GEN. WOOD TO BE HERE TOMORROW

GEN. WOOD AND PARTY TO ARRIVE AT 11:45; ADDRESS AT GLADSTONE THEATRE.

Gladstone will have a distinguished guest tomorrow morning—General Leonard Wood and party, who are making a tour of the upper peninsula, will be in the city tomorrow morning between 11 and 12 o'clock, and arrangements have been completed for an address by General Wood at the Gladstone theatre at 11:45 o'clock. All business places are requested to close their doors during the time General Wood is here and everyone is urged to turn out and fill the opera house to its capacity and show the party that this city is honored by the General's visit. Practically all the stores and factories will close down at 11 until noon to give their employees a chance to hear the general, who stands a good chance of being the future president of the United States.

General Wood and party will arrive in Escanaba tomorrow morning from the north and will at once proceed to the Escanaba high school, where he will address the faculty. Following this address he will be brought to this city and at the conclusion of his speech he will return to Escanaba to be present at a big reception at the Delft theatre. In the evening he will proceed to Monominee.

With General Wood's party is General Chauncey B. Baker, a personal friend of the general, and Captain Nicholas Roosevelt, a cousin of Theodore Roosevelt and military aide to Gen. Wood.

Alton T. Roberts of Marquette, chairman of the Michigan committee which is pushing General Wood for the presidency, will also be in the party. Mr. Roberts is one of the best known men in the peninsula and has always been active in the development of Upper Michigan.

Confident Wood Will Win.

"I am more confident than ever that Gen. Wood will not only carry Michigan but that he will sweep the nation," said Mr. Roberts over the telephone today. "We had a meeting in Detroit last Monday at which we found that Mr. Wood was leading in every part of the state. Frank H. Hitchcock, national manager of the Wood campaign told us that the general was gaining in favor on all sides and that it looked like a landslide for him."

General Wood is going to be a mighty busy man in the Peninsula during his two day stay here. He was in the Copper Country today and gave speeches at Lake Linden, Calumet and Hancock. Tonight he will be at Ishpeming to deliver an address, and tomorrow he will be at Escanaba, Gladstone and Monominee.

LEGION TO HOLD BANQUET TONIGHT

LOSERS IN MEMBERSHIP CONTEST TO ENTERTAIN WINNERS.

The August Matison Post No. 71, American Legion during the last four weeks, has been carrying on a drive for new members. Two teams were chosen, with the understanding that the losing team buy a feed for the winners, and other comrades.

The drive ended a week ago, with the Yarnigans as winners and the Bearcats as losers. Therefore per the agreement the Bearcats buy the feed. It's going to be a real affair, (contest-master, speakers, etc.). A real jazz orchestra will be on the job, with the latest hits.

The banquet will be held tonight at Wana Hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Members of the Post are planning to make these banquets regular affairs. They will be given at intervals, and at each occasion, the Legion boys will invite eight business men to enjoy a 4:30 time with them. There, no one should feel slighted, if he is not invited the first time for the boys have planned to take care of each business man at future banquets of this kind.

MOONSHINERS IS BROUGHT TO COURT

RAID ON SHALK RESULTS IN DISCOVERY OF WHISKEY AND "RAISIN MASH."

Andrew Frank, alleged moonshiner, arrested near Kates early Saturday morning by Sheriff Frank O'Dess, cooperating with federal prohibition enforcement officers and aided by I. Stephenson Co. officials, was arraigned late Saturday night before United States Commissioner James Frost. Bond was fixed at $1,500 which Frank was unable to furnish and he was remanded to the county jail to await his trial in federal court.

Frank is an Austrian. He cannot speak English.

Deputy Federal Marshal Tim Hurley of Marquette came to Escanaba to take a hand in the proceedings.

Frank's arrest came at 5 o'clock Saturday morning at his shack seven miles up the branch from Camp Eight to the I. Stephenson Co. The posse left Wells at midnight in a special train. From Camp Eight, the drive through the woods was made on "jumpers" and so quietly was the trip made and so well hid Louis Harmon of the I. Stephenson Co., laid the lines, that Frank was asleep when the officers arrived.

Had Leaded Shotgun. Expecting violence, if the suspected man was aware that a raid was in progress, Sheriff O'Dess rapped on the door, shouting: "Get up, let me in, quick!"

Frank rushed to open the door on his hinges, he was covered with a gun. His hands went upward and after that the proceedings came easy. A shotgun, loaded with buck shot, and ready for instantaneous action, lay beside the bunk where the man had been sleeping. A quart of moonshine whiskey was uncovered in various parts of the cabin. A barrel of "raisin mash" was found outside. The stills and liquor and samples of the mash were brought back to the city with the prisoner. The posse returned to Escanaba about noon. Frank was lodged in the county jail to await a preliminary examination before Commissioner Frost.

Big Sayer of Prunes.

Information of Frank's activities came from various sources. He has been observed here and at Wells as a "big consumer" of raisins and prunes, buying the latter in quantities ranging from 50 to 150 pounds at frequent intervals. Mr. Harmon and Ed Fitzpatrick, another I. Stephenson Co. foreman, were enlisted in the search by the sheriff and to their cooperation, the success of the raid is largely attributed.

In the party were Sheriff O'Dess, Deputy Andrew Trevor, Mr. Harmon, Mr. Fitzpatrick and John Saul, of Marquette, federal prohibition enforcement officer.

Pantry Sale.

The Swedish Lutheran Ladies' Aid will give a pantry sale next Saturday, beginning at 2 p. m. in Erickson & Von Toll's drug store. 21

WOODEN SHOES

The Hague—Dutch manufacturers are going to introduce the wooden shoe to the American people. Representatives of several large factories have left for the United States, where they will try to interest wholesale and retail shoe dealers in wooden footwear.

EMERGENCY ALLOWANCE IN HANDS OF AUDITOR

Lansing—The board of state auditors is to decide this week whether an emergency allowance will be given the state live stock commission with which to reimburse owners of animals condemned for disease. The fund appropriated for that purpose, $75,000, the auditors have been notified, will have been exhausted by April 1, owing to the unusually large number of cattle condemned as tubercular during the fiscal year. An additional $25,000 has been requested.

We have been watching the billboards for the announcement that somebody's chewing gum won the world war.

The Reporter Takes on New Form and New Price

Reporter readers have evidently noticed that the paper today has a different appearance from that of the past five or six years. The change from a seven column to a six column size was made for several reasons, the most important of which is to make The Reporter a better home paper, with several new and distinct features that could not be accommodated in the four and six page paper. The new size will enable us to give our readers from eight to twelve additional columns of reading and feature matter. The next important reason for the change is that our newspaper press will take four six column pages at a time, but only two of a seven column size. When six pages were made, was usually the case on Thursdays, three runs had to be made, and the result has been a late paper. With the new form only two runs are required on eight or six page paper. As will be noticed by today's paper, several new features are included with the local, county and general news. These will be made permanent if the income of the paper will permit. Right here we want to state that the subscription price of The Reporter will not be advanced on April 1st to 25 cents per month. This rate should have been made a couple of years ago, but the publisher was always in the hope that the high cost of getting out the paper would lessen after the war. Instead of lower costs, the situation has grown worse and even with a rate of 25 cents per month, we will make less money than at the old rate before the war. Last week we placed an order for two tons of paper at $20 a ton, as against $15.00 a ton in 1914. The price of ink is also high. The cost of blank paper for each individual subscription at the old rate costs $1.04 a year. Carrier service costs 20 to 25 cents more for each subscriber, and the rest of the quarter is done not anywhere near the same care of the other costs. The only subscription for making better is that our advertising patronage has grown from year to year and this makes it possible to stay in business at all.

Several weekly papers in the upper peninsula, namely, the Iron River Standard Reporter, the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill, the Even Farmer, are $2.00 a year; several others are $2.50 a year and with one or two exceptions the rest charge $2.00 per year. These are all well liked. Comparatively, we consider The Reporter very low priced considering that it is printed twice a week. Anyway, 25 cents a month is what we will have to get or go back to a weekly, and this we believe would be a step backward. Therefore, 25 cents will be the price hereafter, but with the slightly larger paper and the several new features we believe our subscribers will agree with us that it is not too much to charge.

GLADSTONE TO HAVE CREAMERY CO.

BUILDING IS BEING CONSTRUCTED ON FORMER PICKLE PLANT LOCATION.

Gladstone will have a creamery here by May 1, if plans of the Upper Peninsula Creamery and Cheese Company materialize. The company, which makes and sells high quality milk and cream, and will be a first class creamery.

Work was begun Thursday in constructing a two-story frame building on Fourth avenue, on the site, which was formerly to be occupied by the Pickle Factory. The building, when finished will measure 38 by 60 feet. According to plans, the upper story will be used as a sort of store room, and the employees will do their work in the lower section of the building which will have a cement floor.

The project is being carried on by Perkins people. They will obtain their cream at different points on the Soo Line, and from all indications the plant will be a first class one. The company will plan to do business by the first of May.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the kindness extended to us during Mrs. Olive's illness and especially do we want to thank Mrs. Skelenger and the Yonens for the beautiful plant.

MR. AND MRS. LEVI OLIVE

KING LEAVES GRAND RAPIDS FOR DETROIT

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 24.—Paul R. King, manager of Senator Truman H. Newberry's 1918 campaign, and under secretary from the district court, returned to his home in Detroit Wednesday. He is the last of the defendants to leave. He will take a rest before resuming his duties as referee in bankruptcy in Detroit.

MOONSHINER IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Casha Dishneau, whose home at Nauvau was raided by federal operatives on Wednesday, finding a still and 34 quarts of moonshine whiskey, gave himself up to the officers here yesterday. Dishneau was immediately arraigned before United States Court Commissioner James Frost and was bound over to the United States district court for trial. Unable to furnish the full bond demanded he was remanded in charge of Sheriff Frank O'Dess until the date of his hearing in the federal court.

Dishneau was at Manistiquie attending the funeral of his mother when the officers raided his home. Upon learning of the raid he went to Escanaba and gave himself up to the officers. In his statement to the officers he said that illness had prevented him from following his regular work as a woods cook for the past year, and in order to support his family of a wife and eight children, he had been making moonshine at his home and disposing of it at different points along the Northwestern line.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS WILL NOT CHANGE THEIR RATES

Local physicians will not charge the schedule of rates as announced in The Reporter last Thursday. Although the local physicians are members of the Delta County Medical society, they did not join with the Escanaba physicians in some of the rates on the new schedule as they believed the new rates were not warranted here. For instance the day rate for calls here will be only $2.00, as against $3.00 in Escanaba, and the night rates here are $5.00 a call instead of $5.00. The rate per mile outside of the city is the same, $2.00 per mile. The rate in obstetric cases is $20.00 here instead of $25.00 in Escanaba.

MANISTIQUE, ANOTHER CITY TO ADOPT POTATO TIME

Manistiquie will run under "potato time" beginning April 17 and continue until October 3. The board of aldermen at the meeting Monday evening adopted a resolution calling up all local industries and all citizens to set their clocks ahead April 17 and join in the movement for daylight saving.

The resolution was presented by Alderman Deiner, who inaugurated the movement for action by the council upon this question. Alderman Deiner presented a petition signed by several hundred business men, laboring men and manufacturers asking that the council take this step. In the discussion that followed the presentation of the resolution, opposition to such a move by the council was voiced by Alderman Chokson and Harrovoos, who mentioned the disadvantages that would come from having railroad time and local time. They also stated that farmers would be obliged to work under standard time and there would be disadvantages from that source.

WASHOUT ON LINE NEAR MANISTIQUE

TRACKS FLOODED YESTERDAY. NO. 7 IS FORCED TO MAKE DETOUR; ARRIVED TODAY.

Trains on the Soo Line was greatly hindered yesterday about one mile east of Manistiquie. The spring thaws and rains have caused floods in that part of the Soo Line's road, and no trains were allowed to pass over the line yesterday. No. 7, which comes from the Soo, was forced to make a detour and did not arrive here until this morning at 5 o'clock, she was by the way of Trout Lake over the Soo Line and thence to Negaunee on the South Shore. From there, she proceeded to Larch on the C. & N. W. and arrived in Gladstone this morning.

The reports state that the tracks cannot be seen for over a mile near Manistiquie, and the country around is likewise flooded.

Not To Ask Resignation Of Senator

Lansing, Mich.—Until the United States supreme court passes on the verdict in the Newberry trial at Grand Rapids, none of the 17 found guilty of criminal conspiracy, will be asked to relinquish any public office they now occupy, Senator Newberry said in an interview here. The governor said he believed the campaign of Henry Ford, Senator Newberry's opponent in 1918, should now be investigated.

Senator Newberry, Richard H. Fletcher, state labor commissioner, and myself have been attacked by the press in and out of the state since the trial closed," said the governor. "It has been suggested that Newberry and Fletcher resign. I see no cause for this until the supreme court makes known the finding. If I make any request at present, one will be that the government conduct an thorough investigation of the campaign conducted by Henry Ford as that by Senator Newberry. If the government is sincere, it should not stop with investigating the campaign of the winner, but should probe the campaign of the loser as well.

LUMBERMAN ORDERS RE-CRUITER OUT OF TOWN

Rhineland, March 27.—Chief Petty Officer C. H. Burke, naval recruiter of this city, arrived here today after he was ordered to leave Winchester, Wis., where he had gone to establish recruiting offices. Burke left here yesterday for Winchester to sign up recruits for the navy, and he was talking to prospective sailors when he was approached by Wm. Vogelung, president of the Turtle Lake Lumber company, Venona, it is claimed by Burke, asked what he was doing in town, and when informed of Burke's purpose Vogelung replied, "You have a lot of nerve to take men from here, and you have better make preparations to leave on the next train."

Burke left this morning, and the incident has been reported to Washington.

This country must have too much support. It is a man's support for two men to be abolished.

The preliminary reports indicate a bumper crop of favorite sons in 1920.

TIMBERWORKERS WILL DEMAND 8 HOUR DAY

CONVENTION AT SPOKANE TO BACK MOVE FOR SHORTER WORKING HOURS

George Himmelberger of Manistiquie who was sent to the convention of the International Union of Timberworkers held at Spokane, March 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19, as a representative of District No. 2 reports an excellent meeting with every district in the United States and many in Canada represented. The district of which Gladstone is a part, was represented by the entire executive board.

"The convention went on record," said Mr. Himmelberger in speaking of the work that was done, "as endorsing our demand for an eight hour day after April 1 of this year. They promised us every support in our efforts to secure this working day enforced in the west, where it has been granted for a number of years. The American Federation of Labor has directed C. O. (Dad) Young, general organizer, who assisted us in our great organization campaign last spring and summer, to return to this district this spring to aid in securing the eight hour day for workers in lumber industry. Mr. Young expects to reach Rhineland, Wis., in a few days where he will establish his headquarters."

"By resolution the convention instructed Secretary C. O. of District No. 2, to notify immediately all employers in the lumber industry in this district that the eight hour day is requested to take effect before April 1 and May 1, besides ordering the stand taken at the district convention has fall, when a resolution was adopted making a demand for the eight hour day and after April 1, 1920. The convention sanctioned an immediate referendum vote among the members of this district on the question of the cessation of work on all mills, factories and camps that have not granted the eight hour day by the first Monday in May of this year."

"It is astonishing to me and to the delegates from this district to learn at the convention the difference between wages and conditions of employment in the northern and southern districts and to make this statement even more interesting, those advanced wages are paid for an eight hour work day in the west."

District No. 2, was represented at the convention by C. A. Wampler, H. C. Ches and Herman T. Chase of Rhineland, George Himmelberger, and William S. Rogers of Manistiquie, Charles Brown of Cloquet, Minnesota, and Dallas Howe of Fort Francis, Ontario.

WRECK AND HIGH WATER HELD TRAINS

THE NORTHWESTERN AND SOO TRAINS COME TOGETHER AT NEENAH; BIG WASHOUT.

Ontonagon is having the most severe flood in years. The dam at Puffer went out and the water practically flooded the cities of Ontonagon and St. Ignace. The gates were raised at the dam, and the river is rising through the heart of Ontonagon. Water on Main street is a foot deep, while on the side streets, it is over a foot. Hip boots and waders are the only means of navigation. The situation is serious. The Northwestern trains going south are forced to detour by way of Gilett in order to make their runs, thus seriously hampering all rail traffic.

HOLD TEACHERS PAY; RAISE WAS ILLEGAL

Sheboygan, Wis., March 27.—The school board failed to extend in fiscal relief to the public school teachers whose pay checks have been held up for two weeks because C. Clarence D. T. Phalan pronounced increase in salary granted by Board of Education as illegal. The members will have to wait probably another week before they receive their increase.

ESCANABA NEWS

MANDAMUS TO GET NAME ON CITY TICKET

Mandamus proceedings to compel the city clerk and board of election commissioners for the city of Escanaba to place the name of Dr. A. S. Winn on the ballot as candidate for the office of mayor at the coming spring election, were instituted here Friday.

The proceedings were begun by Dr. Winn through Atty. H. J. Rushton and the petition for the mandamus was forwarded last night to Judge Ford at Newberry.

It was necessary to bring the proceedings before Judge Ford of the Elze, Alger, Chippewa, Schoolcraft circuit, because Judge R. C. Plantman of Norway, is at the bedside of his wife, who is still at a Chicago hospital and when he will be able to return to his duties in the peninsula is not definitely known.

In the petition for the mandamus it is set out by the attorney for the plaintiff that a proper petition, signed by the requisite number of names, asking that the name of Dr. Winn be printed on the ballot as a candidate for mayor on the republican ticket, was filed at the office of the city clerk at the specified time for filing such petitions.

It is claimed in the petition that the board of election commissioners refused and neglected to take cognizance of the Winn petition and refused to cause his name to be placed on the official ballot.

The petition filed by Atty. Rushton asks that the city clerk and members of the board of election commissioners be required to show cause on a certain date why the name of Dr. Winn was not placed on the ballot. A date for the hearing, favorable both to Atty. Rushton and City Atty. H. R. Dorsch will probably be set by Judge Ford. Announcement of the date fixed by the court is expected today or tomorrow.

Hole in Millen is Cause of Accident

A hole in his mitten was responsible for William H. Walker of this city losing three fingers from his left hand while working at the Northwestern Paper and Lumber Company's floor mill at Gladstone. Working at a set of three circular saws, Walker attempted to pull out a stick that became lodged between the saws. The stick caught in the hole in the mitten and dragged the unfortunate man's hand into the saw. In addition to deeply severing three fingers the remaining two were badly mutilated and amputation may be necessary.

Frost Elected Post Head By Local Legion

Atty. James Frost was elected as commander of "Cloverland" post of the American Legion of this city at an enthusiastic meeting of the members of that organization at the city hall.

To succeed Commander Frost, who has previously held the office of vice commander, Atty. Benjamin Kratze was elected to the latter office.

Atty. Frost has taken an active interest in the affairs of the local post since its organization and his knowledge of its affairs should make of him an ideal head for the post.

The committees on entertainment were instructed to make plans at once for the organization of a baseball team and to prepare for a series of dancing parties and other entertainments to extend through the summer season.

Injures Hand

Lawrence Mitchell, 1711 First avenue south, lost the tips of four fingers from his left hand when he fell from a motorcycle and his hand was caught between the rear sprocket wheel and the chain. The young man had just started the machine and in mounting it he tripped over both the power turned on. His hand was caught and the ends of four fingers were ground off before the member could be extricated.

Escanaba Co., Lands Big Contract

The No-dham Electric Company of Escanaba has been awarded the contract for wiring and installing 142 electric motors in the plant of the New Victory Rag & Paper Company at Marinette. The contract is one of the largest awarded in this section in several years and that an Escanaba firm was successful in landing the work is considered a mark of distinction.

W. H. Needham, head of the local company, left Wednesday morning for Marinette with a crew of men and will begin work at once.

Plan For Convention.

Plans for the county convention of the Ladies of the Maccosae were laid at a joint meeting of members of Grand Escanaba Hives held at the North hall Friday night.

Captain Stone to Buy Snow.

Clayton Charles Stone has purchased Harbor Springs, where he intends to purchase snow, to put in the bay traffic between Escanaba and Garden Bay, Nahma, Van's Harbor and Huron bluffs. Captain Stone is owner of the tug "Black Diamond" and he expects to begin his freight run as quickly as the opening of navigation will permit.

Call Meeting Of Ball Fans Early In Week

Baseball fans of the city, interested in seeing the establishment of an upper peninsula and Wisconsin league, probably will hold a meeting next week to launch the preliminaries. It was known Friday.

The belief is strong that Escanaba not only could support such a proposition but that it would do it wholeheartedly and with considerable credit to the city. There seems to be a wealth of material at hand and the circuit would include six upper peninsula cities with Green Bay and the state-line twins—Marquette and Menominee—should be able to produce a top-notch brand of baseball.

The men who have been the most enthusiastic boosters for organized ball in this section are the men who have always backed the best in sports. They are certain that financial support needed to start the plan is ready for the call.

If the meeting to be held next week results in a formal organization, and there are many indications that it will the next step, it is agreed, will be to extend an invitation to fans of other cities to join in a league organization meeting.

If the league is to be established, the machinery to perfect it probably will be in operation within a few weeks.

Woman's Club Elect Officers Wednesday

With an enthusiastic meeting at the Carnegie public library lecture room, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Escanaba Woman's club closed one of the most successful years in the history of the organization.

By a unanimous vote all officers of the club were re-elected to a two year term for the ensuing year. The only change in the board of managers was in the election of Mrs. E. T. Hanson to the board of directors, making the membership of the board four instead of three.

The officers re-elected are:

President—Mrs. H. W. Reade.
Vice-President—Mrs. C. W. Frost.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. A. H. Grossbeck.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. C. E. Lewis.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. F. F. Davis.
Treasurer—Mrs. Matt Fillion.
Mrs. F. H. Houston, Mrs. A. J. Barras, Mrs. H. T. Hanson.
Delegates to State Federation—Mrs. H. W. Reade, Mrs. L. G. English.

Mrs. William Smith,

Kept Pigs in City Limits

A nuisance in the southern portion of the city was reported to Health Commissioner H. J. Defont and steps were taken for removal. Complaint was made to the health commissioner that a pig lot on the Ford River road, within the city limits, the carcasses of dead hogs, pigs, cats and dogs that had been collected about the city were lying about the lot with a flock of pigs feeding among the carcasses. It was complained that the stench coming from the lot is already unbearable and unless action is taken at once, will prove a serious menace to the health of the city.

DRESSED FOR A PARTY

The pretty maid in the picture above is daintily dressed for a party. Upon an occasion of such importance as a birthday, even a little girl is allowed a frock of georgette crepe made with tucks in the skirt, sleeves and waist. Its special pride is narrow ribbon tied in little bows that finish bands about the sleeves and long and short tails that hang from the waist. Pale ribbon, in two colors, is used for girls that tie near the front and have small bows with long ends. Sometimes one of the ribbons matches the dress in color, or both ribbons may differ from it so long as the contrast is pretty.

The KITCHEN CABINET

A little word of kitchen spoken, A notion of a year Has often leaved the heart that's broken And made a friend sincere. —John Greenleaf Whittier.

MEALS FOR A DAY.

By serving occasional oven dinners the cook can economize on fuel and attend to work in other parts of the home.

Baked Soup.—Take a large earthen bean pot. Cut up in small pieces 1 lb of beef, 1 lb of potatoes sliced, one onion sliced, one bunch of celery cut fine. Add hot water and seasonings and cook slowly for two hours. Then add two cups of minced cabbage, four large potatoes sliced, two onions sliced, one bunch of celery cut fine. Add hot water and seasonings and cook slowly for two hours. Then add two cups of minced cabbage, four large potatoes sliced, two onions sliced, one bunch of celery cut fine. Add hot water and seasonings and cook slowly for two hours.

Consents Brakes.—Take three plates of chicken steak, one-half cupful of cooked rice, six minced red peppers put through a sieve, two teaspoonfuls of salt, half a teaspoonful of tabasco sauce and one-half cupful of cream.

Fillets of Veal.—Divide a loin of veal steak into six equal portions as will be needed, season and season with salt, pepper and a bit of powdered sage. Roll each and fasten securely with wooden toothpicks. Roll each fillet in crumbs, then in egg and crumbs again, salt and repeat the egg and crumbing. Run a sharp wire skewer through the fillets and suspend them over a pan in the oven, basting often with chicken fat or butter. They will have a delicious flavor when cooked. Garnish with parsley.

Tomato Salad.—An extremely pretty salad is the following: Peel and cut tomatoes into slices without separating the sections; place on a leaf of lettuce and fill the centers with pearl onions. Sprinkle with French dressing to which has been added chopped green peppers.

Spanish Chop.—Dash French chops to the bone and fill with the following stuffing: Six tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, three tablespoonfuls of minced boiled ham, two tablespoonfuls of mushrooms and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Roll in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat until well browned.

LOWDEN, WOOD OR JOHNSON.

Viewing the political situation as it pertains to the Republican primaries for nomination of a candidate for the presidency, it is beginning to look as though a number of the aspirants have already been automatically eliminated.

Which ever of these three candidates comes out victorious in the round up of votes it is at least assured that the party will have chosen a standard bearer worthy of the position and many of the voters who have studied the situation are finding it difficult to make a choice between the three.

Picking the winner at this time, it seems would involve nothing more or less than their guess work. Each candidate is before the people with an excellent record of achievement. Behind them and of the three, perhaps Lowden has a shorter record through the definite record of events backing up to and during his career as governor of Illinois. There he did things for his state as a business like manner that the people are just now clamoring to have done for the country at large. No one doubts his ability to discharge the job of a broader scale and the fact is winning for him an element of anxious and conservative support that bids fair to give him an opportunity to see the United States what he has done for Illinois.

In the meantime the people, aside from a few who are rather more than normally enthused are not yet far from their homes over any particular candidate being contended with registering their choice at the polls and feeling amazed that in any event the result will be the selection of a man who is amply qualified.

TWO KINDS OF WAGONS

The coming of spring is heralded with the usual noise of the small boy with his wagon on the coast side of the street. It is like the usual agitation for advancement of the nuisance. These we elect to give a sentimental name, something to the like of "come" will be the man of honor. It is little to be said in defense of the defining words of the election campaign. It is a question of a nuisance that has thus far been slightly corrected through the enforcement of the existing ordinance. There is, however, another kind of a wagon the existence of which is more or less responsible for another nuisance more an infringement upon the personal liberties of the people than the little wooden wagon of the kids.

We refer to the water wagon. True the old vehicle is not today in itself but the way a number of the boys many of them scarcely older than the kid with the little wooden wagon, have been falling off from it in the past few days with their legs of jamules and other contusions of castles would make a farce of proceedings that sought to curb one nuisance and to raise the other.

There have been times during the past week when the streets of this town reeked with the blackening and offensive effluence of 15-year old kids whose guts were filled with poison and whose minds were filled with filth until the atmosphere was unfit for the presence of woman or children.

We have nothing to say in behalf of the youngster of six but both of these wagon difficulties should be remedied if their of them is not.

A SAME VIEW.

Samuel G. Blythe, well-known political depositor of the Saturday Evening Post, in a recent number of that estimate publication, lets forth a howl closely resembling the best remarks of the prairie states on the subject of the people not having any real part in the nomination of candidates at presidential conventions.

I do so, but when you come to think of it it doesn't matter if they do not have any part in nominating the candidates.

A political party essentially composed of comparatively small groups of men who have definite ideas, etc. who have no interests by their in the same or otherwise, as in what judges would be best for their country and what sort of men would be the best to offer the best advantage. The essential idea of party government is that such groups of men should get together and propound their views and offer their candidates to the public in the same way a traveling salesman does his wares.

There are usually in the neighborhood of half a dozen such parties, in the field in the United States and every individual has a perfect right to vote for the one he likes best, or if he doesn't like any of them and can get a small number of men to agree with him to get out a new party ticket of his own.

Most of the people in the United States vote for either a democrat or a republican for president, not because they think that is the only way of voting for a possible winner, but because they prefer the line of platform and candidates offered by the republicans and democrats to those offered by the prohibitionists, socialists or any of the still less prominent parties.

The party managers know perfectly well that their chance of winning an election depends upon winning up a candidate and platform that suits the people. They have to aim to suit as many people as possible. Candidates and platforms were chosen directly by these minority groups would put its platform and its candidate over, and the platform would be constructed with far less consideration of the wishes of the majority than are present platforms, and the candidates would average to possess much less ability than do present candidates.

The present conventional method of choosing presidential candidates has resulted in a pretty high average both among those elected presidents and those who were next nearest election. If it is such a bad method we should have on record a long list of men of such capacity occupying the presidential offices, as the best of the party bosses. How Mr. Wilson came when the political managers crack, the why? Did Taft? Did Roosevelt? Did Cleveland?

In short, consideration that the political bosses in their opinion are the best presidential candidates in the ranked non-sense.

COMMERCE AND WAR.

War sometimes rises because of commercial or industrial antagonism, but such wars are generally the result of a small and limited number of men. The objects of commercial wars are to secure the control and to limit operations accordingly. The most common cause of such a difference of opinion, as to the ownership of property and the difference of opinion about the amount of the ownership of property and about the price of material and industrial things, even as to the comparative superiority of one nation to another.

A careless thinker may imagine that there is no difference between a man who is a difference of opinion as to the ownership of property and the war instigated by commercial interests, but there is a difference, a very decided one. To provoke a trade war as to ownership of property and the property in question must be greater than the probable cost of getting it. When the matter is one of a difference of opinion the value of the property may be utterly disproportionate and utterly insignificant.

When folks begin to fight about opinions, they do not count the cost, they fight right until they win or are beaten decisively, or get tired and lose their pristine interest in the opinions in question.

In general, the advance of industrial and commercialism has checked war. The vast increase in modern populations has been largely due to the fact that until the outbreak in 1914 commercial interests were, for a long time sufficiently powerful to limit the size of wars.

In 1914 almost all the people in Europe became so enraged that they quit counting the cost. They had various goals and cherished opinions in mind but the real underlying motive in the minds of men was to defeat their enemies.

There have been many periods of history in which people cherished their opinions more than they did material things, more than they did their souls and their physical well being, more than they did peace, safety and life itself. They were willing to fight for their opinions without counting the cost.

There is some danger that some such period may follow the late great war. The present strife in Germany seems to be chiefly of this character, the fighting of men who fight for their opinions, rather than for material advantage and who fight without counting the cost. We have looked forward to a restoration of the peaceful age of industry and commerce which preceded the great war, because we have been brought up and always lived in an age in which commercial considerations kept the fighting limited in extent. It is difficult for us to realize any other state of affairs as a normal state. But history shows us many periods in which the fighting was important thing of life, commerce and industry merely subsidiary. It is not impossible that we are now living in the early days of such an era.

Government experts on how to conserve the food supply are sending out recipes on how to cook the cheapest of meat and advising against the purchase of the higher priced cuts.

What we are worrying about is, in the event the good wives take their advice, will it really be most conservative to let those higher priced cuts lay in the market and spoil?

And then again may we not presume that the woman who has been selecting and cooking the meat for the family since the family started, knows as much about the economy of the household ration as does the Department of Justice?

POLAND AGAIN UNITED WITH SEA

THAT COUNTRY MAY HAVE ABSOLUTELY FREE COMMERCIAL ACCESS TO SEA.

Warsaw—Tossing of a wedding ring into the ocean marked ceremonies recently held at Buck, or Putzig, to celebrate the reuniting of Poland to the sea, an event of which all of Poland had dreamed for many years. Polish troops in their northward march on their own soil, as provided under the Treaty of Versailles, had reached the coastline of the Baltic and began to make themselves at home in the stretch of land northwest of Danzig.

White Polish ships are to have use of harbors of Danzig, which is to be a free port under the league of nations, the new republic is destined of a port which it may call its very own, and it is with this end in view that the Polish government has settled upon Putzig, as it is spelled in Polish, as a site of the port where in the future Poland may have absolutely free commercial access to the sea under jurisdiction of its own officials.

It was at the seaside near Buck, where formal exercises marking Poland's reunion to the sea were celebrated, the other day and it was a great event. Thousands from all over Poland assembled in holiday attire to commemorate the historical occurrence, and also the recovery of Polish land which went to Prussia after Poland's first dismemberment by the three conquerors, Prussia, Russia and Austria, in 1772.

General Haller, commander-in-chief of the Polish army in France during the great war and under whose auspices of Polish-American freight, headed the military expedition which entered Putzig to reclaim in the name of President Pilsudski, Poland's gateway to the seven seas. The towers, and all the villages, towns, and cities, were decorated with thousands of flags and streamers of the Polish national colors, in which white and red, which were flying in these parts for the first time in a century and a half. There was a race of the detachments of Polish soldiers to actually reach the coast and to be the first to dip a Polish flag into the waters of the Baltic.

Going Back To Belgium To Visit Parents

With an interesting story of his experiences since coming to this country in 1914, Rene Verbrighe, of the St. Nicholas Colony, today applied at the county clerk's office for a passport to Belgium. He wants to return to his old home and visit his parents.

Verbrighe is a farmer in the St. Nicholas Colony. He came to this country in March, 1914, entered the service in 1918 and spent a year fighting in France and Belgium.

On three occasions, during his service in Belgium, he passed through his old home town, West Vrentenen, where his parents live, and he determined then to return to Belgium after his discharge to see them again.

Verbrighe became a citizen of the United States while at Camp Grant and left this service in 1919. He will probably sail from New York within the next month.

Candidates Named For Wells Township Election

Ballots have been printed for the election of officers at Wells township on April 5. In most cases there appears only one candidate for an office while in some cases there will be contests. The township ticket is composed of the following candidates: Supervisor, R. E. MacLean; Clerk, Jacob A. Gross; Treasurer, E. A. Wilkins; Highway commissioner, Oscar Larson; Justice (4 years) Jone M. Larson; Member of board of review; William Hodgkins; Constable No. 3, Charles Cota, Jr.; Constable No. 4, Jelson LaMarche; Overseer No. 2, David Anderson; Pound master, Fred Choinard.

The Citizens' ticket has the following candidates for office—Highway commissioner, E. Severinsen; Board of review—Earl Koser; Constable No. 4, H. J. Stacey; Overseer No. 1, Fred Lamonte; Overseer No. 3, Mose Gardner; Overseer 2, Charles Popin.

20 DEPUTIES TO PROTECT BALLOTS—COST $10 DAY SALARY AND $8 A DAY SUBSISTANCE

Washington, D. C.—Disregarding all estimates of the high cost of recounting the ballots in the Newberry-Ford senatorial election contest, the senatorial inquiry committee today ordered the ballots gathered from all the voting precincts in Michigan and brought here to be counted.

Estimates of the cost ranged from $20,000 to $50,000. Senator Townsend of Michigan recently told the Senate it would cost $200,000 to count the ballots and $50,000 more to take the oral testimony.

The committee authorized Sergeant-at-Arms Barry to appoint twenty deputies to protect the ballots and pay them $10 a day, with $8 more for subsistence. The precinct custodians of the ballots, 1,769 in number, are to be allowed $5 a day each and mileage for taking the ballots to the county seat of the eighty-two Michigan counties, and the ballots are then to be shipped in registered mail bags to the capital. To count the ballots there are to be ten boards of two members each, one to be appointed by each side on the contest; they are to receive $10 a day each, while the official tabulator will receive $15 a day.

All undisputed ballots will be counted by the counting boards, while all disputed ballots will be passed upon by the committee itself. The count is expected to take three weeks.

It is estimated that the government already has spent over $1,000,000 some say $1,500,000, in conducting the prosecution of Senator Newberry and 124 men who took active part in his primary campaign and election, and the case has only gone through the first court.

The item of $250,000 to cover the expense of conducting the recount will bring the total outlay to at least $1,500,000 and more probably in the neighborhood of a million and three quarters. The cost to the government of carrying the case on through the

CHAPTER I.

A Dog and a Demon.

As I sat on a bench in Madison square after half past eleven in the evening a dog came trotting up to me, stopped a few feet and whined.

I stroked the head, which lay down at my feet, raising the head sometimes to whine and sometimes darting off a little way and coming back to tug at the lower edge of my overcoat.

I had been alternately a prospector and a company promoter all the working years of his shabby life.

Leontz was a parish politician from some place near Quebec, and his clean-shaven, wrinkled face was as hard and mean as any city boss in the United States.

I never liked the man and I never cared for Carson's business ways.

My plans were vague. I had been occupying, at a low rental, a tiny apartment consisting of two rooms, a bath and what is called a "kitchenette," at the top of an old building in Tenth street which was about to be pulled down.

The Bekimo dog was growing unmanageable. It would run from me, looking round and uttering a succession of short barks, then run back and tug at my overcoat again.

The dog turned down a street in the Twentieth, ran on four legs, leaped up in a flight of stone steps and began scratching at the door of a house that was apparently empty.

This place I knew by reputation. It was Jim Daly's notorious but decently conducted gambling establishment, which was running full blast at a time when every other institution of this character had found it convenient to shut down.

So the creature's master was inside Daly's, and it wished me to get him out. I looked in some disappointment at the closed doors and turned away.

I meant to go home, and I had proceeded about three paces when the lock clicked. I stopped. The front door opened cautiously and the gray head of Jim's negro butler appeared.

Then emerged upon the most beautiful woman that I have ever seen. She could not have been more than twenty years of age. Her hair was of a fair brown, the features modeled splendidly, the head poised upon a flawless throat that gleamed white beneath a necklace of magnificent sapphires.

She carried a sable muff, too, and under these furs was a dress of unstylish fashion and cut that contrasted curiously with them. I thought that these loose sleeves had passed away before the nineteenth century died. In one hand she carried a bag, into which she was stuffing a large roll of bills.

I was bewildered. What was a girl like that doing in Daly's at half past twelve in the morning?

She began walking slowly and rather aimlessly; it seemed to me along the street in the direction of Sixth avenue.

My curiosity was unbounded. I followed her at a decent interval to see what she was going to do. But she did not seem to know.

The street loafers stared after her, and two men began walking abreast of her on the other side of the road.

As she stood upon the curb on the east side of Sixth avenue I saw her face dimly up and down before venturing to cross it.

The two men crossed the street and planted themselves behind her. They were speaking in a tongue that sounded like French, and one had a patch over his eye.

Suddenly the man with the patch turned on me, lowered his head and barked at my feet. I fell into the roadway, and at that instant the sea and fellow grasped the girl by the arm and the taxicab whirled up and stopped.

The girl's assailants seemed to be trying to force her into the cab. The bag flew open, scattering a shower of gold pieces upon the pavement.

And then, before I could get upon my feet again the dog had leaped at the throat of the man with the patch and sent him stumbling backward.

Before he recovered his balance I was at the other man, striking out right and left.

It was all the act of an instant, and in an instant the two men had jumped into the taxicab and were being driven safely away.

I was standing beside the terrified girl, who in the following crowd, gathered from God knows where, surrounded us and fought like harpies for the coins which lay scattered about.

The girl pulled at my arm distractedly. She was white and trembling, and her big gray eyes were full of fear.

"Help me!" she pleaded, clinging to my sleeve with her little gloved hands. "The money is nothing. I have eight thousand dollars more in my bag. Help me away!"

She spoke in a foreign, bookish accent, as though she had learned English at school. Fortunately for us the mob was too busily engrossed in its search to bear her words.

So I drew her arm through mine and we hurried toward Sixth avenue, where we took an upper car.

We had reached Herald square when it occurred to me that my companion did not seem to know her destination. So we descended there, I had forgotten the dog, but now the beautiful creature came bounding up to me.

"Where are you going?" I asked the girl. "I will take you to my home—or hotel." I added with a slight upward intonation on the last word.

"I do not know where I am going," she answered slowly. "I have never been in New York until today."

"But you have friends here?" She shook her head.

"But are you really carrying eight thousand dollars about with you in New York at night? Do you know the character of the place you came out of?" I asked, trying to find some clue to her actions.

"Oh, yes. That is Mr. Daly's gambling house. I came to New York to play at roulette there."

She was looking at me so frankly that I was sure she was wholly ignorant of evil.

"Mr. Daly is too ill to play himself," she explained, "so I must find a hotel near Mr. Daly's house, and then I shall play every night until our fortune is made. Tonight I lost nearly two thousand dollars. But I was nervous at that strange place. And the system expressly says that one may lose at first. Tomorrow I raise the stakes and we shall begin to win. See?"

She pulled a little pad from her bag covered with a mass of furring. "But where do you come from?" I asked. "Where is your father?"

Again I saw that look of terror come into her eyes. She glanced quickly about her, and I was sure she was thinking of escaping from me.

I hastened to reassure her. "Forgive me," I said. "It is no business of mine. And now, if you will trust me a little further I will try to find a hotel for you."

It would have seemed the worst man to feel her little hand slipped into his arm in that delicate manner of hers. I took her to the Seaward, the Grand, the Cornhill and the Merrymans—such in turn.

New York (a cousin of Theodore Roosevelt), Frederick M. Alger of Detroit, President of the Leonard Wood League of Michigan and Earl H. DeLoe of Charlotte, the presidential candidate arrived in Flint at 6:45 a. m. from Chicago. After an impromptu reception in the lobby of Hotel Dresden, Gen. Wood received and briefly addressed half a hundred Flint physicians in the hotel parlors. He made a call at the Buick Motor Plant and there shook hands with workmen, office employees and officials.

At noon Gen and Mrs. Wood were guests of honor at a chamber of commerce luncheon presided over by John Carion. The demand for seats at the tables was in excess of capacity and a large crowd of those who could not be accommodated in the big room stood in the hallway to listen and applaud his speech.

Gen. Wood addressed himself chiefly to two points in his platform of twenty-four American business and the real meaning of "Universal Training." He said, in part, "We are through with the war so far as actual fighting is concerned, but we have many problems before us—problems of readjustment. Their solution will not be difficult if we take them up in that spirit of cooperation with which we laid hold of the war problems. We must get the government squarely back of the building up of American business both at home and abroad. We must change our commerce and expand our trade, we have never had such a chance for a bigger foreign trade, and that chance we must get lost."

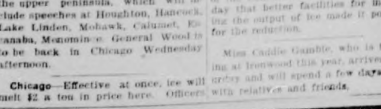

In explaining that the purpose of universal training is "not to make America a country of soldiers, but a country of finer citizens," Gen. Wood said: "Remember that this training, which includes in value instructions, vocation and the care of the health of the youth does not increase your boy's liability for military service—not one bit. It does not mean that your boy is more likely to go than some one who has not been trained, it simply means that you have had the intelligence, a better chance to come back to you if ever he should have to go to war for his country."

Gen. Wood was frequently interrupted with enthusiastic applause. After the luncheon he and Mrs. Wood held an informal reception at their tables. From Flint the party went this afternoon to Saginaw, where the general was scheduled to speak at a 6 o'clock dinner and in the evening, at a mass meeting. Friday's and Saturday's itineraries include speeches in this order: At Rochester, Pontiac, Holly, Bay City, St. Louis, Ithaca, Alma and Muskegon. Saturday night the party returns to Chicago, but re-enter Michigan Monday for a tour of

The Notable New Six

It's the Cleveland Six. Not really new, either, for the factory began deliveries last Summer and since then the Cleveland has gone out over the country into the hands of thousands of owners. And these owners say they are delighted with it. There is every good reason why they should be delighted with it. For the Cleveland Six is really an extraordinary car.

We cannot tell you how good the Cleveland Six is. You must ride in it and drive it to know.

This experience will convince you of the power and pick-up and speed and flexibility of this exclusive Cleveland-built motor.

It will convince you of the comfort of the car, contributed to so much by the low undulating spring construction and the wide soft seat cushions.

You will be amazed at the ease of handling your Cleveland, how lightly it steers and shifts, and at the instant positive action of its brakes.

There isn't any other light car that will give you so much of all that you wish, and at such a fair price.

Come let us show you what a car the Cleveland is

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

In his new Thomas H. Ince-Paramount photoplay, "String Beans," in which he will be seen at the Lyric Theatre tonight, Charles Ray appears as the country boy who puts the schemes of a shrewd "dancer" artist from the city to naught. The idea is to raise money from the farmers to start a string-bean canning factory—but it is a swindle and Mr. Ray, as Tolly Watkins, the nose-count lad from the farm, upsets the whole thing and finally wins the mayor's daughter to his bosom.

Mr. Ray recently had a session with the dentist which is the result of youthful vanity. When he was a lad he thought it would be fine to have some gold in his teeth, so he discovered a couple of small cavities in two front molars. The dentist inserted bits of gold which looked fine in the eyes of the young man and were the envy of his associates. But in the picture they looked anything but that. So Charles took advantage of his vacation to have them removed and replaced by porcelain. The Ray smile will be more than ever attractive now.

The bestial nature of a libertine of beer, formerly of the Austrian army, is relentlessly exposed in "Blind Husbands" the Universal photoplay, which comes on Saturday and Sunday to the Gladstone Theatre, April 3-4.

The principal role is played by Eric Stroheim, former lieutenant of the Austrian army, and in "Blind Husbands" Eric Stroheim portrays the appearance and supreme comest that made the Tontin outfit for the consumption of humans.

As a husband the Austrian says the starring villain goes to a fashionable resort in the Alps to prey on women. There he meets Margaret Armstrong, wife of the famous Dr. Armstrong, who is in a love-dread badly neglected wife.

Dr. Armstrong makes a discovery, suspects something worse, and his soul is seared and tortured when the lieutenant lies to him. The fate of a love-bird in the form of a man, is the theme of the story.

Stroheim is remembered, even hated, by thousands of persons for his portrayal of a film officer in the big Universal war picture, "The Heart of Humanity."

Supporting him in "Blind Husbands" as Margaret Armstrong, the wife, is Frances, Billington and the following cast of popular Universal players: Sam DeGrasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germond and Jack Perrin. "Blind Husbands" is pronounced as a daring photoplay, based on the days immediately following the war, which cannot but open the eyes of the typical American husband to the danger of indifference toward the woman he selected as his lifetime. It is declared to be amazing in its inoffensive handling of so vital a theme.

It was washing day and John had been kept from school to look after the baby. Mother sent them into the garden to play, but it was not long before cries disturbed her.

"What is the matter with baby now?" she inquired from the wash tub.

MICHIGAN ORCHARDS MENACED BY SCALE

East Lansing, Mich., March 29.—That San Jose scale is still quite prevalent in Michigan orchards, in spite of the belief of growers, that scale is about cleaned up in the state, is the opinion of Prof. C. F. Halligan, head of the horticultural department at Michigan State University. "We recommend a lime-sulphur solution for this work. A dormant spray for apples should be made now before the leaf buds open," says Professor Halligan. "The unusually cold winter two years ago reduced scale considerably in Michigan, and it was not bad last year. For this reason many growers have reached the conclusion that it is no longer necessary to watch their spraying closely. To overlook spraying now, however, would be a serious mistake. Scale is still prevalent, and it is important that growers make a

CONGRESS BREAKS PREVIOUS RECORDS

Washington, D. C.—Breaking all previous records, the present congress has ordered or proposed 299 investigations covering almost as many subjects, according to compilers to-night. These range from protesting in men's collars to the most weighty international questions. How much these investigations cost has not been reckoned but it is estimated they will form a considerable part of the annual expenses which run about $25,000 a day. This congress is also breaking the previous record for bills and resolutions introduced, having 18,177 to its credit with only half of its time gone. The previous congress, in its entire career, introduced 18,177 bills and resolutions, but in only two years, piled up 23,811 in the document spray as a preventative measure, in order to hold it in check." Plums, peaches and pears should also be sprayed for scale. Full information on spraying may be obtained by writing to R. S. Shaw, Director Experiment Station, East Lansing, for Bulletin 93, "Spray and Practice Outline for Fruit Growers."

house and estate hoppers. Those Agreed To. Out of 299 resolutions offered in both houses of this congress proposing investigations of various kinds, 77 have been agreed to. They cover activities of Henry Ford, alleged discrimination against individual back men in the District of Columbia, and the question of office rooms for senators. Scores of resolutions have been introduced and many adopted, for investigation of almost every executive department and prominent administration official. Scarcely any local disturbance of consequence in any quarter of the country escapes having a resolution of investigation introduced. Forest fires in Minnesota, race riots in southern cities, the coal and steel strikes all prompted resolutions.

Subjects Covered. The list of subjects covered by resolutions offered in this congress includes: subsidies for railroad crossings, coal prices, socialistic activities in the Federal Trade Commission, sugar profiteering, propaganda to influence railroad legislation, troops in Russia, peace treaty leak, Mexican affairs, activities of soviet agents in the U. S., merchant marine questions, garden, city and suburb improvement in Europe, transportation problems in the Southwest, supply of cars for agricultural products, suspension of a Washington school teacher, high cost of living, methods by which army officers secured "home duty" assignments during the war, income tax dodging, publicity bureaus of government departments, influenza, malaria, and conditions in the Virgin Islands. Congress has conducted hearings on practically every question of national interest including the conduct of the war, shipping, railroads, reorganization, the meat packing industry, food prices, and radical propaganda.
