WILL ALSO PASS ON ANNUAL BUDGET AT ANNUAL MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY

SCHOOL TAX REMAINS SAME

The taxpayers, and guardians and parents of children of school age who attend the annual school meeting at the Junior high school gymnasium next Monday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock, will elect two trustees for the Board of Education, and will also be asked to vote on the budget for next term, an estimate of which will be presented at this meeting. The two members of the board whose terms

A complete and itemized report of the expenditures for school purposes in the last two years, to which reference is made in our editorial column as being printed in this issue, will appear next week instead. The report was not audited in time for publication in this issue.

expire this year are Dr. D. N. Kee and Paul B. Hammond, both of whom have stated that they would not be candidates for re-election. Mr. Hammond has served as a trustee for 18 years and Dr. Kee has also a long time of service to his credit, having been a member of the board for 16 years. The estimate of expenses for next year will run to about the same figure as last year, $184,235. Of this amount about $20,000 will come from the primary school fund and the balance will be levied against local property in the form of school taxes. There is a possibility for a reduction of about $10,000 when the Bohm bill becomes effective next year.

Last year there were a few over 400 who attended the meeting, and it was the best attended in a long time. It is expected that there will be considerable interest in the election this year as two new members will be elected. Several names have been mentioned as possible candidates but none of these have been announced officially by the parties concerned. The school election is conducted along the old caucus system, nominations being made from the floor, and the voters writing the names on blank ballots for the election. The terms to be voted for are for three years each.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE BY HANGING

COMMITS SUICIDE WITH USE OF BED SHEET IN BASEMENT OF HOME MONDAY MORNING

Mrs. Martha Johnson, 66 years of age ended her life some time Monday morning by hanging herself in the basement of the family home following many months of ill health, to which the act is attributed.

Her body was found by her husband about 4:30 Monday morning hanging from a torn bed sheet suspended in the basement, it is being an apparent fact that Mrs. Johnson had prepared means of her death and then stepped from a chair.

A note left for her husband told him that her body could be found in a nearby yard.

The deceased is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Sam Mills of Escanaba, who was married July 3. The mother appeared to brood over the loss of her daughter who last year was a member of the faculty at the Buckeye school.

Her death comes as a shock to the sorrowing members of the faculty, there being no recent indications of her act, although Mrs. Johnson has made similar attempts on former occasions.

The remains were taken to her home at Marshall, Wis., where she had purchased a lot in the cemetery. Preparations for burial were made at the Anderson Undertaking Parlor of Escanaba.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved husband and daughter.

BODY OF W. CAMERON LAID TO REST HERE

The beautiful floral offerings which adorned his casket while it lay in state at the family home on Wisconsin avenue are evidence of the high esteem and respect with which Mr. Cameron was regarded throughout the community.

COOKING SCHOOL HAS LAST SESSION TODAY

The Free Cooking School which has been conducted at the Community building each afternoon from 2 till 4 o'clock beginning Tuesday by Mrs. Margaret E. Brown, a graduate in Home Economics from the Indiana State Normal will come to a close this afternoon with a discussion of salads, and their importance in the diet.

Demonstrations given will be French dressing and variations, Minnie Mayonnaise, Quick Mayonnaise, variations of Mayonnaise and types of salads.

Many women have taken advantage of the excellent instruction given at these classes, and have presented themselves 100 per cent each afternoon.

Mrs. Brown gives her instruction in such a manner that it is not impossible to grasp excellent methods that she demonstrates. She has dealt thoroughly with every branch of cookery, with emphasis on the particular type of food advisable for children, and women folk.

Each day the ladies came provided with pencil and paper to take notes on the recipe demonstrated, and manner of handling cooking utensils.

The classes have been conducted absolutely free, and the instruction given is thoroughly appreciated by local housekeepers.

"A considerable amount of money has been spent in fixing up a Tourist Park. The one thing the city needs to make its park of real value to its citizens, was a bath house. A creditable bath house has been built and equipped, and through the co-operation with the city, an attendant provided. Some much needed equipment was added to the Tourist Camp.

"The thanks of the community are due to the men who worked on the park committee and gave a great deal of their own time and labor to the work, and the Marble Arms & Mfg. Co. for material and assistance furnished by them.

"The Directors feel that the improvements to the park it maintained properly, will confer a lasting benefit, not only to visitors but more particularly to our own citizens, especially our boys and girls."

Coy and the Misses Marie Kimber and Genevieve Robbe of Gladstone and Burt Walker and Mrs. Louis Walker of Escanaba motored to Sturgeon Bay, Wis. for the homecoming on July 4th.

As Sturgeon Bay can not be reached by but one route and that over a long bridge it is possible to count the cars and over five thousand drove over that bridge to participate in the homecoming celebration; yet but one mishap was reported for the 4th and no one hurt; only a car damaged.

Rev. Harry W. Colenso is credited with the honor of having been unanimously re-elected to serve his parish for the coming year. WILL VOTE ON $15,000 BOND PROPOSAL

MASONVILLE TWP. ELECTION TO BE HELD MONDAY, JULY 13

Notices have been posted that the annual Township School election will be held at the Rapid River town hall Monday from 3 to 6 p. m. and from 6 to 7 p. m. business of the township schools will be discussed. There is to be elected one trustee for a term of 2 years and the only candidate is O. H. Nevu the present incumbent. This makes of the election a minor affair.

But bonding of the school district for the sum of $15,000.00 is of vital importance and should cause every qualified voter to learn something of this bonding proposition and then go to the polls on Monday, July 13th. There is no question but that we need a gymnasium at the high school, also that the village needs a community building but will the gym be fully equipped for the school use or will it be a gym in name only and be a race-track building to all intents and purposes.

The school needs a gymnasium and it could be used also for community purposes it is a mighty good bonding proposition and worthy of your support but when you speak of the need of a gym at the High School there is another need that is really a part of the gym and could be included in the proposition. There should be a playground suitable for all athletic activities of the school such as baseball, football, track, outdoor basketball, slides swings etc. There is a very suitable field north of the school that would answer the purpose and possibly could be leased for a long term of years or purchased outright.

With little work plowing, dragging and seeding down it would make an excellent baseball and football field. This would also fill a long felt want in a community way as the city ball club could use the ground during the summer months. Who said a "Edgemoor Memorial Athletic Field" well, that's it.

F. R. BUECHNER WAS SPEAKER AT ROTARY

F. R. Buechner gave a very splendid talk at the Rotary Luncheon Monday noon. His subject was Utility Readjustment. He dealt primarily with the utility problem, but provided the light, water, telephone and street railway questions with particular emphasis on the changes in rates of the light and water plants, and the proposed changes in the street railway and telephone companies rates.

Mr. Buechner has made investigations into these matters, and was in a position to discuss the questions very thoroughly, and his satisfaction of the members of the club, who greatly appreciated and enjoyed his remarks.

AN EPITOME OF THE 4TH OF JULY

DR. MILLER DELIVERS INSPIRING ADDRESS, TELLS OF FREEDOM'S BLESSING

"I will not bore you with a long dissertation on the history of the Fourth of July... The free man possesses all of the qualities the slave is wanting; he has initiative, is industrious; he draws his plans, sets his stakes and works for an ideal. In the distance he can see a paid up home or farm where he may rest in his old age and enjoy the fruits of his labor, produced in his youth and strength. May we guard well our freedom that we may be able to pass it on to the next generation, unshackled and secure."

"The widely discussed topic of today is immigration. Herein lies a duty that should concern every loyal American citizen. In the recent world war there was found a menacing residue in the melting pot of our English cousin, Mr. Zangwill, that seriously obstructed mobilization of the American Army... Immigration regulations for many years were seriously faulty. The newcomers were harshly treated; insulating apathy, indifference to their immediate needs and comforts; unnecessary delays and the miscarriage of justice was a flagrant practice of our government's officers. New officers and better regulations are being enacted. Changes made, and immigrants are now receiving these newcomers in obvious ways. We must extend a welcome hand, invite them to our social gatherings, urge them to learn the English language, to read and write, to get them employment and thus hasten the passing of lingering memories of their friends and kinsmen in the old world. Over all this, our great inspire is the realization of the constant efforts of both native and adopted citizens of our country, and that we welcome all lovers of freedom to share with us the blessing of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. This will hasten naturalization, co-operation, and solidification; the imperative needs of our country if we would perpetuate and safeguard the glorious heritage bequeathed to us by the founders of our Republic. Then the faith and hope of our citizen George Washington as expressed in his letter to LaFayette, will be realized. 'This nation will never be in danger of degenerating into a monarchy, oligarchy, aristocracy or any other oppressive form of government, as long as there shall remain any virtue in the body of the people.'"

Farewell Surprise Party
A most enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Johnson on Sunday afternoon in honor of Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Hanson who left Sunday evening for their home at Seattle, Wash. by way of Nebraska where they will visit at about time Rev. Hanson's former home. There were 15 parents with about 60 children in attendance. Each family brought a quantity of viands and a spread was made under the trees in the yard of the Johnson home. After the services at the Swedish-Lutheran church in the forenoon, Rev. Hanson had bid farewell to all not expecting to see them again so the surprise was complete when the party called in the afternoon. After a delightful afternoon spent together a large number of the party accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Hanson to Gladstone where they attended the concert of the Augustana Male Quartet. After the concert the party went to the Soo Line station where Rev. and Mrs. Hanson boarded No. 7 for their long journey to their home with the well wishes of the community ringing in their ears. Mrs. Hanson is the daughter of Mr. William Ackley and a sister of Mrs. Oscar E. Johnson.

Quiet Wedding Friday
Miss Emma M. Rabidou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rabidou, and Carlton Struble of Gladstone, were quietly married at the rectory of St. Charles Catholic church last Friday morning. The attendants were Miss Doris Birch of this city, and Louise Louis of Gladstone. The bride couple left immediately by motor for Flint for a short visit and upon their return will make their home in Gladstone. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schoenberg of Milwaukee, returned from the Soo Tuesday evening and after remaining overnight at the home of Mrs. Schoenberg's mother, Mrs. Chas. Fish, they left on the morning train at Escanaba for their home.
Manager Bergman of the Colts has booked a game for July 20th with the McCoy-Nolan colored team of Milwaukee that played a fast game here last year but had to take the small end of the ham. Next Sunday Nahma plays here and as it stands one and one with them this should be a game worth going to see.

4TH CELEBRATION A BIG SUCCESS

The celebration of Independence Day here was one of the most successful held in many years. Every part of the program was pulled off on schedule and thoroughly enjoyed. The Color Guard of the Legion with the band led the parade of more than 50 cars, many of them beautifully decorated. The fire department followed the band with the Legion army tank and the Auxiliary First Aid float representing the first aid work on the field of battle. The next in line, the decorated auto and others followed making a long line. The procession formed at the railroad crossing at the lower end of the main street and proceeded to the High School where it turned and went back again through the main street to the Maccabee Hall where it disbanded.

After the parade and selections by the band in front of the Town Hall, Mr. W. J. Miller read the Declaration of Independence. Dr. R. Miller delivered the oration of the day in a very masterful style. The races were won as follows: 100 yd. dash for boys, 18 years or under, Ronald White, 1st, George Williamson 2nd. 100 yd. dash for boys, 12 years or under, Axel Olson, 1st, Gunnar Nelson, 2nd, Arteran Rushford 3rd. 100 yd. dash for girls, 12 years or under, Olive Wickstrom, 1st, Anna Tiener, 2nd, Jane LaPine and Erna Proehl tied for 3rd. Bicycle race, Roger Kirsh, 1st; Herman Vietake, 2nd, Leslie Caldwell, 3rd. Boys Three Legged Race Roger Kirsh and Basil Ackley 1st; Nap, Soudah and John Miller, 2nd. 100 yd dash for men, Carl Obern 1st, Archie Mureche 2nd. 50 yd dash for men of 50 years and over, L. E. Scott, 1st, John Lundberg, 2nd.

This was a feature race sighted participating in it whose ages total 47 1/2 years. The afternoon program began with a band concert at 1:30 followed by a singing of war between a team of ten men from outside the village picked by Harry Wickstrom as captain and a team of ten men of the village captained by Carl Wickstrom. The crowd here won the prize of $10.00. The baseball game began at 3 o'clock and was won by the Colts by 7 to 5. The water fight was won by Milford Potvin and Ted Schiska. A dance in the evening at the Smith hall, concluded the day's entertainment.

To say that Rapid River can celebrate is putting it mildly but to know that many former residents came hundreds of miles to participate in this celebration is conclusive proof of it.

Memories--Rapid River

(Rapid River Local, July 6, 1905)
Commissioner Dillabough held a meeting Thursday at Froberg's mill to arrange for the opening of the long desired new road, one eighth mile north of the south township line, to eastern boundary in 42-1. It is two and a half miles long and will be a good thing.

N. Valind of Escanaba visited his sister, Mrs. Darling on the Fourth.

Gene Peterson of Gladstone visited Karl Laframboise this week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Burt of Gladstone visited here Tuesday.

The Gladstone team came up here Sunday, and was trimmed as usual, by a score of 28-10 in spite of their recruited players. The first and second games were played on the Fourth, at the Escanaba team did not appear, because of rain. The spectators had a desire to see a victory for the second team, but were disappointed, 13 to 2.

A request is entered here, at the desire of the residents, for merchants to leave a passage way on the sidewalk so that persons walking on the sidewalk street may not fall over anything.

Nels Lagerquist papered Ackley & Anguilla's saloon last Saturday with nice quiet paper.
Arthur Huxford this week sold out to his partner, D. L. White, who will conduct the business alone. Mr. Huxford is undecided as to what he will do next.
The Misses Stella Cardin and Violet Rabidou attended the commencement exercises at Gladstone last Thursday.

A FISH TALE OF ISAAC WALTON, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilford with Ted Schiska spent Sunday at Poplar Mountain camp. "Ted's" duty with the party as figure expert-mathematical figures was called upon many times to measure the members of the fishy tribe of the trout family caught by Penny. The number thrown back and the number retained, resembled the score of the Gladstone-Escanaba ball game of July 4th-17 to 3. The thunderous roar heard in the north was not the airplanes sent to capture the escaped convicts from Marquette, but was the fins and tails of the big ones tugging in their struggle to get away from the head-lock held by their captor. No Penny had none to sell nor did he give any of them away.

3 INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CAR TURNS OVER TWICE WHEN FORCED INTO DITCH ON JULY 4th

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Macki and Mr. and Mrs. J. Sapola, of Nahma, Ind., were the victims of a serious auto accident on M-12 near the Stone Anderson mill the morning of July 4th. They were driving this way with their new Dodge touring car and in attempting to pass another car they did not notice the approach of a car coming toward them. It was too late for them to swing back into the road behind the car they were going to pass so were forced to go into the ditch where the car turned over twice. Fred Macki received severe cuts under the chin extending into the lower part of the mouth. Mrs. Macki received severe cuts and bruises. A girl ten years of age received a severe laceration on her neck. The victims of the accident were taken to the office of Dr. R. R. Miller where they were attended to and then driven to their homes by C. O. Carlson. The car was badly damaged and was brought to the Carlson garage for repairs.

FRISKY COLTS TAKE TWO GAMES

July 4th Game 7 to 5. July 5th Game Ends 8 to 7.
Colts again bowed to defeat before the frisky Colts in a close game here July 4th. Griffin pitched a masterful game and deserved to win, allowing only 5 hits but 11 errors behind him spelled defeat. Several times a missed third strike accounted for a run. Delaney for the Colts also pitched a good game allowing only 4 hits but getting far better support. The fielding of Hall at second for the Colts featured the game.

R. H. E. Cooke won by Innings 00301100-5 6 11
Colts 02101102-7 5 4
Batteries, Griffin and Pappeneau; Delaney and Kniskern.

The Sunday game with Trenary was won by the Colts, 8 to 7 after a very exciting 4th inning rally on the part of both teams. Trenary started their half of the 9th trailing behind by the score of 8 to 4 but they began a rally of 4 hits that soon netted them 3 runs and the lead. It looked like Trenary's game as the Colts had been unable to get a run across after the 3rd inning but with a single by Kniskern to start the fireworks, the Colts from a succession of hits, a double, a steal and a wild peg to third soon had two runs across and the game tied. With only one down and second and third occupied Hamilton poled a line drive over the fence, the shouting was over with the winning run.

Christoff started on the mound for the Colts and was holding his own until the sixth when he was touched up for three hard drives and a walk and Ted Trenary 2 runs and a single, Christoff to the showers. Delaney, who had pitched the day before, went in with the bases filled and only one out but was not scored on until the 6th when he was touched up for a white and nearly lost the game. Score by Innings R. H. E. Trenary 00101200-7 10 7 Colts 02100900-8 9 5 Batteries, Delaney and Hyrstromen, Christoff, Delaney and Kniskern.

GLADSTONE BEATS ESCANABA TWICE

COUNTY SEATERS GIVEN BAD DRUBBING IN JULY FOURTH GAME

Gladstone defeated Escanaba in both games of the July 4 series. In the Saturday game played here the score was 17 to 3. Sunday at Escanaba, the locals won 7 to 6. By winning both games, Gladstone took an upward move in the upper peninsula association standings and is now leading in the southern circuit, which is composed of the teams at Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Crystal Falls, in addition to Gladstone.

The city of Gladstone had planned a celebration for the Fourth but the bombardment of hits of the locals has provided plenty of excitement, even for a national holiday of such significance. Hank Beyers who last year pitched Escanaba to a championship, was on the mound for the county seaters and his offerings were pounded unmercifully. The local slugger had on their batting tops and they collected a total of 22 hits, two of them three baggers and seven for two bases. Every man on the team went around the paths at least once, and each garnered one or more hits.

"Lefty" Patten, Gladstone's premier southpaw, was on the mound for the locals, and he hit the visitors at his mercy throughout striking out seven and allowing but six hits. Bud Kessler was the leading striker for the visitors, getting a double and a home run, and being responsible for all of their runs.

Sunday's game was closer fought. Stanley Millard last year's star, was back in Gladstone uniform and for six innings breezed along in old-time form, allowing but four hits in that period. Stan lost his effectiveness after the sixth and in the last three innings the county seaters garnered 10 hits which produced four runs, which added to the four scored in the first inning placed them within one run of the seven which the locals had accumulated off the left handed starter.

"Lefty" Hunter, Manitowoc hurler pitching for Escanaba. It would take a book to tell all about the hitting of the locals in the Saturday game. It was one continual bombardment from start to finish. The fellows, the old ones and the young ones, were running around the sacks so much that it resembled a marathon more than a ball game. Escanaba made a claim at the start of the game that they had a crippled ball team, and regardless of whether or not this was true at the start, it certainly was at the finish. The fellows were crippled from chasing so many balls. The box score tells more in detail the numbers of hits and runs made by the locals.

It wasn't so easy on Sunday, but at that it was easy enough. Escanaba got away to a two run lead. Gladstone made one in the third, and two each in the fifth, sixth and eighth. That looked like a safe lead to give Millard, but Escanaba came in strong on the finish and almost succeeded in busting it up in the ninth. One run had been scored in the seventh and when Escanaba came to bat in the ninth the count was 7-3 for Gladstone. Derwin single, went to second on Desilets' fumble and scored when Nelson also singled. Hunter filled out to White and Smith filed to Kircher. The outcoming started with two out. Konecke singled, sending Nelson to third, Vassau was walked, filling the bases. McDonald, who had struck out four times, came up and hit the first out for two bases, sending two Vassau was on third with the tying and McDonald on second with the winning run, with Kessler up. Bud took the one, two three count, and Millard finished his game in a spectacular style. Gladstone had won two games from Escanaba and here are the box scores:

Base Ball Gossip

Gladstone introduced two new infielders in the July 4 series. Jensen at third and Lammers at short. The former replaces Botin who was let out, and Lammers replaces Knapp who will play the outfield in Tommy Desilets place while the latter is away.

Manager Tom Desilets left Sunday night for Sankaton, Saskatchewan, where he will look for a location for himself as dentist. Tom figures on locating in Western Canada. He may come back in about three weeks to finish the season with Gladstone. Eddie Williams will be acting manager while Desilets is away. Tommy will be missed around the local diamond.

Gladstone is fortunate in having a man of William's ability to look after the team. Williams is an old timer who knows the ins and outs of the game, and what is better still, he knows how to impart his knowledge to the younger players on the team. He has a pleasing personality and is well liked both on and off the ball field.

With a pitching staff made up of Patten and Millard, winning pitchers, and Vanderwehe, promising recruit, on the roster, Gladstone can be counted upon to make trouble for the teams it is pitted against. This Saturday and Sunday, the locals play here with the Puqua Colored Giants of Chicago; July 19 Iron Mountain plays here, and July 26 Gladstone goes to Marquette.

The colored boys coming here this week end are reputed to be the classiest team made up of colored players. In addition to having a fast and capable team on the field, the Puqua Giants have a colored male quartet which we hope to have entertain the fans. The team is coming to Gladstone directly from Chicago where they have been playing semi-pro games. Other games for next week will be sought in the upper peninsula, but the team is not on a barnstorming trip. They can be depended upon to furnish some classy baseball.

Gladstone played good ball back of Patten in the Saturday game and again Sunday when Millard was pitching. The infield never looked so good before, and the outfield was airtight. Kircher has finally hit his stride and is going good.

Gladstone's two new infielders were brought up here from near Green Bay by Chief Williams. Lammers had just quit a southern league because of the overly warm weather and Jensen is a former University of Wisconsin player.

Harry Knapp, who will play in center, is no stranger in the outfield as he started in that position. Many fans are more than pleased to see him out there again. With Knapp in center, the Gotfrid Johnson will resume his position in left field. He was crowded out in the last series but that was to give the management a chance to look over the other two players.

Chief Eddie Williams will have one advantage when he comes to sell his Ford car. You don't need a license to run it. Lefty Patten says its so old it runs on passion.

what a queer thing human knowledge is? It is a fact that the lowest orders of living beings know more than man in many ways. The worm and the spider cannot be equalled in their retaining the wrap an equal in in paper making, the ant is a the subway builder, and the "lightning bug" is doing every night what man has tried to do for centuries, produce light without heat and with a minimum of machinery.

The electrician handles his ohms and his kilowatts, and covers the earth with his network of wires, and yet cannot answer the simplest questions put to him by a child, "What is electricity?" In every line of endeavor the "why" has to be answered by the "I do not know."

So much as proof that we don't know it all, and we never will know it all. No individual ever will a History Professor used to say, "You meet with no one that could not tell you something that you don't know." That can be applied to all of us, and the only way we can increase our knowledge is to increase our capacity for knowledge by discarding the "I know it all" idea and regarding all with whom we come in contact with an attitude of "big me and little you."

Strictly correct form forbids the use of anything but the pen in letters other than business communications. However, the common use of the type-written letter has become so intimate...

A personal letter such as one which gives, accepts or refuses an invitation must be written in ink on appropriate stationery.

Envelopes addressed to a woman whose husband is living should carry her husband's name as "Mrs. John H. Turner." It is not considered strictly elegant to use the professional or business name of the woman should she be possessed of one such as "Dr. Mary Brown Turner."

Many widows prefer to be addressed by their maiden name if they have been accustomed for years; but may write "Mrs." before their signature to indicate her status as a married woman.

For letters, women who like to follow the strictly conventional way use only paper which is white or of a very dull tone of blue or gray.

Every letter should contain the writer's address as well as the date. A safe complimentary closing for all letters is "Sincerely yours." The word "Yours" must always appear in the closing phrase.

A married woman signs her own name to all letters, as "Mary Margaret Smith." She never used the prefix as part of her signature, but may write "Mrs." before her signature to indicate her status as a married woman.

It is a courtesy to one's correspondents to destroy all but important business communications. Social letters become a nuisance if preserved, and sentimental letters should be saved from falling into unfriendly hands.

Whoever reads a personal letter without the permission of the writer is betraying a trust.

TRIP TO SOO OVER GOOD ROADS NOW

MR. CUMMINGS OF COMMERCIAL CLUB VISITS HERE AND TELLS ABOUT HIS CITY

Sault Ste. Marie has something to advertise and it believes in going out aggressively and advertising it according to William J. Cummings, asstant secretary of the Civic and Commercial association of the Sault, who is making a trip through the upper peninsula for the two-fold purpose of "telling the world" about the Sault and of gathering first-hand information about Cloverland for use in the office of the Sault association's Tourist Information Bureau. Our association believes in co-operating with the other cities of the upper peninsula. We are going to advertise in their newspapers and we are going to ask them to speak a good word for the Sault to visiting tourists and we assure them that we will do likewise."

Mr. Cummings, who was in Gladstone last Friday, said he does not expect anyone to speak in our behalf without a knowledge of the facts," he added. "Good roads now lead to the Sault and no one need be afraid that he will get in wrong by saying so. We have fine golf courses, and the famous locks, of course, and Canada is only a stone's throw away, across the river. Our tourist camp, on the shore of the river is one of the best anywhere. We want our friends throughout the length and breadth of the upper peninsula to know these things, and I am gathering similar data about their cities which will be glad to use in their interest."

Mr. Cummings made the point that every tourist who goes on from here to the Sault, instead of turning back from here, is a tourist that this city is likely to see again, thus getting double patronage out of him.

The Sault is greatly interested in the completion of Trunk line 48, which joins trunk line 12 a few miles east of Trout Lake and goes directly into the Sault, and by plugging into run in Marquette July 15 to celebrate the event, Mr. Cummings stated. This gives the tourist two fine highways into the Sault from the west, as he can come in over 48, or can continue on 12 all the way, visiting St. Ignace and Les Cheneaux en route, or he can come in one way and return via the other route. It was pointed out. Also trunk line 25, the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial highway, will soon be in shape for travel, which will make a third and even more direct trunk line paralleling the D. S. S. & A. railway. "Boast us and we'll boost you" is the Sault slogan. Thousands of tourists are coming into the Sault from Canada, from lower Michigan and off the Great Lakes passenger boats. "We've got to send them somewhere. We want to send them to you. We want the dope on your roads, your points of scenic and historic interest, your golf courses, your fishing, your auto camps, your hotels and all the rest of it," said Mr. Cummings.

When night slips down and day departs And rest returns to weary hearts, How fine it is to close the book Of records for the day, and look Once more along the traveled mile And find that all has been worth while To say "In honor I have toiled; My plume is spotted and soiled."

Yet cold and stern a man may be Retaining his integrity; And he may pass from day to day A spirit dead on living clay, Observing strictly moral laws, Yet serving but a selfish cause; So it is not enough to say; "I have not stooped to shame today."

It is a finer nobler thought When day is done and night has brought The contemplative hours and sweet, And rest to weary heads and feet, If man can stand in truth and say; "I have been useful here today, Back there is one I chanced to see With hope newborn because of me."

"This day in honor I have toiled; My shining crest is still unsoiled; But on the mile I leave behind Is one who says that I was king; And someone hums a cheerful song Because I chanced, to come along. Sweet rest at night that man shall own Who has not lived his day alone EDGAR A. GUEST "In a Heap 'OLVIN."

Yet cold and stern a man may be Retaining his integrity; And he may pass from day to day A spirit dead on living clay, Observing strictly moral laws, Yet serving but a selfish cause; So it is not enough to say; "I have not stooped to shame today."

An Irishman stood in police court one morning and the judge read the charge of assault and battery. The complaining witness, who stood there bare marks that were eloquent of Pat's wrath.

The judge asked Pat why he had beaten up the witness. Pat replied: "Your honor, I was standing on the street corner awaiting my own affairs when a thin man came along and called me a dirty Irish dog and pushed me out in the street. I gave him a beating."

"But" said the judge, "it isn't right to beat a man for that."

"Well, Judge, if you were in my place and this man called you a dirty Irish dog, wouldn't you have done the same thing?"

The judge was a big Scotchman and very proud of his nationality, "it would be impossible to call me a dirty Irish dog, for I am not Irish he said."

"Well then said Pat, "if he called you the dirty kind of a dog that you are what would you have done?"

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EDITORS

The convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association opens here today with some 400 editors present from all parts of the Dominion and from Newfoundland. The fact that the association is able to hold largely attended and successful gatherings of this kind every year indicates that this branch of the newspaper profession is in a healthy and progressive state. Last year they organized a tour to Europe, but their usual custom is to meet in different centres from coast to coast, and Winnipeg is very glad to welcome them on this occasion.

The weekly newspapers have had their troubles in recent years and there have been many casualties on account of the greatly increased cost of publishing. They have been assured to greater effort and the result has been an improvement in these newspapers and also the organization of the national association as a means of mutual assistance.

The editors of the weekly newspapers represent the country better than almost any other possible body of men could do, because each is so closely in touch with all phases of the life of his own community. That the greater part of the country is outside the large cities may not have occurred to some people who live in them and imagine that they largely constitute the country, while the towns and rural areas are of secondary consideration. The last few years have demonstrated rather forcefully that the cities do not stand up very well when anything happens to those other parts.

The annual gatherings of the weekly men have a national significance. They should be a factor in spreading mutual understanding between different sections of the country and in bringing about more effective national unity.—Winnipeg (Man.) Free Press.

BIG CROP OF BLUEBERRIES

The blueberry bushes are white with bloom, and indications point to a bumper crop in this north country. Should no frosts come to interfere it will probably be one of the greatest blueberry crops of record. And the blueberry crop is something important when it is a good one. It gives employment to thousands of people who make the season an outing, while they gather berries and incidentally make good money while so doing. The blueberry commands a fine price in the city markets for such berries as are grown in the upper peninsula of Michigan. Thousands of bushels are harvested and marketed when the crop is right and nearly every housewife in this region puts up from one half to a bushel for her own use. In pies and sauces it is a wonderful berry, needs little sugar in the preserving and is sure good to eat. So we are all pulling for a big crop.—Newberry News.

JURY SAYS NOT GUILTY

Walter Hanson who was charged with intoxication at a trial by a local justice on June 29 was found not guilty Tuesday by a jury of "dry men." Lawyer Glenn Jackson represented Mr. Hanson and George Carr, the state.

At his first trial on June 29, Mr. Hanson plead not guilty and demanded a jury trial.

YOUR HEALTH

BEASTLY BUG BITES

By Dr. B. S. Herben

"Po, fi fo, fum! I smell the blood of an Englishman!" And, so saying, all the tribes of backbiting insects swarm around to take their little meal of red fluid and to leave their lump-of-itch in the place of extraction.

What difference does it make to them that they do not adhere strictly to the correct discrimination of race; and what interest to us is it that larger fleas have lesser fleas upon their backs to bite 'em? We are concerned only with the fact that we cannot get to sleep, or that the itching spots are driving us mad, or that our faces present the aspect of a measles case.

Why should such a subject engage our serious consideration? For two reasons: One is that insects may carry disease and the other is that the bites may rise to serious infections because they are scratched.

Mosquitoes may carry malaria, and although this is not so common a disease now-days, mild cases occasionally occur and may be mentioned in passing. In malaria, the mosquito acts as the "middleman" for he takes into his body the parasite of malaria and then gives it to the human blood stream during the process of biting. In the human blood, the parasite develops and in the course of its growth causes the characteristic symptoms, "fever and ague."

In the southern half of our side of the hemisphere, the mosquito carries the germ of yellow fever, and the story of how medical research workers save themselves to the discovery of the mode of transmission of this fatal disease and so enabled their co-workers to wipe out the wide spread cause of death, is a dramatic one.

Bedbugs, lice or pediculi also carry disease no doubt. But these insects, together with our common mosquito, are dangerous particularly because they cause the itching which invites scratching. Scratching with the always germ-harboring finger nails has more than once caused the loss of life by engendering blood poisoning.

As Woods Hutchinson describes it, you often carry "death under the finger nail." I once saw a child who had scratched a bite on the shin and had terrible trouble with an infected knee as a result.

The thing to do, therefore, is to stop the itching at once, when there has been an insect bite. To do this, bathe the locality with a two percent solution of menthol or camphor, or cover it thickly with baking soda sufficiently dampened to stay where it is placed.

No Mean Retrenchment
Charles R. Flint, the New York financier, who is forming a $100,000,000 merger of bituminous coal companies, said the other day:

"This merger will bring about retrenchment, but there will be no mean retrenchment at the miners' expense."

Then Mr. Flint pointed his words with a story.

"A farmer's old wife," he began, "sat reading the 'Farm Journal', and as she had outgrown or rather outgaged spectacles, she had to hold the paper at arm's length in order to see the print."

"'Father, she said, with sighs, 'I do wish, the next time you go in to town, you'd buy me a stronger pair of specs.'"

"'Hah! said father, who was a notoriously mean old crumudgeon, 'it ain't stronger specs you need— it's longer arms.'"

LOVERS OF THREE PERIODS IN "THE ENCHANTED COTTAGE"

Love they say, is always the same but John S. Robertson, director of "The Enchanted Cottage," starring Richard Barthelmess, at the Community Theatre this week, is convinced that love, like everything else, changes Lovers of three different periods appear in "The Enchanted Cottage"—first, a nobleman and fair lady of the Court of James 2nd; then a bashful swain and demure maid of 1830; and finally, a war veteran and English governess of 1923, played by Mr. Barthelmess and May McAvoy.

"The woman was the aggressor on the 17th century, the period of Nell Gwynne, the first of all vampires," says Mr. Robertson. "The man played his cards first in the 18th century; and today, man and woman meet each other on equal terms and love naturally."

All of which proceeds that Mr. Robertson knows his psychology of love, as well as how to direct motion pictures.

"The Sign of the Cactus" tells the story of a fight between a big, snoring irrigation company and some ranchers. Hoxie has the part of a man who takes the law into his own hands to the effect that the ranchers may come into their rights.

The supporting cast includes Helen Holmes, Josef Swickard, Francis Ford, J. Gordon Hessel Jack Pratt, Frank Newberg, Muriel Frances Dana and Bobby Gordon.

"DRESSMAKER" HERE
Leatrice Joy and Ernest Torrence are featured at the Community Theatre all this week in the Paramount picture, "The dressmaker from Paris," which opens next Monday.

Paul Bern directed the production, which deals with a little French girl, a messenger in a modiste shop. She has ideas of some day becoming a great designer herself and, to further that ambition, enters a contest, the winner of which is to study in the establishment of the foremost creator of fashions in Paris. She wins the contest and we later see her in America, where she puts on a fashion show, the like of which has never before been seen in pictures.

Allan Forrest, leading man, and Mildred Harris head the strong cast playing in support of the principal players.

"The Dressmaker from Paris" was written especially for the screen by Adelaide Hellbron and Howard Hawks. Miss Hellbron is credited with the scenario.

Not a gun is pulled or fired in the most exciting Western thriller Jack Hoxie, Universal's celebrated star of the range has ever made. This is "Daring Chances," now playing at the Community Theatre. The story is with sensational chases, a desperate adventure at the edge of a cliff, a sensational jump from roof to his horse, Scout, and other exciting stunts but no gunpowder. Cliff Smith is responsible for the direction. The cast includes such favorites as Claude Payton, Alia Allen, Jack Pratt and Doreen Turner.

The Secret Adversary

by Agatha Christie

SYNOPSIS

PROLOGUE.—Realizing that she has a possible chance of being saved, the Lusitania is sinking, a stranger gives a young American girl a package which she asks her to deliver to the American ambassador in London.

CHAPTER I.—In London, former Laet, Tommy Beresford and Miss Phipps, who are running a business for an organization, "The Young Adventurers," make a business appointment with a man, Edward Whittington, who is a man of affairs and employment, but on giving her name as "Jane Finn," which she had heard on the street, Whittington shows agitation and Tuppence is told to return next day.

CHAPTER II.—On the morning the girl Jane Whittington's office deserted. In answer to an advertisement, "The Young Adventurers," the two receive notes from "Mr. Carter" and "Julius P. Hereshelmer." Carter is really a high government official. He explains to the two that "Mr. Brown" is really an alias name for "Mr. Brown" as head of the Bolsheviks in England, and explains to the two that he is seeking to find Jane Finn, whom he is seeking for important reasons of state.

"A naturalized German" asked Tommy. "On the contrary, I have every reason to believe he is an Englishman. He was pro-German, but he would have been pro-Roer. What he needs to ascertain we do not know—probably some unique power for himself, of a kind unique in history. We have no clue as to his real personality. It is reported that even his own followers are ignorant of it. Where he would have come across his tracks, he has always played a secondary part. He is also assumed the chief role. But afterward we always find that there has been some nonentity, a servant or a clerk, who has remained in the background unnoticed, and that the elusive Mr. Brown has escaped us once more."

"Oh!" Tuppence jumped. "I wonder—"

"Yes?"

"I remember in Mr. Whittington's office. The clerk—he called him Brown. You don't think—"

"Carter nodded thoughtfully. "Can you describe him at all?"

"I really didn't notice. He was quite ordinary—just like any other clerk. Mr. Carter sighed in his tired manner. "That is the invariable description of Mr. Brown! Brought a telephone message to the man Whittington, didn't he? Notice a telephone in the outer office?"

not till we've seen him. Come on." On inquiring for Mr. Hereshelmer, they were at once taken up to his suite. An impatient voice cried "Come in" in answer to the page-boy's knock, and the lad stood aside to let them pass in.

Mr. Julius P. Hereshelmer was a good deal younger than either Tommy or Tuppence, but he was a man of a gripe put him down as thirty-five. He was of middle height, and squarely built to match his jaw. His face was pug-nosed, but it was not a face which could have mistaken him for anything but an American, though he spoke with very little accent.

"Get my notes! Sit down and tell me right away all you know about my cousin."

"Your cousin?"

"Sure thing, Jane Finn."

"Is she your cousin?"

"My father and her mother were brother and sister," explained Mr. Hereshelmer meticulously.

"Oh!" cried Tuppence. "Then you know where she is?"

"No!" Mr. Hereshelmer brought down his fist with a bang on the table. "I'm damned if I do! Don't you see? We advertised to receive information, not to give it."

But Mr. Hereshelmer seemed to grow suddenly suspicious. "See here," he declared. "This isn't Sicily! No demanding ransom or threatening to crop her ears if I refuse. These are the British Isles, so let the funny business, or I'll just sing out for that beautiful big British policeman I see out there in Piccadilly."

the man who came this morning?"

"Yes, I do. No, I don't. That's a second. It was on his card. Oh, I know! Inspector Brown, quiet, unassuming sort of chap."

A veil might with profit be drawn over the events of the next half-hour. Suffice it to say that no such person as "Inspector Brown" was known to Scotland Yard. The photograph of Jane Finn, which would have been of the utmost value to the police in tracing her, was lost beyond recovery.

Once again "Mr. Brown" had triumphed. The immediate result of this setback was to effect a rapprochement between Julius Hereshelmer and the Young Adventurers. All barriers went down with a crash, and Tommy and Tuppence felt they had known the young American all their lives.

They abandoned the discreet reticence of "private inquiry agents," and revealed to him the whole history of the joint venture, whereas the young man declared himself "tickled to death."

He turned to Tuppence at the close of the narration. "You always had a kind of idea that English girls were just a little more grown. Old-fashioned and sweet, you know, but scared to move around without a footman or a maid, and I guess I'm a bit behind the times!"

The upshot of these confidential relations was that Tommy and Tuppence too, up always abode forthwith at the Ritz, in order, as Tuppence put it, to keep in touch with Jane Finn's only living relation. "And put like that," she added confidentially to Tommy, "nobody could help at the expense!"

Nobody did, which was the great thing. "And now," said the young lady on the morning after their installation, "to work! We should map out a plan of campaign."

"Hear, hear!"

"Well, let's do it. To begin with, what have we to go upon?"

things I wanted to know, and sent it to Mr. Carter. I got his reply this morning, and among other things it inclosed the official statement of those saved from the Lusitania."

"But the great point is, is there a 'Rita' on the list?"

"That's just what I don't know," confessed Tuppence. "You see, very few Christian names are given. They're nearly all Mrs. or Miss."

Tommy nodded. "That complicates matters," he murmured thoughtfully. "Well, we've just got to get down to it that's all. We'll start with the London area. Just note down the addresses of any of the families who live in London or roundabout, while I put on my hat."

Five minutes later the young couple emerged into Piccadilly, and a few seconds later a taxi was bearing them to The Laurels, Gladstone road, N.7, the residence of Mrs. Edgar Keith, whose name figured first in a list of seven residing in Tommy's pocketbook.

The Laurels was a dilapidated house, standing back from the road with a few grimy bushes to support the action of a front garden. Tommy paid off the taxi, and accompanied Tuppence to the front doorbell. He pressed the bell. Tuppence withdrew to a suitable spot.

A slatternly-looking servant, with an extremely dirty face and a pair of eyes that did not match, answered the door. Tommy had produced a notebook and pencil. "Good morning," he said briskly and cheerfully. "From the Hampstead borough council. The new Young Rogier, Mrs. Edgar Keith lives here, does she not?"

"Yess," said the servant. "Missus?" asked Tommy, his pencil poised. "Eleanor?" spelled Tommy. "Any"

"I am not. I propose to reason in a logical manner. That man, Danvers, was shadowed on the way over, wasn't he? And it's more likely to have been a woman than a man—"

"I don't see that at all."

"I am absolutely certain that it would be a woman, and a good-looking one," replied Tuppence calmly. "Now, obviously, this woman, whoever she was, was saved."

"sons or daughters over twenty-one?"

"Thank you." Tommy closed the notebook with a brisk snap. "Good morning."

"Good where, wasn't it? And we can repeat it ad lib. Where's the next, draw?"

"Mrs. Vandemeyer, 28 South Audley mansions, Miss Wheeler, 22 Clapington road, Battersea. She's a lady's maid, as far as I remember, so probably won't be there, and, anyway, she's not likely."

"Then the Mayfair lady is clearly indicated as the first port of call."

TELEPHONE NUMBER ENDS
JINX OF LOST UMBRELLA
The problem of how to retrieve that elusive umbrella has apparently been solved by a New York man, a broker, who has had his umbrella returned to him no less than seven times. He has had his telephone number engraved on the umbrella handle, and now when he carelessly leaves it in the subway or in some office, it is not long before he gets a ring on the telephone, informing him that he can have the umbrella if he will send for it. At least it has worked that way thus far.

One Step Removed
A mine superintendent who had come down into the lower levels to talk to a crew of men imprisoned by a cave-in was getting their last message. "George," he shouted to one colored miner, through a narrow aperture, "are you married?"

"Nessah," answered a lugubrious voice; "dis yah am de wastest fit Ah evah been in yit."—American Legion Weekly.

"Now, there's just a chance, I admit it's only a chance, that this woman may have been 'Rita.'"

"If so, we've got to hunt through the survivors of the Lusitania to get us the first thing is to get a list of the survivors."

"I've got it. I wrote a long list of much information as possible out of us. See the idea?"

"Then you think—Tuppence paused to grasp the supposition fully—"that it was Jane Finn that they wanted me to go to Paris?"

Mr. Carter smiled more wearily than ever.

"I believe in coincidences, you know," he said.

CHAPTER III

Mr. Julius P. Hereshelmer. Tommy indulged in a chuckle.

"My word! I don't wonder Whittington got the wind up when Tuppence plumped out that name! I should have myself. But look here, sir, we're taking up an awful lot of your time. Have you any tips to give us before we clear out?"

"I think not. I have information that the big coup was planned for early in the new year. But the government is contemplating legislative action which will deal effectively with the strike menace. They'll get wind of it soon, if they haven't already, and it's possible that they may bring things to a head. I hope it will, myself."

Tuppence rose. "I think we ought to be business-like. What exactly can we count upon you for, Mr. Carter?"

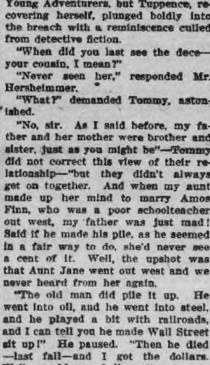

Mr. Carter's lips twitched slightly, but he replied succinctly. "Funds within reason, detailed information on any point, and no official recognition. I mean that if you get yourselves into trouble with the police, I can't officially help you out of it. Tuppence nodded sagely. "I'm sure I don't want to be rude about the government, but you've got something to do with it, but you know one really has the devil of a time getting anything out of it! And if we have to fill up a line form and send it in, and then, after three months, they send us a green one and so on—well, that won't be much use, will it?"

Mr. Carter laughed outright. "Don't worry, Miss Tuppence. You will send a personal demand to me here, and the money, in notes, shall be sent by return of post. As to salary, shall we say at the rate of three hundred a year? And an equal sum for Mr. Beresford, of course. Good-by, and good luck to you both."

He shook hands with them, and in another minute they were descending the steps of 27 Carabanth terrace with their heads in a whirl. "Tommy! Tell me at once, who is 'Mr. Carter'?"

"Oh!" said Tuppence, impressed. "And I can tell you, old bean, he's T!"

"How Would They Have Known Jane Finn Had the Papers?"

few seconds later a taxi was bearing them to The Laurels, Gladstone road, N.7, the residence of Mrs. Edgar Keith, whose name figured first in a list of seven residing in Tommy's pocketbook.

The Laurels was a dilapidated house, standing back from the road with a few grimy bushes to support the action of a front garden. Tommy paid off the taxi, and accompanied Tuppence to the front doorbell. He pressed the bell. Tuppence withdrew to a suitable spot.

A slatternly-looking servant, with an extremely dirty face and a pair of eyes that did not match, answered the door. Tommy had produced a notebook and pencil. "Good morning," he said briskly and cheerfully. "From the Hampstead borough council. The new Young Rogier, Mrs. Edgar Keith lives here, does she not?"

"Yess," said the servant. "Missus?" asked Tommy, his pencil poised. "Eleanor?" spelled Tommy. "Any"

"I am not. I propose to reason in a logical manner. That man, Danvers, was shadowed on the way over, wasn't he? And it's more likely to have been a woman than a man—"

"I don't see that at all."

"I am absolutely certain that it would be a woman, and a good-looking one," replied Tuppence calmly. "Now, obviously, this woman, whoever she was, was saved."

"If she wasn't, how would they have known Jane Finn had got the papers?"

"Now, there's just a chance, I admit it's only a chance, that this woman may have been 'Rita.'"

"If so, we've got to hunt through the survivors of the Lusitania to get us the first thing is to get a list of the survivors."

"I've got it. I wrote a long list of

Shingles 100% Right for Re-roofing

When your roof starts to leak, take our advice—and we speak from years of experience—put down a new roof. But get a roof that will last—a roof of Barrett Giant Shingles. These thick, tough shingles are extra large (12 x 14 inches). They're specially adapted for re-roofing—can be laid right over the old roof. This gives extra insulation against heat and cold and saves expense.

A roof of Barrett Giants is weather-tight and fire-safe. Moreover these modern shingles will not rot or rust—never need painting or staining. Come in. We'll gladly figure on the quantity of Giants needed for your roof. There's a Barrett Roofing for any type of building—at a reasonable price.

When Life is a Burden

When the bladder fails in its normal function, life becomes a burden. The bladder is charged with the work of gathering the liquid waste of the body and of retaining it until convenience permits its drainage.

Two forms of bladder disorders are opposite in nature. In one form it is unable to retain its fluid as it should, necessitating constant and frequent drainage with great annoyance to the victim, while in the other form drainage is difficult and very painful.

Both forms are effects of a single cause, which is defective action of certain muscles, due to diminished flow of vital energy actuating these muscles. The proper corrective method is adjustment of the spine to open the nerve lines to an increased flow of vital energy.

The lower nerve under the magnifying glass is pinched by a misaligned joint. Pinched nerves cannot transmit healthful impulses. Chiropractic adjusting removes the pressure. The upper nerve is free as nature intends.

Relieved After Years of Suffering

"I was a sufferer from a chronic trouble of the bladder of many years standing. Two physicians told me there was no hope for recovery or relief except the knife. Not having means to pay hospital fees, I had about decided to suffer it out until death should relieve me. At this time a brother who had suffered with similar trouble told me a chiropractor had nearly cured him. He put my case before the chiropractor and sent me word to see him. I have taken a number of adjustments from him and can say that from the first few I have been greatly relieved of the terrible suffering and am able to sleep better at night than for years past."—(Rev.) Wm. S. Rice, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2134—Y.

Auto Injury Fatal to Child
Menominee—A fractured base of the skull and other internal injuries proved fatal to little Josephine Etersky, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etersky, 410 Quimby avenue, who was run over when she started in front of a car driven by George Dittmore on June 16. She died at St. Joseph's hospital.

Drunken Driver Fined
Iron Mountain—Pleading guilty to a charge of driving his car while intoxicated, Eugene Holmberg of Homestead, Wis., was fined $100 and $10 costs when arraigned before Justice Spencer. Holmberg was taken into custody by Sergeant Carlevaro and Officer Bennett after he drove his machine against a fence in the south part of the city. The car was slightly damaged. Holmberg spent the night in jail.

Little Boy Killed by Car
Menominee—Paul, aged seven, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Herman Carlson, 1050 Spies avenue, of the Swedish Mission church, Broadway, was killed and Mrs. George Fuller, of Los Angeles, Calif., suffered a broken right ankle, and numerous painful bruises, while waiting for a street car on Ogden avenue, opposite the John Perstrum residence, when they were crushed into by an automobile driven by Arthur Vandenberg, Guy street, utility man at the city water station, when police declare was intoxicated.

ed with a few scratches because of the action of his mother in clasping him to her as she was knocked over, shielding his body with her own.

Gets 30 Days to Sober Up

Sault Ste. Marie—William Korpi, of Drummond, who was arrested by sheriff department officers in a Drummond hotel, on a charge of having whiskey in his possession and being intoxicated, pleaded guilty to the latter charge in Justice court and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or serve 30 days in the county jail. He was committed. He demanded an examination when arraigned on the charge of possession. The case was adjourned with no definite date set for the examination.

Old and Alone, Kills Self

Menominee—William A. Spalbury, a sick and lone old man, committed suicide by shooting himself twice through the breast with a .32 caliber revolver. One bullet pierced his left lung, passed through his body and through the back of the leather arm chair in which he was sitting. The other bullet, a trifle lower, grazed his heart. He was 75 years old and in ill health. The last few weeks he had been living on the second floor of the Square People's building, Quimby and Farmer street. He had separated from his wife many years ago and their son went west. He had not heard from the son since the parting. It is understood relatives had offered to care for the old man, but his friends declared he was "independent as could be" and would not live with "anybody."

New Supt. of Aggie School
Menominee—The change in the supervision of the Menominee Agricultural school became effective when Karl Knau, who has done such excellent extension work in this county as county agent, became the supervising head of the institution to succeed Superintendent R. M. Kehler, whose resignation was announced several weeks ago. While Mr. Knau will be the chief of the administration of the school here, he will not relinquish his duties as county agent and will carry on that work among the farmers as he has in the past. He will be assisted in the management of the school by J. L. Bumbaick, who has been installed as principal.

Dropped Dead in Field

Newberry—James Scott dropped dead Monday while plowing in the fields on his farm north of Newberry. He was aged 68 years. Deceased had been a resident of Newberry for about 20 years. Before the dry era he was engaged in the wholesale liquor trade. Afterward he engaged in farming, and it was while following the plow that death overtook him. His demise will be sincerely mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Buy Big Tract for Ranch

Crystal Falls—The Rosebush Ranch company, owners of the Triangle ranch near Amasa, has purchased about 20,000 acres of land near Green in Ontonagon county and probably will start agricultural development and ranch operations there next year. "We are undecided just when we will begin operations in the Ontonagon county tract," said Charles H. Schulz, presdent and general manager of the company. "We wish to complete our work at Amasa before starting in at Ontonagon. We hope to have the major portion of our work completed at Amasa this year." The Triangle Ranch company, after five years' work, has 2,000 cleared acres in its holdings near Amasa. On the ranch are 1000 white faced Hereford cattle with buildings for housing them; a working force of 70 men and improved roads throughout the ranch.

on the inside with salt. Turn them upside down on a platter, and let them stand half an hour. Remove the seeds from the pulp, drain off the juice and make a stuffing using the chopped chicken, tomato pulp, cracker crumbs, eggs, cream, onion juice, pepper and a teaspoonful of salt. Wipe the tomatoes dry inside and out, and fill each with the prepared stuffing. Place in a baking dish, pour the soup stock around them and bake in a moderately hot oven until the tomatoes are tender, but not falling to pieces. You should taste the tomatoes frequently with the stock while baking. Serve immediately, placing each tomato on a square of toast. This will serve eight people.

ONE EGG will thicken one cup of milk for cup custard.

Place a pad of clean cloth under the stain and change when it becomes soiled. Apply from the wrong side of material. Use small amounts of the solvent at a time and work from the outside toward the center.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Bad Back Brings Suffering to Many Gladstone Folks

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delmy may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Gladstone folks. Mrs. Tom Gatter, 5 Third Ave., Gladstone, says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was a severe ache through the small of my back. When I stooped to do my housework, knife-like pains darted across my kidneys and nearly took my breath away. I had constant headaches and at times dizzy spells came over me when little spots came before my eyes. My kidneys were weak and acted too often. After using Doan's Pills, the trouble left me."
