German Efficiency

Rhetoric concerning German efficiency is beginning to wear threadbare in spots. Resolved into plain English it means team work and nothing more. It is generally admitted that team work lessens individual accomplishment and in our opinion it is the logical recourse of mediocrity against ability. A cursory survey of the history of Prussia will disclose much deceit, a vast amount of egotism and an absolute disregard for moral obligations, but the reader will seek in vain for a national character like Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden or Richard the First of England. The last Duke of Brandenburg pulling political strings at the Austrian capital in order that his petty duchy might be made a still pettier kingdom is odily contrasted by his grandson awaiting the ascension of a woman to that throne in order that he might despoil it of its fairest province. Where Prussian lies could enlarge its boundaries, force was never resorted to and intrigue and deceit has ever marched three paces behind the German sword. We turn the pages of German history in vain for a military genius or leader of the first class. Any claims for Frederick the Great in this connection are absurd. Numberless times his errors jeopardized his army and the fate of his nation. After his greatest battle he was barely restrained from court-martialing the general who had won by disobeying instructions. He owed the final preservation of himself and his kingdom to the disintegration of the alliance against him and not to the military strategy of himself or his generals. Like the present Kaiser and Junkers, Frederick was ever willing to gamble the fate of his nation against his personal desires and ambitions and only by a desperate turn of fortune's wheel was he saved.

Liberty Loan Drive

The Liberty bond drive will start in Schoolcraft county next Monday. The quota of $160,000 is to be disposed of by the 20. The character and purpose of this investment is too well known to need description. The fact is that with the exception of supplies and clerical help the whole operation represents a gigantic free will offering not exceeded in the fiscal or patriotic history of the nation. The negotiable value and security of the bonds are also beyond criticism. Of the same value and backed by the whole resources of the government, a bank note is superior to them only in the ease with which it can be circulated. The democratic character of the loan makes it extremely popular and there is little doubt that the $3,000,000,000 will be subscribed within the week.

What She Wanted

Mary had come to one of her friend's birthday parties. At this party chocolate and coconut cakes were served. The lady that served the cake asked Mary what kind of cake she wanted. "The cake with the noodles on it," was her prompt reply.

His Favorite Dish

"No wonder women go into politics," ventured Mistress Mulloch; "men are such brutes and devoid of sentiment. The other night I asked Will, in my sweetest way, what his favorite dish was, and he said, 'The ash-tray.'"

Average Cotton Production

The world's annual cotton crop is about 2,500,000 tons.

Manistique's Way

We have followed with interest the programs of food conservation in the various towns in the upper Michigan. We recollect that when the national food administration asked for conservation and our merchants decided on the present system of food cards, there was considerable dissatisfaction expressed here and there and the free and easy method in operation in Escanaba was frequently cited to the apparent detriment of Manistique. But when Mr. Kennedy comes to town and investigates local conditions and tells us we have the finest system in the state we feel better. And when he goes to our neighboring city and tells the people there that things are rotten and puts five of their merchants, to say nothing of a saloon-keeper or two, out of business, why, we are still better satisfied with local conditions. The fact that County Food Administrator Nicholson has been asked to send the outlines of the food conservation plan to Manistique to every county in Northern Michigan shows that we are in the van in this movement as well as others.

And the best part of it is that this program was adopted by our merchants and citizens without pressure of any kind being applied. We are a patriotic community and are so regarded through the country at large.

Are You With Us?

Be an out spoken, able-bodied, square-toe American. Don't be the doubter, a shuffer or a slacker. Be for the flag and the President and the army and navy and the country. Be active and positive and militant. Don't waste your time talking about "what might have been." Nail as lies all stories intended to passy effort or divide patriotism. Don't blither about the horrors of war and the folly of bloodshed. That's what the Kaiser should have thought about before he started it, have it to him now for his nightmare. Realize that this is a life and death proposition. Are you with us or against us? Are you going forward or are you retreating? If you are going forward, let it be full tilt and manfully. Don't merely do your bit"—do your best. Say to the enemy as MacDuff to Macbeth: "I have no words! My voice is in my sword, thou bloodier villain than terms can give thee out!"—Milwaukee Catholic Citizen.

The Money Comes Back

The cycle of money invested in Liberty Bonds is short and complete. The people lend the money to the Government, the Government lends some to our allies, and our Government and our allies straight-way spend the money, or the greater portion of it among the people of the United States. In some instances the money paid in by wage earners on one installment of Liberty Bonds is paid by the Government to their employers, and by their employers paid back to them in the way of wages before the next Bond installment is due. Buy Liberty Bonds.

Sedition Without Recourse

Suppose you are a mason and on your way home tomorrow night you meet friend Smith and he begins straightway to tell you how much better mechanic John Jones is than you are, "Jones," he says, "has got you beaten twenty ways. He studies harder and under a more scientific method. He is the last word in marvelous efficiency and while your work might now and then, approach his, to equal or excel him is so impossible that further effort on your part is waste of time and energy and will simply result in making a still greater fool of you."

What would you do? Would you blow your nose apologetically and admit that you were outclassed and then go home and tell your wife that you had decided to ask the boss to change your job to hod carrier or mortar-mixer because John Jones did so much better work that you were ashamed to compete with him? Most unlikely. You would probably begin to argue with Smith in a loud voice; follow him six blocks out of your way and end up by calling him a liar and his friend Mr. Jones a four flusher, and you would be right for no matter how able Jones maybe, until you and he have worked side beside and your work is proven inferior to his, you are entitled to hold yourself his equal and perhaps his superior, and this is exactly the attitude you should take when Mr. Trimmer begins harping on the superiority of the German fighting machine, German organization and ability. There may be such a thing but you don't know it, and neither does he. You have read of it of course, but if you happen to pick up the right book you will read where the river Nile rises in the moon and of a country where the governing and social power is exercised by horses instead of men. The truth of the matter is, that superiority in German efficiency is more or less a bogey not realized or admitted by our fighting men and mostly intended to lower the pedal temperature of we valiant stay-at-homes. If encouraged or permitted it will weaken the national morale and shake our self confidence. When you hear such talk, realize that it is a slam on your country's honor or ability, call your informant a liar or a fool as the case may be and don't go around repeating it. Forget it.

Views of Our Readers

Editor Courier Record— Nature has provided a law that governs the activities and accomplishments of the human race and that law is not subject to change or repeal. It is called evolution or the law of progress. Under its provisions nothing can remain stationary. We advance on the scale of civilization until the apex is reached and then without conscious volition begin a downward or backward course. In my opinion the working of this law or rule is very discernible in America today. We are no longer able to present the solid front of patriotic unselfishness of former times. The struggle we are engaged in today is by far the most momentous in our history and the country is full of sedition, treason and discontent. A national labor leader goes on record with the statement that this time of national stress and danger shall be used to obtain concession and recognition for labor. The heads of important committees place personal opinion and pride above the needs of the nation and hold up the ship building program for months. A man complains about food restrictions and listens with avidity to impossible tales reflecting discredit upon local officials and becomes quite convinced that part of the money contributed for war purposes is misused or mispent. The spirit that permits the circulation and acceptance of lies so silly and so improbable is not patriotic and not at all American. This country has been swamped by undesirable immigration for many years. Far from being able to assimilate this unlearned mass the whole people have deteriorated until the traditions of our fathers have been lost and in their place we observe a short sighted spirit of selfishness that threatens the nation and the world with calamity without end. Patriot.

EDITOR'S NOTE

While our correspondent is correct in the assertion that sedition and treason are running rife through the country it is still a fact that all countries at all times are subjected to similar menaces. Thus during the Revolution thousands of Tories were arrested and interned and thousands more convicted and put to death. In the Civil war the copperheads embarrassed the government to the point of distraction and Lincoln was forced to deport no less a man than ex-Governor Burlingham of Ohio. This is probably the most serious proposition connected with the war. We admit the measure so far adopted by the government to check this evil appears pitifully inadequate and we hope that local effort will be used in some way to put a stop to this exasperating condition.

Thinking It Over

The activities around you irritate you when you have a headache. The world seems against you when your stomach is sour and out of order. Ambition lags when your back aches; speed slackens when your feet hurt. A toothache robs you of constructive thought. Physical pain or discomfort retards any progress towards perfection in a chosen work. Hope and faith flee from the heart and mind when doleful, mean and hateful thoughts poison the atmosphere of our little gray brain cells. Keep the mind and body free from disease and the things that bring disease. Keep well. No girl, no woman, no boy, no man, can hope for success unless she or he has health. If your conscience hurts you consult your spiritual advisor. If your body hurts you consult your doctor. You will be worth more to the community. It is not what you are worth but what you are worth to the community that counts.

MANISTIQUE, SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY, MICHIGAN, APRIL 4, 1918

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Schoolcraft.

The Circuit Court for the County of Schoolcraft in Chancery. In the matter of the petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Manistique, Michigan, in the County of Schoolcraft, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of April, A. D. 1918, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Schoolcraft, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid and purchase the same for the State.

Witness the Hon. Louis H. Fead, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Schoolcraft County this 13th day of February, A. D. 1918.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

To the Circuit Court for the County of Schoolcraft in Chancery.

The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all the lands in said County of Schoolcraft upon which taxes were assessed for the several years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon as fixed in the name of the State, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 296 of the Public Acts of 1891, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale of said lands have not been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as set forth in said "Schedule A" are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.

Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same, being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amount due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated February 9th, 1918. ORAMEL B. FULLER, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

WIDENING SPHERE OF SCHOOL ACTIVITY

There is increasing evidence daily that the educational system of the country is being used more and more as a vehicle to convey messages from the government to the people.

The importance of the school and college in helping disseminate the doctrines of patriotism and public welfare have long been recognized in England but in America the academic and theoretical phase has been in the ascendant. With the new conditions, brought about by America's participation in the war, however, great changes are taking place and the schools of the country under the intelligent direction of the faculty are becoming the right hand of the government and of incalculable advantage to the people in carrying out the desire of the government.

In a statement regarding the recent meeting of school superintendents at Atlantic City, N. J. Supt. T. W. Clemo says: "I could not help but be deeply impressed by the spirit of patriotism displayed throughout the meeting. The gravity of the national situation was realized and much intelligent thought and consideration was given to the reports of the various speakers. Responsible agents of the War, Navy Interior and Labor and Commerce departments held conferences to formulate messages to those identified with the educational business of the country.

MAE MARSH STAR IN "POLLY OF THE CIRCUS"

"Polly of the Circus," a tremendous Goldwyn Picture made from Margaret Mayo's great play, with famous little Mae Marsh as its star, will be shown at the Gero Theatre Monday, April 15.

The picture is the first release of Goldwyn Pictures Corporation formed by Samuel Goldfish in association with Edgar Selwyn, Margaret Mayo, Archibald Selwyn and a brilliant group of authors and playwrights.

The story of "Polly," which has been given a tremendous production in its picturized form, is that of a motherless girl of the circus, and of the part she plays in the drama of life in a small American village. It is a romance of the sawdust ring and has been termed "the classic of the Big Tops."

Polly is hurt while doing her "act" and is taken to the home of the local minister to be cared for. Here a pretty romance buds, but before it blooms it is interrupted by the gossip of the villagers and Polly goes back to the circus. But the circus comes back another year and Polly and the minister pick up the threads of their romance in a dramatic climax.

The picture is filled with realistic scenes of circus life, the most thrilling of which is a fire in the big tent and the stampede of the audience. It required a fully equipped circus to produce this realism, and you are permitted to see a complete circus performance on the screen; the arrival of a circus in town at day-break, the great street parade, the departure in the black of night. The greatest horse race scene ever put on the screen is another of the thrilling incidents of this remarkable picture.

Has Johnny got the measles? If so report the case to the Board of Health and keep him at home. He may not be very sick, but the child who contracts the disease from him may not have so easy a time.

The old idea that the child might as well be exposed to diseases in order to "have it over with" is passing away. The fatal termination of many of the diseases has made the necessity of safe-guarding the health of children clear to all.

The quarantine is the first means of protection. A person who is ill may actually convey the disease germs by shaking hands or by sneezing or coughing. In some diseases, small-pox for example, the germs are present on the outer surface of the body, and may be distributed by any article that has been in contact with the patient's body. In other diseases the germs are inside the body and are spread only by excretions from the lungs, the throat or intestines.

The importance of isolation and disinfection can be plainly seen, if a person has a contagious disease, shut him off from other people except those necessary to take care of him. Thus the number of people exposed will be lessened and the health of the country will be safe-guarded.

Disinfection is also a means of protection. In many diseases the germ continues to live in the room and clothing for a long time, perhaps months, after the patient has recovered. Hence the room and the clothing and everything that has been in contact with the sick person should be disinfected.

The contagious and infectious diseases are mostly preventable. The importance of isolation and disinfectants cannot be over-estimated, a rigid observation of the quarantine and fumigation rulings of the Board of Health would do much toward safe-guarding public health.

The Home Demonstration Agent went to Munising on April 2. She will return to Schoolcraft County the middle of April.

ELEVEN OFFENSES PUNISHABLE BY DEATH IN UNITED STATES ARMY

Sentence of Sleepy Sentries With the Army in France Calls Attention to Offenses Which May Be Punished by Hanging or Shooting—Death Sentence Is Mandatory Only in Case of Spy—Many Touching Stories.

Washington.—Four American soldiers, sentenced to death for sleeping on sentry duty in the front-line trenches in France, may be saved from the law's extreme penalty by General Pershing's action in sending the records of their cases to Washington for review.

Under the laws of the American military organization, 11 offenses are punishable by death, although these are variously subdivided. Spies must suffer the death penalty, and this is the only offense for which the death sentence is mandatory.

discretion of the court-martial upon anyone who "attempts to create, begin, cause, excite, or join in" mutiny or sedition, but the liability to the extreme punishment does not stop there.

"Making known the countersign" and "forcing safeguard" are purely military offenses for which the death penalty may be imposed.

Many Touching Stories. The tragedy of sleeping on post has furnished some of the most famous and touching stories in the history of our own and other lands.

Apropos of the war department's order that death sentences passed upon soldiers in this country be referred to it for review, it is recalled that Lincoln in 1861 ruled that no army death sentence should be executed until he had personally examined all the circumstances and facts in the case.

CUT DOWN ON STAR BOARDER?

At Discretion of Court-Martial. The other eight offenses, or groups of offenses, listed as punishable by death leave the penalty to the discretion of the court-martial.

Under the laws of the American military organization, 11 offenses are punishable by death, although these are variously subdivided.

In the offense of "neglect of sentry duty" which is a betrayal of responsibility whose seriousness has made it an almost unforgivable crime against military law, the letter of the regulation recognizes no difference between being asleep and being intoxicated.

The rule regarding insubordination is very strict. It reads: "Any person subject to military law who, on any pretense whatever, strikes his superior officer or draws or lifts up any weapon against him, being in the execution of his office, or willfully disobeys any lawful command of his superior officers, shall suffer death or such other punishment as a court-martial may direct."

Insulting. The rule regarding insult is very strict. It reads: "Any person subject to military law who, on any pretense whatever, strikes his superior officer or draws or lifts up any weapon against him, being in the execution of his office, or willfully disobeys any lawful command of his superior officers, shall suffer death or such other punishment as a court-martial may direct."

Rules regarding punishment for mutiny or sedition are inclusive. The death penalty may be imposed at the discretion of the court-martial upon anyone who "attempts to create, begin, cause, excite, or join in" mutiny or sedition, but the liability to the extreme punishment does not stop there.

HOW GREAT FUEL CRISIS WAS MET

Distribution of Coal Regulated and Profiteering and Hoarding Prevented.

DRASTIC ACTION NECESSARY

Failure of Transportation During Winter Months Adds to Difficulties of Situation Arising Out of Increased Consumption.

By E. D. LEACH, Assistant United States Fuel Administrator for Ohio

The United States fuel administrator has three definite purposes, namely: to regulate production, distribution and prices.

The fuel administrator has succeeded insofar as its powers extend. Potential production is and has been in excess of transportation.

Prices Regulated. Prices have also been regulated. Prices at the mine and jobbers' margins have been established.

TO SPEED THE KNITTING

E. D. Leach. He faced the task of supplying not only the government with its war needs, but also the enormous increased consumption of manufacturing plants and the domestic needs of most of the 110,000,000 inhabitants of this country.

The difficulties were greatly increased because very few domestic consumers had secured their winter's supply during the spring and early summer as is usual.

A fuel crisis existed before there was any sort of an organization. State administrators were appointed who in turn appointed county and local administrators.

gross profit which the retail dealers in their jurisdiction may add to the cost of their coal. In actual practice it is impossible to have a fixed maximum price for retailers, owing to the fact that coal coming from different districts under varying conditions carries different prices.

Had it not been for the fuel administration some localities and some persons would have had all the coal they needed, while other sections and people would have had less or none.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

PEACOCK BOOK-RACKS.

"The whole household was asleep," said Daddy, "and everything was very still. Even the gold fishes in the bowl were sleeping and the snails were enjoying a good rest."

"Suddenly a little fairy came hopping and skipping into the library. 'Hello, peacocks,' she said. 'I've been meaning to come for some time, but I've been so busy. Gracious, but I've been a busy fairy!'"

"What have you been doing?" asked the peacocks. "We like to hear what's going on. We see a good deal, but still when folks come into the library they're apt to sit in big chairs and put their heads inside of books—or it looks that way to us, anyway—and they read and read. They don't say anything at all. We're all ready to hear the news—and we don't hear any. So tell us, won't you, little fairy, what you have been doing lately?"

"The little fairy put her wand down on the library table and jumped up on the table beside the peacocks. And of course you must know just who the peacocks were, and why they were in the library. On the library table was a set of book-racks. At other ends these racks held up whatever books were put between them, so they were arranged where people could look at the names of the books they wanted to take out and read. These book-racks were very beautiful. Each one was made to look like a beautiful peacock with a spread tail, and so, at either end there was a make-believe peacock.

"They were the peacocks the fairy had come to see. She stuck her little feet straight out before her, and she wore sandals with wings upon them."

"I can jump and fly so much easier that way than if I didn't wear them," she said, when she noticed the peacock were looking at them.

"And now you've asked me what I've been doing lately. I've been going to a number of parties. The fairies have given a ball, the brownies and gnomes have given a slush party on a deliciously slushy day last week, and there has been a lot of work to attend to."

"I've been helping the Fairy Queen in her talks to Mr. Sandman and the Dream King so children will have lovely dreams, and also so they'll hear that there are no bad gobblins, but only nice, jolly gobblins.

"I do believe the children in the bedrooms of this house are dreaming some of our special dreams tonight."

"She threw a kiss to each peacock, and said, 'Now tell me the story you promised me last time I came.'"

"The peacocks could not look at each other, as one was at one end of the book-rack—and the other one at the other end."

"The fairy noticed this at once, and said, 'You might begin, peacock at this end, and then when you pause, the other peacock will talk.'"

"So that settled the difficulty."

"The story we wanted to tell you," said the first peacock, "was this. We wanted to let you know what an honor had been paid to peacocks. We thought you might tell the fairies about us, and that would please us so much. We get rather tired staying so still, but we're happy because of our story."

"The second peacock began to speak, as the fairy hopped over nearer that end of the book-rack. 'We're so delighted because for years we've been considered very vain. We have beautiful tails and we love to spread them out and strut about and show them off. We know our tails are lovely, and the colors of our feathers very wonderful.'"

"No wonder, then, that we want to show them to the whole world. We think they enjoy beautiful things, and so we show off our tails. But do they appreciate them? Not for a moment. Well, maybe that's a bit harsh. They do think our tails are beautiful, I've not a doubt of that, but instead of thanking us for giving them so many opportunities for seeing our tails, they call us vain.'"

"We are vain, to be sure," said the first peacock, "but we like to give pleasure with our beauty. And so it's no wonder they choose us for lovely book-racks. But more than that—we make lovely decorations, but we hold up books, and so they must think we're wise, and it's something we've never been thought before."

"Both the peacocks looked very happy, and the fairy promised to tell the other fairies about them, but she laughed to herself for she didn't think it was any sign of wisdom to simply hold up books."

SOCCER PLAYERS LACK ENDURANCE AS SOLDIERS

A prominent medical man who has just returned from the western front says professional footballers are not wanted in the trenches, and explains that this is so because their endurance is less than one-third that of the ordinary soldier. He attributes this to the fact that they have been so long tuned to the highest pitch to take part in soccer games. In addition their nerves are so acute that they cannot stand gunfire.

The medical man adds: "It is like linking up a race horse with an artillery team." Strangely enough, he said, commanders find rugby football players make our best aviators.

LACK OF HARD PUNCH BARS ST. PAUL BOXER

All that stands between Billy Miske, the St. Paul battler who plucked big wads of prestige from the classic brow of Fred Fulton recently, and a bout with Jess Willard, despite the divergence in size between them, is Miske's lack of a knock-out punch.

It is not exaggerating to state that the St. Paul mauler stands head and shoulders over every light heavyweight campaigning today, and that he excels every heavyweight except Fulton and Willard. Had Miske possessed something akin to a knockout wallop when he met Fulton he might have made the "Rochester Giant's" elimination as a contender for the world's title complete. Miske hit the big fellow repeatedly. He stung him often, as he has stung Jack Dillon, Bob Moha, Carl Morris and others. But the old sleep producing wallop wasn't there.

CONCERN ABOUT SMALL BOYS

What Is to Be Done About War Tax for Youngster Who Retrieves Ball Over Fence?

Bob Allen, president of the Little Rock Southern League club, has raised a new point in connection with collection of the government war tax on admissions. What shall be done in case of a small boy who is given a pass when he retrieves a ball that goes over the fence? He can't very well be made to dig up for the tax, yet the government says the patron shall pay it.

LITTLE PICKUPS OF SPORT

Wrestling magnets are said to be in favor of one fall.

Suffering in Belgium becomes a mere trifle when you remember that Tom Connolly has been an umpire twenty-four years.

Tommy Murphy, the Kansas City boxer who won the 145 pound national amateur championship last year, is now stationed at Fort Sill.

Nel Coogan, the welterweight boxer, now at the Newport (R. I.) naval station, has been showing 18-k goods in his recent bouts in Newport.

Just why the war tax on baseball ducts should prove so troublesome to the moguls is hard to understand. The fans will have to pay the tax.

Harry Harper, Washington pitcher, took Jack Henry over to his home town to Hackensack to show him a good time. He showed Henry the town clock.

A good many boys are likely to pass up the running game, since the military examining boards have turned down so many runners because of athletic heart.

Pat Connor, formerly a catcher with the Pittsburgh Pirates and of late years a pastimer in the Eastern League has been appointed coach of the New York Yankees.

Tom Jones, dethroned manager of Jess Willard, boasts he has made more money out of fighting than any other manager. And he never had to pull on a glove to get the kalle, either.

The late John L. Sullivan received just $58 for defeating John Donaldson in 1880. Compared with the big coin copped by present-day scrappers the old-time boxers must have owed themselves money, after a fight.

Should the government decide to inaugurate a daylight saving campaign, this summer it will be a boom to those who delight to partake of outdoor athletics whether it be lawn tennis, golf, baseball, rowing or other sports.

Lieutenant Bob Dibble, former amateur single sculls champion of Canada and the United States, who was injured with the Canadian troops in France, has been appointed assistant to Captain Thomas Flanagan, who was recently appointed inspector of military police of Toronto.

BAN IS OPTIMISTIC

American League President Believes Season Will Be Good.

Head of Junior Major League Takes More Rosy View as a Result of Winter Developments—Abundance of Players.

President Ban Johnson of the American league, who was not inclined to be optimistic over the baseball outlook at the close of the 1917 season, has been encouraged to take a more rosy view as the result of the winter's developments.

"Interest has been maintained all winter by the numerous exchanges of players in both leagues and I begin to feel optimistic as to the future," said Mr. Johnson. "There will be an abundance of playing talent and in spite of the army draft and navy enlistments, which have deprived the leagues of some splendid ball players, there will be others to fill their places."

"Colonel Ruppert made an excellent move when he engaged Miller Huggins to manage the Yankees. Huggins is a smart baseball man and in due time I feel confident he will obtain successful results. Of course, he must have time to size up the players who will report to him. You must remember that he is entirely new in the American league and has many things to learn. But you can't take away from him his complete knowledge of the inside workings of baseball."

"Ed Barrow, I am sure, will prove just the sort of man the Red Sox need to get the results of which that great team of players Frazee has gathered is capable and right here I want to say that after talking with Connie Mack I am inclined to believe the Athletics are not so badly off as some of their critics have made it appear."

"Felder Jones, with the changes made in his Browns, and with a little more luck, should prove what we all believe him to have, the talents of a successful leader. Cleveland has been hard hit, but Jim Dunn is gamely rebuilding."

"Altogether our league seems in good shape, and as I say, I am much more cheerful about the outlook for a good season now than I was two months ago. It did really look bad to me then."

FIVE OF OHIO STATE CAPTAINS IN SERVICE

When Hap Courtney, captain of the western conference, enlisted in the ensign school for the navy at Chicago, he was the fifth captain of Ohio State to enter the service. Captains of tennis and baseball teams were turned down on account of physical defects or they would be gone, too.

SCHMIDT, WHO RETIRED, MAY RETURN TO GAME

Charles Schmidt, who, as first baseman for the world's champion Boston Braves of 1915, was one of the few big league baseball players to actually enter retirement in the height of their prime, may come back.

But, should the players who rose from the Baltimore sand lots to a regular position with the team that won baseball's premier honors after one of the greatest spurts in the game's history, really decide to again don a uniform, it will be merely through an act of patriotism.

His business is thriving and baseball could never call him back unless he thought he were needed to help fill the ranks of those who may be called off to war.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS HALTING THE TEUTONS AT THE LORRAINE LINE

Here are two of the first pictures received in the United States showing our boys at the actual fighting front holding a portion of the Lorraine sector against the Teuton hordes. At the top is shown a section of a trench held by American troops, and at the bottom a soldier is firing a rocket as a warning that an attack has begun.

CONCERT GIVEN BY AMERICAN SOLDIER BOYS IN FRANCE

In their leisure moments there is no surer method of arousing the good spirits of our boys in France than in "ragging" popular songs on guitars and mandolins. Could these boys be happier? Judging from their facial expression, if that is any indication, these boys are the happiest in the world. An American-made concert for Americans under the Stars and Stripes is the rule in France, and there is nothing these boys of ours enjoy more.

NEW BROWNING RIFLE AND RAPID FIRING GUN PRESENT FOR PRESIDENT

Recent tests made of the two types of the Browning machine gun before high government officials, members of the senate and house military committees, and American and allied army officials at the Congress Heights range, near Washington, proved their worth, both functioning perfectly. The light gun—the Browning machine rifle, which Senator Wadsworth of New York is shown firing—is handled as easily as the ordinary rifle. The gun may be operated as an automatic or a semiautomatic arm. The gun weighs 15 pounds and may be fired from the shoulder or hip position in bursts of 20 rounds or by single shots. The Browning heavy machine gun shown in the other photograph is fired from a tripod. This gun is fed from a belt of 250 rounds of cartridges. The gun weighs 84½ pounds with the water jacket filled.

Beautiful bronze statue which is to be presented to President Wilson by New York Italian. The statue is about three feet high and weighs almost 400 pounds. A duplicate is to be sent to the king of Italy.

A String of Beads.
"Savages will trade vast tracts of land for a string of beads."
"Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "I know a man who wears evening clothes and carries a cane and he did the same thing. He went broke trying to pay for a pearl necklace."

His Best Friend Sent Him a pouch of Real GRAVELLY Chewing Plug

You will be sending your friend more tobacco comfort and satisfaction in a pouch of Real Gravelly Plug than in a half a dozen plugs of ordinary tobacco. Real Gravelly is worth sending a long way. It is condensed quality.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravelly Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best! Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravelly, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravelly with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

Be True to Your Country —And Yourself

The Third Liberty Loan is about to start off with true American swing. Patriots will greedily seize another opportunity of helping bury Kaiserism under an avalanche of American dollars—and buried he will be.

Latest press dispatches report thousands and thousands of Pershing's American troops in France going up to the front to face the German drive—SINGING. Will we back them up less cheerfully with our dollars? NEVER. We believe this, the Third Loan, will be taken up even more rapidly than previous ones.

A Child's Savings
May Shorten
The War

The war is costing the combined allies more than $30,000,000 an hour. The daily fate of this huge sum is simple waste. A shortening of the war by days or even hours would mean the redemption of colossal waste.

We must bend every financial effort towards shortening the war. Every small amount invested by a child in Thrift Stamps tends towards this end. The influence of every Thrift Stamp purchased is a little momentum toward earlier victory.

Thus a child's savings may be instrumental in definitely shortening this war and in saving many times its own value in money, to say nothing of conserving human life.

Encourage your child to invest in 4% interest-bearing Thrift Stamps instead of merely hoarding his pennies in a tin bank.

Thrift Stamps cost 25 cents each and may be bought at the postoffice, from your mail carrier and at most stores.
