When she went on her water and vitamin regimine Jan. 28 she weighed 315 pounds. Breaks Diet

Mrs. Johnson, a former WAVE, broke her diet with a spoonful of cottage cheese and a quarter-cup of eggnog.

"I couldn't eat it all," she said Monday. "It was too much." Doctors said that the reason Mrs. Johnson - and the other undergoing the starvation treatment - could survive without food was because they could literally live off their own fat. Desired Weight

Mrs. Johnson said she is planning to remain at the hospital, eating a skimpy 300-calorie-a-day diet, until she gets down to her desired weight of 150 pounds. That means another 29 pounds to be shed.

Heavier Patrols Slated For Holiday Period By State Police, Sheriff

Because of the holiday period, patrols during the so-called "high heavier patrols will be placed into accident" periods. effect at noon tomorrow in this area by state police and sheriff's department officers. State police will begin their heavier patrol period at noon tomorrow and will continue it through midnight Sunday night. Two National Guardsmen have been assigned to the Marquette post for to-morrow and Thursday, to enable longer and heavier patrols on trunklines in the area for the Memorial Day period.

Sgt. Grant C. Barry, commander of the Marquette post, said that all state police on duty dur-ing this period will be working 10-hour shifts, in addition to exra time for writing accident reorts, etc.

The 19 officers and two Guardsmen Sgt. Barry has available for this period will enable him to set up a schedule which takes the maximum advantage of the 10 patrol cars at the post.

Although the two Guardsmen through Sunday, state police will way during this period.

Detectives Assigned To Duties Capt. James A. VanLandegend, Marquette, commander of the Eighth (Upper Peninsula) District of the Michigan State Police, said today that all district headquarters officers will be on duty during the long weekend holiday period, being assigned to various posts elsewhere throughout the Upper Peninsula.

The district detectives from ago. There were four in Baraga Marquette relieve desk officers, County during 1962. enabling them to go on highway patrols in their areas.

Capt. VanLandegend will direct the state police enforcement program from Marquette, being assisted by Lts. Robert Bilgen and Emmett Bradley, Marquette.

Additional highway pairols also will be placed into effect by Sheriff Thomas F. Jernstad, Marquette, although no Guardsmen will be available to augment the sheriff's staff. Sheriff's officers will patrol county highways and state police will be primarily on trunklines and principal county roads.

Marquette's police chief. Donald C. Hermanson, said city police will conduct their usual patrols during the long weekend holiday period and will be strictly enforcing traffic laws in Marquette.

To Use Police Plane

Barry said the worst periods for accidents are considered to be between 3 and 8 p. m. and from 1 to 4 a. m. during holiday periods. "These are regarded as the critical hours, from a traffic standpoint," he added.

During those hours, state police are not permitted to stop for

Warning Issued

At the same time state police, sheriff's department and city police officers warned motorists to drive carefully during the holiday period and the balance of the week, and not to drive after drinking.

"Don't get behind the wheel after drinking," they warned. Venicles must be kept under control at all times, the officers stressed, and all traffic regulations must be obeyed.

Ireland, maybe the situation has changed and can be joked about safely.

The situation does not seem to have changed similarly with respect to Israel, however. For Israel's independence is still a serious American political issue. And woe betide the American politician who has a large Jewish vote in his state or district if he does not endorse full support for Israel.

This was re-emphasized the other day when Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., introduced a resolution urging the President to invite Britain, France and anybody else interested to join with the United States in a mutual defense agreement with Israel and to provide Israel will military and other assistance necessary to maintain its integrity.

Window Dressing

Javits got nine other Republicans and two Democrats - Douglas of Illinois and Pastore of Rhode Island - to cosponsor his resolution, and there may be others, for it is simply good American politics to go along with it

The Javits resolution also includes as beneficiaries any other Middle East state willing to carry out its obligations under such an agreement. But this is window dressing. Israel would be the principal, if not the only, beneficiary.

Inclusion of Britain and France in this reolution with the United States as guarantors of Israel may also be regarded as window dressing. It probably is being greeted with bitter laughter in the other Middle East states the Arab counties - which remember only too well that Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt in 1956. This aggression, begun vithout notification, was put down only by S. insistence that it be stopped.

Tri-Partite Declaration

The necessity for the Javits resolution may also be open to question, for already on record is the Tri-Partite Declaration of 1950, in which Britain, France and the United States guaranteed the status quo in the Middle East and pledged action against any state that violated the frontiers between Israel and the Arab States, now guarded by a U.N. patrol.

If it is maintained that this delaration was reduced to the status of a scrap of paper by the British-French-Israeli invasion of 1956, this, too, has been corrected.

For on March 9, 1957. Congress adopted a oint resolution authorizing the President (Eisenhower at the time) to cooperate with any nation in the Middle East desiring to maintain its national independence.

President Emphasized Policy

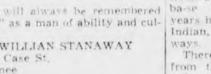

This was the beginning of the present U.S. declared policy to cooperate with both Israel and the Arab countries and to promote their peaceful relations and development.

President Kennedy emphasized this policy n a recent press conference when he declared: "We support the security of both Israel and her neighbors. We seek to limit the Near East arms race which takes resources from an area already poor. . . . "In the event of aggression . . . we would upport appropriate measures in the United Nations, adopt other courses of action on our own to prevent or put a stop to such aggression, which, of course, has been the policy the United States has followed for some time." Since the statement seems to have satisfied Israel, it should satisfy Washington, too. Anything additional might only make a bad situation worse.

Area's Jews Mark Feast Of Shavuoth

Tuesday, May 28, 1963

Jews of the Marquette area will begin the observance at sundown tonight of the festival of Shavnoth or "Weeks." Special services, to be conducted by Student Rabbi Floyd Herman of Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, O., are scheduled in Ishpeming's Templa Beth Sholom Saturday evening.

Rabbi Herman reports that the holiday derives its name from the fact that it occurs fifty days after the first day of the festival of Passover, the first holiday in the Jew-ish year. "This is the first day after the 49 days of the grain harvest," the rabbi said, "and thus the name Shavuoth, meaning weeks, signifies the 49 days or a week of weeks.

Significance Twofold

Like most holidays in the Jewishcalendar, Shavuoth has a two-fold significance, for it is both an old, tion of thanksgiving for the harvest of the grain, and in this respect, it is to give thanks to Ged for the harvest of the first fruits of the early spring planting sea-son," Rabbi Herman explained. "More importantly for us, however, is the historical aspect of the holiday, which traditionally is to commemorate the giving of the Law to Moses on Mount Sinai." Referred to in the "Law" is almost
