VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council withheld today approval on a wide range of changes in the Roman Catholic Mass, including the partial replacement of Latin with local languages.

Hoffa Seeks Health Unit For Union

DETROIT (AP) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa says his next contract demand will be for a $1 million dental and optical care center to be erected and maintained by management.

The center and an increase in pension benefits will be among contract demands next month, Hoffa told members of Local 299 Sunday.

The union leader said plans already have been formulated for the construction of the center. The union, he said, is thinking of purchasing an entire city block for the clinic. But, he added later, it might be constructed above parking lots next to Teamster headquarters.

He said the cost of the project would mean an extra $3 weekly in fringe benefits under new contracts. Current contracts, due to expire next Feb. 1, call for employer contributions of $4 weekly per man to the union's health and welfare fund.

A fight for a shorter work week — 35 and ultimately 32 hours — will be conducted in Congress he said.

Montreal Harbor Back In Business; Stevedores Back

MONTREAL (AP) — The harbor of Montreal resumed its fall bustle today as gangs of longshoremen went back to work after a costly 10-day strike.

There were 13 ships at Montreal and three at Quebec waiting to load grain for the Soviet Union. In all, 60 million bushels of wheat and flour are scheduled to move through St. Lawrence ports to Russia.

The 3,800 members of the International Longshoremen's Union voted Saturday to return to work in the struck ports of Montreal, Quebec and Trois-Rivieres after winning substantial pay increases.

Under the new contract with the Shipping Federation of Canada, the workers get 10 cents an hour more, retroactive to Jan. 1, when the old contract expired.

gy — public worship — failed by 7 votes to obtain a required two-thirds majority.

1,417 No Votes
Of the 2,242 prelates voting, 1,417 voted for the document. Thirty-six voted against. Seven-hundred and eighty-one voted "approval with reservations" and eight votes were ruled null.

As a result the document must go back to the council's Liturgy Commission, which will co-ordinate all the reservations and then refer a revised measure back to the council. The document voted on today was the second chapter of a seven-chapter schema on liturgy. This chapter deals with the mass.

Authorities Deny Reports Of New Slide

BELLUNO, Italy (AP) — Authorities denied today that a huge new landslide is moving rapidly down on the Vaiont Dam reservoir.

Provincial authorities in Belluno and Italian Army officials on the shores of the reservoir said there was no new avalanche menace beyond earth slides that have been threatening since the catastrophic avalanche hit the reservoir Wednesday night.

Most residents of villages in the area who escaped the flood generated by the first avalanche were taken out last week.

There were reports today that the threatened landslides had started moving and that full evacuation had been ordered. But authorities denied these reports and said villagers had actually been authorized to return briefly to their homes this morning to pick up belongings.

The man who built the Vaiont Dam said today the giant barrier could still furnish electricity after repairs.

No Indication
Suggested changes include use of the vernacular instead of Latin in parts of the Mass, a revised Mass structure to simplify the service and reception of Communion in the form of both bread and wine instead of bread alone.

There was no indication when the Liturgy Commission would be able to return the document to the council.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church began three days of special masses and sermons today to honor a 19th century Philadelphia bishop following his beatification.

John Nepomucene Neumann, a Bohemian youth who went to America as a frontier missionary and was bishop of Philadelphia from 1852 to 1860, was advanced on the road to sainthood at ceremonies in St. Peter's Basilica Sunday.

Pilgrims
Plane loads of pilgrims flew to Rome from Pennsylvania. The special services this week are being held in the Basilica of St. Mary Major.

Bishop Neumann was the second.

Goldwater Won't Debate With Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp exchange about debates and party unity has stepped up the tempo of the undeclared struggle for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, leading prospects for the GOP nod, traded barbed comments after the New York governor called Saturday for a series of debates on how the party should deal with the issues of the day and the Arizona senator turned him down.

Fears Party Split
It added up to a long-distance debate about how best to unite the party for the presidential race next year.

Goldwater said that if Rockefeller had thought it through, he might have decided that intra-party debates could split the party.

Rockefeller said Sunday night that Goldwater was mistaken. He said he hoped the senator would change his mind.

Meanwhile the chairman of the Republican National Committee said he would not object if Rockefeller and Goldwater wanted to discuss differences within the party.

No 'Kingmaker'
Elsewhere, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower disclaimed any "kingmaker" role at next July's San Francisco convention — and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said, "There are no contingencies under which I would become a candidate" for the GOP nomination.

Supreme Court Refuses Review In Tobacco Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Orleans widow was denied today a Supreme Court review of a suit, unsuccessful in lower courts, in which she contended two tobacco companies were liable for the death of her husband, a cigarette smoker who died of lung cancer.

Mrs. Victoria St. Pierre Lartigue sued in U.S. District Court in New Orleans after the death in 1955 of Frank J. Lartigue. Her suit named the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. A jury decided against her and the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans affirmed the result.

In appealing to the Supreme Court, Mrs. Lartigue contended cigarette manufacturers were guilty of breach of an implied warranty of wholesomeness in selling their products; that this warranty is absolute, regardless of whether the manufacturer knew, or should, or could have known of defects in products.

The two defendant tobacco companies in a joint reply brief told the Supreme Court Lartigue died at age 65, after smoking excessively since the time he was nine years old.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court directed today that Minnesota courts reconsider the case of a woman who got a jail sentence for refusing to serve on a jury because of her religious beliefs.

The court, in a brief order, acted on an appeal by Mrs. Owen Jenison, a member of the Church of God. She said she took literally the Bible words in Matthew, Chapter 7, Verse 1, "Judge not, that you be not judged."

For this reason she declined to be a member of a jury to try a civil case in Renville County, Minn. District Court on Nov. 13, 1962. The county judge sentenced her to 30 days in jail for contempt. She remained in custody seven days, then was released pending appeals. The Minnesota Supreme Court affirmed the contempt finding.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to rule on validity of a Michigan, Mich., city ban on police membership in any labor union which admits to membership persons not members of the city police department.

Local 201 of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees appealed to the high tribunal after the Michigan Supreme Court upheld the ban.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear an appeal by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that attacked Alabama court orders ousting it from the state.

The Montgomery County Circuit Court on Dec. 29, 1961, permanently enjoined NAACP from conducting intrastate business in the state. Lengthy litigation followed and the Alabama Supreme Court on Feb. 28, 1963, affirmed the circuit court action without considering merits of the case. The State Supreme Court said this was necessary because NAACP failed to comply with rules in preparing its law brief.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court directed South Carolina courts today to reconsider the breach of peace convictions of 65 Negroes arrested while demonstrating against racial segregation at Rock Hill, S.C.

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army private who fled to Communist East Germany was scheduled for discharge for undesirable conduct, the Army said. An Army spokesman said Pvt. Heinrich James Newton of the Virgin Islands had been absent without leave from an engineering unit at Karlsruhe since Oct. 5. He was to report for discharge Oct. 10. No further explanation of the reason for the discharge was given.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House committees will consider at a leisurely pace this week the two major bills left for Congress this year — civil rights and tax reduction. The only major legislation scheduled for floor action in either branch is a broad college construction aid bill expected to pass the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday.

BERLIN (AP) — A large U.S. convoy cleared without trouble through the Soviet checkpoint today en route back to West Germany. The convoy consisted of 26 vehicles with 149 men. It cleared through the checkpoint at Babelsberg, outside West Berlin, in 36 minutes.

ISLANDERS WAIT BUT TIDAL WAVE FAILS TO COME

HONOLULU (AP) — A tidal wave more dangerous in mind than in fact rolled across the Pacific early Sunday. The alert drove thousands to the hills in Hawaii while hundreds of mainlanders gathered on coastal bluffs to await the rarely seen natural phenomenon.

Islanders who scrambled out of bed and fled their beachfront homes looked on as the ocean surface rose two and half feet — little more than normal high tide. Later, mainlanders were disappointed — no wave at all.

Spurred by an earthquake in Japan's Kurile Islands Saturday night, the wave washed gently onto Hawaii beaches about 2 a.m. No damage or deaths resulted.

W. Germany To End Era On Tuesday

Konrad Adenauer, German Chancellor, steps reluctantly out of office Tuesday after more than 14 years as the first and only chief executive of the West German Federal Republic.

The Adenauer era has brought most of this country from the depths of disaster and disgrace following World War II to strength and prosperity. But Adenauer leaves behind a lingering problem — West Germans still are separated from 17 million fellow countrymen who are under Communist rule.

Adenauer's friends say he is responsible for the strength and prosperity and that the Soviet Union has frustrated his efforts to reunite Germany. His enemies say strength and prosperity would have come anyway, and accuse Adenauer of helping prevent reunification, a serious charge in German politics.

Adenauer's major accomplishment has been to tie West Germany closely to the West. It was Adenauer who in 1950 first offered the Atlantic Alliance a West German army, despite strong opposition among many Germans to rearmament.

Adenauer, who will be succeeded as chancellor by Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard — a man he has publicly opposed — claims as the crowning accomplishment of his rule the friendship treaty he signed last January with President de Gaulle of France. Germany, he says, has at last become reconciled with its traditional enemy.

Adenauer has little interest in economics. Many West Germans credit their country's reconstruction and prosperity to Erhard, 66, who has headed the Ministry of Economics since the end of World War II.

Erhard starts as chancellor under heavy handicaps. One is Adenauer's low opinion of his political ability. Adenauer intends to remain in politics as chairman of his party and member of parliament. He probably will do a lot of public prompting.

Erhard has promised a different style of government. The one chancellor, ran things himself and made all major decisions on foreign policy. The Erhard cabinet will be more a committee of equals, with a chairman not much interested in foreign affairs. There are many misgivings about how this will work in a country accustomed to one strong hand.

Paul Nitze Named As Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, who last week protested a tentative Pentagon decision to deny the Navy more nuclear-powered aircraft carriers, is resigning and will be succeeded by Paul Nitze, now an assistant secretary of defense.

The White House announced today that President Kennedy accepted Korth's resignation on Saturday. The resignation will take effect Nov. 1.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Korth entered the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md. Sunday night for an ear operation. He is expected to be hospitalized about a week.

'Almost Regret'
In a letter to Kennedy dated Friday, Korth said he was submitting his resignation "with the utmost regret . . . so that I may return to private business and attend to my pressing private affairs."

Earlier last week, Korth persuaded Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to delay a decision against placing nuclear power plants in planned super carriers. McNamara agreed to delay the decision so Korth could present additional arguments in favor of nuclear engines for the carriers.

No Indication
There was no indication in the exchange of letters between Kennedy and Korth that the policy dispute between the Navy and McNamara was a factor in Korth's resignation.

White House sources also said there was no connection between the resignation and the controversial TFX fighter plane contract.

Korth has been secretary of the Navy since December 1961. Before coming to Washington, he was president of a bank at Fort Worth, Tex.

Bank
It was Korth's connection with the bank that gave rise to inquiries in Congress whether he might be involved in a conflict of interest in the controversial award of a potential multi-billion-dollar contract for the TX fighter-bomber to General Dynamics Corp., which has a plant in Fort Worth.

The bank once made a loan to General Dynamics before Korth came to Washington. The Justice Department investigated and on Sept. 27 cleared Korth of any possible conflict of interest.

Successor
Nitze has been assistant secretary of defense for internal security affairs since the start of the administration.

When Nitze becomes secretary of the Navy, he will be succeeded as assistant secretary by his deputy, William P. Bundy, who has been at the Pentagon since 1961.

'No Comment'
Makinen, 24, confirmed that he was permitted to write three letters each month while in prison and was allowed to have medical textbooks sent to him by his family.

But to many questions he replied simply "no comment."

He explained: "I am very sorry not to answer your questions. So many have asked so many questions to which I have answered 'no comment' that I am sorry. However, it must be that way just now."

One thing he wanted to clear up. He is not a Fulbright scholar and never was.

Born In U.P.
Makinen was born in Chassel in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Madame Nhu Says Husband Advised To Leave Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says American diplomats unofficially advised her husband to leave South Vietnam to help end the political crisis.

"There is nothing to do because they have not asked us to do anything officially yet," she told reporters on the NBC TV and radio program "Meet the Press" Sunday.

But, widening her eyes and gesticulating, she said the request was "absolutely ridiculous."

Her husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, is the brother and chief adviser of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Several times since the loquacious lady arrived last Monday night, she has said: "They want the regime to fire my husband (not identifying her) but how can it when he does not have any office?"

"We ask them to tell us what is wrong with us, but we do not hear anything," she said.

Mrs. Nhu stressed that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, had not asked the Nhus to do anything.

"They (unidentified) send people to say that it is good advice from a friend, nothing official, no. We always try to follow all advice that is good for both sides, but . . ."

we should do."

Asked if she had any proof of her claim that the USIA (U.S. Information Agency) wished to topple the Diem regime, Mrs. Nhu replied:

"It is true that they did it, and they still do it from what I hear in my country, because your people ask around very openly, 'are you pro-coup or anti-coup?' They do not hide it."

She said, however, that she now believes that people in the USIA have misconstrued normal orders of the U.S. government to look for replacements for the Diem regime just in case the situation is serious. "But instead of seeking other replacements, overzeal from a few people, well, they want to topple it."

To be certain that her brother-in-law, President Diem, was not accused of sending her to the U.S. to speak for his regime, Mrs. Nhu said she studiously avoided saying "good-bye" before departing from Saigon four months ago.

"Perhaps we could get along if we were a little softer on communism," she suggested. She had already described the U.S. government as following "the new fashion of politics which is

we should do."

Asked if she had any proof of her claim that the USIA (U.S. Information Agency) wished to topple the Diem regime, Mrs. Nhu replied:

Michigan's Education On Resource Use Deficient, Ecologists Advised Here

Michigan Association of Conservation Ecologists members, meeting at Northern Michigan University, were counseled by a panel of Upper Peninsula speakers to develop a more intimate and educative relationship with the public and particularly with the sportsmen of the state.

The association is composed of 200 scientists whose specialties are in the field of conservation. About 70 per cent of the members are employed by the Michigan Conservation Department, the rest by the universities of the state, the Federal Bureau of Fisheries, the U.S. Forest Service and similar agencies.

Objectives Noted

Objective of the ecologists is to "advance the science and art of sound ecological management of our renewable resources in the public interest, and to promote high professional standards in the management of these resources and to promote and implement interchange of knowledge and ideas in this field."

Ecology is the study of the relationship among living organisms and between living organisms and their environment. Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, keynoted the panel session and said the very word "ecology" was unfamiliar to most hunters because they haven't studied biology.

"The biologist, talking genetics and nutrition," he said, "is no match in a deer camp for the wily man who asks 'if you shoot the mothers, how can there be any young?'"

"The explanation of the new science has been aimed for the scientists. It must be aimed for the public too, if we're to use the benefits of science quickly and fully as management of wildlife plenty becomes more difficult with the shrinking range and increasing population. Scientists must learn more of democracy and of politics."

William Veer, Houghton, vice president, sales, of U.P. Power Co., said the Conservation Department, with a budget of $21,291,000 a year and less than two per cent spent for education, is amiss in its duty to inform the hunters. Industry, he said, spends from four to 15 per cent of its income on this need.

"There hasn't been much selling of state policies in conservation," he said.

Clair M. Hekhuis, director of information service at Northern said "getting to the public (with understanding of scientific resource management) won't occur overnight. It takes time, patience, persistence, courage and conviction — and lots of appreciation. And one item of misinformation is very costly in public acceptance. Education is a lifelong process."

Robert Papworth, member of the engineering faculty, Michigan Tech, Houghton, and a sportsmen's club official, said to the ecologists, "I'm a typical sportsman; I didn't get here in time to hear your view of the subject."

'Too Complicated'

"Canulus is a mathematical technique to reduce a complicated problem to part and solve the small pieces and then add them up to get the answer. Like it, conservation is too complicated to grasp as a whole, so it must be broken into pieces. But when we apply this to sportsmen and reduce it to the individual it becomes so complicated that we go back to the problem as a whole."

"The master of ceremonies at the recent meeting of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association in Houghton said he never knew of a group coming together with a common interest that disagreed so much about so many things."

"Everyone is a sportsman and he may be ignorant of many things, but as far as he is concerned he's an expert in his interest. His interest is often in how many deer there are around his camp, not the overall state conservation program."

"So it becomes difficult to talk herd management among sportsmen. It is easier for you ecologists to discuss it among your colleagues, with people who agree with you."

'Get Through To Groups'

"To technically educate each sportsman in each area of interest (wildlife, waters, forest, geology, etc.) is impossible and hopeless. We can't train them in forest management. You don't get through to the groups."

Papworth was impressed by such public education as Brad

Durling's proof that there were more game fish in Portage Lake than fishermen thought there were by netting out large quantities of them to show the fishermen.

"Deer management is winning," he said "maybe by default; maybe by hunter knowledge." He said the resolutions of the sportsmen of the UMMA on deer management were "entirely inconsistent."

Kenneth Dorman, manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association headquartered here, urged the ecologists to do something sensational to bring their recommendations to the attention of the public.

He urged simplification of the Conservation Department's presentations to the public, with use of cartoons and other such techniques. "When you have a good technical paper," he said "have a writer of children's books translate it for the public."

"You have spanked us and helped us," Dr. John E. Bardach, president of MACE and professor in the Department of Fisheries, School of Natural Resources, University of Michigan, told the panel. David Arnold, biologist at the Cusino Wildlife Station, presided.

Two Planes Lock, Crash Together

CARO # — Locked together after a collision, two light planes crashed as one from 75 feet at the Caro Municipal Airport Sunday.

The two were among scores of planes of Michigan private fliers here for the airport's new runway dedication.

All the six persons aboard the two planes, including a man and his wife, were injured.

"We were very lucky," said Clayton Monte, airport manager who is also Caro's police chief.

Three Cars Damaged In Area Crashes

Three cars were damaged and one summons was issued as a result of two area traffic mishaps investigated by state police yesterday and early this morning.

Two cars were damaged and a driver was ticketed in a wreck at 12:30 yesterday afternoon on County Road 553, half a mile south of County Road EXX, in Forsyth Township.

Damage resulted to the rear of a 1963 model sport coupe driven by Dan Francisco, 23, of 121 W. Crescent St., and to the left front of a 1963 model coach driven by Robert Staudacher, 18, K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. Both vehicles were driven from the scene. Both cars were being driven south on Road 553. Francisco told state police he was slowing down for vehicles ahead when his car was struck in the rear by Staudacher's auto.

State police ticketed Staudacher for violation of the basic speed law.

One car was damaged in a car-deer mishap at 5 this morning on U.S. 41 in Limestone Township, Alger County, four-tenths of a mile from the Marquette County line.

State police said Larry Stahl, 23, Sawyer Base, was driving his 1957 model convertible north on U.S. 41 when a deer, crossing the road from west to east, jumped in front of the car.

The car was damaged in the right front. Stahl drove the car from the scene under its own power.

Sawyer Team Top Winner In Air Force's Jet Event

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Two Michigan pilots emerged as apple-shooters in the 1963 William Tell Fighter-Interceptor Weapons Competition of the Air Force this week.

They knocked down their enemy drones with air-to-air missiles.

The drone is 22 feet long with a wing span of 12 feet and flies just under the speed of sound, guided by remote control.

Capling-Long Team

Knocking down the drone were Lt. Col. William Shelton and Radar Officer 1st Lt. Robert W. Stamm of the 445th FIS, Wurtsmith AFB, Mich., representing the 28th Air Division of the Air Defense Command; and Capt. Edwyn Capling and Radar Officer 1st Lt. Leon N. Long of the 62nd FIS, K. I. Sawyer AFB, Mich., representing the 39th Air Division of the Air Defense Command.

Wurtsmith Winner

Air National Guardsmen from Pittsburgh scored the best in the week-long shooting and won the overall meet championship as well as being victors in the F102 fighter category. The Pittsburgh group scored 8,427 points in a possible 9,500.

Wurtsmith Air Force Base of Michigan, representing the 28th Air Division of the Air Defense Command, won the F101 category, scoring 6,872 points.

Tech Slates Counselor Conference

HOUGHTON — Some of the problems confronting high school principals, counselors and graduating seniors will be up for discussion at Michigan Tech at a state principal-counselor all student conference Oct. 28.

The conference will meet under the sponsorship of Tech's division of continuing education. Invitations have been issued to all Michigan high school principals and counselors.

Purpose Noted

Purpose, says Doug Rappley, assistant director, division of continuing education, is to promote better communications between the matriculating student, his high school principal and counselor and his college advisers.

In addition, he said, the need also exists to provide school personnel with the opportunity to become better acquainted with the staff and facilities of Tech.

Participants will have an opportunity to review the progress and records of Tech students from their school districts, get a look at college facilities and meet with members of the college faculty and administration.

Programs Listed

The morning session will be devoted to a discussion of "The Scope of Michigan Tech," by Dr. Donald G. Yerg, director of graduate studies, and "The Tech Student," by Dean Harold Meese, dean of students.

Frank Kerekes, dean of the faculty, will address the group at a noon luncheon on "Michigan Tech in the National Picture," followed by a program by the Michigan Tech Glee Club.

The afternoon will be devoted to campus tours, student interviews and a panel discussion moderated by Ernest R. Griff, admissions counselor.

One Person Hurt, Two Get Tickets In City Accidents

One person was injured, two motorists were issued tickets and seven automobiles were involved in five traffic accidents which occurred in Marquette during the weekend.

1. The personal injury wreck took place at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, at the Soo Line Railroad Co. crossing on the corner of S. Front St. and Baraga Ave. City police said Alice J. Carter, 19, Box 707, Forsyth, was headed west on E. Baraga Ave. and was stopped for the Front St. stop sign.

After traffic cleared, she began making a left turn onto S. Front St. and was momentarily blinded by the sun and turned too sharply to the left, with her car striking the railroad's "island" signal.

Mrs. Carter suffered a skinned right knee and a broken front tooth. She sought her own treatment.

Extensive damage resulted to the front bumper, grill, radiator and windshield of the car, a 1961 sedan, which had to be towed from the scene by a wrecker.

2. At 10:15 a.m. Saturday, a car being driven west on W. College Ave. by Gordon W. Elson, 35, of 400 Oak St., Ishpeming, was struck by an automobile operated by Lulu M. Peterson, 58, of 1595 Ontario St., who was traveling south on Hebard Ct.

Mrs. Peterson told officers she didn't see her car enter the intersection.

The right front of Elson's car, a 1960 station wagon, and the left front of the Peterson vehicle, a 1938 twodoor sedan, were damaged. Both vehicles were driven from the scene under their own power.

Mrs. Peterson was ticketed by city police for a right-of-way violation.

3. An automobile being driven northeast on County Road 553 by Robert M. Schomer went off the left side of the roadway and struck a picket fence owned by John Bauer, Birch Grove Trailer Court.

City police said Schomer reported he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming vehicle and failed to make the right turn onto Pioneer Rd. The accident occurred at 7:10 Saturday evening.

Minor damage resulted to the fence and to the left side and headlight of Schomer's car, a 1956 twodoor sedan, which was driven from the scene. City police ticketed Schomer for failing to have his car under control.

4. A hit-and-run mishap which occurred Friday night and which was reported at 9:50 Saturday morning was still under investigation today.

City police said Edward Pavaglio, 411 Spruce St., reported his 1952 fourdoor sedan had been parked in the driveway of his residence and its left rear door damaged.

Neighbors had heard a crash around 10:30 Friday night, when the mishap apparently occurred, police said. A car evidently had been driven into the driveway to be turned around, officers said.

5. At 10:05 Saturday morning a 1961 truck being driven out from the Post Office Building driveway by Terry L. Keller, 17, of 212 E. Arch St., struck a parked car owned by Charles A. LaRouche, 809 N. Fourth St., as Keller was making a right turn into S. Third St.

No damage resulted to the truck but the left rear bumper of the LaRouche car, a 1961 twodoor sedan, was damaged. City police said Keller apparently cut the corner too short.

...So you see, Mother, I can 'boil water'!
Considering that the bride "couldn't boil water" a few months ago, baking six layer cakes for the church dinner is quite a feat. It's big enough news to make a Long Distance phone call to Mother and the family back home. Little things are always big news to those who love you. LONG DISTANCE IS THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING THERE.
Why not call tonight? A station-to-station call costs less than a "person" call. And it's faster, especially when you give the Operator the Area Code as well as the number you want.

Reprimand Expected For Guard

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential committee set up to act against racial discrimination in the armed services is shaping its final report and National Guard sources say they expect the guard to be "raked over the coals."
There are reports—denied by committee officials—that the group may recommend withholding funds from any state which refuses to end segregation in its guard units.
If this happens, the much-buffeted President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces likely will suffer new hammering from Southern members of Congress and Dixie governors.
The guard is segregated in most of the states of the old Confederacy.
The presidential committee, headed by Washington lawyer Gerhard A. Gesell, submitted an initial report June 13 recommending many measures to eliminate discrimination against Negro servicemen in areas around military bases.
The seven-man committee told Kennedy bias in the reserve and National Guard had been under intensive study. It promised that a follow-up report on this problem would be completed soon.
No Interviews
Sources close to National Guard affairs said they understood that report was expected by Sept. 1. Some sources suggested the White House might have passed the word to hold up the politically touchy document and perhaps tone it down.
Repeated attempts to reach Gesell were fruitless. An aide in his law office told a reporter Gesell "does not grant interviews."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wolf of Morenci are shown at one of the Upper Peninsula feeder calf sales, at which they purchased 131 steer calves.—(MSU photo).

Record Feeder Calf Sales Held; Hartwig Predicts Rise In Business In U.P.

A record number of feeder calves were sold through the two Upper Peninsula sales recently conducted by beef cattle associations.

There were 1,584 sold at Escanaba and 957 crossed the auction block at Bruce Crossing for a total of 2,541 head.

The price was off considerably with steers bringing nearly $5 per 100 less than last year and heifer calves going for $4 to $5 less per 100 pounds.

Profit After Fattening

Buyers felt the rough averages of $25.60 they paid for steers and $22.50 for heifers will give them a fair shot at making a profit after fattening the calves in southern Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois feed lots. Many who paid over $30 per 100 last year for the feeders claimed there wasn't enough profit margin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wolf of Morenci bought 131 steer calves at $24.60 per hundred for an average cost of $108 per head this year. They paid $31.50 last year and said they had trouble showing a profit feeding shelled corn that cost up to $1.35 per bushel.

The Wolfs feed silage as well as grain and finish cattle only to a choice grade, as they say there is less demand for premium beef. They bought half of their feeders from the famed Kansas Blue Stem country last year and report that U. P. feeders compare very favorably with the Kansas calves.

Expected Stronger Market

U. P. cattlemen had expected a stronger market. Michigan State University Extension Economist Richard T. Hartwig of Marquette says the feeder price had been going up for several years, however, and was expected to take a downward trend this year. Hartwig says the U. P. sales brought better prices than some Wisconsin sales, probably due to quality and bidding competition.

Graydon Blank, Wilton Finley and Robert Dean, livestock specialists with MSU helped supervise both sales, along with Hartwig.

Volume and quality at both sales would indicate that the beef cattle business is taking its place among other proven agricultural specialties in the U. P., such as dairying, truck crops and the production of strawberries and fancy potatoes, Hartwig said.

Another indicator that the beef business is growing—many of the heifer calves this year sold to U. P. farmers who will keep them for breeding purposes. Steer calves at the Bay de Noc sale in Escanaba averaged 400 pounds. The top 10 steer calves sold for $29.75 and the average for all steers was $25.42. The average heifer calves brought $21.72.

927 Head Sold

At the 7th annual feeder calf sale at Bruce Crossing, 957 head sold for a total of $95,323.98 compared to the $153,844 which the Escanaba sale brought in. The Bruce Crossing steers averaged 393 pounds and sold for an average of $25.83 per hundred weight. The top 10 steer calves sold for $28.25. The top 10 heifer calves went for $27 and the average paid for heifers was $23.81.

The sales are establishing a team relationship between U.P. cattlemen who raise the feeders and the corn country buyers who fatten them out for market, Hartwig said. Over 100 western peninsula cattlemen hosted the buyers at a banquet held on the evening after the October sale at Bruce Crossing.

7 Persons Pay Fines In City Court

Seven persons were ordered to pay a total of $69.30 in fines and costs by Judge Edward H. Dembowski in city court last week for traffic law violations.

A fine of $11.30 and costs of $3.70 were paid by Gerald R. Jean, Bay City, for failure to have his motor vehicle under control. City police ticketed him Sept. 28 following an accident at the corner of Champion and Genesee Sts.

Louis Vadnais, 2319 Fifth Ave., paid a fine of $10 and $4.30 costs for allowing an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle. The summons was issued by sheriff's officers

Goldwater Picks His 'D-Day'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has ringed Jan. 27, 1964 on his calendar as D-day for an expected plunge into active competition for the Republican presidential nomination.

That date represents the deadline for filing of petitions to put Goldwater's name in the April 14 Illinois presidential primary. Although the Arizona senator could permit his name to go on the ballot without lifting a finger by merely failing to ask by Feb. 1 that it be withdrawn, he said in an interview that he expects to announce his intentions by Jan. 27.

The Illinois primary is advisory only and the results there technically will not be binding on the state's 58-vote delegation to the San Francisco convention. But the importance of a show of strength in the state has been impressed on Goldwater and his strategists, Illinois, which went for President Kennedy in 1960, offers the senator his best opportunity to demonstrate voting-getting ability in a big state.

Some of his lieutenants think Illinois could provide the vital convention votes he needs to combine with support from the South, other areas of the Midwest and the Far West to win the nomination. Goldwater has said he expects his name to be entered in the March 10 New Hampshire primary, where his consent is not required. Petitions could be filed by the end of January for this race. He is likely to be opposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a battle for the state's 14 convention votes.

Prestige At Stake

What's good for Escanaba certainly should be good for Marquette. Especially when Marquette already has it.

Under consideration by the Upper Michigan Tourist Association is an offer by the City of Escanaba and the Escanaba Foundation, a development organization, to move its headquarters from Marquette to Escanaba. As outlined at the UMTA's annual meeting here last week by Escanaba City Manager George Harvey, the foundation would purchase land and construct a building which would be rented to the association.

What's behind the offer? Possibly not all altruistic motives, although men like Escanaba Daily Press Editor Jean Worth and Gust Asp, president of the Escanaba Foundation, have given unstintingly of their time to help promote the economic and cultural interests of the Upper Peninsula. With the collapse of the U. P. Development Bureau so fresh in their minds, and not wishing to see the same thing happen to the new tourist association, they undoubtedly will do everything to assure its continued operation. Perhaps the reason for their offer is a bit selfish, from a municipal standpoint, since location of the association's headquarters lends a certain amount of prestige to a community. As Editor Worth stated, "Escanaba could do a lot for the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, and the association could do a lot for Escanaba."

Whatever the reasons, they're worth consideration of Marquette city commissioners and civic leaders, some of whom need no counsel about the advisability of keeping such a regional organization in operation.

Not too many years ago, the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau received space—rent free—on the second floor of the city hall, a sizable contribution which was lost when the Bureau had to obtain quarters elsewhere to make room for expanding municipal operations. Since then, the tourist promotion agency has had to add office rent to its list of expenses.

Since organization of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association four years ago, the city's financial support has not been all that it should, figured on a population basis and the benefits that Marquette derives from having the headquarters located here. In contrast to annual support ranging from $300 to $550 received from such cities as Escanaba, Ironwood and Menominee, the City of Marquette turned down UMTA's request for backing this year.

At the time the commission took such action, The Mining Journal warned: "We believe that one of the commission's moves (in attempts to end deficit financing) was taken without thorough consideration of the results that could accrue," pointing out the direct benefits the city government itself receives from tourist trade through payment of direct property taxes by motels and other businesses which first receive the tourist dollar, through payment of bills for light and other utility services provided for visitors, and through the increase in sales tax revenue. It noted, too, that the millions of dollars left in this area by tourists benefited nearly every resident because it circulated within the community.

Frankly, The Mining Journal did not view loss of the UMTA headquarters "as one of the results that could accrue." But it is a result, Escanaba Foundation President Asp put it this way: "Let's be frank about it; that's why we're up here," referring to the fact that Marquette had not contributed any money to support of the tourist association.

And the Upper Michigan Tourist Association needs such support, not only from Marquette, but from Ishpeming, Negaunee and all other communities in the Peninsula, if it is to survive and do a proper job of promotion. Through its all-out effort the past year at travel shows and in newspaper, magazine, radio and television advertising and publicity, it presented the Upper Peninsula as an ideal vacation area, and the result was a flood of visitors (and dollars) reaching near-record levels the past summer. It was a sharp reversal of the downward trend experienced since the Development Bureau had to close its doors four years ago.

If Marquette and the rest of the Upper Peninsula is to "cash in" on its recreational advantages—and all economic planners who have analyzed the issue recommend tourism as the one certain field where the region can advance—continued backing of a group such as UMTA, specifically set up under state law to promote economic development, is necessary.

And if Marquette is to continue to benefit additionally from being the headquarters of this association, everything possible must be done soon to keep the office here.

Just as Escanaba would gain if the office were moved to that city, Marquette would lose prestige in direct proportion.

—Marquette—

In answer to a recent article in Iron Age, published in Pittsburgh, on pigiron shipments abroad via Canadian ports, from Marquette, the tonnage is 2,690, taken in 10 cargoes, but does not include the considerable quantity sent out from Munising and Bay furnaces, 40 miles below Marquette. There now are strong inquiries from the British Isles for more Lake Superior pigiron as iron makers say it gives satisfaction, especially for car wheel purposes. Their furnaces have been selling all they could make, and their need for our product is great.

Payday was anxiously looked forward to the past fortnight or so, by the public and employees in Marquette, but the money panic of last month forbade much hope of such an event. However, the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon railroad company inaugurated the movement a week ago, and will continue it for some time to come, so that others will be provided with some means to follow the example. That they can make payments in large amounts so near on the heels of such a severe money panic, certainly shows a degree of prosperity and an ability in management which should be gratifying alike to the officers of the road and to its patrons.

Dry goods dealers and milliners have been getting in their fall stocks lately and all display good assortments. The recent mild weather has prevented the ladies coming out and showing their new clothes.

The registers at the various hotels have shown a good line of travel, though the regular season ended last month. Marquette has just about enough hotel room for the winter and no more, with the closing of the North Western, probably until next spring. Prospects for the future seem good but we need more hotels, especially during our busy summers.

The choicest residence lots to be found in the city of Marquette are those situated in that beautiful grove north of Ridge Street and fronting on Ridge, Arch, Michigan, Ohio, Mount Vernon (Hewitt Ave.) Third, Front and High. These are now offered for sale for the first time. Prices are moderate and terms liberal. I also have for sale lots in the southern parts of the town in the vicinity of the Carp River iron works and near to the Rolling Mill and stone quarries. (Hiram Burt adv.)

—Ishpeming—

Our merchants generally have been busy lately with their new fall goods. Judging from the large stocks they have been getting in, our businessmen have little fear of "hard times" this winter.

As mentioned a short time ago, our mails have been unusually slow of late. To notify a person in Marquette that you will call on him within a week, and then find that when you do, your letter to him has not arrived, is, to say the least, rather provocative of profanity.

Already quite a few new buildings are in the process of erection on the Cleveland company's recently opened addition to Ishpeming, most of them houses for immediate use. Everybody seems to want a lot over on that tract and we say there is no better investment than in securing property there or anywhere else in Ishpeming for that matter. It would be well if some of the purchasers in that addition would take the trouble and expense to build of brick, not only to improve the appearance of the town but add it would to their own and the public security.

—Negaunee—

The first meeting of the Negaunee Coal Co. was held Monday last and the following officers were elected: President, William C. McComber; secretary and treasurer, James Matthews; general manager, James R. Wheeler. The property of this company is located in Shiawassee County, Lower Michigan and consists of thirty hundred acres of land. Explorations of the property show coal in large quantities. The first two named are Negaunee residents, as are some of the other stockholders. The Rev. E. W. Frazee has been designated by the annual conference to remain with us, in charge of the Methodist Church for another term. Our citizens generally and members of his church in particular, will be pleased to learn this, for Mr. F. has made many warm friends in Negaunee.

Jackson St., after the graveling and new sidewalks now under way, are completed, will be the best and handsomest of the many about which we now boast.

Walter Fitch, Champion, who represents the Clarion Steel Co. in the Lake Superior region, was in Marquette yesterday in his capacity of chairman of the board of supervisors. Fitch has just arrived home from the east, where he has attended a meeting of the officers of his company. One of the fruits of this meeting was the order, received at Champion Saturday night, to close the Champion and the company's small mines at that place, allowing all the men, except the pumpmen and other employees necessary to keep the properties in good condition, to go.

—Ishpeming—

The goods and chattels of the defunct Finnish Coop, with the exception of the real estate, were sold at auction yesterday, Richard Quayle being the successful bidder. Mr. Quayle also assumes the mortgage of $8,000 held by the Marquette National Bank. All the departments of the store were opened last night and all the stock will be sold at reduced prices. With the termination of the foreclosure proceedings J. H. Quinn concludes his duties as trustee.

Declaring that Marquette and Kalamazoo are in better financial shape than any other cities in Michigan, John F. Hamilton, Michigan manager of the home owner's loan corporation, Detroit, yesterday announced that a branch contact office of the organization will be opened early next week in the Nester Block to receive applications for loans and to speed things up in the western end of the Upper Peninsula.

—Ishpeming—

Registration of unemployed in Ishpeming was started today by George R. Jackman, Marquette, assistant administrator of the Marquette County emergency welfare relief commission. This work is well under way in Negaunee and will be started in Marquette Friday morning and in eight townships in the county Monday morning.

—Negaunee—

Playing about the warehouse here a week ago, Teddy, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews, Gold St., found a purse containing a sum of money and other articles carried by women in their pocketbooks. He did not know what to do with it, but evidently realized that, as it did not belong to him, he should return it to its owner or give it to someone who would.

WASHINGTON — John A. McCone, the West Coast steel and shipping tycoon who now bosses the Central Intelligence Agency, could do his outfit a favor by doing along with agitation in Capitol Hill to give Congress a better look-see into the operations of our espionage shop.

As usual, when things go wrong abroad, CIA now is being lambasted by an assortment of diplomatic, military and journalistic critics for interfering with policy making in South Vietnam. The criticism is justified, CIA has been too cozy with President Diem's brother-in-law, Ngo Dinh Nhu, who pretty much runs the country through his hard-nosed secret police, and there is evidence that the CIA-Nhu combination has undermined the official State Department position in Saigon.

But, also as usual, CIA is in a bind. By the very nature of its operations it is prevented from defending itself. And no amount of terse "no comments" can offset the backbiting anti-CIA "leaks" from the Pentagon and the State Department.

Long Recommended

There is only one way CIA's

integrity can be protected and that is through the same kind of joint Congressional watchdog committee which oversees the activities of the Atomic Energy Commission. Such a committee has been recommended annually ever since 1955 by a Hoover Commission task force and by a gaggle of legislators including Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, (D. Mont.), Sen. Hubert Humphrey, (D. Minn.), and Reps. John Lindsay, (R. N. Y.), and Paul G. Rogers, (D. Fla.). Frequent Congressional scrutiny would give the taxpayer the assurance he needs that CIA is not making its own foreign policy.

At present, the CIA chief confers from time to time with members of the House and Senate Armed Services and Appropriations subcommittees. But this is at best a voluntary arrangement. What is needed, as Mansfield urged as far back as 1956, is a "black and white" provision giving mandatory jurisdictional powers to Congress in its relations with CIA. Mansfield noted at the time that during a 12-month period, CIA officials had met only twice with the Senate Armed Services subcommittee and only once with the Senate Appropriations subcommittee. Such a loose relationship between Congress and CIA just doesn't make sense in this complex time of the nation's life. CIA and the "intelligence community" generally have become too big to be permitted to go their free-wheeling, deal-making way without somebody looking over their shoulder.

CIA occupies a huge bureaucratic Taj Mahal in nearby Langley, Va., which contains one million square feet of working space plus two pentagons and service areas totalling another 600,000 square feet. The building, complete with two pentagons, a 500-seat auditorium, two miles of roads and 21 acres of parking lots, cost something more than $46 million. Now the new Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) is asking Congress for $17.2 million to erect a building in Arlington, Va., to house the military's spies.

The number of CIA employees is a military secret, although estimates put it at 10,000. Army, Navy and Air Force intelligence services which comprise DIA account for at least another 3,000. What these two outfits spend every year also is classified, but CIA's budget has been estimated as high as $1 billion, and DIA probably manages with another $200 million.

In any operation of this size no matter the integrity of its chiefs, there is bound to be not only horrific waste and duplication of efforts but a natural tendency to try to run the foreign policy show. The intelligence official tends to feel he knows more about a given situation and therefore his solution is the only valid one. And so he has gone his own way in Iran, in Cuba, in Nationalist China and most recently in Vietnam, usually to the detriment of the national interest.

Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. In CIA's case, there is a third, frightening dimension. For its power is also secret power, concealed by the curtain of security from the gaze of the citizenry. Until Congress steps in to find out what is going on, Main Street, U.S.A., should have trouble sleeping at night. (Bell-McClure Syndicate)

Girls Can Pad Busts At Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Each year the question always arises: How do officials of the Miss America Pageant prevent contestants from padding their bust lines?

"We couldn't care less," said Miss Lenora Slaughter, executive director of the pageant. "We're not in the body business. We're just looking for a typical American girl who has beauty, poise, charm, talent and intelligence."

No Rule

"There is no rule against any of the girls wearing padding, and with the swim suits of today, it would be very difficult to tell which girls were wearing pads and which girls just had built up suits." Official unconcern over padded bras is typical of the change which has come over the pageant since its 1921 beginning as a leg show established to extend the summer season at Atlantic City a week or so.

Not Measured

In converting the pageant into a search for the all-American girl, swim suits have been de-emphasized. "The girls are not measured, weighed or checked to see if they are being aided artificially," they submit their own statistics. "We accept the measurements as submitted," said Albert A. Marks Jr., president of the pag-

Latins Limp Along

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON —(NEA) — News from Latin America always seems to be the most discouraging and there is much more of it.

This is emphasized by the overthrow of the Juan Bosch government in Dominican Republic and the Ramon Villeda Morales government in Honduras, for being too democratic.

In the past year there has been trouble of some kind in every country from Mexico to Honduras, back up the east coast to Venezuela and across the Caribbean to Cuba.

If there was just one country where the outlook was really bright, there would be hope and more encouragement.

Helped Since 1940

The United States has been pouring aid into Latin America since Nelson Rockefeller took over the Good Neighbor policy in 1940. Twenty years later—after nearly $4 billion had been loaned or given away — this effort really boomed with President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program.

About $1.5 billion has been expended on it in fiscal years 1962 and 1963. Another $600 million has been asked for the current fiscal year. This would make the total $6 billion.

Tentative congressional cuts of 25 per cent or $150 million on this year's program have raised cries of alarm from the administration that it will sabotage the program.

But the opposition to it is based on a contention that foreign aid to Cuba did not prevent Fidel Castro from taking over any more than aid to Bosch prevented the generals from throwing him out for being soft on the Communists.

So even if foreign aid is not directly responsible for Latin American instability, the Alliance for Progress may be cut down as a sacrifice on the altars of economy.

Ridiculous Thought

Latin American reaction to this possibility seems to be that whatever is wrong with the Alliance for Progress is primarily the fault of United States bad management. The contention is that the program cannot be run from Washington. They want it run by a Latin American organization and not between the U. S. and each country, separately.

Any thought that the United States will turn over to an international organization the control of wholly U. S. appropriated funds is ridiculous. Congress would never approve.

United States officials have made clear to the Latin Americans, however, that their increased participation in planning the Alliance for Progress would be welcome whenever they furnish the bulk of the resources for development.

Only 7 Work Out Plan

In two years, only seven of the 19 Latin American countries have been able to work out their own development plans.

United States aid cannot be considered as a subsidy to make up for loss of foreign markets or low commodity prices caused by their own overproduction. Coffee countries, for instance, must diversify their economies.

United States loans cannot be doled out endlessly to close gaps caused by runaway inflation, as in Brazil.

And there must be a whole new school of politicians, career public servants and administrators developed to give Latin American countries responsible government. They need better educational systems and must provide them for themselves.

"Only the governments of Latin America can bring about the basic reforms which, soundly conceived and implemented, will ultimately help to make democracy secure," says Alliance for Progress co-ordinator Teodoro Moscoso.

The question is not whether there will be enough U. S. dollars to finance these undertakings. It is whether there is enough patience to wait for the Latin Americans to carry out their part of the program.

Views Of Others

WHY NOT BOTH?

There is increasing talk in Washington — most notably the other day by Senators Dirksen (Rep., Ill.) and Goldwater (Rep., Ariz.) — that the president will have to choose between his civil rights bill and a tax cut. Some others have intimated the same thing.

Why? The country needs both. Why can't it have them? Heaven knows Congress has been in session long enough to get something done. The House has already passed a tax cut bill. The Senate certainly can, too. Both houses have studied civil rights long enough. It shouldn't be too difficult to decide to give all Americans what the Constitution says they have — equality.

Obviously both of these measures will get rough treatment from diehard opponents. They will have to submit to the battering of some unsympathetic committees. But the Congress can act if it has the will. And it has been showing so much inaction that for the sake of its own reputation with the voters it ought to get moving. —(Milwaukee Journal)

Physical Fitness Report

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy and a lot of other Americans are worried about the bad showing made by so many young men tested for military service.

Last year a few over 300,000 reported for initial draft examinations. Virtually half of them were found unqualified for service. Nearly a fourth flunked fairly simple mental tests.

This is enough to alarm anybody, and Kennedy has set up a high-level task force to prepare a program for the guidance, testing, counseling, training and rehabilitation of those who don't measure up.

Rays Of Hope

The task force is to make a preliminary report the first of next month and a final report by the first of the year.

Bad as the situation is, those undertaking the study can find rays of hope.

One is in the experience of the Army with illiterates in World War II, referred to by Kennedy in announcing the new effort.

Special Training Units

The Army set up special training units for men who couldn't read or write, and trained 300,000 of them. Of these, 85 per cent passed the courses and went on to serve as soldiers.

A sampling of these illiterates showed that a fourth of them rose to the rank of corporal or better, and a considerable number won decorations.

Another encouraging study is reported by the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

It found that the first time some 200,000 school children were given a minimum physical fitness test,

80 per cent passed. "The only things we check are the girl's age and whether she's married."

Intentional Error

During this year's pageant, the measurements listed for a couple of the contestants were not correct — and one error was intentional.

A pageant official told a reporter his girl's bust line was nearly two inches larger than the published 36.

"Our girl is shy, so she gave the smaller figure," he said. "She didn't want anyone to think she was busty."

about one-third of them failed. After 12 weeks of rather simple exercises, over 80 per cent could pass.

American children have ranked behind European youth in fitness. But there now come reports that the children in West Germany are getting soft and flabby as their country waxes fat and prosperous.

The West German children, say these reports, are going in for rich food and driving around in Volkswagens.

NO EXCUSE FOR SERMONS

Two things should be stressed. The first is that the way in which the American people, and the American Negroes above all, have begun to grapple with their problem should command warm admiration from this side of the Atlantic. The second is that no one in this country should make the current moral crisis in the United States an excuse for sanctimonious sermons. The legislation which President Kennedy is trying to push through Congress is far in advance of anything here. Before people in this country criticize the administration in Washington for doing too little, they should press our own government to do as much. —(Manchester Guardian)

FALSE VALUES

A tourist's notes on the changing American scene: In the summer of 1963, it cost nothing to visit the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., 75c to see George Washington's home in Mount Vernon — and $5 per car to see the Texas home of Billie Sol Estes — Milwaukee Sentinel.

Pork Chops Dish Gives Feeling Of Italy To Meal

Here's a simple way to give a foreign treatment to a supper main dish. Bake pork chops on top of spinach and cheese sauce. The result: Pork chops Florentine, bringing a feeling of Italy to your meal.

The chops bake during the majority of the cooking time in a covered baking dish. This holds in the moist heat pork chops need to be their juicy best at serving time, states authority in the meat cookery field Reba Stagg.

Complete your easy Italian-style menu with fried eggplant, a tossed salad with garlic-oil dressing, Italian bread and a dessert of spumoni ice cream.

Pork Chops Florentine - 6 rib or loin pork chops, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick 2 tablespoons lard or drippings 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen spinach, cooked; or 2 cans (16 ounces each) spinach. Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season chops with 1/2 teaspoons salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1/2 teaspoon cheddar cheese. Drain cooked or canned spinach. Add spinach to cheese sauce and pour into a greased baking dish. Arrange browned chops on top of spinach mixture. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking uncovered 15 minutes or until done. Six servings.

Only today it isn't true. This morning the lines are by Ken. And when I say "morning," I really mean it. It's just a little past seven and I've been down at the store since a few minutes to six. Believe me, it doesn't happen often.

Actually, we are doing something very novel to our windows; tinting them a light rose shade to keep out the glare that we get a good part of the year. The two men who apply this coating wanted to get a real early start. So here I am. Does give me a chance to get a little earlier start and catch up on some of the book work that always seems to fall behind.

When you pass this way take a look at the windows. I think you'll like it. Then come in and tell us. And while you're in, why not take a few minutes to browse around at all the new holiday merchandise coming in. This is a good time to make a selection of your holiday dress and lay it away until you want to wear it.

Just a reminder, in the past week or two we have received loads of mohair sweaters in colors and styles you'll love to wear. Come in and take your pick now. For the newest in looks, come to LOU'S, in the center of Marquette, - Adv.

Cooperation Of Residents Asked In Battling Blaze Near Lowmoor In Ely

ISHPEMING — Conservation officers today asked for the cooperation of area residents in their struggle to put out a fire which has been smoldering since Oct. 1 in 81 acres of peat and muck near Lowmoor Lake in Ely Township.

"People have been stealing gasoline from our tractors, pumps and other equipment, fire hoses, grease guns and shovels," a conservation officer said.

Fire-fighting equipment is left at the scene over night, ready for the large numbers of men that has been fighting the two-week old fire.

Up to 70 men a day have been called to fight the fire. They've had to pump water from Lowmoor Lake, a mile from the fire, and also have sunk well points at the site of the fire to draw water from the water table.

Police Have Busy Weekend

ISHPEMING — Ishpeming police officers, after a busy weekend, are back on their regular routines.

Hazardous driving conditions late Friday afternoon, resulted in extra hours for the afternoon shift of the police department, which stayed on duty until 6 Saturday morning to assist the night shift and two patrol cars from the Michigan state police.

Dense black smoke on U. S. 41 Friday night, which was caused by the peat fires in the area, prevented a normal flow of traffic.

Had To Stand Still

In many instances, motorists were requested by police to be at a standstill until some of the smoke and fog lifted.

Police, in giving an account of the unusual conditions on the highway, stated that visibility was near zero.

Despite the extremely hazardous driving conditions, only a few accidents were reported.

In the first accident Friday night on U. S. 41, a two car collision involved cars driven by Mary Ann Bogetto of 535 Lake St. Negaunee, and Robert F. Sauger, a Wisconsin motorist.

The Bogetto vehicle received front end damage while Sauger's car received rear end damage.

Injury Mishap

At 12:10 a. m. Saturday, a three car collision involved Ronald R. Jenkins of Waukegan, Ill.; Claire V. Pepin of 654 Wabash St., and David J. Junak, 506 N. Second St.

Junak was taken to the Bell Memorial Hospital and released after being treated for bruises and facial cuts.

Driver Arrested

In clear driving weather in another part of the city on Saturday afternoon, an Ishpeming motorist was cited for reckless driving.

At 4:25 p. m. Saturday, Robert Heikkila of 135 Marble St., who was traveling north on South Pine St., failed to negotiate a turn and skidded 44 feet before hitting a tree off to the left of the roadway.

He was taken to the Bell Memorial Hospital and treated for severe facial lacerations and was released yesterday.

Cars, Trucks Built On Ford's Birthday

DEARBORN — Ford Motor Co. employees celebrated the 100th anniversary of the birth of Henry Ford in a business manner. While several observances in Ford's memory went on 314,000 company employees were at their desks and machines. Production lines turned out 12,000 Ford cars and 2,400 trucks during the day.

WHY not a zestful change in the daily menu? SO GOOD...SO MANY WAYS!

Negaunee Site For Tech Course

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech has scheduled a meeting in Negaunee at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16, in the high school industrial arts building for the organization of evening technical courses for the fall quarter.

The courses will be sponsored by Tech's Division of Continuing Education in cooperation with Negaunee public schools. Paul Koski, associate coordinator of technical education at Tech, said course offerings will include reading and machine shop.

Koski said the purpose of Tech's program of evening technical courses is to help individuals improve their present technical skills or acquire new ones. He said Wednesday's meeting also will serve as a "soundingboard" of needs, to help determine what courses should be offered in the Negaunee area in the future.

Michigan Tech has conducted technical courses at various sites in the Upper Peninsula with a great deal of success in recent years, Koski said, and the program is being expanded to keep pace with demand. This fall evening technical courses are being offered at five different locations in the Upper Peninsula.

Mustangs Take Hard Loss From Escanaba Holy Name

MUNISING — The old saying, "The first punch is the one that counts," did not hold true for the Munising Mustangs Saturday afternoon. The Mustangs were the first to tally, on the opening play, but Escanaba Holy Name's Crusaders came on strong to punch holes in the theory and take the game, 31-20.

Bump Happy About Tie With MSU

ANN ARBOR (AP) — After watching his team tie Michigan State 7-7 Saturday, Michigan coach Bump Elliott said his "kids came of age . . . and proved they are a real good football team—one that has the potential to beat any team it plays."

Prove Soon
The Wolverines will get a chance to prove their coach is right this Saturday when they take on Purdue in their second Big Ten game.

Purdue, a 38-20 loser to Wisconsin Saturday, has a 1-2 record. The Boilermakers' lone victory was over Notre Dame two weeks ago.

Michigan scored in the first quarter in Saturday's game with MSU, marking the first time the Wolverines had crossed the Spartans' goal line in three games.

Jack Clancy returned a punt 42 yards to the State 42. Nine plays later, quarterback Bob Chandler passed to end John Henderson for 15 yards and the score. Bob Timberlake converted.

Elliott said his pre-game strategy was to use Henderson as the No. 1 target for Michigan's passes, but the fact that the Wolverines were bottled up deep in their own territory much of the time hampered the U-M passing attack.

Many Punts
There were seven punts in the second quarter alone, which indicates the type of defensive show the two arch rivals put on.

The Michigan defense came up with the big play of a first down when the Spartans needed about a foot to sustain their drive. The play took place on the Michigan 28.

Midway in the third quarter, the Spartans started a drive from their own 16 and capped it with a touchdown pitch of seven yards from Juday to halfback Sherman Lewis. Lou Bobrich, using his soccer-type kick, booted the tying point.

Another Threat
MSU threatened again in the final quarter when Lewis ripped off 26 yards around right end. But the play was called back because of an offside penalty.

Earlier, Bobrich missed a 32-yard field goal.
The Chandler-to-Henderson pass combination used so effectively last week against Navy played a big part in U-M's first drive.

The Wolverines got as far as the MSU 23 before the drive stalled. Timberlake's 43-yard field goal attempt was wide and short.

Interceptions Hurt Lions Game; Looks Like A Bad Season

DALLAS (AP)—A football season that began with hope and promise for the Detroit Lions now looks as though it will wind up with the near-champions of the last two years as no better than 1963 also-rans.

Brettschneider Lost To Lions With Bad Knee
DALLAS (AP) — Veteran Detroit Lions linebacker Carl Brettschneider was believed lost for the season with a knee injury sustained in Sunday's 17-14 loss to the Dallas Cowboys.

The limping Lions previously scratched flanker back Pat Studstill. An injury is expected to keep him out of uniform the rest of the season.

Brettschneider suffered torn ligaments and cartilage in his left knee in the second half of the Dallas game. He is slated for surgery at University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor.
Fullback Nick Pietrosante also caused concern. He suffered a hand injury early in the game and doctors were trying to determine whether it was a fracture.

play from scrimmage, as quarterback Mike Oas tossed a short pass to John Radcliffe, who weaved his way 65 yards downfield for the first score of the game. Adding an extra point, Munising took an early 7-0 lead.

Comeback
The Crusaders came back fast, tallying in eight plays on a 60-yard drive, but failed to make the extra point, and Munising held a slim 7-6 lead.

Late in the first period, the Mustangs widened the lead, scoring at the end of a drive from their own 40-year line to the Holy Name 11, where Wayne Martindale covered the last yards for a TD. The kick for an extra point went wide, and Munising commanded a 13-6 lead.

Escanaba again closed up on the Mustangs, scoring as Frank Troter found a receiver in the open and tossed a touchdown pass. The attempt for an extra point failed, leaving Munising with a 13-12 lead.

The Crusaders moved out in front for the first time midway in the second quarter, as Mike LaFleur took a short pass and outran Mustang defenses to paydirt, some 72 yards away. With a good extra point effort, Escanaba took a 19-13 advantage.

Added Another
Holy Name tallied again midway in the third period, driving 70 yards in 12 plays to widen the lead to 24-13. The Mustangs fumbled another touchdown effort, holding the Crusaders on their five-yard line for three plays.

Taking possession of the ball, the Mustangs ran two short plays before an intercepted pass resulted in another Holy Name score. Munising scored once more in a vain effort to tie up the game, on a pass from Oas to Francis DesArmo in the end zone. The Mustangs tacked on an extra point, but the game ended 31-20 with no further scoring activity.

Gwinn Loses To Calumet

GWINN — The Gwinn Model Towners were outwitted but not outfought Saturday afternoon, as they played before a large homecoming crowd, and made the Calumet Copper Kings sweat for every point of their 26-6 victory.

The Model Towners had possession as the game opened but lost it for the remainder of the first quarter, while the Kings drove for their first TD on rushing, passing and Gwinn penalties.

Calumet tallied twice in the second quarter, on a quarterback keeper play and a pass, and Gwinn was at a 20-0 disadvantage as the half ended.

Hard Struggle
Calumet struggled hard against firm Gwinn defense in the opening minutes of the third quarter, but managed to score their final TD from the Gwinn two-yard line.

Good tackling gave possession back to Gwinn shortly before the fourth quarter began, and after a few minutes of final-period play, Suardini hit Ramputi with a pass over center that put Gwinn on the board when Ramputi went all the way. No further scoring was done, and the game ended with the final 26-6 score.

Don Bangert Leads Running Game To New Heights In Best Northern Game Of Year

Northern Michigan University had a tremendous homecoming this year, worthy of a school of its newly-acquired size and status; but no event created more excitement and proud satisfaction than did the thorough trouncing dealt by the Wildcats to the visiting Central Michigan University Chippewas, 19-0 on Saturday afternoon.

Odds Favored Central
Honest observers would have had to give pre-game odds decidedly in Central's favor, in view of their overall 2-1 record for this season, and in consideration of their having won the IAC crown last year with a 4-0 slate, and with many of the responsible players back for the 1963 season.

But the Chippewas never really had a chance from the opening kickoff, as the Wildcats just literally ran over them to victory. Receiving the kick, the Cats moved from their own 30-yard line to a TD in nine minutes of uninterrupted, brilliant offensive play sparked by the running of Don Bangert and Bob Erickson.

Bangert alone contributed 20 of the 70 yards covered by the tremendous drive, carrying seven times and personally accounting for two of the five first downs netted in the process, but Erickson had the honor of plunging over from the CMU three for the first tally of the game. Terry Nyquist's kick was wide to the left, and Northern took a 6-0 lead with all of nine minutes gone in the first quarter.

It should be noted that Bob Kalbfleisch provided much of the blocking for Bangert's running in this initial drive, and continued to do so throughout the game, in great style and ferocity.

It should not be thought that Central looked completely inept on defense or offense, although they were clearly outplayed. Uwe Wiese, Frank Goldberg and Joe Schwark tackled Wildcat runners with consistency from their spots in the line, but usually found themselves doing it several yards or more back of their initial spots, as Bangert and Erickson dragged them along in apparent indifference to the extra weight.

Boyd Hampered
Central took possession of the ball on their own 22 following the touchdown kickoff, and managed to grind to Northern's 37 in eight plays and two first downs before being forced to punt, relying on aerials from quarterback Pat Boyd to tailback Larry Moore often unsuccessfully, as Boyd's accuracy was hampered by Wildcat defenders who cut through the CMU wall to threaten him with regularly.

Possession seesawed for awhile, with Central trying to get an aerial attack going without much success, and Northern unable to get past midfield.

During this exchange, the first quarter ended; the second period was highlighted by one of two spectacular runs that were to be seen in the game, as CMU was forced to punt as Boyd's aerial attack fizzled. Erickson received the punt on NMU's 22 and dashed around, through and over Central men all the way to their end zone, behind a fine blocking effort . . . Bill Rademacher took out three men with a flying body block, for example.

The effort was in vain, however, as far as a TD was concerned.

Bears Set Record In 52-14 Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The unbeaten Chicago Bears point for another winless team, the San Francisco 49ers, after running up a record-breaking 52-14 score over another yet-to-win rival, the Los Angeles Rams.

Sunday's game here before 40,476 was one of many statistics—all of them unhappy ones for the Rams.

Will Explode
"Mark my words, they're going to explode some day."

The 38-point margin of the Bear-Ram score was more than the club's previous high, 36-20, in losing to the Philadelphia Eagles in 1959.

cerned, as a 15-yard clipping penalty was called midway in Erickson's run, against Northern. This nullified the tally, but the ball was put down on CMU's 31. The 'Cats dawdled in the huddle, and took another penalty for their delay, moving them back to the 36.

Things went rapidly from then on, with a great pass from Ferris to Bangert good for 21 yards to the 15. Dennis Gorsline made it to the nine on the second down, was held to no gain on the third, and Ferris unceremoniously to Rademacher in the end zone for NMU's second TD of the game. The pass attempt for an extra point was off, and Northern took a 12-0 lead with five minutes left in the half.

Central could not move the ball beyond their own 25 and punted; Dave Fleet took the kick and ran it to Northern's 43, but three downs later, Central tailback Jamie Gent grabbed a Ferris pass in the end zone to end NMU possession in the half. With just over one minute left, Boyd passed his way to a mere five-yard total gain and punted as the time ran out.

Central received the kickoff after halftime homecoming activities, and began play on their own 33. Three plays got the ball to the 45 and a first down, but Len St. Jean bulled through the line to catch Boyd in a pass attempt for the first of three times, handing Central a 12-yard loss from which they could not recover, having to punt soon after.

Northern took possession on their own 28, and got to the 43 against strong opposition before having to punt. CMU's turn was short, getting nearly nowhere, and Northern again gained possession.

With seven minutes left in the period, the Wildcats began another scoring drive on the 50-yard line, with Bangert and Erickson hammering their way through flocking defenses to the Central one-yard line, from which point fullback Mike Blum plunged for the final NMU touchdown. Nyquist booted a good conversion, and Northern took the 19-0 lead which lasted throughout the remainder of the game.

Central wound up the third quarter with a notably unsuccessful aerial drive that netted them meager yardage, and punted as the period ended.

Leonard Trudeau sparked the beginning of a Wildcat drive as the fourth quarter began, carrying twice for a total gain of 27 yards, eight of which were lost as a holding penalty killed the effort. Nyquist punted, beginning an ironical sequence of play, as Central's Moore received the kick and handed the ball to halfback Don Krueger, who sped from deep CMU territory all the way downfield to Northern's end zone.

You've guessed it . . . a clipping penalty against Central nullified the score, and CMU was sent back to try again, this time from their own 13-yard line.

Complete passes and excellent defensive work by Rademacher and Jim Decker hampered a Central drive to a degree, but they moved all the way to Northern's 27 before St. Jean again caught Boyd before he could get a pass off, and northern took possession on their 36.

PATRIOTISM COMES FIRST

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The University of Kentucky always opens a basketball game with the same play — as Coach Adolph Rupp puts it, "The Star Spangled Banner and then No. 6." Play No. 6 is a guard-around play and Rupp says it tells him immediately whether or not the opponent is going to use a zone defense or play man-for-man.

A REAL BULL SESSION

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — VFW and Robinette were locked in a baseball game to decide the pennant in the Harlan Senior Little League. In the fifth inning, a black bull charged onto the field, scattering players and fans in all directions. The managers grabbed bats and escorted the bull from the premises so play could resume.

40 YEARS AS ROCKETS

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Few schools have a more modern nickname than University of Toledo athletic teams — the Rockets. In 1923, a Pittsburgh sports writer casually referred to a fired-up Toledo football team as the rockets and the name stuck.

Gorsline and Trudeau got to CMU's 36 behind top blocking by Kalbfleisch before Gorsline was shaken up by Central's Ken Bickel and a few others. He left the field temporarily, and was replaced by Blum, who collapsed after the next play on which Trudeau put the ball on Central's 32.

Nyquist punted into the end zone, and CMU took possession with but five minutes left in the game. Allen Ische caught Boyd behind the line for an 11-yard loss to foil their frantic effort to score, but NMU could not keep the ball either, and wound up punting after five fast plays, taking another 15-yard clipping penalty. The brief turn at possession had eaten away precious time, though, and Central found it impossible to tally in the last minute and a half, despite more desperate throwing efforts.

Central Outplayed

The statistics indicate clearly enough that the Wildcats outplayed Central badly; Bangert accounted for 102 yards in 27 carries for an average of nearly four yards per try, while Erickson totalled 63 yards in 12 carries, including his touchdown run. Trudeau, playing his first game of any length, surprised observers by carrying five times for a total of 41 yards, and was followed by Gorsline, with 33 yards in six carries.

Here are the figures:

	NMU	CMU
First Downs	15	11
FD Rushing	12	4
FD Passing	3	7
Passes Attempted	7	27
Passes Completed	4	13
Yards Rushing	267	68

Total Yds. Rush. Net	261	19
Total Net Yards	305	140

Scoring: NMU — Erickson, 1 TD; Rademacher, 1 TD (Ferris pass); Blum, 1 TD; Nyquist, XP kick.

Brown Spurs Browns Win Over Giants

(By the Associated Press)
"If he had run any harder, he'd have killed one of us."

Jimmy Brown received that tribute from defender Sam Huff after staying on his record-breaking course Sunday by rambling over, around and through the New York Giants for three touchdowns in a 35-24 Cleveland victory that kept the Browns undefeated in the National Football League.

Vince Cool About Close 37-28 Edge

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—Vince Lombardi is either a great actor or a very cool football coach. He's probably part of each.

He refused to admit to even the slightest degree of panic on Sunday after his Green Bay Packers had feetered on the edge of defeat only to turn up a great clutch defensive play by Herb Adderley and beat the Minnesota Vikings 37-28.

Didn't Worry
"I didn't figure we'd lose even if they kicked that field goal," Lombardi said. "If they were going to score, I just wanted them to do it quickly so we would have time to come back. We would have had time."

As it was, the Packers, who are now 4-1 in trail the unbeaten Chicago Bears in the Western Conference of the National Football League, didn't need any more time.

High School Grid Scores

In Saturday's U.P. grid action, Sault Lorette lengthened its winning streak to six games, taking a 45-24 win from Cedarville. Jack Spuhler continued his phenomenal scoring, contributing five of Lorette's touchdowns to build his record to 17 TD's and nine conversions thus far in the season.

In other play, Escanaba Holy Name bounced back from its defeat at the hands of Kingsford last week to defeat Munising, 31-20, and Wakefield added a 26-0 win over Iron River to its slate, which now stands at 6-1-0.

Complete results of Saturday's action in the U.P.:

Chances Good For Detroit Bid: Warren

BADEN - BADEN, Germany (AP) — The Detroit Olympic delegation is casting a wary eye at its rivals as it prepares to plug its case for staging the 1968 summer Olympic Games.

"I feel quite good about our chances of landing the 1968 Olympics," Norman Warren, executive secretary of the Detroit Olympic Committee, said Sunday.

Lucky Seven?
Bidding for the games are Lyon, France; Detroit, Buenos Aires and Mexico City.

About 60 people from Detroit are moving in on this German spa to try and make it "lucky seven" for Detroit.

Six times Detroit has tried to get the games. And six times they failed.

"Maybe this is going to be lucky seven," said Warren as he helped unload equipment weighing nearly 5,000 pounds with which Detroit will try to influence the delegates.

Brown Spurs Browns Win Over Giants

(By the Associated Press)
"If he had run any harder, he'd have killed one of us."

Jimmy Brown received that tribute from defender Sam Huff after staying on his record-breaking course Sunday by rambling over, around and through the New York Giants for three touchdowns in a 35-24 Cleveland victory that kept the Browns undefeated in the National Football League.

One-Man Scoring

A one-man Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside, Brown dove one yard for the first Browns' touchdown, took a screen pass 72 yards for the touchdown that put Cleveland ahead to stay and wound up his performance with a 32-yard scoring run.

One-Game Lead
The Browns' victory maintained their one-game hold on the Eastern Conference lead. St. Louis slipped into second with a 24-23 decision over Pittsburgh on Charlie Johnson's 28-yard pass to Bobby Joe Conrad with five seconds remaining and Jim Bakken's conversion.

The Chicago Bears remained the NFL's only other unbeaten team, crushing the Los Angeles Rams 52-14 as Mike Ditka grabbed four touchdown passes. Green Bay's defending league champion Packers remained one game back in the Western Conference race with a 37-28 decision over Minnesota.

Sonny Jurgensen's four touchdown passes carried Philadelphia to a 37-24 triumph over Washington, Dallas whipped Detroit 17-14 for its first victory and Baltimore defeated San Francisco 20-3.

Upsets Highlight Big Ten Play Over Weekend; Top Teams Hit Hard By Comers

(By the Associated Press)
That cooling breeze you feel? It's being stirred up by the frantic flapping of football coaches' crying towels the length and breadth of the land.

Only two of the nation's Top Ten college teams — Texas and Wisconsin — won their games in a weekend spiced by the biggest flock of upsets of the season.

Elite Losses
Beaten among the elite were No. 1 Oklahoma, No. 3 Alabama, No. 4 Navy, No. 7 Southern Cal and No. 9 Penn State. Ohio State, No. 8, was tied.

Pitt, ranked sixth, and No. 10 Mississippi were a little luckier. They didn't play.

"We could sense this coming all week," Penn State coach Rep Engle said after his team's 10-7 upset at the hands of Army. "We didn't have a good week of practice. They kept us in the hole. We never got anything mounted and that's the way it looked all week in practice."

Sixth Time
The Longhorns carried the No. 2 ranking into the game and made a big bid for the top spot with the upset, the sixth straight.

U.S. Wins Ryder Cup In Sweep!

ATLANTA (AP) — Will Great Britain, where golf got its start, ever regain its position as the world's golf leader from the United States?

It doesn't seem likely in the wake of the American team's sweeping 23-9 victory in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup competition between the two countries.

Proud Palmer
The U.S. team, called invincible by its proud captain Arnold Palmer, shook off morning doldrums each day in the three-day match.

Britain tied the Yanks 8-8 in the morning matches, but lost the afternoon contests 15-1. The lone British point in the afternoon matches came on two draws, with the U.S. winning the rest.

Palmer said he thought the larger American ball made the difference. "On Sunday it was windy and the small ball favored them," he said. "But over-all in the three days the big ball was superior."

Palmer said the tournament was the best Ryder Cup match he had been in from the standpoint of cooperation. "I'm tremendously proud of all our guys," he said. "For example, Johnny Pott wasn't playing well and he asked to be benched. That's real cooperation."

Spread It Out
The 1963 PGA top money winner suggested that 36 holes a day for three days is too much golf. "I think it would be better if they spread it out over four days," he said.

This year the tournament, played at East Lake Country Club where golf's immortal Bobby Jones got his start, introduced the Scotch foursome matches for the first time. In this type of match, each player on the team hits alternate shots on each hole.

The British startled the Americans by defeating Palmer in the opening match on Friday. Brian Huggett and George Will beat Palmer and Pott, 3-2, in a Scotch foursome. Palmer, who teamed with Dow Finsterwald for two victories on Saturday, lost to Englishman Peter Alliss in a morning match Sunday.

Billy Casper was the big American winner, figuring in four victories.

time Texas has beaten Oklahoma in the old rivalry.

Another big upset was the 10-6 defeat of Alabama by once-beaten onced-tied Florida. It was the first loss at home for Coach Bear Bryant since he took over the Crimson Tide. A 42-yard field goal by Bob Lyle and Dick Kirk's 41-yard dash gave the Gators a 10-0 lead before 'Bama could get started.

Fourth-ranked Navy touched off the big upset string when the Middies fell before Southern Methodist 32-28 in the Cotton Bowl Friday night.

Notre Dame kept it going by pinning the second loss on Southern Cal's defending national champions, 17-14. Ken Ivan's 33-yard field goal in the final quarter at South Bend gave the Irish their first victory of the season.

Bounced Back
Army, beaten by Minnesota the week before, bounced back strongly against Penn State. For the third straight year a Dick Heydt kick proved the difference for the Cadets against the Nittany Lions. His 32-yard field goal was the winning margin.

Ohio State, heavily favored, was lucky to escape with a 20-20 tie with Illinois. Dick Van Raaphorst had to boot a Big Ten record field goal of 49 yards for the Buckeyes in the final two minutes to gain the tie.

Wisconsin, favored to win the Big Ten, remained unbeaten with a 38-20 romp over Purdue. Hal Brandt completed 14 of 22 passes for 195 yards and a touchdown.

In the national television game of the day, Tommy Myers connected on two last period touchdowns to lead Northwestern over Minnesota 15-8.

USED OLD SIGNS
ATLANTA (AP) — Harry Walker, former National League batting champion, managed Atlanta in the International League all season but a stranger at Ponce de Leon Park would hardly know it. The door to the manager's office was inscribed: "Joe Schultz, Mgr." Schultz coached with the St. Louis Cardinals all season.

Boston University's backfield speed lies with Bob Horton, a 220-pound fullback from White Plains, N.Y. He runs 100 yards in 9.9 seconds.

Girl Hurt; Run Over In Driveway

L'ANSE — Tracy Ann Johnson, 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnson, Watton, suffered a severe concussion and other injuries when she was struck by an auto at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The little girl, apparently playing in the driveway of her home, was struck when Peter M. Hutula, 26, L'Anse, who had been visiting there, backed his car out.

According to state police, Hutula did not realize he had hit the youngster and she was found lying in the driveway by her parents after Hutula departed. She was rushed to Baraga County Memorial Hospital, where she was reported in "very satisfactory condition" this morning by her physician.

In addition to the concussion, the little girl suffered multiple contusions and lacerations about her body, and her face was badly scraped. X-rays revealed no broken bones, however, and she is expected to be released from the hospital within a few days.

State police officers from the L'Anse post are investigating. In other accidents over the weekend, Theodore J. Monticello, 57, Hancock, reported hitting and killing a deer on M-28, two miles west of Covington, at

The thief gained entrance to change — mostly quarters and dimes — and included about $44 in rare coins. Peterson also told officers that a movie camera, 35-millimeter camera, 25-caliber automatic pistol, pair of binoculars, cameo ring and a suitcase also were taken.

The thief gained entrance to the Peterson apartment by forcing open a second story window. The crime is being investigated by the Baraga County sheriff, state police and L'Anse village police.
