SAVINGS BODIES URGED TO HELP HIGH LIVING COST

Government Director Lewis Makes Appeal to Six Million Members—Seventh District Takes Action.

Active entry into the campaign to lower the cost of living is urged upon more than six million members of Savings Bodies throughout the country by William Fisher Lewis, director of the savings division of the treasury department.

No solution of the high living costs can be reached until the country shakes off its present stagnation and settles down to demanding a dollar's worth of food or material measured by the labor or effort required to obtain that dollar.

SHORT NEWS NOTES

Small Blast at Marble-Card. A small blast that started from the explosion of a kerosene torch at the Marble-Card Electric company's plant Saturday morning, was put out by the company's chemical apparatus before the city fire department could be summoned.

Installing Catch-Basin. Contractor Robert Nebel, who is being held up on the Dakota avenue pavement, because of the non-arrival of a carload of cement, is at present putting in his time and that of his men in installing the catch-basin and man holes at the intersection of Dakota and Ninth street.

Will Open Shop Soon. E. G. Fisher, who recently purchased the Habermans building on Tenth street which until last week was occupied by the Johnsons, is now in the process of having the place remodelled and an ice-box installed preparatory to opening a meat market in the course of a week or ten days.

Old Residents to Leave. Mrs. M. Swanson and family, and Mrs. Theodore Livingstone, who have been making their home on Superior avenue, will move to Minneapolis in the near future. Mrs. Swanson has been a resident of Gladstone for the past 25 years and a large host of friends will be sorry to see her leave.

Install Another Light. Because of the fact that the ornamental lights on Tenth street are wired in series and no one of which can be left burning when the others are out, it has been decided to erect an extra standard at the Presbyterian church corner so that this light can be kept burning all night. There are no other lights on Tenth from Delta to Dakota, which makes the street very dark nights when the ornamental lights are turned off.

hired by the thousands. It was during this time that the mayor came so near being himself a victim of the mob.

Rob Seizes Mayor. Mayor Smith was seized by the mob on Seventeenth street, near the court house at 10 o'clock and was threatened with lynching. He was hustled to a trolley pole, on the cross bar of which was a coil of rope.

"Give us the key to the jail." "If we can't get the nigger we willynch you."

"He's no bigger than the nigger." "He's a nigger lover!" were cries heard in the mob.

Rope Around Mayor's Neck. The rope was placed around the mayor's neck. Appalled at the possibility of murdering the city's chief executive, protests began to be heard. "We won't stand for hanging the mayor." That was the cry of the mob. Then two officers set the rope, carried the mayor to an automobile and rushed him to a hospital.

The mayor's law firm is at present defending two negroes charged with assaulting white women. The police assert that fact had much to do with some of the remarks that were made by members of the mob who had a hand in the attempt against his life.

75 Year Old Rheumatic Throws Away His Crutches

"I am now 75 years of age, and for a number of years have suffered with rheumatism, eczema and a severe itching. I was compelled to walk on crutches. I obtained no relief until I began to take Number 49. For The Blood. Have taken eight bottles and my rheumatism and the itching eczema is all gone. On Christmas day I laid away my crutches and got around pretty well without them. You have my permission to use this notice to advertise Number 49, as I feel that I have received great benefit and will continue the treatment, believing I will receive more, and I wish to commend it to other like sufferers to do as I have done and try Number 49 and get relief. With great pleasure I subscribe myself, Yours very truly, Isaac Ludwig, Delphos, Ohio, March 17, 1917." Number 49 is demanded in gouty conditions, malnutrition, poisoning, intoxication, constipation, catarrh and chronic rheumatism, liver complaint, and all diseases arising from impure blood. Made by J. C. Mansfield, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist.

Sold at Coburn's Drug store.

Influenza ITS PREVENTION

(The following article was written for the Reporter by George L. Hoffman, chief of the bacteriological laboratories of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, Pittsburgh. It is at the request of the Western Rotary club, before which he gave a brief address last week Monday. Dr. Hoffman was particularly successful in the use of the influenza vaccine during last year's epidemic.)

The recent statement issued by Surgeon General Rupert E. Bliss, of the Public Health Service, regarding the possibility of a recurrence of influenza in an epidemic form has caused most persons to ask what best can be done to prevent such an epidemic and what procedure should one follow to accomplish these prevention measures that are thought to be in the control and spread of influenza.

The clinician and diagnostician points out in a very convincing manner that the influenza of the present is the same that has appeared in the previous epidemics, especially that of 1918-19. Whether there has been an increase in the severity of the disease resulting in a higher death rate, yet remains to be seen, for it must be borne in mind that the recent epidemic covered a greater area than the previous ones and involved a greater population than its predecessors by several millions. The fact possibly from a statistical standpoint, could easily account for the high mortality resulting from the disease last year. To, it must be borne in mind that owing to large numbers of men under arms and in constant contact with each other that an ideal condition was created for its most rapid spread and dissemination. Another feature to be regarded is the fact that influenza presented itself in several types quite different from one another, so that there were not several infections of a different type but instead several types of the same infection, some of an exceedingly short febrile period, some with a markedly long febrile period and others with intermittent periods of febrile attacks. This is especially pointed out so that the public can readily understand the necessity of the patient remaining in bed so that he will not be permitted to expose himself while he might yet be subject to a recurrence of the infection, despite the fact that his temperature has been normal for two or three days. This to the patient might appear as a second and distinct attack and could readily and did in high percentage of cases terminate fatally as a result of the over-exertion and weakened condition of the patient. Such cases as these were left to the mercy of medical treatment and attention and we trust will impress the patient with the stringency to which he must follow the physician's orders.

To successfully combat influenza, the people themselves must realize the importance that their method of living will have on their chances of getting the infection and take advantage of this knowledge to the fullest extent.

It might be well to first point out the value of fresh air in such epidemics as these. Fresh air in large quantities should be most richly adhered to, not a few draughts of fresh air mornings and evenings, but a constant supply, especially in the sleeping quarters. These should be most completely ventilated and in such a manner that the patient doesn't come in contact with a draft or any condition that might enhance the chance of "catching cold." One incurs little risk when sleeping even in the open, providing the best clothing is of the proper thickness.

Proper food and nourishment is, too, of great importance—wholesome food stuffs and not those which are low in nutritional value and of a high stimulation character.

In addition, cleanliness is very important, for it is quite forcibly pointed out that infection can be carried to a person by food or by the hands, which have come in contact with infected material, they in turn carrying the infection into the mouth and respiratory tract. It is generally little recognized just what a gigantic role the hands play in the carrying of infection.

WE ARE ALL IN THE SAME BOAT!

It is a mighty problem these strenuous times for every one of us. Almost every body thinks that the other fellow has the "easy thing" of it. But don't YOU believe it. When everything that we have to exchange money for, has doubled and even quadrupled in price the other fellow is not any better off than you are. My manufacturers tell me that, only until production can catch up with demand, will prices drop. They say buy only what you have to have and it will come to pass. Therefore if you have to have any of these items that we list today, buy them, for they all represent a saving to you.

Large Size Blankets at $3.00. These are large size cotton blanket in gray, white or tan. Pink and blue borders. They are a very good quality of cotton, with heavy nap, and are a special value at this price.

Children's Fleece Underwear at 49c. Only about five dozen of these fleeced vests and pants for children. The sizes are broken but we have all sizes from 2 to 16 in one color or the other, gray or white.

SILKALINE COVERED COMFORTERS AT $3.35. This is an exceptionally low price at today's market worth. These comforters are in pink, tan or yellow flared silkline. The size is 72x78.

WOMEN'S FINE UNION SUITS AT 1.95. There are too many size 34 and 36 fine wool union suits. They are all worth, today, not less than $3.50 to $4.50. If you can wear a small size—BUY NOW!

Cotton Batting at 9c. If you prefer to make your own comforters and want a low priced small batt, try our "nine-center."

MAKE YOUR COAT OR HEAVY SKIRT PER YD. 2.50. A very special offering of 54 inch, heavy all wool suiting or cloaking. The colors are all rich shades of brown, maroon, green and black. We could not duplicate it today for less than $4.50.

All Wool Batting at $3.65. We could not replace it today for at least a dollar more. This is not a part cotton batt, but an extra size all wool batt. One will make a comforter for the largest size bed.

Special Dress Goods Offer per yard 1.09. This is a dress goods opportunity that you simply can not overlook. Mostly all are all wool, some cotton and wool, and the colors are Black, Brown, Navy Blue, Green, Cadet Blue, etc.

HEAVY SILKALINE FOR COMFORTERS PER YD. 29c. This is a yard wide silkline and is a very much under-priced offering. With either a wool or cotton filling, this cloth will wear many years.

Unbleached Cotton per yd. 29c. This is another special cotton value, in a yard wide sheeting. It means a real saving at this price.

Heavy Blue Denim 48c per yard. This, too, is a decided bargain. The same quality is on our shelves now at 63 cents a yard. Navy blue denim of the best quality.

SID GOLDSTEIN GLADSTONE MICH. Millions to Quit America On Account of Prohibition; Wage Increase Forecast

Washington, Sept. 22.—Prohibition is one of the largest contributing factors in the return of aliens to their native countries from the United States, according to a survey just completed by the treasury department. Estimates of the number that will leave the United States vary from 2,500,000 to 5,000,000.

Each emigrant will take back with him, in addition to his own funds, money of from one to six friends or neighbors for direct transmission to their relations according to this same survey. An estimate by the president of the savings banks section of the American bankers' association states that there will be at least 1,200,000 persons going back and they will take with them $1,000,000,000.

So you can readily see how vitally important it is to prove to the laborer that this is the best country to stay in, and prosper in. Upper Peninsula lumbermen, say "Cleveland" in an informative paragraph, deliver their logs by floating them in the form of rafts. It is not possible to do this with the other principal products, copper and iron, because water is too thin for the purpose.

Another Big Special. Again we give you the opportunity to buy at greatly reduced prices. Here you will find pure aluminum percolators, convex kettles, large preserve kettles and rice boilers. Any one at $1.69 THE VARIETY STORE GEO. CASEY, Prop.
