

ESCANABA NEWS

Escanaba Selected As Relief Unit Of American Red Cross

Escanaba has been designated as the Relief Unit location for the American Red Cross. Announcement in this respect was made by L. G. Searley, one of the officers of the local chapter. Because of the late hour of receiving the information, it is impossible to go into detail regarding the activities which will be conducted here by the Red Cross although it is a certainty that the unit will be one of the greatest achievements to be had by Escanaba since the close of the recent war.

By establishing the relief unit here, it will be necessary for the Red Cross chapter to provide means for caring for at least 100 sick or injured persons at all times.

Cots, bedding, provisions, utensils, and all other needs for the sick or injured will be provided.

The selection of this city as the unit location means that Escanaba is a war zone. It shows that the work of the local chapter both during and since the war is regarded as the best and also that this city is located in one of the most appropriate sections for such an establishment.

Further particulars will be made known within a few days when the final details are learned and a meeting of the local chapter is held.

Hoyle-Hendrickson

The marriage of Miss Adelle Theresa Hoyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hoyle, 312 S. Ninth street, to Arthur E. Hendrickson, son of Mrs. Anna Hendrickson, took place Tuesday morning in Minneapolis.

The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock at the Notre Dame de Lourdes church, Minneapolis, the Rev. Father Emmet officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Hoyle, of Minneapolis, a sister of the bride, and the best man was attended by a close friend, Adrian Caron.

The bride wore a charming gown of white accordion plaited points trimmed with a white tulle hat. Her flowers were white roses and lilies of the valley arranged in shower effect. The bridesmaid wore a gown of Nile green organza and a white picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony members of the wedding party were guests at an elaborate wedding breakfast served at the home of the bridegroom's mother, and this afternoon at a formal reception and dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Heinen, Mrs. Heinen a sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson left Tuesday night on a wedding trip through Minnesota after which they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of St. Anne's school of this city and made her home in Escanaba until three years ago when she went to Minneapolis to take a position in the Soo Line office. She is well and popularly known here, especially in the alumni of St. Anne's school.

Police went to the hotel and luncheon room of Mrs. Charlotte Barnett, 315 Ludington street, Tuesday afternoon and arrested her on a charge of violating the city ordinance. With her, others arrested were:

Frank LaFare, Carl Warshawski and Matt Eskola were charged with being disorderly. The three men entered pleas of guilty and were fined $25 and costs. Chris Erlson was also arrested in the party and paid a fine and cost of $25. Mrs. Erlson pleaded not guilty to the charge of violating the ordinance and her trial was set for August 2. All cases were heard by Judge Oster.

The arrest is the result of one that was made Monday by police after which it was learned that liquor was being handled in the burned place, so police declare.

A close watch was kept on the place for a day and the arrest made on schedule time. The woman daily declares that she has liquor on the premises although the police have stated they have ample proof that she has and will produce it in the trial this day.

Ten Days in County Jail

Again this morning the threat of the officials that drunks arrested and not telling the source of their liquor was put into effect when Martin Burke appeared before Justice Glaser to face a charge of drunk and disorderly. Burke claimed he met a fellow with a bottle and got drunk. He was sentenced to the county jail to spend ten days and think whether or not he can remember who the "fellow" he met was and from whom the booze came.

Retires Early Feeling Happy Dies In Room

"Good night, son." With those words spoken to a young member of the Cloutier family living at 802 Third avenue south, Joseph Grison, 52, who has been living at the Cloutier home for the past twenty-four years, since his wife died, retired for the evening. Word had been given for members of the household to call him at the usual hour the following morning so he could arise and go to work on the docks.

When the morning knock was sounded on his door, Sunday, no move was made to arise and a member of the family entered the room believing he had slept rather soundly that night. To their utter amazement, the limp form lay on the bed. He died during the night of heart failure without a word near him.

According to members of the family, young Cloutier and the deceased had been pals for many years. He had lived with the family as a member of the household and was considered the same as one of the Cloutier family.

Helmer-Helmer

The marriage of Miss Dora D. Helmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Helmer, to Frank P. Helmer, of Winona, Minn., took place Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Helmer home, Lake Shore Drive. The marriage service was read by the Rev. Harry W. Staver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride wore a charming gown of white organza. Her flowers were a bouquet of roses.

A wedding dinner served at the Delta hotel followed the wedding ceremony. Guests at the dinner included: Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Pike, Mr. and Mrs. E. Helmer, Miss Nettie Hale, Miss Anna Smith and the Rev. and Mrs. Harry W. Staver.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer left Monday evening for Annapolis, Minn., where they will spend their honeymoon. They will make their home at Winona.

Will Leave Parish

Members of St. Joseph's parish learned with regret Sunday that the Rev. Father Francis Xavier, pastor of St. Joseph's for the past three years, has been appointed to a Cincinnati parish and will leave Escanaba the latter part of the week.

The Rev. Father Xavier came to Escanaba to succeed the Rev. Father John, who was transferred to Bloomington, Ill. three years ago. He will be succeeded by the Rev. Father Francis Dooley, formerly of St. Joseph's parish, and well known here. The Rev. Father Dooley, before entering the service as a chaplain, was assistant to the Rev. Father John.

Baldwin Family Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Baldwin, Ogden avenue, Sunday was the scene of a family reunion. Besides Mr. Baldwin of this city, three brothers, F. J. and family of Muskegon, G. A. and family, also of that city, and Charles of Coral, with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corey, the latter a daughter of G. A. Baldwin, were present. Twenty-four members of the respective Baldwin families were there all, affording an opportunity for one of the best family reunions held here in years. A pleasant time was enjoyed.

George Logan

George Logan, 52, died at the family home, 215 South Ninth street Saturday. He had been ill for a few weeks the indirect cause being from influenza from which he suffered last winter. The body was taken to the allo undertaking parlors Saturday evening shortly after death and prepared for burial after which it was returned to the home Sunday. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday from St. Joseph's church with burial at St. Joseph's cemetery. Rev. Father Xavier officiated. He is survived by his wife and one daughter Grace.

Rice, who was the victim of the unfortunate automobile accident of Sunday, is declining as time goes on, according to information sent from the hospital this afternoon. The child has not regained consciousness and is becoming worse right along. Fears of his death are entertained.

Lansing, July 24.—There are more than 2,000 deaf persons in Michigan holding licenses to drive autos and as a class they are about the most careful of all drivers, according to Secretary of State Vaughan. There is never a complaint regarding their driving, he says. Mr. Vaughan made this statement when the case of Martin E. Topf of Charlotte came to him for decision. Topf had been refused a driver's license by the local authorities because of his deafness. He appealed to Lansing and was granted his license.

Although Governor Cox had many important features of his address outlined mentally, he had not his desired formidable piles of data, including many volunteer suggestions, to digest. He planned to lock himself in a room and possibly send his address to the printer by next Friday, when Dayton's "home coming" amenities will be tendered him. Last Night's Dreams - What They Mean

HORSES. ACCORDING to the oracles of Destiny, Jupiter Amon and Dedona, to Simon Magus and the lesser magicians of modern times who unlock the future for a dollar a peep, to dream of a horse is good luck. Dreaming a white horse should be dreamed of, for that announces to the dreamer unexpected riches. If your horse is black your good fortune will not be so great or complete as it will be if he is white. The intermediate grades of color denote the amount of your good fortune. To see yourself riding a horse—preferably a large, bays one—means success. If a woman dreams that she is riding on a large, showy horse it indicates that the fates have picked out for her—provided she is an unmarried woman of course—a rich husband who will make her happy. But for anyone to dream that he or she is riding a horse is a sign that he or she is about to rise a step higher in the world. But don't fall off. If you do, some misfortune is in store for you. None, perhaps, that you will not be able to surmount, for the general beneficent effect of dream horses is so potent that even a fall from one will not be an irreparable misfortune. To dream that you are trading horses, foretells that someone is going to get the best of you in a bargain—which would indicate that horse trading is not true to form in the world of dreams as well as in the world of actualities. To dream that you are buying a horse is a sign that you will not receive by some speculation or a real estate deal. But if you dream that you are selling a horse don't speculate—you will lose. If your dream horse is red or it means that you have much hard work to go through before you achieve the success which your dreaming of him foretells. The dream horse, it should be distinctly understood, is no relation to the nightmare whatever. (Copyright.)

Trifles

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS. IF YOU would make of your character a tower of strength, if you would see your business grow steadily and surely, if you would know the really vital, almost priceless secret back of all complaint, since the world began, all through the minutes, hours, days of your life— Mind the trifles! The mind that in New York City a store for that, because of its appeal to particular tastes and styles, has built up a name for "Class" in its line. Recently because of this reputation a young man, new to the city, went into their establishment and ordered half a dozen of their shirts. The salesman represented the goods to be the best of their kind and "warranted" them to be as represented. One of the shirts proved defective. The young man sought an adjustment. He received for his trouble a bundle of cold coins. The store sent away a dissatisfied customer—the worst advertisement in the world. Mind the trifles! There exists in Chicago another kind of store that is known wherever merchandising is known—It is the greatest store of its kind in the world. Here is one of the reasons for its marvelous success. In this store a clerk is not allowed to dispute with a customer. If there is dissatisfaction and it appears reasonable to the clerk, an immediate adjustment is made even though it may mean a loss to the concern. Trifles—yes, trifles—but the attention to these trifles, the way to wealth, influence and power. Mind the trifles!

Know What Was Coming. "You remember the real estate men who used to advertise that buying your own home was better than paying rent." "Yes." "Well, they certainly knew what they were talking about, didn't they?"—Detroit Free Press.

Off Again, On Again STRICKLAND W. GILLILAN

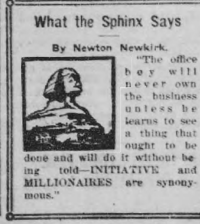

NO CHANGE. I see, upon a printed slip, On my hotel room door, What would betide were I to skip But pay my little score. But nowhere in that quoted law, As I can see, lying, I'm told to bust that neighbor's jaw When he inserts his sting. It does not say that if the food Is quite unfit to eat, I straight may pronounce that robber, good With willing fist and feet. It does not promise if the bed Is harder than the pave, That I may sweat him over the head And hit him for his grave. It does not say that when the clerk Expires me as to brains, I am to smash him in the snick For being shy of brains. No, all the law is, to Protect the hotel man. The traveler's rights are mighty few— He's scarce an alien!

The Gaddy.

Some people think the gaddy is a real insect. The one we mean is the germ of mad, that stings everybody more or less. There are very few people in whose ears the gaddy has not been punctured by his little probe. Traced is something people are supposed to do for pleasure. If some of the people we see traveling are doing so as a pleasant diversion from their regular life, we'd hate to board with them when they are home. There are many day-coach pilgrims who carry a paper bag or a laundry-pole full of uncleaned hats, doughnuts, jelly sandwiches and dill pickles from Passamaquoddy bay to the Golden Gate drinking milk coffee in Hubbard on the slightest provocation, sleeping with their clothes on (except their shoes) every night, and talking at the top of their voices every time they wake, taking care of eight small children that were born in a bog; there are people who do this for fun! It looks almost as funny to us as going and getting insulted with a bull just to have it to nurse. A person who could enjoy that sort of travel would be tickled to death with the thought. While a trip to the dentist's to have a jaw-feller yanked out would be the treat of a lifetime. But everybody wants to "go somewhere." The whole human race are busy little cups of tea. The busy folks want to ride, of course, but they all want to go. The first thing a baby learns is "doe boby." The last thing the old tottery one wants to do is to get strong enough to be taken somewhere. We are all charter members of the Tribe of Gad. The gaddy didn't miss one of its stings when he was around using his stinger.

FILIPINAS GET BALLOT BEFORE AMER. SISTERS

Senora de Veyra Describes Status of Women in the Philippines.

The Filipino woman is destined to be in the world's spotlight more than ever before as a result of the news just received by cable from Manila to the effect that the Philippine senate has passed the equal suffrage bill giving women full political rights with men. This would indicate that the Filipina may beat her American sisters to the ballot box.

The Filipina has many admirers who predict she will make good if she gets the vote, just as she has made good in the very important role she has occupied in the family and business life of the Philippines ever since the introduction of Christianity in the islands three centuries ago.

"America's advent in the Philippines discovered a wonderfully interesting, responsive little being, the Filipino woman," writes one American concerning the Filipina. "Mothering the only Christian people in the far east, she holds a place of authority, love and respect in family and social life that is not accorded to women in countries neighboring the islands, or in India, China or Japan."

MRS. JAIME C. DE VEYRA. A Filipina who is doing important work for her people in the United States.

A Filipina who is doing an important work for her people in the United States is Mrs. Jaime C. de Veyra, wife of the resident commissioner from the Philippines. Not only has she frequently addressed the wives of members of Congress in Washington as to conditions in the new Philippines, but she has visited various cities, speaking before women's clubs. The señora wears, in giving her talks, one of the beautiful gowns of her home land, a delicate pineapple fabric, hand-woven and hand-embroidered, shaped like a gauzy-winged butterfly.

"In many ways the path of the women of the Philippines is easy," says Senora de Veyra. "Laws made by her have combined the best of American and Spanish precedents, and she has come into her own with far less struggle than either her American or her Spanish sisters. Married women may hold property in severalty. They are guardians of their own children. These are vested rights and cannot be taken away from her."

"Professional opportunities are as good for women as for men in the land from which I came. The Filipina is by custom the dictator in the home. She is usually the keeper of the family treasure. Practically all of the small shops in Manila are conducted by women. Women are already members of the Philippine Bar Association—a thing still impossible in Great Britain. They are also successful as physicians."

"Life is really a fifty-fifty proposition for women in the Philippines, according to the senora, who has taken such a prominent part in women's work there that she has sometimes been referred to as "the little mother of them all." She was the assistant matron of the Normal Hall Dormitory for girls when she married. She speaks English fluently and puts her little talks "over" with real ease. She has four children. An evidence of her enterprising was her action last year in making her husband as for men, be "useful to her husband at home in the evenings in case he wishes to dictate a few letters or a speech."

EDUCATION IN MICHIGAN.

Michigan believes in education as an Americanizing force and can not averne from applying a little pressure to insure more knowledge to her young. It is notorious that the state that boasts of possessing Detroit is heart and soul with industrialism, but the commonwealth has realized that the temptation of high wages is pulling boys and girls too young from the schools and that in the long run this condition will become harmful. At the same time the state would not think of applying any law that would take hands from the auto factories or other big industrial enterprises, so another method has been devised which will go into effect on September 1st upon the reassembling of schools after the summer holidays. Under the new regulation all boys and girls up to the age of 15 who have not graduated from high school must attend a continuation school for a minimum of eight hours a week. It will be obligatory on the part of those falling under the rule and it will become equally binding for all employers of such youths to adjust their hours in a way to permit the requisite period of study each week. The latitude will be wide of course, as the children will not be drawn from a great variety of employments and with their work hours scattered throughout the day and night. Undoubtedly it will take a great deal of adjustment, and perhaps many big industrial employers, but the law is firm and Michigan hopes to secure a population of 100 per cent high school graduates after the new system shall have been in operation the requisite number of years.

To secure passage of the law it was necessary to be specific in having it non-retroactive, so that the enforcement will apply only to those who will leave school with their courses unfinished after September 1st of this year. This is clearly an experiment, and there is some division of opinion as to what the result will be. Antagonism comes from three quarters and conscientiously opposed to compulsion in educational matters and from certain employers of young labor, who foresee in the act annoyances of various kinds, but of the chief kind it is felt by many that an educator rendered compulsory will do much to hasten the Americanization of the foreign born. The act has been placed as high as possible in the constitution to take in the dangerous period when with their wages already high, the young will still be largely foot-loose from family ties and ready to follow, aluring paths and specious doctrines. At such times education will not be believed, prove an effective ballast. New Orleans Times-Picayune.

YOUR BOY.

The lesson of the school year that has just closed will have been studied in vain if the graduates, about to enter upon their chosen careers, have failed to learn that thrift and saving are their proper aims and quite as important as anything in the curriculum and will set their feet on a sure and happy path.

John P. Frost.

John P. Frost, a resident of this city for the last twenty years, passed away at a late hour last night at his home, 594 Eighteenth street south, after being ill for the last ten months. Mr. Frost conducted a meat market in the city for eighteen years, and was compelled to retire last October on account of ill health. has acquired habits of thrift in his early life. The world owes no able-bodied slacker a living. He must go out among his fellows and earn it. The character of that living depends solely upon the mental and physical equipment with which he has been endowed, aided and developed by his own untiring efforts. The world slacker in peace times is as much a menace to his prototype in times of war. He is costing his country millions every year and he it is who is pushing ever upward the cost of living through reduction of output and effort. More individual effort and more production will bring down the cost of living and thereby remove distress. Thrift is the lever through which this war-worn world is to be stabilized, for neither the nation nor the individual can get back to a rational basis so long as the desire to indulge in reckless spending controls it. "Work and save" should be the slogan of the rising generation, for upon the character of those now entering upon man's estate depends the future of this nation.

MR. FOX THE WINNER

R. BLACK FOX, who has been having some interesting experiences with an old witch, in which his desire to be changed into a turkey at last got him into some bad predicaments, one of which resulted in his being changed into a frog, is happy once more now that he is a fox again. He had promised the witch to bring some stones from a pool; he forgot to make good his promise; seeing there was no other way out of the middle he concluded it was best to do as he promised and he brought the stone to the witch, carrying it in his mouth. The witch smiled when she saw the stone. "This is one of many which "You have saved me!" and out of the pool he jumped right on the bank beside the Witch. "Now, where is that ungrateful creature who helped me, I wonder?" said the Witch. "I promised to give him the stone, but you tried to deceive me rather than a Fox, so let us go home." It did not take the Frog long to hop out and show himself, though he took good care to keep out of the Dragon's reach. "Madam Witch, I have kept my word this time, give me back my own shape," he pleaded. "Oh, there you are, you miserable little cheat," said the old Witch. "You shall have your wish, for you have saved my son, who was imprisoned under the pool by an Ogre and could not be released until one by one the stones of his prison were removed. "If you had kept your promise the first time you came to me you would have had your wish granted and been able to change yourself into a turkey and back to your own form when you wish, but you tried to deceive me and I used you then to gain my ends."

LIEUT. FAGAN'S BRIDE IS HEROINE OF WAR

A Heroine of the World War is Mrs. John Fagan, bride of one of the officers of the Michigan State Police. She was Miss Dolphine Cordreau and served as nurse all through the war, receiving a medal for bravery at the hands of Field Marshal Joffre in connection with her devotion to the wounded in field hospital and trench work. She was exposed to artillery and rifle fire a number of times but escaped unharmed. Lieut. Fagan met his bride while she was nursing in an army hospital and on his night for a long time, and then one night just as the Frog was taking a stone from the pool up came from the bottom a terrible rumbering noise. Up to the top of the pool went the Frog, but he held the stone, although he was badly frightened, but when he saw the head of a big Dragon, with two tongues and four eyes, loom up from the middle of the pool, "splash" went the stone into the water, and Froggie hopped behind a stone more often than alive. "My son, my son," said one and when the Frog looked out there was the old witch holding out her long lean arms to the Dragon, who State stood in the pool. "Mother!" believed the creature.

EVEN A PATIENT MAN MUST BALK SOMETIME

J. C. Harvey, who lives near Flint, is an even-tempered, mild-mannered man. Fortunately and unfortunately, his property extends along the road for a number of rods and his orchard always look inviting and his shade trees are very attractive in the summer time. Harvey is in trouble. And like lots of other folks when he is in trouble he tells the State Police about it. He says that people insist upon making an amusement park out of his backyard, they run his cattle, ride his horses, steal his fruit and tear up his gardens. Last summer the marauders climbed over the fence and rode a valuable horse bareback around the farm. The animal was left in such a condition that Mr. Harvey was forced to sell it at a great loss. A few days ago some boys caused his Holstein cow all over the lot and staked a miniature bull fight to the delight of several of the fair sex, who thought it best not to venture over the wire fence. Mr. Harvey has asked that State Police Trooper be permitted to spend Sunday afternoon with him in the very near future in an effort to prevent further depredations. He has been assured of all the assistance and cooperation necessary.

FARMERS ASK FOR HELP AGAINST THIEVING GANGS

Farmers in the vicinity of Union Pier are petitioning the State Police for assistance in their effort to protect their fruit trees during the summer. A letter has just been received at the State Police headquarters asking for a patrol in this region because of the fact that many persons are in the habit of stealing fruit each year and causing it for their use. The letter is, in part, as follows: "I am writing to ask if it will be possible for you to give us one or more members of your troopers in this section of Berrien County this summer. We have for many years had our orchards and berry patches raided by a lot of summer roseters who come here and expect to eat their expenses to a minimum while resorting, by the habit of stealing fruit and causing it for their use. "Last year we had Corp. Moon of your force and he did excellent work while here. He was a thorough gentleman, attended to his business and appeared to me to be very efficient and to use good judgment in arrest matters."

HEAD OF STATE POLICE WILL REMEMBER JUNE 16

It is a strange coincidence that Major Robert H. Marsh assumed command of the Michigan State Police just one year, to a day, after he was shot and seriously wounded by a whisky-runner near Crystal Falls. In June 1918, there was considerable (glensness along the Wisconsin border of the upper peninsula and Capt. Marsh was in command of the upper troop, was on an inspection of Lieut. Vandervoort and they encountered two for a carload of whisky. The re arrested but one of revolver and wounded

I want," she said. "Hop away for a while if you wish your own form again."

Back and forth, back and forth each day went the poor Frog, hopping all night for a long time, and then one night just as the Frog was taking a stone from the pool up came from the bottom a terrible rumbering noise. Up to the top of the pool went the Frog, but he held the stone, although he was badly frightened, but when he saw the head of a big Dragon, with two tongues and four eyes, loom up from the middle of the pool, "splash" went the stone into the water, and Froggie hopped behind a stone more often than alive. "My son, my son," said one and when the Frog looked out there was the old witch holding out her long lean arms to the Dragon, who State stood in the pool. "Mother!" believed the creature.

Capt. Marsh in the back of the neck. Lieut. Vandervoort shot and killed the prisoner who had done the shooting and also wounded the other whisky-runner, who was attempting to escape.

THESE STATE TROOPERS WERE SURELY ECONOMICAL

If the example set by four members of the detachment of the Michigan State Police in Kent County is followed generally traveling items in state expenses this year will be very tight. After patrolling the country roads spending seven days in all, visiting Ottawa, Allegan and Kent counties, these four troopers turned in an expense account of only $33, including maintenance for their horses, upon returning to their post after completing their assignment.

The troopers were E. J. Marsden and Annie Taylor, working as one team, and Frank Stevenson and Max Truman working as an other team. The Marsden-Taylor duo spent $17 and the Stevenson-Truman pair $16.

POLICE MESSAGES HAVE RIGHT OF WAY

TELEPHONE COMPANY RECOGNIZES EMERGENCY NATURE OF CALLS FOR STATE TROOPERS.

An arrangement has been made by the State Police with the Michigan State Telephone Company whereby messages to or from the State Police are given right of way over other traffic. This is necessary because it is important that the State Police receive notification promptly of robberies and other crimes so that they may start in pursuit of the law-breakers without delay. In other cases, a call in sent in where some discrepancy in the law is feared, and these have been scores of cases where such a call resulted in bringing the State Police to the scene in time to avert trouble.

Major Roy C. Vandervoort, who recently retired from the command of the state troopers, perfected a system for use on the regular patrol routes of the State Police whereby farmers and stockkeepers may notify either the nearest State Police station or the trooper on the patrol of the presence of suspicious characters or of other facts which are essential that the troopers know.

The fact that many instances have occurred of criminals using motor cars in committing their depredations in the agricultural districts has made the telephone an important adjunct in helping the state troopers to take preventive measures and to head off costly law-breakers.

YPSILANTI EDITOR TELLS WHY MICHIGAN NEEDS A TRAINED FORCE TO PRESERVE LAW.

In Ypsilanti the Rotarians get out a little paper called "The Rotary Truth-teller." The other day the Michigan State Police came in for its share of comment in the editorial columns of this snappy publication. The general tone of the editorial is so refreshing that it is reprinted here in full. It is only a typical example of the opinion which thinking business men of Michigan have of the State Police. The editorial is as follows: "The best argument for a State Police is that some people don't wait."

Wardon Craw the other day and Troopers Cooney and Cole were sent to his assistance. They found a fire raging which had been caused by a passing train, and before it could be extinguished it had burned over twelve acres in East Jay township, Grand Traverse county. This fire would have proven a most expensive one had it not been subdued immediately, owing to the fact that there was a strong wind from the southwest which headed the flames directly towards a nice stand of second-growth pine covering more than thirty-five acres. The flames had reached the very edge of this timber when the fire was placed under control. From now on much of the attention of the State Police will be directed to fighting such fires which break out every year.

PRESENCE OF TROOPERS CHECKS TIDE OF CRIME

During the past few months the large white frame house at Hudson, which is used for the headquarters of the State Police detachment located there, has been the scene of much activity. From now on much of the attention of the State Police will be directed to fighting such fires which break out every year.

SURVEY OF U.P. WASTE LANDS

To cruise and survey such of upper Michigan's idle acres as may be productive; to convert this land from its present wild, cut-over state to farming communities and to so increase land values throughout Cleveland as to make this region a second Iowa in the desirability of its farming lands is the big project which has brought A. L. Morfit, general manager of Home Lands, incorporated, a colonizing agency of Chicago, on a second trip to this region. Mr. Morfit is in Marquette at present, conferring with land men in and about the city. Mr. Morfit reports active interest in his plan in the sections thus far visited. His first trip to Cleveland, about a month ago, resulted in the creation of considerable interest in his colonization plan, and the present visit is prompted largely by requests from big land owners desiring more information regarding the system.

CARLOAD OF AUTOS BURN ENROUTE TO MENOMINEE

A mishap which threatened to destroy the entire train of automobiles bound from Flint to the northwest occurred last week when two automobiles being hauled to Menominee via the Ann Arbor railroad, caught fire and were destroyed.

The fire took place near Cadillac in the lower peninsula and threatened for a time to reduce the whole train to ashes. The car containing the automobiles was finally sidetracked and the train proceeded on its way minus one car and two automobiles. Sparks from the locomotive is given as the cause.

This is the fourth time that a train load of autos has passed through Menominee via the Wisconsin and Michigan bound for northern points. In fact it is said that with the new Ford project at Iron Mountain that the usefulness of the road will be trebled within two years. More trainloads of automobiles are due to pass through Menominee soon.

NEW ALIBI FOR THE MOON SHINE STILL

Iron Mountain—a plea that he had operated a moonshine still, to procure alcohol for medicinal purposes, which with which to rub his wife's rheumatic joints did not avail Herman Haape when he appeared before Judge H. A. Daner in district court, at Duluth.

Haape pleaded guilty for having had a quantity of 46 per cent moonshine in his possession and, through his attorney sought leniency because he said, his wife was a hopeless invalid with a broken spine. Judge Daner imposed a fine of $100, but ordered that $50 of it need not be paid until he has had opportunity to verify the Haape alibi.

John S. Haggerty, President Michigan State Fair.

John S. Haggerty, though one of the busiest manufacturers of Michigan, takes plenty of time to help foster the Michigan State Fair of which he is President. The administrative work falls on the shoulders of G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager, but Haggerty maintains a close touch at all times. Last year when the crowds got so big at the gates they could not be handled, he had pickets torn from the fence. Then he stepped in and acted as gate-keeper. In private life, he manufactures bricks. He has a model farm and is a good roads enthusiast.

MILLION TO MEET AT STATE EXHIBIT

MICHIGAN NOW HAS LARGEST FAIR IN UNITED STATES—DATES SET ARE SEPTEMBER 3-12.

PROFITS GO BACK INTO CONTINUOUS BETTERMENT

An attendance of a million is predicted for the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Sept. 3 to 12, this fall. This estimate is based both on the public interest which has been shown in the fair so far this year, and on natural increase which may be expected over last year's showing. When the last person passed through the turnstile at the 1919 show, the Michigan Fair had taken rank as the largest-attended institution of its kind in the United States. Every effort is prompted by G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager, to make this year's exhibition once again the nation's standard. "Michigan's state fair," says Mr. Dickinson, "has become the greatest institution in the commonwealth for bringing its people together. No other activity fostered by the state brings any where near so many of its citizens together on common terms. In one way, it is the state's greatest educational institution. The character of fairs has changed greatly in the last few years. No one who attends a real fair nowadays can come away without having been mentally broadened and instructed. The city man sees the vast agricultural resources of Michigan; the farmer sees the cities' manufactured products which have given this state so advanced a position in the industrial world. Every satisfactory feature of Michigan's fairs in the past will be retained this year, and many new ones will be added. Grossly increased gate receipts have made the fair profitable in late years, and under the state law, every cent of profit must go back into the permanent property and the annual exhibition. Mr. Dickinson's policy has been to put on a better and better fair at the receipts warranted. And every time he has spent more money to put on a better fair, the public has reacted on attending it in such crowds that profits automatically increase. Then the annual circle he began in giving these receipts back into a better fair and a better show.

EXHIBITORS MUST HURRY TO GET INTO STATE FAIR

Exhibitors who plan on entering the contents at the Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, Sept. 3-12, this fall, will have to hurry. So great has been the demand for space in the various buildings that G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager, announces that he is all out on the main lines. Others are filling up fast. Mr. Dickinson is loath to close out any certain space without having heard from desirable exhibitors of previous years but the pressure for space is growing.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR GREATER THAN EVER

G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager, announces that it will in reality be far more than a million-dollar proposition. In exhibitors, in premiums paid, in variety of farm crops and manufactured products shown, he declares it will be far greater than even last year's record-breaker. It is now one of the largest state fairs in the United States.

PAYS $100,000 TO ITS EXHIBITORS

PRIZE REWARDS WORTH WHILE AT MICHIGAN STATE FAIR ENCOURAGES THE BEST.

MANUFACTURERS BUSY IN PREPARING THEIR GOODS

A record sum in premiums will be paid the people of Michigan this year by the Michigan State Fair, which will be held in Detroit, Sept. 3 to 12. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager of the Fair, says that the total amount of prize money offered by the fair will be more than $100,000. This is a large increase over any previous year, and it is one of the largest sums offered by any state fair in the United States. "The way to get good exhibits," says Mr. Dickinson, "is to pay liberal premiums for them. When a farmer has put in a year's fall time on a prize animal or breed, or several years' time as may very possibly be the case, he believes that he is entitled to a price-award that is worth while. Our primary purpose at the Michigan State Fair is to promote the raising of the very best-grade products of the farm, so our policy must be such as to make our encouragement worth while. Every year since I have been manager of the fair, I have offered bigger premiums and more of them. And every year, we have not only had better exhibits, but the public has patronized our fair in such increasing numbers that our gate receipts profits have more than made up the difference. "We want farmers from every part of the state to let us know what they have. The state will be surprised this fall at the tremendous manner in which the manufacturing concerns of Michigan have decided to show their products at the fair. To keep the whole fair well-balanced, the farmers must show a similar enterprise—and it will be worth their while.

G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager, Michigan State Fair.

Michigan's state fair is the largest in the United States, and its Secretary Manager, G. W. Dickinson, of Detroit, is known among other fair managers as the nation's best. In six years, he has changed the fair from a money-loser to a money-maker, cut out all undesirable features, reduced the bonded debt $50,000 and erected $250,000 of buildings out of profits. This year's fair is from Sept. 3 to 12.

MICHIGAN FAIR IS PLANNED FOR ALL

SECRETARY-MANAGER DICKINSON SAYS MUST HAVE BALANCE BETWEEN FARM AND CITIES.

NO CATERING TO CLASS IN PLANS OF EXHIBITS

"A show for all the people of Michigan," is the idea of G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager of the Michigan State Fair, now busily engaged in plans for this year's exhibit, Sept. 3-12 at Detroit. "I have never agreed," said Mr. Dickinson, "with the idea that the fair should cater particularly to the farmer—or to the city man or to any other class. It must be always true that the backbone of the fair is the agricultural exhibits, and one of the prime objects of the fair is to encourage better crops and farming methods. But if we had to rely on farmer attendance and farmer support for the state fair, we couldn't break even in a money way. "The ideal arrangement is to have a plentiful exhibition of farm products to show to the city man, and an equally interesting lot of city-manufactured products to show the farmer. In that case, you have educated both of them, and you have also given a liberal bit of instruction to the great body of the public which makes the fair possible. "The time is coming when the Michigan State Fair will be almost a continuous performance. "Of course, the big events each year will be grouped in a fair about 10 days or two weeks long. But there is no use having the grounds idle the rest of the year, and I am confident that a number of features can be made to run probably almost all the year around. The fair of the future will become more and more rounded out and complete, having a perfect balance between the agricultural and the manufactured exhibits."

MICHIGAN FAIR NOW LARGEST IN WHOLE U. S.

Largest state fairs in the United States are those conducted by Texas, Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan. The exhibits of these great states run along side-by-side, but last year, Michigan Fair went into the topmost position. The others followed in this order: Minnesota, Iowa and Texas. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager of the Michigan fair, believes that this year's show, Sept. 3-12, will confirm the Wolverine State in its position of supremacy. Michigan's industrial cities, entering great exhibits of manufactured products, help the success of the show, and the farmers of the state are not lagging.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR TOLD IN A NUTSHELL

Dates, Sept. 3-12. Place, Detroit. Million attendance predicted this year. Now largest fair in nation, and admittedly the country's standard. As indicating interest, exhibit space nearly sold out now. All profits go into bettering the fair. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager at Detroit, promises many new improvements this fall.

Prize Point Animals at State Fair

Michigan boys and girls derive excellent educational advantages from the Michigan State Fair, which will be held this year at Detroit Sept. 3-12. In competition, boys are chosen in live-stock judging. The county and district winners get trips to the fair, with all expenses paid, and there they contest among themselves for the state championship in judging animals. They not only see the best livestock in the state, but they are given the best of expert instruction on the 'points' of prize-bred stock. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary Manager of the fair, says that a boy who learns how to judge good livestock isn't very likely to raise poor grades. This year, the team of three winning boys will be sent to the International Livestock Show at Chicago, with all expenses paid, to compete nationally.

HEALING THE SICK

Nature The Only Way. Millions today know how to preserve their health and live to a ripe old age. They use nature's only way—Bulgarian Blood Tea. IT PURIFIES THE BLOOD. IT GENTLY MOVES THE BOWELS. IT STRENGTHENS THE STOMACH. IT CURES NERVOUS ACTION. IT FLUSHES THE KIDNEYS. Every thoughtful parent will keep a box of this Pure Herb Tea on hand as a sure and speedy cure for colds and will call "Bulgarian Blood Tea" the most genuine medicine ever known. It is everywhere by Druggists. Only for the farthest but the commonest as well. Let's all hasten for the Bulgarian. For further particulars about this organization, we would respectfully ask the attention of our readers to the July issue of our course "America's Monthly News Bulletin," which is worth reading, every word of it.

Loss of Appetite. As a general rule, there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days, you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat more than you crave and take a very uneasy amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not find it very pleasant about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

"The Old Swimming Hole," famous in American song and story, is the opening scene in "In Wrong," Mack Pickford's new feature, which is being distributed by First National and which will be shown at the Lyric Theatre, tonight and Friday. Here, one sees Johnny Spivone, the character played by Pickford, making his entrance by coming up from the depth. On the shore sits his faithful dog, watching his clothes. Johnny, the driver of a grocery's wagon, has gone out past of the edge of town to serve a distant customer, and has taken this opportunity to cool off on the hot summer's day on which the story starts. He goes home, lies to his mother about his plunge into the creek, and is whipped for it.

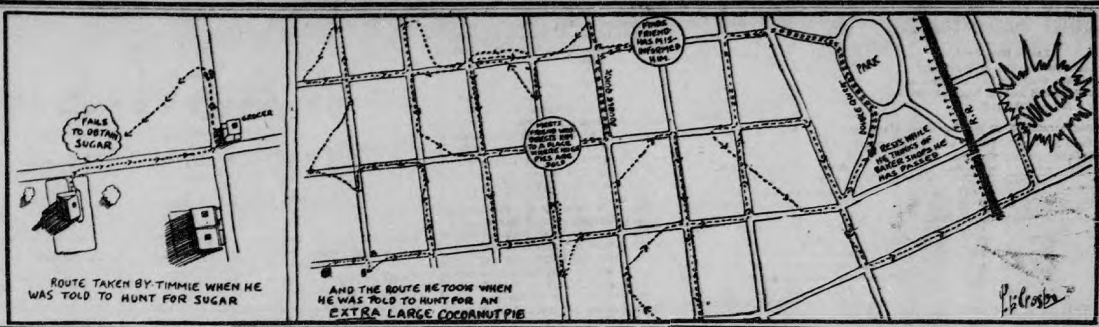

"In Wrong," introduces Jack Pickford as a poor lad with all sorts of ambition, who does not seem to be able to get ahead. After he has lost his girl to a city man, been "fired" from his job, and has seen his rival made the hero of the hour, his opportunity comes. Then he shows how to capture bank robbers with a no more pretentious weapon than a pitchfork.

Delta County Man Who Escaped Last Week Is Located

Marquette—Arthur Lindquist, who escaped from the branch prison Sunday morning, was captured late Monday night near Munising Junction and brought to Marquette in an automobile at about 2:45 Tuesday morning by an Alger county deputy sheriff and Munising policeman.

Lindquist, who was sentenced from Delta county, May 4, 1912, for second degree murder, is serving a second year sentence.

Although well equipped with shaving brush, soap, towels and other toilet articles, he told prison officials upon his return that he had lost his way while picking berries.

He was discovered in a box car at 11 o'clock Monday night at Munising Junction by E. L. Johnson, of Munising, who notified Alger county officers. It is thought that Lindquist after walking from Marquette to the Junction, hid in a box car, awaiting an opportunity to be taken to lower Michigan.

Mr. Johnson will receive the $100 reward offered by prison officials for the arrest of the convict.

DEFENDER WINS IN FINAL RACE

RESOLUTE OUTSAILS SHAMROCK AND TAKES DECIDING CONTEST BY SAFE MARGIN.

Sandy Hook, N. J. July 28.—The America's cup stays in America. This was decided shortly before sundown on Tuesday when the American defender Resolute captured the 1920 regatta 3 to 2 by defeating Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV in the final race.

The defender outsailed the green sloop decisively, boat for boat in the last contest of a tempestuous series—the closest and most hard fought in the history of the precious trophy—crossing the line at 7:55:22 (unofficial time), only about twenty-five minutes before expiration of the six hours' time limit.

The saddest messages of things are made by those who mistake impudence for courage.

A man who has made a good deal of money without much work never can understand why anybody can't make a good deal of money without much work.

MINERS WILL BE ORDERED BACK

UNION OFFICIALS WILL ACT IN CONNECTION WITH UNAUTHORIZED COAL STRIKES.

Indianapolis, July 28.—The strike of company men and day workers in the Indiana coal fields was expected by union officials to be called off today. This action was forecast following a conference of representatives of the local union of United Mine Workers of Districts No. 11, held in Terre Haute this morning.

No Profitting.

New York, July 28.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer agreed with representatives of the coal industry at a conference here on Tuesday to appoint a representative committee, which will fix the maximum price for bituminous coal.

It is agreed that individuals and firms, exacting profits beyond the fair margin, fixed by the committee, will be subject to investigation, and prosecution under the Lever act.

Will Resume Operation.

Bellefonte, July 28.—James Mason, secretary of Bellefonte, sub-district of United Mine Workers, today announced that the Missouri and Illinois Coal Co., operating mines at Wilderman and Sentschler, near here and the Highland Coal Co., which also has a mine near Bellefonte, have agreed to give the day men the demanded wage increase of 25 cents an hour and that these mines would begin operations immediately. About 250 men are employed at the three collieries, it was said.

The Conference.

St. Louis, July 28.—The conference of coal mine operators in the central competitive field was called to order today by Thomas S. Brewster, chairman of the executive committee, to determine whether to sanction a joint session of miners and operators in an attempt to settle unauthorized coal strikes. Brewster said today he expected replies from the four state conferences early today. He said he would then decide whether to agree to a joint meeting asked by John L. Lewis, the miners' president.

ESCANABA

Methodists Request Merrill's Return

The fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist church, held at the parsonage, was well attended. After an excellent supper had been served, splendid reports were given by all the societies and officers were elected for the ensuing year. The pastor, the Rev. C. M. Merrill, was voted an increase in salary and invited to return to Escanaba next year. Dr. H. A. Leason, superintendent for the upper peninsula district, presided.

THE SLEEPING PORCH

THE sleeping porch is something which is added to a house in order to provide more room for fresh air and feet. Every night during the heated term thousands of new, expensive sleeping porches are crowded with feet which protrude carelessly from the covers, instead of having to be run out of the bedroom window in the effort to cool off. All over the middle West, at this time of the year, myriad number of faithful feet wearing patent-soled shoes are led into sleeping porches by their owners and put there the mid evening zephyr and the stray lightning bug can roam over their surface.

Nine times out of ten the sleeping porch is an afterthought. It is one of the most high-priced things a man can have, if he is going to keep up with some neighbor who started his sleeping porch immediately after the cistern was dug. It costs more to the 12 by 18 sleeping porch to the second story of an old house than it does to build a bungalow from the ground up, including a hot-air furnace and open-work plumbing. This is because the work is never started until a hot night comes along and parbolls the entire family to a delicious plink hoo.

Most people never use the sleeping porch except when it is necessary to save human life. It is sad to see men put hundreds of hard-earned dollars into a capacious, hard blue sleeping porch and allow it to stand idle and collect dirt and autumn leaves. It is equally sad to see a large family troop into one of those porous porches on the first hot evening and discover that the beds have not been made up since the 31st of the preceding August. This causes much discontent on the part of husbands who were led to expect different treatment prior to the wedding morn.

Some enthusiasts use the sleeping porch the year around, retiring in the dead of winter with a soapstone, a set of curlers, a fur box and four suits of woolen underwear. This gives them plenty of fresh air and also encourages the growth of the "unobtrusive" chubbies. After a while they get so accustomed to it that they can remove one layer of underwear and substitute a hotwater bag, located in the small of the back. Those who think that all of the heat and benefits were in the European war should try this next winter for one week, and jot down their impressions after coming out of the hospital.

Unless you have been told by competent authorities that you can sing, you can't.

Summer Complaint in Children

There is not anything like so many deaths from this disease now as before Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy came into such general use. When this remedy is given with castor oil as directed and proper care is taken as to diet, it is safe to say that fully ninety-nine out of every hundred cases recover. Mr. W. G. Campbell of Butler, Penn., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for summer complaint in children. It is far ahead of anything I have ever used for this purpose."

MOTOR TAXES MORE THAN DOUBLE IN AMOUNT

Lansing, July 20.—Registry taxes and fees for motor vehicles, chauffeurs and miscellaneous items collected by the state department for the first six months of the year exceeds the total amount for the full year of 1919 by more than $1,500,000 as shown by the report of the department for the quarter, ending June 30.

The total amount of last year was $2,119,423.25, while for the first six months of this year it amounted to $5,623,374.15.

Wayne county in 1919 paid to the state department in state fees and taxes $1,949,232.22 as compared with $1,657,986.05 for the first half of this year. The county will receive $228,243 of fee for the past six months or more than $200,000 above the total for 1919.

The state will pay back to the counties for the first six months of this year $2,513,755.96, as compared with $1,694,946.76 for the full year 1919. These moneys are disbursed by the quarterly report which the law requires must be made to the auditor general, together with a proper appointment to each county of one-half the fees and taxes paid by it to the state department. The other one-half goes to the state highway department and is used in the payment of state rewards on roads.

The amount which Wayne county will receive for the second quarter of the year is $184,531.03 or one-half the amount paid in Kent county is second with $86,784.30 to its credit. Genesee is third with $29,220.37 and Saginaw fourth with $22,882.83. Osceola county is last on the roll, with $48.25 for the second three months of the year.

THE GREATEST MENACE.

Kalamazoo, July 21.—Indifference to the welfare of others is the greatest menace in American life today, said Mrs. Helen Currier Staller, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the third district, in an address Wednesday to Western State Normal students.

"The hardest thing for us to do," Mrs. Staller continued, "is to really care about things and the next hardest thing is to do something about them. The public does not care that 23,000 mothers die annually in childbirth because of neglect and ignorance. It does not care that 250,000 babies are sacrificed each year to improper care. We know it does not care because time and again bills to prevent the annual waste in human life have been before congress and failed because the people were apathetic."

petitioners to entitle him to a place on the Republican ballots at the coming primary election as a candidate for governor.

The order issued is returnable by July 29, and briefs must be in within 20 days, indicating the court will give prompt attention to the matter and decide in time for the election whether Attorney General Groesbeck ruled correctly that the proposed constitutional amendment is in conflict with the federal constitution.

Mr. Hamilton's argument was based on the claim that the secretary of state, having once decided to submit the proposed amendment, had no right to change his decision. The secretary of state, he contended, is an administrative officer only, having no right to pass on legal questions. The not pass on the constitutionality of an amendment in advance of its adoption.

Attacks Bill.
Flint, Mich.—Replying to an inquiry from M. J. Murphy, a Detroit manufacturer, Charles S. Mott, of Flint, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in the primaries August 31, declared Wednesday he is "unalterably opposed" to the so-called parochial and private school amendment, which he characterized as "class legislation of the most vicious sort and directly in conflict with the United States constitution."

Mr. Mott said: "The state insists that every child have the advantage of an education. The constitution of the United States provides that every parent shall have the right to determine the manner and methods by which the child shall be educated."

"The proposed so-called parochial and private school amendment to the Michigan state constitution is in direct conflict with both the letter and spirit of the constitution."

HARDING TAKING THINGS EASIER
Marion, Ohio, July 26.—Senator Harding took an easier stride in his campaign work today. He had a few callers on his appointment list, but most of the day he gave over to correspondence and recreation. Within a day or two he expects to begin preparation of his speech to be made here Saturday to a delegation from Mansfield, Ohio.

THREE CHILDREN LOSE LIVES WHEN HOME BURNS

Fergus Falls, Minn.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wright were burned to death when the family residence at Wrightstown in the extreme western part of this county was destroyed by fire late Saturday, according to word received here today.

A daughter, 8 years old, and two sons, aged 6 and 2, were the victims. The father had gone blueberry picking, and the mother was in the barn milking the cows when her attention was attracted by the roar of the flames. She broke in the windows and tried to rescue the children, but failed. The home was burned to the ground.
