last for the entire year, the expenses will be written off during the entire year. Hence, he said, these "overages" will be absorbed during the ensuing months and will completely disappear before the end of the year.

Special appropriations (for Marquette County advertising and promotion, Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, Marquette County Harvest Festival, Marquette County Historical Society, U.P. Adult Mental Health Clinic and the Bay Cliff Health Camp) amount to $7,525 for this year.

Condition Of Accounts Told

The condition of each of the other eight accounts at the start of this month follows:

Judiciary (circuit court, justice court, prosecuting attorney and judge of probate) — $9,908.33 budget allowance and $479.99 over the budget.

Legislative (supervisors meetings and mileage and county clerk) — $4,643.83 budget allowance and $171.85 over the budget.

Finance (county treasurer) — $2,000 budget allowance and $178.74 over the budget.

Public safety (sheriff's department, jail, medical examiners, dog wardens, contagious diseases, county physician, mine inspector and civil defense) — $10,309.16 budget allowance and $711.58 over the budget.

Public records (register of deeds, elections and statistics) — $1,666.67 budget allowance and $240.96 over the budget.

Public building (courthouse) — $2,920 budget allowance and $98.35 over the budget.

General (controller, tax department, county tax commission, agriculture and extension, compensation insurance, postage and box rent and miscellaneous and contingencies) — $3,393.75 budget allowance and $1,508.81 over the budget.

State agencies (welfare agent, state institutions and public charges and bureau of social aid) — $8,407.67 budget allowance and $3,000.10 over the budget.

Pork Bargain At Stores This Week

DETROIT (AP) — When this little piggy went to market, so did some 4½ million others, and that means bargains at food stores.

Heavy marketing of a 5 per cent greater pig crop has begun across the country. Prices have dipped sharply in some places.

One national chain offers pork loin in the New York area at a range from 25 cents a pound for the rib ends to 47 cents a pound for the loin half.

Over the country, attractions almost run the full gamut: Loins, chops, steaks, bacon, ribs, sausage, hams and smoked butts.

Beef Competing

Beef, meanwhile, continues to compete for the attention of bargain hunters. Most cuts are at or below previous price levels. Roasts, steaks and hamburger all reflect heavy winter marketings.

Turkey, chicken fryers and baking hens carry the same low tags of recent months.

Eggs are a special Lenten and Passover protein source and prices are attractive.

Fish Attractions

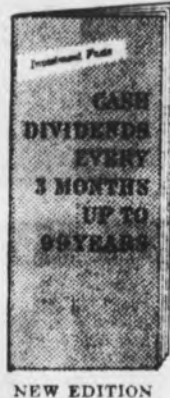

Lenten fish attractions vary regionally.

Asparagus, beets, peppers and eggplant are growing more plentiful, and therefore, cheaper. Other attractions include carrots, celery tomatoes and salad greens.

Fruit selections include grapefruit, apples, bananas, winter pears and avocados.

Erect 21 Directional Signs For Tourists, Chamber Asks City

Erection of 21 directional signs for the benefit of tourists has been asked the Marquette City Commission by the chamber of commerce.

The chamber said it would, through its tourist division, provide two of the signs, but asked that the city "provide and maintain" the others.

Its request was ordered referred to City Manager Thomas Moore, along with Howard L. Coppens, public works superintendent, and Chief of Police Donald C. Hermanson, for a study and report back to the commission.

Among other things, the commission desires to know the cost of the signs, expense of maintaining them and the feasibility of erecting them in the places outlined by the chamber.

"The tourist season soon will be here, bringing with it several million dollars to our retailers, restaurants, hotels, motels and bringing visitors to Marquette, we must act now to enable them to find and share our many natural wonders and recreational activities."

Chamber spokesmen said directional signs are lacking in Marquette, and that with proper signs the city can establish a reputation that "it is harder to get lost in Marquette than to find your way in other cities."

Others, the chamber stated, "Longer Stays Stought."

"The chamber is spending $3,000 this year to promote visits by tourists to the city. We expect this year to be a banner one in the tourist industry. Our hope is to keep a visitor in Marquette longer. If we can make a two-day stopover instead of a one-day stopover we will double our business."

Chamber spokesmen said critics ask "what is there in Marquette for a tourist to see and do?" and that they say there should be signs erected to make it convenient for tourists to find places of interest.

"Our brochure on Marquette tells tourists what to do and see, but we do not have a guide service after they arrive, and personal instructions are the only ones given at the chamber office," they said.

"Dividends From Investment"

"In order to receive the most dividends from our investment in Marquette State Prison's novelty shop and the tourist information sign at the bypass, when the route relocation is completed next year.

The other signs, which the chamber would like the city to put up, include the following:

Sign Suggestions Given

Two signs to notify visitors to stop at the chamber office.

Directional sign for Shiras Park, boat ramp, one docks, Presque Isle Park, Shiras Pool and Presque Isle Zoo, at Carol Motors Co. building.

Sign at the U.S. Coast Guard Location, to show distance to those points.

Signs at the water plant and Shiras Park giving direction to Presque Isle Park.

Signs to Sugar Loaf Mountain, boat ramp, park, in various places.

Several directional signs for the park, camp sites, Sugar Loaf and Big Bay.

Tourist Park camp site signs in various locations.

Tech Given Science Grant Of $7,567

HOUGHTON — Dr. Kenneth M. McMillin, associate professor of mathematics and director, analog computer laboratory, Michigan Tech, has been awarded a $7,567 National Science Foundation grant for a summer conference on analog computation.

The three-week program will open Aug. 26 and close Sept. 13. It represents the sixth NSF grant Dr. McMillin has received in the past four years and is his second for 1963.

Earlier this year he received a $36,700 grant for a 10-week summer institute in numerical analysis, digital computer programming, analog computation and field problem analogs, which will start June 10. He conducted a similar institute last summer, and during the summers of 1959 and 1961 he directed three conferences in analog computation.

Limited Enrollment

The conference will be open to college teachers of one of the physical sciences mathematics or engineering, and enrollment will be limited to 12. Those who successfully complete the course may earn three quarter hours of graduate credit.

Course objective is to introduce participants to the study of analog computation through extensive laboratory experience with relatively low cost equipment. In the selection of participants, preference will be given to applicants who are faculty members of colleges or universities having analog computation facilities or considering acquiring such facilities.

Robert Berryman (at left in photo above), John Specker (center) and Craig Jandron clasp hands after the three newspaperboys came in at the same time with sufficient points to qualify for the educational trip to Washington, D. C., April 29-May 2. Paul Albright also earned enough points for the

Driver Found Guilty Here; Jailed, Fined

Judge Edward H. Dembowski ordered one person to spend two days in the Marquette County Jail and to pay an assessment of $16.30 and arraigned another person on a drunk driving charge this week in municipal court. Four others also were fined.

Glenn L. Martin, 18, Marquette, was ordered to spend two days in the county jail for driving without an operator's license. He also was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and $6.30 costs. Alternative sentence to paying the assessment was to spend an additional two days in jail.

Had Pled Not Guilty
Martin was ticketed by city police Friday on S. Front St. He pleaded not guilty in municipal court Monday, contending that he was not driving the car.

In an informal hearing, he was found guilty by Judge Dembowski Tuesday. City Patrolman Donald DePetro testified at the hearing.

Also in municipal court, Thomas W. Hunt, 31, Green Bay, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunk driving. Trial was set for Friday, April 5, at 9 a. m.

Hunt was arrested by city police yesterday morning on S. Front St. Bond, set at $100, was posted.

Driving Wrong Way
Four other persons were ordered to pay a total of $40 in fines and costs in municipal court yesterday for traffic violations.

Cecelia M. Page, 428 Hampton St., paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs for driving the wrong way on a one-way street. She was ticketed by city police Sunday on E. Washington St.

Defective Brakes
For driving with defective brakes, Reino O. Manty, Cemetery Road, Marquette, was fined $6.30 and ordered to pay costs of $3.70. He was ticketed by state police March 21 on U. S. 41 in Negaunee Township.

A fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs were paid by James D. Richards, 803 Waldo St., for failure to yield the right-of-way. The summons was issued by city police Sunday following an accident at the corner of E. Park and High Sts.

Fred J. Sattler of L'Anse paid a fine of $6.30 and $3.70 costs for a stop sign violation at the corner of N. Seventh St. and W. College Ave. He was ticketed by city police Tuesday.

28 Carriers Qualify For Capital Trip

PAUL ALBRIGHT

Twenty-eight newspaperboys with The Mining Journal have qualified for the educational trip to the Nation's Capital April 29-May 2.

Fred E. Harkin, circulation manager of The Journal, said this is a relatively large number, although not all of the qualified carriers may elect to go. (Alternate cash or merchandise awards are offered.)

Newspaperboys who sold sufficient subscriptions to The Mining Journal and for a group of national magazines in the newspaper's economy reading plan contest the past month qualified for the trip. At least 50 points were required to qualify and at least 100 to win the trip all-expenses-paid.

By Chartered Bus
Those with 50 or more may "buy" the difference in points to go on the four-day trip, which will be the longest educational trip of the nine sponsored by the newspaper. In the past winning carrier-salesmen have gone to Chicago, several times, and to Detroit-Windsor-Lansing, Milwaukee and Wisconsin Dells.

The trip will be made by chartered bus, with the main buildings and national attractions in the Capital being visited by the newspaper boys while they are in Washington, D. C.

Among those qualifying the last week of the contest (which ended Saturday) were:

John Specker, 14, a freshman at Graveraet High School, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Specker, 1127 N. Third St., who will be making his first newsboy educational trip and who has been on Route 15-A (Presque Isle and College Aves.) for one and one-half years.

Craig Jandron, 14, also a Graveraet freshman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Jandron, 425 W.

Fines Totalling $24 Paid By Three In Justice Court

Three persons were ordered to pay a total of $24.30 in fines and costs when they appeared before Justice George J. Pezzy in Marquette Township Court for traffic law violations.

For speeding, Eugene T. LaChapelle, 420 N. Third St., Marquette, paid a fine of $10.70 and $4.30 costs. He was ticketed by state police Feb. 10 on U. S. 41 in Marquette Township.

Bond of $5 posted with state police was forfeited by Harold A. McQuiston Sr., Yorktown, Va., for expired registration plates. He was ticketed March 2 on U. S. 41 in Michigan Township.

Lawrence Elevecki, Iron River, paid costs of $4.30 for expired registration plates. State police issued the summons March 1 on M-95 in Republic Township.

961 Flights At Airport During Month

Flight operations at the Marquette County Airport decreased last month, due primarily to the weather, but the total was still a respectable 961 total.

H. L. Schroeger, Marquette, superintendent-engineer of the county road commission, which supervises airport operations, said the figure was only 73 under the previous month's total and included 312 flights by North Central Airlines.

The airline flights accounted for the arrival of 682 passengers and the departure of 657 passengers. There also were 24 transfer passengers.

Freight Handled

Through the airline, the airport handled 15,479 pounds of mail and 9,887 pounds of express and freight.

In February there were 128 itinerant operations, involving 364 passengers; 516 local aircraft operations and five ambulance flights.

The manager, D. F. Varella, Ne-gaunee, and his assistants spent 514 hours on duty at the field during the month. A total of 4,279 gallons of gasoline was sold.

By comparison, there were 343 airline flights (with 806 arriving and 839 departing passengers) during the previous month, with 18,738 pounds of mail and 11,922 pounds of express and freight handled. There also were 346 local, five ambulance and 143 itinerant flights.

Petroleum Cargoes On Lakes Smallest In Ten Years

A total of 13,892,829 net tons of petroleum products was shipped over the Great Lakes in 1962. Oliver T. Burnham, vice president and secretary of the Lake Carriers' Association, reported today.

The movement, equivalent to 93,301,646 barrels, was down 6.6 per cent from 1961 and was the smallest since 1950 when shipments amounted to 13,330,666 tons.

The Great Lakes tanker fleet included 87 vessels, one less than a year earlier. Of these, 48 were of U. S. registry and 39 Canadian. Only 22 New York State Barge Canal units engaged in the lakes trade, second lowest number reported since 1947, when 16 entered the lakes.

Three Canadian tankers were withdrawn from lakes operation, while the W. Harold Rea, a new 6,100-ton-capacity diesel tanker, was commissioned in Canada.

Petroleum products transiting the St. Marys Falls Canal in the year totaled 817,503 tons, highest since 1958, and compared to 514,901 tons in 1961.

NMU Professor Honored By Michigan Academy

Dr. Robert T. Hatt (left), Bloomfield Hills, director, Cranbrook Institute of Science, retiring president of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, presents Dr. Louis Peters, Marquette, assistant professor of biology at Northern Michigan University, with the academy's citation for outstanding scholarly achievement. The presentation was made during the academy's 67th annual meeting held at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. Dr. Luther S. West, dean of arts and sciences at Northern, was elected vice president of the state academy. Peters has been at NMU since September 1961. Dr. Sheridan Baker, University of Michigan, was elected president of the academy.

Increase In Security Tax Explained

If you are employed, your social security tax contribution was increased by one-half of one per cent, effective Jan. 1, 1963, and the amount deducted from your paycheck is now 3-5/8 percent of the first $4,800 of wages paid to you during the year.

Your employer matches your contribution. If you are self-employed, your rate has been increased by 1/2 of a per cent, and your tax is now 5.4 per cent of your net earnings up to $4,800 per year.

George C. Franzen, manager of the Marquette social security office, explained that this change is part of a planned program of gradual increases in the social security tax rates, with the last increase scheduled for January 1968. The increases are necessitated by several factors. The number of older people beneficiaries continues

Two Autos Damaged In City Mishap

Two automobiles were damaged, but no one was hurt, in a traffic mishap which occurred at 10:40 yesterday morning in Marquette.

City police said a car being backed into a parking place in the 200 block of S. Front St. by Martin C. Ghiardi, Box 304, Gwinn, bumped into a utility truck owned by Fred E. Belmore, 1100 W. Washington St., which had been parked on the east side of the street, in the stall immediately ahead of the one Ghiardi was attempting to drive into.

The left rear fender of the utility truck, a 1960 model, and the right front fender of Ghiardi's automobile, a 1960 station wagon, were damaged. Both cars were able to be driven from the scene under their own power.

Romney Eyes Approval Of Constitution

MUSKOGON (AP) — Gov. George Romney — for the first time — stated flatly Wednesday night that the voters will approve the proposed new state constitution.

Said the Governor in a speech at Muskegon:

"I predict here and now that the people of Michigan will approve the new constitution on Monday."

Quered by newsmen, told in advance of the prediction, Romney said it was based partly on spot polls conducted around the state. He said it was also the feeling he received from contacts with citizens.

Ducks Question
Asked for the margin of approval, Romney chuckled and ducked the question.

Democrats were less positive in their prediction.

Zolton Frenney, Democratic state chairman, was inclined to "if" a little bit.

"If Democrats come out in the numbers expected and vote the full ballot the Democrats should sweep the slate, including defeat of the new constitution," he said.

One leading democratic spokesman, Secretary of State James Hare, earlier has said he fully expected the proposed new constitution to pass.

'New Lease'
Said Romney in his Muskegon speech:
"I call upon all Michigan citizens, regardless of party, to cancel the lease with the 20th century to sign a new lease with the future."

Prosecutor To Attend Institute

Prosecuting Attorney Edward A. Quinell of Marquette will attend the Practising Law Institute Prosecutors' Program to be held July 8-12 in New York City.

At its meeting yesterday in the courthouse here, the county board of supervisors authorized a contribution of not more than $110 for Quinell to attend the meeting.

Supervisors Meet Set
In making its recommendation, the board's budget and executive committee noted that the county has established a policy of allowing each elected officer to attend, at county expense, one annual meeting of the organization of the county officers to which he belongs.

These meetings are normally held within the state and the expense involved would be considerably less than going to New York. However, Quinell said he would receive more benefit by going to the New York program and was willing to pay part of the expense as well as foregoing the opportunity to attend any other convention in 1963.

The supervisors also received a notice from the Upper Peninsula Association of Supervisors of its mid-year conference, to be held on May 3 in Newberry's Falls Hotel. Board Chairman Carl W. Corneliussen of Ishpeming was given authority to designate the delegates from the county, to be named at a later date.

Law will meet the expected future rise in costs without disrupting the economy by imposing the whole tax needed to support the program all at once.

By law, the assets in both trust funds can be used only for the payment of benefits and administrative expenses.

to grow and they collect benefits for a longer period.

In addition, the original Social Security Act has been enlarged through the years to provide for increased benefits as well as additional types of benefits. Current benefits to a retired or disabled worker, for example, now range from $32 to a potential $127 a month and for a family may be as much as $254 a month.

Assets Cited
Franzen stated that all social security taxes are credited to the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance trust fund and the Disability Insurance Trust fund.

At the end of November 1962 the assets of both trust funds were about $19 billion and $2.5 billion respectively.

About 18 million men, women and children were drawing monthly benefits totaling over one billion per month and expenditures are expected to increase for many years.

100th Anniversary Of Ford Birth Recalls His Vast Empire In U. P.

Reflections On Clay Report

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

Economics And Forestry

The annual Teachers Institute to be held in five Upper Peninsula cities in April will be on the theme of economic education. The subject has been much talked about in educational circles for several years. Most American children seem to be growing up without much knowledge of the workings of the American economic system and the schools are being asked to remedy the deficiency. First step in the process is for teachers to understand American economics, and many have had only sketchy exposure to the subject in their preparation for teaching.

School board members should be in a better position, but they urged legislation in the current session of the Michigan Legislature to increase the tax rate on timberlands under the commercial forest act. The schools need more money, they reasoned, and the easiest way to get it is from the owners of Upper Peninsula timberlands.

A knowledge of economics would be helpful here to the continuance of private industry in Upper Peninsula forestry. This is a chief hope of the school districts of the Upper Peninsula for tax income, but their action in asking an increase in the commercial forest act tax rate increases the pressure for government forests, which are an important cause of the school tax problem in the first place.

Private industrial forests must pay their way taxwise or be lost by their owners. This is not true of government forests, but the schools' pressure in this case was not on the government forests to help bear the burden of schooling our children, but on the already very heavily taxed private forests.

Robert Schmeling, Mead Corp. forester, puts the situation simply.

If U. S. Forest Service lands in the Upper Peninsula were under the commercial forest act (created as a relief from ad valorem taxation of growing timber), 73 per cent of their 1962 gross receipts would be paid out as property taxes.

What business can survive paying 73 per cent of its gross returns in property tax? The industrial forests and those of the federal government are not identical in productivity, but the illustration still is valid. Michigan's average farmer, for instance, pays about 8 per cent of his net profit in property tax, and he has lots of problems. What if he were taxed at the forest rate on gross receipts?

Mr. Schmeling tells of the injury to the public interest which results from either failure of the public to understand what it's doing to private forestry, or of unwillingness to do anything about it. "Michigan forest land owners are now cutting immature stands to meet their costs," says Mr. Schmeling. "These immature stands are tomorrow's returns."

We're not only piling up a huge national debt for our children to pay, but we're cutting the forests that should be maturing in their time, too.

Today's Special Story

By KENNETH S. LOWE
Of The Journal Staff

No name ever had a greater impact on the economy of the Upper Peninsula than that of Henry Ford, the motor magnate who built a financial empire above the Straits.

Little remains of that empire today, but at one time its boundaries extended from Alger County on the east to Gogebic County on the west. Included in the empire were about 500,000 acres in Alger, Marquette, Baraga, Dickinson, Iron, Gogebic and Ontonagon Counties.

There were the huge automobile body plants at Kingsford, where lumber for the body plants was dried. The vast sawmill, also at Kingsford, and other sawmills at L'Anse, Pequaing, Alberta and Big Bay. The large carbonization and distillation plant at Kingsford, where products from wood waste were fashioned into charcoal and chemicals. The Imperial Iron Mine at Michigamme and the Blueberry Mine between Ishpeming and Champion. The lumber camps scattered throughout the central and western Upper Peninsula to feed the Kingsford complex.

Once Employed 15,000

At the peak of its power, the Ford empire employed about 10,000 people in the Kingsford area. Another 4,000 or 5,000 were employed in woods operations elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula.

Today Ford's holdings above the Straits are down to 77,000 acres of prime timber in Marquette and Baraga Counties administered by the Ford Fund, a philanthropic institution which is seeking to dispose of the holdings and use the proceeds for charitable purposes.

Mineral Rights Retained

However, when the Ford Motor Co. deeded its Upper Peninsula timberlands to the Ford Fund, it retained all mineral rights, according to Ted Rogge of L'Anse, veteran Ford employee who is administering the Ford Fund in the Upper Peninsula. In addition, the company retained some 50,000 acres of surface rights for future mining operations, if and when this becomes feasible. The Ford Motor Co. also is a 50-50 partner with Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in the Humboldt Mine on the Marquette Range.

Henry Ford was born 100 years ago next July 30 on a farm near Dearborn. He died on April 7, 1947. His direct connection with the Upper Peninsula dates to 1921, when the Kingsford plant was started.

Boom In U. P. Logging

It is doubtful whether any project—even the opening of some giant new mine—ever had such a wide influence on the Upper Peninsula economy as the announcement of the opening of the Ford plant in Kingsford.

The plant was constructed there in order to take advantage of the proximity of raw material for auto bodies. This was in the days when a lot of wood went into car bodies.

This, coupled with the fact that Ford sales were soaring, touched off a boom in Upper Peninsula logging.

Model Forest Community

At times it was necessary for the plant to work three eight-hour shifts daily to keep up the demand for sedan floorboards. Employment skyrocketed in the Iron Mountain-Kingsford area.

To supply the auto body plant, Ford bought or built sawmills. One of the mills he built was at Alberta in Baraga County. This was conceived as a model forest community and was constructed from scratch in the heart of one of the U. P.'s Peninsula's most extensive hardwood forests. The tiny community carved out of the woods consisted of a spic-and-span sawmill, modern homes, schools and accessory buildings.

Reopened Imperial Mine

In the same year that Ford started the Kingsford plant he reopened the Imperial Mine. Regarding the Imperial, E. G. Muck of Michigamme recalled: "He made a lot of changes in the mine out there, as far as cleanliness in the way they operated was concerned. Paint, paint, paint: He had six or eight men painting the year 'round. They painted every house and every one of the company shops. Then they'd go back and start all over again."

Ford's penchant for neatness and order even manifested itself in his lumber camps. In conjunction with his mills he operated three such camps and they were the most modern ever seen in the Upper Peninsula. The lumberjacks who worked in these camps were scornfully called "lumber ladies" by other woods workers.

Trip With Firestone, Edison

Ford obviously loved the Upper Peninsula. He made frequent trips north of the Straits to inspect his far-flung properties or just to relax. On one of these trips—in 1923—he toured the Upper Peninsula in the company of Harvey Firestone and Thomas A. Edison, who had an experimental iron ore separating plant built at Humboldt in 1888, less than a quarter of a mile from the site of the present Humboldt Mine. Ford built a hotel overlooking his sawmill at Big Bay on the shores of Lake Independence, and he had his own suite in the hotel. He built a large summer home near his mill at Pequaing with a magnificent view of Lake Superior's Keweenaw Bay. He became a member of the exclusive Huron Mountain Club in northern Marquette County, where he had a lodge that has since been sold by his estate.

Beginning Of The End

But the shift from wooden auto body parts to metal parts signalled

the beginning of the end of the gigantic Ford operations in the Northern Peninsula. The Pequaing mill was the first to go. It was closed in 1943. In 1951 the mill at Big Bay was shut down. The big blow came the following year when the plants at Kingsford ceased operations. In 1954 the mills and L'Anse and Alberta went out of production.

Meanwhile, the once-extensive land holdings were being sold in parcels of varying size. Finally, the remaining 219,000 acres were turned over to the Ford Fund.

Donation To Michigan Tech

The fund donated the sawmilling community of Alberta and 1,703 adjacent acres to the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, which converted the property into the Ford Forestry Center, a training and research facility operated by the college's forestry school. The fund sold 242,000 acres to the Celotex Corp. in 1956. Celotex built the world's most modern fiberboard plant at L'Anse and needed the timberlands to supply this plant.

When the fund disposes of the remaining 77,000 acres, the final chapter will have been written in Henry Ford's dramatic venture in the Northern Peninsula.

The Clay Report on foreign aid deals with an immense subject in a few pages. For that reason alone it will not furnish the general public, which includes most members of Congress, with enough material for that serious reappraisal which has become so necessary.

The report mentions most of the questions which have to be asked, but what it gives are its answers and not the facts and the reasoning by which its conclusions were reached. As a result, the ordinary reader receives little more than a bundle of declarations as to what ought and ought not to be done. He gets little help towards an enlightened debate.

10 Eminent Men

There is an explanation for this. The committee, which consists of 10 eminent men, was appointed last December "to advise the President, the secretary of state, the secretary of defense and the administrator of the Agency for International Development." Quite evidently, that is exactly what it has done, and done it, appears, with profit to the administration. The report is not really a public document meant to clarify a public discussion. It is, so to speak, an inter-office memorandum for the insiders of the administration and is no doubt highly significant and intelligible to those who have taken part in the conferences which are not reported in the report.

Because it is the kind of document it is, it will, I am afraid, provoke unfortunate reactions abroad. It is peppered with criticism which, because it is anonymous and not specific, could apply to some or all of the recipients of foreign aid. No country would be able to tell whether it is or is not being criticized. Furthermore, the report contains a sweeping criticism of all our allies, including Canada, for what they do or do not do for us.

I am sure that this was not the intention. But I do not think it is merely charitable to say that the committee was so intensely concerned with advising the administration insiders that it did not realize what its report would sound like to the vast world of the outsiders.

Main Theme Called Sound

If the report was to be public document, and of course it had to be, it should not have declared only its conclusions. It should have argued them persuasively. In my view, this was entirely practicable since the main theme is sound.

Thus, it is quite true that "we are trying to do too much for too many too soon, that we are overextended in resources and undercompensated in results and that no end of foreign aid is either in sight or in mind." It follows, rightly enough, that we should not try to give aid to the 95 countries and territories which are now receiving it and that we should, instead, focus our aid so that it is enough to do the job in key countries. We must find a way to stop diluting and diffusing it all over the globe. Let the bridges we have to build be fewer, but let all at them cross the river.

The committee is quite right, I believe, in advising the Administration to let ex-colonial Africa depend chiefly on Europe for aid. And if I read between the lines correctly, it is asking the Administration to concentrate aid for Asia, apart from the military subsidies, on India and Pakistan.

Ideological Confusion

When it comes to Latin America, the report shows little evidence of serious knowledge of the actual problem of inducing the Latin peoples to emerge from their primitive past into the modern age. In fact, there is a considerable ideological confusion in that the report seems to say that the only alternative to communism is the American form of private enterprise.

That is not true. There are many forms of mixed economy—some of them very successful in Europe—which are quite different both from Soviet communism and American capitalism. Whether we like it or not, most Latin American countries are pointed toward one form or another of a mixed economy, and we should not give them the impression that we are incapable of understanding why they are pointing that way.

I feel I must say, also, that the report itself exemplifies one of the principal reasons why, though since 1946 this country has spent some $100 billion in foreign aid, it is so much disliked in so many places. A persistent theme is that we should be giving and withholding favors, which mean so much in human terms, in our own interest. There is in this an assumption of superiority which is abrasive in the kind of world we are living in—for the most part very poor and for the most part of some other color than white.

When We Had Friends

With our great wealth and power, there should go humility, not pride. Thirty years ago, this country had not only the respect and the trust, but also the affection of the underdeveloped world. Yet it had no foreign aid program. Why? Because 30 years ago, the country was struggling with its own desperate economic problems and with the rising menace of fascism. Because we had grave problems of our own, we were not proud and self-satisfied and we gave the effect of being in the same boat with the rest of mankind. That was when we had friends all over the world.

We shall not have them again until this country becomes possessed once again, as it surely will when the political seasons change, in the high enterprise of making a good society.

The Gogebic Organization for an Industrially New County (called GO-INC for short) was approved by the Gogebic County Board of Supervisors for submission as the "community achievement of the year" in a contest being conducted by the Michigan Week business and products production board. GO-INC is an organization set up for promotion of industrial development in the county.

Chippewa County has selected Sault Ste. Marie's youth hockey program as its "community achievement of the year" and will enter it in a state-wide contest conducted in connection with the 1963 Michigan Week observance. The hockey program was cited for its growing success since its formal organization in 1952 to the point where Sault teams have won regional, state and national championships in their classes.

The first chartered sightseeing trip across the new Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge took place when more than 100 members of the Ontario Ladies' French Federation made a round trip crossing in three buses. The sightseers crossed the bridge and turned around at the U. S. plaza for the return trip without alighting from the vehicles. They were accompanied by Canadian immigration officials to simplify re-entry into Canada.

The Escanaba centennial parade committee announces that entries in the parade—to be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, July 6—are welcome and that rules have been set up for the orderly organization of the big march. The parade, according to William Meiers, publicity chairman of the parade organization, is expected to be the largest in Escanaba's history. "It's been said that only commercial floats will be allowed," Meiers said in clarifying parade entry rules. "This isn't true. Any person, organization, manufacturing or business concern wishing to enter a float will be welcome."

The question of whether a teen-ager should be permitted to drink and still remain a member of the "Youth for a Better Ironwood" was threshed out at a meeting of the newly formed teen-age group in the Ironwood VFW clubrooms and appeared to be a deciding factor in eventual success or failure of the movement. A "no drinking at any time" clause in rules and regulations drawn up for the organization was assailed by a group of boys as being both unrealistic and downright stupid because, as one youth put it, a member could take a drink at home or while he was out without anyone knowing about it. A majority of the boys who argued for the "right to drink" clause got up and left while Ernest Mattson, high school math instructor, was speaking. He told the group that granting permission for a member to drink and relaxing the rule regarding drinking would lead eventually to the downfall of the club or perhaps worse. He cited several instances where youth centers have been closed because teenagers, who had been drinking caused uproars and got into trouble with law enforcement agencies. Since this was the first meeting of the group, nothing was actually settled—least of all the drinking problem.

CELLO AUTHORITY

The other day we came across a book review of a new tome written about Pablo Casals, by Bernard Taper. This is not the book review section, so it is not our purpose here to review the book, but to comment on an aspect of Americana that has always puzzled us.

Taper reports—for that is what the book is—that Pablo Casals carries on an extensive correspondence with President Kennedy on the subject of world affairs and that Senator Casals also likes western movies on television "because they are simple and true."

Those are interesting notes. What concerned us when we read them was the certificate with which they were accepted, not as notes, but as items of faith, by the book reviewer whose work we read. And that led us to contemplate the strange American habit of lionizing our heroes and making them so superhuman in aspect that they can neither live up to billing nor ever be human again.

Senior Casals is the world's greatest cello player and a great musician in every way. But he is a musician, and the reader will pardon us if we do not join those of the Casals cult who believe he may know the solution to the world's problems, too, just as we don't believe that Albert Schweitzer knows the answers, or that Robert Frost knows the answers to all the ills that plague our society.

We don't share Senior Casals' enthusiasm for western movies and programs on television, either—and maybe that is because we have been watching them for a lot longer than he has.

We hope our readers will not get the idea that we are anti-culture, anti-Casals, Frost, Schweitzer, Sandburg or anybody else. Not at all—we just take the oddball position that preeminence in one field of endeavor does not automatically make a man an expert on everything in sight.—Denver Post.

—Marquette—

During the past few weeks have occurred the beginnings of what is expected to prove an unusually busy building boom in North Marquette. The advent of the Pioneer Iron Co., with its new furnace about to go into blast, has created a lively demand for Marquette dirt as well as for house and store room in the immediate neighborhood of the new plant. Just now two new buildings are being finished at the corner of Presque Isle Ave. and Norwood St. One on the south-eastern corner is a two-story house being erected for Frank Johnson. It is a good sized dwelling and will be conducted as a boarding house. On the southwest corner is being built a two-story store building, of which John W. Peterson will be the owner. This week Henry Hallam has been finishing up the house at the corner of Fitch Ave. and Norwood St., which has been ordered by Bert Anderson.

This week Charles O. He says all the trades will be represented and that there will be two or three saloons to slake North Marquette's thirst.

Henry Ford was born 100 years ago next July 30 on a farm near Dearborn. He died on April 7, 1947. His direct connection with the Upper Peninsula dates to 1921, when the Kingsford plant was started.

—Ishpeming—

The plant was constructed there in order to take advantage of the proximity of raw material for auto bodies. This was in the days when a lot of wood went into car bodies.

—Negaunee—

This, coupled with the fact that Ford sales were soaring, touched off a boom in Upper Peninsula logging.

—Marquette—

At times it was necessary for the plant to work three eight-hour shifts daily to keep up the demand for sedan floorboards. Employment skyrocketed in the Iron Mountain-Kingsford area.

—Ishpeming—

To supply the auto body plant, Ford bought or built sawmills. One of the mills he built was at Alberta in Baraga County. This was conceived as a model forest community and was constructed from scratch in the heart of one of the U. P.'s Peninsula's most extensive hardwood forests.

—Negaunee—

The tiny community carved out of the woods consisted of a spic-and-span sawmill, modern homes, schools and accessory buildings.

—Marquette—

In the same year that Ford started the Kingsford plant he reopened the Imperial Mine. Regarding the Imperial, E. G. Muck of Michigamme recalled: "He made a lot of changes in the mine out there, as far as cleanliness in the way they operated was concerned. Paint, paint, paint: He had six or eight men painting the year 'round. They painted every house and every one of the company shops. Then they'd go back and start all over again."

—Ishpeming—

Ford's penchant for neatness and order even manifested itself in his lumber camps. In conjunction with his mills he operated three such camps and they were the most modern ever seen in the Upper Peninsula.

—Negaunee—

The lumberjacks who worked in these camps were scornfully called "lumber ladies" by other woods workers.

—Marquette—

Ford obviously loved the Upper Peninsula. He made frequent trips north of the Straits to inspect his far-flung properties or just to relax. On one of these trips—in 1923—he toured the Upper Peninsula in the company of Harvey Firestone and Thomas A. Edison, who had an experimental iron ore separating plant built at Humboldt in 1888, less than a quarter of a mile from the site of the present Humboldt Mine. Ford built a hotel overlooking his sawmill at Big Bay on the shores of Lake Independence, and he had his own suite in the hotel. He built a large summer home near his mill at Pequaing with a magnificent view of Lake Superior's Keweenaw Bay. He became a member of the exclusive Huron Mountain Club in northern Marquette County, where he had a lodge that has since been sold by his estate.

—Negaunee—

But the shift from wooden auto body parts to metal parts signalled

the beginning of the end of the gigantic Ford operations in the Northern Peninsula. The Pequaing mill was the first to go. It was closed in 1943. In 1951 the mill at Big Bay was shut down. The big blow came the following year when the plants at Kingsford ceased operations. In 1954 the mills and L'Anse and Alberta went out of production.

Meanwhile, the once-extensive land holdings were being sold in parcels of varying size. Finally, the remaining 219,000 acres were turned over to the Ford Fund.

HOT PURSUIT AGAIN

A waitress in Evergreen Park was driving home alone about 3 a.m. She never got there. A speeder, hotly pursued by a policeman, swerved into her lane. When the two cars were piled up and the three bodies removed, the fugitive's speedometer was found stuck at 83 miles an hour. The innocent waitress left four children, the oldest 12; the erring speeder and his wife left three children, two of them minors.

Of course, the intent in hot pursuit is to take dangerous drivers off the street forthwith. But repeated experience shows that high speed pursuit may give occasion to the death of some unoffending person who by chance comes into the line of flight. If not sort of thing can be prevented, should it not be prevented? That policeman would not have fired his gun into a crowd. Was it necessary that a man already observed to be driving irresponsibly (swerving and running red lights) should be pursued at speeds clearly beyond his ability to drive with reasonable safety for others on the road?—Chicago Tribune.

Cheese Good For Sick, Well Alike: Dietitians At U-M

Cheese, which has a history spanning more than 4,000 years, still remains one of the most popular food items for the sick and well alike, say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Because both Swiss and cottage cheeses are now available unsalted, they are used extensively in low-sodium diets. Cheddar cheese, although salted, is also used on many selective menus, both modified and special.

According to dietitians at University Hospital, an ancient legend records that cheese was made "accidentally" by an Arabian merchant.

Starting a long day's journey across the desert, the merchant put his supply of milk into a pouch made of sheep's stomach. A milk curdling enzyme (rennin) in the lining of the pouch combined with the sun's heat to separate the milk into curd and whey.

Community Theater Picks Slate, Plans Long-Range Schedule Of Productions

The Marquette Community Theater elected a new slate of officers for the year and planned a production schedule for summer, fall and next winter at its annual meeting Tuesday night in Graveret High School.

Ronald Garceau was named president to succeed James Lirsite, and other officers are Howard Treado Jr., vice-president; Verna Ducas, secretary, and Ruth Bishop, treasurer.

Garceau reported today that the long-range production schedule calls for a dramatic production this summer, a musical in the fall and a children's play next winter. "The success of the theater group's first children's play, Charlotte Choppening's 'Cinderella,' presented in Marquette and at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base last month, has convinced us that a production for youngsters should be an annual project," Garceau said.

Lines from Lou's by ... maggie

Some time ago, we read an article saying the Navy has a surplus of several thousand grass skirts. Now, how on earth do you suppose this happened?

There has always been talk that the Cadets would like to change their uniforms... some men do not like the middy affair. But do you suppose they are considering grass skirts? Well, it isn't as impossible as one would think at first thought. The Scotsmen wear kilts, beautiful plaid numbers with six yards or more in each skirt and pleated, too! Can't you just see the ship sailing out of the harbor, flags and skirts waving in the breeze? Goodness... maybe we should just read the headlines of the papers and not delve into the back pages and be concerned about all this nonsense... anyway we don't have any grass skirts at Lou's.

But... we do have the most beautiful lines of spring suits and coats you have ever seen. All the women are just about ready to get something bright and new as a pick-up for the dull days and to be ready for the Easter parade. Yes, we are still unpacking new styles daily — the delicate pinks, the all-important white, beiges and turquoise, yellow and navies. There is nothing smarter than black and white. Our lovely selection of ensembles is a perfect example of this.

For the newest of the new, we invite you to shop today and hope to be seeing you at LOU'S in the center of Marquette!—Adv.

Woman's Club Wins First Award In Law Observance, Crime Prevention Program

The Marquette Woman's Club yesterday was adjudged winner of the Governor's Award for its contribution to the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs' program on law observance and crime prevention.

A judging committee composed of Marquette County Sheriff Thomas Jerne and Marquette Chief of Police Donald C. Hermanson picked the local club as the winner among 398 similar organizations affiliated with the state federation as having "done the greatest amount of work" in the law observance and crime prevention field during the past year.

Reports Examined The judges made the award on the basis of reports from all seven of the state's districts which had been compiled by Mrs. C. W. Dupras, Marquette, who is state chairman of this branch of Michigan Federation of Women's Club activity. The Marquette club is in the fifth district and chairman of its law observance and crime prevention program this year has been Mrs. Harold E. Beckman.

Chief contributions of the local organization in the field have been a study-action program on law enforcement, efforts to suppress indecent literature in cooperation with the city's Decent Literature Committee and to combat juvenile delinquency, spearheading a program against "litterbugs" and pushing of a program for better lighting throughout the city as a deterrent to crime.

'More Positive Action' The judges were of the opinion, they said, that the Marquette club had "showed more positive action and had produced more clear-cut results" than any of the clubs submitting reports.

Mrs. Dupras will receive the Governor's Award, a certificate signed by Governor George Romney, on behalf of the club when she attends the Michigan Federation of Women's Club convention to be held in Saginaw next month. She will also give her annual report on law observance and crime prevention activity of clubs throughout the state at the convention.

In the Upper Peninsula district, it was noted, 17 out of 25 clubs submitted reports and 13 of them had no program at all dealing with law observance and crime prevention. One club, the judges noted, reported merely: "We have very few problems of this kind in our area."

Preceding the dinner, invocation will be given by the Rev. Cecil Lutey, pastor of the Republic Methodist Church. The program, for which High School Principal Jay A. Negaunee OES To Honor All Past Matrons, Patrons

NEGAUNEE — The evening of April 4 has been selected for a special event by Negaunee Chapter, Order of Eastern Star — one which will honor past matrons and past patrons who have served during the life of the chapter.

From 1893 to 1962, there have been 51 past matrons and 16 past patrons. Twenty-nine past matrons and seven past patrons are still living.

The oldest, not in age but in service, is Maude Hauserman, who served Negaunee Chapter as worthy matron during 1916-1918.

The program, which will be held in the Methodist Church, will begin with a turkey dinner at 6, served by the Methodist Women, followed by a roll call of past matrons and past patrons. Each will receive a gift from the chapter.

At 7:30 a regular meeting will begin, highlighted by exemplification of degrees of the chapter by present officers for six candidates. Lunch will be served and games played.

For the convenience of the dinner committee, reservations must be phoned in not later than March 29 by calling any of these Negaunee numbers: GR 5-6202, GR 5-6840 or GR 5-9253.
